PREFACE

THE documents presented here are meant to illustrate the historical text in general of the History of the Society of Jesus in North America, Colonial and Federal.

First in order are some Preliminary papers belonging to the earlier colonial period, 1605–1633. They are followed by Administrative documents, consisting of letters, written by the General of the Order and bearing on American affairs, from 1629 till 1744. Supplementing these, a Narrative section comprises an exact redaction of Annual Letters and kindred papers or fragments, as far as they touch the same subject. Controversial documents are subjoined on the question of property and civil rights, as disputed in the first stage of Maryland history between the colonial Proprietary, Cecil Lord Baltimore, and the Jesuit missionaries.

In these papers, the portion which is antecedent to the date 1645 forms the documentary apparatus corresponding to the first volume of text, already published. The same remark applies to the papers in the Sections following, those which are called a Documentary Excursus on Jesuit Property and its Uses.

By way of supplement to the controversy between Lord Baltimore and the missionaries, and as a preliminary to other disputes in later times, we give an authentic sketch of Jesuit property titles, and of missionary ways and means.

This portion on Property and its Uses recommended itself for a complete and exhaustive treatment at once. While offering on the one hand the attraction of contributing a vast quantity of new documents, and on the other a unity of place and subject covering two hundred years, it bore on the face of it an evident inconvenience, if we divided it into successive parts, which should correspond to the epochs of our historical text. There would be need of considerable repetition; or there would result considerable disconnection.

We have therefore treated the whole subject here as one piece, in Sections II.-VII.

A thousand documents, running on continuously, did not promise a sufficient organic unity, unless we divided them analytically into parts or members, and added illustrative observations to make a synthesis of the whole, organically complete. Accordingly, we have brought subordinate parts together under separate headings; and we have inserted a connective thread of historical explanations or documentary scholia. Thus from the subject, which is property, from the matter, which is documentary, and from the manner of presentment, which is that of being arranged in parts and annotated, this portion, Sections II.-VII., has taken the form of a treatise, or Documentary Excursus on Jesuit Property and its Uses.

Other circumstances concurred to impose this arrangement. A certain period of Jesuit life in British North America, no less than in Great Britain, had no history. That was the interval of Suppression, 1773-1805. The priests, recently members of the Order, remained on the ground. They were called ex-Jesuits. But, being unsettled and dislodged from their membership, they should have to be ignored in great part by an historian of the Order during the period of corporate extinction, were it not that they claimed recognition, both individually and as a body, under the aspect of a temporary organization, which was precisely a property-holding incorporation. By means of this they preserved the ancient estates for restoration to the Society, when the Order itself was restored. And so, in this episode of the property, which was a monument to their fidelity, history preserves a monument to their memory.

Again, as for all dates in the archives there occur the names of many persons who appear in some relation to the property, we have had occasion in the Excursus to draw on this fund of names, many of which might never have found a place in our history. Not a few significant contributions to colonial history are made here, because of the new connections in which the names of certain persons are seen to recur.

Finally, an important reason for following this path to its term lay in the controversial character of many documents, which we did not propose to favour hereafter with a conspicuous place in the historical text. Nevertheless, numerous as these papers are, and scattered in many archives of Europe and America, they are of such a kind as calls for production somewhere; and, if we omitted them now, others in the course of time would produce them. We have put them in their place here. It may prove a subject of satisfaction that so much of their contentious matter is decorously draped in the garb of foreign languages. We should have left them without summary, abstract or scholion, did not uniformity in the treatment of this Excursus, as well as the exigencies of students not sufficiently versed in all these languages, prohibit our discriminating merely for the sake of a sentiment.

Dr. J. G. Shea, historian of the Catholic Church in the United States, thought himself at liberty to pass over the subject in the most perfunctory manner possible; and, in private letters which contain some lively expressions of his feelings, he seemed to give the matter the benefit of a doubt, whether it were not so far a live question as to be conscientiously relegated till it should die. But it is dead for nearly a hundred years; and sentiment in the living does not impart the privilege of life to that which has already entered into the franchise of never being able to revive, and of being entitled to the same treatment as any other question, settled and laid away in documents as cold as itself. The archives here contain much matter which affects the personal character of individuals and the moral standing of a religious organization. And, if anywhere, it is on such ground that the residue of truth, which is never exclusive of justice, is due to the memory of ancestry and to the mind of posterity. Hence no sentimental view of the question can be allowed to except it from the application of some plain historical canons, that a significant and important subject is not to be suppressed, and that the texts relative to it are not arbitrarily to be picked out or left out in presenting the whole substance of the case. Eschewing only useless repetitions which add nothing to the substance, we have exhausted the matter; and, adding sufficient illustrations from the utterances of synods, provincial councils, Sacred Congregations and the Roman Pontiffs, we have presented it with an amplitude, which probably will leave nothing for a critical sense to desiderate, and will qualify a competent judgment to decide.

This Excursus, exhibiting under divers aspects the incunabula of Catholic Church history in the United States, shows also to the same degree the origin of things which were developed later, but then were only in their cradle: questions touching not only property but also ecclesiastical jurisdiction, bishops and regulars, *trusteeism lay and ecclesiastical, relations of the Church with the Government, effects of incorporation; not to mention the rise of Catholic secondary education, the boundaries of seminary and liberal studies, and modifications in Catholic life introduced by the fact and character of the American Revolution. Not least interesting seems to be the partial fulfilment of a desire which we have found expressed in a document, laid away among the preserves of a European depository. Speaking of Dr. John Carroll's extensive correspondence with his friend, Father Charles Plowden, the anonymous writer expresses a longing to see the day when those letters would be published. As far as the precise scope of the Excursus calls for it, we have published them. And, since the use of Carroll's papers here, whether from the Plowden correspondence or from other funds hitherto unused, is from a point of view never taken before, it will be found that this contribution to the biography of the founder of the American Catholic hierarchy is entirely new.*

The mere necessities of printing have caused the division of this portion, Documents, Volume I., into separate Parts, I. and II. Owing to the same necessities, we have omitted, at least for the present, several sections which were originally projected; such as Ordinances for the conduct of missionary life, Faculties for the ministries, the subject of Slaves, and a complete list of missionaries who served in the Colonies.

We have adopted or adapted some rules of editing proposed at the Frankfort Congress of German historians, 19 April, 1895.<sup>1</sup>

1. Documentary matter is printed in Roman type. All other matter in Italic. A translation of documentary matter is placed in Italic between inverted commas.—This rule does not apply to mere headings, or citations of pages and notes.

2. Where the entire context of a document is unnecessary or irrelevant, an extract is given in Roman type, or a summary in Italic.

3. All the documents relating to a given subject are brought together, eliminating only repetitions which add nothing to the substance.

4. Punctuation is supplied so far as the sense of a document obviously requires.

5. In long texts not divided by paragraphs, or not marked by numbers, the division may be made, and numbers added in Italic capitals within square brackets.

6. Flagrant clerical errors are corrected in the texts. Original errors of spelling or construction are left as they stand.

7. Broken lines - - - signify a blank or an illegible passage in the original; dots . . . an omission in the editing.

8. Abbreviations which are not open to doubt may be found expanded. For particular reasons, as that of helping to identify a writer, they may be left as in the original.

9. Parentheses ( ) are to be understood as being in the original. Square brackets [ ] contain additions in editing the text. Notes of interrogation [?] signify that the reading is not clear. Notes of exclamation [!], that the word or passage so marked is given as in the original.

10. The sources of documents, their character, sometimes their exact length with other particulars, are noted in Brevier type immediately after the text, or after a group of documents more or less related.

Other principles of editing which have been followed are sufficiently clear on inspection.

Under certain heads of the Bibliographical Index, some series of acts or papers which, owing to the grouping of documents, have not been used in their natural order, will be found re-arranged, as they stand in the original, or as the chronological order requires.

Father Robert Parsons (Rome) to Mr. Winslade. A discussion of the proposal that English Catholics emigrate to America; and decision against the measure as inopportune and impracticable.—
See History, I. § 3, pp. 153-155.

My judgement about transferring Englishe Catholiques to the Northern partes of Americe for inhabitinge those partes and convertinge those Barbarous peoples to Christianitie.

The intention of the Author and the good and godly endes proposed by hime and diverse good particularities of meanes and helpes, whereby to arive to those endes discreetly and piously put downe, I like very well; but yet, for the executione and puttinge in use the enterpriz it self, I find many great difficultyes, which seeme to me scarsly to be superable; as among others these that folowe.

First, for England it self, it is very likely that the Kinge and his counsel will never allowe of it, apprehendinge the same as not onely dishonorable to them but dangerous also; dishonorable, in that they should force so many of thire naturall subjectes to flie and abandon thire owne countrey, in respect of persecutione; dangerous, in that these men goinge abroad with averted mindes might joyne together, ether before thire goinge to the Indies or after, and returne uppon them havinge thire kinsfolk and frends at home to joyne with them; and then, the Kinge and counsell beinge against it, that moste needs folowe that nonn shall have licence to goe forth, nonn to sell theire lands, nonn to make over money, and the like: all which the Author himeself doth graunt; and out of this one head will growe many and great difficulties or rather impossibilities.

Secondly, for the Catholiques to be drawne to the enterpriz will be a very hard matter, for that the better and richer sort, in respectes of theire wealth and commodities at home and of the love of the countrey and feare of the state, will disdayne commonly to heare of such a motion; the poore sort without the riche will be of smal importance, besides that they doe depende wholly of the riche and of thire counsell; and the difficultie of gettinge out will be common to all.

Thirdly, I doe persuade my self that, if this proposition should be begune or imparted to any Prince abroad without communicatinge the same first in England, it would be verie ill taken by the Catholickes generally, as a matter soundinge to thire discredite and contempte to have, as it were, theire exportatione to Barbarous people treated with Princes in thire name without theire knowledge and consente; the Heretickes also would laughe and exprobrate the same unto them, as they did when S<sup>t</sup> George Peckhame and S<sup>t</sup> Thomas Gerrarde, about xx yeares gone, should have made the same viage to Noremburge by the Queene and counsell's consente with some evacuatione of Papistes as then they called them; which attempte became presently most odious to the Catholicke partie.

Fourthly, it may be more then probable thought that this attempte may be very praejudiciall to the increase of Catholicke religione in England, not onely by decreasinge the number of Catholickes thire, and thireby discourageinge the rest and makinge them more contemptible to thire adversaries, but also by exasperatinge the Kinge and estate against them as unquiet and practizing people; and so, by restrayninge thire goinge out and in, the entrance of Priests and comminge of scholars to the Seminaries would be more narrowly looked unto under that pretence; Priests also could not finde sufficient harbour in England; and other such like things would probable folowe.

Fiftely, for foren partes, princes and kingdome thire, doe offer themselves noe lesse or fewer difficulties: for, first, wither and to what place or porte shall they come that first come out of England, to witt, the first 1000 of diverse sortes of husband men, laborers and craftesmen required by the Author; and so, supposinge they might gette forth freely, how shall they be mantayned, and where, untill thire passage be redy; for noe prince will easely admitt 1000 strangers into his countrey together without jealousy; especially if they shall offende also thereby the Kinge and state of England.

Sixthly, I doe see a mighty difficultie in behalfe of the Kinge of Spain and his counsell, who are soe jelouse that noe strainge nation take footinge in any parte of the Indyas, as not any particular man lightly, though he have lived never so longe in Spayne, canne gette licence once to goe thither, but by great sute and surties; and then may we imagine what they will think of the goinge thither of a whole nation, which may in time, upon many occasions of state or otherwise, become thire enimyes though they be Catholickes; nether is it sufficient to say that those partes are not presently occupied by the Spaynairdes; for they will answere, they may be in time, and that it is noe reason, if a man have a pallace with a hundred chambers and doe occupie but 10 for the present, that a strainger enter upon the rest and say that the other useth them not; the case of the Spaniardes is, that noe other European natione have footinge in that continent beside them selves, where a fleet may reste and refreshe or fortifie her self againste the rest of the Indies possessed by them; and for this cause they made such haste and put them selves to such laboure and charges to extinguishe the Frenchmen that were in Nova Francia; and the like noe doubt would they doe to the Englishe if they should goe thither without theire licence; the which to obtaine I hould it for impossible; yet may it be attempted if any man will take it in hand.

And hereuppon, seventhly, it followeth that wee shall have very litle hope to deale with his heighnes or withe the Archeduke of Flanders, or any other Prince of Italy that is frend to the Kinge of Spaine, except first the saide Kinge be delt withall.

The collections also to be made aboute the world for furnishinge the enterprize would have very doubtfull eventes in my opinione, and perhaps offende not onely the Kinge of England but the Catholickes also, to be spoken of in pulpitts for such a jorney; for that the people would not soe much looke in to the laste ende of convertinge those Barbarouse people as into the first apprehensione of thire flight.

Finally, what thire success would be amongst those wilde people, wilde beastes, unexperienced ayre, unprovided lande, God onely knoweth; yet, as I sayd, the intention of convertinge those people liketh me soe well and in soe high a degree, as for that onely I would desire my self to goe in the jorney, shuttinge my eyes to all other difficulties, if it were possible to obtayne it; but yet, for that wee doe not dele here for ourselves onely but for others also, wee moste looke to all other necessary circumstances, whereof the first and of moste importance are in my opinion that the matter be broken in England and Spaine, wherein for many reasons I may not be the breaker; but, if those ii were once optayned, I would then be willinge to do in Rome what lieth in me; and this is all that I canne say in this matter. Father Andrew White to Father Garret (John Gerard), Rome. A petition on behalf of Rev. Mr. Richard Greene, who has been disappointed in his hopes of being admitted into the Society.—See History, I. § 4, pp. 157, 158, and facsimile, opposite.

Good Father, if upon so small acquaintance as hath yet passed betweene us under hope of farther freindshippe I am boulde before to trie your sweetenesse then I could have deserved it, the great good fame of your courtesie which posseseth the worlde like the precious breath of an odoriferous incense shall pleade for pardon, since it was the only occasion and warrante for my rashnesse, not without a certayne experientiall knowledge of the good and prosperous issue of those matters which have ben broughte to perfection by your endeavours. Heare is a freinde of mine Mr. Richarde Greene, a man of virtuous life and discreete demeanure, which of longe time hath had a true and constant desyre to be of your blessed Societie and by occasion, accordinge to the providence of the Superiours thereof, hath ben differred untill this time to his great greife; eyghte or nine [years?] agoe with sufficient diliberation and counsell of his Ghostely Father, thorough absolute true devotion to a spirituall life and sincere affection towards this order, he made a vowe to take this course of life upon him, when those which are nowe to enter and others which weare receyved some yeares agoe had scarce the feeling of any such desyre in themselves; after this whilest he lived in Doway his behaviour was laudable and good, and in particular in those mutinous times of faction, when the unquiet came to Doway and laboured in the mindes of the Schollers an aversion from the reformed govermente of the Romaine Colledge, he behaved himselfe so that there perswasion coulde take no place, theyre calumniations breede noe effecte, and did no little good in this matter; afterwarde beinge sent in mission to the Colledge of Sivill wheare I came firste acquainted with him he gave great satisfaction to our Superiours and virtuous example to his Fellowes, and beinge constrained upon sicknes to goe to England he was receyved upon condicion that his infirmitie woulde not permitte him to live untill he came unto F. Walley, of whom he was very kindly enterteyned and provided for verie charitably in a manner as one of the Societie, with a promise that the yeare followinge he shoulde be receyved without faile and had ben so, if the hope of this noviciate had not assigned him for the first subjecte and fundamentall stone of this house, and of this he receyved promises at F. Walleyes handes twise or thrise before any others weare thought upon or mentioned, which Richarde Fulwood knoweth well; his labours in that vineyarde weare fruitefull, full of good virtue and prosperous -- (a) accomplishinge perfection; he was desyred of the best and most principall persons whome he filled with love and affection towardes the Societie and was guided altogether accordinge to their carde and referred his endeavours to theyre cred -- (a) and was cause that as some in Spaigne had entred into the Societie by his means so that others in Englande bare greatte goodwill unto it and hel -- (a) it in a highe conceyte and estimation, and I know that he hath such part -- (a) entrance to personages of great qualitie and noble bloude whome I coulde name that it woulde redounde much to the creditte of the Societie to be accounted instruments of theyre conversion; but as his deservings are greate so hath his crosses ben manye, and none so greate as this which troubleth him most. About the time of this last commotion he was taken and imprisoned, where upon beinge not able to follow his matters himselfe and deprived from the comforte of such deare freindes which might with safety be employed in a matter of such consequence was constreyned to committe his affayres to the kind remembrance and carefull providence of F. Antonye, whoe havinge noe certaintye of his banishmente made with Father Holbey an absolute mission for other twoe, and upon the banishmente by some particular instances named F. Garnette and F. Blundell for the other twoe; and indeede F. Holbey toulde me that the course of thinges weare somethinge troubled, few or none of F. Walleyes wrightinges or determinations weare founde, Richarde Fulwood gone which shoulde have given particular testimonye how farre this matter proceeded, and therefore no merveye if the disposition of persons for this place hath ben somewhat inverted. I beseech therefore your R<sup>ce</sup> to speake to Father Parsons about this suite, and know that my gratefullnes shall not disvalue your courtesie but my poverty shall lye engaged to serve you with all the offices and dueties of a Freynde. The man I speake for is one whome you sent first over to the Colledges, and in this I beseech you to imitate almighty Godd which follows the steppes of his Christe in other virtues; Dei perfecta sunt opera so lett yours; you began his goode, I beseech you bringe it to perfection. F. Baldwin seeth nothinge to com from Spaigne, and therefore is loath to empawne himself for more then he muste needes; I desyre that if he cannot possibly be receyved now he may eyther be sent to the novitiates of other countries with the licence of the Generall or else may have a promise to be nexte that is receyved at Lovaine ffarewell. #### MY LORD

I would have been glad to have waited on you myself, and taken some part of your country pleasures this latter end of summer, that I might withall have given you an account of what passed in conference, betwixt the French Embassadour, my Lord Viscount Somerset, and myself, concerning that litle French pamphlet the Generall desaveu. But because my other businesses necessarily detain me here, from whence I cannot conveniently stirre for a while, I have thought fit, rather then to keepe your Lordshipp longer from the knowledge of it, to let you understand it by letter, with as much exactnesse as I can, though the lenght be somewhat to your trouble. And herein I am sure my Lord Viscount Somerset would have joyned with me, but that he left this town within two dayes after we had been with the Embassadour, and when he returnes hither agayn, I doe not perfectly know. Your Lordshipp shall therefore understand that my Lord Somerset, and I, hearing that the Embassadour was gone from London to his villa at Twittnam, we went thither to waite on him uppon Saterday last was fortnight, being the xxiiith of the last moneth, where he receaved us with much courtesy, and humanity. After we had rested a while, and the usuall ceremonies of complements past, we tould him, that we were come to acquaint his Excellency with a matter, wherewith not only our selves then present but many other Catholickes of this kingdome, as well noblemen, as principall gentlemen and others (divers of them being then, or very lately in London, and at whose entreaty we came to wait uppon him) were very much scandalized, and offended. That some there were, who to eagerly, and passionately pursuing theyr own ends of advancing the Lord Bishop of Chalcedons pretended authority, as ordinary of England, had caused to be printed a certayn pamphlet or manifest in French, entituled, General desadveu des Catholiques lais d'Angleterre contre une declaration qui à este faususement publiée a leur nom; which disavow not only endeavours to discredit a former Declaration set forth against the said pretended jurisdiction of ordinary, but besides cast many unworthy aspersions uppon such Catholiques as have oppugned the said jurisdiction; and that to authorize this Disavow abroad in the world, we told him they had published it with a subscription, in the nature of an Attestation under his Excellencies hand, and seale, purporting that he had seene the same, and acknowledging that it had been presented unto him, au nom de la plus grande et meilleure partye des Catholiques d'Angleterre. This, we told him, seemed so exceeding strang to many that had seene it, as they could not possibly beleewe that a person of so much honour and candour, as his Excellency was conceived to be, could be drawn to lend his hand or his credit to such a paper. First, for that the very title of General Desadveu (which must necessarily be understood to comprehend all Catholiques) can with no colour be justified, synce so many Catholiques of prime quality had formerly eyther beene with his Excellency or otherwise made known unto him theyr sense and opinion clearly against the said pretended authority of ordinary, wherein we appealed to his own remembrance. Next, that the wordes of restriction, which follow afterwards in the Attestation, of la plus grande et meilleure partye, are as far from truth, which way soever the wordes be taken, whether for number or quality, as will most easely be made manifest; and certain it ys (as his Excellency himself could not but know) that divers of those Catholique Lords, who appeared unto him to oppose the said pretended authority, were of the most eminent ranke of nobility in this kingdome. Besides the paper it self ys very contumelious, imputing odious thinges to the dissenting party, without all manner of prooffe, or coulour of reason: which we hoped his Excellency would not beleieve, much lesse patronize with his name.

To this effect was that which my Lord Somerset and I said unto him at that tyme, though not all in one continued seryes of narration, because now and then the Ambassador himself brooke it of, by taking hold of particulers, and making answeare unto them as they occurred; which answeare uppon the whole matter was this. He told us that he was very sorry for the differences that were amongst us; acknowledged that there had beene with him divers noblemen and gentlemen of both opinions, that he was not carryed with affection to the prejudice of eyther part, but rather was willing to doe service to them both in any thing within his power. As for that paper of Disavowe which we mentioned, he denied to have seene any such thing. He said it was true he had made an Attestation at the request of those who favoured the Bishops clayme of ordinary, but that it was only a naked and simple intimation, that divers persons of quality had been with him, declaring theyr opinions on the behalf of the said authority (which he said was true) without any relation at all to paper or pamphlet. Whereuppon I having the printed copy about me shewed it him, desiring him then to peruse it, which he did accordingly; and casting his eye first uppon the title, he reflected uppon the wordes, Generall desadveu, and afterwards uppon divers pointes of scandall in the body of the paper, which he professed utterly to mislike. And as he sayd before, so he then confirmed it agayn, that he had never seene any such paper as this Desadveu which we presented unto him. From thence proceeding to the Attestation, when he came to the wordes, Certifions que le Desadveu cy dessus transcript nous a este presente, and to the wordes following, au nom de la plus grande et meilleure partie des Catholiques d'Angleterre, he shaked his head, giving them both a fillip with his finger uppon the paper, and in expresse termes said, that those wordes were none of his. In fine, he tould us that he had not his papers there about him; they were at London, where he would be within two or three dayes; and yf in the meane tyme we would have patience untill

he might looke over his papers, he would then let us understand more particularly, what he had attested, desiring to have that printed French copy left with him; which we excused, because we had no other, but promised him a written copy of it, which I sent him within a few dayes. Some 9. or 10 dayes after we had beene with him in the country, hearing that he was come to town, I went to him to his house in Salisbury court, and desired his Excellency to be pleased then, according to his promise, to let us know in particular what it was that he had certified at the intreaty of those Catholiques, who favoured the Bishops pretensions; but he alleadged divers excuses, why he was not ready yet to performe it. To which I did not much reply at that tyme, but finding him busy and with company, I tooke my leave. I sent unto him afterwards a second tyme with the like request, but could obtayn nothing. I wonder at the stopp; but what the reason of it ys, I know not. As I heare more your Lordshipp shall understand; and in the meane tyme, because this relation which I give you hath a reference in many places to the French paper, of which I suppose you have not a copy, I have sent you one enclosed, that you may understand the proceeding more clearely. And by this tyme I may perhaps have tyred your Lordshipp with a long discourse, though yf I should measure your disposition by myne own, I have not in that respect for which to aske your Lordshipp pardon; because particulars are to me alwayes gratefull, and generalls unsatisfactory. And soe God have your Lordshipp in his holy keeping. From my lodging neere to Lincolnes Inne. 8 August, 1631.

Your Lordships very affectionatly to serve you

“Objections answered touching Mariland.” Under five heads, the writer on behalf of Baltimore answers the objections raised against the new colony, on pleas religious, political, and economical; and indirectly gives a view of the politico-religious policy put forward at that date by Caccilius, second Lord Baltimore.—See History, I. § 22, pp. 257–259.

OBJECT. 1. It may be objected that the Lawes against the Roman Catholikes were made in order to their conformity to the Protestant Religion, for the good of their soules, and by that meanes to free this Kingdome of Popery, rather than of their persons, but such a licence for them to depart this Kingdome, and to go into Mariland, or any country where they may have free liberty of their Religion, would take away all hopes of their conformity to the Church of England.

ANSWER. It is evident that reason of State (for the safety of the King and Kingdome) more than of Religion was the cause and end of those Lawes, for there are no such against divers other professions of Religion in England, although they be as different from the doctrine of the Protestant Church, established by Law in this Kingdome, as that of the Roman Catholiques is. And this reason of State appeares also in the nature of most of those Lawes, for they expresse great doubts and jealousies of the said Roman Catholiques affection to, and dependence on a forraigne power, and tend therefore, most of them, to disaine them (by confining, disarming, etc.) from plotting or doing any mischief to the King or State, and to secure their allegiance to the King by oathes etc., and the penalties of divers of them are abjuration of the Realme, which puts them out of the way of conformity to the Church of England. Moreover conversion in matter of Religion, if it bee forced, should give little satisfaction to a wise State of the fidelity of such convertites, for those who for worldly respects will breake their faith with God doubtlesse will doe it, upon a fit occasion, much sooner with men; and for voluntary conversions such Lawes could be of no use. Wherefore certainly the safety of King and Kingdome was the sole ayme and end of them.

OBJECT. 2. Such a licence will seem to be a kind of tolleration of (at least a connivence at) Popery which some may find a scruple of Conscience to allow of in any part of the Kings Dominions, because they esteem it a kinde of idolatry, and may therefore conceive that it would scandalize their brethren and the common people here.

ANSWER. Such scrupulous persons may as well have a scruple to let the Roman Catholiques live here, although it be under persecution, as to give way to such a licence, because banishment from a pleasant, plentifull and ones owne native country, into a wilderness among salvages and although it proceed (in a manner) from ones own election, yet, in this case, where it is provoked by other wayes of persecution, is but an exchange rather then a freedome of punishment, and perhaps in some mens opinions from one persecution to a worse. For divers malefactors in this Kingdome have chosen rather to be hanged, then to go into Virginia, when upon that condition they have bin offered their lives, even at the place of execution, and they may with more ground have a scruple of conscience to let any of the said Roman Catholiques to goe from hence unto France (which few or none certainly can have in contemplation of Religion only, and this Parliament hath given passes to divers of them for that purpose), that being more properly the Kings Dominions then is all that great part of North America (wherein Mariland is included), unto which the Crown of England layes claime upon the title of discovery only, except such part thereof as is actually seated and possessed by some of his subjects; and therefore, in the Preamble of the Lord Baltemores Patent of Mariland, the enlargement of the Kings Dominions is recited as a motive of the grant, which inferres that it could not so properly be esteemed his Dominions before, as when by virtue of such a grant it should be planted by some of his subjects. And if may also (as wel as in this) have a scruple to treat or make or continue a league, or to trade with any forraigners of that Religion, because in their oppinions they are idolaters, or to permit the publique Ministers of any such forraigne Prince or State to have the free exercise of their Religion while they are in England, and may feare giving scandall to others by such tollerations or connivences: all which nevertheless we see done, even in these times, and allowed of, aswell by the Parliament as the King, upon reason of State, for the good and safety of this Realme. So may this licence be also thought by such persons a good expedient for the same purpose. And if any (of the weaker sort) should be scandalized at it, the scandal would be acceptum not datum, and therefore not to be regarded by a wise and judicious Prince or State.

[The King will lose the money fines to be paid by Catholics.]

Finis dictae Legis non est lucrum Regis.
[The object of the said law is not the King's profit.]

OBJECT. 3. By it the Kings revenue will be impaired in loosing the benefit which the said Lawes give him, out of Recusants estates, while they continue in England of that profession of Religion.

ANSWER. The end of those Lawes was not the Kings profit, but (as is said before) the freeing of this Kingdome of Recusants which deprives the King of any benefit by them, so as his Majesty will have no wrong don him by such a licence, because he will loose nothing by it of what was intended him by the said Lawes; this is no ancient revenue of the Crowne, for it had inception but in Queene Elizabeths time, and conformity or alienation to a Protestant deprives the King of this revenue. If there were no crimes at all committed in England, the King would loose many fines and confiscations, whereby his revenue would also be impaired (which in the other as well as in this branch of it is but casuall), and yet without question the King and State would both desire it. The same reason holds in this, considering what opinion is had here of the Recusants, wherefore it cannot with good manners be doubted that his Majestie will in this businesse preferre his owne benefit, before that which the State shall conceive to be convenient for his safety, and the publique good.

OBJECT. 4. It would much prejudice this Kingdome by drawing considerable number of people, and transporting of a great deale of wealth, from hence.

ANSWER. The number of all the Recusants in England is not so great, as the departure of them all from hence would make any sensible diminution of people in it, and their profession in Religion would make them the lesse missed here. If the number were great, then consequently (according to the maximes of this State) they were the more dangerous, and there would be the more reason by this meanes to lessen it. And if it bee but small (as indeed it is) then their absence from hence would little prejudice the Kingdome in the decrease of people, nor will such a licence occasion the transportation of much wealth out of England, for they shal not need to carry any considerable summes of money with them, nor is it desired that they should have leave to do so, but only usefull things for a Plantation, as provisions for cloathing and building and planting tooles etc. which will advantage this Kingdome by increase of trade and vent of its Native Commodities, and transferre the rest of their Estates by Bills of Exchange into Bankes beyond Sea, which tends also to the advantage of the trade of England, for more stock by this meanes will be employed in it.

OBJECT. 5. It may prove dangerous to Virginea and New England, where many English Protestants are planted, Maryland being scituated betweene them both, because it may be suspected that the said Roman Catholiques will bring in the Spaniards or some other forraigne enemy to suppress the Protestants in those parts, or perhaps grow strong enough to doe it of themselves, or that in time (having the Government of that Province of Mariland in their hands) they may and will shake off any dependance on the Crowne of England.

ANSWER. The English Colonies in New England are at least 500 miles, and that of Virginea 100 miles distant from Mariland, and it will be a long time before planters can be at leisure to think of any such designe, and there is little cause to doubt, that any people as long as they may live peaceably under their owne Government, without oppression either in spiritualls or temporalls, will desire to bring in any forraigners to domineere over them, which misery they would undoubtedly fall into, if any considerable forraigne Prince or State (who are only in this case to be feared) had the possession of the English Collonies in Virginea or New England. But the number of English Protestants already in Virginea and New England, together with the poverty of those parts, makes it very improbable that any forraigne Prince or State will bee tempted to undergoe the charge and hazard of such a remote designe, it being well knowne that the Spanish Colonies in the West Indies are farther distant then Europe is from thence. If any danger were to be suspected in that way from the said Recusants, the like suspition of bringing in a forraigne Enemy into England may (as indeed it hath often beene) be had of them, while they are here, for the difference of scituation may balance the difference of the power, betweene this Kingdome and those parts, for the accomplishing of such a designe, and certainly (of the two) it were much better to throw that hazard (if it were any) upon Virginea and New England, then to have it continue here. Much lesse cause is there to feare that they should grow strong enough of themselves to suppress the Protestants in those parts; for there are already at least three times as many Protestants there, as there are Roman Catholiques in all England. And the Protestants in Virginea and New England are like to increase much faster by new supplies of people yearely from England, etc., then are the Roman Catholiques in Mariland. Moreover although they should (which God forbid and which the English Protestants in those parts will in all probability be still able to prevent) shake off any dependance on the Crowne of England, yet first England would by this meanes be freed of so many suspected persons now in it; secondly, it would loose little by it; and lastly, even in that case, it were notwithstanding more for the honour of the English Nation, that English men, although Roman Catholiques, and although not dependant on the Crowne of England, should possesse that country then forraigners, who otherwise are like to do it: for the Swedes and Dutch have two severall Plantations already in New England, and upon the confines of Mariland (betweene the English Colonies in New England and Mariland), and doe incroach every day more and more upon that Continent, where there is much more land then all the Kings Protestant subjects in all his Dominions (were they there) would be able to possesse. But the assurance of protection from the Crowne and State of England, upon all just occasions, either of danger from a forraigne Enemy, or of wrongs which may be done unto them by his Majesties Protestant subjects in those parts, and the benefit of trade with England for yearely supplies, without which they will not be able to subsist, will be strong tyes, if there were no other, to binde them to continue their dependance on it.

Moreover the mouth of the Bay of Cheseapeacke being but narrow, and at which all ships that come to Mariland must enter, is within the precincts and power of the Colony of Virginea. And the Planters of Virginia will by the accesse of so many neighbours be much advantaged, because their cattle and many other commodities which they abound in and have no vent for, and which this new Colony will stand in need of, will by this meanes yeeld them good rates, which now are of little value to them, wherefore certainly they will feare no prejudice but will be glad of such a market for improvement of their estates; though perhaps some petty Merchants heere, traders to Virginea, may conceive it prejudicial to them, and therefore may make Religion, and other vaine pretences of danger to Virginea, or this State, the cloake of their avarice, to hinder this designe; whereas in truth it can be nothing else, but feare of the increase of the commodities they deale in and consequently of an abatement of the prices, that may incline them to oppose it.

P. Richardo Blondo Provinciali.

Intelligo R. V. jam pridem magno desiderio expectare a me facultatem mittendi aliquot e nostris cum nobilibus seu mercatoribus De Indica Anglis, qui novas sedes in Indiis occidentis extra ditiones a expeditione. Rege Catholico occupatas quaerere meditantur. Ad quod ne miretur a me hucusque nihil esse responsum, sciat me non nisi ante unum alterumve annum de eo consilio aliquid a R. V. accepisse ; cui tum respondebam, negotium illud esse gravioris deliberationis, ob periculum offendendi eos qui fortasse contentend hac ratione contra jus sibi a Sede Apostolica concessum aliquid fieri ; ideoque pleniorē de re tota informationem petebam. Illam si R. V. postea miserit, ideoque miretur me nihil respondisse, causa silentii mei est, quod petitam informationem, neque aliam ullam epistolam ad illam deliberationem pertinentem hucusque acceperim. Quare etsi merito iterum deliberationem de illo negotio rejicere possem, donec nos plenius informet, tamen, quia intelligo R. V. magnopere urgere ut cito responsum aliquod certum hinc habeat, permitto R. V. arbitrio, si res ita urgeat ut expectare non possit dum nos uberius de toto consilio illius navigationis certiores reddiderit et aliud hinc receperit, ut, si auditis aliquot ex praecipuis patribus judicarit, nullo modo occasionem illam divinae gloriae amplificandae negligendam, ex eaque (quod ego sperare vix possum) nullam justam cujusvis principis catholici offensionem timendam, aliquos e nostris cum dictis nobilibus proficisci in regiones quas illi sibi destinarunt patiat. Multo tamen magis opto ut, si quo modo fieri possit, res differatur dum iterum me consuluerit et responsum hinc acceperit. Atque hisce me SS. R. V. Romae [26 maij—deleted], 1633, 4 junii.

Iis, quas R. V. 31 maii scripsit, insinuabat se mirari quod responsum nullum hinc acciperet de nostris in Virginiam mittendis. Cujus rei cum R. V. causam indicaverim 4 junii, et simul etiam quid de illa expeditione nobis videretur significaverim, spero jam expectationi suae esse satisfactum meque etiam brevi pleniorum de consilio eorum qui in Virginiam navigationem parant informationem accepturum. Si R. V. P. Andream Vitum illi missioni bene idoneum judicet, ipseque eam tantopere desideret, non habeo cur eum illuc mitti nolim. Hoc tamen non possum quin R. V. enixe commendem, ut in delectu eorum, quos in novam illam expeditionem mittere cogitat, non solum propensionis ac desiderii eorum magnam habeat rationem, cum ab invitis aut minus ad tam longinquam profectionem propendentibus nihil magnopere boni expectari possit, verum etiam virtutem, prudentiam et zelum eorumdem, et maxime illorum qui prima missionis illius principia sunt posituri, diligentissime expendat; ut ii tales sint quorum vestigia et exempla reliqui deinceps pro norma et regula sequi possint. ¶¶ . . . 20 augusti 1633.

Responsum

Exhibeat admodum Rev<sup>do</sup> Patri Nostro Declarationem Coloniae quam Ill<sup>mus</sup> Dominus Baro Baltamor ducit in Marilandiam, inter Virginiam et Floridam, jussu Henrici 7. et aliorum deinde eo navigantium ex Anglia primo inventam. Quam si approbet S[ua] P[aternalitas], necesse erit facultates speciales impetrare, nisi forte credat S. P., quas pro Anglia concessas habemus eo etiam loci valituras, non solum pro Anglis, de quibus minor est dubitatio, sed etiam pro indigenis ethnicis illius regionis cum convertentur.

R. Exhibuit nobis declarationem expeditionis supradictae P. Joannes Wortingtonus; a qua cum speremus magnum divinae gloriae incrementum et plurimarum animarum salutem, non possumus eam non vehementer probare, et precari ut tam pia patrum studia, operam suam tanta alacritate [incultis illis regionibus—deleted] ad lumen fidei populis illis sedentibus in tenebris et umbra mortis inferendum offerentibus [offerentium?], divina providentia secundare dignetur. Accepi litteras R. V. datas 2 Maii, nec satis explicare possum quam eae mihi jucundae fuerint. Nimirum tam alte insedit animo meo vestra ista missio, ut nihil magis aveam quam de illa creberrime intelligere, et spero per industriam R. V. me laetissima quoque tempore accepturum. Quae de sedibus quatuor in locis collocatis, quae de benevolentia principis in illa gente primarii, de ipsius ad baptismum animo, de spe fructus uberrimi perscripsit, valde me recrearunt in Domino. Spem ostentatam collegii laetus amplector, et cum maturuerit non cunctabor admittere. Macte sit animo R. V. et confidat illam ipsam, quam de se concepit tenuem existimationem, validissimum fore ad praeclaras molitiones instrumentum. Neque enim vult Deus ut gloriatur in conspectu ejus omnis caro. Commendavi jam ego P. Provinciali, ut plures vobis operas quamprimum submittat, ne sub onere pauci fatiscatis. Quos jam isthic habet R. The General Vitelleschi to Edward Knott, Provincial. On the difficulties in Maryland. Wishes the mission to be maintained. But little hope of obtaining faculties from the Holy See (to give up the property). The three expedients proposed by Knott. The second and third admissible. The General writes a letter accordingly to be seen by Lord Baltimore. On the property already acquired in Maryland, and so become, it would seem, ecclesiastical. Baltimore will possibly assent to its serving a sacred purpose.—See History, I. § 69, p. 557.

Quod excursionem attinet R.<sup>ae</sup> V.<sup>ae</sup> in Novam Angliam non habeo ego quod opponam. Perpendat ipsa diligenter difficultatem operis suis cum consultoribus, et si rei bene gerendae spes affulgeat per me licebit. Scribam nihilominus ad P. Provincialem ut, si <sup>De excursionem</sup> in Novam Angliam. quid ipsi occurrat in contrarium, opportune suggerat et in illius consilio R.<sup>a</sup> V.<sup>a</sup> acquiescat.

Quod necdum satura laborum aut pertaesa perpersionum R<sup>a</sup> V<sup>a</sup> denuo se accingat ad missionem Indicam, quemadmodum significat 16 Eunti in novembris, facit rem dignam zelo suo, dignam discipulo Indiam. Illius, qui relictis nonaginta novem ovibus in collibus aeternis, quaesivit unam palabundam inter vepres terrae ut inferret coelo. Certe si ad coacervandas perituras divitias iterum ac saepius currunt mercatores ad extremos Indos, quidni idem ac amplius faciat negotiator coelestis ad opes aeternas sibi aliisque congregandas? Et si ipsis tanti est fragile vitrum, quidni nobis sit pluris verum et inaestimabile margaritum? Pergat igitur feliciter R<sup>a</sup> V<sup>a</sup> innixa super Dilectum suum; et, quae nullis parcit laboribus aut periculis ut animas lucretur Deo, dignum ferat precor operae suae pretium et crescat spiritualiter in mille millia. Commendo me vicissim etiam atque etiam SS. R<sup>ae</sup> V<sup>ae</sup> Sacrificiis atque precibus. 25 januarii [1648].

The General Carrafa to Philip Fisher, Superior, Maryland. Congratulations on his arrival in Maryland, and the comfort given to the desolate flock. Desires to receive all particulars of his ministry. On the hopes of further assistance being sent.

In Marilandiam, P. Philippo Fishero Superiori.

Accepi postremas R. V. 22 julii datas. De patre Matajon ex Anglia revocando et in Marilandiam mittendo scripserat nuper ad me P. P. Mattajon. Silisdonius. In illud justis de causis consensi, quod tales missiones videatur, quae apostolicos perfectosque requirunt, et etiamnum persto in sententia. Tutius P. Anno superiore nullae R. V. litterae comparuerunt, seu naufragio illae perierint, seu alia via interciderint. Porro ex iis, quas 14 februarii anni currentis huc destinavit, libenter intellexi quem cursum res catholica in Marilandia teneat. Deus conatus bonos fortunare velit et fructus speratos largiri ! R. V. cum socio, quoad fieri potest, novi gubernatoris benevolentiam conciliare studeat et conservare, ne quid inde obstaculi gloriae Dei et proximorum saluti ponatur. Illud omnino curandum ne justae illi detur ansa offensionis. Non vulgari me perfudit voluptate orthodoxorum constantia et heterodoxorum conversio, frustra oblatrante et adnitente ministello haeretico. Nec dubito scholas a socio patre apertas operae pretium laturas.

Denique tempestatem concitatam tam feliciter posuisse et R. V. ex tam gravi diuturnoque morbo convalescere plurimum laetor, ut tanto majori fervore divino servitio, Indorum populariumque saluti se possit impendere ; ad quod R. Gratulor R. Ut vero solatium quoque ex longa navigatione, in qua Sacrificium Deo offerre non licuit, habeat, trecentis iterum Sacrificiis ex proprio ipsam dono, omnemque inde consolationem eidem accedere et evenire desidero. Glorifico deinde Deum in sanctis suis, ac martyrum nostrorum sanguinem toti orbi christiano conspicuum aliquando fore spero; quorum memoria, sicut et caetera apostolicorum virorum virtute, interea summopere delector. Habeo R. V. et P. Guilielmi Mumfordi literas nullo loci et temporis signo notatas. Utraeque memorant P. Thomae Percaeii extravagantem et a nostra consuetudine alienum agendi modum; et quoniam desperata videntur de eo ad saniolem mentem reduciendo consilia, aliud remedium nobis non superest, quam ut velut mentis inops habeatur tracteturque. Illud tamen gratum fuit intelligere, illius intemperiem aliorum virtuti non tantum non obfuisse, sed ad perfectionem exaggerandam incitamento extitisse. Ad R. V<sup>am</sup> spectabit porro hunc in caeteris fervorem conservare atque amplificare. Nunc ipsam una cum laudato P. Quae R. V<sup>a</sup> memorat de P. Thomae Percaeii intemperie, cum non nisi mentis debilitati ac fortassis etiam illusioni attribuere possimus, nequeo alia de eo vel emendando vel ad sanio rem mentem revocando consilia suggere[re], quam quae amentibus adhiberi consuevere; siquidem graviora ab homine incommoda timere debeamus, si illum a nobis liberum pronunciemus. Itaque includendus erit, et vel hac ratione probandus, an ad leges nostras spiritumque, qui caeteris probetur, revocari accommodari queat. Franget ista ratio superbiam illius et, uti spes est, tractabilem reddet. Interim observo quanti intersit in suscipiendis delectum habere, et non obiter inclinationes naturae inspicere. Intellego enim illum, antequam susciperetur, jam ejusmodi signa praesetulisse, ex quibus, quae secuta fuere, probabiliter timere aut colligere licebat. Sed nunc illum R. Londinum, Illustri viro Joanni Keynesio.

Accepi epistolam utramque, 22<sup>a</sup> et 29<sup>a</sup> octobris datam, qua R. V<sup>a</sup> me edocet quo res nostrae nunc in Anglia sint loco, et quae a De statu P. Nicolao Gulicki in missione Marilandica pessime agantur. Angliae, etc. De priori aliud, quid agendum, non occurrit, nisi ut Deum et orationibus et sacrificiis regno propitium reddamus, supplicemusque ut illud tam ab externis hostibus, quam ab internis seditionibus et tumultibus tueatur. De altero vero, quam vita P. Nicolai Societatis religioso est indigna, quamque scandalosa et pernicioza, tam illa mihi displicet; ac vehementer miror homini, omni virtute missionariis unice necessaria destituto, provinciam hanc apostolicam commissam. Longe tamen maxime doleo, eum cum tanto saecularium scandalo, ac Societatis aestimationis detrimento, tam diu fuisse toleratum, nulla, quam pridem dari oportuisset, ad me missa informatione. Unde, quod pridem expediebat dimittatur. oportebatque, R. V<sup>a</sup> nunc exequatur, eumque e Societate dimittat. Et, si quidem spes sit eum, si vocetur, in Europam rediturum, expediet illum revocari, dissimulatis interim itineris suscipiendi causis; sin minus, dimittendus erit in eo, in quo morabitur, loco; et quidem quam fieri poterit proxime, ne ex tardiore medicina vis mali augeatur. ¶ . . . De nobili illo juvene 30 fere annorum pariter poteram edoceri, antequam ad tyrocinium admitteretur; neque enim credam periculum fuisse in mora. Alterum vero candidatum <sup>De admissis ad tyrocinium:</sup> D. 1733, October 31.

The General Retz to Levin Browne, Rector, Watten. Will accede to the request tendered on behalf of the Maryland missionary, Peter Davies, that he be promoted to the four vows. The previous grant of promotion to the profession of three vows. The conditions to be fulfilled with sworn testimonies regarding the talents or acquirements alleged. A similar grant of promotion to the profession of three vows is accorded, on like conditions, to Father Robert Harding. As to the profession of four vows for Thomas Pulton, information will be taken in Rome.

Eidem [P. Levino Browne, Rectori], Wattenas. 31 octobris 1733.

Literis ex Anglia datis rogor ut P. Petrum Davies Marylandiae missionarium, jam antehac gratia trium votorum solemnum, quae tamen nondum emisisse scribitur, donatum admittam ad professionem quatuor votorum, cum polleat talento concionandi et peritia linguae Graecae; virtute insuper et zelo praestare videatur, secundum iudicium P. superioris sui et PP. Richardson ac Turbeville. Quamvis autem jam secundus et insolitus quidem favor petatur, difficilem me tamen non praebebo, si jurata testimonia accepero de excellentia in praedictis talentis, juxta decreta Congregationis XIII et XIV, quae R. V<sup>a</sup> a designatis ad hoc viris idoneis petere atque ad nos transmittere maturabit, ut iudicium fieri possit.

De P. Petro
vota.

Iidem patres etiam preces jungunt pro P. Roberto Harding, ut De P. Roberto ad 3 votorum professionem benigne admittatur. De hoc Harding ad 3 solemnia. quoque, secundum ea quae p. 5. Const[itutionum] cap. 2 exiguntur, informandus ero, ut dispicere possim an gradus hujus, qui solidam virtutem devotionemque imprimis postulat, copia eidem fieri queat. ¶ . . .

Porro cum dubitatum fuerit unde pro P. Thoma Pulton ad gradum professionis 4 votorum propediem capiendum informationes peti oporteat, hisce insinuo eas, ut ambages temporis et locorum vitentur, e patribus Romae degentibus collectum iri. Valere quam optime R. V<sup>m</sup> cupio, et Deo auspice coeptum munus cum solatio gerere; mei vero in Sacris suis diligenter meminisce.

Londinum, D. Levino Browne Provinciali. 8 januarii [1735].

Triplices D. The General Retz to Henry Boulton, (Provincial). Grants the two points regarding Bernard Cross and John Dennet; but cannot sufficiently express his wonder that, in a year's administration of his office as Provincial, Boulton should have recognized the General's authority only in the matter of getting these two dispensations, and should have ignored it in every other point belonging to the duties of his office, notwithstanding reminders from the General.

Londinum, Clarissimo D. Henrico Boulton. 26 julii [1738].

Ad ea quae in literis 23 junii scriptis D. V. mecum communicavit circa D. Joannem Dennet et D. Bernardum Cross, annutum meum jam significavi D. Levino Browne. Hac autem occasione non possum D. V<sup>o</sup> satis explicare admirationem meam, quod solum in memoratis duobus punctis, quae dispensationem continent, ad me confugerit, praetermissis omnibus illis, quae ad observantiam officii sui circa res mecum scripto communicandas pertinent. Etsi enim satis longo tempore in cismarinis partibus manserit, nihil tamen hactenus ad me dedit de statu earum, aut illarum quae trans mare sunt, quamvis id desideraverim in literis meis d. [?] 2da novembris anni praeteriti, idemque instaurationem in datis 25 januarii anni praesentis, et licet praeterea modum ad hoc suppeditaverim, formulasque miserim per D. Joannem Norris. Nullus etiam praefectorum transmarinorum ad me scripsit; catalogum personarum hujus anni nondum obtinui; non accepi tractatum de manumissione Guilielmi Ward; nihil hactenus intellexi, an et quomodo professio D. Audoeni Kingsley renovata fuerit. Quaeso proinde D. V<sup>a</sup> haud gravate in memoriam sibi reducat 92 regulam sui muneris, et meam, quam pro universa familia gero, sublevet sollicitudinem, quae alias nimio opere augetur, si penitus fere ignorem quo loco res nostrae sint. Eidem demum solitudini, quod scripsi, tribuat, et cum solita mei memoria prospere valeat.

eo dirigi poterit. Circa charissimum Richardum majorem habeo difficultatem; etsi enim P. Provincialis itidem mihi scribat, eum ex non vulgari zelo paratum esse renuntiare ulterioribus studiis et ipsi professioni, non videtur tamen opportunitate ad illam perveniendi privandus esse. Mallem igitur ut, exacto tertio theologiae anno, ipsi assignarentur theses, ex quibus pro ultimo tentamine in Marylandia examinaretur a quatuor idoneis examinadoribus. Si tamen R. V<sup>a</sup> tales ibidem non esse existimaret, differendus erit illius discessus in annum venturum, quo commodius etiam vacare poterit per mensem S. Patris exercitiis, et per haec animum quoque diligentius praeparare ad illas operationes evangelicas. R. V. nunc mecum communicet suum super hac re arbitrium, P. Provinciali vero meum sensum exponat, et in casum quo charissimus Richardus hoc anno Leodii retinendus esset, tum ut tertium theologiae annum finiat, tum ut isthic quoque ultimum tentamen absolvat, eidem significet de alio interim providendum esse, qui P. Henrico in socium itineris adjungatur. Valeat R. V<sup>a</sup> habeatque jugem mei memoriam in SS. suis Sacrificiis.

Ardens tuum desiderium serviendi nostris patribus in regionibus Indicis, eoque modo cooperandi in salutem gentium tanto magis laudo, quanto minus id effectui dare cupis quam si et quomodo superioribus tuis, veluti divinae voluntatis interpretibus, visum fuerit. Haec ipsa porro ratio me movet ut provinciae tuae praesidi commendaturus sim illud tuum desiderium, ut, si ad majorem Dei gloriam expedire judicaverit nihilque obstiterit, ei morem gerere non gravetur. Tu interim Optimum Deum Dominum nostrum suppliciter roga ut sua sanctissima voluntas in te impleatur, neque dubita id ipsi futurum gratissimum quod ex laudato provinciae praeside statutum esse intellexeris, sive decernat te mittere in Indias, sive in Europaeis regionibus morari velit. Theodore Schneider of the Upper Rhine scarcely available. But others in the Province of the Lower Rhine are on the lists of aspirants for the foreign missions. Conditions to be observed. Commendation of the lay-brother, John Wiseman. Robert Harding already approved for profession of three vows. The case of Peter Davies: the conditions for promoting him to profession of four vows not yet fulfilled; he can be admitted at once to the three vows. General declaration: no one henceforth to defer taking the grade assigned, merely in the hope of a higher grade which may yet be granted.

P. Henrico Boulton Provinciali. 16 julii [1740].

Eidem R<sup>ae</sup> V<sup>ae</sup> decessori scripsi 31 octobris 1733 ut de talento concionandi et peritia linguae Graecae P. Petri Davies mihi mittat quatuor jurata testimonia, si ad professionem quatuor votorum promovendus est. Ista autem hactenus ad me non pervenerunt; unde vel ista mittantur, vel, si post captas novas informationes nihil obstare compertum fuerit, uti alias statui, ad professionem trium solemnum votorum admittatur. Imposterum vero nemo ex spe obtinendae professionis quatuor votorum a determinato sibi gradu detineatur; etsi enim in hoc positus fuerit, istud tamen non obstat quominus, habitis sufficientibus argumentis, ad altiore gradum per me admitti queat. ¶¶ . . .

Guilielmum ad dictum gradum promovendum. Eadem ratione, habitis informationibus de P. Wilhelmo Wappeler ex Provincia Rheni Inferioris ex qua discessit in Pensylvaniam, statui in Domino ut P. If he means a vicar in ordinary, the post cannot be accepted without a pontifical dispensation from the Jesuit's special vow; if only incidentally, there will be no difficulty. Another measure might be that of attaching the Jesuit as adviser to a vicar in ordinary.*

Leodium, P. Carolo Roels. 9 martii [1743].

Res, quam R. V. mihi proposuit ex voluntate P. Provincialis sui, explicatione aliqua indiget. Si enim Ill<sup>mus</sup> dominus Vicarius Apostolicus Marylandiae et Pensylvaniae nostrum sacerdotem harum missionum superiorem ita sibi in hoc vicariatu vult substituere, ut ipsi deleget omnem suam jurisdictionem permanentem et habitualementem pro universitate causarum, gratiosarum nempe et contentiosarum, ad illud munus seu tribunal spectantium, a nostro ob particulare votum admitti nequit. Supplicari tamen ideo potest ab Ill<sup>mo</sup> Domino Suae Sanctitati pro dispensatione, quae in hoc casu forte haud difficulter impetrabitur. Si autem vult pro uno alterove solum actu transeunte etiam in causis contentiosis suam potestatem ipsi tribuere, vel solas gratiosas, uti sunt dispensationes, absolutiones etc., licet universim, ipsi delegare, id absque alia dispensatione noster sacerdos admittere potest. Tandem res haec etiam isto modo potest instrui absque recursum ad Sedem Apostolicam, ut nimirum Ill<sup>mus</sup> alteri extra Societatem omnem suam potestatem deleget, isti tamen simul imponat ut nihil agat absque consilio et approbatione nostri sacerdotis. Haec nunc R. V. cum memorato P. Provinciali communicet. ¶ . . .

The General Retz to Charles Roels, Rector, Liège. There is no decision of the General Congregation, but there is the opinion of some grave theologians to the effect that if, in such a case as the present, Father Talbot<sup>1</sup> had assigned all his property, and all his natural expectations or rights, to the Society before his profession, the College which he made his heir could and can now claim the property ab intestato left by Father Talbot's nephew.

Leodium, P. Carolo Roels R[ectori]. 24 augusti 1743.

Non fuit quidem a postrema Congregatione Generali approbata aliqua declaratio theologica, juxta quam nostro alicui collegio obvenire queat haereditas ab intestato, vi renuntiationis in illius favorem editae a quodam Societatis nostrae professo, dum eam ante professionem fecisset. Nihilominus, cum sit aliqua similis nostrorum theologorum sententia, cui consentire mihi integrum est absque dispensatione pontificia, si P. Talbot talem revera fecit, de qua prius interrogetur, in casu quo instrumentum renuntiationis reperiri nequiret, cum de hac certo constare debeat, et ita eam instruxit ut non solum praesentia sua bona, sed etiam futura, seu spes et jura ad quaecunque bona quae ipsi jure naturae obvenire possent, collegio cuidam transcrip[er]it, concedo ut haereditatem nepotis ejus praetendere et sibi vindicare possit illud collegium in cuius gratiam ipse renuntiavit.

Non est porro quod memorem; unde R. V. plurimum valere cupio et sanctis suis Sacrificiis me commendo. [Note in margin :] Non fuit missa, sed ejus loco sequens.

Letter substituted for the foregoing. The whole question of a right to Father Gilbert Talbot's heritage, on the part of the Society, turns upon the form of his abdication or assignment; whether or no he did make the Society his heir as to future contingent inheritances. The General does not entertain the proposal of having the professed capacitated by pontifical dispensation to receive what might accrue by right of succession; but in any particular case he is willing to consider whether a pontifical dispensation should be asked for. Sympathy with the Province in its distress.

Accepi duas R. V. epistolas 26 et 29 julii datas agentes de haereditate ac testamento P. Gilberti Talbot p. m. Bene autem advertit R. V. dispensationi a Summo Pontifice petendae jam locum non esse; nam illa ut vim haberet ante professionem praedicti patris peti debuisset. Unde solum superest ut omnis diligentia adhibeatur ad inveniendam renuntiationem ab ipso factam, antequam professionem emitteret. Si enim constaret quod ante professionem omnia sua bona et jura, tam praesentia quam futura, Societati transcripserit, non desunt auctores graves (aliis tamen contradicentibus) qui existiment Societatem vi talis renuntiationis acquirere jus ad bona seu haereditates, quae, etiam post professionem, ab intestato obveniunt. Verum de hoc mentem meam pluribus perscripsi P. Provinciali.

Ad praecavenda vero in futurum provinciae damna, certum est, salvis Constitutionibus, peti non posse generatim dispensationem qua nostri professi capaces fiant haereditariae successionis; sed, si in casu particulari aliquis spem haberet similis haereditatis aliquando obtinendae, posset id mihi proponi, ut expendam an a Summo Pontifice peti debeat talis dispensatio, qualem permittit declaratio sancti Patris Nostri, quae tamen jussu primae Congregationis Generalis ex Constitutionum libro expuncta fuit. Interim precabor Deum ut afflictæ huic provinciae, tantum pro sua gloria laboranti, aliis modis, qui providentiae ipsius non desunt, benigne succurrat; ac me sanctis R. V. Sacrificiis perimpense commendo.

The General Retz to Charles Shireburn, Provincial. Congratulation on the spiritual state of the Province. The case of Father Talbot's heritage does not depend upon any act of his before death, however valid in the eyes of the civil law, but upon his act before profession in the Society. Though the General De Noyelle did not entertain such a claim as that to property accruing after profession, still the right remains with the present General to recognize such a claim, as in the present condition of the English Province. Hence find Talbot's act of abdication or assignment, or else his testimony to such an effect in favour of the Province. Without this, there is no title in the Society to the Longford estate of Talbot's nephew. On Chamberlain (Pearse), who seeks readmission into the Society. It is not to be granted.

Clarissimo D. Carolo Schireburn Provinciali Angliae. 31 augusti [1743].

Duas accepi D. V<sup>ae</sup> epistolas 15 julii datas easque pergratas habui. Ea quae D. V. scribit de oratione et caeteris eo pertinentibus singulari mihi fuere solatio, precorque Deum ut tam bonam animorum dispositionem in nostris conservare atque augere velit.

Quod vero attinet ad testamentum D. Talbot p. m., non improbo quod ad illam testamenti speciem D. V. illum cohortata sit, ut scilicet, si quid juris ad bona illa haberet negotiatio, illud vindicari posset. Quod autem D. V. petit ut liceat vobis uti jure, quod in illa bona per patrias leges habetis, ego contrarius non ero, dummodo id salvis nostris legibus ac justitia fieri possit; in quo sane difficultas non modica est. Optime enim novit D. V<sup>a</sup> D<sup>m</sup> Talbot, postquam negotiationi nostro[ae ?] arctissimo illo et solemni vinculo adstrictus fuit, haereditariae successionis capacem amplius non fuisse, nec potuisse amplius de bonis illis disponere. Unde non tam attendi debet ad testamentum ante mortem confectum quam ad renuntiationem factam tempore habili, scilicet ante quam solemniter profiteretur. Nam si in ea renuntiatione omnia sua bona ac jura, tam praesentia quam futura, D. V<sup>no</sup> vel alicui domui nostrae resignaverit, non desunt authores graves (licet aliis contradicentibus), qui sustineant posse tunc a nobis vindicari etiam illa bona seu haereditates, quae renuntianti obvenierint etiam post professionem.

Quamvis vero D. Noy[e]lle et alii antecessores mei, ob majorem puritatem sanctae paupertatis, noluerint tales renuntiationes quoad jura futura seu obventura post gradum a nostris acceptari, tamen, ob speciales rationes quae pro negotiatione vestra pugnant, ego non prohibeo quin D. V. vindicare possit jus illud, quod ex vi renuntiationis factae ante gradum forte vestra provincia acquisivit. Igitur majore qua fieri possit diligentia inquirendum erit in praedictam renuntiationem ut constare possit, quod D. Talbot vere jura sua etiam futura, ut dictum est, resignavit, et transcripserit negotiationi; et, si forte ipsa renuntiatio omnino inveniri nequeat, videndum, an non saltem aliunde, ex. gr. ex ipsius D. Talbot assertionem, id sufficienter constet. Nam si de hujusmodi renuntiatione nullatenus constet, non video, quo jure aut titulo bona illa, quae per mortem D<sup>ni</sup> Talbot de Longfort ab intestato obvenierunt nostro D<sup>no</sup> Talbot, a vobis retineri aut possideri queant. Illud tamen consideret D. V. an, si jus vestrum dubium videatur, pro ratione dubii iniri queat aliqua justa compositio cum haeredibus sicque pacifice terminari molesta haec controversia.

Demum quod D. V. in eadem epistola petit pro D. Chamberling, ut scilicet in alio regno aut provincia admittatur, convenire nullatenus censeo, praecipue cum non immerito judicetur quod forte incurrerit primum ex impedimentis in quibus dispensari non potest.<sup>8</sup> Unde D. V. eum perhortetur ut in eo quo versatur vitae genere salutem suam in tuto ponere ac Deo servire satagat, vel potius, si ad id vocari se a Deo sentiat, alteri cuidam simili negotiationi adscribi curet.

Valeat optime D. V. et nostri, more solito, memor sit.

The General Retz to Charles Shireburn, Provincial. On his success in finding Father Grey's (Talbot) act of assignment. Such an act in a legal case at Piacenza determined the verdict in favour of the Society. The heads of information now sent will be of use in any appeal which may be made by the Countess to the Propaganda. The Provincial's argument in favour of the Society drawn from the case of other Orders is not valid. For treating the cause here it will be necessary to know, if the heir named by Father Talbot for one half of the estate would have been the sole heir, had the Father himself died intestate.

Clarissimo D. Carolo Schireburn Provinciali Angliae. 14 septembris 1743.

Duas simul accepi D. V<sup>ae</sup> epistolas 29 julii et 1 augusti datas. Gratulor ex animo D. V<sup>ae</sup> inventam tandem renuntiationem Domini Greii, quae omnino desiderabatur ut negotiatio vestra jus in haereditatem praetendere posset. Ob similem renuntiationem Placentiae, annis ab hinc non ita multis, in contradictorio judicio adjudicata fuit nostris haereditas, quae alicui negotiatori nostro post professionem obtigerat; cujus sententiae exemplum curabo ut ad D. Roels Leodium mittatur cum D. V. communicandum. Caeterum jam nuper scripsi D. V<sup>ae</sup> me (non obstantibus antecessorum ordinationibus) contrarium non esse, nec prohibere quin D. V. vindicet jus, quod vi illius renuntiationis negotiatio nostra, juxta sententiam gravium authorum, praetendere potest.

Quod attinet ad casum D. V<sup>ae</sup> propositum, id solum animadvertendum videtur, non esse plenam paritatem nostrae negotiationis cum aliis similibus familiis; quae in suorum professorum haereditates ab intestato de jure communi succedere possunt, quod nostrae non competit, nisi vi renuntiationis ante professionem factae, juxta sententiam nonnullorum authorum, aliis tamen, ut nuper scripsi, contradicentibus. Videre potest D. V<sup>a</sup> Constit. p. 6, c. 2, n. 12.

Demum rescire cuperem an ille, cui bonorum medietatem D. Talbot, in testamento ante mortem confecto, reliquit, fuisset unicus haeres ab intestato, an vero alii etiam aequale jus habuissent, si praedictus D. Talbot intestatus obiisset; haec enim notitia ad causam hanc rite tractandam, si forte huc transferretur, non inutilis nobis erit. Valere optime D. RELATIO ITINERIS IN MARILANDIAM.

Vigesimo secundo mensis novembris anni 1633 die S<sup>tae</sup> Ceciliae sacro, leniter aspirante euro, solvimus a Conis, qui portus est in insula Vecta. Cumque praecipuas partes navis constituissemus in tutela Dei in primis et sanctissimae ejus Matris, S<sup>ti</sup> Ignatii et omnium angelorum Marilandiae, paululum inter duas terras provecti, deficiente vento, resedimus e regione castris Yarmouth, quod est ad occasum aestivum ejusdem insulae. Hic festis tormentorum tonitruis excepti fuimus; neque tamen metus aberat. Nautae enim inter se mussitabant expectare se Londino nuntium et litteras, atque ideo moras etiam nectere videbantur. Sed Deus consilia adversa abruptit. Eadem quippe nocte, prospero sed valido flante vento, lembus Gallicus (qui eodem portu nobiscum constiterat) solvere coactus prope abfuit in nostram celocem ut impingeret. Illa igitur, ne opprimeretur, una praecisa ac deperdita anchora, vela dare quamprimum; et, quoniam eo loci fluctuare periculosum erat, in mare porro se demittere festinat. Itaque ne celocis nostrae conspectum perderemus, sequi decernimus. Ita quae nautae in nos agitarunt consilia sunt dissipata. Accidit id 23 novembris die S<sup>to</sup> Clementi sacro, qui anchora alligatus et in mare mersus coronam martirii adeptus est, et iter praebuit populo terrae ut enarrent mirabilia Dei.

Eo igitur die iterum, circa decimam matutinam, festivis explosionibus salutati a castro Hurst, praetervecti sumus frequentes scopulos ad extremum insulae Vectae, quos a forma Acus vocant; sunt autem navigantibus terrori, propter duplicem aestum maris, hinc in saxa, illhinc in vicinum littus abripientem et allidentem naves, ut alterum interim discrimen taceam, quo defuncti sumus ad castrum Yaremouth. Nam vento et aestu urgente, cum nondum recepta anchora haereremus, prope erat ut navis ad terram allideretur, nisi subito vi magna aversi, eam mari immergentes, periculum, Deo propitio, elusissemus, qui hoc etiam pignore protectionis suae nos dignatus est per merita S<sup>ci</sup> Clementis.

Die illo, qui in sabbatum incidit, et nocte insequenti, ventis usi sumus ita secundis, ut postero die mane, circa horam nonam, reliquerimus a tergo promontorium Angliae occiduum et insulas Sillinas, placido cursu magis in occasum versi, legentes oceanum Britannicum, neque quantum potuissemus accelerantes, ne, celocem plus nimio praecurrentes, illa Turcis et pyratibus mare illud plerumque infestantibus praeda fieret.

Hinc factum est ut oneraria insignis vasorum sexcentorum, cui nomen a Dracone datum est, cum Londino profecta Angolam peteret, nos circa tertiam pomeridianam assequeretur. Et quoniam periculo perfunctis voluptatis jam aliquid admittere vacabat, jucundum erat spectare has duas naves inter se cursu et tubarum clangore per horam integram contententes, coelo et ventis aridentibus. Et superasset nostra, quamvis siparo non uteremur, nisi sistendum fuisset propter celocem, quae tardior erat; itaque cessimus onerariae; illa autem ante vesperam praetervecta conspectui nostro se subduxit.

Die igitur dominica 24, et die lunae et 25 novembris usque ad vesperam prospera usi sumus navigatione. Tum vero ventis in aquilonem obversis, tanta exorta est tempestas, ut oneraria, quam dixi, Londinensis, retroracto cursu, Angliam et portum apud Paumonios celebrem repetierit. Celox etiam nostra, vasorum tantum 40 cum esset, viribus coepit diffidere et adnavigans monuit se, si naufragium metueret, id luminibus a carchesio ostensis significaturam. Vehementem interim nos valida navi vasorum quadringentorum, neque aptior ex ligno et ferro construi poterat. Navarcho utebatur peritissimo; data est itaque illi optio redeundi, si vellet, in Angliam, vel cum ventis porro collectandi, quibus si cederet, expectabat nos e proximo littus Hybernici coecis scopulis et frequentissimis naufragiis infame. Vicit tamen navarchi audax animus et desiderium probandi quae vires essent novae, quam tum primum tractabat, navi. Sedit animo experiri mare, quod eo fatebatur esse periculosius quo angustius.

Neque periculum longe aberat; ventis enim turgentibus et mari exasperato, circa mediam noctem videre erat celocem procul duo lumina e carchesio protendentem. Tum scilicet actum de illa esse et altis

At vero nos eventus ignaros dolor et metus premebat quem tetra nox frequentibus foeta terroribus augebat. Illucescente die, cum africum

Die veneris, obtinente eurnoto et glaucas cogente nubes vento gravidas, tantus circa vesperam se turbo effudit, ut momentis singulis involvendi fluctibus videremur. Inclinante die, vidit navarchus piscem solis cursui solari obnitentem, quod equidem tempestatis certissimum indicium; neque fides abfuit augurio. Nam circa decimam nocturnam coeca nubes atrocem depluit imbrem. Hunc tam immanis turbo suscepit ut necesse fuerit quantocyus ad vela contrahenda accurrere; neque id fieri tam expedite potuit quam acatium, seu velum majus, quo solo navigabamus, medium a summo deorsum finderetur. Ejus pars una in mare delata aegre recepta est.

Hic fortissimi cujusque, sive vectoris sive nautae, est consternatus animus; fatebantur enim vidisse se celsas naves minori procella praemediocris, et simul persuasio tam certa, nos non ab hac procella tantum, sed ab omni alia itinere isto liberandos, ut nullus apud me esse posset dubitandi locus. Dederam me orationi, cum mare saeviret maxime, et (quod ad Dei unius gloriam cedat) vix dum eam finieram, cum sedisse animadvertēbam tempestatem. Id scilicet novo quodam me induit habitu animi perfuditque simul gaudio ingenti et admiratione, cum propensam Dei in Marilandiae populos voluntatem (ad quos R. V. nos misit) haud paulo amplius persentirem. Dulcissima Redemptoris nostri bonitas in aeternum laudetur. Amen.

Cum itaque deferbuisset jam mare, reliqua trium mensium navigatio placidissima fuit, ut navarchus cum suis jucundiores se vidisse nunquam, aut quietiorem asseveraverit; neque enim unius horae passi sumus incommodum. Cum vero tres menses nomino, non dico nos tamdiu mare insedissemus, sed iter integrum et moras, quas in Antillis insulis traximus, adnumero; navigatio enim ipsa septem hebdomadas et duos solummodo dies tenuit, idque censetur iter expeditum.

Ab eo igitur tempore quando littus Hispaniae legebamus, neque adverso, neque vento admodum prospero usi fuimus. Verebamus Turcas, nullos tamen habuimus obvios; receperant fortasse se ad solemne jejuniū, quod jam Isom vocant, celebrandum; in illam enim anni tempestatem incidebat. Praetervectis autem Fretum Herculeum et Maderas, et ventis puppi vela implentibus (qui non jam vagi sed ad austrum et africanum, qui noster erat cursus, constanter sedent), apparuerunt tres naves, quarum una nostram mole superabat; distare autem videbantur ad tres circiter leucas versus occidentem et nobis obviam conari, interdum etiam ad invicem ultro citroque mittere et percontari. Cum suspicaremur esse Turcarum pyratikas, expediebamus quaecumque ad pugnam erant necessaria. Neque deerant ex nostris qui navarchum imprudentius stimularent ut eas ultro aggrediretur ac lacesseret; sed dominum habebat cui, cum reddenda erat ratio, probabilem se posse pugnae causam afferre dubitabat. Et quidem conflictum difficilem habiturum fuisse existimo; quamquam fortasse quantum ab illis nos, tantum nos illi metuebant, et erant, ut conjectura assequor, mercatores qui ad Fortunatas non procul dissitas tendebant, et vel non poterant nos assequi, vel nolebant.

Hinc ad insulas Fortunatas delati, Sinu Magno suscepti fuimus, in quo nullus metus, nisi a malaciis, quae cum 15 diebus et tribus aliquando septimanis perdurent, deficit navigantes commeatus. Id vero raro et vix saeculo uno semel aut iterum accidit; frequentissime nihilominus trahendae sunt morae, deficiente vento; qui, cum spirat, unus et idem semper est huic nostrae navigationi propitius. In hoc sinu confecimus milliarium Italicorum tria millia, plenis velis mare secantes, nusquam impediēte malacia, nisi quandoque circa meridiem una hora.

Haud facilem invenio rationem tam constantis venti, nisi forte id oriri quis dixerit ex vicinia solis inter duos tropicos intercurrentis et vi sua attrahentis ex mari duo genera meteorum, siccum unum ex marina salsedine, alterum humidum ratione aquae: ex priori fit ventus, ex posteriori generantur pluviae. Sol itaque utrumque ad se evehens causa est cur eundem cum sole obliquum semper cursum servant solemque perpetuo sequantur. Atque eadem potuit esse ratio cur inter duos tropicos experti sumus ingentem simul calorem et copiosam pluviam, idque constanter mane, meridie, vespere, vel saltem ventos iis horis vehementiores. Hinc etiam deduci potest ratio cur hoc tempore sinus a malaciis liber fuerit: nam sol in tropico capricorni existens ultra lineam aequinoctialem, et ad ejusdem lineae extremam partem meridionalem declinans (ut nobis accidit inter 13<sup>m</sup> et 17<sup>m</sup> gradum aequatoris positus, quando mensibus nostris hybernis calores sunt ibi quanti aestivis mensibus in Europa), attrahit oblique ventum et pluviam ad lineam aequinoctialem; atque inde iis mensibus venti sunt certiores, et in hoc sinu praesertim et versus tropicum cancri; frequentiores autem sunt malaciae, cum aestivo tempore sol aequatorem transit ad nos attrahitque meteora salsa et aquea, non oblique sed fere perpendiculariter.

Hic autem non possum non extollere divinam bonitatem, quae diligentibus Deum facit ut omnia cooperentur in bonum. Si enim, nulla injecta mora, licuisset eo tempore solvere quo constitueramus, mensis scilicet augusti vigesimo, sole cis aequatorem verticem feriente, intensissimi calores non solum annonae labem, sed plerisque omnibus morbos mortemque attulissent. Mora saluti fuit; nam hyeme consedentes hujusmodi incommodis caruimus; et, si consuetas navigantibus nauseas excipias, nemo morbo aliquo tentatus est usque ad festum Nativitatis Domini. Is dies ut celebrior esset, propinatum est vinum, quo qui usi sunt intemperantius, febri correpti sunt proxima luce numero triginta, et ex iis, non ita multo post, mortui sunt circiter duodecim; inter quos duo catholici magnum apud omnes desiderium reliquerunt Nicolaus Farfaxius et Jacobus Barefote.

Inter navigandum, multa occurrebant curiosa: in primis pisces qui modo aequor, modo aëra sublime pinnis secabant, passerum magnitudine vel majorum splanularum, quas valde etiam gustu pergrato referunt. Centeni gregatim se in aëra librant, delphinos cum fugiunt insequentes. Eorum aliqui, deficiente pinna-remigio, in nostram navem deciderunt; nam uno impetu non amplius quam duorum vel trium jugerum spatium pervolant; tum pinnas aërem verberando exsiccatas aquis rursus immergunt et se iterum coelo committunt. Cum ab aequatore uno et viginti gradibus et aliquot minutis abessemus, ubi tropicus incipit, videre erat aves quas a loco tropicas vocant in aëre pendulas. Illae cum falconem mole adaequant, duabus praelongis et albescentibus plumis in cauda conspicuae, incertum est an aëri perpetuo insideant, an quandoque aquis se sustentent. Caetera ut aliorum litteris nota omitto.

Ad hanc ut appulimus tertio januarii, in spem venimus multarum commoditatum ab incolis Anglis et consanguineo gubernatore; sed conspiratione facta modium tritici, qui in insula medio feno Belgico veniebat, nobis non nisi quintupla proportionem, duobus florenis cum dimidio, vendere decreverunt. Nefrendem unum quinquaginta florenis licitabant; pullum Indicum viginti quinque, caetera ejus generis altalia minora tribus florenis; bovinam seu vervecinam nullam habebant; vivunt enim pane Indico et potatis, quod radicum genus tanta affluentia provenit, ut plaustra integra gratis auferre liceat.

Hominum acerbam severitatem divinae Providentiae consideratio mitigavit. Intelleximus enim ad insulam Bonavistae stare classem Hispanicam quo exteros omnes salis commercio prohiberent: illo si porro contendissemus itinere constituto, in casses [classes?] praeda facti decidissemus. Majori interim periculo ad Barbados erepti. Famuli per totam insulam in necem dominorum conspirant; tum scilicet in libertatem asserti navi, quae prima appelleret, potiri statuerunt et tentare maria. Conjuratio patefacta per quendam, quem facti atrocitas deterrebat, supplicium unius ex praecipuis et insulae securitati et nobis saluti fuit; nostra enim navis, ut quae prima littori applicuit, praedae destinata fuerat, et eo ipso die quo appulimus octingentos in armis reperimus quo recentissimo sceleri obviarent.

Miranda quaedam narrare libet quae haec insula profert. Triginta milliaria continet longitudo, latitudo 15, gradibus 13 distat ab aequatore, calore tanto ut hibernis mensibus incolae lineis vestiantur et aquis se saepius immergant. Messis tum erat cum appulimus. Nisi frequentes venti aestum temperarent, impossibilis esset habitatio. Lecti sunt stragula vestis ex gossipio affabre Calores immensi. [Intense heat.] Lecti. [Hammocks.] texta; in hac, cum est quiescendi tempus, funibus appensa Gossipium. [Cotton.] ad duos hinc inde palos dormiunt; de die iterum quocumque libet auferunt. Merces praecipuae sunt frumentum et Gossipium. Jucundum est videre modum et copiam pendentis ex arbore gossipii. Arbor ex qua nascitur major non est Oxyacantho (quam vulgus Berberin vocat), quamquam arbori quam spinæ similior. Haec nodum fert magnitudine juglandis, forma acutiori, qui in quatuor partes dissectus gossipium nive candidius et pluma mollius in speciem nucis convolutum fundit. Gossipio sex parva semina insident viciae aequalia, quod tempore suo collectum et rota quadam a semine expeditum condunt in saccos et adservant.

Brassicæ genus admirandum est, quae cum caulem habeat in centum et octoginta pedum altitudinem excrescentem, vel cruda editur vel elixa. Caulis ipse ad unius ulnae mensuram sub fructu habetur in deliciis; crudus admixto pipere sapore cardium Hispanicum superat, et juglandi nudatae propior. Ingens brassica. [A huge cabbage.] bene magnæ truncum adaequans, neque tamen arbor sed legumen, brassicam fert non amplius unam. Ibidem videre est arborem satis proceram quam Saponem vocant. Grana saponis nucem avellanam non excedunt magnitudine; horum pinguis tunica; saponis instar, purgat et detergit, quamquam, ut aiunt, lino tenuiori inimica. Ex his granis multa mecum ablata in Marilandiam mandavi terrae futurarum arborum semina. Inter arbores etiam numerant Palma Christi. [The Palm of Christ.] Gnavar. Pupæ. Nux Pineæ. [Pineapple.] Quamquam truncum illa habeat porosum et legumini similem, racemum fert ingentem seminum coloris subcinericii, spinis armatum et nigris maculis inspersum. Ex his praestans oleum exprimitur. Mala aurea, citrina, granata, nuces etiam, quas Hispani cocos vocant, caeterique calidarum regionum fructus ubertim proveniunt.

Est et fructus qui Gnavar dicitur, coloris aurei, forma citri minoris, gustu tamen referens Cydonium. Pupæ colore est et forma non absimilis, sed praedulcis cum sit condiendis tantum cibis adhibetur.

Praecellit autem caeteros, quos alibi terrarum gustavi fructus, Nux Pineæ. Est ea coloris aurei virore mixta gratissimo, tres vel quatuor ejusdem nominis nuces Europaeas mole adaequans, figura non admodum dissimili, sed operosiore, non tot distincta loculamentis et modulis, qui ad ignem adhibiti nucleum reddant, sed mollis et tenella involuta membranula, gustui jucundissima, nullo aspera acino, sed a summo deorsum aequaliter palato arridens; neque deest quam meretur corona; haud dubio enim regina fructuum appellari potest. Gustum habet aromaticum et quantum conjectura assequor fraga vino saccaroque mixta referentem. Sanitati conservandae plurimum confert, corporum constitutioni tam apte consentiens ut licet ferrum exedat, hominem tamen, si qua res alia, quam maxime corroboret; neque praecelsa hanc quaeras in arbore, sed unam una ex radice quasi cardu[?] Hispanici prominentem. Optabam me nucem unam Paternitati Vestrae cum hisce litteris tradere potuisse in manus; nihil enim illam praeter ipsam pro dignitate potes[t] describere.

Vigesimo quarto januarii de nocte subductis anchoris et circa meridiem sequentis diei relicta ad laevam insula S<sup>tae</sup> Luciae, sub vesperam tenuimus Matalinam. Hic duo lintres nudorum hominum molem nostrae navis veriti, pepones, cucurbitas, fructus platani et psittacos, de longe ostentabant commutandos. Gens effera, procera, obesa, pigmentis purpureis nitens, ignara Numinis, carnum humanarum avida et quae Anglorum interpretes aliquot pridem absumpserat, regionem incolit in primis fertilem, sed quae tota lucus sit, nulla planitie pervia. Aplustro albo in signum pacis proposito, eos qui se a longe ostentabant invitavimus ad commercia; sed indicium aversati insignia consueta proposuerunt. Cum his ostensis quinam essemus intellexissent, animis resumptis accessere propius, sed paucis tantum tintinnabulis et cultellis acceptis, praepotenti navi non nimium fidentes, celocem adeunt, promittentes se, si subsistere decerneremus, sequenti die meliores merces allaturos. Capiet olim aliquem, uti spero, derelicti hujus populi miseratio. Apud nautas increbuit rumor (ortus a Gallis quibusdam naufragis) reperiri in hac insula animal, cujus fronti lapis inusitati splendoris insidet, prunae vel candelae ardenti similis. Huic animali Caribuncae nomen indiderunt. Rei fides sit penes authorem.

Quaecumque apud Barbados rara visuntur hic etiam reperi, et praeterea non procul a praefecti sede montem sulphureum, et, quod admireris magis, Plantam Virginem, sic dictam, quod minimo digiti contactu confestim marcescat et concidat, quanquam data mora reviviscens iterum assurgat.

Fructus etiam Locustae nomen retinens in duriori cortice sex fabarum, siliquis pari, medullam continet mollem, sed tenacem, gustu farinae similem melle mixtae; semina fert grandiuscula quatuor vel quinque coloris castanei. Ac tandem hic solventes, Caput quod vocant Consolationis in Virginia tenuimus 27 februarii, pleni metu ne quid mali nobis machinarentur Angli incolae, quibus nostra plantatio ingrata admodum erat. Litterae tamen, quas a rege et a summo Angliae quaestore ad earum regionum praefectum ferebamus, valere ad placandos animos, et ea quae nobis porro usui futura erant impetranda. Sperabat enim praefectus Virginiae hac benevolentia erga nos facilius e fisco regio magnam vim pecuniae sibi debita recuperaturum. Sparsum tantum rumorem nunciabant adventare sex naves, quae omnia sub Hispanorum potestatem redigerent; indigenas ea propter omnes in armis esse; quod verum postea experti sumus. Rumor tamen, vereor, ab Anglis ortum habuit.

Post octo vel novem dierum benignam tractationem, tertio martii vela facientes et in sinum Chesopeach invecti, cursum ad aquilonem defleximus, ut fluvio Patomeach potiremur. Sinus Chesopeach latus decem leucas placide inter littora labitur, profundus quatuor, quinque, sex et septem orygis, piscibus cum favet annus scatens. Jucundiores aequae lapsus vix invenies. Jam enim optata potiti regione, nomina pro re nata distribuebamus. Et quidem promontorium, quod est ad austrum, titulo S<sup>ti</sup> Gregorii consecravimus, aquilonare S<sup>o</sup> Michaeli, in honorem omnium angelorum Marilandiae indigentes. Majus jucundiusve flumen aspexi nunquam; Thamesi illi comparatus vix rivulus videri potest; nullis inficitur paludibus, sed solida utrinque terra assurgunt decentes arborum silvae, non clausae vepretis vel subnascentibus sarcubis [surculis?] sed quasi manu laxa consitae ut libere quadrigam inter medias arbores agitare possis. In ipso ostio fluminis armatos indigenas conspeximus. Ea nocte ignes tota regione arserunt; et, quoniam nunquam illis tam magna navis conspecta fuit, nuntii hinc inde missi narrabant, canoam insulae similem adventasse; tot homines quot in silvis arbores. Processimus tamen ad insulas Ardearum, sic dictas ab inauditis examinibus hujusmodi volucrum. Primam quae occurrit S<sup>ti</sup> Clementis nomine

Abundat haec insula cedro, saxifragio, herbis et floribus ad omnis generis acetaria componenda, nuce etiam sylvestri, quae juglandem fert praeduram, spisso putamine, nucleo parvo sed mire grato. Cum tamen quadringentorum tantum jugerum [esset] latitudine, visa est non ampla satis futura sedes novae plantationi, quaesitus est tamen locus castro aedificando ad prohibendos externos fluvii commercio finesque tutandos; is enim erat angustissimus fluminis trajectus.

Cum autem intellexisset praefectus imperatori Pascatawaye complures parere regulos, illum adire statuit, ut explicata itineris nostri causa, et ejus unius conciliata voluntate, facilius ad caeterorum animos pateret ingressus. Itaque juncta celoci nostrae altera quam in Virginia conduxerat, et navi in anchoris relicta ad S<sup>um</sup> Clementem, cursu circumacto ad australem partem fluminis exscendit; cumque barbaros ad interiora fugisse comperisset, progressus est ad civitatem, quae a flumine desumpto nomine Patomeach etiam dicitur. Hic regi puero tutor erat patruus nomine Archihù puerique vices in regno habebat, vir gravis et prudens. Is patri nostro Altham, qui comes additus erat praefecto (me etenim etiamnum detinebat ad sarcinas), quaedam quae [!] per interpretem de gentiliis erroribus explicanti libenter aures dabat, suos identidem agnoscens; utque edoctus nos non belli causa sed benevolentiae gratia eo appulisse, ut gentem rudem civilibus praeceptis imbueremus et viam ad coelum aperiremus, simul regionum longinquarum commodam iis impartituros, gratos advenisse monstravit. Interpretes erant ex protestantibus Virginiae. Itaque cum plura pro tempore disserere non posset pater, promisit se non ita multo post reversurum. Id mihi ex animo accidit, inquit Archihù; una mensa utemur, mei quoque asseclae pro te venatum ibunt, eruntque inter nos omnia communia.

Hinc itum ad Pascatawaye, ubi omnes ad arma convolarant. Quingenti circiter arcubus instructi in littore cum imperatore constiterant. Signis pacis datis, imperator metu posito celocem conscendit, et, audito nostrorum benevolo erga eas gentes animo, facultatem dedit qua imperii ejus parte vellemus habitandi.

Interim dum praefectus apud imperatorem in itinere esset, barbari ad S<sup>um</sup> Clementem audentiores facti se vigilibus nostris familiariter admiscebant. Excubias enim interdiu noctuque agebamus, tum ut lignatores nostros tum ut aphractum, quem tabulis costisque solutis allatum aedificabamus, ab repentibus insultibus tutaremur. Voluptati erat audire admirantes singula: in primis ubinam terrarum tanta arbor excrevisset, ex qua tam immensa moles navis dedolaretur; excisam enim arbitrabantur quemadmodum Indicae canoae ex uno aliquo arboris trunco. Tormenta majora attonitos omnes tenebant, haud paulo quippe vocaliora erant stridulis ipsorum arcubus, et tonitruo paria.

Praefectus socium itineris ad imperatorem adhibuerat Henricum Fleet capitaneum ex iis, qui in Virginia commorantur, hominem barbaris in primis gratum et linguae locorumque peritum. Hic initio nobis perfamiliaris, deinde Claborni cujusdam sinistris seductus consilii infensissimus effectus, indigenarum animos qua arte potest adversus nos accendit. Interim tamen, dum inter nos amicus ageret, sedem praefecto monstravit qualem vix Europa meliorem loci benignitate ostendere potest. Igitur, a S<sup>to</sup> Clemente novem circiter leucas progressi ad aquilonem, fluminis ostio illapsi sumus, cui a S<sup>to</sup> Georgio nomen indidimus. Id flumen ab austro ad aquilonem ad viginti circiter milliaria procurrit antequam salsedine marina exuatur, Thamesi non dissimile. In ejus ostio duo visuntur sinus 300 navium immensae molis capaces. Sinum unum S<sup>to</sup> Georgio consecravimus, alterum interius B<sup>mae</sup> Virgini Mariae. Laeva pars fluminis sedes erat regis Yaocomico; nos ad dexteram exscendimus, et ad mille passus a litore avulsi civitati designatae nomen a S<sup>ta</sup> Maria posuimus; utque omnem speciem injuriae inimicitiarumque occasione praeverteremus, appensis in commutationem securibus, asciis, rastris et mensuris aliquot panni, emimus a rege triginta terrae illius milliaria, cui regioni Augusta Carolina jam nomen est.

Sasquehanoes, gens bellis assueta, regi Yaocomio prae caeteris infesta, frequentibus incursibus omnem depopulatur agrum, et incolas ad alias quaerendas sedes periculi metu adigit. Haec causa est cur tam prompte partem ejus regni impetravimus, Deo viam legi suae et lumini aeterno his adminiculis aperiente. Migrant alii atque alii quotidie, nobisque relinquunt domos, agros, novalia. Id profecto miraculo simile est, homines barbaros, paucis antea diebus in armis adversum nos paratos, tam facile se nobis velut agnos permittere, nobis se suae tradere. Digitus Dei est hic, et magnum aliquod emolumentum huic nationi meditatatur Deus. Paucis tamen quibusdam permittitur adhuc sua inter nos habitatio in annum proximum. Tum vero liber nobis relinquendus est ager.

Indigenae statura sunt procera et decenti, cute a natura subfusca, quam colore plerumque rubeo misto oleo inficientes, ut culices arceant, Colla muniunt vitreis globulis filo insertis more torquium, quanquam hi globuli viliores apud ipsos esse incipiunt et commercio minus utiles.

Vestiuntur ut plurimum pelle cervina, vel similis generis velo, quod a tergo fluit in modum pallii, cincti ad umbilicum perizomatis, caetera nudi. Impubes pueri puellaeque nulla re tecti vagantur. Plantis pedum velut cornu duris spinas tribulosque calcant illaesi. Arma sunt arcus et sagittae duos cubitos longae, cornu cervino, vel albo praeacutoque silice armatae; has tanta arte librant ut passerem eminus medium configant, utque se ad peritiam exercent, lorum in sublime jaciunt, tum impulsam nervo sagittam infigunt antequam decidat. Arcu quoniam non admodum contento utuntur, metam longe positam ferire non possunt. His armis vivunt et quotidie per agros et sylvas sciuros, perdices, pullos Indicos ferasque venantur. Horum enim omnium ingens est copia, quamquam nondum nobis ipsi expedire alimenta venatu audeamus metu insidiarum.

Domos habitant ovali forma oblonga constructas, novem vel decem pedes altas. In has lumen a tecto admittitur fenestra cubitali; illa fumo etiam auferendo inservit; nam ignem medio in pavimento accendunt, et circa ignem dormiunt. Reges tamen et principes viri sua habent velut conclavia, et lectum quatuor fulcris in terram adactis et asseribus superpositis instratum. Mihi et sociis ex his casulis una obtigit, in qua sat pro tempore commode habemur, donec aedificia parentur laxiora. Illam primum Marilandiae sacellum dixeris, quanquam haud paulo decentius instructum quam cum ab Indis habitabatur. Proxima navigatione, si Deus coeptis annuat, non deerunt nostris quae caeteris in domibus sunt usui necessaria.

Gentis indoles ingenua est et laeta et quae rem probe capiat cum proponitur; gustu excellunt et odoratu, visu etiam Europaeos superant. Victitant plerumque pulte, quem Pone et Omini appellant; utraque ex tritico conficitur, adduntque interdum piscem, Indoles. vel quod venatu aucupioque assecuti sunt. Cavent sibi quam Victus. maxime a vino et potionibus calidis, neque adducuntur facile Religio. ut eas degustent, nisi quos Angli suis vitiis infecerint. Quod *[Their character. Food. sponte, vultu ad hilaritatem composito, et offerunt quae venati vel piscati fuerint, liba etiam aliquando et ostrea cocta vel assa, idque paucis invitati linguae ipsis vernaculae verbis, quae per signa hactenus utcumque didicimus. Plures ducunt uxores, integram tamen servant fidem conjugalem. Mulierum aspectus gravis est et modestus. In universum liberales nutriunt animos; quicquid beneficii contuleris rependunt. Nil temere decernunt aut subito arrepti motu animi, sed ratione; ideo cum quidquam momenti aliquando proponitur, silent aliquandiu cogitandi, tum aiunt breviter aut negant, et propositi sunt tenacissimi. Hi profecto si semel christianis praeceptis imbuantur (et quidem nihil obstare videtur, praeter linguae his regionibus usitatae defectum), virtutis humanitatisque cultores egregii evadent. Miro tenentur desiderio civilis conversationis Europaeorumque indumentorum; jamque pridem vestibus fuissent usi, ni avaritia mercatorum obstitisset, qui pannos nisi castore non commutant. Castorem vero unusquisque venari non potest. Absit ut horum avaritiam nos imitemur.

Idiomatis ignorantia facit ut quid porro de religione sentiant nondum constet; interpretibus enim protestantibus minus fidimus. Haec pauca raptim didicimus. Unum Deum coeli agnoscunt, quem Deum nostrum vocant; nullum tamen honorem externum illi exhibent; omni vero ratione placare conantur phanaticum quendam spiritum quem Ochre nominant, ut ne noceat. Frumentum, ut audio, et ignem colunt, ut deos humano generi mire beneficos. Hanc ceremoniam quidam e nostris in templo Barcluxem vidisse se narrant. Die constituto e pluribus pagis convenere circa ingentem ignem omnes omnium aetatum viri foeminaeque; proxime ad ignem stabant juniores, pone illos provectiores. Tum adipe cervina in ignem coniecta et sublatis in coelum manibus et vocibus clamabant omnes: Taho Taho. Intervallo facto profert unus aliquis bene magnam peram; in pera est tubus et pulvis, quem Potre nominant; tubus est quali nostrates utuntur ad exsugendum fumum tabacci, sed multo major. Igitur pera circa ignem fertur, sequentibus pueris et puellis et voce satis grata alternantibus: Taho Taho. Circulo peracto, eximitur tubus e pera, et pulvis Potre in singulos astantes distribuitur, cujus in tubo accensi fumum quisque exuens membra corporis sui singula perflat consecratque. Plura non licuit discere, nisi quod videantur notitiam aliquam habuisse diluvii, quo mundus periit propter scelera hominum.

Uno tantum mense hic fuimus, itaque caetera proximae navigationi servanda sunt. Illud assero, solum videri in primis fertile; fragra, vites, saxifragium, glandes, juglandes, passim densissimis in silvis calcamus. Nigra et mollis terra unius pedis crassitudine insternitur pingui et rubenti argillae. Praecelsae ubique arbores, nisi ubi a paucis cultus ager. Copia fontium potum subministrat. Animalia nulla apparent praeter cervos, castorem et sciuros, qui lepores Europaeos adaequant. Infinita vis avium est versicolorum ut aquilarum, ardearum, cygnorum, anserum, perdicum, anatum. Bona Regis gratia atque auctoritate, anno proximo, catholici cujusdam Baronis auspiciis, ducta est in citeriores Americae oras Anglorum magnam partem catholicorum non contemnenda colonia; profecti simul bini sacerdotes e nostris cum uno coadjutore; alius deinde sacerdos aliusque coadjutor subsecuti; quibus id propositum est ut non tantummodo apud cives operam collocent, sed barbarorum etiam conversioni ac saluti procurandae sese addicant. Ad promovendum hoc tam pium inceptum, pecunias ac famulos, qui imprimis ibidem sunt necessarii, plures catholici perquam liberaliter contulerunt. Famulo cuidam haud sine divina providentia videtur contigisse ut a nostris, qui ultimi discesserunt, reperiretur. Noverat eum frater noster in Belgio, ac virum industrium ac fidum compererat; quare, dum se ad professionem parat, nullam in eo conquirendo diligentiam omittit; cumque jam nulla spes reliqua hominis inveniendi videretur, conscensa navi, quae in plures colonias recentia vehebat supplementa, in hominem inexpectato incidit. Devenerat is, propter liberam fidei professionem in extremam calamitatem, maxime quod sacramento, quod vocant fidelitatis, nullo pacto sese vellet adstringere; quare e regno cum mercatore quodam haeretico, ipsius arbitrio in aliquam haeticam coloniam vendendus, pro more obibat; cum agnitum frater redimit, et tanquam ex ipsis orci faucibus ereptum et incredibili gaudio perfusum itineris sibi comitem adjungit. Bini praeterea sacerdotes nostri comites hoc anno dati cuidam viro nobili, qui incognitas terras exploratum iverat. #### MISSIO MARILANDIAE.

Spectabant ad hanc missionem patres quatuor cum uno rerum temporalium adjutore. Atque hic quidem, post graves labores toto quinquennio maxima cum patientia, humilitate ac ferventi charitate exantlatos, morbo tum grassante forte correptus, miseram hanc vitam cum immortali feliciter commutavit. Quem unus etiam ex patribus, juvenis quidem sed ob praestantes animi dotes magnae plane expectationis, subsequutus est. Vix duos menses in hac missione transegerat, cum, communi hujus coloniae aegritudine (a qua trium reliquorum sacerdotum nullus incolumis evasit) magno omnium dolore extinctus est. Non destitimus tamen pro virili operam in proximos impendere. Et quamvis nondum inter barbaros manere nobis per hujus coloniae moderatores liceat, tum propter invalescentes aegritudines, tum propter actus hostiles quos barbari in Anglos exercent, uno ex hac colonia, qui inter illos commercii gratia versabatur, interempto et contra totam gentem conjuratione quoque facta, speramus tamen brevi unum ex nostris inter barbaros stationem impetraturum. Interea temporis Anglis impensius vacamus, cumque in colonia tam

E protestantibus enim omnes fere qui hoc anno 1638 ex Anglia venerunt alique multi ad fidem conversi sunt, cum quatuor servis, quos in Virginia (alia regni nostri colonia) ad usus necessarios mercati sumus, et opificibus quinque, quos in mensem conductos interea Deo lucrati sumus. Horum unus non diu post, per sacramenta ad moriendum probe dispositus, e vita decessit. Atque in his quidem vix quidquam praeterea memorabile contigit: magis memorabilia sunt quae sequuntur.

Quidam nobis plane ignotus, sed in protestantium religione fervens, apud hospitem ferventiorum commorans, ab angue (quarum in his partibus copia) morsus, praesentem mortem expectabat; quod intelligens unus ex nostris adducto secum chirurgus ad aegrum, qui jam sensibus orbatus ferebatur, contendit, animae illius quoque modo procuraturus. Sed hospes rem praesentiens pios conatus disturbavit; cumque sacerdos aliam nullam opportunitatem posset excogitare, apud aegrum pernoctare statuebat; sed hoc etiam hospes impedivit, et ne patri noctu daretur aditus custodem assignavit, qui lecto transverso ante ostium cubiculi ubi jacebat dormiret. Nihilominus sacerdos omnes captans aditus, nocte intempesta, cum custodem somno maxime oppressum credebat, viam invenit, illo non excitato, ad infirmum penetrandi, eumque volentem in ecclesiam admisit. Et, quamvis in illis angustiis non multum posset aeger instrui aut magnopere confirmari, tamen, cum praeter omnem spem a chirurgus nostro sanatus esset, divina praevalente gratia, potius elegit hospitio suo ejici quam retractare quod fecerat; quin etiam ad nos ultro veniens incoeptum opus feliciter perfecit.

Alium quendam unus e nostris ad orthodoxam fidem nixus adducere rejectus est ab illo respondente, quod vovisset se nunquam fidem illam amplexurum. Paulo post in morbum hic miser incidit et prope ad extrema deductus est, antequam pater de aegrotante moneretur. Advolat tamen ille festinus et, privatum omni sensu infirmum, spirantem tamen reperit. Monet itaque curatores ut nutrimenti aliquid per intervalla in os aegro instillent vocentque se, si quando ad sensus ille rediret. Factum id postridie mane; et pater ad aegrum accurrens, inter colloquendum, se aliquo modo ab illo agnitum advertit, responsionem etiam ad brevem interrogationem (nec enim longiorem simul sermonem capere poterat) ab illo accipit. Praesente igitur opportunitate, ut qui posthac aliam non speraret, pater uti decrevit, cumque variis vicibus aegro consensum (ut arbitrabatur) obtinisset quod fieri vellet catholicus, quod de peccatis doleret, quod ab eis cuperet absolvi, absolutum a peccatis sacro linivit oleo. His peractis, aeger intra unum vel alterum diem ad sensus perfecte rediit, cumque rogaretur quid egisset, vel quid circa se actum sensisset? respondit tanto cum gaudio et animi sensu, se in ecclesiam catholicam admissum fuisse et in ea ad extremum usque spiritum permansurum, ut omnibus qui aderant non parvam moverit admirationem. Idem postea gaudium patri ad se redeunti expressit, magnaue cum ejus satisfactione caetera praestitit ad operis inchoati perfectionem necessaria. Ex eo tempore paulatim convaluit; sed, cum subsidiis idoneis fere careret diuque supinus jaceret, horrendum toto corpore natum est ulcus. Quare nos quae potuimus ei necessaria sumptu nostro procuravimus, chirurgumque misimus qui malo mederetur; et, quamvis ex ulcere magnam vermium copiam chirurgus abstulerit, solerti tamen ejus diligentia et aliorum vigilantia cura sanatus est aeger, jamque robustus est famulus, sanus (uti confidimus) tum animo, tum corpore.

Alius, genere nobilis, eo paupertatis effrenata sua licentia perductus erat, ut se in hanc coloniam manciparit ubi, per unum ex nostris ad fidem rectam et frugem bonam revocatus, anxie semper num viam securam esset ingressus dubitabat; cumque se aliquando mari in navicula parva commisisset, horribili exoriente tempestate, qualem ipse, qui inter navigandum frequentes expertus fuerat, nunquam vidisset, jamque certum naufragium videretur imminere, Deum rogavit ardentem ut in susceptae nuper a se fidei confirmationem, si quidem ea vera foret, averteretur praesens periculum. Audivit Deus orantem et, alio versa tempestate, fluctuantem ejus animum tranquilla quiete firmavit. Haud ita multo post gravi morbo vir ille deductus ad extrema, sacramentis omnibus susceptis, una circiter ante obitum hora, catholicum curatorem suum rogavit ut pro se oraret. Credibile est malum ei angelum se conspiciendum praeuisse, nam in ipso paene mortis articulo, eundem vocans curatorem, alacri voce dixit: Nonne vides angelum meum bonum? En, ubi adstat me asportaturus; abeundum mihi est; atque ita felicem (uti sperare fas est) animam expiravit. Post sepulturam, clarissima lux noctu circa ejus tumulum etiam a protestantibus saepius conspecta est.

Duos praeterea Gallos quidam e nostris extra coloniam excurrens reperit, quorum alter integro triennio catholicae ecclesiae sacramentis caruerat, alter jam morti vicinus, quindecim totos annos inter haereticos agens, instar illorum vixerat. Priorem pater sacramentis juit et in catholica fide quantum potuit confirmavit; posteriorem ecclesiae catholicae restituens, sacramentis omnibus ad bene moriendum disposuit.

Quod ad catholicos attinet, sacramentorum frequentatio tanta hic est, ut major inter Europaeos pro numero catholicorum non sit. Catecheses pro rudioribus et lectiones catechisticae pro provecioribus habitae singulis dominicis; festis vero diebus conciones raro intermissae. Aegros et moribundos, qui sane hoc anno plurimi fuerunt valdeque disperse habitabant, omni ope juvimus, ut ne quidem unus sacramentis moriens caruerit. Plurimos sepelivimus, varios baptizavimus. Et, quamvis frequentes discordiarum causae non desint, nulla tamen his novem postremis mensibus momenti alicujus exorta est, quam statim non sedaverimus. Illud Dei beneficio solatium habemus quod vitiorum nihil admodum vel inter novos catholicos pullulat, quamvis hujusmodi loca non soleant ex optimo hominum genere coalescere.

Duos catholicos, qui se in servitutem vendiderant in Virginia, redemimus. Nec male impensum pretium: ambo enim se bonos christianos praestant; unus autem vulgaribus excellit. Id ipsum caritatis officium alii nonnulli praestiterunt, ementes inde servos catholicos, quorum isthic est copia; singulis enim annis plurimi in servos illic se mancipant, qui inter homines exempli pessimi viventes, omnique ope spirituali destituti, animarum plerumque jacturam faciunt.

Varios e primariis per exercitia spiritualia formavimus ad pietatem fructu non poenitendo. In uno autem singularem Dei providentiam et misericordiam veneramus, quae hominem plurimis in mundo difficultatibus implicatum et jam demum in Virginia absque animae suae subsidio fere semper viventem, ad haec exercitia non diu ante obitum suscepienda induxit; ex quibus ille tantum profecit ut de optima ratione vitae deinde traducendae secum statuerit. Hanc cogitationem vehemens morbus excepit, quem ille summa cum patientia tulit animo plerumque in Deum fixo, ac tandem sacris omnibus rite susceptis, placidissime praeter morem reliquae vitae, quae molestiis ac inquietudine plena fuit, animam Creatori reddidit.

Mortua est etiam nobilis matrona, quae inter primos in hanc coloniam veniens animo plusquam foemineo difficultates omnes et incommoda pertulit. Multae orationis erat, salutis proximorum cupidissima, bene disponendae familiae absolutum tam in se quam in domesticis exemplar, vivens Societatis nostrae studiosissima, moriens eidem benefica; cujus memoria apud omnes, ob egregia tum virtutum reliquarum, tum charitatis praesertim erga aegrotos exempla, in benedictione est. ¶ Collegium Leodiense, etc.

MISSIO MARILANDIAE.

Versantur in hac missione sacerdotes quatuor, coadjutor unicus, omnes locis longe dissitis, ideo nimirum quod sic et peregrinae linguae notitiam celerius parari et sacram evangelii fidem latius propagari sperent. P. Joannes Brocus superior cum fratre coadjutore in praedio commoratur

Metapannayensi, quod nobis a Maquacomeno rege Patuxensi attributum quaedam est missionis hujus cella penaria, unde pleraque subsidia corporum suppeditantur. P. Philippus Fisherus in praecipuo degit coloniae oppido cui a S<sup>ta</sup> Maria nomen inditum. P. Joannes Gravenerius in insula versatur Cantiana, inde millia passuum sexaginta. P. Andraeas Vitus longius adhuc abest millia passuum centum et viginti, Kittamaquundi scilicet, Pascatoae metropoli, apud ipsum loci imperatorem quem Tayacum appellant, in regia diversatus a junio mense anni 1639. Causa patri eo proficiscendi hujusmodi fuit.

Multum is operae et temporis in conversione regis Patuxensis posuerat, quae nimirum votis omnibus expetebatur, tum ob memoriam beneficii accepti (ille enim, ut dictum est, praedium Societati donaverat), tum quod prudentiae opinione atque auctoritate plurimum inter barbaros pollere ferebatur. Jamque, uti initia se dederant, optatus rei exitus futurus brevi sperabatur; nonnulli quippe regis clientes se ad Christum aggregaverant ipseque rudimentis fidei abunde institutus videbatur; cum ecce infelix primum procrastinare, deinde sensim defervescere, postremo a suscepto consilio palam penitusque desciscere coepit. Neque hoc tantum, sed animi etiam indicia a tota universim colonia alieni haud obscura dedit. Quam rem gubernator prudenter odoratus, de suorum consilio, patrem a regis hospitio avocandum censuit, ne vel inopinato barbarus aliquod perfidiae suae et crudelitatis exemplum in innocentem ederet, vel certe ne, hoc quasi obside apud regem relicto, impediretur ipse quominus arbitrato suo persequi injurias posset, si quando palam se Patuxensis hostem proderet.

Cum imperatores regesque memorantur, nemo animo fingat augustam virorum speciem qualis aliorum est in Europa principum. Indici enim hi reges, quamvis summam vitae necisque potestatem in suos habeant et quadam honoris opumque praerogativa anteant caeteros, cultu tamen corporis prope nihil a vulgo recedunt. Illorum proprium, quo a plebe secernas principem, gestamen est vel torques e gemma rudi contextus, vel balteus, vel chlamys subinde conchis distincta orbiculatis. Horum regna angustis plerumque unius oppidi atque agri adjacentis circumscribuntur finibus; quanquam Tayaco multo latior dominatio est ad millia passuum centum circiter et triginta protensa, cujus etiam imperio obnoxii sunt alii reguli.

Ad hunc, Maquacomeni desperata salute, se P. Andreas contulit, et ab eo vel ipso primo congressu perbenigne habitus, usque adeo sibi devinxit virum, ut exinde in summo apud eum tum amore tum veneratione fuerit. Cujus rei vel id maxime argumento est quod patrem nullo alio praeterquam aedium suarum hospitio uti voluerit. Neque quidquam imperatrix conjugii suo de benevolentia in hospitem concedit, quippe quae manibus suis (quod etiam thesaurarii uxor libenter facit) et cibos ei condire et panem pinsere, non minori cura quam opera, consuevit. Hujusce tam singularis in patrem amoris causa ad duo somnia (nisi alio nomine dignanda censeas) accepta referenda est. Alterum Uwanno oblatum germano imperatoris fratri, quem ante se regnantem e medio sustulit. Is enim secundum quietem visus est P. Vitum et P. Gravenerium coram intueri, vocemque insuper audire monentem, hos denique viros esse, qui ipsum cum gente sua universa ex animo diligerent atque ea secum bona deferrent, quibus, si vellet, beatus esse posset. Hinc tam viva ignotorum hominum species in mente ejus impressa resedit, ut vel primo aspectu ad se venientes noscicaret; quos deinceps singulari semper benevolentia complexus est, solitus etiam P. Vitum parentis compellare nomine; cui et filium sibi apprime carum (ut est gens omnis liberorum amantissima, nunquam fere eos a complexu dimittens) ad septem annos tradere in disciplinam voluit. Alterum Tayaco ostensum fuit, quod crebris ipse solet usurpare sermonibus; quiescenti sibi nimirum hinc suum patrem vita defunctum ob oculos versari visum, deo comitatum quem coleret, coloris obscuri, obtestante ne se desertum vellet; illinc adstare cum suo deo longe teterrimo Snowum quendam, pertinacem ex Anglia haeticum; ex alia denique parte coloniae praefectum et P. Vitum objici, comite etiam Deo sed multo pulcherrimo, qui vel intactam nivem candore anteiret, visus etiam imperatorem ad se blandè allicere. Ex eo tempore tum praefectum tum patrem eximio amore prosequutus est.

Haud ita multo post P. Viti ad aulam adventum, gravi morbo in discrimen adductus est Tayacus; cumque arioli quadraginta remedia omnia frustra tentassent, pater cum bona aegrotantis venia medicinam adhibuit, pulverem nempe quendam notae virtutis aqua benedicta attemperatum, curavitque postridie a puero, quem secum habebat, ei venam incidi ad sanguinis emissionem. Hinc aeger melius in dies coepit habere, nec ita multo post plane convaleuit. Ex morbo recreatus, omnino constituit secum christianis sacris quamprimum initiari, neque ipse tantum, sed conjux etiam et filiae duae, cum necdum ei sit ulla mascula proles. In eorum institutionem nunc sedulo incumbit P. Vitus; neque illi segniter coelestem capessunt doctrinam, coelitus enim infuso lumine veteris vitae errores dudum compertos habent. Pelles, quibus hactenus inducebatur, imperator cum veste commutavit ad modum nostrum accommodata; nonnullam etiam dat operam linguae nostrae ediscendae. Relegatis a se pellicibus, una degit contentus uxore, ut eo liberius, sic enim ait, Deo vacet. Iis diebus carne abstinet quibus legibus christianis id cautum est, et homines haeticos secus facientes vel eo nomine malos christianos censet habendos. Sermone spirituali admodum delectatur, et sane terrenas opes prae coelestibus nihili ducere videtur; ut aliquando apud gubernatorem professus est, quo ei demonstrante quanta commoda ex Anglis mutua mercium permutatione percipi possent: Nae ego, inquit, isthaec parvi facio prae hoc uno emolumento, quod iis auctoribus in veram Dei unius notitiam pervenerim, qua non aliud mihi magis in votis est aut unquam esse debebit.

Non ita pridem cum regni conventus ageret, in frequente procerum

consensu plebisque corona, praesentibus P. Vito et nonnullis Anglis, publice testatus est, consilium sibi esse una cum conjugis liberisque, abjurata superstitione patria, Christo nomen dare; non enim aliud uspiam haberi numen verum quam apud christianos, neque alibi immortalem hominis animam vindicari ab interitu posse; lapides vero et herbas, quibus hactenus per mentis coecitatem ipse cum iis divinos honores tribuisset, res esse infimas a praepotenti Deo in usum subsidiumque humanae vitae procreatas. Quo dicto lapidem, qui forte ad manum erat, pede protritum longe abjicit a se. Satis indicavit secunda populi admurmuratio quam non alienis auribus isthaec audiret. Enimvero spes summa est, familia imperatoria baptismo lustrata, universi imperii conversionem in proclivi fore. Interea tam laeta rerum principia Deo, uti par est, gratulamur impense recreamurque praecipue, spectantes quotidie ea nunc idola dynastis contemptui esse, quae nuper in deorum numero reponebantur.

Alia res haud levis memoratu imperatorem baptismi cupiditate jamdudum accensum inflammabat magis. Indus quidam, caeso per injuriam Anglo, homicidii reus agebatur et jam neci dedendus erat, eo potissimum tempore quo Tayacus, comite P. Vito, ad coloniam veniebat. Miserum morti destinatum hortabamur ut, christianis sacris ante mortem rite susceptis, aeternae animae saluti consultum vellet. Cum ea in re minime visus esset difficilem se praebere, quantum per sermonis facultatem licuit, inclinatum hominis animum in nostram sententiam quoquo modo impellere nitebamur. Sensit pius imperator nos lingua laborare; quare sponte operam detulit suam pio negotio conficiendo. Neque fidi tantum interpretis fungi munere non est gravatus, ea ipsa homini ingerens quae a P. Vito inculcanda acceperat, sed de suo etiam nonnulla adjecit tam apposita tamque efficacia, ut et praesentibus admirationi fuerit, et ipsum denique Indum ad catholicas partes traduxerit; qui scientia necessaria imbutus et sacro fonte ablutus ad mortem se comparabat, eo maxime modo qui ipsi praescribebatur. Et vero tam vehementi Deum videndi desiderio teneri videbatur, ut supplicium maturari paulo avidius eum velle credidisses. Eximia in ore alacritas eminebat, crebro salutari crucis signo se muniebat, saepe asseveranter repetebat, quaecumque vel faceret vel diceret, non ad speciem tantum fecte simulari, sed ex intimi animi sensu ac sinu proficisci. Ut ad supplicii locum perventum est, hilari vultu quaesivit an sibi in obitu canendum esset; et cum responsum daretur, sacrosancta Jesu et Mariae nomina potius pie usurpando, eos sibi in supremo discrimine propitiaret, monentibus paruit impigre, et eodem pene momento et vitam et pias voces, praecludente spiritum suspendio, dimisit. Mortuus in coemeterio nostro humatus est ritu quam solemnissimo; ut vel inde intelligerent barbari, maleficorum licet scelera execrantes meritis ea poenis vindicent christiani, eorum tamen animas ipsos charas habere, facileque illis conciliari, si quando resipiscant. Et certe hujusmodi exemplum clementiae et charitatis in defunctum tanto vehementius eos perculit, quanto ab eorum moribus abhorrebat magis, qui nimirum hostes suos crudelissime mactatos amicis solent epulandos apponere.

Nemo tamen Tayaco vehementius spectaculo neophyti morientis commotus fuit; quippe qui exinde impense institit ut extemplo sibi fieret baptismi copia. Re tamen in consilio agitata, e majori Dei gloria futurum videbatur, si tantisper id differretur, dum apparatu splendido in summa celebritate atque in oculis popularium peragi posset, conjuge etiam liberisque in partem tum felicitatis tum laetitiae venientibus.

Imperator tandem, multis catholicorum obsequiis delentus, et proluxa eorum hospitalitate admodum delectatus, eodem P. Vito comite, domum revertitur; quo simul ac pervenit, negotium dat suis templum apparent in Pentecosten proximam, tempus scilicet baptismo praestitutum. In eum diem Kittamaquundum cogitant gubernator caeterique coloniae primores, christiana videlicet sacra, et alteros meliores Tayaci natales, praesentia sua et aliis quibuscunque poterunt modis cohonestaturi. Faxit benignus Deus ut omnibus ea res vertat bene, sibi utique in gloriam, nobis in meritum, genti universae in salutem.

Qui animo terrarum orbem circumspererit, nusquam fortasse reperiet homines his Indis in speciem abjectiores, quibus tamen animae sunt, si lytrum attendas a Christo persolutum, cultissimis Europaeis nihilo viliores. In vitia quidem proclives sunt, ut in tantis ignorantiae tenebris, tanta barbarie, tamque soluto et vago vivendi modo, haud ita multa; suoapte tamen ingenio mansueti sunt, nec nisi raro in iis animi appetitiones insolentius efferri animadvertas. Aerumnarum patientissimi sunt; contemptum injuriasque facile concoquunt, modo citra vitae discrimen haec steterint. Idola vel nulla vel rara habent, quorum cultui magnopere addicuntur; neque apud eos sacerdotes aut mystae sunt, ad quos ex instituto sacrorum spectat procuratio, quamvis non desint qui superstitiones interpretantur et populo venditant; sed et hi in vulgus nullo sunt numero. Unum coeli Deum in confesso habent; diffitentur tamen scire se qui colendus, qui honorandus sit; ex quo fit ut hujusmodi scientiam edocentibus faciles commodent aures. Raro illis in mentem venit [cogitatio?] immortalitatis animae rerumve a morte obita futurarum. Si quando tamen magistrum dilucide haec enucleantem nanciscuntur, perattentos juxta docilesque se praebent, et mox ad animae curam serio convertuntur, prompti utique ad ea paranda quae ad ejusdem salutem facere intellexerint. Ratione facile ducuntur, nec assensum pertinacius sustinent a vero proposito credibiliter. Haec genti innata indoles, opportunis divinae gratiae praesidiis sublevata, spem facit optatissimae aliquando messis, nosque ad labores in hac vinea continuandos summo opere animat. Atque eadem profecto iis omnibus incitamento esse debet, qui in posterum, Dei nutu, supplementi aut auxilii causa huc ad nos transmiserint.

diebus conciones habentur, dominicis vero catechismi explanatio. Non catholici tantum frequentes confluunt, verum etiam haereticorum plurimi, haud sine operae pretio; siquidem hoc anno omnino duodecim pristinos pertaesi errores in gratiam cum Deo et ecclesia rediere. Rem divinam quotidie facere non cessant nostri et sacramenta, prout res postulat, dispensare accedentibus; valentibus denique, aegris, afflictis et moribundis, consilio, auxilio et quacunque demum ope praesto esse contendimus. ¶ Collegium Leodiense, etc. Not signed.

MISSIO MARILANDICA.

In hac missione fuimus hoc anno sacerdotes quatuor cum uno coadjutore. Retulimus superiore anno quid spei concepissemus de convertendo Tayako seu imperatore, uti vocant, Pascatoae. Ex eo tempore, quae Dei est benignitas, spem eventus non fefellit. Accessit enim ille, adductis etiam nonnullis aliis ad fidem nostram, ac 5 julii anno 1640, cum fidei mysteriis satis esset imbutus, solemni ritu sacram undam excepit in sacello, quod ob eum finem divinumque cultum e corticibus pro Indorum more erexerat. Hoc eodem tempore uxor ipsius cum lactente infantulo aliusque ex primariis, quem ad consilia praecipue adhibebat, cum suo item parvulo filio baptismi fonte renati sunt. Imperatori, qui antea Chitomachon [Kittamaquund] audiebat, Caroli nomen, uxori autem Mariae inditum fuit; reliqui cum christiana fide christianorum nomina sortiti sunt. Aderat solemnitati gubernator una cum secretario aliisque pluribus; nec ad magnificentiam quidquam deerat, quod nostra exhibere facultas poterat. Post meridiem rex et regina matrimonium christiano more inivere; sacra deinde crux magnitudinis haud modicae erecta est; cui ad destinatum locum ferendae rex, gubernator, secretarius et reliqui manus humerosque accommodarunt, duobus interim e nostris litanias in honorem divae Virginis praecinentibus. At non multo post P. Andraeas Vitus ac P. Joannes Gravenerius suas etiam cruces haud paulo graviore experti sunt. Nam P. Vitus, dum in peragendis sacri baptismi caeremoniis quae longiusculae erant incaluisset, contracto frigore periculose aegrotavit; ex quo morbo licet postea convalesceret, in alium denuo incidit qui eum ad exeuntem usque hyemem tenuit. At P. Gravenerius pedum officio ita destitutus est ut ne vestigium quidem posset humi defigere.

Convaluit tamen et ipse, licet postea apostemate laborans paucorum dierum spatio 5 novembris extinctus est.

Cum ex praeteritae aetatis nimia siccitate fames apud Indos ingravesceret, ne eorum negligere corpora videremur, ob quorum curandas animas tantum iter emensi sumus, licet caro admodum pretio frumentum venderetur, eorum tamen sublevare inopiam panes eisdem subministrando necesse duximus. Has inter curas, simul etiam rebus missionis stabilendis intenti, majorem hyemis partem exegimus. Decimo quinto februarii Pascatoam appulimus, non sine incolarum praecipua quadam gratulatione et gaudio, qui sane videntur ad recipiendam fidem christianam bene animati. Haud ita pridem rex septennem filiam quam unice diligit ad S<sup>ae</sup> Mariae inter Anglos educandam duxit, atque ubi christiana mysteria probe perceperit sacro baptismatis fonte tingendam. Consiliarius etiam, cujus supra meminimus, quam in se Dei benignitatem expertus est in suos derivari cupiens, nihil magis in votis habet quam ut uxor et filii salutaribus aquis admoveantur; cujus aequissimo desiderio, post congruam instructionem, Deo juvante, fiet satis. Quin et rex Anacostanorum, cujus territorium non longe dissitum est, secum ut unus e nostris commoretur expetiit. Ex quo non obscure constat segetem minime defuturam nostris, in qua operam cum fructu ponant; quin potius verendum ne colligendae tam copiosae messi operarii defuturi sint. Sunt et alia oppida proxime adjacentia, quae haud dubie, si quis illis aeternae vitae verbum impertiret, ad veritatis evangelicae lucem prompte alacriterque accederent. Sed nostris hic adhuc integrum non est aliis adducendis studere, ne nimium cito novellum hunc gregem deserere videantur. Nec timendum iis erit qui subsidio mittuntur, ne vitae subsidia desint, cum is, qui vestit lilia et volucres pascit, illius amplificando regno incumbentes a necessariis praesidiis desertos non sit passurus.

P. Philippo Fishero, qui jam in S<sup>ae</sup> Mariae colonia residet, nihil accidisset laetius quam si Indicae messi impendere se per eos licuisset qui illius opera carere nequaquam possunt. Stetit tamen optimae voluntati sua merces; dum enim quinque illi, de quibus supra fuit sermo, baptismi aqua inter Indos lustrantur, totidem illius adnitente industria sub idem tempus ab haeretica pravitate in ecclesiae gremium reducuntur. Qui in colonia degunt catholici iis pietate non cedunt qui in aliis regionibus versantur; morum autem urbanitate, eorum judicio qui alias obiere colonias, multum eis censentur anteire. Ubique spes messis affulget; et, dum quisque nostrum pro suo Marte nunc his nunc illis juvandis incumbit, varia intercurrunt memoratu digna; ex quibus duo potissima, reliquis prolixitatis vitandae causa praetermissis, hic ponentur; in quorum altero divina misericordia eluxit, in altero justitia.

Quo die haeresin quidem [quidam] erat ejuraturus et peccata anteactae vitae per confessionem expiaturus, eo absente in interiori parte domus concepta flamma per postem transcurrens ad fastigium usque evaserat. Re animadversa (non enim longe aberat) vicinum subito compellat, nihil tamen opis reperit; ad alium igitur currit, ubi duos solummodo qui una irent invenit; et, licet toto hoc tempore arderet ignis domusque ex asseribus siccis esset constructa, prius tamen ei subventum est quam incommodi quidquam gravioris accideret. Timebant nonnulli ne casu hoc inopinato a conversione deterrendus esset. Longe tamen secus evenit; domo enim propemodum illaesa, argumentum inde sumpsit Dei sibi propitii suumque propositum manifesto indicio comprobantis. Quare susceptam fidem cum insigni morum mutatione conjungens, suavissimum boni exempli odorem in eos qui cum ipso versantur diffundit.

Alter cum Dei quosdam interiores impulsus sentiret et diu adhibebat media quae conducere ad conversionem videbantur, quodam tamen die secum ipse statuit, abjecta hujusmodi cogitatione omni, solitis anterioris vitae semitis insistere. Hic dum saniora agitabat consilia sphaerulas sibi precatorias conquisiverat; at postea mutato animo easdem in pulverem contusas tubo una cum suo tobacco in fumum resolutas haurire consuevit, saepe jactitans quo pacto sua Avemaria (sic enim globulos illos vocitabat, quorum ad numerum angelica salutatio recitatur) comederet. At non diu vindicta divina scelestum facinus inultum reliquit. Anno enim vixdum elapso, redeunte illius diei pervigilio, quo propositum suscipiendae catholicae fidei abjecerat, petulantius quam alias unquam (prout a sociis animadversum est) sacrilegum scomma usurpavit. Pomeridiano igitur tempore, cum natandi causa ad flumen se contulisset, vixdum aquas attigerat, cum ingens piscis nefarium hominem ex improvise adortus, antequam se recipere in ripam posset, magnam femoris partem morsu avulsit; cujus justissimae laniationis acerbitate intra breve temporis spatium infelix homuncio a vivis expulsus est; id agente scilicet divina justitia ut, qui paulo ante Avemarianos globulos se devorasse gloriabatur, proprias carnes etiamnum vivas devoratas cerneret. ¶ Collegium Leodiense Anglorum, etc. Not signed.

A quo elapso jam anno literas tibi dedi, visum est supremo numini viam aperire conversioni multarum, uti spero, millium animarum, vocando scilicet ad orthodoxam suam fidem imperatorem, sive grandem

Pascatoway regem; ita eum appello, quia multos habet sibi reges subditos; quippe qui sacro baptismatis fonte 5<sup>o</sup> julii anno 1640 aspersus est. Nomen illi antea Chilomaccon baptismo mutatur in Charolum. Eum [ei?] sociata est in baptismo regina uxor, cui nomen Maria traditum est, simul etiam infans lactans, cui nomen Anna. Accessit etiam his praecipuus ex regis consilio ante baptismum Mosoxcoques, nunc Joannes appellatus, ejusque lactans puerulus Robertus vocatus. Peractae sunt Pascatoway ceremoniae per P. Vitum, praesente gubernatoris secretario et P. Altam multisque aliis ex colonia Anglicana, sacello ex arborum corticibus condito ad morem Indicum, et ad eum solummodo finem Deoque in fide catholica inserviendum instructo. Neque sane dubium est quin permulti, vestigiis sui imperatoris inhaerentes, quamprimum eodem baptismatis fonte aspersi fuissent, nisi subito P. Vitus et P. Altam in ea missione occupati morbo correpti fuissent et ad valetudinem recuperandam S<sup>t</sup><sup>ae</sup> Mariae oppidum in colonia Anglorum repetere coacti; ubi P. Altam 5<sup>o</sup> novembris interiit et P. Vitus multoties in morbum relapsus propter malam valetudinem in missione[m] ire non potuit. Verum ultimo februario, cum vires nonnihil recuperasset, mihi adjunctus, Pascatoway reversus est, ad instaurandam et, quoad fieri posset, stabiliendam illam missionem, ut fides christiana, cujus semina visum est Deo ita inserere, feliciter propagetur. Veruntamen paulo post adventum nostrum rursus incidit in morbum P. Vitus, neque adhuc vires recuperavit; et vero, aetate atque infirmitatibus ingravescentibus, vereor ne post breve tempus tantis laboribus natura succumbat. Quantum in me est, illius vitam conservo, ut grande hoc Dei opus, conversio nimirum infidelium, prospere pergat, tum quia ipse maxime eorum tenet animos, tum quia melius etiam reliquis linguam callet. Non pauci ex incolis ad baptismum amplectendum instruuntur, et plures ex nobilioribus ad fidem christianam se propensos ostendunt; inter quos primum tenet locum rex Anacostonorum regi Patorieck [Patomeck?] avunculus. Non multis abhinc mensibus rex Pascatoway filiam misit, quae successura est in ditionibus patris, ad S<sup>t</sup><sup>ae</sup> Mariae oppidum, ut ibi inter Anglos educetur et ad baptismum instruatur. Spero equidem, favente Deo, nisi desint qui nobis succurrant, maximam brevi christianae fidei accessionem in his barbarorum nationibus futuram; et etiamsi propter annonae charitatem magnis premamur angustiis, auctis impensis et deficientibus unde victitemus, nec sint hic in colonia qui vel possint vel velint eleemosynas suppeditare, ostendatque divina providentia nec industriis nostris nec ab iis, in quorum procuranda salute, christianis sive paganis, laboramus, sustentationem sperandam, nihil tamen timere possum prospecturum de necessariis eum nobis qui volatilia coeli pascit, quae nec serunt nec metunt, et apostolos, quos sine sacculo et pera ad praedicandum evangelium misit, in omni necessitate adjuvit. Ille nobis etiam indignis operariis suis ea ratione, qua divinae illius providentiae visum fuerit, alimenta subministrabit. Ipsa profecto cogitatio nos revocandi aut non adjungendi nobis alios, quibus in hoc glorioso opere conversionis animarum juvemur, quodammodo providentiae Dei fidem et famulorum suorum curam e medio tolleret, quasi minus jam sufficeret ad operarios suos quam olim alendos. Quamobrem, ne cuiuspiam animos hoc minuatur, sed potius augeat et corroboret, cum jam Deus in suam nos protectionem susceperit, ut nimirum nobis ipse prospiciat, praesertim cum divinae placuerit bonitati aliquem jam fructum ex laboribus nostris percipere. Quocumque modo visum fuerit divinae Majestati de nobis disponere, fiat voluntas ejus; et ego, quantum ad me attinet, mallem hic inter Indos laborans ad eorum conversionem, omni humana ope destitutus, humi sub dio, fame confectus, mori, quam vel semel timore penuriae de relinquendo hoc sancto Dei opere cogitare. Concedat mihi Deus gratiam ut aliquod illi obsequium praestem, et quod reliquum est ipsius linquo providentiae. Rex Pascatoway nuper, 7<sup>o</sup> scilicet martii, piissime obiit. Sed pro illo excitabit, uti confidimus, propediem nobis semen Deus per vicinum illi regem Anacostonum, qui me ad se invitat atque [ait] se christianum fieri decrevisse. Idem aliis locis desiderant non pauci. Spes magnae messis effulget, nisi defuerint operarii qui linguam callent et valetudine fruuntur.

Hoc anno nihil mittere poterimus, quo vel ex parte solvantur ad victum, vestitum et alia necessaria quae petimus; sed, ut initio et deinde magna ex parte semper fecimus, cogimur ea vel gratis amore Dei, vel mutuo petere.

NARRATIO EXCERPTA EX LITERIS NOSTRORUM E MARILANDIA.

In missione Marylandiae tres tantum anno 1642 jam elapso socios habuimus, eosque sacerdotes, quorum unus trimestri etiam aegritudine

Laborum fructus hic fere fuit. P. Andreas nonnihil molesti a duro ac difficili Novae Angliae navarcho passus, quem sui et rerum necessariarum transferendarum causa conduxerat, a quo non sine causa postmodum timebat ne vel in mare demergeretur, aut una cum rebus suis in Novam Angliam puris nostris [Puritanis ?] Calvinistis, hoc est totius haereseos Calvinisticae fecibus, refertam deferretur. Deo rem tacitus commendans, tandem salvus appulit Patomacum, vulgo dicunt Patomake ; quo in portu ubi primum anchoras jecerant, navis ingenti gelu ita constricta haesit ut septemdecim dierum spatio loco non posset moveri ; cum interim pater glacie ceu terra incedens in oppidum abiisset. Cumque gelu solveretur, navis glaciei vi impetuque abacta et collisa subsedit, bonis tamen magna ex parte receptis. Hoc casu pater diutius in itinere, 9 scilicet hebdomadas, detentus est ; necesse enim habuit aliam navim ex S<sup>ta</sup> Maria petere. Moram autem istam spirituale animarum lucrum facile compensabat : adjunctus enim est ecclesiae isto spatio istius oppiduli dominus cum aliis praecipuis ejusdem incolis, fide Christi ac baptismo suscepto ; uti et alter cum plerisque suis ; tertius item cum uxore, filio et alio quodam ; quartus tamen [tandem ?] cum alio apud suos non ignobili loco. Quorum exemplo populus paratus est ad fidem amplectendam, cum primum vacuum nobis fuerit eum catechismo imbuere. Nec multo post juvenis imperatrix (ut ipsi eam appellant) Pascatavii in S<sup>ne</sup> Mariae oppido baptizata fuit, ibique educatur, jamque Anglicam linguam probe callet. Eodem fere tempore oppidum dictum Portobacco majori ex parte fidem cum baptismo suscepit ; quod cum ad flumen Pamacum (Pamake appellant) in medio fere Indorum positum sit, eoque ad excursions inde in omnem partem commodius, statuimus illic residentiam collocare ; idque eo magis quo veremur ne Pascatavium deserere cogamur, propter vicinitatem Sesquesehannorum ; qui populus est harum regionum maxime ferox et bellicosus atque christianis infensus, jamque impetu in locum quendam nostrum facto homines quos illic habuimus necarunt, bonaque magno nostro damno asportarunt. Ac nisi armorum vi comprimantur (quod minime speramus, ob variantes inter se Anglorum sententias) tutum illic nobis non erit. Quare excursionibus contentos esse oportet ; quales plures hoc anno in ascensu fluvii, quem Patuxen dicunt, habuimus. Ex quibus hic fructus extitit : conversio scilicet juvenis reginae illius loci, oppidi nempe ipsi fluvio cognominis, ejusque matris; juvenis item reginae Portobacco; uxoris duorumque liberorum magni Tayak, ut ipsi vocant, hoc est imperatoris, qui superiore anno vita functus est; aliorum insuper centum et triginta. Modus excurrendi hic est. Navigio seu lembo vehimur, pater scilicet, interpretes et famulus (interprete enim utimur, ut postea dicitur), quorum duo remis, cum ventus vel adversatur vel deficit, naviculam impellunt, tertius clavo dirigit. Ferimus unam cistulam panis, butyri, casei, farris ante maturitatem exsecti atque siccati, fabarum et exiguae farinae; alteram etiam utribus deferendis, quorum unus est vini ad celebrandum, sex aquae ad baptismi usum benedictae; capsulam cum suppellectile sacra; et tabulam seu altare sacro faciendo; alteram etiam plenam reculis, quas Indis ad eos conciliandos damus, ut sunt campanulae, pectines, cultelli, hami piscatorii, acus, filum et caetera hujusmodi. Habemus etiam stoream parvam, cum sub dio cubandum (quod frequens est), aliam etiam majorem pluviae arcendae idoneam. Famuli etiam aliqua deferunt venatui necessariae eique in cibum postmodum, si quid ceperint, parando. In itineribus conamur quantum possumus vesperi ad domum aliquam Anglicanam vel Indorum oppidulum appellere; sin minus exscendimus et patri quidem incumbit naviculae cura, ut firmiter litori alligetur, deinde ligna colligendi ignemque struendi interea dum alii duo venatum abeunt, ut si quid capiant paretur; sin minus, nostris nos cibis reficientes, juxta focum cubantes somnum capimus. Si pluviae metus immineat, mapale erigimus storeaque majore injecta tegimus; nec animo minus laeto, Deo sit laus, tenui victu duroque lecto hic utimur quam commodiore in Europa; praesenti scilicet solatio, quod Deus tamquam arrham ejus, quod in futuro daturus est fideliter in hac vita laborantibus, nobis impertit, dulcedine quadam difficilia omnia aspergit, praesertim quod divina ipsius Majestas supra communem modum nobis adesse videatur. Nam spectata linguae hujus difficultate, tanta ut nemo nostrum adhuc sine interprete Indos alloqui possit (quanquam P. Rogerius Rigbaeus in tantillum assequutus sit ut speret se brevi posse cum iis de rebus familiaribus agere, eosque quantum satis est ad baptismum suscipiendum instruere; brevem enim catechismum interpretis ope jam composuit), hoc, inquam, spectato, mirum videri debet nos quidpiam apud ipsos efficere potuisse; praesertim cum alium non habeamus interpretem praeterquam juvenem, qui eorum linguae non adeo peritus sit, quin aliquando risum ipsis moveat; sic ut animos aliquando paene despondere videremur; patientia tamen superamus et paulatim ad id quod volumus eos pertrahimus.

Visum est etiam divinae Bonitati virtute suae sanctae Crucis quiddam supra naturae vires efficere. Res ita se habuit. Indus quidam a patria dictus Anacostianus, jam christianus, dum iter cum aliis per sylvam quandam faceret, comitibus paululum praecedentibus, quidam barbari illius populi, quem antea dixi, Sesquesehanni ex insidiis eum improvise adoriuntur, hastaque ex ligno locusta dicto, forti et laevi, ex quo arcus suos faciunt, ferrea cuspidē oblonga de latere ad latus, dextro scilicet in sinistrum, uno palmo sub axilla prope ipsum cor perfodiunt, foramine utrimque duos digitos lato; ex quo cum homo subito corrueret, inimici ocyssime fugiunt, amici autem qui processerant inopinato strepitu et clamore revocati redeunt, sublatumque e terra ad navem quae non procul aberat, indeque domum suam Piscataui deferunt, ac elinguem et absque sensu relinquunt. Re perlata ad P. Vitum, qui prope forte aberat, is sequenti mane accurrit hominemque reperit jam pro foribus in storea prope focum depositum et corona popularium suorum cinctum, non quidem omnino elinguem vel sine sensu ut pridie, sed mortem certissimam in momenta pene singula operientem, et voce lugubri una cum amicis astantibus (ut moris est praeclariori hominum istorum generi cum certo creduntur morituri) canentem. Ex amicis autem aliqui etiam erant christiani, voxque illorum, quam musice quidem sed moesto vocis flexu modulabantur, ea erat: Vivat, o Deus, si ita tibi placitum fuerit; eamque identidem repetebant, donec pater moribundum affari aggrediretur; qui patrem protinus agnovit eique vulnera sua ostendit; cujus patrem magnopere miserebat. Verum cum adverteret periculum praesentissimum esse, omissis aliis, breviter fidei capita percurrit ac dolore peccatorum excitato ejus confessionem excepit, deinde, animum ejus spe ac fiducia in Deum erigens, evangelium, quod super aegrotos legi solet, necnon litanias B<sup>ae</sup> Virginis Lauretanæ recitavit, docuitque sanctissimis ejus precibus se commendare sacratissimumque Jesu nomen sine intermissione inclamare. Deinde pater reliquias sacras S<sup>mae</sup> Crucis, quas in theca ad collum appensas gestabat, sed jam detraxerat, ad vulnus utrimque ante discessum applicans (nam discedere oportebat ad senem quendam Indum, qui ante crastinum moriturus certo putabatur, baptismo impertiendum) monuit adstantes ut, cum spiritum ultimum reddidisset, ad templum sepulturae causa deferrent. Jam meridies erat cum pater discedebat, ac die sequenti eadem hora cum forte navicula veheretur videt duos Indos naviculam remis se versus impellentes, cumque appulissent, alter eorum pedem infert in eam in qua pater erat. Qui dum hominem fixis oculis cunctabundus intueretur (ex altera enim parte facile ex facie eundem quis esset agnoscebat, ex altera vero dubitabat, memor quo in statu eum pridie reliquerat), is subito explicato pallio vulnerisque cicatricibus, seu potius rubra utrimque macula quasi vulneris vestigio ostensa, dubitationem omnem protinus eximit; verbis praeterea magno cum gaudio exclamat se omnino sanum neque ab ea hora, qua pater heri discesserat, se desiisse sanctum Jesu nomen invocare, cui recuperatam valetudinem tribuebat. Omnes qui cum patre in navicula erant, rem omnem et oculis et auribus usurpantes, in Dei laudem et gratiarum actionem erumpentes, magnopere hoc miraculo exhilarati et in fide confirmati sunt. Pater vero hominem admonens ut memor semper tanti tamque manifesti beneficii gratias agat, nomenque illud sanctissimum sanctissimamque Crucem amore ac honore prosequi denuo pergat, eundem ab se dimittit. Ille igitur rediens cymbam suam una cum altero fortiter remo impellebat, quod nisi sanus et viribus integer non potuisset. Haec summa est laboris simul ac fructus hujus anni.

Unum tamen restat non omnino omitendum, parce tamen libandum; istuc [!] scilicet non defuisse patientiae occasionem ab iis, a quibus potius auxilium et tutelam sperare aequum fuerat; qui in res suas nimium attentī ecclesiasticam immunitatem violare non sunt veriti, operam dando ut leges olim istiusmodi in Anglia perperam latae et servatae hic similiter vim suam obtineant: ne cui scilicet personae vel communitati etiam ecclesiasticae liceat quavis ratione, etiam dono, quidquam terrarum acquirere aut possidere, nisi licentia magistratus civilis prius habita. Quod cum nostri dicerent ecclesiae legibus [!] oppugnare, missi sunt ex Anglia duo sacerdotes qui contra docerent. Sed contra quam putabatur factum est. Nam, nostris rationibus auditis reque clarius perspecta, in nostram sententiam facile concessere, et plerique etiam laici. Coronidis loco illud addo, duos alios patres recenter huc ex Anglia magno solatio nostro advenisse, post navigationem molestam quatuordecim hebdomadarum, cum alioqui non soleat esse nisi sex vel octo. Sed de iis eorumque laboribus ac fructu alias, si Deus dederit. Speramus quidem eum fore copiosum quantum augurari licet ex eorum fervore animorumque inter omnes consensione, cum illud certissimum sit ejus in nobis existentis indicium, qui est summe unus totiusque unitatis principium.

ANNUS 1645.

Qui sequuntur anni grassante per omnes Angliae provincias civili bello et parlamentario milite barbara quadam rabie ubique in Catholicos desaeviente, infinitam tum laicis plurimis tum nostris patribus patientiae materiam peperere. Capti et in carceres compacti ex nostris non pauci. Atque in Marilandiam usque penetravit malum ubi zelosi quidam haeretici rem gratam se facturos existimantes parlamento, catholicorum coloniam invadentes, patres inde duos abstraxerunt in Angliam: Andream Vitum et Philippum Fisherum, qui gentilitio nomine Coppleius [Copplaenus?] vocabatur. Hi ad tribunal stantes, id quod latere non poterat, fassi sunt se sacerdotes esse, sed injuria ea de re postulati, cum contra leges modernas non sit sacerdotem esse, sed post ordines sacros susceptos in Angliam rediisse neque se extemplo stetisse iudici. Se extra Angliam captos, invitos eo esse deductos atque adeo non posse secundum eas leges reos peragi. Id quod obtinuit ea cautione ut regno exularent; et Fischerus quidem rediit in Marilandiam nihil veritus adversariorum malitiam, et post annorum aliquorum labores morte sublatus est. Vitus, post aliquod tempus in Belgio transactum, rediit in insulam et annorum aliquot labores pia morte conclusit. ¶ De morte P. Henrici Morse, martyris. Finis.

Annual Letter for 1670: extract recounting an incident of the earlier date. The visitation of Divine justice on a scurrilous scoffer among the invaders of Maryland in 1646.

Ex Marilandia hoc anno memorabile quiddam accepimus, quod etsi multis abhinc annis ibidem contigerit, et verisimile sit in annales nostros superiorum temporum relatum esse, quia tamen hoc ipso anno a nostris huc perscriptum est, etiam authentico testimonio oculati testis et notarii publici confirmatum, visum est hic rem breviter saltem attingere. Hoc unum tamen praefari me oportet, esse scilicet hoc in more positum institutoque catholicorum qui Marylandiam incolunt, ut tota nocte 31 julii diem S<sup>i</sup> Ignatii memoria sacrum consequente, festo tormentorum sono praesidi suo tutelari et patrono sancto gratulentur. Anno itaque 1646, solennis sui moris memores peracto anniversario S<sup>i</sup> Patris die, etiam noctem ejusdem venerationi continua tormentorum explosione dicatam voluere. Illo tempore in confiniis loci quidam milites agebant, reipsa injusti praedones, genere Angli, cultu heterodoxi, qui anno superiore navibus advecti coloniam fere totam armis invaserant, diripuerant, incenderant; deinde sacerdotibus abductis, ipso etiam gubernatore in exilium pulso, in miseram servitutem redegerant. Illi in arce quadam munita, defensionis sui causa extructa, praesidium habebant quinque circiter millibus passuum a caeteris dissiti; sed nunc nocturno bombardarum fragore exciti, postridie idest primo augusti die, cum armis advolant, in aedes catholicorum irrumpunt et, quidquid armorum aut nitrati pulveris usquam inveniunt, diripiunt. Cum tandem aliquando praedandi finem fecissent jamque abitum adornarent, unus ex illis gregariae sortis homuncio et scurra, non tantum illiberalis sed etiam blasphemus, ausus est vel ipsum coeli civem Ignatium foedis dicteriis factoque foediore lacessere. In malam crucem, inquit, abite, papistae, quibus cordi est vestro sanctulo displotis bombardis applaudere. Mihi quoque bombardam est, et ego illi plausum dabo, tam misero sancto aptum magis et congruentem. Hoc dicto, honor sit auribus, sonoro crepitu insonuit et abiit, gregalibus ejus petulante cachinno aridentibus. Sed care misero stetit impia et mimica scurrilitas; nam vixdum ad ducentos passus inde processerat, cum intus commoveri sibi viscera sensit seque ad secessum sollicitari; et iterum, altero tanto viae confecto, secedendum illi fuit querenti de inusitato ventris dolore, cui similem in omni vita haud unquam senserat. Itineris reliquum, quatuor nimirum millia passuum, navi confectum est; quo spatio saeva viscerum tormina ventrisque profluvium saepius illum exscendere coegerunt. Ad arcem appulsus, prae nimio dolore vix sui compos, modo se humi volutat, modo in scamnum stratumque se projicit, horrenda voce usque exclamans: Ardeo, ardeo; incendium est in ventre, incendium in imis visceribus. Praesidiarii, deploratum sui commilitonis sortem miserati, illum denuo cymbae impositum trans flumen devehunt ad quendam Thomam Hebdenum chirurgicae scientem; sed malum longius processerat quam ut ab arte liniri, nedum levare posset. Interea ex ore miselli haud aliud audisses quam illud notum et ferele carmen: Ardeo, ardeo, incendium, incendium. Postero die, qui fuit augusti secundus, ingravescente in horas intolerabili dolore, ipsa coeperunt ilia postica parte minutatim effluere; tertio autem augusti, intestinorum segmina majora, quorum haec pedem, illi sesquipedem, alia tres pedes longa fuere, furibundus et rugiens ejecit. Quartus denique dies sentinam totam exhausit, sic ut nihil praeter abdomen inane et vacuum reliqui fecerit. Diem tamen quintum superstes orientem vidit, quando videre et vivere infelix desiit, exemplum posteris futurum vindictae divinae mortales commonentis: Discite justitiam moniti et non temnere divos. Defuncti intestina ad plures menses e palis suspensa innumeri spectaverunt adhuc superstites; inter quos et ille qui testimonium perhibuit de his et oculis vidit et manibus tractavit nigricantia et quasi flammis adusta viscera moderni hujus Judae, qui et ipse suspensus crepuit medius et effusa sunt omnia viscera ejus. ¶ Collegium Leodiense, etc.

In Marylandiam hoc anno destinatus P. Franciscus Fitzherbertus arduam expeditionem ac laboriosum atque longinquum iter inter ignotos homines moribus ac religione discrepantes, sine comite, singulari animi magnitudine et alacritate, ad primum moderatoris nutum ingressus est. Nec defuit toto itinere ex fiducia in Deum et patientia copiosa in meritum seges. Quatuor simul Anglia solverunt navigia, quae occidentales insulas praetervecta atrox accepit tempestas, et navem quidem, qua pater vehebatur tam violenti quassarunt fluctus, ut frequenti rima fatiscens deploratam pene traheret sentinam. Enimvero egerendae hauriendaeque aquae quaterni simul homines, non e nautica solum turba sed etiam vectorum, sua quique vice ad vastam antliam perpetuum laborem dies ac noctes exsudabant. Quare commutato cursu in insulam, quam Barbados Angli appellant, vela vertere animus fuit. Sed nulla id arte, nulla industria consequi [li]cuit; consilium deinde fuit, deserta cum mercibus oneraria, scaphae se committere. Sed illud quoque intumescens adversis flatibus pelagus et immanes undarum moles prohibuerunt. Plurima mortis imagine omnium oculis obversante, exitii metum familiaris jam metuendi consuetudo pene excluserat. Duos omnino menses tempestas tenuit, unde non maris aut coeli vi sed sagarum maleficio excitatam opinio fuit. Protinus mulierculam veneficii suspectam arripiunt et durissima examinatum quaestione, jure an injuria? de summo malo suspectam necant; cadaver et quicquid ad illam pertinuit in mare effundunt. Non tamen ideo aut vim venti aut furens oceanus minas remittit. Accessit ad tempestatis incommoda morbus, qui per singula paene grassatus capita, non paucos extinxit. Veruntamen pater, nisi quod vehementius versanda et exercenda antlia dierum aliquot febriculam contraxit, ab omni contagione intactus et immunis exitit. Multiplici perfuncta discrimine tandem, miserante Deo, praeter omnium spem Marilandiae portum oneraria tenuit. Finis. Not signed.

In Marilandia nostri hoc et proxime superiori anno, gravi defuncti periculo, magnis difficultatibus et angustiis sunt conflictati et acerba tum ab hostibus perpassi tum a suis. Angli, qui Virginiam incolunt, in Marylandiae colonos, ipsos pariter Anglos, fecerunt impetum, et Marilandiae quidem praefectum cum aliis pluribus, pacta certis conditionibus salute, in deditionem acceperunt. Verum, violatis perfide conditionibus, 4 ex captivis et quidem tres ex illis catholici summo religionis odio plumbeis glandibus sunt trajecti. In nostras aedes irruentes, impostores, ut appellabant, ad mortem deposcebant, certam deprehensis carnificinam intentantes. Caeterum patres ante ipsa eorum ora, Deo protegente, cymbala ignoti praetervehebantur. Libri, suppellex et quicquam domi erat praedonibus cessit. Ipsi cum universae paene rei familiaris ac domesticae jactura, magno etiam capitis adito discrimine, clam in Virginiam delati, in summa rerum necessariarum inopia vix et aegre vitam tolerant. Tuguriolum incolunt vile, humile ac depressum, non multum absimile cisternae aut etiam sepulchro, in quo magnum illud fidei propugnaculum S. Athanasius plures annos latitavit. Ad caeteras ipsorum miseras et illud accessit incommodi quod, quicquid hoc anno solatii aut subsidii stipis nomine a piis in Anglia hominibus destinatum fuit, intercepta qua subvehebatur navi, male perierit. Sed nihil illos aegrius habet, quam quod ne vini quidem quod satis sit ad altaris mysteria conficienda suppetit. Famulus illis nullus vel ad domesticos usus, vel ad iter per ignota et suspecta loca dirigendum, vel etiam ad cymbam, si quando usus sit, propellendam ac gubernandam. Saepe per spatiosa et vasta flumina alteruter eorum, solus et incomitatus, longinqua navigio metitur ac remetitur spatia, non alio cursum regente navarcho quam Divina Providentia. Jam ut hostis absit, et illi in Marilandiam remigrent, quae a suis pridem perpassi sunt et quae adhuc imminet incommoda non multo sunt tolerabiliora. Finis.

Annual Letter: extract. Flourishing condition of the Maryland Mission. The local school conducted there; remarkable success of the scholars when transferred to St. Omer's College, and brought into competition with Europeans. Here immediately follows a general account of temporal losses owing to a systematic attack upon Jesuit property, to the incompetency of local Jesuit managers, the dishonesty of paid hands, the expenses of lawyers, etc.

Marilandica missio floret: quam ibi fecerunt patres nostri sementem, in copiosam segetem excrescit et amplam olim messem pollicetur. Ante quadriennium aperta illic a nostris, in media barbarie, humaniorum litterarum schola, quam duo regunt, et juvenus illic nata, supra modum litteris dedita, proficit. Duos illa missio, illa recens nata schola Audomarum transmisit, qui paucis Europaeis ingenio cedant, cum suae classis primis de palma contendant. Unde colligimus non auri tantum et argenti aut aliarum terrae frugum, sed et hominum ad virtutem et altiores disciplinas factorum regiones illas, quas immerito barbarae audiunt, esse feracissimas. Submissi eo hoc anno duo, qui laborantes in illa amplissima Domini vinea sublevant.

Maxima toto hoc anno contentio de bonis exitit. Societatis hostes immensas opes ab ea possideri, quaeque exercitui alendo fere sufficerent, invidiose sparserant, versa in Societatis perniciem ipsa nostrorum patrum beneficentia, qui recurrentibus ad se petitum subsidium [!] prompte subveniebant ac largiter pro tenuibus facultatibus suis; cum tamen certum sit istos aut fallere aut falli, quia quidquid in insula possident vix ad centum alendos sufficiat. Quod si spectemus quid ex procuratorum ignorantia pereat, quid ex rusticorum avaritia reditus annuos retinentium amittatur, quid in juris peritos expendatur ne fundus ipse eripiat, longe paucioribus sufficiet, nisi ipsi sua se industria juvent. Reliqua fidelium charitas, pro quibus strenue laboramus, affatim suppeditat. Pleraque in discrimen vocata sunt, quae aegre tuemur; aliqua periire. Tamen in Dei bonitate et catholicorum pietate confidimus quod, donec spiritualia seminaverimus, abunde carnalia metemus, et quaerentibus regnum Dei caetera adjicientur. Interea habentes victum sobrium et parcum et vestitum honestum, his contenti sumus.

Agendae interim divinae misericordiae uberes gratiae de occasionibus quibus fidem nostram virtutemque exercet et de singulari fortitudine, qua nostros patres induit ex alto, ad omnia alacriter et cum gaudio pro Christo sustinenda. Rapinam bonorum cum gaudio susceperunt, cognoscentes se habere meliorem et manentem substantiam. Ludibria ac verbera experti sunt, insuper et vincula et carceres; lapidati sunt, secti sunt, tentati sunt, in occisione laquei mortui sunt, circuierunt egentes, angustiati, afflicti. Nec tamen, quae Dei misericordia est, passus est nos tentari supra quam possumus, sed fecit cum tentatione provenitum, ut possimus sustinere. In ipso certa spes collocata est quod [?] qui coepit hoc opus bonum ipse perficiet.

DE MISSIONE AMERICANA.

Marilandiam, Virgineam, Novam Albionem continuo tractu occupant Angli. Distat a Nova Francia seu Canada Novum Eboracum millibus passuum 300; Marilandia vero sexcentis fere ad occidentem ab austro. Ipsa Marilandia intra 38 et 40 latitudinis borealis gradum jacet. Distat Londino itinere maritimo 2 fere mensium, cum in Marilandiam tenditur, licet inde Londinum sesquimensse redeatur, eo quod in sinu Floridae qui ad 500 leucas extenditur prono tunc mari provehantur naves. In omnibus his regionibus libertas conscientiae ac cujusvis religionis, quae Christum adoret, usus ac professio publica etiam lege, ut vocant fundamēntali, permittitur. Sed tamen excepta Marilandia vix alibi sat pedem fixit catholica religio, nisi sub extremis, quibus regnis suis potitus est rex Jacobus secundus, annis, obnitentibus quantum contra eam possent gubernatoribus, qui singulis fere trienniis a rege statuuntur. Marilandiae alia sors est, cum Ill<sup>mus</sup> dominus regni Baro de Baltemore, piissimus catholicus, per patentes litteras, in solo proditoriae rebellionis casu revocabiles, perpetuum jus proprietatis in totam Marilandiam (cujus in continente fines adhuc ignorantur) possideat sibi ac haeredibus suis, atque intra Marilandiam jure fere regio disponit, licet mandatis regiis, si quae acceperit, obedire teneatur.

Licet nostrae provinciae socios sat occupat missio domestica, ab initio tamen occupatae ab Anglis Marilandiae, eo penetrarunt nostri ne plus a mercatoribus avaritia quam a nostris animarum zelus videretur exigere. Cum prima sciz. eo deducta colonia, tres socii missi sunt anno 1633; et primi illi quidem diu aerumnosam ibi egere vitam in coelo aeris intemperie tunc Europaeis gravissimo, solo vero oblecto imperviis silvis et nullius tunc fere rei ad humanos usus necessariae feraci. Excisa tandem immani arborum vi, liberior aer corporibus minus obnoxius hauritur, et paulatim pascuis et arabilibus agris distincta regionis pars est. Nostrae missioni perpetuo tandem possessionis securoque jure sat commodam insulam obtinuimus. In ea aedes praediumque in quo 500 oves et 150 alia pecora alimus, uno coadjutore cum 2 famulis curam illius praedii habentibus: 2 etiam alia praediola habemus. Hinc aluntur nostri, qui sparsi vivunt ubi major operae speratur fructus. Nulli enim vel pagi ea in regione. Speciem aliquam unius refert Mary-town, ubi Ill<sup>mi</sup> domini Baltemori aedes, sed quibus tantum 6 aliae accessere. Cum aboriginibus, minus quam in votis esset, commercium nec missionem ad eos ullam certam instituere adhuc nostri, quia singuli fere in silvis ferarum more et venationis causa, qua sola aluntur, mutatis frequenter sedibus, degunt, sine ullo pago proprie dicto, licet urbes vocent tot hominum intra 5 vel 6 leucarum ambitum degentium numerum eumque qui illis praeest regem, qui vero pluribus talibus praesunt imperatores audiunt. Horum unus, plures illorum in primo hujus missionis decennio baptizati sunt. Majus cum eis in Novo Eboraco cum eorum 5 gentibus commercium, vendentibus illis pelles ursinas, castoreas aliasque varii generis. Hic septennium exegit unus e nostris, sed ante triennium coactus exire, ut furori cederet uxoris novi gubernatoris, a principe Auriaco submissi, non quidem titulo religionis ejectus, sed quod in regis sui legitimi Jacobi obsequium posset multos trahere delatus, in Marilandiam venit. Eodem et ex Virginea alius quam missionem coluerat, sub praetextu docendi filios cujusdam praedivitis mercatoris a religione catholica non alieni, urgentibus omnibus Anglis incolis est compulsus redire. Jam numeramus in Marilandia 4 sacerdotes, unum magistrum, qui puerorum educationi praeest, ob capitis debilitatem ad sacerdotium non promotus, et 4 coadjutores temporales, qui praediorum reique totius nostrae curam habeant, dum sacerdotes solis incumbunt pietatis officiis animarum conversioni.

Ad Majorem Dei Gloriam.

DECLARATIO COLONIAE DOMINI BARONIS DE BALTMORE IN TERRA MARIAE PROPE VIRGINIAM, QUA INGENIUM, NATURA ET CONDITIO REGIONIS ET MULTIPLICES EJUS UTILITATES AC DIVITIAE DESCRIBUNTUR.

Provincia est prope coloniam anglicanam in Virginia, quam honoris causa a Maria conjuge sua Ser<sup>mus</sup> rex Angliae Terram-Mariae vel Marylandiam voluit appellari. Hanc nuper provinciam idem Ser<sup>mus</sup> rex pro sua magnificentia, mense junio anni 1632, D<sup>no</sup> Baroni de Baltamore et haeredibus suis in perpetuum donavit; quam donationem publico totius regni sigillo munivit ac ratam habuit. Idcirco Ill<sup>mus</sup> Baro jam statuit in eam regionem coloniam ducere, primo et praecipue ut in eandem ac loca finitima lucem evangelii ac veritatis invehat, quo nullam hactenus veri Dei notitiam affulsisse compertum est; tum etiam eo consilio ut socii omnes itinerum ac laborum in partem quaestus et honoris vocentur, regisque imperium latius propagetur. Eam in rem navigationis comites, cum eos qui fortunae aleam secum sint tentaturi, tum alios etiam omni festinatione ac diligentia conquirat. Quippe re tota accurate considerata, et virorum usu ac prudentia praestantium consilio adhibito, omnia tum commoda tum incommoda, quae alias hactenus colonias vel promoverunt vel impedierunt, sedulo jam studioseque perpendit, reperitque nihil quod consilium suum non magnopere probaret ac successum sponderet felicissimum. Nam et scripta, quae post se reliquit nobilissimus pater testis oculatus ac locuples ac fide dignissimus, quaeque constanter referunt qui ad nos inde vel haud procul inde comitantur quotidie, tum quae verissime scripsit ac in lucem edidit capitaneus Smithaeus, qui primus eam terram aperuit, mira sane et prope inaudita de soli illius fertilitate excellentiaque commemorat. Accedit etiam innumerabilium hominum qui hic Londini versantur, quique in eas oras, unde aliquando venerant, reversuri sunt, communis consensus ac testimonium, qui quae litteris mandavit Smithaeus uno ore comprobant atque confirmant. Quapropter nobilissimus Baro, circa medium septembrem proxime insequentem, in ea loca Deo adjuvante vela facturus est, iisque quos sibi in tam praeclaro incepto socios ac adiutores nactus fuerit cumulatissime multa ac largissime pollicetur. Quorum id primum ac praecipuum est (ut omittam honores ac loci dignitates, quae honori, virtuti, fortitudini, rebusque gestis liberaliter ac honorifice tribuentur), ut quicumque 100 libras Anglicanas ad 5 viros transportandos (quod satis erit tum ad arma et instrumenta tum ad vestes et alias res necessarias) numerabit, sive ipsis visum fuerit se nobis adungere, seu viros pecuniamque iis quibus hoc muneris impositum fuerit, sive alteri cuivis commiserit qui eorum curam gerat et divisionem agrorum recipiat, suis omnibus suisque haeredibus in perpetuum possessio agri boni 2000 iugerum assignabitur. Ad haec, si in prima expeditione socios se praestiterint operamque navarint, partem quoque suam haud exiguam in fructuosa mercatura, de qua postea, aliisque privilegiis obtinebunt. De quibus, cum ad praedictum Baronem venerint accuratius fient certiores. Quod autem antea dictum est de 100 libris Anglicanis, hoc etiam de minore seu majore summa pecuniae pro rata portione, ab uno separatim aut a pluribus simul collata atque praestita, intelligatur.<sup>1</sup>

Consilium primum ac summum Ill<sup>m</sup> Baronis est, quod aliorum etiam qui in eadem navi fuerint esse debet, ut in terra tam frugifera non tam frugum atque arborum quam religionis ac pietatis semina spargantur. Consilium enimvero dignum christianis, dignum angelis, dignum Anglis, quo nobilius nullum aut gloriosius tot antiquis Anglia victoriis nobilitata suscepit. Ecce regiones sunt albae ad messem, paratae ad evangelii semen gremio fructifero recipiendum. Indi ipsi mittunt undique nuntios ad conquirendos idoneos homines qui incolas doctrina salutari instruant et sacro fonte regenerent. Adsunt etiam hoc ipso tempore in urbe qui se vidisse testantur legatos a suis regibus hanc ob causam ad urbem Jareli<sup>2</sup> in Virginea missos, infantesque in novam Angliam delatos ut aquis salutaribus abluerentur. Cui ergo dubium esse poterit quin hoc uno tam glorioso opere multa animarum millia ad Christum traducantur. Opus appello gloriosum animarum auxilium ac salutem; opus enim erat Christi

In confesso est situm regionis optimum esse ac commodissimum, quippe quae ad 38 vel 40 gradum in aquilonem porrigitur, situ loci Hispali, Siciliae, Hierusalem et optimis Arabiae Felicis plagis et Chinae haud absimilis. Aer serenus ac mitis nec ardoribus Floridae vel antiquae Virgineae infestus, nec Novae Angliae frigoribus exustus, sed mediam quandam inter utramque temperiem obtinet, utriusque fruitur bonis ac mala nescit. Ab oriente oceano alluitur, ab occidente infinito prope continenti objacet, qui in mare Chinense protenditur. Duo aestuaria habet sane magna; utrinque sinus piscium foecundissimi. Alterum cui nomen Chesa-peack 12000 passuum latum binisque interfusum regionibus, ab austro centum et sexaginta millia passuum in aquilonem volvitur, magnarum capax navium, discretum variis iis amplis ac pascu[o]sis insulis, in quibus piscium quos Largos vocant copiosa piscatio; alterum appellant Pilawase, ubi integro anno asellorum piscatio est, sed non adeo commoda nisi mensibus tantum frigidioribus, nam calidiores sale condiri vetant. Adhaec quidem tanta piscandi copia hinc fit quod ventus, qui a Canariis inter aquilonem et orientem constanter spirant, volvit oceanum simulque pisces in aestuarium Mexicanum; ubi, cum nec in orientem nec austrum evolvi datur, magno impetu in aquilonem pellitur perque oras Floridae, Verginia, Marylandiae, Novae Angliae magnam secum multitudinem piscium everrit, qui, dum cetos fugiunt, ad loca vadosa confugiunt, ubi facilius a piscatoribus capiuntur. Flumina sunt varia atque inclyta, quorum praecipuum Attawomech appellant, navigationi opportunum, 140 millia passuum influens in orientem, ubi commercium cum Indis tam quaestuosum habetur, ut mercator quidam pelles castrorum [!] 40000 aureorum pretio ultimo anno convexerit, ac mercaturae labor trigesimo foenore compensatur.

In planitie ac apertis campis copia graminis magna, sed regio majore ex parte nemoribus opaca. Quercus juglandes frequentissime; ac quercus quidem ita rectae et procerae ut trabes inde fieri possint altae 60 pedum, latae 2 et dimidium. Cypressi etiam, antequam ramos emittant, ad 80 pedes eriguntur, truncum vix 3 viri extentis brachiis metiuntur. Mori frequentissimae ad escam bombycum; invenitur etiam granum sericum quod Lusitani Sove del'hierva vocant. Alni, fraxini, castaneae haud impares iis quas Hispania, Italia, Gallia ferunt; cedrique aequales iis quibus Libanus gloriatur. Quid dicam de pinu, lauro, abiete, saxo-prasso et reliquis cum variis etiam arboribus quae balsama et gummi odorifera reddunt; arbores ad omnia utilissimae, ad architecturam, ad rem nauticam, opus tabulatum, ad picem resinam, liquidam picem, terebinthum, sinagma, odoromata, cataplasmata conficienda. Sylvae autem perviae, non horridae spinis aut arbutis, sed ad pastum bestiis, hominibus ad voluptatem a natura factae. Adsunt vites ubertate, ex quibus vinum exprimi potest, quaedam cerasis pares, quarum humor crassus et unguinosus. In[c]olae Mesamines vocant; cerasa prunis Damascenis aequalia; grossularia nostris simillima. Tria sunt genera prunorum; mora, castanea, juglandes ita abundant ut varias ad escas adhibeantur; fragra et rubos Idaeos ibidem invenias. De piscibus qui sequuntur etiamnum in notitiam venerunt: sturiones, turciones [?], phocanae, aristoci, squillae, torpedines, trutae, melanurae trium generum, erechini, rubelliones, albi salmones, conchae, cocleae et alii id genus innumeri nomine et genere ignoti. Caeterum tanta porcorum et cervorum copia est ut molestiae potius quam commodo sint. Vaccae etiam innumerabiles ac bubali ad onera et escas idonei, praeter alia quinque genera magnarum bestiarum nobis ignota, quae finitimi ad mensam adhibent. Oves vel hinc vel a Canariis petendae; asini item et muli. Equis, tauris, vaccisque sylvestribus plena sunt proxima nemora, ex quorum parte ea quae occidentem spectat in Novam Mexico quotannis 5 vel 600 millia deportantur Hispalim. Caprarum quantum visum fuerit a finitimis peti poterit. Adde huc mures odoratos, ciuros, castores, fibros, vulpes, martiches, curculiones, non tamen ut nostri ovis et gallinis infestos. Inter volucres aquila voracissima, accipitrum varia genera, qui piscibus magna ex parte victitant; perdices coturnicibus haud majores sed multitudine prope infinitae. Innumerab[il]es etiam afrae aves agrestes, quae nostras cicures et domesticas duplo magnitudine exsuperant. Sunt etiam merulae et turdi minutaeque aviculae multae variaeque, quarum aliae rubrae, caeruleae aliae, etc. Hyems abundat cygnis, anseribus, gruibus, ardeis, anatibus, kirtheis, glauceis, psittacis, aliisque compluribus nostro orbi ignotis. Mala limonia et mala cotonea fert optima. Armenia item tanta sunt ubertate ut vir honestus ac fide dignus constanter affirmaverit se ultimo anno 100 modios porcis projecisse. De lupinis praestantissimis, fabis et radicibus aliisque ejusmodi quid dicam? cum etiam pisa illis in locis 10 diebus ad 14 digitos exerescant. Regio frumenti adeo ferax est ut in maxima sterilitate bis centuplo semen reddat; alias et plerumque, pro uno granulo 500 aut 600, melioribus annis 1500 vel 1600; et haec quidem una duntaxat messe, cum ternas per annum fertilitas soli suppeditet. Verisimile est omnibus Italiae fructibus solum idoneum fore, ficibus, pomis granatis, aureis, olivis, etc., ut brevi perstringam. Non desunt quae fullonibus et apothecariis usui esse possunt. Nec stanni, ferri, cannabis, lini copia desideratur; spes etiam auri inveniendi; nam finitimi ex auro sed nondum facto armillas gestant, ac margaritarum longas catenas. Multa etiam alia commoda atque divitiae sperari poterunt, quae sagax hominum industria et longus usus inveniet.

Gregory Panzani, from London, to Cardinal Francis Barberini, Secretary of State, Rome. On John Leuger, converted minister; on a certain temporizing policy of the same, approved apparently by Panzani.—See History, I. § 42, pp. 359, 360.

Di Londra dal Sig.<sup>ro</sup> Gregorio Panzani, li xi di luglio 1635—Decifrato li 6 agosto.

Ho tanto operato con questi secolari, che credo, che due di quelli giovani convertiti nuovamente, delli quali scrissi con le passate a V. Em<sup>ta</sup>, andaranno in Lisbona in quel collegio. Per quell'altro m'ingegnerò di trovar qualche recapito, sì come anche raccomandai al P<sup>re</sup> Filippo Gio. Leuger ministro molto dotto, convertito ultimamente, il quale ha fatto molte dispute contro questi ministri; et essendo venuto da me l'accolsi con straordinario affetto, promettendo di fare per lui tutto quello che potessi, e rimase soddisfatto, siccome ho saputo da molti. Questo va anche vestito da ministro, sì perchè detta veste non è tenuta distintiva, per esser comune anche alli scolari, sì perchè egli si va trattenendo così per non perdere le sue entrate finchè non trova qualche altra cosa. Il Vescovo di Londra e l'Arcivescovo di Cantuaria sanno che è convertito, nondimeno fingono di non saperlo, e lo tollerano. Veramente ognuno mi dice, che bisognerebbe pensare a qualche assegnamento per queste persone, perchè mi viene supposto, che molti si convertirebbero se avessero con che vivere, perdendo il beneficio; anzi questa è una delle strade per arrivare all' unione; perchè questi, prima di dichiararsi scopertamente cattolici, potrebbero nelle prediche disporre il popolo. Rimetto questo negotio alli piedi di S. S<sup>ta</sup> e di V. E.

Ho avuto adesso nuova, che si è trovato padrone anche per l'altro giovane, del quale scrissi. Gli ho dato un poco di elemosina per rivestirsi.

Il Barone Balcimò ha una popolatione, noi diciamo un feudo, nelle Indie Occidentali; e perchè per istruire quei popoli nella religione cattolica vi ha mandati alcuni giesuiti e procura mandarvi solamente giesuiti, si dubita, che il Cantuariense non gli tolga detta popolatione dubitando, che non vi si annidino di tal maniera li giesuiti, che possono pregiudicare allo Stato. È però favorito assai del Cottintone onde egli ancora sta molto pauroso.

Il Barone Balcimor tutto per li giesuiti, trovandosi in afflitione, dubitando di perdere il feudo d'India, si vorrebbe guadagnare il Re. Indi, aiutato dalli giesuiti per quanto si crede, ha composto l'acclusa formula del giuramento, e la vuole esibire; e prima l'ha voluta mostrare ad un prete secolare, forse acciò anche li secolari l'approvino. Mi è stata portata, et io ho detto che per mio gusto la leggerò, che del resto io non mi posso ingerire in questo negotio, et ho detto che ogn'uno havrà caro, che li cattolici nelle cose lecite, salva la religione, diano soddisfazione al Re. Il sacerdote che me l'ha portata non l'approva troppo, et esso vuol dire, che si veda di cassare totalmente il nome del Papa. Iddio dia buon esito a questo negotiato.

Sto nondimeno cercando occasione d'abboccarmi seco [Tobia Mattei] per spingerlo destramente con le cautele avvisatemi da V. Em.<sup>za</sup> a proporre una nuova formula di giuramento, se bene credo, che egli habbia le mani in quella che propone il Barone Balcimor, come ho detto con le passate. In ogni caso è difficile parlar ad alcuno fin' al mese di ottobre, perchè adesso Londra è deserta, et ognuno è in villa.

Ho saputo, che il detto Barone, quando mostrò detta formula a quel sacerdote secolare gli ordinò che la mostrasse a me; ma quello sapendo ciò che io havevo detto a lui, et ad altri, gli rispose che io non mi volevo intrigar in detto negotio in modo alcuno. Ma nondimeno me la fece vedere nascostamente. Mi vien confermato che vi habbino parte li giesuiti, li quali pretendono voler sfuggire di giurare contro l'autorità del Papa, che non possa scomunicare e privare del Regno; ma solo che, chi vuol giurare, giuri che non ostante dette scomuniche e privationi saranno fedeli al Re. Di nuovo ho destramente esortato quel sacerdote a procurare per quanto può, che non si nomini il Papa nella nuova formula.

E' stato da me il P. Provinciale dei giesuiti. . . . Io allora entrai nella nuova formula dicendo ex me, che se si potesse dar sodisfattione al Re con una formula, che non repugnasse alla nostra religione, dovrebbe qualche cattolico più favorito procurare di proporlo; che io in quanto a me havrei sempre creduto che la Sede Apostolica havrebbe gusto, che si potessi con buona reputazione sua aggiustare questo negotio, protestandomi però di dire il tutto ex me. Panzani asked the Provincial to have a learned Jesuit draw up a formula of oath. Anzi egli mi disse che sapeva, ch'un Barone, cioè il Baltimor, haveva per le mani una formula da proporre, che non credeva piacerebbe a Roma. Io non confessando d'haverla mandata a V. Em<sup>a</sup> li dissi che se egli giudicava che non dovesse piacer a Roma, bisognava trattenerlo, et intanto far una buona formula, e pregarlo che dovesse esibirla; perchè se il Re vedrà che li cattolici non vogliono accettar una formula esibita da un cattolico, che crederà egli esser stata composta con maturità, tanto più s'inasprirà contro cattolici, e potrebbe muovere qualche persecutione. Gli entrò questo punto e promise applicarci. Io però mi protestai di non dar, nè di voler, giudizio alcuno di detta formula, dichiarando non esser mio mestiere d'entrar in materie teologiche.

THE CASES.

In a Country (as this is) newly planted, and depending wholly upon England for its subsistence, where there is not (nor cannot be, untill England be reunited to the Church) any Ecclesiasticall discipline established (by law of the province, or graunt of the prynce), nor provinciall Synods held, nor spirituall Courts erected, nor the Cannon law accepted, nor ordinary, or other Ecclesiasticall persons admitted (as such), nor Catholick religion publickely allowed; and whereof thrce partes of the people in foure (at least) are heretickes, I desire to be resolved—

1. Whether a lay Catholick can with a safe conscience take charge, or government, or of an office in such a country as this, where he may not nor dare discharge all the duties, and obligations of a Catholick magistrate, nor yeald and mayntayne to the Church all her rights and libertyes, which shee hath in other Catholick countryes?

2. Whether the lay Catholickes (in such a Country as this) are bound to accept, or admitt of all the Canon law, and in speciall of the Councill of Trent (extra fidem) or whether the Canon law (as such) binds in this Country afore it be accepted by some law, or custome?

3. Whether the exemptions of the Clergy for theyr persons, lands, goods, tenaunts, domestiques, or priviledg of Sanctuary to theyr houses, or churches, etc., are due to them of Divine right by immediate grant from Christ to his Church, so that princes becomming Christians were instantly obliged in conscience to allow, and confirme those exemptions, or at least to permit, and suffer the Church to practise, and enjoy them; or whether they hould them of the free, and voluntary guift, and devotion of pious princes, and states, so that in a Country newly erected, or becomming Christian, a graunt, or Charter from the prynce thereof of such libertyes, and exemptions is necessary, before the Clergy of such a Country can clayme them, as theyr right and due in point of conscience; and whether before such a graunt, admittance, or allowance of theyr priviledges, may the state practise contrary to them, without sacriledge or incurring the censures of Bullae Coenae?

4. Whether houlding of Courts with externall coercitive jurisdiction be a part of the powers of the Keys left by Christ to his Church, or whether it be a part of the sword put by God into the hands of princes, and from them graunted unto spirituall ordinaryes: and when Ecclesiasticall Tribunalls are here to be erected with such power of externall coercitive Jurisdiction, may the prynce erect them by his own Charter, or must it be done by speciall commission and delegation of the Sea Apostolique?

5. Whether the conusance of causes testamentary belong to the spirituall Court out of the nature of the causes themselves, and of the Churches proper right, so that Christian prynces had no rightfull power to heare and determine them, or whether princes becomming Christians did of theyr voluntary election sever theyr causes from theyr crown, and commit them to the spirituall ordinaryes, in consideration of some connexion and dependance which those causes have with some part of Christian doctrine, which must be sought from the mouth of the priest, or in presumption of theyr faithfulness in discharging of theyr trusts?

6. Whether, in such a Country as this, may lay Judges being Catholique by commission from the Lord Proprietary, or appointment of the law of the Country, prove wills, and commit Administrations of the goods of the deceased intestate, or whether they must have an intention to doe it as delegated of the Sea Apostolique, and are obliged to endeavour with effect to procure such delegation, or else incurre the censures of the Bulla Coenae?

7. Whether, in such a Country as this, may a Catholique Commissary refuse to prove, and record a will for this reason, because it giveth Legacyes for masses to be said for the soule of the deceased, and conteynes in it the profession of the Testator to dye a member of the Romane Catholick Church, out of which there is no salvation, with other passages contrary to the Religion of England, or whether is he bound to prove it, though the Lord Proprietor may incurr danger for such a record?

8. Whether Catholicks being members of the Generall Assembly in such a Country as this may consent to the making of lawes touching causes testamentary, and namely to a law, which shall appoint the residue of the estate of the deceased persons, after all debts discharged and legacyes paid, to be employed to publick uses of the State, and not to pious uses, as it is in other Catholique countryes?

9. Whether Catholiques, being members of the Generall Assembly in such a Country as this, may consent to a law prohibiting the bequeathing or otherwise aliening of any lay fee to spirituall persons, or religious houses, without leave of the prynce, and voiding all gifts, and alienations made otherwise?

10. Whether a Catholique Executor, or Administrator in such a Country as this, may observe the order of administring the goods of the deceased used, and prescribed in England (viz<sup>t</sup> To discharge first the debts due to the prynce, then executions, then judgements, then recognizances, then bonds, etc.); or whether is he bound to observe Ordinem Restitutionis, delivered by Casuists (as Bonacina, and others) viz<sup>t</sup> To discharge first the debts due to spirituall persons, and after lay debts in order as afore. And whether a Catholique may refuse such an illegall attempt, and compell the Executor, and Administrator to satisfye Creditors, according to the law of England?

11. Whether may Catholiques, being members in a Generall Assembly in such a Country as this, consent to any lawes touching causes matrimoniall, as to appoint the publishing of bands (for politique considerations) and to prohibite mariage without such bands published, or licence obteyned from the Commissary being lay, or to limitt the degrees of consanguinity, within which mariage shall not be contracted, or for the triall and determinings of causes of alimony, dower, contracts of spousall, divorce, etc.; or whether may a Catholique being lay, under the prynce, seale, graunt licences of mariage, and by commission from the prynce try, and determine such causes according to the law of the country, or in defect thereof according to the common law, without the incurring the censures of Bulla Coenae?

12. Whether may Catholicks, being members of the Generall Assembly in such a Country as this, consent to a law prohibiting the mariage of Apprentises without consent or leave of theyr master and mistresse, and imposing penalties uppon the priest or minister solemnizing such mariage; and whether such a law be against the liberty of mariage?

13. Whether may Catholiques, being members of the Generall Assembly in such a Country as this, consent to a law which for politique considerations barrs the female from inheriting, or houlding of Lands, unlesse they marry within a tyme limited (only leaving them at liberty, to sell or dispose thereof to theyr best advantage), and whether such a law is against conscience?

14. Whether Land graunted by the Lord Proprietor to Religious persons by the ordinary, and common conditions of plantations doth eo ipso (because it is graunted to Religious persons) become spirituall fee, and exempt from laica onera?

15. If a trespasse be pretended to be committed upon the Lands held by Religious persons, whether may the Religious without trying the trespasse in some court (spirituall or temporall) proceede against the pretended trespasser, by putting in force against him the censures of Bulla Coenae? And whether by such declaration the party be really and to all spirituall effects involved in the censures afore he be adjudged a trespasser upon theyr land in some Court?

16. When grauntes of lands, made by the prynce to severall persons lay and religious, are found prejudiciall to the publick, and fit to be reformed, whether may Catholicks being members of the Generall Assembly, in such a Country as this, consent to a law reforming all such graunts? And whether may such a generall law include the graunts made to the Religious; and whether may the prynce by vertue of such a law resume, or reforme such graunts made to them afore, or without a voluntary surrender, or resignation of them by the Religious?

17. Whether, in such a Country as this, may the prynce or secular Judge being Catholique sommon Ecclesiasticall persons to the Generall Assembly, or draw them into secular Court, where they are defendants in actions of debt, accoumpt, trespassse, and other personall, and reall actions, and may he give sentence therein as lawfull Judge and execute it upon theyr persons, lands, or goods, without incurring the censures of Bulla Coenae?

18. Whether, in such a Country as this, may the secular Judge being Catholick proceed to the tryall and punishment of Clerkes being in orders for any offences against the peace, and dignity of the Lord Proprietour, or for capitall cryme extending to the losse of life, or member, without the incurring of Bulla Coenae?

19. Whether, in such a Country as this, may Catholiques being members of the Generall Assembly consent to lawes imposing generall contributions towards publike charges for the necessary support of the prynce, or defence of the Country, and whether are spirituall persons, theyr lands, or goods included within such lawes (for want of exception)? And whether may the secular Judge being Catholique award writts for levying of such impositions, upon the lands or goods of spirituall persons, or religious houses (without speciall and expresse licence from the Sea Apostolique); or may he accept or receive such imposition from spirituall persons of theyr own voluntary offer without incurring the censures of Bulla Coenae?

20. Whether the Representative body, mett in Generall Assembly, may make lawes to dispose of the Interest and Rights of particular persons, as namely of Clergy men, not being present, nor having proxies in such Parliament, or Assembly (though lawfully summoned thereunto), nor otherwise holding synods provincially, wherein theyr consents to such lawes might be expected; and whether are such lawes against conscience?

EXTRACTS OUT OF MR. LEWGER'S DIARY AND LETTERS TO THE LORD BALTEMORE.

The Governor and I went to the good men to consult divers difficulties that wee had.

1. One about the publishing of the Conditions of Plantation by Governor with that Article, wherein all grants already passed were charged with the Statute of Mortmain. To this the Governor found a solution by interpreting the Article not to comprehend grants already made or due by former Conditions, but that no man should have benefit by theis new Conditions, unless hee would putt all his land, both that already granted, and that to be granted, &c. under that condition of not alyening it, &c. And this being not found to bee an ordination or edict commanding or obligeing anie one, but a meer proposition left to mans liberty, was resolved by the Goodmen, not to be comprehended in Bullae Coenae, nor to incurr anie excommunication in the publishers, &c.

2. Another, though not excommunication, yet whither it incurred not mortall sinn to bee the active instrument of publishing, negotiating, and effecting of such a proposition or contract, as conteyned obligations against piety and good manners, and was mortall sinn in both parties that proffered and that accepted the contract. And this they resolved, that it seemed so for the present, but they would take time to consider better of it, ere they resolved it peremptorily.

3. The oath upon the instructions to bee tendred to all such as were to take land, &c., was resolved to bee evidently against conscience, and to incurr excommunication Bullae Coenae to publish it, or administer it, or record anie such oath, or anie otherway to bee seconding or assisting to it.

Here the hand changes: There is a new question rising about the 5th Article of the new Conditions of Plantation: That no Society spirituall, &c., shalbe capeable of the Conditions, which sounds like an ordination or provision. And, if it be found so, the Conditions, I beleieve, wilbe stopt from publishing or executing, and no body will dare to concurr to the giving them any life or being, for feare of excommunication Bullae Coenae.

Caeterum ex Anglia nihil momenti alicujus accepi. And that, considering the dependencie which the Government of Maryland hath upon the State of England, unto which it must be (as neere as may bee) conformable, no ecclesiasticall person whatsoever, inhabiting or being within the said Province, ought to pretend or expect, nor is the Lord Baltimore or any of his officers (although they bee Roman Catholiques) obliged in conscience to allow unto the said ecclesiasticall persons, inhabiting or being within the said Province, any more or other priviledges, exemptions or immunityes for their persons, lands or goods within the said Province, then what is allowed by his Majestie or any of his officers or magistrates to the like persons in England: and that any magistrate or officer of him the said Lord Baltemore or his heires, lords and proprietaries of the said Province, maye proceed against any such ecclesiasticall person as aforesaid, that is to saye, againste his person, lands & goods within the said Province, for the doing of right and justice to any other person, or for the mainteyning & preservation of all the rights, prerogatives and jurisdictions granted to the said Lord Baltemore & his heires within and over the said Province & people, inhabiting and being therein, by his Majesties gracious letters pattents under the great seale of England, as well as in the like cases the said officers maye doe against the person, lands or goods of any lay person, inhabiting or being within the said Province, without committing any sinne or incurring the censure of Bulla Coenae for soe doing.

4. That all causes testamentarie, probate of wills, granting of letters of administration, &c., and granting of licences for marriage (where banes are not asked) and also all other mixt causes, which in other countries bel[ong] unto ecclesiasticall courts to heare, determine & punish, as adulterie, fornication, &c., untill some ecclesiasticall court be established within the said Province with the Lord Baltemores consent, may be heard, determined & punished within the Province of Maryland by such officer or officers (although they be Roman Catholiques) as shall be authorized thereunto by the said Lord Baltemore or his heires, lords & proprietaries of the said Province, or by Act of General Assemblie made or to be made within the same, with the assent of the said Lord Baltemore or his heires; and the said officer or officers may doe and execute or cause to be done & executed all things that shall be necessarie or requisite in the said causes or things, for the better government of the said Province, in as ample manner as any judge or judges of the Prerogative

Conclusion, submitting the issue to higher authority; which, if it approves of the Fathers' action in refusing to endorse Baltimore's Points, should also declare that other clergymen may not presume to do the contrary. Quaedam Notanda ad clariorem intelligentiam Punctorum ab Ill<sup>mo</sup> D<sup>no</sup> Barone Baltamor propositorum.

vulgo dicitur parlamento, tantum auctoritatis tribuit in singulorum bona, ut nullo adhibito temperamento doceat licere illi auferre, a quo libuerit, quicquid in hoc mundo habet aut habebit usque ad indusium, modo fiat in usum reipublicae. Haec exempli gratia sufficiant.

NOTANDUM 8<sup>o</sup> Parlamentum (cui tam omnipotens et illimitata potestas tribuitur, ut faciat fere quicquid libet) paucis admodum exceptis ex heterodoxis constare, iisque ut plurimum plebeiis hominibus, qui post praestitum dominis suis servitium per certos annos in colonia fiunt liberti, ac jure civitatis donantur; unde D. secretarius cum paucis aliis sibi fidis et adhaerentibus format illos ac fingit ducitque quo vult, eaque ratione praeoccupat suffragia, ut quod illi lubet id decernatur, et tanquam lex lata cui omnes submittere ac conformare se debent habeatur; qui suffragandi modus nemini bonae conscientiae probari potest.

NOTANDUM 9<sup>o</sup> Cum in Anglia plurimae sint leges expresse et sigillatim latae contra catholicos ob odium religionis et derogationem fidei ac jurisdictionis supremi pastoris Christi in terris Vicarii, ut compertissimum est, qua ratione licite poterunt catholici in Marilandia degentes submittere se actis parlamenti decernentis in Marilandia non obligari D<sup>nus</sup> Baronem in conscientia alia catholicis privilegia, immunitates aut exemptiones concedere quoad personas, terras aliaque bona, quam ipsis conceduntur per leges in Anglia? Imo eos, qui pariformiter processum juridicum contra illos instituent, nec peccatum aliquod propterea contrahere nec censuram ullam incurrere, quamvis sint Romano-catholici.

NOTANDUM 10<sup>o</sup> Patres Societatis missionarios, si forte graviter delinquent (quod Deus avertat), puniri debere a suis superioribus, nec potestati saeculari subdi; neque posse huic exemptioni absque gravi peccato renunciare. Cumque bona quorum possessionem adeunt mox induant naturam bonorum ecclesiasticorum, videntur quoque non posse ea dimittere sine injuria ecclesiae.

Quibus omnibus mature expensis, patres Societatis, etsi reipsa paratissimi sint quaevis gravamina patienter sustinere, nitanturque christiana humilitate ac fortitudine vincere in bono malum, ut ipsi Ill<sup>mo</sup> D<sup>no</sup> Baroni non semel professi sunt, parum tamen aequum censent usque urgeri ad ea sua subscriptione firmanda, quae non solum iniqua ac sibi injuria sed supremi quoque pastoris dignitati et auctoritati, ac universim ecclesiasticae immunitati plane adversa existimant. Quod si, his omnibus non obstantibus, viri prudentes ac indifferentes, et praesertim supremus omnium atque in causa ecclesiasticae immunitatis proprius judex Summus Pontifex, arbitrantur patres Societatis licite et tuta conscientia posse iis subscribere, quae Ill<sup>mus</sup> D<sup>mus</sup> Baro ab iis exigit, facient id perlibenter: si vero iniqua judicabunt, quae Ill<sup>mus</sup> Baro postulat, patresque Societatis recte fecisse quod sua subscriptione ea firmare ac probare recusarint, hoc ipsum declarari humillime rogant, neque ullis etiam aliis id licere; ut ea ratione tam Ill<sup>mo</sup> Baroni quam aliis quibuscumque manifesto

Caeterum in hac D<sup>ni</sup> vinea excolenda soli hactenus laborarunt missionarii Societatis, et quae Dei est gratia fructum aliquem tulerunt, majoremque in dies sperant, praesertim inter infideles, ejus nixi auxilio cujus adjutores sunt, quique aliis plantantibus et rigantibus solus dat incrementum. Duo patres inter labores obierunt, duo item coadjutores; supersunt adhuc in Marilandia tres patres, ad quos alii tres hoc anno destinandi erant, sed Ill<sup>mus</sup> Baro unum duntaxat permisit, eumque aegre admodum proficisci. Aspiret bonus Jesus, et ea consilia Ill<sup>mo</sup> D<sup>no</sup> Baroni suggerat, quae divinae gloriae et fidei dilatandae maxime profutura sunt. Quacunque tandem ratione id fiet, voto suo Societatis fruetur.

No. 17.

1641, August 26; November 28.

Case of conscience on the Indian lands. Submitted to Dr. Francis Silvius at Doway, and answered by him. An abstract in English from the Latin original.—See History, I. § 72, pp. 570-573.

THE CASE.

Summary of the Maryland Charter, relative to the Case. (Cf. paragraphs I.-V., XVIII., Bacon's English translation: J. T. Scharf, History of Maryland, i. 53, 54, 58. Cf. the original Latin of the Patent Roll, 8 Charles I., Part iii., No. 2594: Archives of Maryland, Proceedings of the Council, 1636-1667, pp. 3-5, 10, 11.) The summary emphasizes the words: omne solum, omnes agros, sylvas, montes, paludes, etc., "all the soil, all fields, woods, mountains, marshes, etc.," as granted by the King to the proprietary "Nicholas." The summary also introduces into the conditions of purchase the term habilitando, "qualifying" subjects to accept of Nicholas, according as Nicholas shall choose to offer.

FOUR QUERIES.—(Cf. History, I. § 72, Appendix B; translation of the Westminster fragment, where the Four Queries may be inferred from the Answer of Silvius.)

i. Can no one else but Nicholas be absolute and true lord and proprietary, in partibus nondum habitatis aut occupatis per barbaros subditos Regis N. nullus possit, etc., "in the parts not yet inhabited or occupied by the barbarians, subjects of King N." Here Silvius considers that subditos is a clerical slip for subditus.

ii. In the parts still owned by barbarians, can these latter give, grant, or sell to any one, except to Nicholas and those empowered by him?

iii. If the barbarians give, grant, or sell any part of their lands to a subject of King N., does the said Nicholas thereby acquire a right to that land so alienated; not only the right of high domain, but of direct and immediate possession; so that no right or proprietorship accrues to the donee of the Indians except by virtue of a new grant from Nicholas to the said donee, sive laicus ille sit sive clericus, "whether he be a layman or a cleric"?

iv. In case a donation, grant, sale, has been made by the barbarians to a subject of King N., whether he was qualified or not to that effect by Nicholas, is not Nicholas bound, saltem in conscientia, "at least in conscience," to ratify the said donation, etc.; or can he dispose of the gift, purchase, etc., to another, or to any other uses, sive subditus ille Regis N. fuerit laicus sive clericus; et sive usus ad quos barbari cesserunt, donarunt, vendiderunt, sint pii, sive sint prophani: "whether that (donee) subject of King N. were a layman or a cleric; and whether the purposes for which the barbarians made the grant, gift, or sale, were pious or profane"?

THREE REASONS FOR THE UNCERTAINTY.—(Cf. History, I. § 72, Appendix B, pp. 572, 573, Westminster fragment, where the substance of these Three Reasons may be inferred from Answer, ad fin.)

i. The words of the royal grant seem to make Nicholas sole lord and proprietary, for his own sole use and behoof; and consequently nobody else can be true lord and proprietary, if a subject of King N. Et nisi verba concessionis ita accipiantur, saltem quoad partes nondum habitatas aut occupatas a barbaris, parum aut nihil videbitur Rex concessisse; prae-sertim cum concessio sit remuneratoria, ut aliunde constat,—“If the words of the grant be not taken in this sense, at least with respect to parts not yet occupied or inhabited by barbarians, the King's grant would seem to come to little or nothing; especially seeing that it was in remuneration for services, as other circumstances [not the words of the Charter] prove.” (Cf. infra, No. 22, 1°)

ii. As the King N., by the right of discovery or occupation, claims to exclude other princes from the land occupied, so he can, if he wishes, admit or exclude any of his subjects from the right of ownership in the said country, fixing conditions, enabling or disabling them to possess. In point of fact, that he did so is to be inferred from this, habilitando dictum Nicolaum solum ad tenendum sibi soli, et consequenter inhabilitando alios quoscunque, nisi ex illius concessionem, “qualifying the said Nicholas alone to hold for himself, and therefore disqualifying every one else, except under grant from Nicholas.”

iii. If this exclusive right is granted with reference to lands not yet inhabited or occupied by the barbarians, an argument may thence be drawn in the same sense with reference to the other parts of the same country, those possessed by the barbarians ; viz. that they can alienate, if they like, but not to the benefit of any grantee or donee other than Nicholas ; quia alii subditi praeter dictum Nicolaum vi concessionis regiae exclusi sunt, et quasi facti inhabiles ad possidendum, et consequenter ad acceptandum, nisi dependenter a concessione dicti Nicolai, et quasi ipsius nomine, "because other subjects besides the said Nicholas are excluded by virtue of the royal grant, and, as it were, disenabled to possess, and consequently to accept, save in dependance on a grant from Nicholas, and, as it were, in his name."

iii. (a). Confirmation of this latter argument. The first adventurers would seem to have understood matters so ; since they stipulated with Nicholas for a certain proportion of land to be granted by him to them, on the fulfilment of certain conditions, and not otherwise ; sive illa terra deveniret ad ipsos per primam occupationem, "whether (without determining whether?) that land came to them by right of first taking it up," or by grant or sale (from whom?), whether it was much or little that was so made over to them ; refundebat enim dictus Nicolaus pretium si quod dedissent coloni, et tum eam distribuebat juxta pacta, "for the said Nicholas made good their outlay, if they had paid anything, and then distributed the land according to the agreement." (We know of no facts to support this statement, except that on first landing thirty square miles of land were bought from the Indians in the name of the colony, and then the distribution took place within those limits. See supra, 8, A, Relatio Itineris, p. 104.)

iii. (b). Confirmation again of the same argument. The case of Clayborne and others, whom Nicholas ousted from property already occupied and bought by them from the Indians a year before Nicholas received his patent ; the latter driving them out by force, and condemning rebellum praecipuos, "the chief of the rebels," to death ; and yet the Privy Council, on appeal, decided in favour of Nicholas.<sup>3</sup> This shows the mind of King N. on the subject of Nicholas' rights, that he alone can make grants of land ; nihilque intra dictos limites a barbaris ipsis transferri posse in quenquam alium, sive laicus ille sit sive clericus, ita ut firmum illi sit, sine nova concessione a dicto Nicolao proveniente, "so that nothing can be made over within the said limits by the barbarians themselves to anybody else, whether he be a layman or a cleric, unless the said Nicholas issue a new grant."

A fortiori, if the purchaser or donee in question be a person who came over under the patronage of Nicholas, whatever he acquires, under any title whatsoever, goes only to the account of Nicholas, as his absolute property in conscience ; nam post translationem factam a barbaris tam propria erit terra illa vel regio dicti Nicolai, quam haereditas quaevis per parentes ad

<sup>3</sup> Cf. Archives of Maryland, Proceedings of the Assembly, 1638-1664, p. 42, "An Act for Trade with the Indians," proposed in February-March, 1639 ; where a narration of this Privy Council decision (April 4, 1638) is, in a preamble, made the ground for withdrawing or withholding from the colonists the right of trading with the Indians ; just as here it is made the basis for a denial of their right to accept lands from the Indians. It is observable how the charter for Maryland is not found by Lord Baltimore to lend itself for direct quotation in support of his pretensions.—Cf. History, I. § 54, p. 454.

ipsum devoluta, cujus partem nequidem ecclesiae dare quivis potest, ipso non dante, “for, after the conveyance made by the barbarians, that land or country will be as strictly Nicholas’ own property as any inheritance descending to him from his parents; no part of which can anybody, except himself, give even to the Church.”

ON THE CONTRARY: TWO ARGUMENTS AGAINST SUCH A RIGHT IN NICHOLAS.
—(This slight presentation is not alluded to in the Westminster fragment.)

i. It seems absurd, if the barbarians are true owners, that they cannot give what they own to any one they like, not even to a subject of the said King N., to a Catholic, layman or cleric; but, if they do make a conveyance, by that very fact everything goes into the hands of the said Nicholas, the moment the act is executed; and that, no matter what the purposes be for which the owners make the transfer.

i. (a) Confirmation of this argument. If this be so, many donations or grants of the Indians may now be recalled by them and quashed, on the ground that they never did and never would alienate their property, except for purposes determined by themselves; praesertim si pietate moti ad fines pios aliquid dederint, daturive sint, et videant postea ad tales fines non applicari, “especially if, moved by sentiments of piety, they have given or shall give anything for pious objects, and see afterwards that it is not applied to such objects.”

ii. Supposing that to be true which Nicholas contends for, at least the said contention will not hold as against God and the Church; and, if under this title the barbarians gave or shall give anything, Nicholas would seem to be bound in conscience to ratify such a grant, or its equivalent, on behalf of the Church. For, let it be that a subject of the King, inasmuch as a subject, is said to be disenabled to accept validly in his own name, still he does not appear to be disenabled to accept in the name of the Church and of God; then he can and ought to accept, lest the pious intention of the donors come to nought.

[iii. (There is no word in the Case of the actual issue, that of the donors, the Indians, conveying land to the Church, for the service of the donors themselves; not as Church property for the service of the King’s subjects, but as sacred property for the benefit of the Indian proprietors.)]

ANSWERS TO THE FOUR QUERIES (all in favour of Nicholas).

i. Every subject of the King, becoming a member of the colony, submits thereby to the laws of the plantation. And the King can inhabitate him from accepting anything.

ii. The barbarian proprietors have all rights inherent in them to give as owners; but a member of the plantation cannot receive, because disqualified.

iii. Hence, if land is ceded by the barbarian owners to any such subject the latter does not acquire any true and absolute right therein, except in virtue of a licence to be had from Nicholas.

iv. If such a conveyance is made to one antecedently qualified by Nicholas for such a transaction, Nicholas is bound in conscience to ratify a donation of the kind. Si autem barbari donent, etc., subdito Regis N. non assignato a praedicto Nicolao, etc., sive subditus fuerit laicus vel clericus, et sive usus ad quos barbari cesserunt, etc., sint pii sive prophani,—“But, if the barbarians make such a conveyance to a subject not deputed by Nicholas, etc., whether the said subject be layman or cleric, and whether the purposes for which the barbarians made the grant, etc., be sacred or profane,” then Nicholas is not bound in conscience to ratify the said donation of the barbarians, nor to apply such part to those uses, for which the barbarians made the grant; quia cum praedictus recipiens non fuerit habilitatus a praedicto Nicolao ad talem partem recipiendam, ejus receptio in nullo potest praejudicare praedicto Nicolao, “because, since the recipient was not qualified by Nicholas to receive such a part, its reception cannot prejudice the said Nicholas.”

(There is no word here about its lapsing to the donors in such a case, or rather remaining in the hands of the owners, according to the natural law.)

ANSWERS TO THE REASONS ADVANCED TO THE CONTRARY.

i. It is not said, there is a want of capacity in the barbarians to give, but that there is such in the colonists to receive. And it is no grievance that colonists obey the King and the laws of the plantation.

i. (a) There is no reason to doubt of the prudence and piety of the said Nicholas, but that he will always do what he shall see to be best for the spiritual and temporal good of his colony.

ii. By the practice of the Christian world, and by ancient laws (Statutes of Mortmain?) of the kingdom N., donations made to God and the Church are often found not to be valid, when they tend to damage the State; and it is not to be supposed that it is the intention of God and the Church to accept anything, if it will prejudice the State.

[iii. (No answer to the actual issue, which is not presented in the Case.)]

(Finis.)

SOLUTION BY SILVIUS.

“The royal donation or grant, as above propounded, with the Queries thereupon having been maturely considered, and seriously confronted with the reasons advanced on one side and on the other:

“THE FIRST QUERY IS ANSWERED THUS:” Nicholas is lord and proprietary of all that region and soil, in the parts not yet inhabited nor occupied by the barbarians, so that no subject of King N., except himself, his heirs and assigns, can be lord and proprietor of the said land or any part of it so discovered, and not yet possessed or occupied by barbarians, unless Nicholas himself wills it and consents. His rights proved from Lib. II. Institut., tit. i.; from St. Thomas, Summa Theologica, 2<sup>da</sup> 2<sup>da</sup>, qu. 66, art. 5, ad 2; from Francis a Victoria, Relect. 5 de Indis, § 2. His right as exclusive of all other subjects proved from the nature of true ownership; and developed. (See History, I. Appendix B, p. 570; from the Westminster MS.)

THE SECOND QUERY ANSWERED: The barbarians are true owners of the parts occupied by them; and can give thereof to whomsoever they like. As to any incapacity on the part of King N.'s subjects, there is nothing in King N.'s charter to that effect, disabling his subjects to accept; nor is the King capable of passing any decree on the subject of the property belonging to the barbarians, nor of how they may dispose thereof; and he enabling Nicholas to possess land hitherto unoccupied and unowned, and enabling others to accept from Nicholas what belongs to the latter, does not thereby disenable them to accept from the barbarians what belongs to the barbarians and neither to the King nor to Nicholas. (See History, I. Appendix B, pp. 570–572.)

THE THIRD QUERY ANSWERED: Nicholas has no ground of right for interposing in any transaction between the barbarian proprietors and the King's other subjects. (See History, I. Appendix B, p. 572.)

THE FOURTH QUERY ANSWERED: Nicholas is bound in conscience to respect and ratify any grant, donation, or sale, made by the barbarian proprietors to any other subject of the King, whether an assign of Nicholas or not; and he cannot expropriate what has been so conveyed. All pretexts for interference are excluded. (See History, I. Appendix B, p. 572.)

ANSWERS TO THE THREE REASONS FOR UNCERTAINTY.

i. The terms of Nicholas' charter relate to lands uninhabited, that are acquired by the right of discovery. To other lands the King has nothing to say.

ii. The same answer meets the second doubt.

iii. No argument can be drawn from the right acquired over land by discovery to the absence of all right over land not acquired, but belonging to other proprietors.

iii. (a), (b). Nor does it matter what the first adventurers may have thought; nor what the King himself may have been induced to say. (See History, I. Appendix B, pp. 572, 573.)

(Here ends the Westminster MS. duly dated and signed, apparently autograph by the author. The published Case continues—)

In fine, as to the plea that the charter was granted to Nicholas in remuneration for services, it does not appear in the statement of the Case that such was the fact, or to what extent the plea is valid. Besides, granted that the charter was in remuneration, it is a great reward indeed to have been made sole proprietary of the whole region heretofore uninhabited, so that no other subject of the King can acquire any portion of land there save as dependently on the grantee.

Appendix B, p. 573).—Published in Resolutiones Variæ in alphabetico ordine digestæ, by Franciscus Silvius, ii. 66-77, double column quarto, s.v. Donatio; dated, as above, "26 August, 1641." As this volume of his Resolutiones is three years later than the rendering of his solution, the difference of dates, notwithstanding the formula used, may be owing to the time of presentation having become confused, in the author's papers, with the time noted for his own solution of the Case.*

Provincialis Societatis Jesu in Anglia humillime exponit Em<sup>ae</sup> V<sup>ae</sup>, sub mense junii anni 1632 regem Angliæ concessisse Ill<sup>mo</sup> domino Baroni Baltamor catholico in proprietatem provinciam quandam in ora maritima Americae septentrionalis sitam, atque ab infidelibus inhabitatam, quam hodie a nomine reginae regnantis terram Mariae seu Marilandiam appellant. Egit statim dictus Baro cum P. Richardo Blondo tunc temporis Provinciali, addiditque litteras ad P. Generalem enixe rogans uti habere posset selectos aliquot patres tum ad catholicos confirmandos, tum ad haereticos convertendos, qui ad eam regionem incolendam destinandi erant, tum etiam ad fidem apud infideles et barbaros propagandam. Res haec nec leves nec paucas passa est difficultates; cum enim colonia in Marilandiam deducenda longe maxima ex parte haeretica esset, ipsa etiam regio a meridie Virginiam, ab aquilone Novam Angliam haberet, hoc est duas provincias calvinistis et puritanis Anglis plenas, haud minora imo fortasse majora imminebant pericula patribus in alieno quam in proprio Angliæ solo; nec ipse dominus Baro adduci unquam potuit ut vel obolum daret ad patres sustentandos, quamvis hi nec ab haereticis a fide alienis nec a catholicis plerisque egentibus nec a barbaris more ferarum viventibus alimenta expectare possent.

Has aliasque difficultates superavit zelus dicti P. Provincialis, profectique sunt primo duo patres explorandi quasi causa si quid lucris spiritualis sperari posset, cumque regiones viderentur albae ad messem, exhibita fuit ante aliquot annos Em<sup>o</sup> cardinali Barberino protectori descriptio geographica illius provinciae, cum humillimis precibus ut patres eo profectos dignaretur non minus quam reliquos in Anglia sub patrocinium benignissimi protectoris recipere, ut res haec quam secretissime et sine offensione status Angliæ perageretur.

Patres vero posthaec et numero et animo aucti, per egestatem et inopiam, per frequentes morbos cum morte etiam nonnullorum conjunctos, per varia denique discrimina incubuerunt constanter in animarum salutem, didicerunt linguam barbaram ex variis dialectis compositam, dictionarium, grammaticam et catechismum in usum infidelium confecerunt, visumque est Divinae Bonitati ita his conatibus aspirare, ut praeter alios jam imperatorem quemdam, qui multos sub se reges habet, cum uxore, familia et aliquot consiliariis, ad fidem adduxerint, magnumque, nisi impediatur a domesticis fidei, ostium evangelii aperuerint.

Haec vero impedimenta et gravia et a quibus minime debuerunt orta sunt. Cum enim dictus Baro in persona adesse non posset ad regendam Marilandiam, pro se constituit dominum quemdam Leugar secretarium suum, olim praedicantem et ministrum, qui conversus ad fidem multum de fermento haerensis retinuit; ea quippe dogmata adhuc tuetur, quae catholicorum aures merito offendunt, cujusmodi sunt exempli gratia: nullam Summo Pontifici competere externam jurisdictionem a Deo, sed internam duntaxat in foro conscientiae; nullam illi aut aliis clericis immunitatem quoad bona aut personas deberi, nisi quam et quantam placebit principibus laicis et saecularibus illi vel illis dare; enorme crimen esse et poena mulctandum quamcumque jurisdictionem exercere etiam absolvendi a peccatis absque speciali licentia domini Baronis, a quo omnis legitima jurisdictio in alios derivari debet; virginem, si virginitatem voveat nec maritum accipiat, post vigesimum quintum aetatis suae annum non posse amplius retinere terras sibi ex haereditate parentum obvenientes, sed oportere illas vendere, ac si renuat ad id vi cogendam; in conventu generali seu parlamento tantum auctoritatis in singulorum bona inesse, ut illa auferre possit a quo libuerit usque ad indusium, modo fiat in usum reipublicae. Aliae sunt hujusmodi farinae Viginti Quaestionibus ab eodem domino Leugar propositis comprehensa,<sup>4</sup> quae huic Sacrae Congregationi per manus secretarii exhibita sunt.

Hic ergo secretarius, cum parlamentum in Marilandia ex haereticis, paucis admodum exceptis, conflatum convocasset, cui ipse nomine domini Baltimoris praefuit, conatus est sequentes leges ferre fidei catholicae et immunitati ecclesiasticae repugnantes; nempe, ne qua virgo haereditate potiat, nisi ante annum 25 nubat; ne quis ecclesiasticus apud alium conveniatur in causa civili aut criminali, nisi apud judicem saecularem; ne quis ecclesiasticus fruatur privilegio, nisi quod ex scriptura possit probari, neque ullum ecclesiae competere nisi ex dono principum; ne quis acceptare possit locum ecclesiae aut sepulturae, nedum fundum aliquem, a rege Indo etiam converso; ne quis egrediatur e provincia sine licentia laici magistratus etiam ad praedicandum infidelibus evangelium ex commissione Sedis Apostolicae; ne quis exerceat intra provinciam jurisdictionem quae non derivetur a Barone Baltimoro; et similia.

paratos pro fide et libertate ecclesiastica tuenda sanguinem fundere. Qua constantia vehementer commotus dictus secretarius certiore statim facit Baronem Baltimorem turbari jurisdictionem suam a patribus Societatis, nec cum eorum doctrina provinciae gubernationem consistere posse. Hinc offensus dictus Baro abalienavit animum a patribus Societatis; et primo ipso facto eripuit illis quasdam terras atque aliis elocavit, quasi earum dominus et proprietarius, quamvis easdem terras rex Patuxen in Marilandia tum catechumenus patribus donasset, cum expressa conditione alendi sacerdotes, qui populum ipsi subditum in vera Dei notitia, fide ac cultu instruere tenerentur. Deinde nactus quosdam dictus Baro sibi et opinionibus suis faventes, coepit animum applicare ad patres Societatis ex Marilandia exturbandos aliosque eorum loco introducendos, qui secretarii sui genio magis arriderent. Curavit igitur anno superiori supplicari Sacrae Congregationi de Propaganda Fide nomine catholicorum in Marilandia, ut praefecto et sacerdotibus ex clero saeculari facultates in eam missionem concederentur, tacitis interim laboribus patrum Societatis in illa messe susceptis, nec expressis causis quae ipsius animum moverunt ad novos sacerdotes substituendos.<sup>5</sup> Atque ut novam aliquam occasionem haberet ad patres Societatis inde avocandos proponenda curavit Provinciali Puncta quaedam, quae similiter huic Sacrae Congregationi per manus secretarii exhibita sunt, ut iis suo et patrum nomine qui in Marilandia sunt subscriberet. Sacra vero Congregatio de Propaganda Fide earum rerum penitus ignara petitioni annuit, et, sub mense augusti anni 1641, expeditae fuerunt facultates a Sacra Congregatione Sancti Officii atque ad D. Rossettum nunc archiepiscopum Tarsensem transmissae.

Quoniam vero nondum fortasse aut praefectus nominatus est, aut facultates traditae sunt, sed adhuc, uti speratur, in manibus P. Philippi confessoris reginae Angliae existant, dictus Provincialis humillime supplicat Em<sup>ae</sup> V<sup>ae</sup> uti dignetur ordinare, ut dictae facultates suspendantur et remittantur, si res adhuc integra sit; vel, si forte facultates traditae sint, retardetur tantisper novorum sacerdotum profectio, quoad Sedes Apostolica statuatur quid pro bono animarum agendum sit. Non recusant patres quominus alii operarii submitti possint; sed proponunt humiliter considerandum, an expediat amoveri eos qui primo in hanc vineam cum propriis expensis ingressi sunt, qui egestatem et aerumnas per septennium tolerant, qui quatuor ex suis usque ad mortem fideliter laborantes amiserunt, qui sanam doctrinam et immunitatem ecclesiae, cum invidia et damno suo temporali, defenderunt, qui regionis et linguae barbarae periti sunt; cujus penitus ignari existunt sacerdotes a Barone Baltimore submittendi, et eam doctrinam vel permittent tuebuntur, ex qua necesse est contentiones et scandala oriri, et scintillam illam fidei extinguere quae in pectoribus infidelium coepit accendi.

Equidem, ad praedicandum evangelium amplificandamque ecclesiam per infidelium potissimum conversionem, ostium magnum apertum jam est, quod obstruere conantur ii qui e societate mercatoria Virginiae Ill<sup>mo</sup> Baroni se opponunt, et coloniam e manibus et potestate catholicorum eripere magno molimine connituntur; sed nullo hactenus alio effectum quam quod per exactionem juramenti, vulgo fidelitatis nuncupati, perfectionem catholicorum in eam difficillimam reddidere quasi regi et statui Angliae periculosam. In comitiis vero quid impetraturi sint nondum certo constat. Atque hic est tam hujus coloniae quam missionis praesens status.

Unde fiet, ut inchoatam forte inter barbaros missionem abrumpere, suosque e colonia revocare cogatur tandem Societas, ne assensum praebet iis, quae salvo jure ecclesiae probare non potest. Most Rd. Father in God,

It is not unknowne to your Lordship how the Clergy hath been solicited heere about sending a mission into Maryland, whereunto they gave little care untill they had first maturely consulted the businesse and obteyned your Lordships good likeing thereof. In brieft, facultyes were obteyned from Rome with reference to Count Rosetty for approving the person of those that the Clergy should recommend for that purpose; and by our cheife frends advise in court I was admonished that Mr. Mus[kett] should recommend unto the Count him that was thought fit to be superiour of that mission; all which was punctually performed: and, whereas the Lord of that province now calls upon us for our men, wee hang in suspence of the Counts answer; whoe for 2 monthes hath delayd and returned noe answer at all to severall letters of M<sup>r</sup> Beussions, our frends in Court and myne all importuning him for his speedy answer to confirme and approove of M<sup>r</sup> Gilmett for that purpose: and, whereas wee went on bona fide makeing noe doubt of his graunting our desires, the matter beeing as by the facultyes appeares wholly in his powre; now that the ships are ready to goe with in 6 weekes from hence, our three men prepared for that journey, and 6 or 7 families resolved to accompany M<sup>r</sup> Gilmett thether in pure zeale to that apostolical man, resolving to sett up theyr rests where hee employes his spiritual labours: it is come to that poynt that wee must eyther damnify notoriously the temporal estate of that lord by depriving him of soe considerable an addition to his plantation as 6 or 7 families would make thereunto (not one wherof will goe with out M<sup>r</sup> Gilmett) or else goe thether in vertue only of our owne facultyes, because the Count will not conferr the newe upon any of ours going thether, which wee conceive to proceed out of the Jes[uits'] indeavours, whoe use all meanes possible not only to oppose the clergy in this businesse, but even to suppress and keep under the temporall lord of that province, that they may ther have the more absolute rule and power.

These are therefore humbly to beseech your Lordship to lett us know immediately your opinion, whether wee may not in vertue of our own facultyes goe thether and exercise the same over such subjects of our nation as shall ther voluntarily require our assistance in theyr spiritualls; wherein most of our bretheren heere conceive noe manner of doubt more than in exercising the same facultyes at home: first, because ther are noe Bishops ther; secondly, because our facultyes extend to all his Majestyes dominions, how ever ther are noe more named than England etc., etc.; thirdly, because, if his Majesty should goe with an army and conquer absolutely any nation, there could be no doubt but the preists of that army might in vertue of the facultyes they have already, with out the graunte of any newe, both heare the confessions of all the soules in that army, how ever they were owt of England, and alsoe reconcile to God as many of that other conquered nation as they could. Nor is the case in question different only that heere his Majesty hath acquired a peaceable possession with out armes and therby extended his dominions. Whether [wherefore ?] wee see noe difficulty why the clergy beeing called uppon may not (with owt speciall recourse to Rome or licence thence) goe ; and exercise theyr functions ; setting a syde the temporall motive they have now in this particular circumstance of beeing a meanes notably to advaunce the temporality of that Lord by going, and notably to damnify him temporally if they goe not ; after soe long an invitation, and soe profitable a preparation bona fide made by them of his advaancement, presuming ther could bee noe difficulty in having more approved for the use of those facultyes which were graunted for a mission intended thether by his Holinesse of secular Priests ; and now hindered by underhand practices of the Jes[uits].

If therfore your Lordship please to approve heer of, it is the clergyes humble sute at the instance of the lord of that province, that you will vouchsafe your licence to such of our bretheren as are ready and willing to goe thether, namely to M<sup>r</sup> Gilmett as superiour and 2 more such as hee shall best like of 7 or 8 proposed unto him for his assistants in this service ; and your Lordship is humbly desired to doe this with all speed possible, beecause the ships are very shortly going hence, and those that are to goe had need of all the time remayning to take leave of theyr frends heere, and to accommodate them selves for that voyage.

And many of our bretheren are of opinion that, when the Count sees the clergy is gon thether with theyr owne facultyes independent of him, hee will soone send them order to exercise the newe ones and approve of such men for the use therof as we shall have sent thether : beecause it will bee more for his honor to have us ther dependent on him then independent ; and it seemes (with men carryed against us by the suggestions of our adversaries) wee must rather use our own right as farr as wee may, then sett expecting grace and favour from them which wee stand not in need of ; in soe much that many are of opinion, it had been better for us never to have asked any newe facultyes at all, but to have gon thether (beeing called to the harvest of our owne nation) in vertue of our owne facultyes. And indeed it seemes here that the soules ther must be limited only to Jes[uits] for theyr confessors, wheras over all the woorld people have liberty to choose what confessarius they please. Besides the case is ther very speciall, in regard the Governors find the Jes[uits] to oppose them openly even in matters of temporalities, and soe find it a kind of tyranny to bee obliged to use only them for gouvernement of theyr soules whoe in temporalibus are at variance with them.

Thus your Lordship sees the whole state of the affayre. Please, I beseech you, to oblige the temporal lord of that province (whoe yet dares not write himself in his owne affayre) and your humble servants the Cleergy heere by your speedy resolution heerin. The rest is the thrice humble duty of my Lord

Your most Rd. Lordships most humble and devoted servant,

(1647 ?)

A Baltimore draft of a unilateral Concordat. Presented to the Provincial for signature, and purporting, like the foregoing Surrender, to emanate as a voluntary promise from the latter. It is a general concession of all demands contained in Baltimore's previous drafts of instruments: The Conditions of Plantation, the Points, the Assignment or Surrender; with several new assertions in behalf of the Proprietary, and new obligations assumed by Catholic missionaries. (§ 1) That the Proprietary's charter for Maryland incapacitates colonists from receiving lands except by grant, directly or indirectly, from himself; that his acquisition of Maryland was by a title of remuneration from the King (cf. supra, No. 17, p. 173, i.); and that he has incurred expense on account of the Christian faith. (§ 2) That for ecclesiastics the principle underlying the Maryland foundation in the matter of landed property is conformity with the ecclesiastical condition of England, which includes the Statutes of Mortmain as understood at the time, with the addition thereto of an unqualified escheating or devolution of lands to the Proprietary. (§ 3) That for the Church and the Society of Jesus in Maryland the political condition must be the same as in England, excepting only penal laws touching life and limb, if it be a Catholic who calls for the application of such laws. (§ 4) That all Jesuits are excluded from Maryland, except by virtue of a special licence to be obtained each time. (§ 5) That any and every Jesuit may be expelled at any time from the Province without cause assigned or cause existent excepting the Proprietary's will; and may then be deported to any place which proves convenient for the ship selected; and, no culpable cause existing for the deportation, the Proprietary shall indemnify the individual with passage money or goods in kind to the amount of £20 sterling, as those goods may at that time be rated in the market. (§ 6) That all and every missionary, already sent or to be sent, shall take a feudal oath of allegiance to the Proprietary, in the form hereunto appended. (§ 7) That the Provincial binds all his successors in England, and all missionaries in Maryland, in the matter of this pactum initum cum supradicto Barone, "Agreement entered into with the above-named Baron." In the entire instrument there appears no valuable consideration whatever on the other side, except that of the £20 sterling, in money or goods (tobacco), as compensation for the act of violent expulsion without cause.—See History, I. § 52 (2), pp. 430–433; § 66 (2), p. 534; § 67, p. 544.

Ego — — Provincialis Societatis Jesu in missione Anglicana, meorumque successorum nomine eorumque omnium, qui ex eadem Societate etiamnum missi sunt vel mittentur in posterum in provinciam Marylandiae, promitto Ill<sup>mo</sup> domino Caecilio Baroni de Baltemore et haeredibus ejus dominis et proprietariis dictae provinciae Marylandiae, cum iisque paciscor juxta tenorem formulae sequentis.

1<sup>o</sup> Primo quidem, quod, cum Rex Angliae remunerationis et specialis gratiae loco praefatam provinciam Marylandiae regalemque in eam jurisdictionem diplomate concesserit praedicto Baroni ejusque haeredibus, adeo ut ex vi ejusdem diplomatis nemo Regi Angliae subditus vel in coloniam Marylandicam adscriptus capax sit accipiendi, emendi vel possidendi portionem ullam agri Marilandici, nisi ex jure et facultate a dicto Barone vel haeredibus ejus immediate vel mediate derivatis. Cumque idem Baro magnos sumptus fecerit, et etiamnum faciat, molestiarum item plurimum et periculi tam in persona sua quam in bonis subierit subeatque quotidie, praecipue ob propagationem fidei christianae in istis partibus, et coloniae inibi constitutae utilitatem, nullo adhuc quaestu facto aut temporali emolumento percepto, qui tamen suam tutelam si coloniae isti deesse passus fuisset, nunquam ea tamdiu (quantum conjecturis humanis intelligi potest) ulla ratione consistere potuisset. Praeterea cum juris in agros istius provinciae aliunde quam a solo Barone ejusque haeredibus derivatio, non modo ad emolumenta regalemque jurisdictionem ejusdem Baronis et haeredum ejus (tam caro pretio, ut dictum est, empti) in istam provinciam evertenda vergeret (quod sine gravi offensione regiae auctoritatis in Anglia fieri non posset, ex qua emolumenta et regalis jurisdictio praefati Baronis, uti olim deducta et orta sunt, ita nunc unice dependent), verum etiam communem universae coloniae utilitatem ob varias lites et dissensiones non parum aut dubie imminueret. Idcirco nemo nostrae dictae Societatis ullo tempore directe vel indirecte, per se vel per alium aliosve quoscumque ad usum quemcumque vel finem accipiet, emet, possidebit agros, domos, aut bona quaecumque haereditaria in dicta provincia, aut in insulis ad eam pertinentibus ex concessione, donatione, emptione, legatione cujuscumque vel quoruncumque Indorum vel alterius aliarumve personarum, vel alio jure quocumque, quam mere et pure (nullo alio admixto titulo) ex aliqua concessione legitime facta vel facienda a praedicto Barone, vel haeredibus ejus, sub illius vel illorum majori signo istius provinciae pro tempore existente. Quod si quis vel si qui nostrorum accipiet, ement aut possidebunt ullos agros, domos, aut bona haereditaria in ista provincia contra tenorem verumque sensum praesentium, talis acceptio, emptio, possessio virtute praesentium ad solum usum praefati Baronis et haeredum ejus adjudicabitur et pertinere re ipsa intelligetur; ad alium vero usum finemve quemcumque nulla penitus ratione valebit.

incommodo fieri potest, praedictus Baro accom[m]odare debet), cumque idem Baro pro sustentatione nostrorum ibi degentium in agri Marilandici partitione partem non contemnendam de facto concesserit, eam ob rem nemo nostrae dictae Societatis, per se vel per alium aliosque quoscumque, quos sibi eum ob finem substituerit, accipiet, emet, possidebit agros, domos, aut bona haereditaria quaecumque ad usum proprium aliosve usus pios prohibitos et comprehensos in Statutis, quae vocantur de Mortmain, quae hoc tempore in Anglia vim obtinent, nisi speciali prius in scripto facultate, sub sigillo et chirographo dicti Baronis, vel haeredum ejus ad id obtenta. Quod si quis, vel si qui nostrae praefatae Societatis, non obstante hac promissione et pacto meo, accipient, ement, possidebunt agros, domos, aut bona haereditaria quaecumque per se vel per alios, quos sibi substituerint, ad usum proprium vel dictae Societatis, vel ad alium usum pium contentum in ullo ex praedictis Statutis de Mortmain, sine praedicta speciali licentia, tum omnis hujusmodi acceptio, emptio, possessio, virtute praesentium, ad usum praefati Baronis et haeredum ejus adjudicabitur et pertinere re ipsa intelligitur; ad usum vero alium finemve quemcumque nulla penitus ratione valebit.

5º Quod si forte praefatus Baro aut haeredes ejus, ullo unquam tempore, unum pluresve nostrae Societatis qui vel etiamnum in Marilandiam missi sunt, vel eo in posterum mittendi erunt, voluerint inde revocari, idque a Barone vel haeredibus ejus per se vel per alium aliosve quoscumque Provinciali Anglicanae missionis pro tempore existenti, vel superiori nostrae dictae Societatis in ista provincia pro tempore existenti significatum fuerit; tum praefatus Provincialis missionis Anglicanae, vel alius superior dictae Societatis pro tempore existens, intra spatium unius anni a dicta significatione, eos e Societate nostra praedicta, quos praefatus Baro, vel haeredes ejus revocari voluerint, e Marilandia revocabit; ea [iis?] tamen conditionibus, ut sumptibus ejusdem Baronis transportentur ii e Societate nostra, quos ipse, vel haeredes ejus revocari voluerint, in locum quemcumque quem praefatus Provincialis, vel superior in Marilandia pro tempore existens rationabiliter elegerit, dummodo locus eligatur ejusmodi quo navim aliquam tunc temporis e Marilandia pergere alias ob causas contigerit. Quod si dictus Provincialis, vel alius superior pro tempore existens, ullo unquam tempore, voluntati ejusdem Baronis vel haeredum ejus, ut supra significatae, respondere neglexerit, vel recusaverit, vel si quispiam ex eadem Societate, quem praedictus Provincialis, vel superior pro tempore existens, ad instantiam praefati Baronis vel haeredum ejus, revocaverit e provincia ista, discedere recusarit; tum in eo casu eidem Baroni vel haeredibus ejus (non obstante supradicta recusatione) licebit eum aut eos taliter recusantes dimittere et transportari curare ex ista provincia; ea nihilominus lege, ut si forte idem Baro vel haeredes ejus, aliam ob causam quam quod male se gesserint, revocari voluerint ex ista provincia unum pluresve a dicta Societate, tum idem Baro vel haeredes ejus tenebuntur singulis sic revocatis et sponte sine coactione abire volentibus 20 libras sterlingas vel in pecunia numerata vel in rebus aliis, quae tantundem valeant, secundum usitatum eo tempore pretium, elargiri.

Ego A. B. sincere et vere agnosco Ill<sup>l</sup>um Dominum Caecilium Baronem de Baltemore verum et absolutum dominum et proprietarium provinciae et terrae Marilandiae et insularum ad eam pertinentium; et juro me veram fidem praedicto Baroni et haeredibus ejus dominis et proprietariis praefatae provinciae servaturum, meque voluntariam et veram obedientiam eidem ejusdemque haeredibus tanquam veris et absolutis dominis et proprietariis supradictae provinciae et insularum ad eam pertinentium atque ipsius ipsorumque in eadem provincia regimini in temporalibus praestitutum. Juro etiam me nullo unquam tempore, re vel verbo, publice vel privatim, scientem et volentem derogaturum titulis, privilegiis, juribus regalibus, libertatibus, jurisdictioni, praerogativae, proprietati et dominio in dictam provinciam Marilandiae et populum inibi pro tempore existentem, quae conceduntur vel concedi dicuntur praefato Baroni et haeredibus ejus a rege vel corona Angliae in ejusdem Baronis litteris patentibus pro eadem provincia, sub majori signo regni praedicti; quin potius omni me tempore, prout occasio feret, praedicta omnia, quantum in me erit, defensurum. Praeterea juro me absque omni mora manifestaturum praefato Baroni vel haeredibus ejus, vel ipsius, vel ipsorum locumtenentibus et summo gubernatori dictae provinciae Marilandiae pro tempore existenti quaecumque machinationem, conspirationem, combinationem quam vel sciam vel justam ob causam suspicabor fieri aut factum iri contra personam dicti Baronis vel haeredum ejus, vel quae ullo modo tendet ad exhaereditationem et deprivationem ejusdem Baronis vel haeredum ejus in titulis, commodis, privilegiis, juribus regalibus, libertatibus, jurisdictione, praerogativa, proprietate, aut dominio supradictis. Juro etiam me, nec per me ipsum, nec per alium aliosve quoscumque, directe vel indirecte accepturum, empturum, possessurum ullos agros, domos aut bona haereditaria quaecumque in dicta provincia Marilandiae aut in insulis ad eam pertinentibus, ab Indis aliisque quibuscumque, nisi jure in praedicta legitime derivato a concessione aliqua ejusdem Baronis aut haeredum legitime facta et facienda sub ejus signo majori ejusdem provinciae pro tempore existente. Agnosco praeterea hoc jusjurandum legitima mihi auctoritate ministratum, atque idcirco agnosco et juro praemissa omnia absque ulla omnino aequivocatione aut restrictione mentali. Sic me Deus adjuvet, etc.

7<sup>o</sup> Postremo per praesentes declaro, in me suscipio et affirmo me sufficienter et legitima auctoritate praeditum esse ad obligandum per hoc instrumentum sub chirographo meo et sigillo annexo non solum me ipsum sed omnes meos successores qui futuri sunt Provinciales vel superiores nostrae Societatis in missione Anglicana, eos item omnes qui e nostra Societate mittentur in posterum in Marilandiam adimplenda [ad implenda?] et praestanda omnia et singula supradicta juxta tenorem et verum sensum hujus instrumenti promissionis et pacti initi cum supradicto Barone.

Claudio Agretti, Brussels: report to Rome. Lord Baltimore complained that, for twenty-four years, the Holy See had refused to send missionaries to Maryland, where at present there were only two priests, among 2000 Catholics and many heretics likely to be converted. Lately the agent of the London Chapter had petitioned for faculties in Rome on behalf of secular priests, but had been told that the mission was reserved to the Jesuits. Baltimore endeavoured to justify himself against the imputation that he was opposed to the Regular Orders.

A questo discorso sopra le cose d'Inghilterra stimo dover soggiungere due parole circa la terra chiamata dal nome della Regina Madre [?] Marylandia situata nell'America, spettante in proprietà al Barone di Baltimore. Questo cavaliere è assai parziale de'Capitolari et il loro decano alloggia in casa sua. Io fui a vederlo in una sua villa vicino a Londra, e mi trattenni seco quasi tutto un giorno in compagnia del padre Ouuard. Mi parve una buona persona et è già vecchio. Procurò di giustificarsi sopra il concetto avutosi costì altre volte, che egli fusse contrario agli Ordini regolari nel sudetto paese. Si doleva in qualche modo che per questa cagione la Santa Sede avesse ricusato da ventiquattro anni incirca di crear missionarii per Marylandia, dove si trovano al presente due soli sacerdoti. Che poco fa avendo l'agente del Capitolo supplicato costì perchè si concedesse ad alcuni sacerdoti secolari la facoltà de'missionarii per la predetta terra, li era risposto che quella missione si è riservata ai padri Gesuiti, e che ciò non ostante, avendo il signor Barone domandato a loro qualche padre per inviare in Marylandia, essi li rispondevano non haver padri abbastanza nè anche per l'Inghilterra. Soggiunse il signor Barone dispiacerli del pregiudizio che riceveva la religione per mancanza de'missionarii in detta terra, dove si calcolavano da 2000 cattolici e stimava facile convertirne degl'altri, per non trovarsi predicatori eretici in quel paese. Io risposi al signor Barone con quelle parole generali, stante che non ero informato del negotio; ma stimo bene ragguagliar humilmente V. E. del suddetto discorso e metterle in consideratione se li paia commettere a monsignor Internunzio o al padre Ouuard di creare missionarii per Marylandia alcuni sacerdoti secolari o regolari ad arbitrio loro.

§ 5. THE ORIGINAL COLLEGE FOUNDATION IN MARYLAND, 1633-1727.

No. 24.

1633-1693, October 12.

St. Inigoes Manor, Md.: grants, conveyances. The terms of original purchase, and the line of descent, till Oct. 12, 1693.

Mr. Wm. Hunter's title to St. Inago's, Britton's Neck, St. Thomas's Manor, &c., proved and deduced from the first original to this 26 June, 1720.<sup>1</sup>

1<sup>o</sup> to St. Inago's manor—

R. F. Tho. Copley, called in the records Thomas Copley, Esq., brought a great number of servants into this Province in the year 1633, for which he demands 28,500 acres of land, as appears on record. Of this great quantity of land he [gave] the far greater part to others, and reserved for the Society near 8000 acres, partly at Portobacco, viz. 4000, partly at St. Inagoes, viz. 3400. See the Records, Lib. A, B, & H. fol. 27, and Lib. F, fol. 134.<sup>2</sup>

The first tract of land he took up for the Society was 2000 acres, called St. Inago's, 1000 acres called St. George's Island, and 400 acres of town land about St. Mary's, in different parcels.<sup>3</sup> All which tracts were first granted to Ferdinand Pulton for 19 servants assigned to Pulton by Mr. Copley, Lib. F, fols. 61, 62, 63, in year 1637 or thereabouts, who notwithstanding had no patent thereof, as the Record observes in the margin thereof, pag. aforesaid. 'Tis supposed Mr. Copley made Pulton his trustee of St. Inago's, but being an alien, viz. a Spaniard (as both his and his servants' names seem to declare), and not yet naturalized, or for some other reason, Mr. Copley chose Mr. Cuthbert Fenwick in his place.<sup>4</sup> Wherefore the time of Pulton's getting a patent being now long

ago elapsed, viz. 4 years, Mr. Copley obtains a warrant for the above-said tracts of land, July 27, 1641, and assigns them to Cuthbert Fenwick, as appears by the Record, Lib. F, fol. 134—

"July 27, 1641. Tho. Copley, Esq., demands 400 acres of town land due by Conditions of Plantation, that is, 260 acres for transporting 26 able men into the Province in the year 1633—and 140 acres for transporting 28 other able men since the said year. Nota, vide sup. in demand of Ferdinando Pulton." 'Tis supposed Ferdinando died before he had a patent. But it matters not, because Fenwick had the first grant and patent for it.

"The said Tho. Copley further demanded a manor of 3000 acres of land due by like Conditions of Plantation for transporting ten of the abovesaid 26 men in the year 1633.<sup>5</sup>

"Eod. The said Tho. Copley conveyed and assigned all his right and interest in the demand aforesaid unto Cuthbert Fenwick, Gent., and his heirs." Tho' the Record don't say demands, yet the certificate and patent hereafter mentioned sufficiently declare in [its?] meaning. Then follows the warrant and order to lay out the said tracts.

"[Eod.] These are to will and require you to lay out 400 acres of town land and 4000 acres of other land for a manor, in such places not disposed of as shall be desired by Cuthbert Fenwick, Gent., and to draw a patent for the granting of said land unto the said Cuth. Fenwick by Conditions of Plantation of the year 1633. To Mr. Secretary."

Then follows the certificate and grant for 3400 acres to Cuth. Fenwick, as appears Lib. fol. aforesaid. This certificate and grant contains all the land which now is called St. Inagoes, &c., viz. 2000 acres of St. Inagoes, 1000 in St. George's Island, and 400 of town land. The other 4th thousand is supposed to have been applied by Mr. Fenwick to some other use or place. The words of the Record marked by "are subscribed thus: "Vera copia—out of Lib. F, fol. 134, per Ed. Griffith Reg<sup>r</sup> of the Land Office."

Thus was St. Inagoes Manor, &c., by Mr. Copley settled in the hands of Mr. Fenwick in the year 1641, July the 27th. About 22 years after St. Inagoes had been trusted in the hands of Mr. Fenwick by Mr. Copley (he being now departed this life or the country), Rd. Fr. Henry Warren, who came into this country in 1661, obtains a conveyance of the aforesaid lands from Mr. Fenwick to himself, Mr. Copley's successor. 'Tis dated full, and adds the circumstance of its having been in the margin: Perez Ferdinando was shot in a boat, as Mrs. Doyne relates by tradition, from her father Matthews. Taken from the margin. Soon after Ferdinando Pulton dyes (or was shott by accident, as says Mrs. Doyne), and Mr. Copley, in whom the equitable right was, the said Poulton being only his Trustee, petitions for and obtains a 2d. warrant for St. Inigo's and St. George's: and in 1641 assigns the same to Mr. Cuthbert Fenwick. —Father Attwood, in his Record, p. 99, evidently understands Pulton by Perez.

<sup>5</sup> The original certificate for 2000 acres, with the lines of the present St. Inagoes tract, Robt. Clarke, Surveyor, is preserved in Md.-N.Y. Province Archives, (c) St. Inagoes. It is a decayed 4to sheet, endorsed by Killick or Attwood: The Certificat of St. Inagoes. There is a copy in the St. Inagoes Records, p. 9.

1663, July 12, sealed and witnessed ; it remains on record, and transcribed by the [Register] and subscribed : "Vera copia, out of Lib. EE, fol. 252, 253, per Ed. Griffiths, Reg<sup>r</sup> of the Land Office." But one great error is committed in this conveyance, for it leaves out all the town land, tho' inserted in all other warrants, certificates, and patents and conveyances, as well before as after this conveyance,<sup>(a)</sup> excepting 120 acres of town land in Mr. Warren's conveyance, and especially in the patent to Mr. Pennington, [in that] of confirmation of the said lands to Mr. Warren in 1667.<sup>6</sup>

I judge there is no other conveyance of this 400 acres in the Records of the Land Office ; and the Court Records are burnt from [16]60 to 69. If there be any conveyance in the R. the said time, and be burnt, there is a great evidence of there having been such a conveyance from my Lord's patent of confirmation in 1667, where he says : All St. Inagos Manor, &c., with the town land by several means, conveyances, and assignments was vested and settled in Henry Warren.+ This is a good evidence recorded.

This, moreover, was conveyed from Mr. Warren to Mr. Pennington in 1685, Aug. 24 ; and from Mr. Pennington, survivor to Mr. Hunter, in the year 1693, Oct. 12.

+NB. Mr. Warren in 1663 conveyed 400 acres of the town land (except 40 acres about the Chapel) to Tho. Mathews—with warrants.

A transcript, by Father Stephen Dubuisson, of an original which may have been the much better draught at Portobacco alluded to by Father Killick in the next Number. ## No. 25.

1649, August 16, to 1693, October 12.

St. Thomas's Manor, Md. : grants, conveyances. The terms of original purchase, and the line of descent till Oct. 12, 1693.

Mr. Wm. Hunter's title to St. Thomas's Mannour proved and deduced from the first original to this 26th of June, 1620 [1720].<sup>7</sup>

The record sufficiently declares the first taken up, viz. F. Copley, and his assignment to Mr. Tho. Mathews in the following words :—

"August the 16, 1649. Tho. Copley, Esq<sup>r</sup>, this day assigned to Mr. Tho. Mathews 4000 acres of land due to him for transporting ten able men servants into this Province in the year 1633. Tho. Copley.

(a) Here the next clause of ten words is interlined.

"August 17, 1649. Mr. Tho. Mathews demands 4000 acres of land due to him by assignment from Mr. Tho. Copley. Warrant to the surveyor to lay out the sayd 4000 acres on the north side of Potomack River near Portobacco. Ret[urn] last [of] October next. Vera copia out of Lib. A, B, & H, fol. 27, per Ed. Griffith, Reg<sup>t</sup> of Land Office."

Consequent to this demand and warrant, Rob. Clark, surveyour generall, lays out for Tho. Mathews 3500 on west side and 500 acres on the east side of Portobacco Creek, 25th of Oct., 1649. The copy of the certificate is now in hand, and recorded Lib. A, fol. 293. A patent also under my Lords great seal was granted to the sayd Mathews under same date; but is not yet found on the Record, though diligently sought for. This appears by Mr. Warrens patent (now vacated) of St. Thomas's Mannour, dated Oct. 12, 1666, Lib. FF, fol. 187. The copy of this vacated Patent is in hand.

This mannour being thus settled in Mr. Mathews our trustee, the sayd Mathews in the year 1662, Oct. 6, conveys all his right, title, interest, &c., to Mr. Warren and his heirs for ever. An abstract of which conveyance is in hand, and taken of the Record by Reg<sup>t</sup>, Lib. EE, fol. 252. This conveyance, as well as that [of] Mr. Fenwicks, was 2 or 3 years recorded after they were sealed and delivered, because no time was then limited before 1674.

In the year 1666, Oct. 12, Mr. Warren obtains a patent of my Lord for St. Thomas's Mannour, with an addition of 80 acres to the 500 on this side; but, the survey being found to be erroneous, he obtains another in 1670, Feb. 2, now in hand and recorded, Lib. KK, fol. 141. Content: only 500 acres v*.<sup>8</sup>

As to this patent and the land therein granted, some things are to be remarked. 1<sup>o</sup> About the washing away of land in Butchers Quarter, opposite Fort Point. 2<sup>o</sup> About the jury's decision in favor of Father Warren as against Robert Gutterick, whose land, called Piercefield, sold by him to George Tompson, Dec. 3, 1670, and by Tompson to Col. Rozer, was finally sold by the latter's son, Mr. Notley Rozer, to Mr. Hunter, by a conveyance of Nov. 20, 1711. It was only a remnant of 20 acres. 3<sup>o</sup> Splittfield, consisting of 30 acres, was by the same conveyance sold to Mr. Hunter by the same Mr. Rozer, who had derived it through his father from the same George Tompson. 4<sup>o</sup> George Gutterick claims right to 76 acres of this land by way of rent assigned in a very blind manner to him by Mr. Gavan, Priest of the Society.<sup>9</sup> But he lives upon courtesy, not only because he and family have used all means in troublesome times to divest us of our right to part of this land,<sup>10</sup> shewn themselves very ungratefull,

[and] the paper erroneously worded, but chiefly because it was never recorded, consequently can't give an estate in tenancy above 7 years.<sup>11</sup> 5°. On a mistake in wording this patent, the terms north and south having been transposed, through an error of the scribe.<sup>12</sup> 6°. There was 4000 acres of land layd out for Ralph Crouch (he was a lay brother) very like the land in the Neck. Being dated one day younger than our certificate, i.e. 1649, Oct. 26, no notice is to be taken of it. The certificate of Ralph Crouch is in hand.<sup>13</sup>

NB.—The law that annulled deeds for above 7 years was made in the year 1699, i.e. after Mr. Gavans lease; so that the acknowledgement and enrollment of that paper of Mr. Gavans was not necessary in 1685, if all other things necessary were added, as it seems not.

Concerning all this matter, see a much better draught at Portobacco.<sup>(b)</sup>

Md.—N. Y. Province Archives, Z. Original fol. sheet, 2 pp. (Father Killick's).

This land increased under Attwood's management by the acquisition of Hazard, first rented and then owned. After treating of Piercefield and Splittfield, Attwood's Record, p. 102, proceeds—

Hazard. Contains 100 acres, and lyes on the east side of our south line; its south line runs very near to Cousins. Bounds. It was taken up by Francis Gunby, 1668; by him sold to Col. Benj. Rozer; he was paid for it, but run away without making it over (or acknowledging it); so swears Rob. Gutterick (oath in hand). Fran. Gutterick says Gunby sold it to the Colonels overseer, and he to the Col. Be that as it will, Gunby disinherits his son, and leaves Hazard by will to one Rich<sup>d</sup> Wharton, now living on the south side of Poconsoke, near Rehobeth, Eastern Shore.

NB.—The rents due upon this land are almost worth the same. As Messrs. Bennet and Heath have given us theirs, so the late purchasers ought to be desired to do the same, and then the purchase may be easy from the abovesaid Wharton.<sup>(c)</sup> kindness is . . . certain; that family having always endeavoured, in troublesome times, in concert with our Protestant enemys, to disseise us of our right in and to great part of that tract of land. Cf. infra, No. 77, pp. 273, 274.

(b) End of the paper.

(c) This last paragraph in later writing.

<sup>12</sup> To this last phrase the Attwood Record adds the following reflection: But whether this will avail, lett others judge; for my part I have always feared the worst, and advised with Mr. James Carroll and others, who all agreeing that it could not prejudice our title, and that none could take advantage thereof, I acquiesced. But, if times should favour, I think we ought to gett the error rectified; and, if no other method can be found, a new cert[ificate] and patent, with old rents and rights.

This property of Hazard was acquired, as well as Mankins Adventure, of which Attwood's Record, p. 106, speaks as follows:—

8<sup>o</sup> As to Mankins Adventure, it is mostly if not wholly included in Hazzard and Splittfield, and younger than both.

No. 26.

1668, December 2, to 1693.

Britton's Neck and Outlet, or Newtown, Md.: conveyances. The original purchase and the line of succession, till 1693.

The Titles of our Lands, deduced from the first taker up to the present possessor, whether by patent, conveyance, or bequest, with other notes and observations concerning the bounds, rights, and titles, &c., of the above said lands.

In St. Mary's County: Britton's Neck and Outlet, their title derived. From their first taking up till Jan. 20, 1726/7. By P. A., S.J.<sup>14</sup>

Mr. William Bretton was the first taker up of Brettons Neck, in the year 1640; and of Brettons Outlet in the year 1658, Jan. 12. The first tract was surveyed for 750 acres, but now, by the washing away of the land, contains about 674. The 2d. or Outlet, surveyed by a jury, instead of a 100 ac., contains but 43 acres. The patents for both tracts are in hand. The warrant, certificate, and patent for Brittons Neck are recorded, Lib. F, fols. 84, 85, also Lib. A, B, H, fol. 81. The Outlet, fol. 35 of a loose paper, &c.

Mr. William Breton and Temperance his wife conveyed the two afore-said tracts of land to Mr. Henry Warren in the year 1668, Dec. 2. Mr. Warren conveys the same to Messrs. Francis and Jn. Pennington in the year 1685, Aug. 24; and Mr. Francis Pennington, the survivor, to Mr. Wm. Hunter in the year 1693, together with all the rest of his lands.

1693, October 12, to 1727, January 20.

The same three estates in Maryland. Their subsequent line of descent till the date of Attwood's writing.

<sup>14</sup> Father Peter Attwood's chief source is mentioned in the following sub-head, p. 105: Things worthy to be remarked concerning our lands, their bounds, courses, and other difficulties, collected in great part from Mr. Wm. Killick's manuscripts.

A. St. Inigoes Manor.

[p. 99.] Mr. Hunter bequeaths this and all his land to Mr. Geo. Thorold by will bearing date [1723<sup>15</sup>]; and he conveys this and all his lands to Mr. Peter Attwood by a deed bearing date [1726, May 9].<sup>16</sup>

B. St. Thomas's Mannour.

[p. 101.] Mr. Wm. Hunter bequeaths the abovesaid Mannour (with all his other lands) to Mr. George Thorold, in his last will and testament [1723], duly executed, proved and recorded. Then, in 1726, Mr. George Thorold conveys the said Mannour (with all other lands) to Mr. Peter Attwood. The above conveyances are in hand, and duly recorded.

C. Brettons Neck and Brettons Outlet.

[p. 100.] Mr. Hunter bequeaths the same (with all the rest of his lands) to Mr. George Thorold in his last will and testament, bearing date [1723] and recorded — — —. Mr. Geo. Thorold conveys the same unto Mr. Peter Attwood in the year 1726, by a deed bearing date May 9th, 1726, duly executed and recorded in the Records of Charles County, August the 13th, and in those of St. Maries, Sept. 28th, because some of the land conveyed lyes in each County.

N.B. of Mr. William Killick :

Mr. R. Vowles has 3 lotts sold him as town-land, but has altered the bounds and figure of the same, that he might come fa[r]ther into our pasture. He has no right to the lott so altered, because the last Act for Towns was dissented to, and more especially because he never built on them after that Law.

<sup>17</sup> A letter of the General Thyrsus Gonzalez, 1695, November 10, to Father William Hunter at "Port Tabacco," has a marginal note on a "St. Xavier's residence in Maryland." See supra, No. 6, E<sup>4</sup>. This must refer to Newtown. Cf. No. 97, 2<sup>a</sup> Missio.

Part of the said tract had been formerly surveyed by a warrant granted for Mary Ann O'Daniel, and Margaret her sister,<sup>18</sup> March 18, 1680, by the name of Moriss O'Daniels Rest, containing 300 acres, as by the original survey appears. This said survey was never recorded, nor any grant issued thereon to the said sisters. Of the two sisters, Margaret dyed first, and the whole right to the said land was vested in Mary Ann, who dying bequeathed the same to Messrs. Thos. Mansell and William Douglass; which said William having made over all his right and title thereunto to the said Mr. Thos. Mansell, he (the said Thos.) petitions for and obtains a special warrant to resurvey the said tract, and take up the same as vacant land, together with what surplus or vacant land was thereunto contiguous; which was done accordingly, and patent granted as above. It's recorded in the Land Office, Lib. DD, pag. 533.

The Adjoining Purchase, &c.

Mr. Thomas Mansell purchased of Mr. James Heath a parcell of land, bounding upon the above St. Xaverius, and containing 335 acres; and this parcell being or containing one intire tract, called St. Inigo's, and part of Worsell Mannour, and part of a 3<sup>d</sup> tract called Woodbridge, they are as follows:—

St. Inigo's

was taken up by Mr. James Heath for 100 acres by the name of St. Ignatius, patent bearing date, Apr. 6, 1711; recorded in the Land Office, Lib. P, K, N, 3, fol. 189. Sold by Mr. James Heath to Mr. Thos. Mansell (together with the two following tracts) by a deed bearing date, Feb. 28, 1721; recorded L. F, D, N, 3, fol. 279, 280.<sup>(d)</sup>

Part of Worsell Mannour.

This mannour was taken up by Col. Sayer, by him bequeathed (or conveyed) to Mr. Ch. Blake; by him to Mr. James Heath, exchanged (I think) for other land. Part of this tract, adjoining to St. Inigo's, that is to say 165 acres, was sold by Mr. Heath to Mr. Mansell as above.

Part of Woodbridge.

This tract was originally taken up by David Mackenny, by him sold to Darby Nowland, and by his son Dennis sold to Mr. James Heath (that is to say, his part thereof containing 75 acres and adjoining St. Inigo's), and by Mr. Heath to Mr. Mansell as above.

D. and the ff. are cited thus: Fols. 279, 280, 281, 282, parchment cover for deeds, Cecil County.* One of these copies may be of Attwood's time, and endorsed by him: Our [title] to our Lands on the Eastern Shore. The other may be a copy by Fr. John Lewis, bringing down the succession to 1774. Both are detached folio sheets, among the documents, (d) Bohemia, Md.-N. Y. Province Archives.

NB.—St. Xaverius lyes upon the head of Little Bohemia, in Cecil County : part of it, in one corner, was taken away by Astmore, an elder survey and a tract of land belonging to Mr. Vachel Denton ; the Yarne, and both more of ours and more of Astmore, was taken away by Worsell Mannour, eldest of the three : all which and more was included in Mr. Mansells purchase of Mr. Heath.

The Moyty of Darnalls Farme.

This tract lyes in Kent County near Chester River, and was taken up by Jn. Darnall Esq. for 600 acres in the whole ; but part thereof was taken away by elder surveys. The moyty (of what remained), being near 300 acres, was bequeathed by said Jn. Darnall to Mr. Henry Darnall his nephew, and by him conveyd to Mr. Thos. Mansell by a deed bearing date, Oct. 10, 1722 ; recorded in Kent County Records, Lib. I, G,<sup>(e)</sup> N.W. for Conveyances, fol. 286.

Simms Prime Choice.

It lyes in Kent County on Fendall now Farloe [?] Creek ; it was taken up by Alexander Simms, and by him bequeathed to his son Jn. Simms, and by the said Jn. bequeathed to Mr. Thos. Mansell. Now whereas the said Jno. was a minor when he made the above devise, being aged but 17 years, the said Mr. Thos. Mansell, for fear his title should be called in question, by means of the testators nonage, prayed for and obtained a special warrant to resurvey the same ; and, it being found to contain but 75 acres, had patent granted for the same, as escheat, Sep. 10, 1714. Recorded in the Provincial Records, Lib. R, Y, N. 1, fol. 198. Sold.<sup>(f)</sup>

Part of Heaths Longlands.

40 acres of this tract (which was taken up by Mr. James Heath) were by him conveyed to Mr. Thomas Mansell (the which include a house and plantation) by a deed bearing date, July 7, 1713. Recorded in Kent County Records, Lib. I, G, N<sup>o</sup> N. for Conveyances, fol. 341.<sup>(g)</sup>

NB. These 40 acres are either adjoining to or part of Simms Prime Choice.

Quaere. How much land there is secure ? for I believe Heaths Long Lands is elder, and takes away all Simms Prime Choice.<sup>19</sup>

All the above tracts on the Eastern Shore, that is to say, St. Xaverius, The additional Purchase of St. Inigo's, of part of Worsell Mannour, and

(g) Another copy seems to read I. S., and gives the fols. as 341, 342, Sept. 15, 1713.

<sup>19</sup> One of the other copies states absolutely : Now, whereas the said land [Simms Prime Choice] was taken away by an elder survey of Mr. Heath's Longlands, the said Heath conveyed unto the said Tho. Mansell 40 acres of his said Longlands, etc. The other [Lewis's?] copy leaves out Darnall's Farm and Simms Prime Choice or part of Heath's Longlands.

of part of Woodbridge, Simms Prime Choice, Part of Heaths Long Lands, and all other whatever to him belonging, were bequeathed by Mr. Thos. Mansell in his last will and testament, bearing date, 20 Feb. 1722/3, to Mr. Thos. Hodgson; <sup>(h)</sup> and by him bequeathed to Mr. Jn. Bennet by his last will and testament, bearing date, 6 May, 1724; and by him conveyed to Mr. Peter Attwood, by a deed bearing date, 9th April, 1728, acknowledged the same day before the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Wm. Loch, Provincial Justice, and recorded in the Provincial Land Record in L<sup>o</sup> P, L, L.<sup>(i)</sup> N<sup>o</sup> 6, fol. 256, April 10, 1728.

[p. 109.] Some Remarks concerning St. Xavierius, and the other tracts adjoining thereto.

Mr. Jos[hua] George, having purchased Middle Neck Mannour of Col. Herman, got the same surveyed by an order from the Provincial Court in a dispute between him and Vachel Denton; and, as by the Plott appears, took in all St. Xavierius and part of several other tracts, and, beginning with the poorest, ejects Mr. Reynolds out of that part of Sarahs Joynture he lived upon: now, tho' these his extended bounds were not to be sustained, and the Delaware Path, and not the Delaware Highway was to bound him on Hermans branch, yet since a straight line drawn from either place to the head of St. Austins Creek, as his patent allows, would take away some of our land, to prevent a vexatious lawsuit and the expences, after long debates I agreed to give him 35£ curr<sup>t</sup> for a deed of release to all the right or claim he might have to any or all the land I hold between the two branches of St. Augustins Creek, and accordingly had the deed executed and acknowledged before Col. Fendal, one of the Provincial Justices, on the 24th of July, 1731, and sent it over to be recorded in Cecil County where the land lyes.

No. 29.

January 20, 1726/7.

Attwood's Observations. General directions of Father Peter Attwood on the manner of preserving the four Maryland estates just described.

The Title of our Lands deduced from the first Taker-up to the present Possessor, whether by sale or bequest to him descending.

There are at present, Jan. 20, 1726/7, four Residences belonging to some one or more of the Society, in the Province of Maryland. Each tract was purchased for a valuable consideration, either of my Lord, or of some other holding under him, and descends by conveyance or will; for all other right of succession or inheritance in common we are deprived of by the Statute of Mortmain. Hence it is very adviseable that each possessor have always a will by him, whereby he bequeathes all his estate, both real and personal, to N. N. and his heirs for ever; and, in case of his [viz. N. N.] dying first, to [another] N. N. and his heirs for ever; and so name two or three of ours, least possibly our land become escheat, either for want of such will, or by the devisee's dying before the devisor. But care must be had, least the unskilfull wording of the will should make it amount to an entail; <sup>21</sup> for then it would be equally dangerous to leave our lands to many, one after another, as to leave them to one alone. This premised, I come now to the lands, and shall treat of them as they lye and belong to each Residence.

§ 6. PARTICULAR GRANTS, DEEDS, BEQUESTS IN MARYLAND, 1633-1727.

The foregoing general account, covering 95 years, is corroborated in the Maryland-New York Province S.J. Archives by various records of grants, conveyances, official plats with their statements; besides wills and deeds not executed, and the patrimonies of individual Jesuits assigned by them to the Society. The State Records supply other papers. We take particular notice here of such as serve historical purposes. Some solve old problems and others start new ones.

The Chapel land, St. Mary's City, Md. It was granted in the original patent to Cuthbert Fenwick, 1641, July 28, as one of the three parcels of town land, aggregating 400 acres. This one parcel consisted of 25 acres, lying nearest about the new Chappell at St. Maries; and, like the others, is accurately described in the Fenwick patent;<sup>5</sup> as also in the patent of confirmation granted to Father Henry Warren, 1667, April 4; and again in the indenture made between Warren and the Fathers Pennington, 1685, Aug. 24. In the List of Grants, St. Mary's and other Counties, 1640-1660, the same dimensions are assigned to the Chapel Freehold; and the other two parcels are mentioned, 120 acres in a neck at the mouth of St. Inigoes Creek, and 255 acres lying about St. Maries Hill. It is added that this Freehold is now the inheritance of Thomas Matthews, Gent. In 1662, Oct. 5, Henry Warren conveying and quitting all claims to St. Mary's Hill in favour of Thomas Matthews, excepts the 40 acres about the Chapel. Father Francis Pennington deeds to Wm. Digges 6 acres thereof next to St. Mary's River. In 1726, May 9, Father George Thorold conveys to Father Attwood a tract of land called the Chappell Land, on which the Chappell stands at St. Maries, containing about 40 acres; and there is no mention of Bretton's Neck and Outlet, otherwise called Newtown, Md.: original conveyance. The original parchment deed, authenticated and executed, recites that Wm. Bretton and Temperance his wife conveyed the Neck and Outlet to Henry Warren, for 40,000 pounds of tobacco, Dec. 2, 1668.

Md.-N. Y. Province Archives, documents (f) Newtown.—In B, No. 37, may be seen the original grant to Wm. Bretton of that neck of land in the Potomac, opposite Heron Island, bounded S. by Potomack, W. by St. Clement's Bay, E. by the great bay called Brittain's Bay, and N. by a line drawne crosse the woods, etc., containing in all 750 acres or thereabouts, more or less; and the consideration is that Wm. Bretton transported himself, wife, one child and three able men servants, in 1637; and is besides the lawful heir of Thomas Nabb, who transported himself and his wife into the Province in the year aforesaid; wherefore Caecilius makes this grant, with the advice of his Lieutenant-General, Leonard Calvert, and according to the tenour of our letters under our hand and seale, bearing date at Portsmouth . . . England, the eighth day of August, 1636. The patent is a small parchment, dated July 10, 1640.—Similarly in D, No. 84, may be seen another patent of the same kind, granting 100 acres more or lesse to Wm. Bretton, for transporting one mayd servant named Mary Feild in the year 1647, according to the Conditions of Plantation, 1649. This grant is on Bretton's Bay and is called Bretton's Outlett. The parchment is dated, January 12, 1653; is endorsed diversely: Intratr. in Record; then autograph: Philip Calvert Secrs.; again: This Graunt as according to Certificate on Survey by me made; then autograph: Robt. Confidential trusts to save the property from expropriation. Copley assigned his rights of land at St. Inigoes to Cuthbert Fenwick in 1641;<sup>6</sup> those at St. Thomas's Manor to Thomas Matthews in 1649, Aug. 16. Matthews took out a patent for the 4000 acres of St. Thomas's in the same year, Oct. 25; and, the next day, Oct. 26, Ralph Crouch, a secular gentleman, had a certificate for the laying out of all this property in his own name. There may have been a conveyance from Father Henry Warren to Ralph Crouch (of other property?) in Oct., 1662. Matthews conveyed St. Thomas's to Father Warren in 1662, Oct. 6. Fenwick conveyed St. Inigoes to him in 1663, July 16. Meanwhile, Crouch, now a Jesuit lay brother in London, conveyed on Oct. 9, 1662, to Gregory Turberville, a lay brother in Maryland, the two manors of St. Inigoes and St. Thomas's, and all other premises in the possession of the said Gregory Turberville. Turberville seems to have conveyed all this to Warren, at some date between Oct. 9, 1662, and April 4, 1667. In the mean time, Warren obtained a patent on resurvey for St. Thomas's 4000 acres, with an addition of 80 acres recently procured from Daniel Jennifer; but this patent dated Oct. 12, 1666, was vacated, because erroneous, and another was substituted, on Feb. 2, 1670, leaving out the additional 80 acres. And, for St. Inigoes, he obtained a patent of confirmation, dated April 4, 1667. This series of conveyances or assignments amounts to over a dozen in number within 26 years. Later on, in 1685, on Aug. 24, Warren, being now in England, conveyed the two aforesaid manors, with the additional property of Bretton's Neck and Outlet, to the two Fathers Pennington, Francis of St. Inigoes and John of St. Clement's Bay.

Bequests to the Society during the first half-century. In one collection of Maryland wills (Baldwin's Maryland Calendar of Wills, 1635-1685) we count nearly fifty in which legacies are left to the Roman Catholic Church or to the priests thereof. After 1673, the Roman Catholic priests were not exclusively Jesuit; and Father Henry Carew, a Franciscan, is mentioned by name in the will of Thomas Brooke, Calvert Co., 25 Oct., 1675. In another case priests at a distance are benefited, when John Lloyd of St. Mary's County, on the 27 July, 1658, leaves the reversion of his estate, under certain conditions, to Philip Calvert and Thomas Eare, in trust for the English College of Secular Priests at Doway, Flanders; and Wm. Bretton, one of the witnesses, also adds, apparently as scribe: Per me Wm. B. There are during the same period somewhat less than ten bequests to the Protestant Church or a minister, not to mention other charitable and free school purposes which are provided for, and some Quaker legacies. In the Catholic sum-total of half a hundred legacies and the Protestant total of half a score, there is on either side about the same number, half a dozen, of real estate devises, whether conditional or absolute. But we find no trace anywhere of such bequests having added a single acre to the property of the Jesuit Fathers.

Leonardtownt, St. Mary's Co., Orphans' Court, old Record of Wills, from July 27, 1658, Lloyd's will as above, to 1732. Looking through the records here, the eye is caught from time to time by the names of Jesuits or of St. Omer's, etc.—J. Baldwin, Maryland Calendar of Wills, 1635-1685.

Devise of land on the Eastern Shore, Md.; not executed. Mr. Londey leaves 550 acres for the service of the Catholic Church (in Talbot County) at the mouth of the Wye River; and, if the stress of persecution shall render that use impracticable, then the proceeds are to be equally divided among three Jesuit missionaries who are named. These three, Fathers Nicholas Gulick, (Francis) Pennington and Matthews, are to be found together in the Maryland catalogues only between the years 1686 and 1693. But, as the testator alludes to an active persecution, the will was probably dated after the Orange Revolution, and therefore between 1689 and 1693. Though this will was not executed, a note upon a scrap of paper would seem to intimate that some property of John Lundy's in Queen Ann's County was in the hands of the Fathers; and 100 acres were alienated by Nicholas Gulick to Bernard Griffin, in 1716. It is to be noted, however, that Gulick was not in the Society after the year 1695; though he may have remained in Maryland, for all that we know of him. As it seems clear that he, among the three Jesuit missionaries of 1686-1693, must have been the pastor of the Talbot County congregation, so, when he ceased to be of the Society, he may have used and disposed of the bequest without reference to the Order.

Mr. Londey's Will.

I — — — bequeath to the upholding of the R. C. Chaple, built at the Mouth of Wye River, the one Moiety of my real and personal estate. . . . Further my will is, if in case the Catholicks in Talbot County should be under persecution and be restrained from having liberty of conscience — — — like to continue, so that no benefit of the said Chaple they have, that the moiety of my estate as aforesaid, intended for the use of the said Chaple, shall be equally distributed and divided between Mr. Nic. Gulick, Mr. Pennington and Mr. Mathew's Priests of the Society of Jesus; and further do empower my said executrix to make a firm sale and title to any person or persons of either party or the whole quantity of five tracts of land, containing in all eleven hundred acres of land; and, if my executrix will hold the said 1100 acres of land to her own use, &c., then she shall pay for the one moiety thereof, given for the use aforesaid, pay 2000 pounds tobacco per one hundred acres; which will all amount to, &c., to be converted to the use aforesaid.

Additions to St. Thomas's Manor. Three parcels of land, named Piercefield, Splittfield, and Hazard, all adjoining the eastern side of the manor, to the east of Portobacco Creek, were bought by Father William Hunter of Mr. Notley Rozer ; and the deed of conveyance was executed on Nov. 20, 1711. They consisted respectively of 100 acres, 30 acres, and 100. The conveyance of the 100 acres, called Hazard, was found to be ineffectual. The vendor, Francis Gunby, had given the purchaser, Col. Benjamin Rozer, no deed for the sale ; and then, disinheriting a son, left this property to one Richard Wharton, of the Eastern Shore, in the year 1704. Some ten years later, after buying it from Notley Rozer, Father Hunter, in another deed, bought it for £5 sterling from Richard Wharton ; but the deed was not executed then. Mr. Hunter died in 1723 ; and when George Thorold, his heir, deeded all the property to Peter Attwood three years afterwards, the latter inserted in the draft of the conveyance these words : As also all his right, &c., unto 3 tracts of land lyeing on the east side of Portobacco Creek, the one called Splittfield containing 30 acres, another called Piercefield, and the third called Hazard, containing [each ?] 100 acres. These 3 tracts of land were conveyed to Mr. William Hunter by Mr. Notley Rozer. A fourth parcel in the same locality was called Mankins Adventure, of which Attwood says plainly in his Record, that it is mostly, if not wholly included in Hazzard and Splittfield, and younger than both.<sup>7</sup> This he wrote on Jan. 20, 1727. Yet, as in other cases, we find him buying the same tract a second time. First, Mar. 19, 1729, a deed was drawn up between himself and Stephen Mankins, whereby the latter conveyed to him this property for lbs. 1000 of tobacco, and 10 shillings current money. This deed was not executed. But, in the following year, on Oct. 1, 1730, the deed was executed, the said property consisting of 65 acres, and the consideration being lbs. 1200 tobacco and 10 shillings.

Robert Brooke, S.J., was a native of Maryland, and, having entered the Society in 1684, when about 21 years of age, he resigned all rights to his patrimony some five years later, expressly in favour of the Maryland Mission, as we gather from the General's letter:<sup>8</sup>—

The General, March 26, 1689, to the English Provincial John Keynes: Quod Reverentia Vestra de Roberto Brooko scribit, annuo postulatis, ut suis videlicet se bonis abdicare valeat, eaque missioni Marilandiae applicare.

Then he was superior of the Mission from about 1708 to 1712, succeeding Father William Hunter, and succeeded by Father Thomas Mansell, who again was followed by Father George Thorold. By the will of his father Thomas, this Jesuit Robert had been left heir to part of a tract, his elder brother Thomas being heir to the other part, but their mother enjoying the whole as tenant during life. Robert the Jesuit conveyed away his rights; and he died in 1714.<sup>9</sup>

<sup>9</sup> To him, no doubt, refers the short obituary notice inscribed about the very time on the inside of the cover of L. 1, in the Md.-N. Y. Archives: - - - died on the 4th of April, 1714. Benefac- - - .

Ten years later in 1723-4, his brother Thomas, who was still waiting to enter into possession of his own part, disputed the right to the other part, inasmuch as Robert had been a Roman Catholic priest; and thereby he contested the validity of the subsequent conveyance made by Robert the priest. This went to defeat the title of the purchaser (Thomas Mansell, and through him George Thorold, at present vested with the right). The case was presented to lawyers, who affirmed the validity of Robert's claim. We give a brief abstract of the consultation.

B.

The Case : Thomas Brook, by his last Will and Testament in writing duly executed, devised a certain tract of land to his wife for her life, and by the same Will devised part of the same land after his said wife's death to his eldest son, Thomas Brook and his heirs; and the remaining part thereof, after his said wife's death, he devised to his second son, Robert Brook and his heirs.

The said Robert died before his said mother, haveing in his life time conveyed away his right to the said part devised to him by the said will, being at the time of makeing such conveyance a priest of the Church of Rome; but never was convicted of recusancy or any other crime.—The person that purchased Robert's remainder in fee died in the life time of the testators widdow, haveing first duly made his will in writeing and devised the said remainder in fee to an other.—

Qu.: Whether the conveyance made by Robert, and the devise made by his grantee be good, so as to take effect in possession, immediatly after the death of the widdow who is still living?

Answer : I think the devise and the conveyance are good, and that the devisee will have a good title to the part to him devised, after the death of the widdow.

J. DARNALL.

9 Decr., 1723.

The Case, same as above, in same hand; but for the solution a different hand:—

Answer : I look upon this case to be relating to lands in the Plantations, where our Act against Popery of the 11 and 12 W. 3 does not extend, and upon that consideration I am of opinion, that the conveyance by Robert well convey'd his remainder devised to him by his father, dependant on his mother's death, to his grantee. And the devise by the grantee will be good and take effect in possession, upon the death of the widow of Thomas Brook, who is tenant for life. But, if this case was concerning lands lying in England, the devise by Tho. Brook to Robert, being a Roman Catholic, would have been void; and consequently the grant of Robert and the devise by his grantee would have been void.

their religion, and that no Popish Priest can be prosecuted for exercising his function as that law directs. To which they act in contradiction in endeavouring to convict Robert Brooke, for and by exercising the said function, and not only convict but punish him by forfeiture of his land, etc., and this after his death. Upon which I observe—

First, that he was not convicted of this or any other crime, at the time of his conveyance nor in his lifetime; therefore his deed was good.

2dly. That he was not to be prosecuted for the exercise of his function as that law directs, even in his lifetime; therefore much less when dead.

3dly. That to allow him to exercise his function, and to bring the said exercise as proof of his being a Priest, and upon such conviction to punish him, is a contradiction.

4thly. For, as to exercise the function of a Priest supposes Priesthood, so to allow the one is to permitt the other; and therefore when and where the law directs, that no one shall be prosecuted for exercise of the priestly function, there and then the same law must direct, that the same person is not to be prosecuted for being a Priest; because without this he cannot exercise the function of a Priest.

5thly. Unless there be a Priest, there is no exercise of his function; without this the people have no use of their religion; therefore, since this is allowed to the people, the function must be allowed to the Priest; and therefore his Priesthood must not be punishable.

6thly. It's trifling to say, we punish him not for the exercise of his function, but for his being a Priest; because, where that is innocent, this must [not] be punishable; for what would it avail the people to have the use of their religion allowed, or the Priest that he shall not be prosecuted for the exercise of his function, if this same exercise shall be taken as proof to convict him as Priest, and then to punish him for being a Priest. If this be allowed, then no use of religion is allowed to the people, nor any exercise of his function to the Priest; unless you say it's lawfull for the Priest to do that for which he may be hanged.

Lastly, supposing all the laws in force and no such liberty allowed, yet no person is guilty in law till convicted; and, supposing that a posthumous conviction were allowed, it cannot retrospect or rescind a deed which was duly executed before conviction, when the person was rectus in Curia, as all are till convicted to be otherwise.

Ejectment, tried

May term, 1729.

On special verdict it was found that Thos. Brooke died seized in fee of the lands in question, and by his will (duly made) devised part to his eldest son Thos. (the plaintiff) in fee, and the residue to his second son Robert in fee, under whom the defendants claim. The ejectment was brought by Thos. to recover the lands devised to his brother Robt., because he was at the time of the devise a Rom: Cath: priest. Judgement for the defendant: vid. Lib. B. B. N<sup>o</sup> 2, fol. 15. I have furnished a copy of the special verdict. In this case two questions are decided: 1st. That the penal statutes which disabled Papists from purchasing lands, &c., did not extend to Maryland; 2d. That a Jesuite priest could take land by devise. . . .

Quantico on the Patuxent, in connection with the case of Brooke's patrimony. Within a year after the foregoing consultation of the lawyers, a business agreement was entered into by Father Thorold, which may throw light upon the Brooke law-suit; suggesting why it was at this precise date that the question was mooted and tried at law, as between Thomas Brooke, the Protestant councillor of Maryland, and his deceased brother, Robert the Jesuit. In that case Edward Cole was nominally the defendant. And it is to Edward Cole at this time that we find the Jesuit administrator, Father George Thorold, beginning to convey certain property. He promises to complete the transaction when he can; and he will have a guarantee inserted as against further claims of a Mrs. George Attwood. This George and his brother Thomas, a physician at Worcester in England, should both seem at first sight to have landed interests in Maryland; George, inasmuch as against his wife Thorold will give Cole a guarantee for the

It is clear that no exigencies of an estate in England could have prompted Thomas the doctor to relieve George the squire of twelve working negro slaves. But, in fact, this may have been only a donation from the physician to one of the Jesuit farms. And Father Peter Attwood himself puts his signature as a witness to the bargain between his brothers. ## No. 48.

The entire quantity of Jesuit property in Maryland, at the beginning of 1727.

From the foregoing conveyance it appears that, in 1726, all the town land of St. Mary's City had disappeared from the assets of the Fathers, except only 40 acres about the Chapel; reducing that property by 360 acres.<sup>14</sup> The 750 of Bretton's Neck are put down as only 700. Piercefield consisted really of only 20, instead of 100 acres, as explained by Attwood in his Record.<sup>15</sup>

Hence the sum-total of landed foundations on the Western Shore, belonging to the Society at the date of Thorold's deed, we compute as having been 7990 acres; in round numbers, 8000.<sup>16</sup>

On the Eastern Shore, at the time when Attwood drew up his Record Jan. 20, 1727, there were nominally 1183 acres already acquired, whereof one piece, the 75 acres of Simms Prime Choice, were practically 35, the rest being part of Heath's Longlands, which Mansell had proceeded to buy.

Thus, on the Eastern Shore there were 1143 acres, which with the accession of Askmore's 550 acres, a few years later on April 20, 1732, made the sum-total of landed property at Bohemia 1693, or in round numbers 1700 acres. Of this some claims had to be bought up a second time in 1731, as the result of legal difficulties with a neighbour, Joshua George. Cf. Nos. 82, 83, B.

The entire foundation, on Eastern and Western Shore together, amounted at this epoch to the sum of 9133 acres.

No. 49.

1633-1727.

Devises of land made to the Jesuits in Maryland, during this first period.

First, there was the bequest of Morrice O'Daniell's Rest at Bohemia, left to Thomas Mansell and William Douglass. This moiety of an interest in the whole would mean a full right to one half of the 300 acres, and the purchase of the remainder from Douglass when the latter made over his title to Father Mansell.

<sup>14</sup> The Chapel lot itself disappeared later, being resurveyed for Vernon Hebb, May 14, 1764 (Annapolis Land Records, Warrants, Lib. W. S. 6), on the ground that no patent to Cuthbert Fenwick could be found. But the patent is on record, where Cuthbert Fenwick's Certificate of Survey is seen (Lib. 1, fol. 117; old Lib. F. fol. 135).

Secondly, young John Simms, who seems to have died at the age of 17, bequeathed his Prime Choice, 75 acres, to Mansell. This piece was found to be good for only 35.

Hence, as all the rest of the landed foundation was distinctly purchased, only 185 acres are to the account of legacies, while 9498 acres had been bought for valuable considerations.<sup>17</sup>

<sup>17</sup> For this period, compare a statement made in a report to the Propaganda ninety-three years later: Quando Jesuitae (150 circiter abhinc annis) in hanc nostram Marylandiae provinciam advenerunt, juxta leges a nobilissimo principe Baltimore latas maximam quantitatem terrarum, quae tunc tempore vili pretio habebantur, dono accipere, ratione videlicet hominum, quos ex Europa secum adduxere. See infra, No. 115, § 9. Juxta leges a nobilissimo principe Baltimore latas, that is, the Conditions of Plantation, each man brought over by the Fathers cost the latter £20 sterling; and for this outlay on behalf of the colony 500 acres, at the beginning, were assigned per man; at later periods, less. Cf. supra, No. 9, p. 146; also History, I. § 20, pp. 252, 253. Hence, for dono accipere, the text of the report should have run, "pretio soluto accipere," as the next clause in the same sentence implies: ratione videlicet hominum quos ex Europa adduxere. The idea of a free gift seems to have arisen from a foreigner's misconception of the English word "grant," which occurs in warrants and patents. In a much greater question, that of Alexander the Sixth's "donation" to Spain and Portugal, when by his Bull of delimitation he "gave" the Indies East and West to those Powers, compare the meaning of that term, as implying a just right acquired (L. Pastor, Geschichte der Päpste, iii. 519 (edit. 1899); Hergenroether, Katholische Kirche und christlicher Staat, 341).

In the report to the Propaganda, just cited, the next paragraph begins: Praeter has amplissimas terras, alia et quidem pinguissima praedia in decursu temporum acceperunt a piis donatoribus; in perpetuum usum Ecclesiae Americanae ipsorum bonae fidei commissae sunt. See infra, No. 115, § 10. The verification of this statement belongs partly to the documents already given, and partly to those now following, which shall be equally exhaustive (§§ 7-10).

§ 7. PARTICULAR BEQUESTS AND BENEFACTIONS, 1727-1780.

Having mentioned in several Numbers of the preceding Section the contributions of legacies made or projected during the first period of 94 years, we shall now give a distinct Section to the documents which report similar contributions during the second period of the Maryland Mission. These will be found to consist rather in the patrimonies of Jesuits, assigned by themselves to their own Order for the service which it rendered to the Church; and besides in the very ample allocation of funds belonging to the English Province, and never made good by the Mission to the home office in London. Many special acts of kindness performed by the English Catholic gentry are to be traced in the accounts extant; as when we read of George Hunter, to whose administration in the future Maryland was to owe so much, that he was cared for by the Duchess of Norfolk as his guardian or patron. An old procurators' day-book of Liège College has this entry about the young novice: 1731, Sept. 20. Received of the Dutchess of Norfolk by Mr. Lawson, in full of Geo. Hunter's board and first cloaths, £19. 12s. 2d.<sup>1</sup> One gift bestowed from without the Order and in Maryland itself was a noble one. It was that made by James Carroll of his landed estates called Fingall and Carrollsburg, which, under the more familiar name of White Marsh, met with the rare fortune of becoming celebrated in the folios of the Papal Bullarium, as also in that of the Propaganda.

The release of debt by the parent Province to the Maryland Mission. Father Peter Attwood, in whom all the titles of both Western and Eastern Shore, Maryland, were vested by 1728, and to whom as second devisee the estate of White Marsh was bequeathed by James Carroll in the same year, obtained, a few months later, the remission of all arrears due from Maryland to the English Province. The consideration, in view of which the Provincial granted this discharge, was something which Father Thorold had given to Attwood; whether that meant the deed of the Western Shore

Mr. Jno. Turberville, in a letter to Mr. George Thorold, dated 9ber the 10th, 1728, by Capt. Watts. . . . As for the arrears to Mrs. Province, Mr. Attwood desiring a release of them, in consideration of what you've given to him, you needn't be in any concern about them, till you hear farther, but only keep touch for the future and pay your quota for them who are sent you — — — As for what he (Mr. Attwood) writ about requiring something of the congregations to support the charge and expenses of the Mission ; seeing you have no custome or president for it, and they pleading poverty, I would have you very cautious in doing it. If your workmen be spareing in their expenses, as prudently he says he exhorted them to be, I hope you may subsist without making your congregations contribute to it.

<sup>3</sup> However, neither of these deeds could be called a gift from Thorold to Attwood or the Society, since he held such titles only in the name of the Order. Besides, as to White Marsh, that was still in his name as late as 1737 (No. 74, B).

The capital of three life annuities assigned to Maryland, the interest of which had to be paid by the English procurator. In 1763, they amounted in the aggregate to £1733/6/8. The annuity of £100 due to one person, Miss Elizabeth Sheppard, by marriage Mrs. White, was not extinguished for a quarter of a century or more.<sup>7</sup> It was at 8 per cent. on the capital, and it came to be known in business controversies as the White annuity. Another annuity, that due to Mrs. Frances Howard, was at 9 per cent., and seems to have been extinguished earlier. A third, Miss Elizabeth Plunket's annuity, came to an end with her death after about seven years.

The final outcome of all this was that, in 1789, during the Suppression of the Society, a large outstanding debt of £1413/13/8 $\frac{1}{2}$  was due to the London office of the English Fathers. The whole of it was remitted by the procurator Father William Strickland to the new Bishop, Dr. John Carroll, upon a new understanding for the future.<sup>8</sup> But this did not prevent a new misunderstanding, which ended in 1811 with the cancelling by the same Father Strickland of a new debt, £429/19/4, which had accumulated again.<sup>9</sup>

<sup>7</sup> Mrs. White died July 7, 1794. Hence her annuity at 8 per cent. absorbed the capital several times over. In some notes about Carroll's money affairs with Strickland, B. U. Campbell, after copying the date of Mrs. White's death, makes the following observation on a letter apparently of Strickland's, August 9, 1789: About Pa. fund, Mrs. White's annuity, and $20,000 due by Americans to English Province. Georgetown College MSS., folio blank book, Campbell's sheets inserted.

The policy of financial independence. To explain the principle quoted above from Father Turberville's letter of Nov. 10, 1728,<sup>10</sup> that, if possible, nothing should be demanded of the Christian flock for the support of the missionaries, there are several pertinent documents which may be quoted. And, as to the carrying out of this principle in practice, illustrations abound; inasmuch as the current accounts show the missionary farms taxed for the general support of the Mission, or their charity called upon for the purchase of a new station like that of St. Joseph's on the Eastern Shore; but show nowhere any trace of the faithful being taxed either for the maintenance of their local stations or for that of the general establishment.

4. As the good of the Mission absolutely depends upon it, all must readily concur, according to their respective abilities, to the raising the annual sum of £200, as was most wisely settled by mutual agreement in 1751, for the publick good and for procuring fresh supplies, and sending home those who are less fit for service, it being, from the iniquity of the times, impossible for the Province to bear that burden. But then care must be had, that this burden be equaled as much as may be to the circumstances of each settlement; and, when one is found to be overated, the Superior must see the partie grieved be eased, and portion out the grievance upon others better able to bear it. . . .

[12.] All independence upon seculars, so desirable in itself, so much recommended by our holy rules and constitutions, must by all possible means be maintained. 'Tis notwithstanding highly unreasonable, that the Province, as it has done, should continue to run itself into great inconveniences and debt to support the said independence, though so much to be wished for. Wherefore Maryland must necessarily order things so as to support itself, as the Generals orders require and all our colleges and districts do; least otherwise that flourishing Mission (which God forbid) run to decay for want of fresh supplies, or it be found necessary to levey charitable contributions upon those, for whose help and assistance they are procured.

Bishop Carroll's statement of the foregoing policy, regarding the financial independence of the Jesuit missionaries, and the vesting of religious property titles. In a series of letters from April to July, 1802, addressed by Dr. John Carroll to the Rev. Mr. Rossiter at Philadelphia, the Bishop had occasion to review the old system of ecclesiastical tenure by the Jesuits, and to lay down certain principles of management for one who, like Father Rossiter, was in charge of the Society's property. It was just then being threatened with the invasion of lay-trusteeism.

Same to same, Baltimore, May 5, 1802:

. . . If the motion brought forward, as mentioned by you, went so far as an attempt to divest the legal proprietors of the presbytery, old chapel, and lots thereto belonging, of their absolute right in them, or to limit their power of disposing of them according to their best judgment; I must say, that it was a weak motion, and calculated to destroy all harmony and confidence. In the first place, the legal proprietors will probably be advised, and for their security resolve, to let their house at will, &c., to the Clergy belonging to St. Mary's Church . . . 2ly. Tho the mover of the resolution had probably no such intention, yet it carries on its face an idea, that the priests there living ought to be dependent on the Trustees only for every temporal enjoyment, and the use even of those things which do not belong to the Trustees. 3ly. If these gentlemen claim any right to the property above specified, it must be on the supposition that whatever any one holds, and by whatever title, yet if it was purchased or granted originally for the promotion of Religion, the property must of course vest in them. This is too glaring an absurdity, and would strip every ecclesiastical community, every parish priest, &c., of their estates. Those who took up, purchased, and improved the property at Philadelphia had to [no?] such idea; for Trustees were not known or thought of at that time. . . .

On May the 14th, the Bishop making his visitation has not yet had time to examine the manuscript of Rossiter; and, on June 4th, writes hurriedly, denouncing the attempts of lay-trusteeism, which rendered the infamous Talleyrand, Bishop of Autun, the scandal and destroyer of religion in France.

1802, July 13.

Bishop Carroll on the vesting of Jesuit property titles in Pennsylvania and Maryland. Philadelphia property. On an issue between the Rector, Rev. John Rossiter, and his two curates, Rev. Messrs. Fitzpatrick and Lacy.

Extracts from a letter of Bishop Carroll to me, July 13th, 1802.

"The lots, on which stand the old chapel, the presbytery and the ground thereto appertaining, are a fee-simple property without any trust thereto attached: they are held by one of the old clergymen, who have been long in the service of the American church, as his private individual property; and, if his conscience do not restrain him, he may legally convey them to any person in or out of the U. States, capable of receiving a deed or inheritance.

"I have no doubt but the clergyman, who first acquired these lots, had in view the accommodation of himself and successors, having the charge of souls in Philadelphia; but neither he who first acquired, nor those who have since succeeded to that estate, ever accepted it in trust.

"In those times the Congregations were not called on for the support of their pastors; and for this reason the heads of the Mission made a point of reserving real and personal property for the maintenance of the pastors as the only assured means of their subsistence.

"This was the policy pursued in Maryland and Pennsylvania; the only States where the Catholic profession was allowed. Hence the property at Philadelphia, Lancaster, Coshenopen, Conewago, &c.

"Whatever property was thus acquired by the predecessors of the Ex-jesuits now remaining was vested absolutely in one of the body, and not in the body itself, this being unknown to the laws of this country: the property descended by will or deed to its present owner.

"It was a maxim of the Society to exercise the spiritual functions, allowed by the Bishops, in entire independence of the laity.

"The members were not permitted to require retributions for Masses or any other services. Hence, as much as possible, they avoided holding property under any legal trust, which might subject their management to any accountability, except to their own Superiours.

"But, however independently of every person the present legal proprietor of the stock, presbytery, and old chapel, holds that property, yet he has no other intention than to leave it for the present applicable to the benefit of the clergymen officiating there.

"You, by my appointment, are his agent, and his property is under your sole management.

"You alone have a right to direct any repairs or alterations in it, unless these should alter essentially the building, or should burden the property with debt; your office of manager is sufficient to authorise you to proceed to the best of your judgement; but in every material step it is becoming to advise with the Bishop or the person in whom the property is vested.

"Hence you must infer, that Mr. — — — pretensions are inadmissible, so far I mean, as he contends for a right to interfere in the temporal administration and concerns of the presbytery and old chapel: and it was over meddling in him to bring before the Trustees the subject of alterations in the latter, without your previous approbation.—Indeed, as that property is no wise under the controul of the Trustees, I do not see, why it should be mentioned at all to them, in their corporate capacity.

"This is the summary of my letter:

"1<sup>o</sup> You are the sole agent for the legal owner of all the property at Philadelphia belonging to the late Society; whether consisting in houses, lots, ground-rents or interest of money in the publick funds — — — <sup>(a)</sup>

"2<sup>o</sup> You are under no obligation to take direction from the Trustees or your companions, concerning repairs of the house or economical arrangements.

"3<sup>o</sup> Whenever you ask their advice, reserve to yourself the right of decision."

Here Rossiter proceeds to draw some inferences, which however are not marked by the same accuracy or lucidity, which characterized the bishop's statements. Having an eye only to the evil in Philadelphia, which both he and Bishop Carroll were combating, that of lay-trusteeism encroaching on ecclesiastical rights, Rossiter seems to infer from the bishop's statement about the use of the Society's property for the benefit and accommodation of pastors in a given mission, that the mission itself so benefited by the Society's property was by right the beneficiary thereof, and not gratuitously so, subject only to the limitations stated above by the General, Francis Piccolomini (No. 55). This notion became a dominant factor in controversies for thirty-five years after the date of this correspondence. Having rehearsed the bishop's letter, as just given, Rossiter proceeds to draw the following inferences:—

B.

I have now only to observe that, from the extracts of the Bishop's letter, it appears to me that clerical property in Philadelphia is of the same nature as the clerical property in this country, in Conewago and other places. It was acquired and is held for the benefit and accommodation of the lawful pastors officiating here and in other places.

That it is exclusively under the control and management of the clergy; and can never be considered as forming any part of the fund or monies, which the congregations or the Trustees of congregations, in the different stations of this diocese, have under their own control or direction.

Endorsed: Copy of a Letter from Arch Bishop Carroll to Rev. Mr. Rossiter.

The Rev. John Rossiter's manuscript, as quoted in the preceding No.; dated July 13, 1802.

It will be seen later that the Jesuits, whose property was considered by Carroll and Rossiter, and afterwards by Bishop Conwell of Philadelphia, to be a reserve and protection for the Ordinaries against the encroachments of lay-trusteeism, were themselves represented to the Roman authorities as being at one with lay trustees in operating against the Ordinaries (Nos. 121, note 3; 130, A, 2°).

. . . The apostolic men who accompanied your ancestors — —, according to the laudable spirit of their institute, had hardly landed on the American shore, than they acquired property sufficient to free them from the necessity of requiring any retribution from their spiritual children. The profound respect and tender gratitude, which the Catholic congregations of your counties have constantly entertained for them during their lives and after their deaths, were the only temporal reward they ever received for their labours and indefatigable zeal. Nor do I doubt but their successors, members of the same Society, would act now with the same religious generosity, were they placed in the same circumstances. But, my dearly beloved, the situation of their temporal affairs is unfortunately very different from that of their venerable predecessors. . . .

B.

1728, February 12.

In the Name of God, Amen. I, James Carroll of Fingaul in All Hallows Parish, Ann Arundel County, being thro' the Mercy of God in perfect health, do declare what follows to be my last will and testament. . . .

I desire and appoint one thousand pounds sterling of the produce aforesaid be applyed towards the education of my nephew and heir apparent Anthony Carroll, my brother Daniel Carroll's only son, to be laid out in the manner hereinafter mentioned. . . . In case my aforesaid nephew shall dye or prove unsusceptive of learning, or prove incorrigible, or want application in any of the courses aforesaid before he attains to twenty-one years, then it is my will and [I] do require my executors to discontinue the application of money to his education; or, if he prove vicious, to also discontinue. In such cases it is my will that the money designed for his education be applyed to the education of my nephew James Carroll, son of my brother Michael, if he shall not exceed sixteen years of age at my death. . . .

It was this article of Mr. James Carroll's will, taken in conjunction with the accompanying dispositions about these two heirs, Anthony and James, becoming eventually joint executors, that occasioned the violent anti-Catholic agitation in Maryland of 1750 and many subsequent years, one of the acting executors having become a defaulter, and in self-defence casting up to these heirs their character of recusants and priests. Both of them at this time had become Jesuits.

After various items and legacies, the will proceeded to the immediate benefactions in favour of the Society. These were put by the testator under cover of the name of Charles Carroll, Esq., his cousin and godson, the faithful friend of the Order, father of Charles Carroll of Carrollton, and one of the acting executors, who is carefully to be distinguished from his namesake, the defaulting executor, Charles Carroll, surgeon, of Annapolis.

C.

I also bequeath unto my dear cosin, the said Charles, my dwelling place, consisting of two parcels of land containing about four hundred and fifty acres, allso what remains unsold of Bright Seat and Ayno near Patuxent about the head of South River in Ann Arundel County. Allso my lands called Carrolls Burgh, Chenys Plantation, and about sixty acres part of Ridgeleys and Tylers Chance. In all upwards of two thousand acres lying in Prince Georges County.

This estate of two thousand acres, somewhat modified by additional purchases, and by certain sales or exchanges, is what came to be known as the historical "White Marsh" of the next century. The will continues with the confidential trust in favour of the Society:

D.

Also my two lotts lying in Queen Anns Town,<sup>17</sup> and two parcells of land lying near the said town, one bought of Thomas Lancaster, t'other of Turner Wooten, lying in the sayd county. All which I give and bequeath unto the said Charles, his heirs and assigns for ever. Also all my servants and houshold stuff, goods and chattels and personal estate whatsoever and wheresoever and of what denomination soever, not before disposed of in and by this will, unto him the said Charles and his assigns for ever. Provision for James Carroll, nephew. Executors. See F.

Five days later, James Carroll, the testator, returns to this entire bequest, reforming it in a codicil, as follows:—

E.

The Codicil.

Whereas I, James Carroll of Allhallows Parrish, alias South River Hundred in Ann Arundle County, have by my last will and testament, bearing date the twelfth day of this Instant February, Anno Dom. 1728, bequeathed unto my Cosin, Charles Carroll, a certain part of my estate in trust and confidence, that he would invest therewith my good friend, Mr. George Thorold of Portobacco in Charles Co.; but, through apprehension of the said Charles Carroll's death, I do by this Codicill, which I desire and require to be deemed and taken as part of my last will and testament, confirm and give to the said George what I expected and do not doubt the said Charles would give, pursuant to my intention, if death or other accident did not interpose. Hereby confirming my former will in all respects, except the following clause which I do hereby rescind, annull and make void as to the said Charles, his heirs, executors and administrators. It is thus expressed, vizt.: I also bequeath unto the said Charles my dwelling place: here the whole passage as above is rehearsed, stating the parcels and items of what denomination soever. All which I gave and bequeathed unto the said Charles, his heirs and assigns for ever. But now by this Codicill do hereby give, devise and bequeath the aforesaid lands, goods and chattles, in as full and ample manner unto the aforesaid George Thorold, his heirs and assigns for ever, as the same are bequeathed to my aforesaid cosin. And do hereby give and bequeath the aforementioned lands and the goods and chattles aforesaid unto the said George Thorold, his heirs and assigns for ever. And, in case of his death before me, then I bequeath the aforesaid lands, goods, and chattles, unto my very good friend, Mr. Peter Attwood of Portobacco aforesaid, his heirs and assigns for ever. And, in case of both their deaths before myne, then I bequeath aforesaid lands and goods and chattles unto Mr. Joseph Greaton, his heirs and assigns for ever. In wittness whereof I have hereunto sett my hand and seal, this 17th day of February, 1728.

I appoint my cosin Anthony my heir-at-law and my aforesaid cosin James my joynt executors; and, during their minority and absence, I appoint my kinsmen and good friends, my aforesaid cosin and godson, Charles Carroll, Mr. John Diggs, Mr. Francis Hall, and my cosin Dr. Charles Carroll of Annapolis, executors of my last will and testament. <sup>18</sup> This Ant. Carroll, witness, is clearly the cousin-nephew, described in the will as now with me, son of brother Michael; and not the cousin-nephew Anthony, heir apparent, son of brother Daniel, a boy not yet of age. The legacy of the former is part of a property at Pipe Creek. After the provisions for the boys, Anthony and James Carroll, and stringent provisos to assure a Catholic education for both, the will continues: I give to my cousins, Dominick, Anthony and Daniel Carroll . . . 500 acres of land each to them severally . . . out of a tract of land called Pork Hall, lying at Pipe Creek; the remaining 980 I bequeath to my sister, Joanna Croxell, and my cosen, Mary Higgens . . .

The will is printed in K. M. Rowland's Life of Charles Carroll of Carrollton, ii., Appendix C, pp. 380-389, among other Carroll wills of 1718, 1780, 1825.*

This is the will about which, as about other bequests and purchases, it was contended later, that the property was never meant for the Society, nor ever rightfully appropriated by the Jesuits; that it was a trust for other parties, not yet indeed in America, nor as yet in existence, nor ever connected by birth or business with the actual donor or the vendors antecedent, nor claiming to be heirs and assigns of Thorold, Attwood, or Greateon, but still claiming a right to be substituted for the donees of one hundred years before.<sup>19</sup>

1728-1776.

Subsequent history of James Carroll's legacies to his nephews, Anthony and James, both Jesuits. The education of James Carroll, Jun., son of Michael, was provided for by his uncle's will. Particulars of his expenses at St. Omer's appear in the English procurators' accounts. He entered the Society in 1741, and died at Newtown in Maryland as a Jesuit missionary in 1756, at the age of 39. Anthony, the heir-at-law of James Carroll, Sen., entered the Society in 1744, at the age of nearly 22. He had been educated at St. Omer's, and thenceforward had large remittances sent to him by Mr. Charles Carroll, from which or from other funds in his name there were provided regular annuities for his sisters, Mrs. Margaret Biggs and Mrs. Mary Ashton; as well as appropriations for the benefit of St. Omer's, nearly £400 being assigned to that purpose at one time, 8th May, 1754. His nephew Ashton, a Jesuit, the future Father Ashton of Maryland, was provided with an annuity in 1765. Then in 1772 Father Anthony sent a power of attorney to Father John Ashton in Maryland, enabling him, payable for principal and interest upon and by virtue of a legacy of one thousand pounds bequeathed unto him, the said constituent, by his late uncle in and by his last will and testament.

Two years later, after the Society had been suppressed, he made some arrangement regarding a £28 sterling life annuity of his charged to the account of the old St. Omer's College now transferred to Bruges, and conducted still by his ex-Jesuit brethren. This was on the 23rd of April, 1774. With this benefaction of Mr. Anthony Carroll the following resolution probably was strictly connected. It was passed at the first congress of the English ex-Jesuits, who set the Maryland ex-Jesuits the example of forming themselves into a Body of Clergy acting through a Chapter.

Memoranda concerning Gates's land.

The patent or certificaté of David Drivers' land (now in possession of Anderson, son of Jn. Anderson, who escheated the above land of Drivers about the year 1721 or '22) calls for a white oak tree of Gates's Hope, which if made out would recover about 18 acres. David Drivers' land was taken up between the years 1668 and 1688.

Gates's Hope was taken up in 1668, and New Brandford in 1688. Gates's Hope, 150 or 200 acres, if the above boundary can be proved.

Gates's Purchase, 30 at first, by vacant land taken up afterwards made it 60 acres.

New Brandford, 170 acres.

A portion of the Longford estate, inherited by Father Gilbert Talbot (alias Grey), 13th Earl of Shrewsbury. The General approved of assigning some portion of what was realized by the English Province to the purchase of land in Pennsylvania. How much either the assets amounted to, or the quantity assigned to America, does not appear. The succession of the Jesuit to the Longford estate of his first cousin, John Talbot, was disputed by the members of Father Talbot's own family, on the ground of his being a Jesuit. In one issue of the litigation, that of Father Talbot's executor, Mr. Maire, versus Dillon, the defendant speaks of John Talbot's estate being worth in personal effects, £30,000 sterling, and in real property, £5000 sterling a year. The result of all the litigation was a compromise, which the General characterized to the Provincial as non aequum, tolerabilem tamen, not what equity demanded, but what the Fathers might put up with. And then the General approved highly of the allotment proposed, towards purchasing real estate in Pennsylvania, and affording relief to Pennsylvania affairs by such a contribution.

Sir John James, and his foundation for Pennsylvania missionaries.

There are two original statements of this fund : one from Bishop Challoner himself, the first recipient of the income and of the capital ; the other from the Jesuit procurator in London, about the time that the portion due to Pennsylvania began to be paid. The will of Sir John James was made on the 15th of May, 1740 ; the testator died on the 9th of December, 1741. His estate being kept in Chancery for some seven years, no proceeds were paid till 1748 ; and then the legacy of £4000 sterling having been saved by James Calthorpe from the general wreck of the charitable bequests in the will, payments began to be made by a Mr. C. to Bishop Challoner, and the fund of £4000 was itself received by the bishop in February, 1750/1. From that time forward till the proceeds were asked for in commendam by the Bishop of Philadelphia, in 1823 or thereabouts, the account of the fund stands out clearly in the books of the Westminster Diocese and in those of the Jesuit London procurators, and, where the diocesan records fail to report, those of the London Jesuit office and of the Jesuit Corporation in Maryland carry on the history with sufficient distinctness. A statement of the amount paid annually to Pennsylvania Jesuit missionaries may be seen entered in Father

The account of Sir John James' Fund begins in Bishop Challoner's Ledger (p. xliv.), from Michaelmas, 1748. The Bishop there states that the capital was £4,000, of which the income was to be applied thus: "£40 [a year] for 2 Priests for London to assist the poor," and "the rest for y<sup>e</sup> Jes<sup>s</sup> for Missioners in Pensilv. (not comprising him that was before established in Philadelphia)." The Bishop adds that the executor kept back all income till Michaelmas, 1748. In Feb. 1750/1, the £4,000 capital was received, and with it were purchased £4,000 East India annuities, 3½ %. In 1752, £2,000 of the East India 3½ % were sold; and the proceeds were invested at Paris in actions of the French India Company. At Christmas 1755, the East India 3½ % were reduced to 3 %. In 1760, the interest of the French investment was greatly reduced; and, in 1764 and '65, £400 of the £2,000 East India 3 % were sold for the purpose of "nourishing" the French actions. At the close of Bishop Challoner's account in 1780 (p. cxxix. of his Ledger), the capital consisted of £1,600 East India 3 % (bearing interest £48 a year), and 17 French actions (the interest of which in 1780 was £79. 10. 0): total interest £127. 10. 0 a year. The books containing the account from 1780 to 1819 I have not found. Much of the French portion of the capital was, it is likely, lost at the French Revolution. In 1819, the capital consisted only of £1213. 18. 3, 4 %, and £1700 Reduced 3 %. The 4 % were afterwards reduced to 3½ %; and, in 1838, the capital was divided thus:—£1333. 6. 8 of the Reduced 3 % were set apart to provide the £40 a year for 2 Priests in London; and the rest (£1213. 18. 3 Reduced 3½ %, and £366. 13. 4 Reduced 3 %) became the capital of the Pennsylvania Fund,—interest £53. 9. 8 a year. In 1874, when the capital (all consisting then of Russian stock, viz. £1110 5 % of 1822, £200 5 % of Moscow-Jaroslavl, and £300 4½ %) was sold, and its proceeds paid to the Bishop of Philadelphia for re-investment by him, the annual interest of the Pennsylvania Fund was £79.

The Joseph Semmes patrimony in danger. On Father George Hunter's next trip to Europe several cases of Maryland patrimonies were referred to him, one that of Charles H. Wharton at Liège, who gave a letter of attorney to Father John Diggs in Maryland; another, that of Joseph Semmes, also a young man at Liège, and some ten years in the Society. The will of his father, Joseph Milburn Semmes, under date of Aug. 25, 1763, devised 100 acres of the land called Leitchfield Enlarged to his (married) daughter, Eleanor Adams, and he gave unto his three daughters, Mary Ann, Martha and Teresa, all his lands and tenements whatsoever (except the 100 above mentioned) to be equally divided amongst them, his said three daughters, their heirs and assigns for ever; and he declared his will to be that, if either of the said three daughters should dye in their nonage or without lawful issue, then and in such case their part of land [was] to fall to the two surviving sisters; and he appointed the said daughters, Mary Ann and Martha, joint executrixes.

Five years later, Mary Ann died without issue (5 Nov., 1768). At the same date the two others, calling themselves late of Charles County, now of Liège in Germany, constituted severally their brother Joseph heir and sole executor of each. All the circumstances seem to show that the three sisters were nuns; and, as both of the survivors are at Liège, and make their devise precisely at the time of their eldest sister's death, possibly all three were canonesses of the Holy Sepulchre there. Joseph observes that their wills could take effect only with respect to personal estate; for, as to the real estate, he was by his father's will residuary heir-at-law of all. Then followed the issue, as Joseph stated it, on Feb. 16, 1770, in a letter for Mr. Hunter, London.

Now I should be glad to know, whether Ignatius Adams has any intention of depriving me of the estate, or whether he only meant to dispossess Thos. Semmes of the house and lands, as having taken possession thereof before the arrival of the deeds. If he intends to deprive me of the estate, I should be glad to know, what it is he goes upon in order to that end: perhaps because I am a Catholick, and so is his wife and children: perhaps because I am a Preist and Jesuit, and that is impossible for him to prove; which nevertheless he must do, since a man is always supposed innocent, till he is proved guilty. Your own good sense and prudence, Sir, will make you cautious in allowing anything, since he is to be put upon the proof of all he advances. I remain sincerely

*The Thomas Shea life-annuity. By indenture, dated Oct. 8, 1764, Thomas Shea of Baltimore Co., or, as it was afterwards called in that section, Harford Co., made over to Bennet Neale, for the consideration of five shillings current money of Maryland, two tracts of land, the one called Thomas's Beginning, lying on the south side of Deer Creek, laid out for 50 acres of land, the other called the Addition to Thomas's Beginning, lying on the east and west sides of Deer Creek, laid out for 65 acres of land more or less, reserving one-half acre where the Burying Place now is, for himself and family, as he shall think proper. Signed: Thomas Shea, his mark; witnessed by John Harris and Ignatius Wheeler, and recorded, Oct. 18, 1764. Father Bennet Neale during the rest of his life. The land was unimproved. And, as Bennet Neale's original purchase there, some 14 years earlier, of 18 acres from Henry Beech, part of a tract called Maiden's Bower Secured, had cost him £15 Maryland currency, these 115 acres of Shea's would be worth at the same rate about £96 currency. Now, as the rate of profit issuing from a capital of £96 currency could under no form of investment, and least of all that of unimproved land, contribute more than a fraction to the maintenance of a man, it is clear that what was nominally a donation of Shea to Neale was really a charity of Neale to Shea. On this account, and still more because this case of Shea's indenture furnished the basis for a great moral test-case in the future, we defer the full statement of it to the next § 8.<sup>27</sup>

§ 8. THE COLLEGE FOUNDATION IN MARYLAND, resumed—1727–1780.

This next period witnesses a further development of the policy heretofore adopted of rendering the property as secure as possible in the service of religion. New precautions were taken against the many accidents to which land was exposed, when it was held, not by any corporate body, unchanging and immortal, but by individuals in their own names. England at this epoch furnished only too many striking illustrations of the success which attended the lawless claims of legal heirs. The safeguard now added was that of heavy bonds given by the persons invested.

Another important element which appears is the case of an estate, which being claimed later, like so many other pieces of property, exhibited a distinct specimen of a new title invented and put forward; not that of a reversionary right to the property, vesting it in other people than the Jesuits; nor again that of lay trustees coming forward, as being in control by the very nature of the case, and taking charge of the clergy; but the simpler claim of direct possession by the laity from the first, through the donor's original dedication, whereby the Jesuits were merely trustees for the laity. This was the case of Deer Creek, a part of which came from T. Shea.

The line of descent by testamentary devise till the Maryland incorporation of the clergy, "who were formerly members of the religious Society known by the name of the Society of Jesus." *These last words used in the Declaration of Trust, which the residuary heirs in 1793 made according to the Maryland Act of Incorporation for the ex-Jesuits, show the destination, where all these trusts finally arrived and settled with the official licence and under the charter of the Legislature. Richard Molyneux bequeaths all the tracts to George Hunter, who was Superior for a long while; who in turn bequeaths it by his last will to John Lewis, Superior of the Mission and Vicar-General of the Vicar-Apostolic of London at the time of the suppression. Small chapel lots acquired by purchase or donation. As time advanced, the increase of population in Maryland and of new settlements made it necessary to establish more missionary stations than the large farms supplied. This led the Fathers to property arrangements in two lines. One was that of acquiring, whether by purchase or donation, a couple of acres for chapel purposes, church, and graveyard. Of these simple acquisitions we give several instances in the present Number. The other line of development was that of acquiring indeed the necessary chapel station, but then, for one reason or another, making it the nucleus of a new plantation, or of a city property. In this way there were developed as plantations St. Joseph's at Deer Creek in Harford Co., St. Joseph's on the Eastern Shore in Talbot Co., Mill Creek plantation, Delaware; and, as city institutions, the stations at Frederick and at Baltimore.

data still more vague about (1) the Mountain Prospect plantation, invokes the Rev. Mr. Dubois' authority in proof of the thesis that a property originally "entrusted" to the Jesuits "for the Mission or Congregation of Frederick Town," had been alienated by them in "violation of their trust;" and, in his private Diary, the same writer takes note of 9 acres and 4 acres, and of 50 acres woodland at 3 miles distance, still in the possession of the Jesuits, clearly the Lilly property of 1810 (No. 198). He says to the Propaganda that the generation which had witnessed the alienation or malversation of this trust by the Jesuits had almost entirely passed away,—clearly referring to Mountain Prospect, which Bishop Carroll disposed of in 1800, with powers of attorney from the Corporation, and which was Jesuit property before the congregation at Frederick Town existed. The Rev. Mr. Dubois might have known something indirectly about this latter plantation when he was acting for the ex-Jesuits as pastor in Frederick Town; he had nothing at all to do with Frederick or the Jesuits when the Lilly offer was made. On these premises Mgr. Marechal bases a charge of falsification against the Report submitted by Father Fortis, General of the Society, at the same time referring to Dubois as a witness. See No. 119, [IX].

Edenburgh: a critical business view of the trust vested in individual Jesuits. *The merely administrative trust or agency exercised by individual Jesuits, who in the eye of the civil law were full proprietors, seems to have exercised no influence on contracts of sale made to the Jesuits; but it was recognized in a practical way, when there was question of buying from them. Then it would appear that persons felt something to be wanting. This view was not correct, when a transaction was concluded with the Superior or person properly authorized. REVD. SIR, Inclosed I send you the Petition for an Act of Assembly to secure the titles of those who become purchasers of lotts in your town, which I think will do. I have left a blank for the number of acres contained in the lines, which you will fill up with the quantity as nearly as can be estimated. I have suggested the purchasers' apprehensions of your not being able to make a legal title to the lands, because you hold in right of the Church. This is necessary, as it would not do to say, you have an absolute fee and in the same petition pray an Act of Assembly to give you one: I have put it, as you will see, on the footing of quieting the doubts of purchasers; and have also prayed a power in the Act to lay of [off] additional lotts. The petition may be sent or delivered to Capt. Ware or Mr. Hawkins, who will get the plan of the town from Mast [?] Jenifer's annex[ed] to the petition, and get it delivered to the Governor in the first instance, according to the usual mode of offering petitions to the Assembly: he sends it to the Lower House where the Bill is framed. I should be glad you would get it fairly copied by Mr. Lucas or some person who writes a good hand; mine is a very cramp -- one, and I have reasons why I do not chuse a petition should be preferred to the Assembly in my hand writing. After it is copied you must sign it. Mr. Ware and Hawkins can explain to the House of Assembly the plan, convenience of the scituation, etc.

N.B. The copie must be exact as well in the form as in the substance of the petition.

Addressed: To Rev<sup>d</sup> Mr. Hunter.

Enclosed:

To His Excellency Robert Eden Esquire, Governor and Commander in chief in and over the Province of Maryland: And the honourable The Upper and Lower Houses of Assembly.

The Petition of George Hunter of Charles County most humbly sheweth.

That your Petitioner is seised and possessed in and of a tract of land lying on the east side of Portobacco Creek in Charles County, called St. Thomas's Manor, on part of which your Petitioner at the request and for the convenience of the inhabitants of the County aforesaid and others has laid off a town by the name of Edenburgh, according to the plan hereto annexed.

That purchasers of lotts in the said town are apprehensive your Petitioner can't make a title in fee to the same, he holding the said land in right of the Roman Catholic Church.

To remove which doubts your Petitioner, being willing to gratify and make all purchasers of lotts in the said town secure, most humbly prays that an Act of your Excellency and Honours may pass, vesting your petitioner with the compleat fee-simple of that part of the said tract of land, which is contained in the following metes, courses, lines and distances, to wit:—Here follows a long description: thence south twenty-two degrees east, three thousand five hundred and eighty feet to the beginning — — containing — — — acres; for the purpose only of enabling your Petitioner to confirm, make valid and legal, the titles of all those who become purchasers of lotts in the town aforesaid.

And also that a power may by the said Act be given to your Petitioner and his successors to make a legal title in fee-simple in any lotts hereafter to be added to the said town land, for the greater convenience of the people; for which your Petitioner as in duty bound will ever pray.

Md.-N. Y. Province Archives, Carton A, 1, 2 double folios; original letter of T. Stone to George Hunter, and draft of petition.—As to new towns, cf. J. T. Scharf, History of Maryland, i. 411.

*From the tenor of these two documents it is clear that the lawyer and the Father considered the right of the Jesuit Superior perfectly good; that they considered the Assembly would take the same view, since the Assembly could give no vested right to Hunter in the premises, if he had it not already, but could only enable him to use it; and that all parties alike regarded the possession of property by the Jesuits as in the right of the Roman Catholic Church and for her perpetual benefit. Bohemia, Eastern Shore: quieting its possession and completing its range. Father Attwood had to pay over again for the quiet possession of St. Xaverius, commonly called Bohemia. The surveyor and the sheriff, John Campbell, signed and sealed the report inscribed on the face of the map, under date of Mar. 26, 1731. The result of all this was that not only the Jesuits but Mr. Heath and other neighbours found their plantations cut out before their eyes. The survey had proceeded on the assumption that two thoroughfares, one called the Delaware High Way and the other the Delaware Path, were one and the same. Upon this an amount of litigious papers has gathered in the archives, sufficient to ground a very fair history of all those environs, from the time, September, 1682, when the well-known Augustine Herman first received the titles for his Bohemia Manor of 6000 acres and his Little Bohemia of 1000 acres. What the final settlement was may be gathered compendiously from the following statement of Father Attwood's, endorsed on the same map which bore inscribed the surveyor's report. (Cf. No. 28, p. 210.)

MEMORANDUM. That upon the within survey Mr. Jos<sup>e</sup> George began [?] to assert his claim by ejecting old [?] Jno. Reynolds, whereupon Mr. Heath, Mr. Bennet and Mr. Attwood joined to defend the poor man and our own several claims. In order hereunto we procured several depositions (of which that of Otto Othoson and that of Nathaniel Sappinton were most material) to prove the old Delaware Path to be different from the Delaware High Way, as the patents of Little and Great Bohemia seem to imply; for, dated as they are on the same day, the one calls for the Path, the other for the High Way, for their boundaries; which difference of names cannot be supposed to be given by the same man and at the same time to one and the same path. This notwithstanding, Jos<sup>e</sup> George, making both the same, extends Middle Neck to the High Way, crossing over Hermans Branch above Jn. Reynolds's plantation; whereas the Path we proved crosses over the same branch about a mile below.

Upon a reference between Jos<sup>e</sup> George, Mr. Bennet and Mr. Attwood, it was agreed to divide the distance between the path and the road, and make that middle place the boundary of Middle Neck Manor; and now it only remained to determin how the line from thence should be drawn to the head of St. Austins Creek, whether (as in the plot) to the head of the southermost Branch of St. Austins Creek, or to the high water mark of the said Branch, or whether to the head of the northermost Branch which runs to the Cross-paths [viz. the boundary of Bohemia property at the first Run across the road?] and down the same, or to high water mark of the same Branch, or lastly whether to that point of St. Xaverius where the two Branches divide, or that point of Middle Neck that is opposit thereto.

Thus George, having won already the first half of his contention for a mile, had now any one of six solutions to determine the rest of his claim; and, like most people who are bold and dare, and whose every card in a game of compromise will give them something, Mr. George did not come out of the affray empty-handed. Father Attwood goes on to tell how—

After many arguments pro and con. all agreed to take releases from Mr. Jos<sup>e</sup> George, for whatever land of each one's the [Middle Neck] Manor [of Mr. George] might include; and for the same to pay him some acknowledgment for the trouble and expence he had been at. Mr. Attwood gave him £35 current, for a release of whatever land he claims, which said deed was executed and acknowledged, July 24, 1731, at Annapolis, before Col. Fendall.

Bohemia: attempts at expropriation by violence. *The first James Heath, who sold St. Ignatius' and other tracts to Father Mansell, would seem to have been a Catholic. A descendant of the family shows that the second Heath, James Paul, was clearly a Catholic, and in his will of 1745, he left £10 to the presiding priest at Bohemia. In this same year, 1745, a third James Heath is seen registered as the first scholar at the Jesuits' Latin school, which was opened under Father Henry Neale's superintendence on the St. Xaverius plantation. <sup>10</sup> Rich. Molyneux, erased.

Ignatius.<sup>11</sup> A part of Ask-more, or John Crosby's plantation, he tells me falls to him by a warrant given to his grandfather. The rest he expects to get by ejection, because it was only a gift to us and not purchased, etc. On the other side I am informed, that Mr. Sidney George is about taking away from us all that land which was in dispute at his father's time, and for which we have paid £35 Maryland currency to prevent law-suits; because, as he tells himself, his father then had only a lease of that land, and consequently no right to dispose of it. He claims the land on which our barn and dwelling house stand, and this he tells me falls to him by an older right he bought lately of the Van Bebers; so that we shall have little or nothing at all left to ourselves to live upon. If this should take place, I think it is now high time some thing should be done. Heath's violence is described: at John Crosby's by drawing away the rails I got made last winter, and which were lying both side the road to Warwick. At this stage, Manners persuaded him to stop, and promise to bring back the rails. He, on his side, required Manners not to take away the rails till the matter was settled. But nothing was done. Then came on a new access of violence. Heath rode up, ordered me three times to be tied, cocked his pistol, pointed it at my breast; he fell upon the negroes with blows; Rachel received three on the head. Manners disarmed the brutal overseer, who along with a huge negro was belaboring her head and side, though big with child. Heath was sorry he had not met Manners at first with all his negroes; then, said he, he would have played the devil with me and my negroes. He has two lawyers, Gordon and Thomas Hans; Manners has only one, Joe Earle, a good pleader, who does not want an assistant. I have sworn peace against Mr. Heath at publick court, which I was advised to do by Dr. Matthews, William Rumsey, Esq., and the lawyer, in order to secure my own and the negroes' life. Father Lewis had better come over himself. Manners adds an Appendix to the first page. But one thing puts me to a stand, viz. my being a foreigner. . . . I can hold no land. He then gives directions about the way Lewis is to send his letter; to wit, through Mr. Mosley; otherwise it will be intercepted. Mr. Heath does not want this matter to come to the knowledge of Father Lewis or of the other gentlemen on the Western Shore.

This postal direction on his letter shows that the Father was reduced to the necessity of despatching his missive by boat across the Chesapeake to Annapolis, the capital of the province, in order to secure its transmission thence without fear of its being intercepted. And, from the contents of the letter taken in conjunction with the memoir of James Heath's descendant quoted above, we find that a spendthrift was the originator or inventor of a new plea in plantation history; to wit, that land owned by the Jesuits had only been given to them, and had not been purchased by them, and that therefore it was a legitimate prey for third parties to take over by any process of ejection.

On May 13, 1793, the Sulpician Fathers of Baltimore, being accorded the usufruct of this plantation by the ex-Jesuits, entered into possession. The Abbé Ambrose Marechal was recalled from St. Mary's County, and sent to occupy the estate and the pastoral station, in the name of the Sulpician Seminary.<sup>12</sup>

In the same year, on Oct. 3, Father James Walton, general trustee of the Jesuit property, made a sworn Declaration of his trust, and stated that this property contained about eleven hundred acres more or less.<sup>13</sup>

In May, 1795, the Abbé Marechal engaged a surveyor to lay out the estate on a plat,<sup>14</sup> which is extant, entitled, Plan général de la Plantation de Bohemia, Mai, 1795.

*Twenty-four localities are accurately laid out and are listed in the margin. The six main parcels of land, constituting the entire plantation, are defined; and a special list in the margin gives the number of acres in each. Red lines and letters indicate the old divisions: Les lignes et les lettres rouges servent à désigner les anciennes divisions de la plantation. Under the six specifications the sum-total is given, making allowance for a part formerly sold to J. Scott: Part. d'Askmore vendue autrefois à J. Scott; the Total actuel is 1185 acres; which agrees with Walton's statement. The part marked in Abbé Marechal's survey as having been "sold formerly" consisted of 180 acres; which at some earlier date may have given a sum-total of 1365 acres; and make it uncertain how long, if ever, this Jesuit estate consisted of the large proportions given in No. 48. condition of the bargain, then, were it taken only on the basis of a schoolboy's board at Bohemia in 1746, it would amount for a boy to £20 currency during the months of school, without counting the tuition, clothing, and incidental expenses; hence for a man it might well be put at £40 per annum, or twenty pounds sterling. Thus Father Bennet Neale's assets, on the strength of the Shea conveyance, would come to about three years' support of Thomas Shea. As a rate of interest like this, about 42 per cent. on the capital, agrees with no conception of a gift or life-annuity, the Shea transaction was a very onerous contract for Father Neale. But, sooner or later, the obligation ceased with the life of the old man, and the plantation was further developed.

In the General Chapter of the ex-Jesuits, which was formed as a preliminary to their incorporation, and which set down as a motive for its existence the principle of promoting and effecting an absolute and entire restoration to the Society of Jesus, if it should please Almighty God to re-establish it in this country, of all property belonging to it,<sup>18</sup> the first matter taken up in the second administrative meeting, that of 1786, was the question of Deer Creek. The members present being Fathers Ignatius Matthews, Walton, Diderich, Ashton, Robert Molyneux, and John Carroll, the particular resolves of the first day, Nov. 16, proceeded thus:

B.

1786, November 16.

The agent or procurator, Father John Ashton, bought immediately, on the 21st of December, 1786, 344 acres for the sum of £645 15s. current money. The property was called Arabia Petrea, and its previous owner was James Calhoun of Baltimore.

D.

In 1793 there appears mention of another Deer Creek property, which agrees in description with none of those recorded above, and which had been acquired since Father Hunter made his wills, no record of it appearing under his name. This was Pogmods in Harford Co. on Deer Creek, containing, says Father Walton, in his Declaration or dedication of property to the new corporate body, thirty-six acres more or less.

On the eve of establishing the Corporation of ex-Jesuits in 1793, Sylvester Boarman made an application for the appointment of a Commission, to ascertain the lines of the original parcels of land at Deer Creek, and especially the west side of a tract called Jericho, on which those lands much depend. He specified Thomas's Beginning, The Addition to Thomas's Beginning and part of Maiden's Bower, of which tracts he Boarman was seised. The Commission was appointed on April 8, 1793; its minutes run from Sept. 24, same year, till Oct. 31, and then they stop abruptly.

F.

Finally, in Archbishop Carroll's account of the property, when he undertook to sell it for the Corporation and did sell a good part of it in 1814, there appeared distinctly 175 acres more than have been accounted for above. And when in 1822 the Corporation sold Arabia Petrea, it named a tract, called Conveniency, contiguous to the former, and containing about 20 acres.<sup>19</sup>

In 1814 the estate about Deer Creek in Harford County comprised 690 acres, apparently in two chief parcels, the one being Paradise, the later acquisition through Ashton being Arabia Petrea. The chapel was five miles away from one of these chief farms. Of this property 479 acres had consumed £720 15s. of the Jesuit funds, while Shea's 115 acres, worth about £95, was said to have been charged with his board and maintenance during the rest of his life.

Deer Creek: dedication to the Corporation. In 1793, on Oct. 3, the nominal ex-Jesuit proprietors vested their titles in the new Board, which they called the Corporation of the Roman Catholic Clergy, and which they had caused to be legalized by a Maryland Act of Assembly for securing certain estates and property for the support and uses of the Ministers of the Roman Catholic Religion.<sup>20</sup> In accordance with the provisions of this Act the persons vested with titles proceeded to transfer their interest, which was only a confidential trust, to the body which should continue more securely the same fiduciary interest. There were three such persons: Walton, Ashton, and Robert Molyneux, and only the two former had titles of Deer Creek. These they resigned in the following terms:—

He declares the right to be vested in the same way as was stated in the body of the Declaration.*

Deer Creek: sale of the plantations. Seeing that a great moral case was supposed at a later date to be pivoted on the tenure and sale of this property by the Jesuits, as if they had held and sold other people's land, it seems better to put down at once the remaining historical data, and so evade the inconvenience of suspending the sequel or repeating the antecedents.

At a meeting of the Corporation or Board of Trustees, Nov. 3, 1801, there being present Bishop Leonard Neale, with Walton, Molyneux, Ashton, and Sewall, the affairs of Deer Creek were treated as follows:—

1801, November 3.

Proceedings of the Corporation, Nov. 3, 1801.

10<sup>o</sup> Having considered the affairs and debts of Deer Creek, and finding that the sum of £230.19.7½ is due to Rev. Mr. Pasquet on account of his own monies being paid to discharge sundry debts, and that there is also a sum of £285.12.5½ due from said estate of Deer Creek to sundry persons, the whole amounting to £515.12.1 [!]: Resolved:

That the agent do pay to Mr. Pasquet, for the present, two hundred dollars, and the remainder to the respective claimants as soon as the fund will allow it.

11<sup>o</sup> That the agent do also pay to Rev. Mr. Pasquet $36, which he demands as interest on $600 borrowed by him for the use of Deer Creek plantation.

Proceedings of the Corporation, May 24, 1803. 1803, May 24.

14<sup>o</sup> It appearing that the debts of Deer Creek estate have not been diminished, notwithstanding the provisions made for their reduction by the resolves entered into at St. Thomas's Manor, November 3, 1801, the interest of which debts is constantly adding to the burden; the members now assembled, wishing for a fuller Board, decline for the present to take a definitive resolution on this subject; but recommend it to the consideration of the Corporation [i.e. the Board] at their next meeting, whether it will not be advisable, with the concurrence of the Representatives, to sell the whole or some part of the said estate on Deer Creek.

C.

Proceedings of the Corporation, April 25, 1804. 1804, April 25.

5<sup>o</sup> The agent of the Corporation is directed to settle as soon as possible the claims of Mr. Pasquet and others against the estate of Deer Creek; and, to enable him to effect this, resolved, that the supernumerary slaves thereon be disposed of to humane and Christian masters, under the direction of the said agent.

In 1805, immediately upon the introduction of the Society again into Maryland, by the formal act of Bishop Carroll (June 21) as delegate of the General of the Jesuits in Russia, the Corporation which consisted regularly of four or five Trustees, including generally as members of the Board Bishops Carroll and Leonard Neale, proceeded to establish a perpetual fund, the interest of which to be applied to such occasional uses as the good of the Mission may require. And, accordingly, the Rev. Messrs. Bitouzey and Francis Neale were directed to take information concerning the propriety of selling the lands of Deer Creek, and the plantation in Delaware, Newcastle County, near Wilmington, also certain tracts of the White Marsh (Nov. 21, 1805; infra, No. 178, N). On Mar. 31, 1806, Father Francis Neale published an advertisement—

The meetings of the Trustees were held at this time about once or twice a year, sometimes not even once. All of the deliberations at which Deer Creek was mentioned, excepting only the first, were attended by Bishop Carroll, and, after the three first, by Bishop Neale likewise, the bishops always signing the minutes,—the two together being half of the Board, and on several occasions being two-thirds of the members actually in attendance.

The Rev. Mr. Pasquet, a secular clergyman, was authorized to rent out the two plantations on Deer Creek to the best advantage (Sept. 9, 1806, 6°). For a debt due to Pasquet from Deer Creek, the Corporation executed a bond to him, that part of the estate of that place, which is ordered for sale, being answerable therefor to the Corporation (Sept. 11, 1806, 5°). In order to the discharging of the bond of the Corporation held by the Rev. Mr. Pasquet, resolved that the agent shall call upon him to account for the rent of Arabia Petraea, and the black people removed from Deer Creek and employed by him for his own use (Oct. 4, 1808, 7°). Resolved that, pursuant to a resolution of the Corporation at their meeting at St. Thomas's Manor, Nov. 21st, 1805 [4th resolution], Messrs. F. Neale and Bitouzey be authorized to dispose of the estates on Deer Creek, and certain lots of land near the White Marsh, whenever they can do so advantageously; and, in the mean time, the Corporation grants to the Rev. Mr. Eden [a secular clergyman] the whole profits of the home place on Deer Creek and Arabia Petrea, allows him the sum received for a black girl sold by Rev. Fr. Beeston, the amount he may receive for two black boys at Mr. Benedict Greene's, and the use of another black girl, sister to the above, taken into Mr. Eden's service. Likewise, the Corporation authorizes the agent to advance one hundred dollars to Rev. Mr. Eden for repairing his barn and other purposes beneficial to the place (4th resolution, June 10, 1811). The committee appointed by the 4th resolution of the above said meeting of June 10th, 1811, concerning Deer Creek and White Marsh estates, make no report, only one of the committee being present (3rd resolution, April 22, 1812). The committee continued by the 3rd resolution of the last meeting report, that they have not made sale of the property mentioned therein (Sept. 22, 1812, 3°).

On the 14th of Feb., 1814, Archbishop Carroll wrote to Francis Neale, agent of the Corporation, reporting offers for the two tracts.

F.

1814, February 14.

Capt. Craig's offer, he thought, was too low, $2800 for Paradise, and for the other tract $2200; in all $5000. Now, he went on to say: Arabia Petroea with Convenience (both which are contained in the deed to the Corporation, and which I have) contains upwards of 360 acres. The archbishop has answered Craig, that the Corporation would probably accept $18 per acre. Dr. Glasgow of this town [Baltimore] approaches with some intention of buying. The archbishop asks that the Corporation will back him in securing for the pastor of Harford a residence convenient to the Church; and will therefore authorize him to appropriate out of the money, arising from the sale of Deer Creek and Arabia Petroea, a sum equal to the cost either of the poor-house property, or of any other station near the chapel. With such security to preserve myself from injury, I have little doubt of being able to obtain the money wanted for the purchase; and, if I am to obtain it on behalf of the Corporation (tho this must not be mentioned in the transaction), the property should be deeded to me, I giving my bond to the Corporation to convey the property according to their direction, as soon as they enable me to pay my note in bank for the money loaned on their account.

On the 2nd of May, same year, 1814, he wrote to express his concern about the security of the deeds, which ought to be at St. Thomas's, as well of the deed for about 30 acres of the worst part of it [Paradise], as of that for the rest of the tract, Paradise, the first of our acquisitions on Deer Creek. He continues :

G. 1814, May 2.

An application is made for the other tract, Arabia Petroea ; and my opinion is to insist on \$12  $\text{\text{p}}$  acre, if the applicant will take the whole tract. Thus, supposing it to contain 340 acres, which it certainly does, the money to be received for the whole will stand thus :

For Paradise .. .. .	$4,200
For Arabia Petroea @ $12 .. .. .	$4,080

It will be necessary for you, after ascertaining the case of the deed for Paradise, to come up ; the other is in my keeping. It is desirable for you to go to Deer Creek about bargaining for a settlement near the chapel, and at the same time giving spiritual assistance to the congregations.

Some months later, in a letter to the Superior Father Grassi, the archbishop complained of Neale's dilatoriness.

H. 1814, July 23.

Besides other things which suffer from his absence, a material point concerning the land lately sold on Deer Creek has long required immediate decision.

Fearful that Mr. Francis Neale may not be returned from St. Mary's and Charles Counties, I desire you to inform him that I have purchased, for the benefit of the future resident at Deer Creek, in Mr. Neale's name, in the six % loan, $3,000; and otherwise placed $300 more on the same interest.

Of this transaction and its method, Francis Neale wrote seventeen years later to the Superior and Visitor of the time, Father Peter Kenney, (July 14, 1832):

L.

My absence from Baltimore obliged the buyer, one Glascoe, to deposite the purchase money into the hands of the Most Revd. Bishop Carroll, who deposited the same money into the bank in my name, I being then the Agent of the Corporation. The Bank paid the usual interest, which was ad interim paid to the missionary of Harford Church. This sum of money was the property of the Corporation under my guardianship, and subject to my order.

What became of the rest of the money received by Archbishop Carroll for the Deer Creek plantation, and what his interest as bishop consisted in, distinguished from his interest as Corporation Trustee, may be gathered from the statements of the procurator, Father Adam Marshall; from which will also appear what relation the Fathers had to this missionary station, originally their own, and intended for their renewed occupation. The plantation now sold was the very one purchased, says Francis Neale, by a bargain made by Bennet Neale, an uncle of mine, who was a missionary at Deer Creek Church, and lived on the plantation above mentioned, which he had purchased about five miles distant from said Deer Creek Church, and on the condition that Bennet Neale would allow the then proprietor lodging, board, and all things necessary during his life. Marshall makes the following statements. First, to the General of the Society :

M.

1821, March 5.

The church belongs to the Bishop, and is one of those missions, which Bishop Neale had agreed to give up to the Society, and the present Archbishop [Marechal] took away again.

Then to Archbishop Marechal, the procurator says :

N.

(1821, June.)

So far was he [Dr. Carroll] from thinking with your Grace and your witnesses, that Deer Creek farm was a property consecrated exclusively to the support of Harford congregation, that he made no scruple of applying a portion of it to the purchase of the new burying ground of your cathedral, and of retaining another portion of it in his own hands till his death.

Revenue that may probably be calculated on to meet the above debts and the current expences of the year 1824 :

. . . D. Debt due from Mr. Daniel Brent, $1,000.<sup>00</sup> . . .

D. This debt is a claim of the Corporation against Mr. Daniel Brent, as the heir and executor of Arch-Bishop Carroll. The sum is a part of the proceeds of the sale of Deer Creek farm in Harford County, remaining in the hands of Bishop Carroll (who sold it) at his death. Judgement has been obtained more than 16 months ago. Mr. Brent is very much embarrassed ; and I am apprehensive that it never will be paid, unless his property is seized.

Here there are two matters stated ; one, which appears throughout the Proceedings of the Corporation, to the effect that Archbishop Carroll was the person principally engaged in the sale of Deer Creek, and in the assignment of the proceeds to other temporary purposes, subject, however, to the Corporation's rights ; the other, that at some time before September, 1822, a public judgment had been rendered against the executor of Archbishop Carroll (deceased, December, 1815), for indebtedness to the Corporation on the said account. This test at law had many bearings (cf. No. 121, note 5).

Deer Creek : sale of the rest of the plantations. On April 3, 1816, Archbishop Leonard Neale, successor to Archbishop Carroll, signed

1816, April 3.

An Arrangement made by the Most Rev. Leonard Neale, Archbishop of Baltimore, with the Superior of the Society of Jesus, regulating the Missions of the said Society within his Diocese.

The Most Rev. John Carroll, late Archbishop of Baltimore, intended to determine together with the Superior of the Religious of the Society of Jesus in North America what stations or missions were to be assigned, to be permanently under the spiritual care of the Religious of the Society of Jesus, according to their Institute. But as, by his continual occupations, and at last by his lamented death, he was prevented from doing it in an authentic manner, his successor now does it by the present instrument: . . . the missions and congregations of . . . Harford . . . with their dependencies are now restored, as formerly [they] were, and put again permanently under the spiritual care of the Religious of the Society of Jesus. . . .

In confirmation of this mutual agreement, which is intended to have the force of an instrument regulating in future, this writing is signed by both parties. Georgetown, District of Columbia, April the third, A.D. 1816.

On Sept. 27 (1816?), the Rev. R. Smith, stationed at Deer Creek, sent a pressing letter to Francis Neale, asking for the residence, which had been projected at his mission, and threatening to let everything go to rack, before I meddle or interfere, if not conveniently lodged (No. 176, C). The Corporation, on Feb. 14, 1816, resolved that the Rev. Roger Smith, who at present attends a congregation in Harford County, shall be allowed Two Hundred Dollars, in lieu of One Hundred and Eighty allowed him heretofore, to be paid him in the manner following, viz. $180 in quarterly payments from funded stock and the Balance (20) from the rents of Arabia Petraea when received.

The $3000 having been invested by Archbishop Carroll in 6 per cent. stock, the $180 thus allowed Roger Smith from that stock was evidently the entire income of the same. In August of the same year, the Corporation saw an opportunity of selling the remaining plantation, though at a low rate (1816, Aug. 20).

C.

1816, August 20.

The agent having been offered $8 per acre for the land of Arabia Petrea is authorized to accept the offer, as he shall think it proper.

The third Archbishop of Baltimore, the Most Rev. Ambrose Marechal, succeeded Dr. Leonard Neale in June, 1817, and he declined to observe the Arrangement or Concordat recently made,<sup>22</sup> as the list contained more than half of the parishes in his Diocese.<sup>23</sup>

Cependant les craintes à la vue de cette liste s'évanouir[ent] en observant que cette [!] écrit étoit passé entre le P. Grassi et mon Ven. Prédecesseur sans lier leur successeurs respectifs.

Between the 22nd of Aug., 1820, and Mar. 5, 1821, the agent or procurator of the Jesuit Corporation sold the stock of $3000 U.S. bonds, and applied the proceeds to the Jesuit seminary. Francis Neale explains the transaction thus:

In order to help the payment of this great debt [of 30,000 dollars], I assisted the then Agent, Mr. Adam Marshall, by giving him a control over the sum total deposited in the bank, which he sold for ready money, and liquidated a part of the debt of the Corporation. This, Sir, is the history of the 3000 dollars obtained from the sale of the estate of Deer Creek. It belonged not to Harford Congregation, but it did belong to the Corporation, and was actually its own property.

Adam Marshall, writing to the General at the very date, states, in a passage already partly quoted (No. 87, M), that the Archbishop [Marechal] considered himself as the guardian of this fund, and demanded an explanation of the reasons for withdrawing it, which I declined giving him. The priest who then attended Harford was a secular; the church belongs to the Bishop, and is one of those Missions which Bishop Neale had agreed to give up to the Society, and the present Archbishop took away again.

Among the items of sale in his Statement, the procurator includes this:

Deer Creek: the certificates and the counter-declaration. The third Archbishop of Baltimore wrote on the 1st of March, 1821, to the Rev. Francis Neale, saying:

1821, March 1.

... I come now to the business of Harford, and may it be settled so as to put an end to the scandalous discourses to which it give[s] occasion!

i. Certainly the Corporation cannot reasonably require, that it be proved by an instrument of writing that the donor left his property for the benefit of the series of Priests attending the congregation of Harford; since the existence of such an instrument would have exposed his donation to be defeated, according to the iniquitous laws existing in 1764.<sup>24</sup>

ii. But there do exist numerous proofs that such was his intention. I will content myself to cite a few of them.

<sup>24</sup> Compare an identical statement with respect to claims on the Jesuit property of White Marsh: that the claimant must not be asked for written documents to establish his claim. No. 116, C, 3, p. 409. The General's answer is given, No. 116, D, §§ 26–28. Cf. No. 135, note 45.

I might bring you many collateral proofs of the same fact.

But I hope that the Corporation will reflect seriously upon the subject and stop the mouths of those who loudly accuse it of a notorious and scandalous injustice. Justitia elevat gentem; and I am sure you would look upon [it] as a great misfortune to enrich the Society by the breach of a religious trust. I remain respectfully, Rev. and Dear Sir,

The answer of the Trustees was received by the archbishop, who wrote again to Father Francis Neale, at St. Thomas's Manor; and the latter, on receipt of this acknowledgment, sent word in the following terms to Father Adam Marshall, on Sept. 25, 1821:

B.

1821, September 25.

REV. AND DEAR FATHER,

Last evening I received a letter from the Arch Bishop, informing me he had just finished reading the answer of the Trustees; and requested me to send him back the certificates he put into my hands, together with Mr. Kohlmann's letter.

I must beg of you, My Dear Sir, to be carefull to assemble them together with said letter and carefully direct them to the Arch. Bhp.: Let not one be wanting, that he may not say, we have suppressed them. . . .

Owing to one cause or another, it so happens that we have the certificates safely filed among the documents of the archives which Adam Marshall left. In fact, he mentions the circumstance in his Statement of accounts, made to the Superior Dzierozynski in 1824:

. . . The nature and grounds of the violent complaints made by the present Arch Bishop are found in a collection of letters and papers in my possession, together with the answers to them. . . .

Md.-N. Y. Province Archives, 1821, Sept. 25, Francis Neale to (Adam Marshall, who endorses the letter). Ibid., T, Deer Creek, Harford Co. papers, a collection of about a score of certificates. Ibid., Cc, Marshall's Statement, 1824, p. 7.

The original character of the certificates, as they were called, is sufficiently sketched in the answer of the Trustees, who analyze these papers.

Treating all together and several in particular, without excluding the four specially referred to as specimens in the Bishop's letter of Mar. 1, the Trustees characterize the so-called certificates in the following terms :—

1821, (September).

Tho we fear that we have already intruded too long on your time and patience, yet as you entertain so high an opinion of these testimonies, we should be wanting in respect for your sentiments did we pass them by without some notice; we will therefore beg your leave to take a short review of them. Some of the persons whose names are attached to these certificates are personally known to us, and we acknowledge them to be most respectable. Their certificates are such as might be looked for from unexceptionable characters in a case like this; they testify to what is their impression on the subject in question, what they think or have thought of it, and what they have heard others say: they do not testify as to their personal knowledge. . . . But such evidences are not, in any tribunal known to us, received as demonstrative proof, where property is in question. The first thing that struck us in reading over these certificates was the incongruity which appeared between them and your own pretensions, manifesting a great want of information in the certifiers. Your Grace contends only for 105 acres of the said land, as having been left by Mr. Shea for the support of the Harford Mission, whereas all your witnesses, except one, extend the claim to the whole of the land without exception. Now, it would appear to us that, if these witnesses are sufficient to prove demonstratively that 105 acres of this land is a sacred deposit for the support of said Mission, they should prove to an equal demonstration that the whole is such. Again, the certificate just excepted, and which appears to come from a gentleman who must have had good opportunities to inform himself on this affair,<sup>25</sup> informs us that the donation of Mr. Shea consisted only of 100 acres. This gentleman also testifies that more was purchased to it afterwards. Now your Grace, in your letter of the 21 April last tells us, that it consisted of 105 acres; and the purchase, which your witness places after the acquirement of this donation, you in the same letter placed 14 years before. . . . And it may not here be improper to remark that, among all these people who have heard so much from others, there is not one who heard anything on the subject from Mr. Shea himself, tho four at least of them declare that they were personally acquainted with him. And is it reasonable to suppose that, if the fathers and mothers and other aged relatives of so many individuals heard this Mr. Shea say, that he left his property for the use of the congregation, these four personal acquaintances of his could have been the only persons that never heard him say a word about it? Certainly your Grace cannot be serious in your attempt to persuade us, that these certificates prove to a demonstration, that Mr. Shea left his property for the use of the Priest of Harford congregation. . . .

Adam Marshall, the writer of this paper, alludes but lightly to a circumstance which, at the very same date he mentioned plainly to the General, that Mgr. Marechal had repudiated the agreement made with due formalities by Mgr. Neale with Father Grassi, and had thereby ended the Jesuit management of Deer Creek, severing all connection between the Jesuits and Church matters in a place no longer theirs :

E.

Your Grace has likewise sent us a certificate, informing us that the Rev. Mr. Francis Neale had been in Harford County, for the purpose of purchasing a farm for the use of the Priest attending the congregation of that county, and that he told the certifier, that $3000 of the money received of Dr. Glasco should be appropriated to that purpose. This was then the intention of our Corporation; and we would be equally disposed at present to put this project into execution, did the state of our affairs permit it. As soon as we are disengaged from our present difficulties, and we find ourselves able, with justice to our trust, to spare as much money as may be necessary for this object, we will be disposed to effect it. But, whatever purchase we may make in Harford County or elsewhere, will be made for ourselves and not for others . . .

F.

We beg leave to make the following declarations: That we are the legal and conscientious possessors of that property, which was formerly and before their Suppression possessed by the members of the Society of Jesus. That we are in the same manner possessors of any property, which may have been acquired, whether by donation or purchase, by any of the members of the said Order in this country after its Suppression and conveyed to us either by will or deed. That we do not, to our knowledge, possess any property to which we have not a full right in law and equity, as having been originally purchased or received in donation by our predecessors, and either handed down to us by them in the same manner in which property is legally conveyed, or secured to us by the Act of our Incorporation. That we deem ourselves in conscience bound to apply every part of this property to the use of religion, according to the rules and institutes of the Society of Jesus (this being the object of the original possessors), as far as is consistent with the laws of the country ; nor can we apply it even to religious purposes in any other manner. And, lastly, that we consider ourselves most strictly bound to protect said property against encroachments of whatever kind or from whatever quarter . . . <sup>26</sup>

The Trustees went about revising their deeds, and selling Arabia Petrea, the last portion of their plantations in Harford County. A year later they signed a power of attorney for their agent Adam Marshall, enabling him to sell.<sup>27</sup> Six days after that act, they received from the archbishop the authentic copy of a Brief, which he had just brought with him from Rome. It signified to the Jesuits that he was now the owner of their two thousand acres at White Marsh, but that all the debts due from that estate remained for them to pay.<sup>28</sup>

D. 1816, July 6.

Father Francis Malevé, S.J., pastor at Frederick, July 6, 1816, to Francis Neale, Georgetown, on some transactions of the former pastor, Dubois:

REV. AND DEAR SIR, P.C.

I found in the office the deed to Rev. Mr. Walton of St. Mary's County of the same town [?] lot. It was deeded to him by Mr. Goff, a barber of this town, who sold him in fee-simple for two hundred and twenty pound current money, on the 3<sup>d</sup>. day of November, 1780, and on condition to pay unto Daniel Dulany, Jun., Esq., the yearly rent of twenty-five shillings for the said lot, on the first day of October, and to his heirs, etc. So the deed is.

So it appears that Mr. Frombach and Mr. Walton paid, as agent of the Society at that time suppressed. But he holds the land, as you now hold many land[s]. The money at that time was of no value almost.

The lot now is advertized to be sold. And I found at the office the overseer of these ladies [Vincendiere], to whom Rev. Dubois sold it, coming to get the deed recorded, since 15 days about. I intend to speak to those ladies and to let them know, that the lot was bought by the Church and for the Church; and that, if Mr. Dubois has sold it to them and has obtained a deed from Mr. Walton, it was formerly bought with the money of the Jesuits [who], altho suppressed, still kept together their lands and money as in a body, but not as particular members; and consequently that the lot ought to return to the Church, after having paid what they have given for it. . . .

In Malevé's time, the events of barely fifty years before had faded away into very ancient history, the thread of tradition having been broken off by the Suppression. Thus, Father John McElroy, S.J., wrote in 1844 to the Provincial, Father James Ryder, exemplifying what a critic remarks on a similar paper of his: Not to be depended on, except with respect to Fr. McElroy.

In reply to yours (without date) received this day I answer to your interrogatories: When was this Mission founded? etc. From what I learned from an old resident on my arrival here, Father Williams, an Englishman (a Jesuit), erected a house, which served for chapel and residence, about the year 1760. His successor was Father Frombach, a German; of him I know nothing. He was succeeded by Rev. John Dubois (late Bishop of New York), who commenced the first church in Frederick in 1800, had the walls raised and roof on in 1811,<sup>31</sup> when he was succeeded by Father Malevé, a Belgian. . . . He [Malevé] died in October, 1822. During his life several lots of ground were given to him for this mission, which, together with the lots procured by Father Williams amount to about 20 acres in town and immediate vicinity; also 55 acres mountain land, 5 miles distant. Father Malevé was succeeded by Father McElroy in 1822. . . .

On lot 157, in Hall's addition, 1754, to Baltimore Town, stood St. Peter's erected about 1770, and supposed to be the first Catholic Church edifice erected in Baltimore. It stood there till 1840, its site being subsequently occupied by the Calvert Hall of the Christian Brothers. The dimensions of lot 157 are as follows. Beginning at a point on the north side of Northwest St. (now called Saratoga St.)  $6\frac{1}{2}$  perches from the intersection of the west side of Charles St. and the north side of Northwest or Saratoga St., running thence west on Northwest St.  $6\frac{1}{4}$  perches to Little Sharp St., formerly Forrest Lane, thence north on Forrest Lane to the ground of the Trustees of the Roman Catholic Church in the Town of Baltimore, thence east 4 perches, thence north 10 perches to place of beginning. The transfer of this property in 1822 was the last which conveyed it as a whole, the lot being subsequently divided into portions.

Old St. Peter's, Baltimore: measures taken to facilitate the erection of Baltimore Cathedral. The steps taken by the Corporation consisted in offering their St. Peter's property, church, presbytery, and ground, as an offset to secure lots needed aside of the new cathedral church. The five members of the Corporation acted only as trustees of their property, not as proprietors, when dealing with the trustees of the cathedral. Two of the five members of the Corporation or Board were Archbishop Carroll and his Coadjutor, Bishop Neale. They were also two of the three appointed by the same Board to act as a committee for the conduct of the whole business. Sometimes the two bishops were practically the entire committee. And, as members of the Corporation, they signed the minutes. In view of the fact that there are at least two very different boards of trustees in the following transactions, that of the Jesuits is the only one to be called the Corporation. The other seems to have been named, at various stages, "Trustees of St. Peter's Church of Baltimore," "of the Roman Catholic Church in the Town of Baltimore," "of the Cathedral Square," or by other such descriptive title.

In the minutes of the ex-Jesuit Corporation, the project of the new cathedral appears in a resolution, just after Deer Creek, on May 24, 1803, where the Board present recommends this diocesan interest of the cathedral to the different managers as well as to the individual members of the Select Body, and desires them to promote the lottery instituted for that purpose (resolution 15th and last). The minutes are signed by the three Trustees in attendance, the two bishops and Bitouzey.<sup>37</sup>

In the following year, old St. Peter's is managed thus, all the Trustees being present, the two bishops, Pile, Plunkett, and Bitouzey :

But it is expressly required that the Rt. Rev. Bishop Carroll and Rev. Baltimore, 19 October, 1816.

REVD. AND ESTEEMED SIR,

As I am one of a committee of two to prepare deeds from Colonel Howard to the Trustees of the Cathedral Square, of the Trustees to the Archbishop of the lot on Charles Street intended for the episcopal residence, and of your Trustees to Mr. [Enoch] Fenwick [S.J.], whom, as proprietor of the late Archbishop's lot on Charles Street adjoining it, we have designated to receive for us the title of your part of St. Peters ground ; and as I was a member of the board of Trustees, who made the bargain (as it is called, though I am rather ashamed of the word) ; and moreover as my sentiments are well known to him ; for all these reasons Mr. Fenwick placed in my hands your letter to him of 15th. inst., in which I read with no little amazement and, but for the respect I entertain for you I might have added, some indignation, an extract from your Trustees' book as follows:<sup>40</sup>

"The Committee, etc., etc., report,<sup>41</sup> that they have had a meeting with the Trustees of St. Peter's, Baltimore, and had bargained and exchanged<sup>42</sup> with the said Trustees that lot of ground on which the Church of St. Peter and Presbytery now stand for a property in Cathedral square and Church to be ceded in fee simple to the Archbishop and his successors so soon as the legal manner of effecting such exchange can be ascertained."—You go on to state (and certainly very correctly) that you had heard nothing while in Baltimore of the deeding of the Church to the Archbishop, and that the present Archbishop<sup>43</sup> knows the bargain with the Trustees, and that Mr. Fenwick may save himself the trouble of coming to Georgetown to exchange deeds, unless the Trustees intend to give all their ground and Church for your lot. Truly, Sir, 'tis no wonder you never heard of such a thing in Baltimore, for not a man in this city ever dreamed of such a bargain as you allude to. There is not a member of our board, Sir, who would not solemnly swear that such a thing was never thought of; and I solemnly assure you, that the bare mention of such a thing to the Trustees in the present stage of our proceedings, when thinking all difficulties at last removed, relying on your faith, we are borrowing money on the very ground we expect you to deed to Mr. Fenwick in a few days (for this is no time to sell) and resume the building with spirit next spring, I say, the bare mention of it to them would excite, and I think most justly, such a burst of indignation, amazement and horror, as would not only produce the demolition of our material temple, but prove the death blow to Catholicity in this city. Mr. Fenwick and I hope this baneful entry on your books will be found to be a mistake of the secretary.<sup>44</sup> I know it to be false in fact. We did indeed pledge ourselves and, so far as we could entail it on them, our successors, to maintain all the spiritual rights of the Archbishop over his cathedral; but this had nothing to do with the temporal proprietorship; never was it supposed that this could be done by deed of conveyance—we might as well pretend to convey to him his episcopal powers. Sir, 'tis an absurdity. Would we give a property worth two hundred thousand dollars for a lot worth less than twenty thousand? The lot which we have designated for the Archbishop's residence is worth twice as much as your lot; and we never should have made the exchange,<sup>45</sup> but that we did not wish to disfigure the Cathedral with buildings too near it by selling that ground for building lots, and because we had wished to erect a suitable residence for our prelates near their Church. To effect these praiseworthy objects we determined to suffer a considerable loss. And are we now to be told that this is not enough? that we must give up all and for what? For that very lot which your gentlemen always told us they intended as their donation to the Cathedral, to which they have yet given nothing. In the name of God to whom that fine temple is erecting, and in which, but for this, your — — — — Brother would in two years offer up his vows to — — — — in his name, I pray you pause; permit not this dreadful letter of yours to go before the Trustees, which it must, to stop their present proceedings, unless soon contradicted. 'Tis but a secret, keep it so if you love God better than mammon (that you do I know). The moment it goes to them, that moment is the fiat of our fate; you may then as well expect to see the Cross re-erected on St. Sophia as a Cathedral in Baltimore. You know my respect for yourself; and therefore any warm expressions in this letter will, I hope, be imputed to an overflow of zeal and not to a bad motive. Had I been indifferent to the welfare of the Church and to the honor of the clergy, I should have remained silent; for, if the entry on your book be not an error, I would not be one of those who inserted it for all the wealth under the sun.

<sup>44</sup> The secretary had been either Francis Neale, or Bishop Coadjutor Leonard Neale, or Archbishop Carroll, these three having been the entire Board present, and the two bishops being the committee reporting.—Laurenson here seems to have shifted the question from the exchange of one lot for another to an exchange of one lot for the whole cathedral square. Since the Act of the Maryland Assembly had been obtained by the Baltimore Trustees, that might now be the state of the question with them. It is nowhere in the antecedent Proceedings of the Corporation. His next observation about the spiritual rights of the Archbishop over his cathedral is irrelevant, except in the light of the Corporation's act, No. 93, B, supra (probably quoted in Neale's letter), whereby the object of the whole transaction on the part of the Corporation was made clear, and consisted in affording a leverage for the Archbishop of Baltimore to stave off from his cathedral the evils of lay-trusteeism. Mgr. Marechal, six years later, described to the Propaganda how he had finished successfully this good work. Infra, No. 121, II.

I beg again to assure you, Sir, of my respect and the honor of hearing from you soon, remaining, etc.,

Enclosure: Copy of Resolutions, etc., from the book of the Trustees of R. C. C. in the town of Baltimore.

Endorsed in B. Fenwick's hand: Papers explaining the transfer of property in Baltimore.

The entry, which Laurenson thus pronounced false in fact, was, in fact, signed in autograph by the two bishops in 1811, and its purport in similar resolutions was signed by them thrice over, as given above. The order, in pursuance of which Francis Neale had now written to Laurenson, was made at a meeting attended by the present Archbishop (Leonard Neale), who from the beginning, as coadjutor, had been on the committee with the former archbishop (Carroll), to carry out the purpose of this very entry. The two had reported in the terms of the entry, and then had attached their autograph signatures. As to the value of the property to be surrendered, since Laurenson affirmed depreciatingly that it was worth less than twenty thousand dollars, it might be inferred appreciatively that it was probably worth more.

Proceedings of the Corporation, as above, ii. 18, meeting of Oct. 10, 1816. Laurenson to Francis Neale, Oct. 19, 1816, as above, p. 319. Neale to Laurenson (Oct. 15, 1816) is inferred, as cited in the reply of the latter, and as carrying out the resolutions reported in the minutes.

Thus the sum-total of the proceedings so far was, that the first proposal of the bishops, to use the Jesuits' property as a lever for securing in their own name the full control of their own cathedral church, was rendered unnecessary by another process, that of an Act of Assembly; that then, without being asked, the Fathers were publicly in the Baltimore church declared by Laurenson's party to be desirous of making a present of their property to the cathedral; finally, in private, they were told it was too late for them to do anything else but give, or the cathedral would never be built.

Old St. Peter's, Baltimore: a new chapter of history. By deed of 18th of July, 1816, and again by one on May 9, 1817, Daniel Brent, an executor of John Carroll, conveys to Enoch Fenwick (S.J.), the other executor, all his title to lot 156, the same given originally to the archbishop by Charles Carroll of Carrollton. Between these two dates, and only three months after the correspondence between Francis Neale and Laurenson, the Corporation convey their lot 157 to the same Enoch Fenwick, for the consideration of $5.00 (five dollars), by a deed bearing date Jan. 22, 1817. Thus the whole block, consisting half and half of the Jesuits' property, and of Charles Carroll's gift to the archbishop, was now vested in one person.

On Aug. 22, 1820, for the consideration of $12,000, Enoch Fenwick conveyed to seven persons, David Williamson, Luke Tiernan, which lying together contiguous are bounded as follows, viz. on the east by Charles St., on the south by Northwest St., on the north west by Forrest St., on the north east by ground now or late of the Trustees of the Roman Catholic Church, whose corporate name by State Act of General Assembly has been altered and changed to that of "The Trustees of the Catholic Cathedral Church of Baltimore."

Less than two years afterwards, on Apr. 30, 1822, the same gentlemen conveyed the same property, for $10,000, to the Trustees of the Catholic Cathedral Church of Baltimore.

Thus the Jesuits were now without ground or church of their own in Baltimore, and they were soon out of the city altogether. Father Beschter alone remained as a pastor for the Germans.

It was at this time, 1822, that the third Archbishop of Baltimore, Mgr. Marechal, was demanding of the Jesuits his own personal maintenance, either a pension of $1000 a year, or the absolute conveyance of one of their estates. He was in Rome, urging his suit. But the conveyance of St. Peter's property for the benefit of his cathedral was not unknown there. On the 1st of March, 1819, the Superior of the time, Father Kohlmann, had written to the General that but "the year before a free gift in perpetuity had been made to the archbishop by the Corporation, in the shape of the ancient church and house adjoining and ground on which the buildings stood, without any payment being received; the entire property, buildings and ground, being worth 40,000 dollars."

Caeteri Episcopi a suo grege sustentantur, cur non et Archiepiscopus? . . .

In the Roman memorial, drawn up by Charles Neale, Superior, and his secretary, Benedict Fenwick, under date of Nov. 22, 1822, it is stated that a large body of property, valued at $20,000, had been conveyed by the Corporation as a free gift to the Archbishop of Baltimore and the trustees of his cathedral, for the sole and exclusive use of him and his successors for ever. This general statement, disagreeing with Kohlmann's itemized above, disagrees also with the next, Dzierzynski's.

At the instance of the General, who urged the new Superior, Father Dzierzynski, to arrive at some understanding or accommodation with the said archbishop, the proposal was made that the Trustees of the Corporation should give Mgr. Marechal $1000 a year, provided he would count, as included in the $1000, the annual profit of $400, which now issued from the property so lately ceded to him in Baltimore. Then the Jesuits would undertake to provide him with $600 more per annum. Dzierzynski's draft runs as follows (between Nov. 13 and 24, 1824):

C.

1824, November.

Excellentissime! . . . Unicum meum desiderium est, ut haec infelix differentia quantocyus terminetur per compositionem mutuam inter nos.—Pace Excellentissimi, in mea insipientia, proponerem hanc conditionem ad felicem effectum ex utraque parte. Renuntiat Excellentissimus praetensioni quam facit ad White Marsh; et, ex parte Corporationis, prope sum confidens quod obtinebo omnium Trustees consensum, ut ad illos $400, quos Excellentissimus percipit singulis annis ex fundo Baltimorensi a Corporatione prius oblato, alios $600 annuatim addant, ita ut pensio totalis per annum sit $1,000. Acceptata conditione, scribemus Romam pro ratificatione et confirmatione contracti [us] mutuo facti.

To this letter the archbishop said in reply :

1824, November 24.

He was satisfied to hear of the Jesuits' determination to pay him (and, no doubt, his successors also) an annual sum of $1000. This, he said, was clear. The rest he did not understand at all. Did Dzierzynski mean to offer him $1000 with $400 added? Considering that the Jesuits had not given him anything for seven years, since he became archbishop, he would be willing to accept un dédommagement, an indemnification, for his loss of a seven years' Jesuit pension. But, on that score, he would be tractable, if any reasonable proposition were made to him. Did Dzierzynski, however, mean that the $400 alluded to should be considered part of the thousand, as if the Corporation had ever given anything to the cathedral? Then (1) the Corporation has never given any property to the cathedral, unless you mean the church of St. Peter's and the little ground around it; but that did not belong to the Corporation, which consequently has never given anything to the cathedral, "before God and in conscience;" (2), secondly, he himself had never received a cent from this pretended donation.

MON REV<sup>d</sup>. PÈRE,

A mon retour de Queen's town j'ai trouvé sur ma table votre dernière lettre. Je n'ai que le tems de vous donner deux mots de réponse au paragraphe qui la termine.

I. Pour terminer notre malheureux différent, vous vous chargez de me faire payer par vos sujets administrateurs des biens du Clergé du Maryland (et sans doute aussi à mes successeurs) la somme annuelle de $1,000.—Cela est clair.

II. Mais vous ajoutez : (includendo scilicet simul eam summam quam Excellentissimus annuatim percipit ex fundo prius jam a Corporatione in Cathedralam Baltimoreensem collato).—Je vous avoue ne point entendre cette phrase.

1<sup>o</sup>. Jamais la Corporation n'a donné de fond à la Cathédrale; à moins que vous n'entendiez par là l'Eglise de St. Pierre et le petit terrain qui l'entoure; et, dans ce cas, comme elle en étoit le pur dépositaire, elle n'a réellement rien donné à la Cathédrale, coram Deo et in foro conscientiae.

2<sup>o</sup>. Je n'ai jamais reçu ne ne reçoit [!] un cent de ce prétendu fond.

3<sup>o</sup>. Votre pensée est-elle, que le revenu imaginaire de ce fond soit ajouté aux $1,000; ou en soit soustrait? C'est ce que je ne puis en vérité deviner.

Votre proposition n'étant pas claire à mes yeux, je suis dans la nécessité de vous en demander une explication qui exclue tout embarras et incertitude.

En attendant votre réponse, je me recommande à vos saintes prières et suis avec beaucoup d'estime et de respect en N. S. :

+ A. A. B.

P.S.—Pour que vous puissiez me proposer un équivalent qui soit admissible, je vous prie d'observer que le jugement du St. Siège n'embrasse pas seulement le revenu annuel au quel j'ai droit ; mais encore un dédommagement de l'injustice que j'ai souffert depuis ma nomination à l'Arch<sup>é</sup> de Balt<sup>e</sup>. C'est à dire depuis sept ans.—Cependant, comme ce dernier objet m'est plutôt personnel qu'à mon Siège, j'acquiescerai à toute proposition raisonnable qui me sera faite à cet égard.

This correspondence of November, 1824, serves to explain Father Beschter's statement, a couple of weeks later, regarding the opinion of Mr. Whitfield.

1824, December 11.

He [Archbishop Marechal] has lately received [from Rome] a printed information, that the Jesuits had already given and [!] over for the Archbishop of Baltimore property worth $20,000 ; which Mr. Whitfield styles to be a lie, an infame lie. He says St. Peter's property never belonged to the Corporation or the Jesuits ; that it was given by the now living old Charles Carroll ; that all the Jesuit[s] could claim of it would amount to a stream of 5 feet comming John Walsh's house [!].

Md.-N. Y. Province Archives, Bb, J. W. Beschter, Baltimore, 11 xbre, 1824, to Francis Neale, St. Thomas's, 3 pp. 4to.

So ended the older history of the Jesuit property in Baltimore. It did not end, however, without furnishing the ground for an acute criticism on the part of Superiors in Rome (1824?), when the Trustees of the Corporation insisted that their civil oath was a bar against executing the Papal Brief (23 July, 1822), and surrendering White Marsh to Marechal, while at the same time they advanced as a plea this earlier act of generosity, in having made a simple present of St. Peter's to Marechal's cathedral, notwithstanding the same civil oath :

Tuckahoe, Talbot County, Eastern Shore, Maryland. This lonely mission represented a particular species of station, that of one not meant for a full establishment, but yet provided with an estate of its own to render it somewhat independent. The reasons for this arrangement will appear below. As it stood in 1822, the plantation was reported by Fathers Charles Neale and Benedict Fenwick as consisting of 207½ acres, and as having been made up of three purchases, two of the Beswick family, and one of Edward Robert. These purchases had been effected by Father Joseph Mosley. And the property had been transmitted like the other plantations till it reached the corporate body in 1793.

This station was originally called St. Mary's, as Father George Hunter, in his report of 1765 to the Provincial, Father Dennet, says: The Mission of St. Mary's, commonly called Queen's-town or Tuckoho. The name, however, became officially St. Joseph's, possibly to avoid confusion in postal business with the county of St. Mary's. The founder, Father Mosley, explains the whole policy of his movements when writing to his brother Michael, a Jesuit in England, and to his sister, Mrs. Dunn of Newcastle.<sup>46</sup> To the former he says, under date of July 30, 1764, from Portobacco, but soon Bohemia in the Eastern Shore, Cecil County, Maryland:

1764, July 30.

I am just leaving Port Tobacco to go to Bohemia, where they tell me I am wanted; the congregatio[n]s are fewer, but the rides much longer. On the 1st. Sunday, 50 mile, where I pass the whole week in that neighbourhood in close business with the ignorant. On the 2d. I go down the Chesapeake Bay 40 mile farther; which makes me 90 mile from home [scil. from Bohemia]: the other 2 Sundays are easier. The Miss[io]n has picked me out to settle a place between those two, if I can, to make it an easier miss[io]n; pray that I may succeed. I shall have at Bohemia a fine plantation to manage, the best I believe we have & nigh Philadelphia, which is a vast advantage. You may find the place in the charts of this country, on the Eastern Shore of Cheaspick Bay, 50 mile from Queen's-Town, & then 40 to Talbot. . . .

To his sister he writes from Tuckahoe, Talbot County, more than two years later, on Oct. 14, 1766:

1766, October 14.

. . . It's a mission that ought to have been settled above these 60 years past, by reason of the immense trouble & excessive rides it had given our gentlemen that lived next to it, altho' within 200 miles of it; yet, till these days, no one would undertake it, either for want of resolution or fear of the trouble, notwithstanding it had contributed much to the deaths of several of ours & had broak the constitution of every one who went down to it, altho' it was but twice a year, except calls to the sick. I was deputed, in Aug<sup>r</sup> 1764, to settle a new place in the midst of this mission; accordingly I set off for these parts of the country, I examined the situation of every congregation within 60 mile of it; and before the end of that year I came across the very spot, as providence would have it, with land to be sold, nigh the center of the whole that was to be tended. I purchased the land & took possession in March following. On the land there were three buildings, a miserable dwelling house, a much worse for some negroes, & a house to cure tobacco in. . . . Our gentlemen have supplied me with negroes, as many as I wanted to cut down the woods & to open a plantation, in which I succeed much to my satisfaction. . . . It's true the labours will still be great, but not to be compared to what they were, before this place was settled. The chief congregation is but 10 mile off; the 2nd, 20; the 3rd, 24; 4th, 22; 5th, at home; 6th, 22. All these I visite once in two months. I have two others which I visit but twice a year; [the] 1st, 39, the other, 90 mile off. This you'll say is hard. It's easy, Dear Sister, to what it was. . . . I have now my cows, my sheep, hogs, turkeys, geese, & other dunghill fowl. I've my own grain & make my own bread. . . .

Just eighteen years later, when the Suppression of the Society had left him so lonely in his Chesapeake Mission, and the late American war had broken off political connections with England, he wrote to the same sister about the plantation (Oct. 4, 1784):

C.

. . . I've been on it now twenty long years, & I've made it, thro' God's help, both agreeable and profitable to myself & to my successors; . . . when I first settled, I had not one of my own profession [i.e. no Catholic] nigher than six or seven mile; but now, thro' God's particular blessings, I've many families joining . . . The Prot[estant] Ministers having no fixt salary by law, as heretofore, have abandoned their flocks, which are now squandered & joined different societies. We've had some share. Since the commencement of the war, I've built on my farm a brick chapel & dwelling house.<sup>47</sup> It was a difficult & bold undertaking at that time, as every necessary, especially nails, were very dear. I began it, trusting on Providence, & I've happily finished, without any assistance either from our gentlemen or my congregation. . . .

Of the value of land and money he says to her, a couple of years later (July 20, 1786), speaking of an English acquaintance:

1786, July 20.

. . . He is come to buy land. I believe he & such will find land as dear here as in England, & not half so profitable. Our best lands sell from £8 to £12 per acre, our currency one-third less than sterling money. . . .

Two years after Father Mosley's death, which occurred but one year after the date of the last letter cited, Father John Carroll, then Prefect-Apostolic of the States, described the architectural and economic features of the two residences on the Eastern Shore, the second of the two being the late Father Mosley's at St. Joseph's, Tuckahoe. Wrote Dr. Carroll, in answer to Patrick Smyth:

If curiosity should be excited by his [Smyth's] misrepresentations to travel to the Eastern Shore of Maryland, it will find there but two clergymen. One of these lives on the confines of Maryland & State of Delaware, in a house not only inelegant, but ruinous and scarce affording shelter from the weather. The other occupies a cell, such as the woman of Sunam prepared for the prophet Elisha (4th Book of Kings, c. 4), containing just space enough for a bed, a table, and a stool. Such are the establishments formed on the Potowmack and the Eastern Shore, and yet preserved for the benefit of religion by that Society, which could not bury obloquy in the same grave with itself. . . .

In the Statement given to the General, more than fifty years later by Adam Marshall, the Maryland procurator (1821), St. Joseph's is despatched in a very summary way. He says, under No. 11:

On Jan. 17, 1772, Samuel Lyte executed a deed of sale to Mr. John Lewis, granting a tract or plantation in Mill Creek hundred, Delaware, consisting of 208 acres more or less, starting from the corner of Letitia Penn's Manor, etc. The ownership of this plantation passed by devise from Lewis to Robert Molyneux, and from Molyneux to Francis Neale.

When, after the Suppression, the Fathers constituted their Chapter of the Select Body of the Clergy, the same which then, in 1793, obtained by an Act of the Maryland Assembly the authorization to institute in its midst a legalized committee called the Corporation, they still reserved to the body at large all right of alienation, even to the exclusion of the incorporated committee itself. Hence at a meeting of the Chapter or Representatives of the Select Body,<sup>50</sup> on Aug. 28, 1799, they took into consideration the question of the Delaware property, as submitted to them by the Executive Board or Corporation.

5<sup>o</sup> That, in consequence to a memorial of the Rev. Mr. Leonard Neale, stating the necessity of granting a sum of money for the relief of the farm of Mill Creek Hundred, heretofore purchased by the Rev. Mr. Manners for the support of a clergyman, appointed to serve the neighboring Catholics, he, the Rev. Mr. Neale, be empowered to borrow, in the name of the Body Corporate, a sum of money, not exceeding eight hundred dollars, to be applied to the discharging of the debts of the above mentioned farm.

C.

A statement of the affairs of the farm in Mill Creek Hundred, in the state of Delaware, being made for the consideration of the Select Body of the Clergy: The Representatives, after duely considering the matter, gave it as their opinion, that said farm had best be sold, reserving the Chapel and burying-ground; and with the money arising from the sale the debts of said farm be paid—a house and lot in New-West-Chester be purchased, to accomodate the priest, who shall serve that and the neighboring congregations—and the residue funded for his support.

The Corporation signified their concurrence (Oct. 9, 1799) in the opinion of the Representatives, that it were better to sell the farm of Mill Creek Hundred, Del., and start an establishment at New-West-Chester. We learn elsewhere that the Rev. John Rossiter, of the convent of New Ross, Ireland, arrived in America in the year 1794, and was placed at West-Chester. On May 5, 1801, the Corporation enters this resolve in its minutes:

In 1806, a clear statement was made by the Delaware pastor, the Rev. Mr. Patrick Kenny, through Bishop Carroll, of the religious purposes for which he desired to take over from the Corporation the property near White Clay Creek, in New Castle County. The proposal was approved of by the Jesuit Superior, Robert Molyneux, as we see by his instructions to the agent, Father Francis Neale, Jan 24, 1806.<sup>51</sup>

*Finally, the Mill Creek Hundred property was disposed of on May 5, 1810, by a deed of sale between Francis Neale and the Rev. P. Kenny, who pays the sum of $1600 for 208 acres more or less, and receives the titles of the property originally bought, on Jan. 17, 1772, by Father John Lewis of Samuel Lyte. In fact, against Causseen's Manor the entry puts significantly a plot.<sup>55</sup> On the other hand, of the eight chief Maryland missions classed in Father Hunter's report, no fewer than four are wanting here: White Marsh, the most productive of all, Deer Creek, Frederick, and Tuckahoe. The foregoing endowment of religion: Dr. Ambrose Marechal and Dr. John Carroll on its main features. The foregoing endowment for the perpetual service of the Catholic religion gave rise to many difficulties at the close of the eighteenth and the beginning of the nineteenth century. The portion of the foundation which we have yet to consider, as laid in the province of Pennsylvania, did not originate such serious contentions. Hence, before passing over there, we mark briefly the chief features of this Maryland endowment, using the words of the first and third Archbishops of Baltimore.

Mgr. Marechal notes that the Jesuit Fathers received no contributions from the faithful whom they served; and that, in acquiring and passing on this property through so many private hands, they yet saved everything. Dr. Carroll observes that, if ever the fidelity of these private owners was put to the test, it was especially at the moment when the Society was suppressed, and each one stood apart and adrift as a secular priest; yet, far from proving unfaithful even then, they proceeded to organize, incorporate themselves, and guarantee for ever the religious destination of the property.

Dr. John Carroll addresses an adversary, the Rev. Patrick Smyth, a man representing a whole class of adventurers and memorialists, whose fecundity of suspicion, says Carroll, it is impossible to exhaust, and who surprise one with the revelation, how easily a pretended history may be compiled without any of the materials which ought to enter into its composition. After speaking of the establishments formed on the Potowmack and the Eastern Shore by that Society, which could not bury obloquy in the same grave with itself (No. 95, E), he marks two features in the past and the present.

Had these ex-Jesuits been such as Mr. Smyth charitably represented them, deaf to the voice of conscience, and eager to share the spoils (p. 33), what could have hindered them from converting their lands and negroes with portable property, as soon as the Society was destroyed, and in enjoying in indolence the fruits of their sacrilegious plunder? . . .

. . . Since the dissolution of the Society, some [other people] have come across the Atlantic; and, if suspicion were as congenial to others as to him, they might invent some plausible reasons for this new appearance of zeal. However that may be, the public ought to be informed, that the few surviving ex-Jesuits owe to religion one more service, in addition to those which they have already rendered in Maryland; and that is, to secure from waste and misapplication, and to transmit undiminished to the future ministers of the Church, the property which was acquired for its advantage, and preserved by their predecessors.<sup>58</sup>

A Pennsylvania landed foundation : policy recommended. Father Henry Neale, a native of Maryland, being sent to the American Mission in 1739,<sup>1</sup> reported (to the Provincial, Father Charles Shireburn) as follows, under date of April 25, 1741 :

. . . Since my arrival, I've made it my business to inform myself of the situation of affairs in these parts [Pennsylvania?] as far as may be worthy your attention. [Continued, as infra, No. 101.]

I have spent no little pains in considering myself and consulting friends, about the most advantageous methods of making a settlement according to your proposals. And, as things are at present, a purchase of land seems evidently the best and securest establishment that can be made, both for present and future views. Several tracts of land have been lately sold for double the price they were bought for a few years ago. And a valuable tract may now be purchased for eight hundred or a thousand pounds, yet in a few years will in all probability be held at two or three thousand. Nor is there any difficulty of our purchasing now, tho' there may be perhaps afterward. If this proposal of a land establishment seems suitable to your inclination, I shall make it my business, with the advice of friends, to seek out a place that may be answerable to the end you propose ; and begg you'll acquaint me your sentiments hereupon as soon as possible ; as also what summ you think proper to advance, and on whom we may draw for the same, in case we should light upon a place to advantage.

We have at present all liberty imaginable in the exercise of our business, and are not only esteemed, but revered, as I may say, by the better sort of people. About the Lawyer and the Politician.

The German gentlemen [Jesuit missionaries from Germany, Fathers Schneider and Wappeler<sup>2</sup>] are not yet arrived. Their presence is very much wanted. My heart has yearned when I've met with some poor Germans desirous of performing their duties, but whom I have not been able to assist for want of language. I hope in a short time I shall be Pennsylvania: the cost of living in 1740-1741. In the letter just quoted, the young American Jesuit discusses the question of a living for one who could not draw on the congregation. A gentleman in America (Father Joseph Greateon), who had proposed £20 a year as a sufficient allowance, explained to Father Neale that he had been thinking only of a German missionary, who should assist his countrymen about the province, and meet with temporal aid from them.

. . . I am sorry to find things otherwise than represented in England; I mean as to what regards a competent maintenance of one in my station. For an annuity of £20 only will not absolutely suffice. I was told this by our gentlemen in Maryland, and find it so in effect. Most necessarys of life are here as dear, and several dearer, than at London itself. The gentleman who proposed £20 as a tolerable sufficiency says he ment it in regard of a German who, he supposed, would spend the greatest part of his time among his countrymen, and meet with assistance from them, being to be but now and then in town. But for one who is to have his abode in town, as I must, he himself declares it will no wise suffice. Among other expenses I must of necessity keep a horse, in order to assist poor people up and down the country, some twenty miles, some sixty, some farther off. For, at present, he alone [i.e. Father Greateon] is sufficient for the service of the town (tho' 'tis a growing congregation, and will in all likelyhood soon require both more hands and a larger house). Now, traveling expenses in my regard will be considerable, since little or nothing can be expected from the country Catholiks, who, tho' very numerous, are most of them servants or poor tradesmen, and more in need oftentimes of charity themselves, than capable of assisting others. To be short, Sir, I wish I could make £30 do. Tho' every body I advise with assures me £40 annuity is as little as I can reasonably propose to live and act with. The gentleman [Father Greateon] who lives here, tho' he has made a thousand shifts to assist this poor congregation, has never made things meet under thirty pounds sterling a year, including the charitys he was obliged to; tho' he never was at the expenses of keeping a horse. The rising of our country currency, which is now within a trifle of 33½ per cent. from sterling, contributes not a little to render a sterling annuity less valuable. [Continued, as supra, No. 100.]

The land purchases effected : general view. We may take this view, first, from the wills. Two of them, that of John Lewis and that of Charles Sewall, give particulars of the Pennsylvania property. On Lewis's will Father Francis Neale, his mediate heir, makes some comments, showing, as in the case of McElroy's observations on Frederick, the state of obscurity into which past history had sunk by 1814.

Father John Lewis, of Cecil County, devises on March 12, 1788, as follows :

1788, March 12.

3<sup>d</sup>: I bequeath wholly and solely to my worthy and beloved friend, Robert Molyneux of the City of Philadelphia, gentleman, all my real and personal estate of what denomination soever, viz. my plantation in Talbot County, Maryland, now in the tenure of John Bolton, gentleman. Item, a plantation in Newcastle Co., State of Delaware, now in the tenure of Con Hollohan. Item, the Roman Catholic Church of St. Mary's in Fourth Street, also the R. C. Item, the R. C. Md.-N. Y. Province Archives, F (G), authenticated copy of will. Cf. American Catholic Historical Researches, iii. 58-63. Of the six persons mentioned here in the will four were ex-Jesuits, Molyneux, Bolton, Pellentz, and De Ritter, the last-named having been already an exile from the old Flemish-Belgian Province of the Society prior to the general Suppression.

Regarding the names in this will, or in the deeds relative thereto, Father Francis Neale, the heir of Robert Molyneux, has some observations to make in answer to a letter of the Rev. Louis de Barth, manager of the Jesuit estate at Conervago. He writes on the 8th of Feb., 1814 :

1814, February 8.

REV. AND DEAR SIR,

On my return yesterday from Alexandria Mission, I was favoured with your letter of the 31 ult<sup>o</sup>. It contains the information I have long wished for—provided Mr. Digges' conveyance to Mr. John Lewis covers all the land held at Conewago. I find by a copy of Mr. Lewis's will (taken from his will before his death) that I am (thro Rt. Molyneux) left heir to the following property. Here he recites the items of the will, as given above. I did not know by what means Mr. Lewis received his right to Conewago farm, as the warrants for parts of said farm where [!] given to various people—viz. Henry Neale, Pellentz, Frombach, &c.—If Mr. Digges' conveyance includes all the land and is made according to law, it suffices. I find this method has been used in the estate of Coshenhopen.—After the various purchases of parts of this estate, it is all included under one patten [?] to a Mr. Greateon, who sells the whole to Rt. Harden [Robert Harding], who wills the same to John Lewis, &c. I must go to the Eastern Shore and secure the will of John Lewis, or an authenticated copy, as soon as the wheather will permit. I have in my possession an indenture for the conveyance of a house and lot in the Town of Carlisle, County of Cumberland, to the Rev. Charles Sewall from Robert Guthrie the younger, legally executed on the 5th of February, 1779. Do you know of this property? The lot is designated in the plan of said Town by number 274, is 20 feet front, 240 feet back. The heirs of Mr. Sewall are Charles Neale and myself.

The land purchases effected: statement of De Barth. After the wills, the statements of managers or procurators afford a general view of the religious foundation effected in Pennsylvania. The secular priest, Louis de Barth, long a candidate for the Society, was manager of the farm at Conewago. He sent a statement, apparently to the procurator of the Mission, Father Adam Marshall, giving an account of the general assets (1820-1821?).

List of the property belonging to the Society of Jesus in the State of Pensilvania, of which the Rev. Francis Neale is the proprietor.

I. Goshenhopen. Of this plantation, there is among the deeds of Conewago:

- 1° One deed recorded of Mr. Joseph Greateon for 373 acres and 100 perches to Rev. Mr. Robert Harding.
- 2° The will of Rev. Mr. Harding to Rev. Mr. John Lewis.
- 3° Rev. Mr. Lewis' will to Rev. Mr. Moleneux.
- 4° Rev. Mr. Moleneux to Rev. Mr. Francis Neale.

There is another deed (not recorded) of 120 acres of Ulrick Piedler to Henry Neale. In order to prove his property, the Rev. Mr. Francis Neale must have another chain of wills, different from the above. Rev. Mr. Henry Neale's will is not among the Conowago papers.

N.B. The above papers were given to me by the Rev. Mr. Francis Neale in July last or a year before.

II. In Philadelphia. [1°] In Willings Alley: 2° a ground rent of $88 from a house in Walnut-Street: 3° interest of $66 yearly from the city loan office. There are many deeds in the house. I wish Rev. Father Wallace could inspect them.

III. In Lancaster. Three lots and one half. When I left Lancaster in 1804, I left all the deeds in the desk, where I had found them. They have been taken away since, either by the clergymen who resided there before Rev. Mr. Beshter's arrival, or by the laymen during the same interval.

IV. Little Yorck. The deed is made in favor of Rev. Francis Neale by the present agents of the original proprietors.

V. Carleile. One deed by indenture of Robert Gouthri to Charles Sewall. Who is Rev. Mr. Chas. Sewall's heir? I paid $400 towards the purchase of an adjoining lot, under condition of the deed being made to the Rev. Francis Neale.

VI. Conowago. 1° A deed of William Diggs, Henry Diggs and Wilfred Diggs [!], to Rev. John Lewis.

2° Another deed of John Digges and Henry Neale to Rev. John Lewis.

3° Two warrants for one hundred and fifty acres granted, one to Henry Neale, and the other to James Frombach. N.B. Who is Rev. Frombach's heir?

4° I have paid $300 to redeem these warrants, as I was the manager of the land. Mr. McThiry thought it necessary to take the receipt of $300 in my name.

5° A regular succession of deeds for 20 acres of chestnut land, the last deed to Rev. Mr. Francis Neale, bought by me.

6° Ten Turnpike shares at $100 [$200?] each, two of them subscribed by me, and the other 8 given by Patrick Campell, on condition of his receiving the dividends during his life.

7° A copy of a deed of several thousands acres from the Digges's family to Henry Neale. In this tract are, I suppose, included the two tracts mentioned in numbers 1 and 2 in these remarks on Conowago.

VII. South Mountains. 125 [195?] acres, whereon a church has been built and for which I have paid $500. The land is covered with fine pene and chestnut timber, and will pay itself in boards and rails in a few years. (I was obliged to make the purchase, for fear and a well grounded fear) of Mr. Lostello' [Costelloe?] failing, and the church being sold at vendue to pay his debts. I have a deed in favour of Rev. Mr. Francis Neale.

Near Milton. A lot of two acres, whereon a log church is erected; a deed to Rev. Francis Neale.

The above places are to my certain knowledge belonging to the Society.

The land purchases, continued: statement of Marshall. The procurator's account of Pennsylvania has, like De Barth's, an original value of its own, though for a different reason. Its date may be 1824, at the same time that Father Adam Marshall delivered to the Superior, Father Dzierzynski, a very ample statement of the Maryland real property.

I. Conewago. Q. 1. How many tracts in this estate? Ans. Three. The first and largest is part of Digg's Choice, situate to the south of the plantation, and binding on Bastian Opolt's heirs, on John Khun to the south, on the west on Ludwig Schriver now Michael Dellon, and on the east on the heirs of Jacob Kagy and George Etzler, on the north on Joseph Sneringer and the other two tracts. The remaining two tracts are not designated by any particular name; they constitute the northwestern part of the plantation. On these two tracts stand all the buildings.

(a) The heading, Near Milton, and the paragraph, Northumberland, etc., are autograph by Barth.

Digg's Choice. First proprietor, Rev. John Lewis. He bought it from Mr. Wm. Diggs, Henry Diggs, and Wilfred Neale[!]. For this tract there are two deeds conveying different parts; one rec<sup>d</sup> etc. as above [!]; the other is rec<sup>d</sup> in York B.G., page 126, 13th [18th?] of May, 1776. The deed of conveyance is recorded in York Pen<sup>a</sup> B.G. page 132, the 13th day of May, 1776. John Lewis transmitted his right to Robert Molyneux by will dated 13th of March, 1788, recorded in Cecil County Md., v. 5th page 177, 178 and 179, the 21st day of March,<sup>(b)</sup> deposited in the office of said County, the 7 April, 1788. Mr. Rob<sup>t</sup> Molyneux conveyed his right by will to Francis Neale, dated the 13th day of June, 1805, recorded in St. Mary's County L. I.I. and F.F. folios 189, 190, N. 5, a Record book of titles.

The remaining two tracts. These tracts were taken up as vacant land, the part on which the Church and house stand was taken up first, by Mr. Henry Neale<sup>(b)</sup> before Digg's Choice was purchased (the information is incomplete) as appears by Messrs. Henry Neale and Frombach. The heir of Mr. Neale is Mr. Thomas Pulton (his will is dated 7th Jan<sup>y</sup> 1741/2 and recorded 6th of Oct. 1742) L. DD. N. 4, F. 405. (This is wrong as appears from the copy on hand.)

Mr. Poulton's—(the chain of succession to be found in the collection of wills) Mr. Frombach's heirs—to be found in the same place. If not, it must have been destroyed at St. Inagos, when that house was plundered by the enemy during last war. He died at that place.

II. Coshenhopen. Q. How many tracts in this estate? Ans. Two. The one containing 121 a., conveyed by Ulrick Piedler and wife to Henry Neale, 1st day of March, 1747. Mr. Henry Neale conveyed this tract to Mr. Pulton by his will dated &c., as under head of Conewago. The other containing 373 a. 100 p. granted by patent from the Lord Proprietor to Joseph Greateon, dated 3rd. of Aug. 1752, recorded in Philadelphia in Pat. Book A. vol. 17th. page 144, 13th Aug. 1752. This tract was conveyed by will to Mr. Rob. Harding, dated 2nd. Sept. 1749, recorded in office for recording of wills in the State of Pen<sup>a</sup>, then probably in Phil<sup>a</sup>, 30th of Aug. 1753. Mr. Harding conveyed his right to John Lewis by will, dated as under head Conewago. N.B. Included in the above tract is a separate tract lying about two miles from the other, and containing 31 a. 5 p. Of this latter tract about 30 acres were sold to one John Eltz probably by Mr. Greateon, which is to be subtracted from the 373 a.

III. Lancaster. Rev. Mr. Barth assured me that, when he came to Lancaster in the year 1795 in Dec<sup>r</sup>, he found several deeds of the lots, now owned by Mr. Neale, in the drawers of a desk then in the house, which he left in the same place where he found them, when he left Lancaster for Conewago in 1804. He recollects perfectly well that an old school master, by name Mattias Roe, made his will in favor of the church of Lancaster to the amount of several hundred dollars, which will be left in the same drawer with the deeds. On Mattias Roe's death, some members of the congregation wrote to Mr. Barth, enquiring about the said will (there being no priest at the time in Lancaster). Mr. Barth informed them where the will was. The will was found and executed; and since that time the deeds have disappeared.

This property, as far as can be ascertained from different papers, consists of 3 lots and one half, numbered 234, 235, 236 and 237. It is possible that Mr. Henry Neale was the first proprietor of the above lots. The heir of Henry Neale was Mr. Pulton.

III. Mountain Plantation. This consists of 125a, 133 p., purchased by the Rev. Mr. Francis Neale from Jacob Starnier, by deed and conveyance dated — — — This deed still remains in the office at Gettysburg, where it was left to be recorded.

V. Carlile. This consists of two lots, one purchased by Rev. Mr. Charles Sewall from Rob. Guthrie Jun. The deed is dated the 5th Feb. 1779, recorded in Carlisle B. E. vol. 1st., page 304, 5th day of March, 1779. (Not known who is Mr. Sewall's heir; his will is in the collection.) Another was purchased by Mr. Thomas Hagan for the church of Carlile from Mr. James Blaine and Rob. Blaine, executor of Ephraim Blaine, by a deed dated 16th of April (1817), recorded in Carlile B. DD., vol. 1, page 23, the 14th May, 1818. Mr. Thomas Hagan assigned his right to the Rev. F. Neale by an assignment endorsed on the deed, which is recorded in Carlile in B. EE. vol. 1st, page 551, June 12th, 1820. The above lot cost $300, which was obtain[ed] from the following sources. A Mr. James Costeloe and Jeremiah Sullivan gave to Mr. Blentz [Pellentz] a tract of land in Cumberland County a tract of land [!] for the support of the R. C. Priest attending Carlisle. Mr. Pelentz conveyed this land to Mr. Brosius by his will, who sold it to one Shatto. Mr. Barth found $120 of the proceeds of said sale, on taking the management of Conewago, which, with $500 making $620, were applied to said church; the former thro the Rev. Mr. Zocci, with which the pews in said church were erected, and the latter thro Rev. Mr. Marshall, with which the above lot was paid in part, the rest being made up by subscription from the congregation.

VI. Two lots in the town of Northumberland, numbered 93 and 94, conveyed to Rob. Harding by Reuben Haines. The deed is dated the 7th day of Nov., 1774, not yet recorded. In the same county and within about 13 miles of the above, and one mile from the town of Milton, is a lot of ground contain[ing] two acres granted to Mr. Francis Neale by John Keffer. The deed is dated the 13th day of May, 1805; recorded in Northumberland County office in B. N. page 102, 14th day of Oct. 1805.

VII. Philadelphia. It appears from sundry papers now at Conewago that the Rev. Mr. Greateon purchased a lot of land in the City of Philadelphia from a certain John Dixon. This Dixon got his right from Adam Lewis; he from James Tucker; and he from Thomas Charlkey; not known from whom he got his right. However, there is a patent from the Lord Proprietor to one John Bettle, who bought the right of John Beesley [Basley?], who got his right from Richard Townsend; who obtained the said lot from the Lord Proprietor as a gratuity (as appears) for having bought 250 acres in the Province of Pennsylvania. This patent is recorded in Phila. in B.A. vol. 14, page 235, the 22nd. day of Sept. 1749. Joseph Greation conveyed his estate to Rob. Harding by his will, dated as under Coshennohen.

VIII. York. One lot on which the church stands; deeded to Mr. Francis Neale by the agents of the proprietor, now in the hands of Mr. John Koch Sen.

[Note] To Conewago belongs 1st. a tract of wood-land containing 20 a. 51 p. lying in York County; conveyed by John Steinmetz and others to the Rev. Lewis Barth by a deed dated 1st day of April, 1811, not as yet recorded. (N.B. The recording of deeds is not essential to their validity in Pen<sup>a</sup>) Rev. Lewis Barth conveyed this land to Rev. F. Neale by his deed dated 19th of June, 1811, recorded in York, B.W.W., page 43, 24th of June, 1811.

2ly. A lot in the town of Hanover, consisting of parts of lots numbered 93, 94, conveyed by Wendel Keller and wife in trust to Rev. James Palentz and other lay-trustees for a R. C. Church, all of whom are dead and have no successors. By the laws of Pen<sup>a</sup> it remains for the original purpose.

The Pennsylvania property in 1822: statement by Charles Neale and Benedict Fenwick. In the memorial addressed to the General, and drawn up by these two Fathers Nov. 22, 1822, the following short sketch is added to the account of eight Maryland properties, and several in the District of Columbia.

The property of the Society, in the State of Pennsylvania, is still held by a private individual, under a confidential or implied trust (a member of the Society), there being no incorporation of the clergy in that State, as in the State of Maryland. It consists, 1st. of a plantation at Conewago, containing about 500 acres of well improved land; on which there is a substantial Church, a convenient house for the clergy and excellent outbuildings.—2ly. the plantation at Goshenhopen, containing about 490 acres of land, nearly one-half of which is still in wood; on which there is also a Church, but which is miserably out of repair, as well as all other buildings and outbuildings, from the carelessness and very great neglect of the secular Priest, who lived on this property for twenty-four years.—3ly. The Church in Lancaster, with the lot on which it stands, together with the dwelling-house in which the clergyman resides, that attends the adjoining congregation.—Lastly, the property in Philadelphia, consisting of St. Joseph's Church, together with the lot on which it stands, and the house in which the Bishop resides.

§ 10. PARING AWAY THE PROPERTY IN DIVERS STATES, 1793-1830

Waste in Pennsylvania: Goshenhoppen. One form of loss by simple deterioration was common to all the Pennsylvania farms or Maryland plantations, which had the misfortune to be managed by missionaries; but the deterioration was not usually to such a degree as that of which Goshenhoppen affords an instance. The priest in charge there was the Rev. Paul Erntzen, a secular clergyman, who, on the 13th of Oct., 1812, signed an obligation to Francis Neale regarding the property of which he was put in possession. The schedule annexed declared in particular that the property was called The Catholic Church Land, lying in Goschenhoppen, Hereford Township, in the County of Berks, Pennsylvania, containing 500 acres more or less. The Vicar-General of Philadelphia, the Rev. Louis de Barth, tells what became of the property under Erntzen's management. Writing to the procurator, Father Adam Marshall, on Sept. 17, 1820, he speaks of the heirs of the late Rev. Mr. Erntzen, who, it is apprehended, may institute a lawsuit against me as agent of Rev. Mr. Neale, and succeed in reversing the judgment of the court, which allowed $4,500 to Rev. Mr. Neale for damages sustained at Goshenhopen, by the neglect of the late Rev. Mr. Erntzen, who lived on and enjoyed the revenue of the farm for the space of 25 years, and notwithstanding left the premises in a most ruinous situation.

1820, September 17.

A month later, De Barth explains to Marshall that money is scarce and uncertain, because the Prussian Consul may push the claims of the Erntzen heirs and use up the funds. Five months afterwards he is in hopes that, after settling the Erntzen estate, there will remain $300 for some practical purpose. The whole succession, he learns, amounts to $7000, of which $2000 are but debts.

B.

1821, March 21.

I fear that nothing at all will be left for the heirs in Europe. I doubt even whether Rev. Mr. Neale will receive the full amount of the indemnification granted by law.

Finally, after several more months he says :

1821, June 25.

I do not know whether in my former letters I mentioned to you, that the heirs of Rev. Mr. Erntzen have sent a power of attorney to the Prussian consul in Philadelphia, to demand the estate. We may expect a suit. I was always apprehensive of it.

Md.-N. Y. Province Archives, (g) Goshenhoppen : obligation of Erntzen to Neale, 1812, Oct. 13 ; letters of De Barth, Conewago or Philadelphia, to Marshall, Georgetown, 1820, Sept. 17, Oct. 26 ; 1821, Mar. 21, June 25. Cf. No. 105, 2<sup>a</sup>

It may appear that this is the case to which Mgr. Marechal intended to refer some six years later (1826), when, in urging his claims to own all the Church property of the Jesuits,<sup>1</sup> he based his demands, with regard to churches in particular, on the infidelity of Jesuits hitherto in preserving such property for the uses of religion. He cited some case of Father Beeston, a Jesuit, he said, who held sacred property in Philadelphia by a deed in fee simple, and which was seized by his natural heirs ; and, added Marechal, the case was laid before the Holy See by Father Grassi. Possibly by Beeston and Philadelphia the claimant was really designating Erntzen and Pennsylvania ; for all the circumstances mentioned are unwarranted by facts.<sup>2</sup>

<sup>1</sup> Marechal proposed that the Jesuits in America should be ordered by the General de ne jamais recevoir le titre civil d'aucune Église. Cf. infra, No. 131, 3, 2<sup>a</sup> ; 1824, Nov. 4. This was the same demand which, in urging a secularizing law of Mortmain, Lord Baltimore had made 180 years before. Cf. supra, Nos. 6, H-R, passim ; 12, A ; 15 ; 22.

<sup>2</sup> Beeston does not appear ever to have held the title in fee simple to property which touched the Jesuits. He was a secular priest himself (No. 93, note 39). On occasion of Father Grassi's going to Rome (1817-1818), we find no communication relating to Beeston, who had died before Grassi himself ever went to America (Oct. 21, 1810), and during the long interval when the Abbé Marechal himself was not in America, but was working in France (1803-1812). Cf. No. 111, p. 365 : Beeston, a charter-trustee.

Marechal connects with Beeston as a Jesuit trustee in Philadelphia, and Grassi as a Jesuit reporter or referee in Rome, a parallel case which he adduces of a Jesuit sacrilege deliberately committed not long since in Harford County, at Deer Creek. All these references and allusions seem to be of equal historical value. However, in the vague recollection which Marechal may have kept of the Erntzen case, there was a basis for his assertion ; the claim was for religious property, but it was against Erntzen on behalf of the Jesuits themselves. In all cases, whether it was the Englishman Beeston or the Prussian Erntzen, it was not a Jesuit's case. As this matter trenches on a wide question of jurisdiction claimed by Marechal over the Order, and, in strict connection therewith, over the property of the Society, we can only mention here the passages just alluded to, and refer to the documents.

. . . P. S. Two facts prove the necessity of stating the end for which sacred property is deeded to any member of the Society. The 1st laid before the Holy See by Father Grassi is Father Beeston a Jesuit, who held sacred property in Philadelphia by a deed in fee simple, and which was seized by his natural heirs. The 2d. The sacrilege deliberately committed, not long since, in Harford C[ount]y.

The end to which the prelate here alluded as essential to any gift intended for Jesuits, and as a condition to be declared by the donors upon oath before a civil magistrate, was that they meant their donation only as a trust in the hands of the Jesuits for the use of the archbishop; and so the Jesuit trustees should never be able to defraud the local donors of the fruits of the donation. With this oath taken by the donors, and publicly registered as a guarantee against the Religious Order, the third archbishop of Baltimore said that he would allow a church built for the Jesuits to be opened for Divine worship. Otherwise he declared publicly to the benevolent laity of Upper Marlborough, he would not be doing his duty in ensuring the perpetual preservation of the places consecrated to Divine worship. Privately to Father Dzierozynski, the Jesuit Superior, he adduced Beeston and Deer Creek as the motives of his policy. Cf. No. 139, A, note 4.

E. 1826, October 15.

Dzierozynski, Georgetown, 15 Oct., 1826, to Marechal.

This I know, that the Rev. Mr. Beeston was not [a] Jesuit, when he died.

The prelate sent a long answer (Oct. 18) which closes thus:

F. 1826, October 18.

Marechal, Baltimore, 18 Oct., 1826, to Dzierozynski.

You terminate your letter by these words: "As for those who induced the people to deed the Church of Marlborough to Fr. Neale, and promised attendance, or who threatened, I know nothing, etc. etc. etc. This I know, that Rev. Mr. Beeston was no Jesuit, etc. etc." Such are your stories. Rather than confute them, I like better to conclude by assuring you that I am with esteem, Rev. Father, Liquidation in Philadelphia and New York: St. Joseph's and the Literary Institution. Besides mismanagement, whoever it might be that was locally responsible for it, there was a set purpose formed, in view of heavy incumbrances, to realize on landed property wherever liquidation was possible. The property in New York was disposed of, situated in that part where the great Catholic cathedral of New York now stands. The Baltimore property was made a present of to the cathedral of Baltimore. The city lots and rights in Philadelphia were to come next. Lancaster may be reckoned last. Where the Jesuit managers themselves did not scatter, it would be marvellous if others did not lend themselves to the work. The only wise man among them all seems to have been the Vicar-General of Philadelphia, Louis de Barth, whose word, however, did not avail to stem the tide of liquidation. To indicate the main steps of the process, the statements of the chief manager, Adam Marshall, are quite satisfactory. On the 5th of March, 1821, he writes to the General, and takes a view of Philadelphia and New York.

8. This [the property in Philadelphia] consists of a ground rent of two houses and lots amounting to $88 annually, and one house and church adjoining. The house and church are in a very confined situation, separated from the street, and can be approached only by a narrow passage. The church has exteriorly more the appearance of a stable than of a church; the house is good, but not sufficient for any public purpose. This property has never been of any use to the Society; during the life of Bishop Egan, he and his clergy occupied it, and at his death it was left in ruins; and, since the year 1814, the Society has spent $1,387 on repairing it. It is at present occupied by the new Bishop; I have endeavoured to make him pay a rent for it, but have not as yet succeeded. I am even obliged to pay the taxes and an annuity of $36 for money that was borrowed for the use of the said house; altogether amounting to $98 annually. We had also $1,100 in stock, which I sold, and applied the proceeds of it to the support of the [Jesuit] Seminary in Washington.

Though the New York property is not classed under Pennsylvania, its relation to general ways and means is identical with the Philadelphia items which we are considering. Hence we continue with the same procurator, who goes on to speak of the property in New York, formerly the New York Literary Institution.

B.

This property was originally purchased by two gentlemen for \$13,000, which they borrowed from an Insurance Company at 7 per cent., to which Company they gave their bond and a mortgage on the property for the amount of money borrowed; and for their own security kept the titles of the property in their own hands. It consists of three different lots of ground. The first contains  $5\frac{1}{2}$  acres, which is held in fee simple, subject however to four bushels of wheat annually. The second contains 5 acres, and is held on a lease which expires in 2 years after next May, and is subject to \$10 ground rent per annum. And the third contains 18 acres; is also held on a lease, which expires in 4 years after next May, and pays \$40 per annum. Description. At what time or by whom the Society was made answerable for the debt contracted in the purchase of this place, I do not know. At the time when Father Kenney compelled me to accept the office of Procurator, there were still \$10,000 due on it. I am now endeavoring to pay a part of it. We will not be able to pay it without selling a part of our real property. And, as real property is now so low, and no probability of its rising in value, it will require the proceeds of no small part to pay this debt. . . .

The Superior, in conjunction with the trustees of the Corporation, have given me permission to sell the two last mentioned properties [i.e. the New York and Philadelphia properties], for the purpose of supplying our current expenses and diminishing the principal of the New York debt. I have since made every effort to sell the house we own in Philadelphia to the trustees of the Bishop's cathedral, to whom alone it can be sold, as the church adjoining to the house must go with it; but to no effect. Such has been the confusion and dissension among the Catholics in Philadelphia since his arrival, that nothing could be done. The property in New York was sold on the 27 of Feb. for $1800, and the purchaser was so little satisfied with his bargain that, after buying it at the publick sale, he gave us the liberty of keeping it if we chose. After considering on it, and consulting those whom I thought most capable of giving a correct judgment on the subjects, I thought best to let him have it. I presume the Superior and trustees have written to your Paternity and exposed to you the absolute necessity we are in of selling this property.

General Archives S.J., Maryl. Epist., 2, ii., 1821, Mar. 5, Statement of Adam Marshall to the General, Nos. 8, 9.—Cf. Md.-N. Y. Province Archives (at St. Joseph's, Philadelphia), correspondence of Marshall and his agent Jos. Snyder. For other particulars on these matters, cf. Ibid., Cc. Marshall's statement, 1824, to the Superior Dzierozynski.

At this very time De Barth was endeavouring to set Marshall on his guard against the Philadelphia agent, Snyder, whose advice he was following. He represented that Philadelphia was the seat in the future for an academy or college manned by Fathers and scholastics, and therefore the property should be kept; and, as he said, both temporal and spiritual concerns would have been profitably attended to. He urged that old stock once invested was not to be spent for temporary or casual purposes, at least unless it was directly for the good of the Society.

1820, October 25.

Not long ago I had mentioned to the same Mr. Jos. Snyder that this stock being the amount of the economy of the old Jesuits, or of some of their houses [I] said, the income therefore ought to go towards the benefit of the Society, and not to the repairs of this house, which could be kept in repairs by the trustees, by paying some yearly rent for their Pastors to the owner thereof.

He stigmatized the whole system of temporary expedients, selling here to pay there, as the plan of making one hole to fill up another. And he struck at the root of the economical evils subsisting among the Jesuits by using the following trenchant language:

1820, September 26.

I do not know the whole Institut [of the Society], but I have been told, and read it likewise, that it is a masterpiece. Even the impious acknowledge it. Nothing, it is said, is left unprovided for. Surely St. Ignatius has then foreseen, that by far the smallest part of his children would have any turn, and, if true children, still less inclination for farming, unless compelled by obedience. And this holy Father, knowing so well the cunning of Satan, must have guarded his children against a temptation now existing in this country, viz. that the devil, in order to hinder the children of St. Ignatius to become good missionaries, would try to make them bad farmers, and thus, d'une pierre deux coups, the spiritual is neglected and the temporals ruined, and thus farewell the Society. It is come near to the point at present.

Marshall's statement, 1824: missionary farmers. The property of the Society in Philadelphia was considered by the bishop, Henry Conwell, to be a reserve and protection against the encroachments of lay-trustees. He wrote to Father Adam Marshall, April 7, 1821, when proposing to buy from the Fathers their land titles:

1821, April 7.

I never yet mentioned my intentions to any person further than to say that Religion would be ruined in Philadelphia, were it not for the property of the Society, where there is a retreat from the mob—and my frequent mention of this, with thanksgiving to God for it, gives me the name of a Jesuit among those deluded people, who like all wicked miscreants are in the habit of speaking of them with asperity. He does not know what he should offer; he would engage to pay 1000 Dollars for the first year with legal interest on the sum to be paid from the day of ratifying the purchase, which interest is to be reduced according to the payments.

I have got very consoling news this day; that is, that the church of St. Mary's and the burying ground is not altogether in the power of trustees.

More news of the same kind came in as the Jesuits gradually unearthed their titles, discovered the full chain of wills and devises, and so rendered the titles in Philadelphia, like those in Maryland, perfectly secure.

But new circumstances developed in the course of negotiations. Writing from Reading, 1 Dec. 1823, to Father Anthony Kohlmann, Bishop Conwell signified his anxious wish to have Jesuit establishments throughout the diocese of Philadelphia, and, having enlarged on this point, proceeded to state his object in securing for himself the Jesuit foundation of Sir John James.<sup>3</sup>

B.

1823, December 1.

In order to succeed, there should be two (bini) together at least, belonging to Societies, so as that they may be recalled and others sent in their place occasionally as the success of the Mission may require, which belongs to Societies alone to perform. I believe the letter to the Rev. Mr. Fenwick, which I explained to the venerable Superior [Charles Neale?] and you in Lancaster, gives you no longer any reason to think that I would be inclined to invade your just rights or privileges. My object in getting from the Holy See a Collation in Commendam for Lancaster County and having it constituted into a Parochial Benefice, was to get possession of the Pennsylvania Mission Fund, which, I had been led to believe, was annexed to Lancaster, and which unprecedented circumstances made it necessary for me to claim, as the Chief Missioner of Pennsylvania deprived of all subsistence, but which notwithstanding I would not apply any part of to my own uses without the Apostolical Indult comprised in the Collation, to relieve my conscience from any scruple or idea of responsibility.

The agent of the English Jesuits hitherto received the whole amount annually, part of which they remitted to America, but retained a part, as I now understand, in their own hands towards liquidating a certain sum or sums, borrowed for building Georgetown College.<sup>4</sup> I understood by Mr. Barth that no part of it has been received or remitted to America these four years back, that is, since my appointment.

Your venerable Superior told me that he would write immediately, which I suppose he has done, to the Superior at Stonyhurst, to signify to him how that affair stands; and, to guarantee to him the payment of whatever was due at the time of my appointment to the See of Philadelphia. And by this means the Rev. Mr. Scott [S.J.] will not hesitate to give the remainder into the hands of Rev. Francis Tuite, Dr. Poynter's agent, as he did with respect to a certain share of the same from the 27th of May, 1821, to May, 1823; which I have announced to Dr. Poynter that he might expect from Mr. Scott; and this, you see, is perfectly just. If Father Kohlmann comes to Lancaster, the Bishop hereby appoints him Vicar-General for a certain district. He makes a series of offers to the Society, of the Joseph Kauffmann farm in Indiana County, of a Greensburg farm, where the Rev. Mr. McGirr now resides, of a property left to the Church by the Rev. Mr. Browsers.

Md.-N. Y. Province Archives, Bishop Conwell, Reading, Dec. 1, 1823, to Anthony Kohlmann.

The good bishop was occupying the Jesuits' property in Philadelphia. Though the Society paid for everything, repairs, taxation, annuity, without receiving even a rent, Bishop Conwell wrote, on Jan. 12, 1824, to the Superior Dzierozynski, reviewing the case already treated with Marshall of procuring from the Society of Jesus, for $5000, this Philadelphia property, which, however, he went on to say, <sup>4</sup> The Bishop's information was incorrect. The Fund, dedicated to the Jesuit Missions in Pennsylvania, was always placed in the English accounts as to the credit of the American Mission; and was balanced against the debts of the American Jesuits to those of England. Cf. Nos. 70; 90, 6°; 148, A, 2°; 173, C, D. Cf. No. 150, K, L, an entry in the Ledger of the London procurator, Father W. Strickland, for 1811, noting the permanent credit of Maryland for £53. 11. 8, on account of the Pennsylvania fund; the remittance being made to him generally in May, by the Vicar Apostolic of London.

C.

1824, January 12.

your Society claim, whilst the Catholic people urge a claim also, as having advanced all the money that was ever expended and laid out on it.

The bishop adds that he has written in this sense to the Sacred Congregation, and they have answered from Rome, not by making a present of the Jesuits' property to him, which is beyond the attributions even of the Holy Father, but by writing a circular to all the bishops, asking their kindly assistance for the Bishop of Philadelphia. This very regular proceeding, though not so satisfactory to the claimant for the Fathers' property, may have helped to open Marshall's eyes, when even a kindly disposed bishop like Dr. Connell could afford to take such measures behind the scenes. He wrote immediately afterwards to the Superior (Jan. 20, 1824), that he did not approve of selling the property to the bishop; for, if things went against his lordship ultimately in his contentions with the schismatics, the payment of moneys received would devolve upon the Society. He said he was now writing a full account of the affairs in Philadelphia, and would forward it to Father Dzierozynski.

The statement so forwarded, covering the whole period from Aug. 22, 1820, at which date Marshall took matters in hand, till Jan. 1, 1824, is indeed a very interesting relation of Jesuit management. We append some of the items, by way of specimen, beginning with the annuity, which Marshall was paying in Philadelphia; proceeding to the management of an estate (Portobacco, St. Thomas's Manor), during a quarter of a century, by no less a person than Father Charles Neale, three times Superior of the whole Mission; and ending first with a reference to the management of temporalities by the three Archbishops of Baltimore, and secondly with a reflection of Marshall's own.

Annuity in Philadelphia. This annuity is paid to a man of the name of Carry [Corry?], a relation of Bishop Egan, to whom at his death he left a sum of money; which sum was borrowed from him by Mr. De Barth, agent of Mr. Francis Neale, on the condition of paying to him for it an annuity of $36 during his life. This money was expended in repairs of the house, now occupied by his successor. This house was left by Mr. Egan at his death in a very delapidated condition.

E.

The only account I could get from Mr. Charles Neale about St. Thomas's, who had been its manager till this meeting [Aug. 22, 1820], when he resigned and Mr. Francis Neale was appointed, is the following :

Debts : between $1300 and 1400.

This place gave nothing to the general fund during the last 3 years [under Francis Neale's management], and I am told never [gave anything] before [i.e. during more than thirty years under Charles Neale's management].

F.

Revenue expected for current year, 1824. Rents from Cedar Point (St. Thomas's, 3000 acres) and Bohemia (1000); half in crops and half in rents from the tenants: $2000; but all will depend on the success in compelling the tenants to pay. B. Newtown (700), and St. Thomas's, Portobacco (1000),<sup>5</sup> apparently hopeless. C White Marsh (2000), of which Marshall himself is manager: $400. D. Brent's debt (supra, No. 87, O). E. Stump's (No. 88, p. 304). F. Hire of some negroes. [G]. Conewago (500): nothing.

Finally, to quote one more passage from the Statement of 1824, Marshall compares the prosperous Bohemia, held by non-Jesuits, with the decadent Cedar Point, 3000 acres, part of St. Thomas's Manor :

G.

It ought also here to be remarked, that Bohemia was for a long time in the hands of Bishop Carroll and after him in those of Bishop Neale for a short time ; and, before Bishop Carroll, in the hands of the Sulpicians of Baltimore, who placed on it [Abbé Marechal] the present Archbishop of Baltimore. Cedar Point has been under the sole control either of Jesuits or ex-Jesuits, from the first occupation of it: the former [Bohemia] contains about 1,000 acres, the latter [Cedar Point] 3,000 ; the former is in good condition, its wood preserved, and the land and buildings in good order and well taken care of, the latter in a most wretched condition, the wood destroyed, the land exhausted, the buildings mostly in ruins ; in fine, the former 1,000 acres have produced more nett rent in 3 years, than the latter 3,000. Considering this fact, tho' only one, can we be surprised that so many people are found, who think that the hands of the Jesuits are not the most worthy, into which property destined for the support and propagation of religion can be placed !<sup>6</sup>

<sup>5</sup> The use of 1400 at St. Thomas's was assigned to the house ; on which cf. No. 114, F-K. Bohemia had 110 acres for a home-farm, and yet, says Marshall, this supports the house. They are cultivated by B[rother] Heard. Father P. Epinette was pastor.

Philadelphia: St. Mary's. After Marshall had tried ineffectually to rid the Society of St. Joseph's, Francis Neale to more purpose resigned all rights over St. Mary's. Bishop Conwell wrote to him, on April 7, 1821, saying how apprehensive he had been, lest the bad men styling themselves Catholics, should deprive the real Catholics of the principal Church of this city, called St. Mary's Church. But, he continued—

1821, April 7.

I was comforted by the consoling news, that you had the title of this Church and the burying ground, by a deed to you from the late Rev. Mr. Molyneux, who derived his title to it from the Rev. Mr. Harding. If this be true, I am relieved, and religion will be preserved in Philadelphia against the powers of darkness. I request therefore that you will inform me, on receipt of this, immediately, by return of post, how far these things are true or false. . . . Not knowing, whether or no this would find you in Georgetown, I enclosed it to the Rev. Mr. Marshall, having occasion to correspond with him.

The letter to Marshall, on the same day, is that in which Bishop Conwell begins negotiations for buying out St. Joseph's. From this date, during nearly five years, there is intermittent correspondence on the subject of St. Mary's, till we arrive at Nov. 5, 1825. Then Father Francis Neale writes to the Superior, whose letter he acknowledges, as having come thro' the hands of the Rt. Rev. H. Conwell, Bishop of Philadelphia, and he says that, after reflection, he has deeded St. Mary's Church to the bishop, at the same time desiring his lordship to reciprocate by making a legal acknowledgment that St. Joseph's is Jesuit property, and by paying a little rent. Neale executed the indenture under date of two days later, Nov. 7, 1825, conveying his rights over St. Mary's absolutely and for ever to Bishop Conwell, for the consideration of five shillings. The nature of these rights, with the series of wills, Harding's, Lewis's, and Molyneux's, and the deed of conveyance, was expounded by the bishop in a pamphlet of 1822, with a statement that the bishop, having obtained this indenture for the sake of protecting the property against the schismatics, would consider it his duty to surrender the same by deed to the said Francis Neale and his heirs. However, the following letter of Bishop Conwell to Father Neale puts a slightly different aspect on the latter phase of these negotiations (June 18, 1828):

B.

Philadelphia, June 18th, 1828.

VERY REVEREND DEAR SIR,

Your favour came duly to hand. With respect to the deed which you gave me of St. Mary's Church, I shall give you a deed of the same, as far as the law allows, to be held by you and your heirs and assigns for ever in trust for the Bishop who shall succeed me and all future Bishops of Philadelphia, who be in communion with the Holy See. And, as for St. Joseph's Church and the property attached to it, I claim no right to it further than that of a tenant under you, during my life, to pay one dollar yearly, by a bargain made with Rev. Adam Marshall, who had authority from you to act for you at that time; and who covenanted with me, at the same time, to convey the said premisses to me for ever, on my paying down $5,000.

If you desire it, I shall give possession of everything that belongs to you here to the Very Rev. William Matthews, in trust for yourself and heirs. I have been at considerable expenses to maintain a cause of action in defence of your rights, which I gained; and I expect you will commission Mr. Matthews to pay me—as I have great need for it at this moment.

Previous to my coming here, the clergy had a yearly revenue for their support, derivable from ground-rents and tenements, which were alienated by Mr. Marshall, on my coming, to my great disadvantage. In consequence of which, the demand I make at present must appear trifling, in comparison with what I have been considered to have a just claim to, as their rents were judged to be attached to the Establishment.

I have the honour to be ever, Dear Sir,

With great respect,

Your sincere and faithful friend and servant in Xt,

+ HENRY CONWELL,

Bishop of Philadelphia.

[To] Rev. Father Francis Neale.

to ground an imperative demand for every one, who could boast of a relationship by function or office with the first pensioner taken in on charity.

Lancaster, Pa. The station at Lancaster seems to have been an object of special predilection with the Fathers in the early part of the nineteenth century. To quote only the Superior's statement to the General as late as 1830, Feb. 22, Father Dzierzozynski says about the Jesuit property and prospects there:

5. Lancaster in Pennsylvania. Haec est una ex maximis civitatibus in hoc Statu, habemusque in ea nostram domum et ecclesiam pulchram, quae nunc occupantur a sacerdote saeculari, quia non habemus e nostris quem ponamus, praesertim scientem linguam Germanicam, utpote majori ex parte Germanis sit inhabita[ta]. Optimus esset hic locus tam pro scholis publicis quam pro missionario.

Twenty-four years afterwards, the Rt. Rev. John N. Neumann, Bishop of Philadelphia, procured the passing of an Act of Assembly, whereby he was authorized to borrow $10,000 on the credit of this Jesuit property. In recent times, the Roman authorities were referred to for some authorization, or guaranty title, in virtue of which some land near the church was sold and money was raised.

White Marsh and Bitouzey: action of trespass threatened by the lodger against the landlord. Other portions of the property, whether in one State or another, were passing through crises of their own. On Oct. 26, 1813, it was ordered by the Corporation, that the novitiate of the Society, which was now too large for the accommodations at Frederick, should be removed to White Marsh.

1813, October 26.

Proceedings of the Corporation, Oct. 26, 1813.

5. It being presented to the Board that the number of young postulants for the Church are too numerous to be received into the temporary residence at Frederick-Town, resolved, that the house already ordered, and in some degree of forwardness at the White Marsh, be finished this present fall for their [the novices'] reception. Therefore the agent, jointly with the manager, is hereby authorized to employ any workmen they may judge necessary for the purpose.

At the same time, by another resolution, they accepted the resignation of the Rev. Mr. G. B. Bitouzey, registering a formal vote of thanks :

B.

Proceedings of the Corporation, same date.

4. Whereas the Rev. Mr. G. B. Bitouzy, having presented his resignation as manager of the White Marsh plantation, and the Corporation being convinced of his exertions and judicious management of the said plantation, do hereby vote him the sincere thanks of the Board, and do appoint the Rev. Benedict Fenwick to succeed him in the management of the said plantation.

The Rev. Mr. Germain Bitouzé, a Norman, had been admitted by the ex-Jesuits into their Select Body of Clergy, on Sept. 4, 1797; he had been appointed successor to Father Ashton in the management of the important White Marsh plantation on Nov. 3, 1801, and, on Aug. 11, 1802, he was elected one of the Corporation Trustees, with the two bishops, Fathers Walton and Molyneux. Since that time he had done excellent service, both as a plantation manager and as a Trustee, being always re-elected to this responsible office. What had led to his proffered or threatened resignation was his indignation at seeing his White Marsh designed for a Jesuit institution, and that at the instigation of such men as were now in charge of the Society or were important factors in it, a Father Anthony Grassi, the Superior, or a Father Beschter, novice-master. These men were deputed by the General in Russia. Hence Bitouzey contemptuously calls them Russians. And the Society in general comes in for a fair share of his contempt and wrath. A sketch of the correspondence will now show how the whole property and its titles vested in a Corporation were found to be involved, owing to the mixed character of the Board of Trustees as well as of the Select Body which they represented. Ten days before the meeting at which Bitouzey's resignation was thought to be offered and was accepted, Archbishop Carroll gave Father Grassi timely warning of what was coming. Speaking of the disappointment caused by the attitude of Mr. Bitouzey towards the new building and the establishment of a novitiate at White Marsh, he entered on a larger question.

C. (1813), October 16.

During the last four or five years, he [Mr. Bitouzey] has constantly expressed a desire of retiring from the management [of White Marsh] committed to him, and he was with difficulty prevailed on by the other Trustees and myself to suspend his removal. Probable explanations.

Let me beseech you to recommend to the members of the Society to follow the instructions of the Very Rev. Fr. General, and convince themselves that [they] have not, and cannot have yet, any corporate right in the ecclesiastical property of this country. I see, methinks, a cloud gathering and raised up by some anti-Jesuitical clergymen of different nations amongst us, which threatens much trouble, if they can raise it; but their enmity would give me little alarm, if it were not irritated more and more by the presumptuous language and premature pretensions of some of your subjects. Mr. Malou, as Pasquet relates, was rash enough to say to him or before him, that all the estates, held by the Corporation, belong now to the Society, and ought to be under the controul of the General. I myself have heard sometimes from others language of nearly the same tenor. Regarding it as the offspring of inconsideration, and a want of knowledge of our laws and the standing of the Catholic clergy here, I always kept in my breast these rash expressions; but Pasquet has undoubtedly carried them to Mr. Bitouzey, and will make them ring thro the country, perhaps much amplified, and with invidious comments. Allow me to add, that even you yourself are sometimes impetuous for the immediate management of the temporalities, which more patience will gradually bring to the Society.—I have now received a letter of yesterday from Mr. Francis Neale, with notice of the Corporation being called together for the 25th and 26th of this month. It will not probably be in my power to attend; and yet so much do I tremble at the consequence of the resolutions which may then be adopted, that I must suspend answering Mr. Neale for two or three days.

Seemingly to the said Francis Neale, the Rev. Mr. Bitouzey wrote, three days prior to the meeting:

(a) Oct. 16, endorsed by Grassi. Another hand has added 1816, whereas Carroll died in 1815.

1813, October 23.

. . . The mission, which people occasionally sent down here [to White Marsh] were clothed with, is no new thing to me. I knew it perfectly well before now. A personal regard for the individuals, whom Jesuitical hypocrisy had swindled into that contemptible office, prevent me from saying anything; but I want to add something to the note which I sent the other day, viz. that I do object [to] the Russians having anything to do with White Marsh in any shape whatever. I am determined never to live where any of them is master, and never to agree that any of them live where I may happen to be master. Their plan of turning out every old member of the Corporation, that is to say, those very members by whom they have been kindly received, those very members who admitted them to partake of their bread, and divided it with them with liberality and generosity—that plan, I say, might perhaps do in the wilds of Syberia, but will not do here; and that plan must appear so much the more odious and contemptible when it is observed that the man who is at the head of it is a man that we feed and support, a man who is not a member, a man who, for the most weighty reasons, ought not to be admitted among us, and who, I trust, never will. I will oppose those invaders with all the firmness and resolution which I am capable of; I will oppose them by all the means, which in any way whatever can be within my reach. I will be much obliged to you for giving them this information, sent to them by me without the intervention of spies. The more public you will make it, the more obliged I will be to you for saving me the trouble of doing it myself.

I remain with respect,

G. B. BITOUZEY.

Oct. 23, 1813.

It is to be observed that the Superior of the whole American Mission, Father Anthony Grassi, was not declared to be a member of the Select Body till June 29, 1815, more than a year and a half after this; and Father Beschter, the novice-master destined for White Marsh, was admitted on June 14, 1814, a little more than half a year after Bitouzey's letter.

Carroll, Baltimore, Oct. 25, 1813, to (Grassi).

. . . The Rev. Mr. Francis Neale sent [me] a copy of Mr. Bitouzey's letter to him. You see how the flame has kindled; which must be a warning to us, who love and wish for the re-establishment of the Society with due canonical authority, and a formal derogation of the lamentable brief of Clement XIV., to proceed with the utmost legal caution; least that happy event should meet with unexpected and perhaps insuperable difficulties.

Here followed on Oct. 26, 1813, that Board meeting, already mentioned, which accepted of Bitouzey's resignation. Archbishop Carroll was unwell at Baltimore; Bitouzey himself was absent; the other three present were Bishop Leonard Neale, Robert Plunkett, and Charles Neale.

At this date, from 1811 to 1815, the Board of Trustees consisted of the two bishops, one Jesuit, and two secular priests, Plunkett and Bitouzey. This proportion was not out of keeping with its antecedents since 1802. In the election then (1802) the two bishops had been returned, with two ex-Jesuits, and one secular clergyman, Bitouzey; the two ex-Jesuits dying, there were substituted two others, Pile and Plunkett, who never re-entered the Society. In 1805 one bishop, Dr. Carroll, one Jesuit, Molyneux, Superior of the Society reconstituted in America, and Pile, Plunkett, and Bitouzey. In 1808 the two bishops, two Jesuits, and Bitouzey; but, for Molyneux, deceased, another Jesuit was substituted. In 1811 the two bishops, the new Superior of the Jesuits, Charles Neale, and two secular priests, Plunkett and Bitouzey. In 1815, after the date of this correspondence, the two bishops were returned with two Jesuits. See No. 169, B, list of Trustees, 1793-1820.

During this same period, the number of places in the Select Body of the Clergy was declared to be thirty, having been raised, in 1799, from the original number of twenty-six. The ex-Jesuits in 1803 were, as the two bishops stated to the General in Russia, thirteen in number. In the same year and same month, the two bishops and Bitouzey had passed a resolution (May 24, 1803).<sup>7</sup>

Sequence of antecedent resolutions.

F.

1803, May 24.

13<sup>d</sup>. As there is happily a prospect of the Restoration of the Society in this country, the resolutions heretofore made, respecting that contingency, shall be carried into effect, as much as will depend on this Corporation: at the same time assurances are given to all those who not having been, or [not] intending to be of the Society, have nevertheless been associated to the Select Body of the Clergy in Maryland, that they will be entitled to their rights as members thereof during their natural life, and as long as they conform to the general regulations of the Select Clergy.

<sup>7</sup> This date is one day prior to that of the joint letter, signed by the two bishops, Carroll and Neale, and addressed to the General of the Society, petitioning for the restoration of the Order in America. Cf. Nos. 113, R; 178, F.

As will appear below, the resolutions heretofore made were several, and one had been entered into the fundamental organic regulations, formed by the Select Body, on Oct. 4, 1793, in accordance with the Act of the Maryland Assembly, which incorporated their Board. It ran thus, as sixteenth among the fundamental resolves or bye-laws:

G.

16° That the Trustees are required to have particular attention to the interests of the former members of the Society of Jesus, and, in case of its future establishment in this State, to use their best endeavours to restore the estates to its members: and they shall elect them into the Select Body in preference to all others.

The final article, the twenty-fourth, bound all future Trustees to take an oath of fidelity in observing these regulations:

H.

24° That the Trustees, before they enter on their office, shall bind themselves by oath made according to law that during their continuance in office they will truly and faithfully execute the trust reposed in them, according to the true intent and meaning of the regulations, adopted or to be adopted by the Ministers of the Roman Catholic Church for the management of their estates and temporalities.

This resolution about the estates was the final and legal formula of what had been the last paragraph in their original Form of Government, when they were a Chapter not yet incorporated, the Representatives of the Select Body of the Clergy after incorporation being only the former Chapter of the R. C. Clergy.<sup>8</sup> That original paragraph of the Chapter stood thus (Nov., 1783):

J.

5° The Chapter declare for themselves, and as far as they can for their constituents, that they will to the best of their power promote and effect an absolute and entire restoration to the Society of Jesus, if it should please Almighty God to re-establish it in this country, of all property belonging to it; and if any person, who has done good and faithful service to religion in this country, should not re-enter the Society so re-established, he is nevertheless to receive a comfortable maintenance, whilst he continues to render the same services, and to be provided for as others in old age or infirmity.<sup>9</sup>

So, at the crisis to which we have come in 1813, only one formal element was wanting, and Carroll had been looking for it during a very long period; but the exile and imprisonment of the Pope had put it off indefinitely. That was the solemn Bull, restoring the Society with all canonical forms throughout the world. However, this canonical element would not have simplified the case now threatened by Bitouzey, who was supported by another manager, the priest Pasquet on the Eastern Shore. Archbishop Carroll feared a lawsuit from the side of Bitouzey, who, probably as an incorporator, might sue the Corporation<sup>10</sup> for trespass or unjust aggression, in the person of the Russian strangers, Grassi and Beschter. Hence the case impending was that of unjust aggression or trespass by the Jesuits on their own estate of White Marsh. These points being clear, the following extracts will explain themselves.

K. (1813), November 3.

Carroll, Baltimore, Nov. 3, (1813), to Grassi.

REV. DEAR SIR,

Being now much recovered, I am able to write on the perplexing situation in which Mr. Bitouzey's letters and menaces, on the one side, and the proceedings of the Corporation, on the other, have involved you; but I am sadly at a loss, how to extricate you from the embarrassment, which must be felt by you and all of us. The appointment of Mr. B. Fenwick is the best that could be made. Difficulties. Will it not be most distressing to his feelings to be called to undertake an office [as successor to Bitouzey at White Marsh], where his taking possession of it will immediately expose him to a most violent contest with his predecessor, who, to judge from the language of his letter, will put every obstacle in his way, and may subject us to a most expensive and delicate, if not dangerous lawsuit; and create a host of opposition to all the gentle and peaceable provisions made for the gradual restoration of the estates to the Society. In this cruel state of difficulties on every side, what can be done but to temporise, and see if Mr. Bitouzey cannot be brought to a more mild state of mind, and not send yet [to New York] for Mr. Fenwick. In stating this, it is not my intention to dictate, but to require you to consult the Coadjutor, and Mr. Plunkett and all others, especially Mr. F. Neale, to whose advice you may resort. If encouraged by them and you, I may perhaps persuade same matters as impugned in documents presented to the Propaganda appear in Nos. 115-119, et seqq. The course of business, in which the Bitouzey opposition developed, is given in No. 178, E<sup>2</sup>-M<sup>2</sup>. For the succession of Trustees, see No. 169, B.

<sup>10</sup> Cf. No. 187, A; J. G. Shea's observation on applying a similar test in another case. He suggests that Charles Neale, Superior, should have rebutted Marechal's claims to the Jesuit property by letting a corporator sue the Corporation and Archbishop.

myself to use some gentle expostulation with the present manager of the White Marsh.—I dread an appeal to law, where prejudices will be stirred up, and great scandals ensue. You will see in the enclosed letter received yesterday, how inveterate are the enemies of the Society, not only here but in other countries, and how malicious they are and unsparing of falsehoods to ruin us. This letter you will send back, as soon as you have communicated it only to the Bishop, his brother and, if you please, to Mr. Plunkett. Dr. Carroll here rebuts some charges lodged against himself, apparently in England, on subjects relating to Dr. Milner and slave-holding.

In the impracticable state of Bitouzey's mind, the archbishop's patience and correspondence met with little consideration from the Norman. Father Grassi had occasion to tell Father Beschter (Jan. 4, 1814):

L.

Grassi, Jan. 4, 1814, to Beschter, Frederick.

. . . In my last I forgot to mention to your Reverence, that the Rev. Mr. Bitousey has written to Rev. Mr. Mathews, as secretary of the Representatives of the Corporation, requesting a meeting in due time, not a subreptitious one as the last of the Trustees, etc. He has also sent to the same Rev. gentleman a copy of a letter which he wrote to the Most Rev. Archbishop Carroll, in which he does not spare him; and tells him plainly that, if it was well done by the Archbishop to get the plantation of Bohemia for himself, in order as he said to be independent from the new Society, a priest cannot be blamed if he pretends to be independent from the same new Society, and have a place in which to live, etc., etc. Mr. Mathews has not shewn to me the letter, nor did he speake any word upon this subject; but he told everything to Br. McElroy. Mr. Bitousey agrees very well on our having St. Inagoes, Newtown, St. Thomas and the College; but he pretends to have at least one place for himself, etc.

These exceptions of Bitouzey's were not warranted either by the minutes or the charter of the Corporation. There was no parity between his case and that of the archbishop, for whom, as well as for Archbishop Leonard Neale his successor, provision was made in the organic articles and in other resolutions, under two distinct heads; one that of being an ex-Jesuit and original beneficiary, the other that of being a bishop elected freely from their body. As to the last meeting of the Trustees being subreptitious, the minutes say that it was held after legal notice being given. On his way to the next meeting of the Corporation six months later, the

Carroll, Washington, June 11, 1814, to Enoch Fenwick, Baltimore :

. . . [I] proposed to discuss the subjects treated of in his laboured epistles, without being able to obtain hardly a word of answer ; enquired whether he would attend the meeting, to which he gave no [?] decisive answer. He is invited as usual. Tho he has taken some measures for returning to Europe, yet his language to me on that subject was very ambiguous. His loss will be a serious one to us, tho some late circumstances may occasion its being less regretted.

The quorum at this meeting on June 14, 1814, consisted of the other four Trustees : the two bishops, Robert Plunkett, and the Jesuit Charles Neale. Their seventh resolve ran as follows :

N.

1814, June 14.

7<sup>o</sup> That, as some objections have been raised to the progress of the building at the White Marsh, ordered by the 5th. resolve of this Board at their meeting, Sept. 22, 1812, and the fifth resolve of the meeting of Oct. 26, 1813 ; the Rev. Mr. Bitouzey shall be desired by the secretary of the Board to inform him, what are his objections, and whether he persists in the resolution of opposing the progress of the work. The Archbishop and Bishop of Gortyna are appointed a committee to consider his objections, and determine whether they ought to suspend the progress of the work ; if they do not find the objections sufficient, they will make their opinion known to Mr. Bitouzey and the building shall be completed with all convenient dispatch. In the mean time, the Board is fully sensible of the great inconvenience experienced by the Superior and novices at Frederick Town.

To Dr. Carroll's great regret for losing so efficient a pastor and manager, the Rev. Mr. Bitouzey left the country for France, now open again to receive and welcome exiles. And thus ended the episode which, in the year before, had elicited an ejaculation from Grassi in a letter to Cury (Sept. 25, 1813) :

O.

. . . Et Deus scit quo res evadent. Oh, India ! India ! O Normand ! O Corporation ! . . .

But it was now Dr. Carroll's turn to be charged with complicity in the general spirit of disregard for the rights of the Society. The great 1814, December 27.

Carroll, Baltimore, Dec. 27, 1814, to Grassi.

. . . It appears from some passages in your letters [to Mr. Enoch Fenwick and himself], that you propose to proceed immediately to a new organisation of the members of the Society, before you have received an authentic and official notification of the act of its re-establishment, or directions from the General of the Society. Such proceeding, besides being irregular in itself, is too delicate not to require preparation and to be examined by those, who have most experience in the disposition and management of our native legislators, magistrates, etc. But, besides the propriety and necessity of much caution, which arises from the political institutions of this country, there is another powerful motive for deliberation, arising from the danger of opposition and misrepresentation, proceeding even from the body of the Clergy, associated under the term of Select Clergy. I know by certain and correct information, that one of those associated members has already begun to insinuate, that no Jesuit, of those who had taken vows under the allowance and authority of the Russian General, could have been legally admitted to be members of the Corporation; in consequence of which, he contends that all acts of the Board since that time are null and void. This same person announces that he is going to convene a meeting of the non-Jesuit members to examine into their own situation, and provide against an event which he pretends to foresee, that of their being discharged without any provision for their old age, any lodging and habitation to receive them. You and I, and the very person who raises this opposition [Pasquet?], know that no such system of inhumanity was never [!] harboured. But it is the duty of prudence to avoid giving a pretence, as much as possible, to malevolence to excite a clamor and public discussion.

The Superior did not treat with sufficient consideration this prudential plan of campaign. Whereupon the archbishop sent a reply, with which we may terminate the episode of Bitouzey's attempt to repel the Jesuits as aggressors or trespassers on their own property at White Marsh.

Carroll, Baltimore, Feb. 21, 1815, to Grassi, Georgetown.

REV. AND RESPECTED SIR,

I undertake at last to answer your several letters of 4th and 30th of January, and 15th of the present month. The first of them appeared to contain a string of reproaches for not having immediately adopted all your opinions, concerning the affairs of the Society, and the appropriation of the property vested in the Corporation; and thence you seemed to distrust my zeal for the full and entire re-establishment of the said Society. Perhaps my feelings on this subject were too lively; but really they rose almost to indignation, when I conceived that you had a suspicion of my coldness or apathy on this account. For I must do myself the justice to say that, if ever any measures were taken to organize a system for the preservation of the property, which formerly did, and now again does, belong to the Society; to prevent it from being liable to waste and individual usurpation; if the College over which you preside obtained existence and legal capacity to acquire property and receive donations; if the very spot on which it stands, as well as the church, is now vested in the representatives of the College, these were originally my acts alone; they were performed without the small[est] expense to those, who have since enjoyed the property; my journeys year after year, my attendance on the general assemblies, my solicitations, my care and watchfulness over the wording of the different acts of the Legislature, which were necessary to erect corporations for the clergy and the College, so that they might not be a bar against the Society in case of its revival; these were done by me alone, tho I was very much opposed by those, who have since enjoyed the possession and administration of all which was acquired for them. The proofs of their opposition are still in my possession, and every one knows how they have profited by my exertions, labours and expense. I think therefore that, contrary to my usual custom, I may claim to be, in an humble degree, de Societate bene meritus, as having protected those interests, which may by a prudent administration aid the progress of the body so miraculously restored. To which it may be added that, whilst all others were remaining with folded arms, without moving a step to prepare the way for a return of the Society, I alone opened and continued the correspondence with the General in Russia, and with his concurrence gave all that existence to it, which it could receive without a full and authentic repeal of the destructive brief of Clement XIV. I am ashamed for having said so much of myself, which nothing should have extorted from me but the undeserved insinuations of my unfriendliness for not adopting the suggestions of a zeal, which appeared to me so precipitate as to endanger the harmony of our fellow-labourers, to hurt the interests of the Society, and to embarrass my conscience as long as the Ganganellian brief remained unrepealed. Discussion on vivae vocis oracula and the private restoration of the Society. You have latterly discovered an impatience to be released from such restraints as were introduced thro necessity for the preservation of the common property, and cannot be removed otherwise than gradually, without irritating certain passions. You saw Mr. Pasquet lately. He had declared by letter, that he would remonstrate publicly against certain proceedings, and I know that he has no delicate feelings to prevent him from appearing as a public accuser, and presenting facts, not in their truth, but according to his own jaundiced view of them. There are in our legislative bodies [such persons] as St John Hipposley Cox, ready to embrace the erroneous statements of mis-informed men. But there is one security for us; he knows that he is in my power. You remind me of my promised public notification of the re-establishment of the Society, which shall be forthwith complied with, and a formulary of the notification sent you, as soon as I have time. The privileges granted to the Society, as far as practicable, will be acknowledged, as soon as they are known; for I do not believe that all those formerly granted will be renewed, or ought to be desired. Some amongst them were never insisted on for prudential motives. Further discussion on privileges S.J.; on the project of removing to Conewago, which he discountenances for many reasons, because of the debts on that farm, because of removal from the Baltimore diocese, and the danger of the novitiate being much harrassed by the interference of an ill-affected Bishop, etc.; on the proposal of making Father Cary novice-master; on a preferable locality, for which Carroll commends St. Inigoes. But I pretend not to dictate.<sup>11</sup>

It is to be observed that, in the very ample letter directed to the General in Russia, Father Gruber, dated from Baltimore, 25 May, 1803, and signed by John, Bishop of Baltimore and Leonard Neale, Bishop of Gortyna, coadjutor, the following clear and brief statement had been made: That the property of the Society was for the most part preserved intact, and sufficed for the maintenance of thirty members; some part thereof had been assigned for the erection of a college, etc.:

R.

1803, May 25.

Quae bona ad Societatem spectabant, ut plurimum conservantur, sufficiuntque triginta Sociis alendis. Ex iis bonis post extinctam Societatem aliqua collata sunt ad extruendum Collegium satis amplum pro juventute in bonis litteris educanda. Pius VI, ubi proprium Episcopum his terris concedere statuit, et deinceps etiam, tanquam Coadjutorem cum jure successionis, utrumque ex Societate assumpsit.

In direct contradiction to this statement of the two bishops, to a resolution signed the day before by Bitouzey himself,<sup>12</sup> and to the fundamental resolutions both of the Chapter and of the later Corporation, there is a statement on record, which we refer to the date of this Bitouzey crisis, and ascribe either to his pen or to that of one of his party. Archbishop Marechal quoted it from among the papers, he said, of his predecessor, Archbishop Carroll.<sup>13</sup> It purports to disabuse the General of the Society, as having been wrongly informed that the ancient property of the Order was ever intended for the same Society when restored, or that the officials of the Corporation ever swore to observe the corresponding articles of their Constitution.

Perspicuum est ex Paternitatis tuae litteris, quarum pars nobis submissa est, quaedam per errorem ipsi relata fuisse: nempe antiquos Patres Societatis superstites non aliter erigendae Corporationi consensisse nisi hac expressa conditione, ut restitutae suo tempore Societati etiam bona restituerentur; quod officiales ipsi Corporationis semper jurejurando promittebant. De tali juramento (quando nempe quaestio fuit obtinendi decretum a Senatu Marylandiae) nunquam apud nos aliquid auditum est.<sup>14</sup> Vix erat spes renovandae Societatis, cum ex antiquis Sociis aliqui consilia simul conferre coeperunt de certo aliquo modo conservandi causa religionis bona quae apud nos Sociis nutriendis prius inservierant.

Whoever was the author of this statement, probably a stranger, Bitouzey or Pasquet, Mgr. Marechal was the author of the affirmation to the Cardinals in Rome, that it was a copy of an extract from Dr. Carroll's letter to the same Father General Gruber, to whom Bishops Carroll and Neale wrote once, but in quite a different sense.<sup>15</sup> Father Gruber died after receiving and answering their letter. No sign appearing that his reply had reached its destination, Gruber's successor, Father Thaddeus Brzozowski, wrote one year and a half afterwards, by way of resuming the correspondence (Nov. 17, 1805). There was no room in that first and solitary letter to Gruber for the piece quoted by Dr. Marechal; it does not appear in the text as preserved by Father Korycki, the General's secretary; and there is no trace of it in any letter to the successor of Father Gruber, between the date of the two bishops' joint letter, May 25, 1803, and the Bitouzey-Pasquet agitation of 1813-1814. Nevertheless, the Latin style resembles Carroll's.

The plantations and slaves, 1824-1830. We need not dwell further upon the decline of value or of security which attended the management and the ownership of other plantations. As at White Marsh, so at Bohemia on the Eastern Shore, the strangers who managed the property did not do it much harm; but, as we have heard from Dr. Carroll himself, who enjoyed the usufruct of Bohemia granted him by the Corporation, Pasquet, his manager, would have been happy to eject the whole Jesuit Society, and allow it no part or parcel where he himself was allowed; and, from 1805 till 1814, there was a long history of Pasquet's demands on Deer Creek and on the Corporation, till the following resolution served to bring about an accommodation (Oct. 19, 1814):

<sup>19</sup> Truth and Trust was a gift, willed by an ex-Jesuit, Father Augustine Jenkins (ob. 2 Feb., 1800), to his brethren of the Select Body of Clergy (cf. No. 163), but directly to Father Francis Neale. Edmund Courtney Jenkins had willed Truth and Trust, whereon I now live, being four hundred acres, also another tract of land, containing three hundred acres, called St. Thomasses, first for the use of his wife, then to his brother Augustine Jenkins and his heirs for ever. The will recorded at Leonardtown. Augustine Jenkins willed the same property to Francis Neale. Will recorded at Port Tobacco. Francis Neale willed it in joint-tenancy to three persons, the only survivor of whom is Thomas F. Mulledy (Md.-N. Y. Province Archives, (h); a memorandum, beginning: Ap. 30th, 1796. In Dzierozynski's farm accounts, there is another element having historical bearings. It seems to promise the extension of Jesuit ministry into the State of Ohio.

Ohio Co.'s Purchase, in share No. One, lot 206, in 4th section of 13th range, in the 7th township of the said share No. One; it contains six hundred and forty acres of land, as will more fully appear in the deed given by Casper Muir and Eliza, his wife, of the City of New York to me, the said Rev. Francis Neale . . . and which said deed is dated 6th day of October, 1817. Father Neale appoints Father Dzierozynski, District of Columbia, his attorney at law, to lease, let, sell or demise the said lot or land.

Signed and sealed: FRANCIS NEALE.

Witnesses: THO. CARBERY, C. H. WHARTON.

Dzierozynski's farm accounts contain a short series of Latin memoranda, 31 Dec., 1827, till 1832, upon the redemption of the whole, the charges of Mr. Nahum [?] Ward, agent, and the taxes.

(c) The income begins only with the year 1844.

11, 12.) Truth and Trust, St. Andrews forest, about three miles east of the Poor House; it was afterwards sold for a trifling sum. (Md.-N. Y. Province Archives, 2; foolscap sheets of reminiscences, written in pencil, apparently from dictation.)

Apparently in the hand of W. McSherry, who was Provincial, 5 Feb., 1833, till 10 Oct., 1837, there is an endorsement on Francis Neale's power of attorney to Dzierzozynski, with a number of queries, which show how little was known about the property. One remark is: This land lies in a North West direction from Marietta, and about 40 miles distance.

It will go some way towards explaining the state of accounts, if we quote a passage from Father Francis Neale's letter to the Superior, Father Dzierzozynski, dated Feb. 28, 1825. He writes by an amanuensis, and tells of his plantation, St. Thomas's, which for the six years given above, and for the six years that follow in the same record, yielded a sum-total of income amounting to $1140, or an average of less than $100 a year.

For the use of acres (1400) allowed to the missionary at St. Thomas's in the maintenance of himself and family, that is, for house and church expenses and for the family of slaves, domestic and field hands, see Marshall's Statement, as summarized above (No. 110, F). In the same Statement, this general procurator of the Mission observes that it had been necessary in 1821 to advance $65 to St. Thomas's to pay the tax of that farm, the [local] procurator having no means of paying it, and the Officer threatening to seize property for the payment, as appears from letters of Father Francis Neale.<sup>20</sup>

Francis Neale, 28 Feb., 1825, to Dzierzozynski.

A few men hands (say five in all) who are to work our fields and procure the necessary provisions for so many people . . . I could wish [some hands] for this farm may be from twelve years old to eighteen, unmarried (at least three hands). . . . Among the number to be fed, clothed, &c., there are more than twenty that are either too young or too old to be of any service, so that this farm, during the last summer and fall, resembled a hospital. He expects a bill of more than $200.00 from the Doctor, in addition to all his other debts.

<sup>20</sup> Compare General Archives, Maryl. Epist., 2, ii., Marshall's Statement, 5 Mar., 1821, to the General: Coshenhoven. . . . I received a letter, some time this winter, from Father Paul Kohlmann who lives there, in which he informed me that the constable [bailiff?] had visited him; and it is a tolerable good sign that the finances of a place are very bad, when these gentlemen make their appearance.

JOSEPH & C. LANCASTER.<sup>22</sup>

This is but one specimen of the Jesuit literature on slave-holding. Others show the same Francis Neale alienating or buying slaves under compulsion, to prevent the separation of man and wife—an obligation of charity which did not appeal to other masters in the neighbourhood, and which imposed upon a missionary new arrangements without any regard to his convenience or his means.

Francis Neale, St. Thomas's, 10 Jan., 1826, to Dzierozynski.

. . . I find it necessary to inform y<sup>r</sup> Rev<sup>ce</sup>, that this family must loose her best negroe hand for labor—the reason is, his wife belongs to another person, and the master has ordered her and her children to be soled. I cannot buy her; too much is demanded, $500, for her and her three children—they are all girls of which we have 10 or 12 already in our family. I shall be obliged to sell our man, not to separate man and wife. I have spoken to the owner of the wife; he says, he cannot admit [transfer?] her into his family at Washington; he has too many, etc. . . .

. . . Another case of having to buy a neighbour's negro servant man, $400, or give another for him, to prevent separation of man and wife—the wife being one of our servant women. In addition to the Doctor's medicine bills, he has the taxes of this year to pay; so that, besides some expences for shingles and carpenter's hire, Neale says it will be impossible to pay the interest above mentioned, that is, the interest due on Mrs. Thompson Bond against the Corporation . . . unless you agree for me to pay it from whatever money may come in. Neale recommends the payment of it as soon as possible. . . .

Francis Neale, 9 Jan., 1827, to Dzierzynski.

. . . On my return (from Cob-Neck), I found that our family here had met with severe chastisements—a young married woman had died, five men were confined with sickness, and also six women and five children. Two of the women are now in extremis. Our quarters are condemned, and must be destroyed by fire in the begining of spring. Neale will have to resort to the hiring of slaves, to carry on the business of the family. I have hired three, nor will these supply our loses. . . . I am forced to employ all I can to obtain timber for the building of negroe quarters. . . .

P.S.—There have been three deaths in our family, and two more are expected. Physicians have condemned our negroe habitations.<sup>23</sup>

The considerate manner in which this priest-manager avoids the term "slaves," and speaks only of servant men, servant women, negroes, members of the family, is an indication of the position which these domestics held under his management. From an economic point of view, the same considerateness may explain in part the unprofitable condition of the priests' farms, manned as they were with what was meant by "priests' slaves."<sup>24</sup> Many other proprietors, in dealing with this class of servants, regarded them in a different light; as Father Mosley said, when speaking of indented white servants and their purchasers: These masters (as they are chiefly accustomed to negroes, a stubborn dull set of mortalls, that do nothing but by driving) are in general cruel, barbarous, & unmercifull, some worse than others.<sup>25</sup>

In keeping with Francis Neale's description of his household affairs, we find that, notwithstanding the 1400 acres at his personal service, his accounts for a half-year stand as follows:—

Francis Neale, 4 July, 1827, to Dzierzynski.

CHARGES AND CLAIMS AGAINST THE FOREGOING ORGANIZATION

§ 11. PROPAGANDA AND OTHER DOCUMENTS.

The property, acquired and possessed as shown in the preceding Section II., was made the subject of controversy by the Most Rev. Ambrose Marechal, third Archbishop (1817-1828), and first Ordinary of Baltimore who had never been a Jesuit. He claimed the property for his see.

We begin with the documents belonging to the first stage of the controversy, ending 23 July, 1822, with the publication by Pope Pius VII. of a Brief, which may now be seen in the Papal Bullarium, and also in the Bullarium of the Propaganda. This stage extends from No. 115 to No. 121.

SOMMARIO.

NUMERO I.

EMINENTISSIME CARDINALIS,

Lettera dell' Arcivescovo di Baltimore alla ch: me: dell'Eminentissimo Fontana, Prefetto, risguardante le due questioni tra esso insorte ed i PP. Gesuiti di Maryland.

1. Inter plurima consolationum motiva, quae summus misericors Deus mihi indigno suppeditavit, cum Sedem Baltimoreensem ascendere coactus fuerim, non sane minimum illud judicavi quod percepi ex consideratione unam domum Societatis Jesu in mea dioecesi existere. Etenim ab infantia mea S. Ignatii illustrem familiam, praesertim ut mire foecundam in optimis producendis missionariis, venerationis ac amoris sensibus prosecutus sum. Hinc a die qua pontificali consecratione unctus fui omnimoda benevolentiae ac patrocinii testimonia ei exhibere non cessavi.

Marechal's love for S.J.

Troubles with S.J. on jurisdiction and temporalities.

pertinere ab omnibus judicantur. Equidem hucusque illae controversiae nullo modo perturbarunt pacem, qua mea dioecesis fruitur. At cum talis sunt naturae, ut aliquando eam graviter perturbare possint, atque clarum mihi videatur, perpensis quorundam istorum patrum ingenio ac parum flexibili voluntate, nullam spem affulgere illas amico consensu componi posse, prudentius duxi illas omnes Em<sup>oe</sup> Tuae simpliciter exponere ut, te promovente, ab ipsomet S. Pontifice, a quo solo immediate se pendere contendit ac gloriatur Societas, omnino ac in perpetuum solvantur.

3. Prima difficultas nascitur ex jurisdictione, quam superior sibi vindicat in sacerdotes Societatis, quos vel mei praedecessores instituerunt, vel ipsemet institui pastores congregationum catholicarum, cum praevio consensu superiorum Societatis pro tempore existentium. Videlicet anno circiter 1804 Rev<sup>us</sup> Admodum Pater Gabriel Gruber, Generalis Superior Societatis in Russia, epistolam misit ad Ill<sup>mm</sup> praedecessorem meum DD. Carroll, qua illum certiore faciebat, S. P. Pium VII. vivae vocis oraculo licentiam concessisse patribus Societatis etiam extra Russiam existentibus, ut sine strepitu aggregarent[ur] ac juxta regulas S. Ignatii iterum viverent ac gubernarentur, non obstantibus bullae Clementis XIV. dispositionibus; atque, ut Societas in Marylandia facilius restitueretur, simul ad eundem Ill<sup>mm</sup> praesulem transmisit instrumentum, quo Amplitudini ejus pro prima vice committebat officium instituendi ex antiquis patribus unum qui Societati in nostris plagis praecesset. Votis P. Gruber lubentissime annuit Ill<sup>ms</sup> DD. Carroll, atque Patrem Robertum Molineux ex-Jesuitam superioris dignitate vestivit. Porro, constituto semel superiore, plerique patres, qui tunc in Marylandia superstites erant, vota sua denuo emisunt, quibus se adjunxerunt quidam saeculares sacerdotes ac juniores clerici. Sic feliciter in nostris regionibus restituta fuit illustris Jesu Societas.

I. Jurisdiction. Carroll and the private restoration S.J., 1805.

This document of Marechal to Fontana was intended, as he says at the beginning (§ 2), to obtain, by an immediate appeal to the Sovereign Pontiff, a grant of the Jesuit property, "which is judged by every one to belong to the see of Baltimore;" and, in this sense, he prays at the end (§ 33) that the Cardinal will conduct his petition "to a happy issue," for which "all Archbishops of Baltimore and the whole Church of Maryland will never cease to venerate and praise" the name of His Eminence. As the claim failed to operate in this compendious way, it came to be printed, and the statements, quotations, and implications in the course of the paper became liable to be confronted with genuine documents. These are given in the subsequent series of Numbers, 141-224, Sections IV.-VII., of Documents, I. Part II.; and reference is made to them here in the notes.

<sup>2</sup> Cf. General Archives S.J., Epistolae Vicariorum Generalium in Russia, 1809-1813. There was considerable friction between Father Charles Neale, successor of Father Robert Molyneux as Superior of the newly constituted Mission in America, and Archbishop Carroll, on the subject of a Maryland Superior's rights at that time to place or remove members of the Order. The latter so far had been re-established only privately, in foro interno. Charles Neale, in a brusque and ungracious manner, wrote and acted as if the Society were in full canonical existence, in foro externo. One or two specimens of the embarrassment and displeasure, caused by claims which, in the actual circumstances, Carroll regarded as inadmissible, may be seen infra in letters of Carroll (No. 179, L, Carroll, Baltimore, 4 Jan., 1811, to C. Neale; ibid., M, Carroll, 25 May, 1811, to the General). On the case being represented by Archbishop Carroll

utendo mediis proficere, ut huic gravi malo finem tandem imponeret, in conventionem episcoporum totius provinciae metropolitanae, quae Baltimore to the General in Russia, Father Thaddeus Brzozowski, he received in reply a letter of apology, beginning thus (Epist. Vic. Gen. in Russia, 1810-19):

Litteras Ill<sup>mae</sup> et Rev<sup>mae</sup> Dominationis Tuae 25 Maii anni 1811 datas accepi 8 augusti, et obstupui ad ea, quae legendo eas didici. Itane vero, cum R. P. Molyneux nominaret successorem, nemo cordatus inventus fuit, qui illum viribus mentis deficientem in hac nominatione dirigeret? At frustra doleo omissionem, quae jam commissam est; agitur de reparandis damnis jam illatis et adhuc per gubernationem malam inferendis. Certain complaints already received, and directions already given; apparently no amendment. Scribo nunc illi iterum de debito observantiae nostrae et reverentiae erga Episcopos eo majori, quod res nostrae publico decreto S. Sedis nondum sint ibi formatae; prudentiam ipsam, nedum religiosam modestiam et humilitatem exigere a nobis hunc erga illos honorem. The General must now wait a little while to see the effect of his present admonition on Father Charles Neale; in the mean time he sends his apologies to Archbishop Carroll's suffragans: Interim te, Ill<sup>me</sup> Praesul, etiam atque etiam oro atque obtestor, ut confratres tuos Episcopos Suffraganeos Societati in illis partibus placatos et propitios reddas, ipse tuorum erga nos promeritorum cumulum augeas, futurus Societatis in illis partibus conservator, qui ejusdem fuisti instaurator. Sic te Deus O. M. diu sospitem ac incolumem Ecclesiae suae, tibi ac nobis servet, id precatur omni pietate tibi deditus et cum suis confratribus nomi[ni] tuo devotissimus ac humillimus in Xto servus.

The General did not wait for an answer, or for the effects of his admonition. Father John Anthony Grassi was already in Maryland, sent thither from England. He was appointed Rector of Georgetown and Superior of the Mission in America by patents despatched in the very next month, on 4 Oct. 1811, with a letter enclosed to Father Neale, notifying him of the substitution. The letter of instruction to Grassi is long, and contains a formal commission of the apology to be made in the General's name and his own to Archbishop Carroll and other bishops, with a gentle explanation on behalf of Father Neale: Incipiat R<sup>e</sup> V<sup>a</sup> officium ab humilitate, scribat Ill<sup>mo</sup> et Rev<sup>mo</sup> Archiepiscopo Carroll et Episcopis respectivis, petat benedictionem ab eis et patrocinium, et polliceatur erga eos reverentiam et obsequium. Etc.

However, it is to be noted that a "synodal statute" had already been communicated to Charles Neale (by Carroll?), the same probably which Marechal quotes in the next paragraph, § 5, but which, in all likelihood, was not conveyed to the General. Father Anthony Kohlmann, in a letter from New York, Jan. 4, 1811, to Father Grassi, while criticizing severely the administration of the Neales, alludes to a letter received three weeks before from the Superior (Charles Neale), in which the latter had stated that he "had made a formal protest against a synodal statute of the bishops convened in Baltimore."

Anthony Kohlmann, New York, 4 Jan. 1811, to Grassi. Endorsed by Grassi: P. Kohl. 4 Jan. 1811; 4 pp. 4to, closely written:

3. The Neales have lost caste with the clergy and respectable families: e non è maraviglia, perchè in tutte le occasioni parlano apertamente contra l'Archiv<sup>o</sup>; è un fatto notissimo, che da che [io?] sono in questo paese [eglino] sono sempre stati contrarii a lui. Quanto tempo non ha durato quel conflitto tra lui [l'Arcivescovo] et n[ostro] Sup<sup>re</sup>, per avere il P. [E.] Fenwick come parrochio di Baltimore? Tre

5. "Art. II. De Sacerdotibus, qui pertinent ad saeculares aut regulares Congregationes.

"Quando sacerdotibus pertinentibus ad saeculares aut regulares congregationes e superiorum consensu cura animarum demandata est, iudicamus eos non debere ex superiorum suorum arbitrio pendere ab eisque revocari invito episcopo. Attamen ultro profiteamur in magno honore et aestimatione apud nos esse illas congregationes dioecesis nostris tantopere utiles, omnimodamque fiduciam [nos] in earum superioribus reponere. Laeti videbimus dioecesanos nostros, qui religiosam vitam ducere volunt, illarum congregationum instituta amplecti. Neque nostra mens est exigere ut sacro ministerio mancipentur illi quibus revera indigent praefatae congregationes, neque etiam impedire quin revocentur sacerdotes in missionibus laborantes, modo haec revocatio dioecesano episcopo omnino necessaria ad existentiam aut prosperitatem praedictarum congregationum esse videatur.

septimane fa, abbiain ricevuta una lettera dal n. Sup<sup>re</sup>, nella quale ci dice, che ha fatta una protesta formale contro un Statuto Synodale dei Vescovi radunati in Baltimore, dei Vescovi dico, dei quali totalmente dependiamo per la nostra esistenza, e chi già avevano tante ragioni d'essere dissodisfatto del procedere del n. Sup<sup>re</sup>. Che dire a questo, caro mio ? 4 . . .

On the other hand, Kohlmann does not imply in the letter to Grassi, just cited, that C. Neale had sent a copy of the "synodal article" in question. Besides, in a document following here, supposed to be from the pen of Grassi, the statement is made absolutely that neither of the preceding archbishops, Carroll and Neale, had ever published the said article : essi non mai lo pubblicarono. See No. 118, § 15.

Cf. No. 116, note 32, (4), Neale's letter, 28 Nov., 1810, to Carroll. He says nothing there about "privileges granted to the Society."

The Visitor, Fr. Kenney, on the above resolution, 1819, 1820 (the Society being now fully re-established).

Igitur, E<sup>me</sup> Cardinalis, oro te supplex ut supradictam disciplinae regulam examini subjicere digneris, non Sacrae Congregationis P. F., cui praesides (ipsius enim jurisdictionem non agnoscunt patres Societatis), sed virorum doctorum ad hoc a S. Pontifice specialiter deputatorum.

The Jesuits ignore the Propaganda.

8. Caeterum, quantum ad me attinet, sive S. Sedes approbet vel condemnet regulam a meis ven. praedecessoribus et aliis nostrae Americae episcopis conditam, ipsius sententiae sine ulla tergiversatione [me] submittam. Attamen Eminentiae Tuae hic non possum non observare quod, si superiores pro libitu suo sacerdotes Societatis, qui in missionibus quasi pastores congregationibus fidelium praesunt, a loco ad locum movere, aut etiam penitus a sacro ministerio removere permittantur, meae dioeceseos administratio, attenta nempe penuria operariorum qua laboramus, continuis impeditur difficultatibus, animaeque gravissimum identidem patientur detrimentum.<sup>10</sup>

9. Secunda, et quidem maximi momenti, difficultas respicit temporalia Sedis Baltimorensis ; atque, ut ejus claram distinctamque notionem sibi efformare possit Eminentia Tua, necessarium omnino est ab exordio rerum narrationem incipere.

II. [A.] Temporalities in general. History of 150 years past.

Quando Jesuitae (150 circiter abhinc annis) in hanc nostram Marylandiae provinciam advenerunt, juxta leges a nobilissimo principe Baltimore latas, maximam quantitatem terrarum, quae tum temporis vili pretio habebantur, dono<sup>11</sup> acceperunt, pro ratione videlicet hominum, quos ex Europa secum adduxere. Has omnes terras duo vel tres ad summum Societatis religiosi possederunt, non tanquam Jesuitae (id enim prohibebant iniquae Angliae leges), sed quasi fuissent laici cives ; easque sedulo transmittere curarunt aliis membris Societatis a superiore designatis, aliquando per fictitium venditionis contractum, aliquando per testamentum.

10. Praeter has amplissimas terras, alia et quidem pinguissima praedia in decursu temporum acceperunt a piis donatoribus ; in perpetuum usum ariorum functiones, titulum legalem et absolutum tum in bona Societatis proprie dicta, tum in ea omnia quae Ecclesiae Marylandiensi a piis viris donata sunt [, acquisivere]. Neque abolitio Societatis a Clemente XIV. operata, neque vel etiam Americana revolutio his temporalibus bonis eos spoliavit aut spoliare potuit. Haec enim bona possidebant eodem prorsus titulo quo quilibet civis Americanus suam domum, campos, etc., possidet.

Ecclesiae Americanae ipsorum bonae fidei commissa sunt.<sup>12</sup> Hae donationes patribus Societatis absolute et simpliciter tradebantur ; illudque erat omnino necessarium. Si enim in contractu donationis explicite declaratum fuisset haec praedia tradi religiosis viris propter sacros fines, tribunalia civilia declarassent has donationes esse nullas et invalidas.

12. Jamvero, postquam Americanae provinciae, excusso Angliae jugo, in independentem rempublicam se constituerint, patres Societatis con-

Quod malum ut averterent, addidit nullum prudentius medium ab ipsis adhiberi posse quam ut haec omnia

De tali juramento (quando nempe quaestio fuit obtinendi decretum a senatu Marylandiae) nunquam apud nos aliquid auditum est. Statim atque Americanae provinciae in rempublicam constitutae fuerunt, promovente praesertim praestanti philosopho Franklino tum apud Regem Christianissimum oratore, postulatum fuit a Sancta Sede ut in novo nostrae Americae imperio instituere dignaretur vel titularem episcopum vel saltem vicarium apostolicum ab episcopo Londinensi independentem. Huic petitioni benigne annuit Pius VI. Antequam tamen bullas requisitas emitteret, direxit Ill<sup>mu</sup>m ac Em<sup>mu</sup>m Cardinalem Antonelli ut a D. Carroll tunc missionum Americanarum superiore per epistolam exquireret certa documenta de statu religionis catholicae in nostris regionibus, praesertimque utrum forent bona ecclesiastica ex quibus mensa episcopi provideri posset. Omnibus quaestionibus sibi propositis luculenter DD. Carroll respondit. Quantum vero ad bona ecclesiae caute admodum scripsit, generalibus tantum verbis asserens ea privato nomine a simplicibus sacerdotibus possideri.<sup>26</sup> Dubius videlicet erat utrum patres Societatis consentire vellent adire senatum Marylandiae et praefatum decretum sollicitare. Hinc Eminentiam Suam rogavit ut erectio sedis Baltimorensis differretur donec mensae Episcopi provisum fuisset.<sup>27</sup> Precibus D. Carroll assensum praebuit Card. Antonelli, uti constat ex epistola, quam ad eum scripsit die 22 julii 1785, in qua haec verba leguntur :

Nam, cum ipse declaraveris non prius oportere vicarium apostolicum constituere quam de idoneis sanctuarii ministris et de decenti episcopi sustentatione provideatur, et aliunde significatum fuerit id esse opportunum ut negotium istud paulo adhuc protrahatur, nos vicarii apostolici designationem congruo tempore reservabimus ; de quo etiam abs te certiores fieri expectamus."

For the politico-religious movement of the time, which was chiefly directed against the Anglican Established Church, compare the Maryland Declaration of Rights of 1776. This instrument forbade any gift, sale, or devise of property to ecclesiastical uses, unless by consent of the Legislature, with an exception, however, to the effect that a church might take and hold two acres of land for the erection of a house of worship, or for a place of interment. (Cf. J. T. Scharf, History of Maryland, ii. 284, 551; J. G. Shea, History of the Catholic Church in the United States, ii. 159.) The anti-ecclesiastical sentiment of the State and Federal Legislatures is referred to in various letters (1785–1788) by Dr. Carroll, Prefect-Apostolic. (Cf. Shea, ibid., 246, 249, 252, 331.) The prohibitive legislation in Maryland is expressly cited in the preamble of the Act chartering the ex-Jesuit Corporation (23 Dec. 1792): Whereas . . . by the Declaration of Rights, all gifts, sales or devises, for the support, use or benefit, of any minister or preacher of the Gospel as such, or of any religious sect or denomination, without the leave of the Legislature, are declared to be void. See No. 164. This anti-ecclesiastical policy which, in 1786, was being urged farther, even to the confiscation of Catholic Church property, and apparently of the Jesuit estates, forms the subject of Carroll's remarks to the Cardinal, in the first part of the passage, here left out by Marechal. Carroll proceeds: Hujus rei evitandae causa, ubi primum, etc., as in Marechal's truncated citation here.

<sup>29</sup> That is, according to Carroll, notwithstanding the religious political danger mentioned by him at the beginning of the passage: Aliud moluntur . . . scilicet fisco addicere bona quibus sacerdotes catholici sustentantur. As the "Catholic priests" in Maryland, during 150 years, until this date, had been almost exclusively Jesuits, and there were no bona, or landed property to confiscate except the Jesuit estates, Carroll must be referring to this property.

The ex-Jesuits hoped for a restoration of the Society [1787-1793].

21. Nec spem ejus fefellit eventus. Anno nempe 1792 ex comitiis legislativis Marylandiae decretum, quod tantopere exoptaverat, tandem obtinuit. Jam vero tum temporis D. Carroll, autoritate Pii VI, consecratus fuerat primus Baltimorensis episcopus. Statim atque praefatum decretum prodiit, a quinque Jesuitis, qui nomine Cleri Marylandiensis omnia bona ecclesiastica possidebant, petiit ut redditus ipsi assignarentur ad decentem suae mensae sustentationem sufficientes.<sup>33</sup> Non ausi fuerunt petitionem Ill<sup>mi</sup> praesulis rejicere. Positive enim, juxta decretum supradictum, omnia bona ab ipsis possessa sustentationi sacerdotum Marylandensium applicari debent,<sup>34</sup> ac a fortiori et eminenter ad sustentationem episcopi. Igitur statuerunt quod summa circiter 1000 Mexicanorum nummorum singulis annis episcopo Baltimorensi solveretur. Deinde autem, ad devitandas difficultates, quae in solutione hujus summae occurrerunt, decreverunt ipsum fore percepturum, vice illius annualis pensionis, omnes fructus praedii quod Bohemia vulgo nominatur.<sup>35</sup>

He secured a pension from the ex-Jesuit common mass dedicated to the “Maryland clergy.”

24. Hac semel inita conventione,<sup>39</sup> DD. Carroll existimans se sufficienter

<sup>36</sup> Cf. No. 121, B, 4, Rozaven's critique on the Marechal documents in the Sommario, 1822. These three words (Cleri nempe Marylandensis) are not in the text of the Agreement or attempted contract which is translated here into Latin, as if verbatim. The text of the aforesaid attempted contract has a clause deleted: Clergy and now of the Society, with the substitution: Society or Corporation. This latter clause from the original is left here, and the gloss added: (Cleri nempe Marylandensis); which, being inserted by Marechal in his own sense of a Maryland clergy in general, not the Society alone, creates a non-sensus, the gloss contradicting the original and the original contradicting the gloss. Two years after this, in presenting to the Cardinals of the Propaganda the whole text of the attempted Agreement, but translated into Italian, the non-sensus was eliminated by omitting the gloss, and substituting an entirely new clause, which is not in the Agreement at all. For ex bonis Societatis seu Corporationis the Italian version has: dai Padri della Società o Corporazione, “by the Fathers of the Society or Corporation,” implying a personal obligation in the Fathers as such to the see of Baltimore, without any reference to the estates as such, on which, it was contended, the obligation rested. Cf. No. 121, B, 4; for the Italian version, No. 186.

Rozaven also observes that, in skipping Art. 1 here, the writer has omitted an essential statement of Carroll's, contradictory to Marechal's contention. In the first lines of the first Article the words occur: an estate belonging to the Society, or to the Corporation in trust for the Society. These words do appear in the Italian translation offered to the Cardinals: potere appartenente alla Società o Corporazione in fide commissaria per la Società. Cf. No. 186.

It is to be noticed further, that this § 23 emphasizes a contradiction which appears in § 22. Carroll, says Marechal, was afraid that, “if perchance the Society were ever re-established,” he might not be able to provide for his successors from the Jesuit estates. He “avoided this danger” by making an agreement with Molyneux, whom “he had installed as Superior of the Society re-established in these parts” (§ 22). The first paragraph of the Agreement (§ 23) purports to be between Carroll and “the Superior of the Society of Jesus,” not between Carroll and ex-Jesuits.

Carroll's first successor, the ex-Jesuit Neale, and the pension.

25. Verum (quod certe Eminentiae Tuae mirabile videbitur) vix tres menses elapsi fuerant a die qua sedem Baltimoreensem conscenderam, cum rumor in publicum prodiiit patres Societatis intendere me privare redditibus, quibus mei praedecessores gavisi fuerant. Hunc rumorem tanquam omnino vanum per aliquod tempus contempsimus. At vero eo in dies crescente, ad omne dubium propellendum, ea de re scripsi epistolam ad patres Societatis, qui legales sunt possessores bonorum Cleri Marylandiensis. Illi autem mihi responderunt quod per tres annos tantum mihi concessuri forent 560 nummos Mexicanos; quia, inquiunt, finita semel metropolitana ecclesia, potero ab ejus temporalibus administratoribus exigere ut ex annuali pretio, quod percipitur ex locatione sedilium, mihi summam ad meam sustentationem solvant sufficientem.<sup>42</sup>

The pension refused to next successor, Marechal, 1817, 1818.

26. Frustra eis objeci solemne senatus Marylandiensis decretum. Frustra ad eos transmissi exemplar authenticum contractus initi inter Ill<sup>mus</sup> DD. Carroll et P. Robertum Molineux, Superiorem Societatis. Frustra eis probavi absolutam impossibilitatem in qua versabantur administratores metropolitanae ecclesiae mihi concedendi ullos redditus. His et similibus argumentis quamvis planissimis justitiae principii innitantur, constanter responderunt quod, restituta nunc Societate per bullam Pii VII, ipsis incumbit obligatio restituendi eidem Societati omnia bona quae olim possidebat quovis titulo; neque sibi licere partem aliquam illorum bonorum divertere ad usum Societatis extraneum.<sup>(b)</sup> Contractum initum inter Ill<sup>mus</sup> DD. Carroll et P. Robertum Molineux esse ab origine invalidum, siquidem juxta constitutiones S. Ignatii, superior Provincialis bona Societatis alienare vel gravare Marechal's manifold plea rejected.

(b) It may be noticed once for all that, in Marechal's documents, there is a constant use of dots between sentences, as also of etc., etc., by way of emphasizing statements. The dots occur between each of the sentences in this paragraph. The reproduction of them would give rise to an ambiguity, as if something were left out in the editing of the papers. At most they might be represented by dashes, which, if used elsewhere in the editing of the said documents, will merely stand for the emphatic dots.

ullo [nullo] modo potest sine praevio consensu Superioris Generalis, etc.<sup>43</sup>

27. Certe quidem haec responsa non parum me contristaverunt, imo scandalizaverunt me et viros pios et doctos, ad quorum notitiam pervenerunt. Verum in re tanti momenti, ne praecipitanter aliquid His consul- agerem, tum ad meae conscientiae pacem tuendam, tum tation. ad generale ecclesiae bonum promovendum, primum exquisivi consilium virorum tum scientia tum pietate insignium. Porro mihi unanimiter declararunt :

28. I<sup>o</sup> Me jus habere evidens ac certissimum percipiendi ex bonis ecclesiasticis Marylandiae eosdem redditus quos mei praedecessores perceperunt.

II<sup>o</sup> Me non posse, tuta conscientia et sine manifesta in- Unanimous fractione juramenti, quod die meae consecrationis ante altaria decision of his councilors. Christi protuli, valedicere juri quod sedi meae certo annectitur.

III<sup>o</sup> Quod, etsi paupertatis molestias perferre paratus sim, attamen prorsus meae dignitatis indecorum esse ut omni temporali bono destituatur ; religionis bonum exigere ut archiepiscopus Baltimorensis ab elemosynis fidelium ad suum victum et vestitum non omnino pendeat. Tandem eum potiri debere redditibus, qui sufficiant ad solvendas expensas quae visitationem et administrationem suae dioeceseos necessario attendunt.

29. Possem quidem, Em<sup>mo</sup> Cardinalis, promptum et efficacissimum medium adhibere, videlicet supplicem libellum senatui supremo Marylandiae praesentare ; neque ullum est dubium quin statim compelleret patres Societatis ut meo juri satisfacerent. Verum hoc extremum remedium adhibere hucusque renui, quia, praeter scandalum quod ex publica lite nasceretur, ratio est et quidem gravissima timendi ne senatores Marylandiae, qui fere sunt ad unum religione heterodoxi, plus aequo in Societatem incenderentur ; atque non solum eam cogerent mihi solvere redditus quibus mei praedecessores potiti sunt, sed etiam eandem omnibus bonis quae possidet spoliarent.<sup>44</sup>

30. Quare mihi visum est longe prudentius esse omnem hanc controversiam ad supremum S. Sedis iudicium remittere.

<sup>43</sup> After the Corporation meeting of 18-20 April, 1820, the secretary, Father Edelen, sent to Archbishop Marechal a copy of Carroll's Declaration, 26 May, 1790, that no right over the Jesuit property accrued to the see of Baltimore. No. 181, D. Cf. No. 160, C, and facsimile of Carroll's Declaration, ibi.

Certain
the Jesuits if he appealed to the Maryland Assembly for redress.

Marechal prefers to save the Jesuits by a reference to Rome.
Wants only his own.

Eorum zelo et pietati confidens, spero fore ut illis usuri sint ad maiorem Dei gloriam promovendam.

32. Verum cum in mea mente perpendo tum solemne decretum senatus Marylandiae, tum privatum contractum, quem inierunt DD. Carroll et superior Societatis Robertus Molineux, tum etiam generales ecclesiae leges, evidens mihi videtur illos teneri mihi concedere redditus quos ven. mei praedecessores perceperunt. Hinc ab illis requiro ut jus meum agnoscant, idque per instrumentum authenticum, quod vim habeat coram lege civili; atque ad devitandas controversias, quae frequenter oriuntur ex dilatione solutionis annualis pensionis (quales fuere quae extiterunt inter eos et DD. Carroll),<sup>46</sup> certissime melius esset ut titulum legalem mihi concederent in unum ex praediis quae possident, quod vulgo dicitur White Marsh. Notorium est namque omnibus illud fuisse non ita pridem ipsorum bonae fidei commissum a pio donatore Jacobo Carroll ad generalem ecclesiae Marylandiensis utilitatem.<sup>47</sup>

Wants White Marsh conveyed to him.

33. Saepe mecum cogitavi adire Romam ad expediendum illud et caetera maximi momenti negotia; sed continua sollicitudo mentis, quam exigit meae dioecesis administratio, simul et mea paupertas, id vetant. Igitur, Em<sup>ma</sup> Cardinalis, ad tuam summam humanitatem et pietatem confugio ut illa ad felicem exitum deducas. Quod si perficere digneris, archiepiscopi Baltimoreenses et tota ecclesia Marylandiensis nomen tuum venerari ac laudare non cessabunt.

With this settlement the Cardinal Prefect of Propaganda will merit eternal gratitude from Baltimore and the Maryland Church.

Humillimus in Christo servus tuus letter by Mgr. Pedicini, Secretary of the Propaganda (20 Jan., 1821), to the new General of the Society, Father Luigi Fortis. The Secretary stated the two heads of claims, on jurisdiction and property, advanced by Mgr. Marechal. See No. 121, G. We have not found the General's answer. But we do find a short memorandum on the subject of the Maryland Jesuit property, written by the hand of Father Grassi, and drawn up with the help of Father Peter Kenney, who had arrived in Rome from America towards the close of 1820.<sup>48</sup> A few days after the date of Pedicini's letter, the General, writing to Father Anthony Kohlmann, Superior in Maryland (3 Feb., 1821), refers to the question of privileges, clearly the same subject as that of Marechal's letter to the Cardinal, first part, on jurisdiction (§§ 3-8). He says that not all the ancient privileges of the Society have been restored by Pius VII.; he will direct his attention to this matter in due time, as desired by the General Congregation which had just elected him; meanwhile, "the members of the Society are to continue using those privileges, which are essentially annexed to the religious state; I say, the religious state, which is proper to our Society."<sup>49</sup>

In the year after his letter to Fontana (No. 115), Marechal suddenly left America for Rome, as Kohlmann said, without any one's knowledge, nemine conscio.<sup>50</sup> Then, a great controversy developed, which entailed not only the redaction of many documents, but the printing of several series, submitted to the Propaganda at three different intervals, in what are called Sommarii, or briefs.

In the printed Sommario of 1822, there follow on this subject:—

NUMERO V.

Questo numero comprende il carteggio aperto qui in Roma tra li [!] Arcivescovo di Baltimore ed il P. G. dei Gesuiti; dalla lettera A fino alla lettera D inclusive.

Praesens Archiepiscopus Baltimorensis exigit tantum a Corporatione Cleri Marilandiensis (quae, ex quo restituta fuerit Societas, constat fere exclusive Jesuitis) eosdem precise redditus quos sui ven. praedecessores constanter et sine ulla controversia perceperunt; idque non tanquam gratuitum donum, sed tanquam jus sacrum et evidens innixum nempe—

1822, January 20.

(B) ILLUSTRISSIMO DOMINO ARCHIEPISCOPO BALTIMORENSI.

Praepositus Generalis Societatis Jesu accepit breve scriptum
scriptione munitum, quo declaratur dictum Ill<sup>mo</sup> Archiepiscopum nihil aliud exigere a Corporatione quam vocat Cleri Marylandiensis, nisi eosdem praecise redditus, quos constanter et sine ulla controversia perceperunt duo venerabiles ipsius praedecessores, et quidem, ut affirmat, jure sacro et evidenti.

Alienum prorsus est a mente et voluntate Praepositi Generalis ut jura episcoporum sive spiritualia sive temporalia a nostrae Societatis religiosis in ulla re laedantur ; quin immo ipsi maxime cordi est ut omne genus obsequii et reverentiae ab eis exhibeatur dignissimo Archiepiscopo Baltimorensi erga nostram Societatem benevolentissimo et de Ecclesia praeclare merito.

In praesenti autem quaestione hoc tantum optat Praepositus Generalis et ab Ill<sup>mo</sup> Archiepiscopo humillime petit, ut non dedignetur clarius exprimere, quodnam sit et in quo fundetur jus illud quod sibi vindicat.
Namque—

1° Non satis intelligitur quomodo possit Ill<sup>ms</sup> Archiepiscopus exigere eosdem praecise redditus, quos duo ipsius praedecessores perceperunt, siquidem alter eorum non habuit eosdem redditus ac prior ; nam priori assignatum fuerat aliquod praedium, posteriori autem annua pensio. Notandum porro est praedictos duos episcopos membra fuisse extinctae Societatis Jesu, eoque titulo aequum fuisse ut aliqua eis pensio tribue-retur ex bonis Societatis, praesertim eo tempore quo sufficientem sustentationem aliunde vix haberent. Jus vero strictum et fundatum in eorum dignitate episcopali nunquam agnovit Corporatio.

I. The allowances granted

chal's predecessors were various, and were made as to ex-
Jesuits.

2° Praetensum jus episcoporum Baltimorensium ut annuos redditus percipiant ex bonis Societatis, quomodo fundetur in decreto senatus Marylandensis non videmus. Citanda forent verba ex quibus illud deducitur: nos sane in eo decreto nihil tale deprehendere potuimus.

2. The Act of the Legislature apparently irrelevant.
3. The Molineux-Carroll paper uncanonical or valueless.

3° Neque P. Molineux, nec alius superior Societatis in America, juxta regulas canonicas, potuit imponere bonis Societatis onus solvendi in perpetuum aliquam pensionem episcopis Baltimorensibus. Scriptum autem quod exhibetur non contractum continet sed quandam promissionem contractus ineundi; qui tamen nunquam initus est. Promissio vero rei, quae non est in potestate promittentis, nullius, ut patet, valoris esse potest.

4° Si quae sunt bona inter ea quae a Societate possidentur, ad quae Ill<sup>mus</sup> Archiepiscopus jus se habere putat ex voluntate donatorum, res ista ex instrumentis donationum facile componetur. Non enim dubium esse potest quin donatorum voluntas sit sancte servanda; sed de ista voluntate certis documentis constare debet. Si qua igitur talia documenta habeat Ill<sup>mus</sup> Archiepiscopus, dignetur illa communicare.

4. Any legacy meant for Marechal to be identified as such.

Rome 28 janvier 1822.

Prout Paternitas Tua a me postulaverat, brevem ad eam misi indicem principiorum justitiae, quibus meae nituntur reclamationes: nimirum Paternitati Tuae ea quae decet episcopum simplicitate declaravi, me tantum requirere a Corporatione Cleri Marylandensis (quae, ex quo restaurata fuerit Societas, constat fere exclusive Jesuitis) eosdem redditus, quos mei ven. praedecessores constanter et sine ulla controversia<sup>3</sup> perceperunt, idque, non tanquam gratuitum donum, sed tanquam jus sacrum et evidens innixum: 1° Solemni et publico decreto senatus legislativi Marylandensis;—2° Privato contractu inito inter Ill<sup>mu</sup>m DD. Carroll et Rev<sup>dm</sup> P. Robertum Molineux, Marechal to the General, Jan. 28, 1822. Repetition of the three principles of justice.

Nunc autem Paternitas Tua asserit te non distincte videre quomodo jus archiepiscoporum Baltimorensium, ut annuos redditus percipiant ex bonis Corporationis Marylandensis, quorum administrationem habet Societas,<sup>(b)</sup> fluat ex decreto senatus supra enuntiato.

(a) In Marylandia: these two words are in the printed Sommarlo, and thus show a process of retouching for use with the Cardinals of Propaganda. So too oblationem for propositionem, a few lines below. We note here only the principal alterations. The original letter of Marechal is in the General Archives S.J., as noted below.

(b) In original: quorum Jesuitae administrationem habent.

<sup>4</sup> In the original and in the printed Sommarlo there is a constant difference and variation in the title given to Father Molyneux, as Superior, or as Superior Provincialis. In point of fact, there was no Provincial of Maryland for some 29 years later, when Father Wm. McSherry was appointed first Provincial of the newly erected Province. The point is of importance in the question here, as presented to the Cardinals, because a Provincial has ordinary powers which the Superior of a Mission has not; though neither, except by delegation from Rome, can dispose of ecclesiastical property in the manner implied by Archbishop Marechal.

Attamen, Rev<sup>te</sup> Admodum Pater, manifeste et sine ullo labore deducitur ex ipsomet contextu illius decreti. Si enim omnia bona olim possessa a patribus extinctae Societatis ab ipsis solemniter conjecta fuerint in communem massam ad perpetuam sustentationem cleri Marylandiensis, nonne planum est archiepiscopum Baltimoreensem, qui est certe pars et quidem insignis cleri Marylandiensis et est omnibus destitutus redditibus, jus habere ad aliquam portionem illorum bonorum? Haec consequentia ita evidenter deducitur ex praefato decreto, ut ipsimet patres Societatis<sup>(c)</sup> sine controversia<sup>7</sup> ex bonis Corporationis statim assignaverint redditus sufficientes ven. meis praedecessoribus.

[a] If there was a common mass handed over to Maryland clergy, the bishop has a right to some part.

A selection of allowances accepted by ex-Jesuit bishops shows that other bishops of Baltimore have a right.

Certe vix credere possum Paternitatem Tuam serio loqui, cum objiciat ven. meos praedecessores non eosdem praecise redditus percepisse, ac proinde me nullum jus habere ad illos percipiendos; quia nempe praedium primo fuit Ill<sup>mo</sup> DD. Carroll assignatum, annua autem pensio Ill<sup>mo</sup> DD. Neale. Si etenim Paternitas Tua vel interrogare velit epistolas, quae sine dubio ad eam super hac quaestione transmissae sunt,<sup>(d)</sup> videbit quod possessionem praedii Ill<sup>mo</sup> DD. Carroll concessi potuisset quoque retinere Ill<sup>ms</sup> Dominus Neale. Verum, cum sanctus ille praesul gravibus infirmitatibus premeretur, neque bonorum temporalium curam<sup>(e)</sup> suscipere posset, administrationem praefati praedii remittere maluit officialibus Corporationis,<sup>(f)</sup> ea tamen conditione,<sup>8</sup> ut ipsi annuam pensionem solverent 1200 circiter nummorum Mexicanorum.

(d) in original: lucide. Cf. No. 116, D, § 3.

(e) In original: in sua senectute.

<sup>8</sup> Cf. Rozaven, No. 121, B. 8. As to the alleged imposing of a "condition" by the recipient of the pension or other beneficent provision, so that the Bishop of Baltimore should be considered as invested with a discretionary right, compare No. 180, D, 2<sup>o</sup>, E, [1<sup>o</sup>]: the act of the Corporation, which, for its own greater security thinks fit to reassume the management of Bohemia estate, and will allow the present Arch Bishop (L. Neale) a continuance of the beneficence accorded to his predecessor (Feb. 19, 1816). Nos. 178, Q, 1<sup>o</sup>; 179, F, 1<sup>o</sup>: its former allowance or beneficence consisted in this, that the Corporation accepts and adopts a proposal made by the Representatives of the Clergy, to transfer to the use of the Bishop of Baltimore (Carroll), in lieu of the sum of 800 dollars now paid him from the general fund, the estate of the clergy on Bohemia, subject to conditions which are specified; and that it will do as much for the succeeding Bishop (L. Neale), by letting him have Bohemia or causing to be paid to him annually one thousand dollars (Sept. 11, 1806; cf. No. 129, A, 5<sup>o</sup>). No. 168, A, 22<sup>o</sup>: the regulation of the Select Body of Clergy at its constituent meeting under the new charter of incorporation; to the effect that the Bishop of Baltimore, and his successors for the time being, shall be entitled to the salary as now established of £ currency 210 per annum, provided that the future Bishop be not appointed without the free election of the clergy of this diocese, or of a part of them selected for that purpose (Oct. 4, 1793). No. 157, A: the provision in favour of Carroll, as Superior of the Select Body, and not yet a bishop, is continued to him, and will be continued after his consecration; this pension of £126 sterling, equal to £210 currency, is to be the permanent salary of the Superior, both as a priest and as a bishop (May 13, 1789). No. 150, B, [1<sup>o</sup>], 1<sup>o</sup>: the sum of £210 per annum is allotted to the Superior (Carroll, a priest) till the next meeting of Chapter, Quae quidem conventio nedum infirmet jus archiepiscoporum Baltimorensium, illud e contra mirum in modum stabilit et confirmat.

Sed huic objectioni facilis admodum est responsio. Etenim factum est inconcussum superiores Societa[ti]s in nostra America, a centum et amplius annis, sine praevio consensu Superioris Generalis, omne genus contractuum valide inivisse, v.g. emisse, vendidisse, commodasse, mutuo accepisse, debita contraxisse, donationes et quidem valde pingues accepisse, etc., etc. Si ulla fides sit debita contractibus, quomodo Paternitas Tua audet dicere contractum initum inter Ill<sup>mm</sup> DD. Carroll et Rev<sup>dum</sup> P. Provincialem Superiorem S.J. No. 148, A, 14<sup>a</sup>: the provision (formerly granted) is made in favour of the Superior in spirituals, who, from the receipt of his faculties is to be allowed the salary of £100, 0. 0. sterling per annum, together with a servant, and a chaiz and horse; the said salary to continue till the next ensuing meeting of Chapter, and then be subject to their further determinations (Oct., 1784). The Superior at the moment was John Lewis; Carroll was in prospect as Superior; Baltimore and a bishopric were not as yet in view. In this documentary history of an ex-Jesuit pension for an ex-Jesuit Superior in an ex-Jesuit Mission, the only "conditions" that appear are those settled by the donors. "Conditions" imposed by the recipients are first heard of in these Marechal papers, thirty-eight years after the institution of the eleemosynary provision. (D) Lettre du P. Général à Mr. l'Archevêque de Baltimore. <sup>(o)</sup>

ILLUSTRISIME AC REV. DOMINE,

Et ex brevi scripto mihi prius communicato et ex fusiori epistola die 28 januarii data intelligo reclamaciones, quibus mihi respondendum est, quadruplici niti fundamento sive facti, sive juris.

The General Fortis to Marechal, Feb. 4, 1822. I. The question of fact. A previous allowance made.

1. Factum, prout refertur ab Amplitudine Tua, tale est: Duo ipsius ven. praedecessores quosdam redditus constanter et sine ulla controversia perceperunt; idque, non tanquam gratuitum donum, sed tanquam ex jure sacro et evidenti. Hoc facto innixa eosdem redditus nunc Amplitudo Tua requirit a Corporatione, quam vocat Cleri Marylandiensis.

2. Ad elucidationem hujus facti, et ut omnis aequivocatio in re magni momenti tollatur, aliquae explicationes necessariae videntur. Controversia esse potest circa ipsam solutionem, vel circa titulum solutionis.

De solutione fateor nullam fuisse controversiam. Non solum duo ipsius praedecessores, sed et ipsa Tua Amplitudo, constanter et sine controversia perceperunt redditus sibi assignatos vel solutos a Corporatione quae administrat bona Societatis Jesu. De ipso autem titulo solutionis, non negabit, ut puto, Tua Amplitudo extitisse controversiam; res enim nimis evidenter constat. Aperte protestatur Corporatio se nullo tempore agnovisse in episcopis Reason for the allowance. Also a temporary alms to Marechal himself.

(1) In original: piarum wanting, and interspaced passage underlined.

(m) In original: uniformis instead of unanimis. See infra, ad note (q).

(n) This P.S. in original only.

(o) The printed Sommaire having been imperfectly edited, and showing divers errors in the syntax, we prefer to follow in this document Rozaven's original; the more so as the latter has passages underlined (here interspaced), which serve to accentuate the process of argumentation.

Baltimorensibus, qua talibus, jus aliquod percipiendi redditus ex bonis a se administratis. Hoc fundamento declaravit Amplitudini Tuæ, se ei soluturam pensionem solummodo usque ad dedicationem novæ cathedralis ecclesiæ, quæ ædificabatur. Ea nunc, Deo favente, consecrata est; et ex ea pro more regionis Amplitudo Tua perceptura est redditus ampliores iis quæ a Corporatione solvebantur. Putat igitur Corporatio æquum esse ut liberetur ab onere gravi sponte suscepto, præsertim cum Societas nostra, ut optime novit Tua Amplitudo, in Marylandia alia onera gravia habeat sustinenda, et præterea aere alieno non modico gravata sit.

3. Non erit inutile animadvertere duos ven. prædecessores Amplitudinis Tuæ duplicem titulum, quo ipsa caret, habuisse ad redditus aliquos e bonis Societatis percipiendos; fuerunt enim ambo Jesuitæ et Corporationis membra; sed ex ipso brevi Clementis XIV. ex-Jesuitæ jus habebant ad sustentationem de bonis Societatis. Si quid igitur hoc titulo juris habuerunt, hoc ad successores episcopos minime transire potuit. Porro hic tantum considerandi sunt ut episcopi Baltimorenses; et quaestio est, utrum jus episcoporum Baltimorensium ad bona Societatis sive Corporationis fuerit sine controversia agnitum. Nulla sane fuit controversia cum Ill<sup>mo</sup> DD. Neale; si quidem ipse nullum unquam jus sibi vindicavit. Remittit me Amplitudo Tua ad epistolas quas de hac quaestione habeo, ut lucide videam quod possessionem prædii Ill<sup>mo</sup> DD. Carroll concessi potuisset retinere Ill<sup>mus</sup> DD<sup>us</sup> Neale — — — ipse vero, cum gravibus infirmitatibus premeretur — — — maluerit administrationem prædii remittere officialibus Corporationis — — — ea tamen conditione, ut pensio annua ipsi solveretur — — — quæ conventio confirmat jus archiepiscoporum. Consului sane epistolas, quæ apud me extant, et inveni rem paulo aliter se habere ac narrat Amplitudo Tua, ut statim patebit.

suae, fuisse possessum a primo Baltimorensi episcopo ex bonis a dicta Corporatione administratis.<sup>9</sup>

<sup>10</sup> In the history of the times referred to here, there are many indications of a tradition with the Jesuits of Maryland, notably Charles Neale and Grassi, that Carroll was pursuing a policy corresponding to what is affirmed by Rozaven in this place, and by the writer (Grassi?) of the document, No. 118, § 9. Compare Grassi's language to Father Beschter (No. 113, L); and Carroll's spirited rebuttal of insinuations, with his explanations (Nos. 113, C, K, P, Q; 178, M<sup>2</sup>, T<sup>2</sup>, U<sup>2</sup>, X<sup>2</sup>, C<sup>3</sup>). But, excepting the third article of the attempted Carroll-Molyneux contract (No. 186, § 3), no documents from Carroll's pen appear to corroborate the thesis of the Jesuits who criticized him. He himself complains that he is placed between two opposing interests, the Jesuit and anti-Jesuit; the former being determined to preserve the property and rights, the latter to take them over some way or other. At least, it may be said, in excuse for the other party, that, if with the Jesuits Carroll's attitude gave rise to the tradition of his being anti-Jesuit, persons of another temper, like Marechal, could have received the impression of his policy being to obtain all that he could, and as fully as he could, for the see of Baltimore. Considering the unprovided condition of that see in Carroll's time, neither of the writers (Rozaven here, No. 116, Grassi, No. 118) implies any aspersion of his motives.

<sup>12</sup> We do not find this in the Proceedings of the Corporation, which are complete and perfect in two record volumes, folio; nor in such minutes of the Select Body of the Clergy, prior to the existence of the Corporation, as are found in detached quires, somewhat scattered in the American S.J. Archives. However, neither series of records contains the process or incidents of debate, to which the writer is apparently referring here.

 landiensis, et hoc titulo non minus juris habebit quam ipsa Tua Amplitudo, licet ad minorem bonorum partem. Cumque archiepiscopi Baltimoreenses possint sine controversia quos placet in suum clerum admittere, crescet in dies numerus eorum qui jus habebunt in dicta bona, et qui a Jesuitis titulo justitiae sustentationem petere poterunt. An et hae sequelae admit-tendae sunt? Utique admittendae; nam, admissio principio, consequentiae negari non possunt. Si vero falsae sunt consequentiae, falsum erit et principium. An dicet Amplitudo Tua solos archiepiscopos jus habere ad redditus ex istis bonis sibi vindicandos, caetera autem cleri membra hoc jus non habere? Sed quo fundamento nitetur haec distinctio? Ista interpretatio est prorsus arbitraria, neque niti potest ipso decreto senatus. Vel quicumque pertinent ad clerum, modo cives sint, jus ex decreto habent, vel neque archiepiscopus, qua talis, ullum jus habet.

7. Amplitudo Tua archiepiscopos Baltimoreenses exhibet tanquam omnibus destitutos redditibus. Nolim, Ill<sup>me</sup> Domine, quidquam

9. Post suppressionem Societatis Jesu, Jesuitae qui in Marylandia erant ibidem manserunt ut missionarii, et bonorum extinctae Societatis retinuerunt possessionem. Facta mutatione gubernii et existente republica, dicti Jesuitae, ut certam facerent possessionem istorum bonorum quae facile deperdi potuissent per mortem possessorum intestatorum, petierunt et obtinuerunt a gubernio ut formaretur Corporatio sive associatio legalis ex clero catholico Marylandiensi, quae bona ista sub protectione legum possideret iisque uti posset ad fines a possessoribus fiduciariis declarandos. In ista petitione Jesuitae, qui totum fere clerum catholicum istius regionis componebant, sumpserunt titulum Cleri Romani Catholici;<sup>15</sup> quemnam enim alium titulum eo tempore sumere potuissent? Titulus igitur decreti etiam exprimit illum latum esse in favorem ministrorum religionis Catholicae Romanac, sed ex toto contextu manifestissime apparet non universum clerum Marylandiensem, sed certum numerum membrorum ejus habere proprietatem et usum bonorum de quibus agebatur.<sup>16</sup> Namque—

10. 1<sup>o</sup> Possessores fiduciarii jubentur declarare ad quem finem destinantur ea bona quae possident, ut hujus declarationis fiat instrumentum legale. Ex quo patet intentionem gubernii nequaquam fuisse ut eorum bonorum destinatio mutaretur, sed e contra ut immutabilis servaretur.

Act.

11. Porro declaratum fuit a possessoribus ea bona destinari ad sustentationem, non universi cleri Marylandiensi, sed exclusive Jesuitarum et eorum quos, decrescente in dies eorum numero, ipsi admitterent ad participationem sui juris.

12. 2<sup>o</sup> Gubernium permittit, non universo Clero Marylandiensi, sed iis ex clero in quorum favorem declaratio facta fuerit, ut in decursu unius anni convenient in aliquem locum, ibique quas velint leges ad pluralitatem votorum

2. The constituent action
the beneficiaries.

<sup>15</sup> No. 169, A.—In all the argumentation about incorporation, one reason for that measure is not mentioned. It is stated by Louis de Barth, in connection with property of the Society in Philadelphia; and it has been illustrated above in a Maryland case, when Father George Hunter petitioned the Governor and Assembly to give him, as proprietor, a legalized title (No. 81). The reason in question is that of being able to convey property with sufficient assurance to a purchaser, and of being assured that, if a purchaser took advantage of an offer, he could then be forced to pay. De Barth, Conewago, 30 May, 1821, wrote to Adam Marshall, Georgetown, saying that he thought the title deeds, etc., sufficient to secure the property to the Society against all endeavours and machinations of malevolent persons (and several there are in St. Mary's congregation) to take away that property. But I am still of opinion those titles are not sufficient to convey that property to another, who may allure you by offers of purchasing, and, when the bargain will be concluded, will refuse to pay, and keep still the property under the pretence of your not being able to give sufficient and clear titles. (Md.-N. Y. Province Archives, (g), De Barth's Correspondence.)

Iidem administratores (Trustees), antequam suum officium ineant, tenentur juramentum praestare coram magistratu, se fideliter administraturos ea bona secundum statuta Corporationis.<sup>20</sup>

5. 16th Article of by-laws adopted under the Act. Ex-Jesuits or Jesuits sole beneficiaries: sworn to.

II. (2) The alleged Carroll-Molineux private contract. Uncanonical.

18. Dicit Amplitudo Tua se multum dolere quod non timeam asserere illum contractum esse invalidum juxta leges canonicas Societatis cui praesideo, quia nempe initus fuit sine praevio consensu Superioris Generalis. Doleo et ipse, Ill<sup>l<sup>l</sup></sup> Domine, quod aliquid affirmare cogar unde doleat Tua Amplitudo. Quanto libentius id affirmarem ex quo gaudere posset. Quid autem? Affirmare aut negare non possumus prout cupimus, sed prout veritas exigit. Cum igitur hic agatur de veritate certissima, iterum affirmo, non libenter quidem, cum id Tuae Amplitudini displicere sciam, sed tamen sine ullo timore, invalidum prorsus esse istum contractum juxta leges canonicas; et non dubito quin idem mecum affirmatura sit Tua Amplitudo, adhibita maturiore consideratione. Non equidem dixi eum invalidum juxta leges nostrae Societatis, quia initus est sine praevio consensu Superioris Generalis; ista verba non mea sunt; dixi simpliciter, esse invalidum juxta leges canonicas,<sup>22</sup> nempe juxta eas leges quibus et nostra Societas et quivis alius ordo religiosus subjiuntur, quaeque profecto non minus, immo multo magis Amplitudini Tuae notae sunt quam mihi. Nullitatem istius contractus nequaquam repetii ex defectu consensus Praepositi Generalis, quanquam etiam ex hoc capite mihi fundamentum non deesset; sed ex defectu multo magis essentiali, ex defectu nimirum potestatis acceptae a Sede Apostolica; qui defectus talis est ut, sicut optime novit Tua Amplitudo, irritum faceret contractum etiam a Praeposito Generali subscriptum. Nullus siquidem est superior religiosus qui largiri possit per contractum bona suae religionis sine facultate Sedis Apostolicae. Hoc notum est omnibus, quanto magis Tuae Amplitudini!

19. Frustra igitur recurrit Tua Amplitudo ad antiquum usum, juxta quem, ut affirmat, superiores Societatis in America omne genus contractuum faciebant sine praevio consensu Praepositi Generalis. Unprecedented. Wasteful. Etenim, 1<sup>o</sup> licet ad singulos contractus non requirerent praevium consensum Praepositi Generalis, nullum tamen contractum faciebant aut facere poterant sine praevia facultate saltem generali accepta a suo superiore. Id enim manifestum est ex bullis apostolicis, quibus fundabatur regimen Societatis. Porro P. Molineux nullam talem facultatem acceperat.—2<sup>o</sup> Quotiescumque a Sede Apostolica conceditur alicui superiori facultas alienandi bona religionis, semper apponitur clausula ad evidentem utilitatem; ac proinde ea facultas minime extenditur ad meras largitiones, quae sunt ad evidens detrimentum, non ad utilitatem ordinis, cujus bona dissipantur. Nullus igitur Praepositus Generalis habuit, nec a fortiori concedere potuit facultatem ineundi contractum de quo sermo est.—3<sup>o</sup> Tempore quo initus est iste contractus, Societas nondum canonice existerat in America, et praeterea restitutae Societati non sunt restituta antiqua privilegia.—4<sup>o</sup> Licet in foro conscientiae P. Molineux verus esset Jesuita, aggregatus Provinciae Rossicae et constitutus superior aliorum religiosorum Societatis qui in America vivebant, in foro tamen externo nequaquam jura exercere poterat quae competunt superioribus regularium. Quod adeo verum est, ut ipse Ill<sup>ms</sup> DD. Carroll, post initum praetensum contractum, declaraverit se non agnoscere existentiam Societatis in America.

retinuerunt patres Societatis, etiam postquam solemniter ea dedicaverint sustentationi cleri Marylandiensis. Quam justa et aequa sit haec Tuae Amplitudinis exprobratio, qua patres Societatis traducuntur tanquam usurpatores vel injusti detentores boni alieni, aliorum sit judicium non meum ———— Hoc unice rogo Tuam Amplitudinem, ut explicare non dedignetur quo modo concilietur haec, quam defendit, dedicatio cum articulo 16. supramemorato statutorum fundamentalium Corporationis, et cum juramento quo semper obstricti fuerunt administratores observandi ea statuta, ac proinde curandi, ut ea bona restituerentur Societati redivivae. Sane ii qui dicta statuta fecerunt, et dicti juramenti obligationem imposuerunt, sunt ii ipsi, qui dicuntur a Tua Amplitudine bona ista dedicasse sustentationi cleri Marylandiensis.<sup>23</sup>

primit agi de bonis Societatis? Titulus ipse sic habet: The alleged contract pre-supposes not spoliation, but possession.
“Conventio inita inter R. J. Carroll Episcopum Baltimorem et R. Robertum Molineux superiorem Jesuitarum.” Conventio sane fit de rebus ad contrahentes pertinentibus, non de re aliena. Deinde, articulus tertius his verbis concipitur, “Annus redditus concessus Episcopo ex bonis Societatis aut Corporationis erit perpetuus et inalienabilis, et ad hunc effectum fiet scripto instrumentum authenticum.” An, quaeso, dici potest expressius agi de bonis Societatis? Parient forte difficultatem haec verba, aut Corporationis? Sed istorum verborum sensus ex ipso contextu evidenter patet; namque primo articulo ejusdem contractus dicitur: “Quotiescumque vacabit munus directoris aut oeconomi (manager) alicujus boni pertinentis ad Societatem aut ad Corporationem, quae possidet fiduciarie pro Societate (or the Corporation in trust for the Society),” etc. Quid clarius? Bona quidem erant Societatis, sed non possidebantur a Societate quae tunc temporis necdum habebat existentiam canonicam in America. Possidebantur a Corporationem, sed fiduciarie pro Societate (in trust for the Society). Dicatur, si placet, ipsos contrahentes errasse, nec scivisse quid facerent. Saltem constat eos voluisse et putasse se contrahere de bonis Societatis. Si enim aliter sensisset DD<sup>us</sup> Carroll, dixisset utique Corporationem possidere fiduciarie pro clero Marylandiensi.

23. Dato autem, repugnante toto contextu et contradicentibus ipsis contrahentibus, non agi in eo contractu de bonis Societatis, an inde sequetur validum fuisse contractum? Explicetur igitur quomodo religiosus professus, superior Societatis in America, potuerit valide disponere de

(v) In original of Rozaven: pertinens.

<sup>24</sup> In a copy. Cf. No. 116, C, second paragraph. As it appears in the Italian translation of the Sommario, it is signed: Conforme all' originale. + Amb. A. B. See No. 186.—The solution of Rozaven's dilemma in § 23, and the justification of Carroll and Molineux, are supplied by facts which only the entire body of original documents now serves to reveal. Besides Rozaven's two alternative members of the dilemma, there was a third: Molineux acted either as Superior, or as an individual Trustee of the Corporation, or (third member) as Superior expecting to supplant the Corporation; which latter body should remain, as Carroll expressed it, only pro forma in administering the temporalities of the Society, now duly reconstituted and provided with its own Superior. When Carroll drafted with his own hand the form of Agreement for the concurrence of Molineux, he hoped, and Molineux was willing, that the sole action of this ordinary Superior should soon take the place of the bureaucratic operations conducted by the Board or Corporation; and even Bitouzey at that moment seemed to be complaisant. Hence the prospective or promissory character of the Agreement. But, on testing it, the experiment failed, though the only members of the Board, besides Carroll and Molineux, were three secular priests, Pile, Plunkett, and Bitouzey, two of these being ex-Jesuits who never entered the Order again. Then the draft became waste paper for memoranda of Carroll's, as is seen below in the facsimile.

hujus scripti, nedum sit causae nostrae noxia, ei favere videtur. Nam, quantumvis invalidus sit ille contractus, probat tamen clarissime Ill<sup>mu</sup> DD. Carroll longe aliter sensisse ac Amplitudinem Tuam; siquidem expressis verbis fatetur Corporationem possidere fiduciariae pro Societate; unde sequitur ea bona nequaquam dedicata fuisse sustentationi cleri Marylandiensi[s] eo sensu quo intelligit Tua Amplitudo. Illud vero patet non solum ex verbis a me citatis, sed ex integro contextu, et praecipue ex articulo secundo, ubi statuitur Societatem non teneri suppeditare sustentationem missionariis assignatis ab episcopo in ecclesiis, quae sitae sunt in possessionibus Societatis, nisi accedat consensus superioris Societatis. Ex quo patet Amplitudinem Tuam, asserendo bona Corporationis non esse bona Societatis, recedere a sensu et loquendi modo suorum praedecessorum.

But the contract, though invalid, is a valid testimony that the Corporation possessed in trust for the Society.

25. Tertium fundamentum est: Praeter bona Societatis proprie dicta, Corporationem Marylandiensem in sua possessione retinere bona quae destinata fuerant a piis donatoribus ad sustentationem et incrementum ecclesiae Marylandiensis.

II. (3) Marechal's claim that S.J. received trusts for him and Maryland, besides what it received for itself.

Sunt igitur aliqua saltem bona Societatis proprie dicta, fatente Tua Amplitudine. Non ergo fuerunt, ut ante affirmaverat,<sup>25</sup> omnia bona Jesuitarum dedicata sustentationi cleri Marylandiensis. Salva igitur sint saltem ea bona quae sunt Societatis proprie dicta, nec quicquam ea aut eorum partem sibi attribuere velit. Si quae autem bona a Corporationem possidentur, quae sint proprie dicta archiepiscoporum Baltimorensium, ea sane statim suae sacrae destinationi restituantur. Dixeram: si quae tales sint piaae donationes, earum destinationes constare debere ex ipsis instrumentis donationum. Ad hoc respondet Tua Amplitudo me non ignorare leges Angliae iniquas, nec proinde posse postulare ut jus archiepiscoporum Baltimorensium probetur ex instrumentis donationum. Verum meminerit procul dubio Tua Amplitudo, quid sibi talia objicienti jam fuerit responsum in America. Utique omnibus notae sunt iniquae leges quibus olim regebantur Provinciae Americanae; et iniquus ipse essem si talia instrumenta exigere, quae per leges fieri nequibant et quae vim haberent probandi in ipsis tribunalibus. Verum notum est etiam, vigentibus illis legibus iniquissimis, pias donationes et donatorum intentiones semper firmatas fuisse scriptis, privatis quidem, sed tamen sufficientibus ad fidem faciendam. Plus sane non requiro; scripta hujusmodi sunt plane necessaria, omnium judicio, ut sufficienter constet de determinata intentione donatoris; nec facile invenietur pius donator, qui suas intentiones relinquat interpretandas voci publicae et incertae traditioni.

Then the Society owns something, and did not make a present of everything to a Maryland clergy.

The want of legal documents to prove, legally or otherwise, a right in the see of Baltimore.

This circumstance of deliberate suppression by the author himself Rozaven here suggests: occultum, ignotum, e suis tenebris. But that the original was thus deleted by the memoranda, Marechal did not divulge; and the original itself he never showed or offered to show. He wrote simply on his copy, as the Italian translation has it: "Conformable to the original," or "A true copy;" which might mean indistinctly either the deleted original or the memoranda deleting it; though the translation agrees with neither. For this history in the documents, see No. 178, M-S, where it also appears (M) that Bitouzey knew of the secret agreement, and disapproved of it. For Marechal's copy, as compared with original and memoranda, see No. 186. For the facsimile, see ibid. For Marechal's handling of the text, cf. No. 115, note 36.

quae ad nos devenerunt transmissione vel testamento (by will or deed). Declaramus praeterea nos, quantum scire possumus, nihil possidere ad quod jus plenum non habeamus in lege, et in conscientia fundatum; siquidem omnia bona quae possidemus vel acquisita, vel dono accepta sunt a nostris praedecessoribus, nobis autem ab eis transmissa eo modo quo bona legitime transmittuntur, et confirmata per decretum nostrae incorporationis. Putamus autem nos teneri in conscientia singula ista bona applicare ad usum religionis, juxta regulas et praescriptum instituti Societatis Jesu (cum haec fuerit voluntas expressa primorum possessorum) in quantum illud nobis permittitur per leges hujus regionis; neque nobis licitum esse illis uti ad alium finem quantumvis pium. Conditions of a valid donation for pious uses. 27. Addam tantummodo quaedam generalia et indubia principia; cum enim Tua Amplitudo generatim tantum loquatur, non video quo modo possim aliter respondere vagae et indeterminatae ejus assertioni: 1<sup>o</sup> In donationibus considerari debet cui fiant, et ad quem finem fiant. aut corporationi; et proprietas rei donatae pertinet, sine controversia, ei cui fit donatio, qui solum suscipit onus satisfaciendi donatoris intentioni.—2º Quando fit donatio ad pios usus, vel usus isti determinantur vel non. Si prius, ea determinatio mutari nequit a donatario; si autem non determinatur, eorum determinatio libera manet donatario, qui cogi non potest ad usum talem determinatum, potius quam ad alium pium usum qui magis ei placebit.—3º Dubium non est quin omnia bona donata in Marylandia sive antiquae Societati, sive membris Societatis extinctae, sive Corporationi, quae possidet fiduciarie pro Societate, fuerint donata pro bono et augmento religionis in Marylandia,<sup>27</sup> cui nimirum fuisse et futuri utiles putabantur Jesuitae, qui primi, et diu soli, eam vineam excoluerunt; potuerunt autem donari sive directe pro sustentatione missionariorum, sive pro usibus piiis et utilibus religioni indeterminate, vel denique pro aliquo usu determinato.

28. His positis, patet bona a Corporatione possessa fiduciarie pro Societate, et donata ad quemcumque finem sive antiquae Societati existenti in America, sive membris ejus post suppressionem superstitibus atque Corporationi transmissa, legitima esse bona Societatis, neque plus juris esse in illa bona archiepiscopis Baltimorensibus quam cuilibet episcopo in bona religiosorum in sua dioecesi existentium. Si qua bona data sunt Societati ad pios usus indeterminate, certum puto Societatem coram Deo et coram hominibus satisfacturam, eis utendo ad fines suo instituto congruos, qui utique pii sunt et ab Ecclesia approbati. Si denique aliqua essent donata ad usum determinatum, verbi gratia ad sustentationem archiepiscoporum Baltimorensium, potest Tua Amplitudo exigere ut satisfiat determinatae intentioni donatoris sufficienter probatae; neque aliud requiro nisi ut Tua Amplitudo dignetur designare ista bona, et simul documenta producere, quibus constet de donatoris intentione. Ego sane tales existere donationes non scio neque existimo.

Otherwise, any claim of the see of Baltimore as beneficiary requires substantiation.

<sup>27</sup> In Marylandia: This limitation is not to be seen in any donation; and it cannot be understood of the devises made by Jesuits themselves, who divested themselves of their property in favour of the Maryland or American Jesuit Mission. A Mission or Province taking its name from a political division of territory need not coincide in extent with the limits of that territory. Still, in all cases, the principles of administration, as exercised by the Generals S.J., prohibited the transfer of property from one part or College of the Society to another, even where the terms of acquisition did not prohibit such transfer. See the statement of the General, Father Fortis, in his autograph Italian draft of a Memorandum for the Cardinals of the Propaganda, (May 18, 1822): No. 203, B, IV. (1). Cf. No. 143, [III.], Carroll's Plan of Organization for an Ex-Jesuit Chapter: The General, whom the Constitutions vest with a power energetically called superintenduntia, could not alienate without manifest advantage, appropriate to himself, or make a partial [inequitable] application of any part of the estates possessed by Colleges; if he did, this was one of the cases deemed sufficient for his deposition. One part of this passage, relative to alienation, is identical with the statement of Rozaven, supra, § 19, 2º.

Utrum omnia ista vere et solide demonstraverim sit, si ita placet, judicium arbitratorum communi consensu eligendorum, quibus libenter consentio ut haec mea responsio simul cum epistola Tuae Amplitudinis examinanda communicetur.

Interim Deum precor, ut Amplitudinem Tuam in bonum religionis ecclesiae suae diutissime conservare dignetur, meque summa reverentia et veneratione profiteor, Propaganda Archives, Acta S. Congregationis de Propaganda Fide, 1822. (Baltimori); Sommario, Num. V., VI.—General Archives S.J., Maryl. Epist., 6i.: the originals, autograph, of Marechal to the General, A, C, supra; the originals of Father John Rozaven, Assistant to the General, Father Aloysius Fortis, B, D, supra.—Georgetown College Archives, MSS. and Transcripts, Marechal Controversy; Marechal's autograph draft of E, in 4to, 3 pp. and 3 ll.; where the last paragraph, Quantum autem, appears after the signature, as an afterthought to be inserted in the letter. Ibid., Shea's copy from the Sommario.—Cf. Baltimore Diocesan Archives: 22 D, 14, the originals, B, D, of the General, in the hand of his amanuensis: and 22 D, 13, an autograph draft by Marechal of C above, where he adds a statement that the Bishop of Boston had a house of his own and 1500 dollars of income; the Bishop of New York had a house, furniture, and 1200 dollars of income; while the Archbishop of Baltimore has 400 dollars of income which he must pay to the oeconomus for his mensa.

<sup>32</sup> In the General Archives S.J., Maryl. Epist. 6, i., there is an autograph paper of Marechal's, entitled Extracts, 4 pp. 4to, without date or signature. There are four extracts in all, without any reference to their source or authenticity.

(1) The first consists of two paragraphs from the Carroll-Molyneux Agreement, in nearly the same form, but in English, as given above in Latin by Marechal to Fontana (No. 115, § 23). The gloss: "(namely the Maryland Clergy)," is wanting; and the copy is taken, not from the original form of agreement, but from Carroll's memoranda correcting the Agreement. Cf. No. 116, note 24.

(2) The second begins: Letter of Bishp. Carroll to Fr. Gruber, G<sup>l</sup> of the Society in Russia. ¶ Perspicuum est . . . ; ends: . . . inservierant. See No. 115, § 15.

(3) The third begins: Extract of the letter of Bish. Carroll to the Rev<sup>d</sup> Mr. Molineux, by which he nominated him Sup<sup>r</sup> of the Society. ¶ Though I cannot, and ought not to interfere more than the General's letter authorises in the interior administration of the Society, yet Bishops and the Jesuits will, I trust, ever be convinced, that mutual concert between them is for the good of religion. But the Bishop must always retain over Jesuits and other regulars, employed in the public ministry, as to their continuance in and manner of performing it, the same authority as over secular priests. It ends: By such conduct the Society will enjoy peace at home, and confidence and esteem abroad, and be enabled to promote more and more the service of God. This is a P.S. to Carroll's letter nominating Molyneux Superior. See whole context, No. 178, H.

(4) The fourth begins: Extract of a letter of R<sup>d</sup> Ch. Neale, Sup<sup>r</sup> of the Society to Arch<sup>b</sup> Carroll, dated Mount Carmel, 28th. Nov. 1810. ¶ Be it however, Most R<sup>d</sup> Sir, positively understood, that I mean not to give up any control over any individual subject of our Congregation (that being absolutely necessary for the well governing thereof). It is true I ought to be reasonable in that respect. But it is equally certain that I have no authority to give up any right that would put the subject out of the power of his Superior, who must and ought to be the best judge of what is most beneficial to the universal or individual good of the members of his Congregation. ¶ On the back of this letter, Arch<sup>b</sup> Carroll wrote these two words: Inadmissible Pretensions.

The date of this letter and its style, in the use of the word Congregation instead of "Society," connects it with the meeting of the bishops in 1810, and with the "synodal article," which, as Kohlmann remarked to Grassi, had been communicated to Charles Neale. It also seems to be the "formal protest" itself, which Neale had entered against the "synodal statute." See No. 115, note 2.

Haec assertio non solum veritate penitus destituitur, sed etiam omni verisimilitudine. Factum est quidem patres Societatis, qui sunt officiales Corporationis cleri Marylandensis mihi promississe 560 nummos Mexicanos singulis annis per quatuor annos solvendo; intra quod temporis spatium, aiebant, certo consecranda erat una [mea] cathedralis ecclesia, qua semel consecrata, possem ex locatione sedilium sufficientes percipere redditus.<sup>2</sup>

Marechal to the Cardinals. He did accept of the gift from the Corporation, but as his right. Hence it was not a gift from the Society's goods.

Verum ego, et quidem merito, timens ne ex simplici acceptione propositi doni concluderent me tandem agnovisse archiepiscopos Baltimoreenses nullum jus strictum habere ad portionem bonorum cleri Marylandensis, ipsis responsum dedi, me recepturum fore ab eis hos 560 Mexicanos nummos, quos mihi per quatuor annosolvere promittebant, sed tanquam portionem tantum reddituum ad quos jus habebam tanquam archiepiscopus Baltimoreensis. Recepta hac mea responsione, perceperunt me devitasse rete quo me apprehendere studuerant. Igitur ne viderentur suae promissioni penitus infideles, identidem ad me transmiserunt paucos nummos, quorum totalis summa per quatuor annos vix ad promissum reditum unius anni assurgit.

Et non solum assertio P. Fortis omni veritate destituitur, sed et insuper omni verisimilitudine.

Si enim constanter et sine controversia percepi redditus mihi debitos [!], quo modo fieri possit ut ipse P. Superior Generalis et ipsius in America subjecti contendant me ad eos nullum jus habere, neque se fore eos soluturos, ego autem contendam me jus sacrum habere ad illos redditus et requiram ut mihi solvantur?

His disputing now shows the right subject to dispute.

“Fuere enim ambo Jesuitae et Corporationis membra et ex ipsomet brevi Clementis XIV.,” etc., etc., etc.<sup>3</sup>

The two preceding bishops received a larger allowance than the other ex-Jesuits. Therefore it was not merely as ex-Jesuits but as bishops they received it.

Juxta regulam ab officialibus cleri Marylandiensis (qui sunt omnes, uti infra observavi, Jesuitae) conditam, omnia membra Societatis recipiunt summam pensionem 80 nummorum Mexicanorum.

Verum Ill. DD. Carroll omnes redditus pinguis praedii percepit; ipsius autem ven. successor Ill<sup>mus</sup> DD. Neale 1200 num. Mexic. singulis annis. Ergo non tanquam mere Jesuitis, sed tanquam archiepiscopis Baltimorensibus ipsis provisum fuit ex bonis cleri Marylandiensis.

<sup>3</sup> No. 116, D, § 3. There were three titles of right in Carroll to support from the Jesuit estates and to an extra support. (1) He was an ex-Jesuit, having a claim by natural equity and by the express provision of Clement XIV. (2) He was a member of the Select Body (No. 145, A, [v.]), and became a beneficiary under the Act of Incorporation (No. 163). (3) As Superior in spirituals under the old Chapter, prior to incorporation, he was provided for specially by a resolution of Oct., 1784, when Father Lewis was still Superior in spirituals, and Dr. Carroll's appointment as Prefect Apostolic came under consideration (No. 148, A, 14<sup>o</sup>). The allowance then granted to the Superior of £100 sterling per annum was increased, two years later (Nov. 17, 1786), to £210 (currency), in favour of Carroll, now Prefect Apostolic, since he had moved to Baltimore from his home at Rock Creek (No. 150, B, [v.], 1<sup>o</sup>). In the interval between these two dates, the question of a bishopric was agitated; and the same Chapter which allotted to the Superior in spirituals £100 sterling per annum, resolved that, if a bishop were sent, that is, imposed without being elected, he should not be entitled to any support from the present estates of the clergy (No. 149, B, 2<sup>o</sup>). Subsequently, having been elected, and having made the declaration that the see of Baltimore had no right to a subvention from the Jesuit estates, he received the allowances on which the present controversy partly turns: £210 currency per annum as before (No. 168, A, 22<sup>o</sup>); later, £300 per annum (No. 173, G, 1<sup>o</sup>), or 800 dollars per annum (No. 178, Q); finally the usufruct of Bohemia estate (Ibid.). These grants were strictly limited by conditions, as may be seen in the resolutions quoted. See No. 116, C, note 8.

*It must be confessed that neither an American estate, nor all the Jesuit plantations together were such a treasure of assets as their name or number of acres might imply. Bohemia consisted of more than a thousand acres; yet, fifteen months after it had been assigned to Carroll's use (11 Sept., 1806), he wrote to Molyneux, Superior of the Mission and president of Georgetown College, excusing himself for not having made a certain remittance, which was still due from the Propaganda on account of certain students; and he mentioned incidentally the whole sum of his income so far received from Bohemia: My engagement to you was, to pay it at Xmass, if the Propaganda did not. This was done in full confidence of receiving my rents from Bohemia; from which estate not one penny has yet come into my hands since it was assigned to me, except one hog about a week ago. (Md.-N. Y. Province Archives, Carroll, Baltimore, 29 Dec., 1807, to Molyneux, President, Georgetown; letter 79, 2 pp. 4to.) Compare also No. 118, § 5, note 12: McElroy, procurator of Georgetown in 1817, on the remittances for that year from all the plantations together. Another circumstance of the usufruct thus assigned to Carroll stood out pointedly after his death, when his executors (Enoch Fenwick and Brent?) submitted to the Corporation an account of $258 for oil for sacred uses. The demand was met with a tart resolution, that, seeing no reason for such account, they cannot consent to pay it, considering that the late Archbishop was allowed the full income of Bohemia estate to answer the expences of sacred functions. Nota 3.

"Et ne Amplitudo Tua iterum a me quaerat quo modo audeam id dicere, affero documentum," etc., etc.<sup>4</sup>

with the facts, his own citation infra from a document (No. 129, A, 5<sup>o</sup>) suffices to correct the statement which follows here, about $1200 having been assigned annually to Archbishop Neale. The number should be $1000. Later, however, he returns to this same figure, $1200, and adds, that "it was the smallest pension ever paid to the Archbishop of Baltimore by the Jesuits." See No. 137, letter of Marechal, 17 Oct., 1826, to Card. Fesch. He should have said $1000, which was "the largest pension" ever allowed by the Jesuits to an ex-Jesuit archbishop.

<sup>6</sup> Cf. No. 162, P-R. Ashton died, as a secular priest, in the peace of the Lord, 3 Feb., 1815, leaving all his property to the Society and to charitable uses. It is true that, at one time, in 1806 (cf. No. 162, N, O), he had attacked the rights of the Jesuits to their landed property, the same which Marechal claims on Ashton's plea. But, at his death, there is no indication whatever, either in the Ashton or Corporation papers, of his having died in the act of assailing any one's name or goods.

Porro improbus ille sacerdos, observans Summum Pontificem DD<sup>mo</sup> Carroll committere officium regendi ecclesiam Baltimorem tam in spiritualibus quam in temporalibus, administrandi proventus ecclesiasticos, etc., etc., statim contra bullam debacchatus est, tanquam machinam contra bona Societatis ab alio Ganganelli adinventam. Furore vesano abreptus subito reliquit Baltimorem et incepit non solum suis sermonibus sed etiam epistolis hinc et inde missis excitare caeteros patres Societatis ut bullae executioni sese opponerent. Nunc autem Ill<sup>mus</sup> DD. Carroll, timens ne suorum fratrum mentes inflammaret et initium suae episcopalis administrationis ageretur tumultibus, ad Jesuitas multas scripsit epistolas, in quibus ipsis observabat sententiam bullae, Patri Ashton tam obnoxiam, esse meram formulam usitatum in omnibus bullis, neque se vi bullae Pii VI. ullum acquirere jus in eorum bona. Jam vero textus a R. P. Generali adductus sumitur ex una illarum epistolarum Ill<sup>mi</sup> DD. Carroll.<sup>7</sup> Quod autem nullius sit valoris in praesenti causa, est evidentissimum. Siquidem illam scripsit Ill<sup>mus</sup> meus praedecessor ad confutandam tantam [] absurdam Patris Ashton bullae interpretationem.

Quin imo si Rev. P. Superior Generalis velit solummodo attendere quo anno epistola, ex qua textus quem asserit deducitur, scripta fuit, tunc ipsemet ultro fatebitur illum textum ne leviter quidem jus archiepiscoporum Baltimorem laedere. Namque haec epistola scripta fuit initio anni 1790. Porro tunc Ill<sup>mus</sup> DD. Carroll non obtinuerat a Jesuitis fratribus suis ut coram supremo senatu Marylandensi oblationem solemnem facerent bonorum quae possidebant ad perpetuam sustentationem cleri Marylandensis. Siquidem id contigit anno 1792. Neque contractu privato R. Molineux Sup. Prov. Societatis tunc agnoverat redditus archiepiscopi Baltimorensis esse et debere<sup>8</sup> esse perpetuos, nec <sup>7</sup> No. 160; with the reproduction of the formal document itself from the Proceedings of the Corporation, not from any letter of Carroll's. Fr. Leonard Edelen, secretary of the Corporation, had stated in his letter to Marechal (April, 1820), when communicating a copy of Carroll's declaration: There is an instrument of writing, written and signed by A<sup>b</sup> Bp. Carroll's own hand, in possession of the said Trustees, which throws a considerable light upon this subject. The receipt of this letter was acknowledged by Marechal, April 30, 1820; who, adopting the opinion that the sentence of the Bull was a mere matter of form, gave, in a modified shape, the same account as here of Ashton and of Carroll's Bull; but he did not mention the source which would vouch for the authenticity of the story. See No. 181, D, E. He himself had been a seminarian at the time, in France.—Marechal reverses this argument later (No. 124, notes 9, 11).

<sup>8</sup> Et debere; not in the text cited, which runs: shall continue perpetual and inalienable. Cf. No. 115, § 23, art. 3. This extension: et debere, of the terms used in the Agreement, had appeared already in Marechal's letter to the General, No. 116, C, 2, and was answered implicitly in the analysis of the whole Agreement. Cf. No. 116, D, §§ 17-24.

The origin of the clause, as it stands in the Carroll-Molineux Agreement: shall continue perpetual and inalienable, is found in several different acts of the Select Body of Clergy. One is a resolution, passed prior to the establishment of the bishopric, in se suscepit obligationem transmittendi ven. meo praedecessori titulum civilem ad hunc effectum consequendum. Initus enim fuit ille contractus anno 1804 [1805]. Verum post solemne decretum senatus Marylandensis, praesertimque post contractum initum inter se et P. Molineux, numquid Ill<sup>ms</sup> Carroll aliquando agnovit neque se neque suos successores habere jus ad portionem bonorum olim a Societate possessorum? Numquam; innixus autoritate tum praefati solemnisi decreti tum privati contractus, constanter usque ad mortem suam jus suae sedis et cleri Marylandensis strenue defendit; constanter judicavit agendi rationem suorum fratrum esse manifestam violationem juris tum publici tum privati.<sup>9</sup>

Marechal might quote the Bull.

"Supponamus tantisper id ita esse; non igitur sola Amplitudo Tua, sed quicumque pertinet ad Clerum Marylandensem," etc., etc.<sup>11</sup>

Marechal accepts conclusion that all priests at large in Maryland may claim property of the Society.

Certissime quidem clerus Marylandensis jus habet ad aliquam portionem bonorum quae solemnisi decreto senatus Marylandensis consecrata sunt ad ejus sustentationem. Idque cum ven. meo praedecessore DD. and changing the Superior's salary from the condition of a mere appropriation at each chapter to a permanent salary of the Superior (13 May, 1789). See No. 116, C, note 8. Another is the fundamental Regulation (No. 168, A, 22, 4 Oct. 1793), as cited ibid., No. 116, C, note 8. A third was a decision passed by a select committee on the Constitution (1 Sept., 1797), which, in settling a controversy between the Representatives and the Trustees, agreed, among other points defined, that the Trustees might augment or diminish the pensions of clergymen, provided nevertheless that they never reduce the pension of the Bishop of Baltimore below the sum of two hundred and ten pounds, current money of the State of Maryland, as fixed and agreed on by the 22d. resolve passed by the R. C. Clergy on the 4th day of October, 1793. See No. 173, F, 3. In the original form of the Carroll-Molyneux Agreement, quoted here by Marechal, the bishop had written: 3. The annuity allotted to the Bishop from the estates of the Clergy, and now of the Society, and which was declared inalienable and perpetual, previously to the erection of the Episcopal See, shall so remain perpetual and inalienable. . . . In Carroll's own correction of this Agreement, reducing it to the condition of a mere memorandum (cf. No. 116, D, note 24), he eliminated the whole passage from Clergy down to See, substituting Society or Corporation. See facsimile of the Agreement, No. 186.

tentationem cleri saecularis Marylandiensis consecrarent; aut si absolute vellent retinere possessionem omnium bonorum ecclesiasticorum, saltem aliquam portionem reddituum applicarent ad sublevandos saeculares sacerdotes aetate aut infirmitatibus confractos pro ratione necessitatis in qua versari possent.<sup>13</sup>

Equidem patres restauratae Societatis hanc justissimam mei praecessoris propositionem rejecerunt. Sed quid inde concludendum? Eos esse aequitatis et moderationis ecclesiasticae amatores?

Generales observationes.

Saepe evenit in nostra America quod quidam cives a legislatura Provinciarum Foederatarum petant ut ipsi[s] concedatur actus Corporationis, id est ut constituent corpus politicum et ita habeantur coram civilibus tribunalibus. Quando hunc favorem sollicitant, in petitione sua tenentur explicare quodnam sit futurae Corporationis suae objectum ac praecipue quemnam finem sibi proponant.

Si tum objectum tum finis non adversentur legibus reipublicae et insuper tendant ad promovendam prosperitatem plurimorum civium, tunc postulatam Actum Corporationis lubentissime concedunt nostri leges. Cum Actu Corporationis generatim praefatis civibus insuper transmittunt potestatem sibi efformandi regulas quas judicaverint meliores ad obtinendum finem publicae utilitatis quem declararunt se intendere. Quod si isti cives, post obtentum Actum Corporationis, sibi efformarent regulas non ad obtinendum finem publicae utilitatis ab ipsis enuntiatis, sed ad finem prorsus distinctum aut enuntiato oppositum, tunc isti cives coram tribunalibus civilibus malae fidei rei judicarentur et omnibus juribus, quae per Actum Corporationis acquisierunt, spoliarentur.

Anno 1792, duce Ill<sup>mo</sup> DD. Carroll, adierunt senatum Marylandensem et coram hoc supremo tribunali solemniter declararunt se tanquam privatos cives bona multa possidere ad pios usus a donatoribus destinata; se paratos esse haec omnia bona in communem massam projicere ad perpetuam sustentationem ministrorum ecclesiae Romanae Catholicae Marylandensis; ideoque humiliter petere ut Actus Corporationis ipsi[s] concederetur.<sup>14</sup>

The ex-Jesuits, 1792. Repetition of original statements: a "common mass," and a dedication thereof to Maryland clergy.

Cum objectum et finis hujus petitionis legislatoribus optima viderentur, et insuper cum jam multis protestantium societatibus favorem similem ei qui a catholicis sollicitabatur jam concesserant, huic petitioni lubenter suum assensum praebuere.

Et non solum Actum Corporationis postulatam concessere, sed insuper, uti mos est receptus, oratoribus potestatem contulere sibi efformandi regulas ad meliorem horum bonorum administrationem et ad securius obtinendum finem propositum, nempe sustentationem Romanae catholicae ecclesiae in Marylandia ministrorum. (Vide contextum Actum Corporationis.)

Porro paulo postquam PP. Societatis praefatum Actum Corporationis obtinuerint, convenerunt; ni fallor, unus aut duo sacerdotes saeculares huic conventioni praesentes fuere.

Discussionem igitur omnium propositum fuit condere regulas ad meliorem Corporationis administrationem. Sed tunc summa confusio inter eos statim locum obtinuit. Quidam requirebant ut officiales Corporationis statim atque eligerentur juramento secreto sese obligarent transmittere omnia bona Corporationis Societati Jesu, si forte aliquando restitueretur; alii vero existimantes hanc regulam tanquam evidenter contrariam litterae et spiritui decreti senatus Marylandensis, eam procul esse rejiciendam opinabantur. Ita inter alios eam fortiter impugnavit Ill<sup>mus</sup> DD. Carroll ac usque ad suam mortem constanter rejecit. Plurimi proposuerunt ut

§ 2. Seguita nel 1773 l'abolizione della Compagnia di Gesù, i missionarj del Maryland restarono come preti secolari al servizio di quelle missioni e continuarono a possedere i loro beni. Quel paese essendosi poi eretto in repubblica, e cessando d'essere in vigore le leggi contro i Cattolici, quegli exgesuiti, de' quali soli era composto il clero degli Stati Uniti, e segnatamente del Maryland, pensarono a garantire il loro bene da un pericolo che temevano.<sup>3</sup> Infatti, se un exgesuita possessore fiduciario di que' terreni fosse morto intestato, i di lui parenti in forza delle leggi civili avrebbero potuto appropriarseli. Pertanto il P. Giovanni Carroll, ex-gesuita, e poscia primo Vescovo di Baltimore, unito agli altri exgesuiti, chiesero ed ottennero dalla nuova Legislazione del Maryland un ampio decreto, ossia Atto col quale si erigeva una Corporazione ossia associazione legale del clero cattolico di quella provincia. In quest'Atto l'autorità si dava agli oratori di far essi medesimi entro un dato tempo gli opportuni regolamenti per la retta amministrazione de'beni, che si mettevano sotto la salvaguardia delle leggi per l'oggetto a cui erano destinati.<sup>4</sup> Gli exgesuiti così autorizzati si unirono insieme e fecero i proposti regolamenti, ossia Statuti della Corporazione, la quale a norma di quelli deve essere composta di cinque Trustis ossia Capi-amministratori, de'Rappresentativi e del Corpo Scelto.<sup>5</sup> I Rappresentativi sono membri della Corporazione, eleggono i Trustis di sei in sei anni e danno il lor voto, quando si tratta di alienare qualche fondo o reddito. Il Corpo Scelto è composto di quelli che, essendo membri della Corporazione, hanno diritto di partecipare ai vantaggi della medesima. Quei soli possono essere membri della Corporazione, i quali hanno il diritto di cittadinanza degli Stati Uniti e sono ammessi dai Trustis.

The General's presentation of the document, even without his signature, was clearly sufficient, as appears from the fact of its insertion in the Sommario. And that it was accepted from the General as authentic is also clear from the title prefixed to it here in the Sommario: Numero II. Informazione del Preposito Generale de' Gesuiti alla S.C. As Shea's note intimates that Marechal wrote his gloss just where Shea places it, the same page of Marechal's copy bore the gloss and the official title which contradicted the gloss. The same letter of Pedicini (No. 121, H) says expressly, that it will suffice if the General "return the documents, accompanied by a note." So the General did, explaining at length the character of this Informazione. See No. 121, J.*

§ 3. Il XVI,<sup>6</sup> de'sopramemorati regolamenti ossia Statuti dichiara e determina che, se mai la Compagnia di Gesù venisse ad essere ristabilita,

By-law of the Corporation, sworn to: restoration of the property to S.J.

sarà obbligo dei Trustis della Corporazione di usare ogni sforzo di far rientrare i gesuiti al possesso dei beni assicurati coll'Atto ossia decreto sopradetto, e perciò i gesuiti debitamente qualificati doversi ammettere a preferenza d'ogn'altro nella Corporazione.<sup>7</sup> Notisi che i Trustis, entrando in carica, devono far giuramento avanti il civil Magistrato d'osservare gli Statuti della Corporazione, e per conseguenza giurarono di mantenere anche questo XVI.<sup>8</sup>

dopo aver avuto il legale diritto di cittadinanza, furono fatti membri della Corporazione posseditrice de'beni, che lo stesso Monsignor Carroll scriveva dover ritornare alla Compagnia.

In questa guisa nel 1814, epoca del ristabilimento universale della Compagnia, la Corporazione trovossi composta quasi di soli gesuiti o nativi o forastieri. Dissi quasi, perchè, tardando lo sperato ristabilimento, furonvi ammessi anche de'preti secolari, i quali peraltro a quell'epoca (e molto più adesso) per la maggior parte erano morti, o avevano abbandonata l'America. Pertanto, essendo purificate tutte le condizioni espresse ne'legali Statuti,<sup>10</sup> i gesuiti sono ora in legittimo possesso di que'beni, e li posseggono come gesuiti in forza dello Statuto XVI. e come membri della Corporazione, perchè essa è composta di soli gesuiti.

§ 5. In primo luogo conviene osservare che i redditi de' beni della Corporazione nel Maryland sono assai minori di quelli che molti Europei si promettono, considerando la sola estensione del terreno.<sup>11</sup> Questo, attesa la scarsezza delle braccia, talora rimane incolto o è malamente coltivato, sicchè il prodotto non di rado basta a stento a mantenere gli schiavi che, all'usanza dell'America meridionale [settentrionale?], ne sono gl'agricoltori. I religiosi poi, dovendo trattare bene quella povera gente, non ne cavano il vantaggio, che ne hanno spesso i secolari co' risparmi sordidi che fanno sul mantenimento degli schiavi.<sup>12</sup> Le entrate dunque, che sono raccolte, s'impiegano da' gesuiti a soddisfare gl'obblighi annessi, se ve ne sono, e in oggetti proprj del loro Istituto.

Amid the divers gratuitous or semi-gratuitous scholarships granted by the College to students, there were two founded by the liberality of patrons in the course of the first twenty-four years. The Eyck (Eck) foundation of £600 appears in the Agent's books as early as 1797, and was used successively in favour of White of Boston, John Weeks, Rogers, Ben. Wheeler, William Lambert, none of whom, however, as McElroy observes in 1814, had as yet succeeded for the ecclesiastical state. (Md.-N. Y. The will was made in Nov., 1809; but the estate was settled only in 1814. (Ibid., McElroy's Papers, Diary, 2 Nov., 1814.—Georgetown College Transcripts, 1809, Nov.:

4. On the novitiate. 4° Al mantenimento del noviziato. Questo dura due anni, e perciò la spesa che porta è doppia di quella, che occorre negl'altri Ordini: i novizj, secondo le regole della casa, nulla pagano per entrarvi.

5. On the scholastics in Rome. 5° Al mantenimento di varj studenti gesuiti, che fanno il corso de'loro studj in Roma. Attualmente ve ne sono otto, sette de'quali sono nativi dell'America stessa. Chi ben conosce quel paese, facilmente converrà, esser questo il migliore, e forse l'unico mezzo per formare colà un clero nazionale e per instabilirvi solidamente la religione cattolica.

6. On paying off debts. 6° All'estinzione di debiti considerabili fatti, perchè alle sovraccennate spese non bastarono i redditi ordinarj. Il solo interesse, che pagasi pel capitale, con cui fu comperata la casa ad uso di convitto di Nova York, monta ad annui scudi 800.<sup>21</sup> Dal detto quì sopra è evidente che i gesuiti non sono sì ricchi come taluno pretende. Allorchè il Card. Litta parlava su questo proposito a un gesuita venuto dall' America e udì questa circostanza dei debiti, ne restò altamente sorpreso e non volle che più si parlasse delle pretese ricchezze de'gesuiti di colà.

7. On subsidizing Mgr. Marechal of Baltimore. 7° Finalmente (sebbene con grave incommodo) si pagano annui scudi 500 all'attual' Arcivescovo di Baltimore, e i Trustis hanno promesso di continuargli questo soccorso fino a tanto che sia ufficiata la chiesa cattedrale di Baltimore.<sup>22</sup>

§ 7. Quest'ultima circostanza mi porta ad accennare il modo, con cui ordinariamente sussistono i vescovi cattolici negli Stati Uniti d'America.

Colà ogni famiglia cattolica (eccetto nelle chiese de'gesuiti) paga una somma di più scudi per l'uso del banco nella chiesa; e queste somme raccolte servono al mantenimento del clero e della chiesa. Nella distribuzione del qual reddito si ha il dovuto particolar riguardo al vescovo, il quale in certi luoghi, come a Nova York e forse anche a Filadelfia, riceve più di mille scudi oltre gran quantità d'incerti. In Baltimore le circostanze sono favorevolissime all'arcivescovo, mentre il numero de' cattolici è considerabilissimo, la cattedrale può contenere un numero di banchi maggiore di quello d'ogn'altra chiesa, e finalmente perchè l'arcivescovo ha tutti i sacri apparati vescovili, la libreria, i mobili della casa e il reddito di qualche casa affittata, cose tutte lasciate da Monsig. Carroll pe' suoi successori.

§ 8. Ora veniamo alle ragioni sulle quali l'attual' Arcivescovo di Baltimore appoggia la domanda, che fa ai gesuiti d'una annua pensione:

Marechal's
plea: 1st reason. His two predecessors, ex-Jesuits, received maintenance from Jesuit funds.

In risposta si fa riflettere che non vi sono ora le stesse ragioni di ciò fare che vi furono pe'due arcivescovi Carroll e Neale. Questi erano ambidue exgesuiti; avevano perciò un vero diritto a qualche assegnamento sui beni della soppressa Compagnia; e questo fu accordato in Italia, in Ispagna e altrove. I citati monsignori col divenir vescovi non perdettero i diritti che avevano come exgesuiti. I Trustis furono con essi più liberali, a motivo de' loro meriti singolari, avendo prima assai faticato in quelle missioni. Monsignor Carroll fu il primo e per lungo tempo l'unico vescovo di tutti que' vastissimi paesi ora divisi in otto diocesi; doveva perciò aver delle spese straordinarie, e i soli viaggi ne dovevano cagionare di molto gravose. I fedeli avvezzi ad aver gratis da gesuiti tutti i soccorsi di religione difficilmente si sarebbero prestati a contribuire alle dette spese, etc.

Finalmente questa pensione fu accordata e promessa, quando non v'era nè collegio, nè noviziato, nè casa di studj de' gesuiti da mantenere, come v'ha ora.

Carroll's written declaration against any
Baltimore see.

Inoltre Monsig. Neale, coadjutore di Monsig. Carroll cum jure successionis, sentendo parlare in quell'adunanza di assegnamento perpetuo agl'arcivescovi successori, si levò e dichiarò che egli rinunciava a questa perpetuità d'assegnamento. E di più allorchando nel 1815 successe nell'arcivescovato [a] Monsignor Carroll, volle che la Compagnia ripigliasse la tenuta, di cui il suo antecessore avea goduto l'usufrutto; e ciò a scanso d'ogni pretesa che qualche arcivescovo potesse muovere.

Monsignore poi contentossi dell'assegnamento fattogli da' Trustis come a distinto membro della Corporazione, alla quale Monsignor Marechall non è mai appartenuto nè appartiene.

reason.

America, obbligò se, e i suoi successori, a pagare a Monsig. Carroll e a'di lui successori la pensione che il prima godeva. Così Monsig. Marechall.

A questo si risponde che il P. Molyneux, allora infermo e di forze e di testa, fece una tal promessa senza avere la competente autorità di farla, o si consideri egli come gesuita o come membro della Corporazione. In questa seconda capacità egli non poteva agire in nulla senza i Trustis e i Rappresentativi, ed è certo che questi non mai furono richiesti da esso del loro consenso, e mai non l'ebbe nè l'avrebbe avuto, stante il giuramento d'osservare gli Statuti. Questa promessa del P. Molyneux non fu nemmeno comunicata a quei della Corporazione o della Compagnia, a'quali avrebbe dovuto notificarla, e rimase scritta in un foglio che trovossi tra le scritture di Monsig. Carroll. Oltredicchè nel 1805 la Compagnia non possedeva que'beni, nè alcun gesuita<sup>25</sup> esercitava la minima influenza nella distribuzione di que' redditi; tutto dipendeva dalla Corporazione.

Come mai poteva dunque il P. Molyneux obbligare se e i suoi successori a pagare a'futuri vescovi una pensione col reddito de'beni che non possedeva, o alienare redditi de'quali non poteva disporre? Nemmeno poteva il P. Molyneux come gesuita ciò fare. Ognuno sa che un semplice superiore di missioni non può alienare beni appartenenti ad un corpo religioso; e il P. Generale, nella patente che gli mandò, gli negava espressamente, come è l'uso nella Compagnia, la facoltà,<sup>26</sup> e gli proibiva

plea: 3rd
reason.
Maryland Act of Incorporation.

In risposta conviene far attenzione che il governo con questo decreto non dà alcun bene al clero cattolico, nè ordina che i beni d'alcuni individui sieno applicati ad alcun uso particolare; ma con questo decreto erigge una Congregazione d'individui possidenti in fiducia de'beni, li autorizza a formare essi stessi gl'opportuni statuti per ben regolare la Congregazione, e a dichiarare chi fossero quelli in cui favore i detti beni erano stati lasciati in fiducia. Ora questi possidenti in fiducia dichiararono nello Statuto XVI. che quei beni erano di pertinenza della soppressa Compagnia di Gesù, e che que'beni erano lasciati pel mantenimento degli exgesuiti, e che dovevano tornare alla Compagnia di Gesù, qualora fosse ristabilita; che gli exgesuiti potevano legalmente sostituire altri sacerdoti agli exgesuiti morti, ammettendogli nella Congregazione, nella quale solamente potevano partecipare di diritto a' redditi della medesima; e finalmente dichiararono che chi non era di questo Corpo Scelto non aveva alcun diritto a quei beni. Ora tutto questo fa vedere che l'intenzione del governo altra non era se non di assicurare certi terreni e proprietà per quelli in favor de'quali erano stati lasciati in fiducia; di assicurarli perchè servissero alla primitiva loro destinazione e non passassero ad altre, con pregiudizio di quelli che vi avevano un titolo. In somma l'Atto del governo dichiara legale il titolo di possesso, il qual titolo prima non era riconosciuto dalla legge.<sup>28</sup>

However, instead of citing Statute XVI. for the declaration of trust on behalf of the Society, the writer should have quoted the Declarations themselves (No. 167; 3 Oct., 1793), which Statute XVI. merely supposes, as is expressly stated in the preamble to the said Statutes or fundamental Regulations of the constituent meeting (No. 168, A; 4 Oct., 1793). The action of the legal possessors, Walton, Molyneux, and Ashton, in making their authentic Declarations of Trust under oath, was adduced in the preamble of the Act of Assembly, 1806 (No. 165, B, [II.]; 28 Jan., 1806), as having adequately fulfilled the condition imposed by the Charter (No. 164; 23 Dec., 1792), and Monsig. Marechall sa bene che gli exgesuiti nel 1793 non potevano dare alla proposta Congregazione altro titolo che quello di Clero del Maryland. In fatti sino alla soppressione o, a meglio dire, sino allora, il clero d'America era stato ed era composto di soli gesuiti o exgesuiti esclusivamente, sicchè era la stessa cosa dire Prete, o Missionario, ovvero Gesuita o Exgesuita. Monsignore sa benissimo ancora che altro è essere uno del clero del Maryland ed altro è essere della Congregazione del Clero della stessa provincia. Non ogni sacerdote ivi esistente appartiene a questa, ma que'soltanto che vi sono ammessi a norma degli statuti. Così i Preti di S. Sulpizio sono una porzione edificante del clero del Maryland; ma nessuno sognò mai che essi sieno della Corporazione di quel Clero; e lo stesso Monsig. Marechall lo è mai stato; e chi non è membro della Congregazione non ha alcun diritto a'beni della medesima.

Meaning of the name "clergy" in 1793, when ex-Jesuits were only clergymen, and almost the only clergymen.

Marechal's plea: 4th statement. Assertion of trusts in favour of religion. White Marsh.

Si risponde che la sola tenuta di White-Marsh è l'unica possessione che si dice (ma non se ne ha alcun documento) essere stata data alla Compagnia pel bene generale della religione.<sup>29</sup> Ma egli è certo che i gesuiti la posseggono liberamente al pari degl'altri loro terreni senza avervi obblighi particolari, fuorchè di servire la missione fondata sulla tenuta stessa e quella di Annapolis.<sup>30</sup> I gesuiti hanno cercato, per quanto è stato possibile, di adempire a questa condizione, ed altro non si può da essi pretendere.

§ 13. Ma mettiamo pure che fosse lasciata a'gesuiti pel bene generale della religione: sempre è vero che è lasciata a'gesuiti, e che tocca a questi far de'redditi l'uso prescritto. E certamente il mantenere un collegio settled the uses of the trust, in favour of those who were formerly members of the religious Society, heretofore known by the name of the Society of Jesus. Copies of these three Declarations by Walton, Molyneux, and Ashton, obtained ex ipsomet registro publico civitatis Annapoleos, "from the public records of the city of Annapolis," were in the hands of Marechal, as he said, when writing the Twenty-three Propositions (15 Jan., 1826); but, after this statement of their authenticity (No. 135, A, Prop. 6, 1), Marechal proceeds to cite the object of the respective Declarations, without alluding to this one formal affirmation, which is the sole predicate of the single sentence constituting each. See No. 135, A, Propositions 6, 7.

<sup>30</sup> There is no such condition expressed in James Carroll's devise; but the implication of it follows from the general principles stated above, No. 116, note 27, and No. 55, statement by the General Piccolomini, 8 Apr., 1651. Carroll, in his Plan of Organization for an ex-Jesuit Chapter (No. 143; 1782), does not allude to any local obligations on the Jesuit property in America; whereas, in a similar organization previously made by the English ex-Jesuits (No. 150, Q-B<sup>3</sup>), and referred to by Carroll (No. 143, [VII.]), the local obligations or uses of the ancient Jesuit property in England are a salient feature.

per l'educazione della gioventù, che ha già dato un buon numero di missionarj, il formare novizj e studenti, affine d'avere una perpetua successione di professori o di missionarj, serve al bene generale della religione e redonda a comodo di Monsig. l'Arcivescovo medesimo. Non s'è mai udito che un vescovo potesse appropriarsi alcuni beni lasciati a un determinato Ordine pel solo titolo, che que'beni sono stati lasciati in bene generale della religione. Se quest'argomento valesse, ne seguirebbe che ogni prete potrebbe chiedere a' gesuiti una pensione; i Vescovi di Boston, di Nova York, di Filadelfia, di Kentucky, etc., potrebbero al pari di quello di Baltimore pretendere parte della pensione accordata a Monsig. Carroll, perchè questa pensione era in vantaggio anche di quelle diocesi già soggette al detto Monsig. Carroll, che le governava,<sup>31</sup> ossia perchè quella pensione serviva al bene generale della religione cattolica in America. La richiesta che fa Monsignor Marechall sembra ad alcuni tanto più sorprendente quanto ch'egli sa bene l'uso che i gesuiti fanno de' lor redditi, sa i debiti di cui sono gravati e che non possono perciò fare de'miglioramenti quasi necessarj a'lor beni, e sa di più con quanto grave incommodo gli avanzino scudi cinquecento annui, finchè cominci ad essere officiata la chiesa; e finalmente Monsignore non ignora che il collegio stesso di Georgetown è in estrema necessità d'una cappella o chiesa, dalla quale mancanza ne derivano dei danni considerabili alla religione cattolica generale. Si potrebbe anche aggiungere che la Corporazione ha ceduto all'arcivescovo in pro della cathedrale uno spazio di terreno entro Baltimore che è stato venduto per circa mille <sup>(a)</sup> [venti mila?] scudi. Ma come questo punto esigerebbe troppi dettagli contenziosi, si lascia, giacchè il fin quì detto basta a fare vedere l'insussistenza delle pretese ragioni, su cui Monsignor Marechall appoggia e fonda la sua domanda. Mostri egli che i beni o parte de'beni ora posseduti da' gesuiti furono lasciati a favore de' vescovi futuri di Baltimore, e i Trustis si faranno un dovere di cederli ciò che di diritto a lui compete. Si rifletta ancora che la Corporazione come tale non dipende dal Generale della Compagnia, e i gesuiti membri della detta Corporazione non possono deviare dall'osservanza degli Statuti della medesima a norma del giuramento che fanno.

Laurensen's statement: worth less than twenty thousand [dollars]; No. 94, B, Father Anthony Kohlmann's affirmation: "worth 40,000 dollars"; No. 94, C, where $400 are said by Father Dzierzynski to be the profit derived by the archbishop from the Jesuit donation to his cathedral; but at what percentage is not said.

Parte Seconda.

Il lamento di Monsig. Marechall è fondato sopra un articolo di disciplina convenuto tra i vescovi Americani nel 1810, che è del tenor seguente: Quando sacerdotibus per-tinentibus ad saeculares vel regulares congregationes e superiorum consensu cura animarum demandata est, judicamus eos non debere ex superiorum suorum arbitrio pendere, ab eisque revocari invito Episcopo — — Neque tamen nostra mens est ut sacro ministerio mancipentur illi quibus revera indigent praefatae congregationes, neque etiam impedire quin revocentur sacerdotes in missionibus laborantes, modo haec revocatio dioecetano episcopo omnino necessaria ad existentiam [aut prosperitatem] praedictarum congregationum esse videatur.<sup>33</sup>

§ 15. Ognuno alquanto versato nelle cose religiose, il quale rifletta per poco sul precedente articolo, s'accorrerà facilmente delle conseguenze funeste che ne possono derivare a' religiosi, sopra tutto in America, ove in somma scarsezza di soggetti hanno in mano collegj e seminarj per la cristiana ed ecclesiastica educazione della gioventù; e s'avvederà parimente quanto il detto articolo devii dal prescritto del Concilio di Trento, Sess. 25, c. II., il quale limita la suggezione de' regolari a vescovi in iis omnibus quae curam animarum et sacramentorum administrationem spectant, come dice Benedetto XIV. nella Bolla regolatrice delle Missioni Inglesi. Lo stesso Pontefice ivi al proposito nostro si esprime como segue al 17: Decretum jam est — — ut cum velit superior regularis ab animarum regimine et sacramentorum administratione regularem sibi subditum remove, efficere id posse quin prius Ordinarium de causa certiore faciat, etc.

È da credersi che, allorquando i vescovi Americani stesero quest'articolo, non avessero presenti le citate autorità, altrimenti non mai avrebbero deciso eos (i regolari) non debere pendere ex superiorum arbitrio, nè fatti avrebbero se stessi, e non già i superiori, giudici delle cagioni per traslocare i loro sudditi, nè finalmente avrebbero insinuato che allor soltanto abbian luogo i cambiamenti, allorchè la necessità è estrema, e fossero necessarj non al bene ma all'esistenza delle congregazioni o ordini regolari.<sup>34</sup> Pare che i vescovi Carroll e Neale ben s'avvedessero che questo articolo va troppo avanti, perchè essi non mai lo pubblicarono, e inoltre non era stato fatto in un sinodo diocesano, nè sottomesso e molto meno approvato dal giudizio della Santa Sede.<sup>35</sup> Tuttavia Monsignor Marechall lo citò al superiore de' gesuiti, il quale, sebbene non si credesse obbligato a conformarsi a un tal regolamento, pure vi aveva avuto ogni riguardo, col dare all'arcivescovo previa notizia con ogni rispetto de' cambiamenti che credeva necessarj da farsi. Ed eccoci alla questione di fatto.

Not a synodal decree; and never published till Marechal used it against the Jesuits.

2nd question: the facts alleged. Father Cary and Georgetown.

Riguardo al P. Cary,<sup>36</sup> è da sapersi che il collegio di Georgetown non aveva P. Ministro, impiego indispensabile al bene essere d'un collegio d'educazione. Il P. superiore de' gesuiti ne diede notizia all'arcivescovo, aggiungendo che fra i suoi sudditi il solo P. Cary parevagli il meno disadatto a quel carico, e che manderebbe in sua vece altro soggetto opportuno alla missione. L'arcivescovo fece delle difficoltà, e il superiore de' gesuiti si astenne per rispetto dal richiamare il P. Cary da una missione che ormai da 200 anni è stata in mano de' gesuiti. Ma non potendo in verun altro modo avere un P. Ministro, il Superiore scrisse nuovamente a Monsig. Marechall d'essere necessitato a richiamare il detto Padre. L'arcivescovo rispose bensì a questa lettera; nulla disse della traslocazione del P. Cary; e parlò d'altri affari contenuti nella lettera medesima. Allora il superiore diè ordine al P. Cary di andare al collegio, come fece. Monsig. l'arcivescovo intanto scrisse al detto P. missionario un ordine di non muoversi; ma il Padre [non?] lo ricevette se non al momento che stava per partire pel collegio; donde scrisse a Monsignore che il di lui ordine era giunto troppo tardi, per poter dargli riscontro da S. Tommaso donde era partito in obbedienza al suo superiore. L'arcivescovo scrisse allora una lettera molto risentita al P. superiore, chiedendogli se voleva sì o no sottomettersi agli statuti della diocesi, e riportò il citato articolo. Il P. superiore, che per amore della pace aveva sempre cercato di osservare il detto articolo, rispose che in seguito alla di lui lettera avrebbe rotto il rispettoso silenzio tenuto fino allora, e con ogni sincerità gli direbbe cosa pensasse di quell'articolo. Scrisse pertanto all'arcivescovo a poc'appresso le osservazioni riportate al principio di questo paragrafo. Monsignor Marechall non diede mai risposta o replica diretta alle osservazioni del P. Superiore e si contenne come se già non pensasse ad esigere sommissione al detto articolo. Solo un giorno disse al Padre

Visitatore della Compagnia, che veramente quell'articolo pareva troppo avanzarsi; e che in vigore della Bolla di Benedetto XIV. per le Missioni Inglesi la destinazione de'soggetti regolari appartiene unicamente a'loro rispettivi superiori. E, se vi sono valide ragioni perchè così sia in ogni ordine religioso, molto più così dev'essere nella Compagnia, ove i sud-diti con filial confidenza s'aprono a'superiori come a'padri obbligati a provvedere a'loro bisogni d'anima e di corpo, bisogni che talora esiggono il silenzio della causa per cui uno dee essere traslocato. In prova poi, che il bisogno della missione non era il motivo della opposizione che l'arcivescovo faceva, è da osservarsi che egli stesso aveva circa lo stesso tempo richiamato da quella missione un prete secolare, e aveva chiesto ed ottenuto che il P. Bescheter gesuita da S. Tommaso passasse a Baltimore. Il P. superiore prestossi al desiderio di Monsignore, sebbene la prima missione appartenga alla Compagnia e non già quella di Baltimore. Due sacerdoti gesuiti furono poi mandati in luogo dei PP. Cary e Beschter e la missione restò così provveduta come prima.

§ 17. La missione di Richmond (capitale della Virginia) e quella di Baltimore non appartengono a'Gesuiti, e soltanto in ossequio e rispetto all'arcivescovo erano stati mandati i PP. Baxter e Fenwick o, a meglio dire, erano stati prestati per qualche tempo. Allorquando il superiore per buone ragioni volle richiamare il P. Baxter (ancor giovine) da Richmond, l'arcivescovo vi si oppose con somma pena del detto superiore, che videsi esposto alla crudel necessità di mettersi al pericolo di perdere la confidenza d'un suo suddito, facendo nota quanto bastava parte de'motivi per cui doveva richiamare da Richmond a Georgetown il detto P. Baxter, e soltanto in seguito a questa notizia Monsig. Marechall consentì.

Per ciò che riguarda il P. Enoch Fenwick, l'arcivescovo fu quegli che insinuò qualmente poteva essere traslocato; ma poi, come non trovava un altro che gl'andasse a genio da sostituirgli, si mostrò ritroso, è vero, a dare il suo consenso; pure non si oppose alla di lui partenza.

Conclusioni.

§ 18. Da quanto è stato esposto risulta che Monsig. Arciv. di Baltimore non può pretendere da'gesuiti pensione alcuna, nè per titolo di diritto, nè per titolo d'equità. Non di diritto, perchè egli non può produrre il minimo documento o ragione che valga a mostrare dover egli partecipare de'beni, che in loro origine erano proprietà d'individui che certo non pensarano a futuri vescovi, ed ora sono legal proprietà d'una Corporazione riconosciuta dalle leggi civili, i cui membri violarebbero il loro giuramento, e i diritti della restabilita Compagnia di Gesù, se applicassero i redditi ad altri fuorchè a gesuiti, exgesuiti o membri della Corporazione; e Monsig. non è nè l'uno nè l'altro, sebbene i gesuiti lo riguardano come uno de'più benevoli protettori che abbiano. Non per titolo d'equità, altrimenti ogni prete, ogni vescovo potrebbe produrre lo stesso titolo con egual ragione di Monsig. di Baltimore, il quale è, o può essere provveduto al pari, e forse anche meglio d'ogni altro vescovo degli Stati Uniti (entro quest'anno stesso si officierà la cattedrale); e finalmente perchè a norma della vera equità s'hanno prima da pagare i debiti e non farne de'nuovi per dar pensioni a chi non ha alcun titolo da pretenderle, lasciando d'impiegare i redditi per gl'oggetti contemplati da quelli, che avevano il diritto di così disporre.

Le Roi d'Angleterre, pour recompenser les services du ch. George Calvert et surtout les decouvertes qu'il avoit fait sur les côtes du Canada et Newfoundland dans sa jeunesse et comme navigateur, le crea Lord de Balt<sup>e</sup> en Maryland [Ireland?], fit proprietaire de cette partie de la Virginie maintenant appelée Maryland.

Il envoya dans ce pays un officier qui le representait, et qui en son nom a vendu ou donné des terres aux emigrés catholiques.

Certes ! ce n'est pas en vertu du droit accordé par S. M. Britannique que les Jesuites ont acquis les terres qu'ils possèdent. Au contraire les loix de S. M. C. [B.] les poursuivoient alors a outrance. Et cela est si vrai que le Lord Baltimore, leur insigne bienfaiteur, prit une multitude de precaution[s] auparavant même d'admettre les Jésuites dans le pays qu'il avait obtenu. D'après la correspondance originale que j'ai dans les archives de mon archeveché, et qui eut lieu entre lui [et] le Superieur des Jesuites, il leur imposa plusieurs conditions, entr'autres, qu'il n'acheteroient point de terrains des Indiens ; qu'il ne publieroient jamais la Bulle In Coena Domini, etc., etc., etc. Et quand il fut convenu entr'eux des termes, le 1<sup>er</sup> Jesuite qui passa dans le Maryland n'y fut point comme missionnaire, mais comme un particulier sous le nom du chevalier Thomas Copley (Thomas Copley, Esquire). Ce fut lui qui reçut une lettre patente expédié au nom du L. Baltimore, par lequel il leur accorde 20,000 arpens de terre. Ce fait historique est consigné par tous les monumens du temps. Bien plus le chancelier du Maryland, l'honorable Kelty, a publié, il y a deux ans, un ouvrage extrêmement interessant, pour servir a l'Histoire de la Province et pour faire connoître les titres que les principale[s] familles du pays ont aux terres qu'il possède. Or ce celebre Magistrat rapporta en termes exprès que 20,000 arpens de terre ont été accordé au nom du Lord Baltimore au chevalier Thomas Copley.<sup>2</sup>

[U.] I loro beni da uno pericolo, etc., etc.
Per tanto il P. Giov. Carroll.<sup>3</sup>

Ce n'est point seulement le danger mentionné ici qui allarmoît les Jesuites. Ils s'étoient transmis par testament et autres contrats toutes les propriétés qu'ils possèdent pendant plus de 200 [!] sans en avoir perdu une seule. Le fait est que d'après les regles [qu'ils s'] étoient prescrites par la Société pour la transmission certaine de leur biens, il étoit presque de tout impossible qu'un Jesuite propriétaire mourut sans testament.

La vraie raison qui determina Mgr. Carroll fut : 1<sup>o</sup> de pourvoir au maintien des ministres de la religion catholique selon que le Card. Antonelli au nom de Pie VI. le demandoit avant de proceder a l'erection du siege de Baltimore ; 2<sup>o</sup> d'empêcher que des biens qui avoit été consacré par les donateurs pour le bien de l'Eglise, ne tombassent enfin entre des mains laïque[s] apres la mort des peu de Jesuites qui en etoient les depositaires et que la mort devoit bientôt tous eteindre.

The ex-Jesuit Corporation. Carroll wanted the Society's property for his see. His success.

Il est bien vrai que quelques Jesuites, doué[s] de pieté et de moderation, se reunirent a M<sup>r</sup>. Carroll ; mais la plus grande partie combattit pendant plusieurs années le plan de Mgr. Carroll. Et il a fallu qu'il fit usage de toute sa sagesse et sa prudence pour les determiner faire l'offrande solennelle de biens a l'Eglise du Maryland, devant le corps legislatif de cette province. ont fait des reglemens ; mais ces reglemens etant contraires a la lettre, a l'esprit et a la fin de la loi,<sup>7</sup> s'ils viennent jamais a être produits devant la Legislature, ces mêmes reglemens et tous les pretendus arguments renfermés dans la piece a la quelle je repons, seroient la cause certaine immediate d'une sentence aussi deshonorante pour les Jesuites qu'elle seroit terrible.

L'auteur dans une multitude d'endroits donne a entendre que ces reglemens sont connus et même sanctionnés par la Legislature. Cela n'est pas vrai ; ils ne sont connus que de tres peu de personnes entre ceux qui les ont faits et qui leurs ont succédé.

[IV.] Il corpo scelto.<sup>8</sup>

La loi permet generalement aux Corporat[ions] de prendre un nom quelconque, et cela est necessaire afin qu'en en parlant, surtout en traitant avec elles par écrit, il n'y a pas de danger de confondre et de prendre les unes pour les autres. Le nom dans ce cas est un pure signe de designation.

Mais les Jesuites ayant dessein d'esclure tous les ecclesiastiques du Maryland du droit qui leur est accordé par l'acte de la legislature, prirent le nom de Corpo Scelto ;<sup>9</sup> non simplement comme signe de designation, selon l'esprit et l'intention de la Legislature, mais comme un moyen propre a en imposer du moins aux ignorants de venir a leur fin.

The name,

Par une regle qu'ils fabriquerent entr'eux et qui est une infraction manifeste de la loi, ils statuerent qu' aucuns ecclesiastiques du Maryland ne seroient censé membre de la Corp[oration], excepté ceux qui seroient choisis a la majorité des voix ; et comme ils ont toujours eu soin des l'origine que le plus grand nombre de la Corporation fussent Jesuite par ce moyen la Corporation est EFFECTIVEMENT toute Jesuite, a l'exclusion de la grande majorité des ecclesiastiques de cette Province.

Il est interessant que la S. Cong[regation] ait une idee distincte de l'organisation interieure de cette Corporation, et certainement c'est une machine très adroitement organisée.

I° La première fois que conformément au decret du Maryland les ecclesiastiques s'assemblerent, eux qui composoient cette première assemblée, ainsi que je l'ai déjà remarquée, étoient presque tous Jesuites. La première regle qu'ils firent fut de decreter que ceux seulement presents et ceux qui seroient choisis dans la suite a la majorité des voix composeroient exclusivement la Corporation. D'après cette regle, il est evident que ce corps religieux politique devoit être Jesuite.

The Corporation. Two Chambers. Election of Trustees by joint votes. Jesuits everywhere.

II° Ils decretent que les membres de la Corporation choisiroient parmi eux un certain nombre qui seroient distribués en deux chambres, l'une appelée Senat, l'autre Chambre de Representatifs.<sup>10</sup> Ces deux chambres, il est evident, ne pouvoient être que Jesuites.

Enfin il fut réglé que ces deux chambres reunies choisiroient les Trustees, c'est a dire ceux qui devoient être les possesseurs legaux de tous les biens ecclesiastiques.

Ainsi, par cet arrangement, la Corporation étant Jesuite et la source veritable des toutes les autres branches de l'administration, il est clair qu'elles devoient finalement toutes être Jesuites, a l'exclusion entiere du reste du clergé du Maryland, contre la lettre et l'esprit de la loi.

[v.] Il xvi., etc.<sup>11</sup>

Ce reglement passa malgré l'opposition vigoureuse de Mgr. Carroll, aussi ni l'a-t-il jamais voulu reconnoître et signer, le regardant contre [comme] contraire a la loi et même a l'honnêteté naturelle.<sup>12</sup>

Marechal, see No. 168, A, 24°; Ibid., B, C, formula of the oath taken and signed by Carroll.*

Cf. No. 117, E, note 16. Though the legal oath of the Trustees to observe the Regulations has been repeatedly adduced above, in Nos. 116, D, and 118, Marechal does not allude to it here. In the fundamental document, No. 115, § 14, he had mentioned an oath as having been proposed, but he stated that Carroll "stoutly resisted this proposal;" and, in the next paragraph, § 15, he had alleged against the existence of such a sanction, the passage which he ascribed to Carroll, but which dates and documents

La Societé a été retablie dans mon Diocese non du temps du P<sup>e</sup> Brzozowski, mais du P. Gruber.<sup>13</sup> Mg<sup>r</sup> Carroll a-t-il écrit au premier pour avoir des sujets de Russie, c'est ce que je ne puis nier ni affirmer. Je n'en sais rien. Cela est très probable. Car alors le nombre de Jesuites etoient devenus très peu nombreux et il y a eu danger que ils ne fussent reduits à la necessité d'admettre dans la Corpor[ation], pour la conservation même de son existence, un nombre de pretres seculiers qui balançât par leur nombre celui des Jesuites. En appelant des Jesuites de Russie il le mettoient à couvert de danger.

L'épithete convenable est illegali, comme il sera aisé de la prouver, si jamais ces statuts viennent à la connoissance de la legislature du Maryland, et ont donné un jour son jugement. Il est très vrai que les plantations des Jesuites rendent des revenus peu proportionnés à leur valeur réelle.<sup>15</sup> C'est le cri general qu'ils sont extremement mal administrés. Mais leur masse de propriétés qu'elles forment c'est certainement très considerable. Outre les actions du Banque et autres contrats productifs qu'ils peuvent avoir, et dont je n'ai nulle connais[sance] ni ne pouvais avoir. Voici, autant que je peux m'en rappeler leur propriétés foncières. Plantations.

discredit as such (cf. No. 113, S, p. 377). In No. 119, [III.] Marechal touches the matter remotely by referring to "some" Trustees of Corporations "even taking an oath before a Magistrate to observe their regulations," as if the Trustees of the Jesuit Corporation did not do so. Somewhat later, Rozaven and the General (No. 121, B, D; 18 May, 1822) elicit an answer on the subject of the oath taken by the Trustees of the Jesuit Corporation. Marechal replies by representing the oath as illegitimate; and "Mgr. Carroll steadily refused to take it" (No. 121, E, 2<sup>e</sup>). But, in the following year, Charles Neale brought up the oath again in his first and second replies to Marechal (Nos. 124, B; 126, A), and he added in the latter, that Archbishops Carroll and Neale had both taken the prescribed oath, and religiously observed it (No. 126, A, 6to). Then Marechal, addressing the Cardinals, informs them that the Jesuit Trustees take "a double oath," to wit, "one public, the other private," the first "just," the second a perjury, as being "opposed to the Act of the Maryland Assembly and to the oath which they publicly take before the Magistrates." See Nos. 126, B, (5)-(7); 129, A, 4<sup>e</sup>. Cf. No. 116, D, note 23.

[VII.] [1°] Vari Preti.<sup>16</sup>

Les Jesuites après le decret du Maryland voyant qu'ils ne pouvoient, faute de sujets de desservir différentes missions dependentes de celles où sont leur grandes propriétés sur lesquelles ils vivent, resolurent, a la priere de Mgr. Carroll, a recevoir des prêtres seculiers pour prendre soin de ces Missions.<sup>(b)</sup>

Secular priests
missions.

En consequence des representations de Mgr. Carroll il fut convenu qu'ils pourvoyeroient a leur entretien. Et vraiment on se bornerent au pure necessaire. Le perspect[ive] de ces prêtres seculiers meme d'apres cet arr[angement] etoit certainement très triste, parcequ'il y avoient entr'eux et les Jésuites, avec lesquels ils travailloient, cette immense difference, que ceux cy avoient la certitude dans leur vieillesse et a le cas d'infirmités durable, d'être pourvu et soignés, tandis que ce pauvres prêtres secul[iers], après s'être epuisé dans les travaux des missions, n'avoient nullement cette consolation et cette esperance. Delà vient que les arch[evêques], tandis même que cet arrangement a eu lieu, ont toujours eu une grande difficulté a persuader aux prêtres seculiers d'accepter de semblables posts chez les Jesuites. Plusieurs jeunes ecclesiast[iques] avant de les ordonner m'ont prié de ne les jamais envoyer dans les missions des Jesuites. J'en ai même perdu plusieurs qui se sont attachés a d'autres dioceses dans la crainte que je n'exigessent d'eux d'aller travailler avec les Peres.<sup>17</sup>

Mais il est bien autrement maintenant, et je crains beaucoup que l'autre [l'auteur ?] n'est tres vol[ontiers] avancé des faussetés. Car sa composition prouve evidemment qu'il est instruit des faits les plus recens.

Or comment a-t-il pu dire : — — — [referring to same passage, No. 118, § 6, 1°] : car il sait fort bien que le R. Kenny qui, il y a quelques années, est passé dans le Maryland en qualité de visiteur, a même enlevé aux prêtres seculi[ers] qui travaillent dans les missions des jesuites l'entretien très mediocre qu'ils avoient jusqu' alors reçu d'eux. Dans une assemblée tenue sur leur ferme de St. Thomas pres Portobacco, il fit decreter que les prêtres seculiers auroient dans la suite a se procurer.<sup>18</sup>

(b) The following paragraph deleted: Il fut convenu que ces Prêtres seculiers seroient nouris et recevraient 80 piastres pour leur habillement. Il eut été trop ouvertement scandaleux que les J. [Jesuites] eussent retenus les grandes propriétés sans donner au moins la nourriture et le vêtement a des prêtres seculiers, qui remplissoient les fonctions penibles des miss[i]ons attachées a leurs propriétés. D'après cet arrangement on peut dire que les prêtres seculiers avoient l'absolu necessaire; et si les Jesuites eussent prendré l'obligation de les maint[enir] dans la vieillesse et dans leurs infirmités.

Les Jesuites ont sans doute contribué a l'edifice de ce college. Mais pourquoi passe-t-il sous silence les autres contributions? Et pour parler de chose certainement a ma connoiss[ance] et que la S. Les Jesuites avoient le titre legal a cette plantation, mais elle les leur avoit été confiée non pour le College mais pour la mission ou cong[regation] de Frederick town. Voici comme je suis parvenu a la connoissance de cette transaction.

En faisant la visite de mon diocese j'entendis parler des cath[oliques] se plaindre de cette vente comme d'une violation de fideicommiss par les Jes[uites]. Voici un point de bien grande importance et que je me trouve malheureusement obligé d'éclaircir.

Plusieurs Jesuites, à la tête des quels se trouvoient deux qui avoient le plus d'influence, formerent le plan de s'emparer des eglises qui existent dans la ville capitale de Washington et même dans tout le district de Columbia.<sup>25</sup>

The Jesuits in Washington; and William Matthews.

Leur premier pas fut de tacher d'obtenir la principale paroisse de Washington qui est près du centre de cette capitale et qui a déjà plus de 2000 piastres de revenus.<sup>26</sup>

Pour parvenir à leur fin, ils commencerent à cajoler le curé de cette paroisse nommé Wm. Matthews un de leurs amis et de leurs élèves.<sup>27</sup> Ils lui representèrent que sa paroisse étoit très consid[érable] et, qu'étant seul, il ne pouvoit pas l'administrer sans de grandes fatigues; et, comme il avoit acheté du terrain autour de l'église et du presbyterie dont j'ai le titre civil, ils lui persuaderent de leur permettre de bâtir tout à côté du sanct[uaire] une grande maison pour leurs novices. Ils promettoient de le secourir en célébrant le dimanche la S<sup>te</sup> Messe, en prêchant

<sup>23</sup> The article stands differently in the will of Archbishop Carroll: £400 sterling (not deposited in any English bank) are left to Father John Grassi, President of Georgetown College; and he may either use the interest as a perpetual fund for the library, or he may dispose of the capital itself or any part of it, if he can employ it advantageously in the purchase of valuable works of real learning and utility, suitable to the course of studies pursued in the College. (Md.-N. Y. Province Archives, H, 152°; a copy.—American Catholic Historical Researches, viii, 52.)

The origin of this fund is probably the same as that of so many others, that is to say, the beneficence of ex-Jesuits, or of Jesuits distributing their property before profession in the Order. Thus, writing to Strickland, 2 April 1808, Carroll says of Lawson, S.J.: P.S.—The late Rev. Mr. Ths. Lawson had given me to understand that in his will he had devised to me, for a particular object, 4 p.c. Stock to the amount of £400. But, not having heard of it since his death, I presume that he changed his will. Then, in the same year, 3 Dec., 1808, he answers a letter of Strickland's, dated 11 June, and says: Your first letter, by which you announced the death and legacy of our highly respected friend, Mr. Thomas Lawson, has never been received; and I now find that he has executed his promise, made in his letter of April 6, 1794 [Lawson being then an ex-Jesuit], and even gone beyond it by £100. Carroll quotes Lawson's letter. (English Province Archives, portfolio 6, ff. 83<sup>v</sup>, 86; Carroll to Strickland, 2 April, 3 Dec., 1808.)

<sup>25</sup> Cf. No. 178, Y<sup>2</sup>, Carroll, 31 Mar., 1815, to Grassi: I have had no time to settle my own opinion of the stations to be assigned permanently to the spiritual care of members of the Society, or of the manner of doing it. Those congregations will naturally be attributed to them which are convenient to their estates; likewise the College of G.T., the city of Washington, Alexandria, Frederic Town, and others, such as Norfolk and Richmond.

et en faisant les catechismes. Mr. Wm. Mathews quoique d'ailleurs très intelligent y fut pris. Il eut meme la simplicité de faire son testament en leur faveur. Il leur accorda l'emplacement necessaire; et une belle maison, qui a couté 12 ou 13,000 piastres, fut élevé.

Il parut fort extraordinaire au public que les Jesuites bâtissent une maison au centre de la ville et dans un endroit peu propre au recuilement,<sup>28</sup> et cela pour y transferer leurs novices, qui étoient bien mieux dans un grand bâtiment du college de George Town, et qui en est séparé. Le but de ce nouvel edifice devint un probleme a resoudre.<sup>(c)</sup>

La maison étant une fois batie les auteurs de cette entreprise voulurent qu'on y transf[er]e les novices; mais le P. Kollmann, homme de pieté et de bon sens, qui alors étoit maitre des novices, regardant cet emplacement comme peu propre a un noviciat, s'y opposa et passa a W[hite] M[arsh] avec les novices; ainsi, la nouv[elle] maison n'étant point occupée, les Jesuites alors la louerent a un maitre de pension, Ironside.

Mr. Wm. Mathews, voyant que les Jesuites ne venoit point a son secours comme ils l'a lui avait promis, commença a se disputer avec eux, disant qu'il ne leur avait cédé son terrain qu'a cette condition, et il detruisit son testament.

Alors le P. Kollmann fut exposé au feu des Jesuites de la Corporation,<sup>(d)</sup> qui voyoient apparemment que leur grand plan qu'ils avoient conçu de s'emparer de toutes paroisses du District ne vint echouer; et, pour pastorales. Mais ce dernier, s'étant apperçu que la plan des Jesuites étoit de s'emparer de son eglise, refusa les services qui lui étoient offerts.

Bien plus,<sup>(e)</sup> pour en rendre a jamais l'exécution de leur plan impossible, il se mit a faire batir un beau presbytere au lieu de la petite maisonnette dans laquelle il avoit jusqu'alors habité. Je le vis l'année derniere a Wash<sup>a</sup>; je le trouvai très échauffé contre les Jésuites aux quels il n'épargnoient pas des epithetes très [peu?] honorables. Il me dit qu'il ne vouloit point absolu[ment] de leur service et que pour s'en passer il avoit construire a ses propres [frais] un vast presbytere afin de pouvoir y loger un ou deux vicaires. Et il me pria de lui en donner au moins.

Je n'avois malheureusement alors aucun prêtre seculier que je puisse lui offrir. Je lui observa[i] que dans peu de temps je devois ordonner un jeune Jesuite français de naissance nommé Dubuisson, que s'il y consentait je le lui donnerai pour vicaire. Je lui representai pour calmer ses craintes que ce jeune religieux étant par son office dans un état de dépendance de lui, il n'avoit pas un raisonnable sujet de crainte, qu'il s'empara de son eglise. Il consentit à mon offre, l'unique en vérité que je puisse lui faire. Ayant eu son agrément, je commençai à traiter avec le P. Kohlmann alors Superieur Provincial. Celui me dit qu'il accorderoit le jeune Pere Dubuisson, a condition qu'il lui donneroit par an 500 piastres de revenu, la moitié ou tiers des quêtes et autre jura stolae. A cet arrangement Mr. Mathews m'objecta la valeur du terrain qu'il avoit donné à ses conditions. Mais je reussis a lui persuader de payer 500 au P. Dubuisson et je le nommai son vicaire ; office qu'il rempli maintenant.<sup>29</sup>

<sup>29</sup> As to the "conditions," which are here alleged to have been imposed by Father Kohlmann, Superior of the Mission, but which in the next sentence Marechal implies were not acted upon, compare the tenor of the following documents. Kohlmann, no longer Superior of the Mission, but only of the new Washington Seminary, writes to the General, Father Fortis, 5 Dec., 1821, urging the suppression of Georgetown as a boarding-college, and showing how it might be supported as a scholasticate of theology and philosophy for the young Jesuits ; while the city Seminary might supplant Georgetown, but only as a day-college for externs. He sketches the means of subsistence. Among those for the Georgetown scholasticate : 2º ex proventu ecclesiae ad Trinitatem [Georgetown] $1000 annuatim. As to Washington Seminary : Haec domus, si quidem studia complectatur ad Rhetoricam vel Philosophiam usque, certo certius 100 studiosos numerabit, qui solvent ad minus per annum $3500 [depreciated currency?], quibus si addas salarium Patris Dubuisson operarii in ecclesia—circiter $4000. (General Archives S.J., Maryl. Epist., 2, iv.). On the 19 Feb., 1822, Father Kohlmann writes again, insisting on the necessity of the American Jesuits being allowed to receive from boarding-college students a pension, which should exceed the bare cost of maintenance, inasmuch as the faculty had to be supported and the scholasticate to be maintained as a seminary for the faculty ; and, with respect to day-scholars, he argues that a minervate or payment for tuition might be admitted, since in the circumstances of America, with colleges not endowed and with a public accustomed to pay for tuition, no other line of conduct seemed possible, and this was quite normal. He adverts to the action of the late General, Father Thaddeus Brzozowski, who had accepted of a dispensation from his Holiness, that Jesuits might receive stipends for Masses, the usual perquisites for sacred functions and annual pensions or salaries : missarum stipendia, jura stolae, ac pensiones annuas seu salaria ; and he alludes to the actual practice of some Jesuit pastors who, in administering the parishes on their poverty-stricken farms in Maryland, not only allow but even exact a certain contribution from the faithful : certam pecuniae summam, non modo admittunt sed etiam exigunt. (Ibid., 2. v.)—(Supra, No. 118, § 7, the contrary is affirmed as to pew-rents.)

The Father General submitted these two letters to his four Assistants, writing an autograph note to the effect that each should give his opinion in writing. We have the four written opinions ; and one of them (that of Father Vincent Zauli, Assistant for Italy?) is anything but complimentary. He refers to Father Dubuisson's "salary"—

"Ad primam epistolam P. Kohlmann, 5 Dec., 1821 . . . ¶ Dum agitur de sustentatione nostrorum in Seminario afferuntur mille ex proventibus Parochiae ad SS. Trinitatem [Georgetown], et praeterea salarium Patris Dubuisson operarii in ecclesia. Dum haec audio tinnunt aures. Quid sunt hi proventus, quid hoc salarium ? Equidem in Gallicia aliqui ex nostris coguntur parvas administrare : verum ad eorum sustentationem assignatur, ni fallor, portio ex ea summa, quae a gubernio constituta fuit ad universae Societatis ibi commorantis sustentationem, quae se habet loco praediorum sive fundi ; unde dici poterit, quod homines illi alantur ex fundo Societati constituto. His tamen non obstantibus, audivimus aliquos ex nostris illic degentibus de ea re scrupulis angī, tanquam legibus nostris adversante. Verum socios Americanos istiusmodi scrupulis non esse obnoxios magis patebit ex infra dicendis. Optarem ergo intelligere quid sint illi proventus, quid salarium illud constitutum in ecclesia.

"Ad secundam epistolam, 19 Feb., 1822. Profecto haec me fere ad desperationem egit. . . ." (Ibid., 2, v.)

The principles and practice of the Society being perfectly well known to the Cardinals of the Propaganda, the tendency of Marechal's account here is obvious.

La construction de la belle maison des Jesuites a W[ashington] me firent bien croire, comme a beaucoup d'autre, que leur plan n'etoit pas simplement de former un novitiat. Ce qui me le devoila d'une maniere manifeste c'est un écrit passé entre le P. Grassi Supérieur Provincial et Mgr. Neale mon predecesseur et dont le P. Kohlmann m'envoya copie.

Avant son depart pour l'Europe le P. Grassi travailla Mgr. Neale pour donner a la Compagnie, sous le titre du missions, un certain nombre de paroisses. Ce Pere reprit adroitement le ven. viellard <sup>(f)</sup> qu'en donnant a la Compagnie ces paroisses il se delivroit de beaucoup soins, et que d'ailleurs cela empecheroit le conf[li]t de jurisdiction qu'a quelques fois lieu entre les eveques et les superieurs des ordres reguliers. Seduit par ces raisons, Mgr. Neale signa une liste de missions dressée par le P. Grassi et qu'il declara donner aux Jesuites. Or dans cette liste se trouvent, non seulement la ville cap[itale] de Washington, mais ce qu'il y a de plus toutes les petites villes qui l'entourent, savoir Alexandria, Georgetown — — — Montgomery, Queen Chapel tout a côté de Bladensburg, etc., etc., etc.

Jamais je n'ai été plus surpris qu'en voyant cette liste. Elle contient plus de la moitié des paroisses [de] mon diocese.<sup>(g)</sup> Cependant les craintes a la vue de cette liste s'évanouir en observant que cette écrit estoit passé entre le P. Grassi e mon ven. predecesseur, sans lier leur successeurs respectifs.<sup>30</sup> La Divine Providence a heureusement detruit ce plan si vaste, si inconcevable et si ouvertem[ent] subversif du siege de Baltimore, 1<sup>o</sup> par la dispute qui s'est elevee entre Mr. W<sup>m</sup> Mathews curé de Wash[ington] et les Jesuites et qu'il regardoit dans l'origine comme un instrument a leur disposition — 2<sup>o</sup> par la Mgr. As to the opinion of W. Matthews himself, on the validity and permanency of the contract, which included expressly his own church : St. Patrick's Church in Washington City, compare the opinion, given by him as member of a select committee of two on the Constitution of the Select Body (1817). Appointed with Enoch Fenwick, to define for the Representatives the meaning of the 17th. Regulation : That, where a manager is wanting to an estate, the Trustees [not the Representatives], after advising with the Bishop and obtaining his approbation, shall have the appointment (No. 163, A, 17<sup>e</sup>), he and E. Fenwick were of opinion, that the advising with and obtaining the approbation of the Bishop, as mentioned, was in point of spiritual jurisdiction ; and, as the late Most Rev. Archbishop [L. Neale] has ceded to the existing Superior the spiritual jurisdiction of the said estates, that the Superior of said Society be henceforward substituted for the Bishop. It was by the above Representatives resolved and agreed, that the above explanation and meaning of 17th. article of the Constitution be admitted. And so the Matthews—E. Fenwick interpretation passed into the minutes of the Corporation (16 Oct., 1817 ; 12<sup>e</sup>). See No. 180, N, 12<sup>e</sup> Thus, in virtue of the spiritual jurisdiction being expressly ceded by the Ordinary to the Superior, it was inferred that joint action in the appointment to temporal management was also superseded. The opinion of Matthews clearly implied the execution and perpetuity of the contract. Cf. No. 135, B, note 48.

1. Maryland Jesuits to be ordained only by Bishop of Baltimore.

2<sup>a</sup> Utrum juniores Jesuitae nati in dioecesi Baltimorensi ac educati expensis bonorum cleri Marylandiensis licite possunt, cum semel ad presbyteratus ordinem promoti fuerint, a superiore Provinciali extra dioecesim Baltimorensensem mitti sine praevia licentia archiepiscopi Baltimorensis.

2. Maryland Jesuits to be kept in service of Baltimore see; otherwise useless.

N.B. Haec quaestio est maximi momenti; cum etenim Jesuitae inducant juvenes ut Societati suae se uniant, evidens est perplures, qui alioquin fuissent valde utiles nostris missionibus, si sacerdotes saeculares remansissent, nostrae dioecesi evasuros fore prorsus inutiles; quod quidem est maximum detrimentum in regionibus ubi tanta est penuria missionariorum.

3<sup>a</sup> Utrum Jesuitae in Marylandia possunt licite vendere bona immobilia cleri Marylandiensis, quorum administrationem habent, atque eorum pretium contra tum primitivam intentionem piorum donatorum, tum litteram ac spiritum decreti legislaturae Marylandiensis transmittere extra dioecesim nostram, aut illorum bonorum redditus applicare finibus bono dioeceseos prorsus extraneis.

3. Jesuit property to be kept for the use of the Baltimore see; excluding Philadelphia and New York. Repetition of claims.

<sup>4</sup> For notions of the jus patronatus, true or false, cf. Nos. 121, A, II., note 4; 200, Robert Plowden's view; 219, (Bishop Dubourg's ? view). For the jus patronatus over their own property, as seen in operation, exercised by the Jesuits, and recognized in fact as well as over his signature by Archbishop Carroll, see passim infra: Nos. 168, A, 17<sup>o</sup>; 173, E, M; 175, N, 12<sup>o</sup>; 176, G, 5<sup>o</sup>, 6<sup>o</sup>; 178, T; 179, L, N, 6<sup>o</sup>; 180, N, 12<sup>o</sup>. Cf. No. 180, A, note 4. Carroll affirms the same principle, as a right of the Society in the diocese of Philadelphia. See No. 178, Z. This jus patronatus, as Marechal calls it, was recognized in practice by himself, ex. gr. when offering an assistant to the Jesuits at Frederickstown (cf. No. 135, E), or when offering a priest with the concurrence of Father Kohlmann, Superior, for service with the Jesuits in the lower counties of Maryland (No. 191; Marechal, 17 Mar., 1820, to Francis Neale).

BREVES RESPONSIONES

difficultatibus quae forsitan objici possunt contra remedia proposita ab archiepiscopo Baltimorensi, ad avertendas praecipuas calamitates quibus nunc premitur ecclesia catholica in Foederatis Americae Statibus.

I.

Contra facilem nimis introductionem impiorum sacerdotum ex Hibernia.

Remedium:—Epistola encyclica ad Hiberniae episcopos cujus substantia reperitur in foliis jam Sacrae Congregationi praestitis.

Obj.— Illud remedium est novum ac periculosum.

Resp<sup>o</sup> Multi vagabundi Hiberni sacerdotes, versus medium saeculi proxime elapsi, in Angliam migrabant atque omnia miscebant tumultibus. Huic gravi malo finem efficaciter imposuit Benedictus XIV. anno 1755, bulla Apostolicum Ministerium, in qua sapientissimus ille S. Pontifex jubet Hibernos sacerdotes in sua patria remanere, nec unquam in Angliam se conferre, nisi prius invitentur a Vicariis hujus regni Apostolicis.<sup>1</sup> Jam vero remedium ab

Against Irish priests: the Bull of Benedict XIV.

<sup>1</sup> In the Apostolic Letter of Benedict XIV, Apostolicum Ministerium, 30 May, 1753, there is nothing which implies either the description given here of Irish priests, or the statements about their being excluded from England unless invited. The only description of Irish priests as given by the Pope, is that contained in the words cum ad sustinendam insulae ejusdem [Hiberniae] missionem deputentur, and plurimi sapientesque; the Apostolic Missionaries there being deputed for Ireland and not for England, a great number of them being needed in Ireland itself, and their character of high qualifications. The statement then made by the Pope is that, such being the needs of Ireland, the "aforesaid Irish priests" should then only be incorporated in the English clergy, missionariis Anglis tunc solum cooptentur, when the latter, for want of numbers, proves unequal to its own task, and the English Vicars Apostolic desire and invite the former:

§ 3. Regulares idonei in Angliam mittantur ad certa dumtaxat officia exercenda; et ex iis tantum Ordinibus, qui propriae nationis coenobium in catholicis regionibus habent. Then the Pontiff proceeds in these words: Enim vero cum Hiberni sacerdotes ad sustinendam insulae ejusdem [Hiberniae] missionem deputentur, quae plurimos sapientesque expetit operarios; cumque in Anglia permulti sint sacerdotes indigenae tam saeculares quam regulares; consentaneum esse arbitramur, si iidem ipsa in patria labores suos potissimum impendant, et praedicti Hiberni sacerdotes missionariis Anglis tunc solum cooptentur, cum horum paucitas id exigere videatur; ideoque a Vicariis Apostolicis Anglis ad missionem exoptentur et evocentur. (Bullarium Benedicti XIV.; 30 May, 1753.)

The same Apostolic Letter is quoted by Marechal. supra, No. 115, § 7, on his claim to jurisdiction over the Maryland Jesuits, is reconsidered by (Grassi?), No. 118, § 15, Contra illimitatam civilem auctoritatem quam fideles aliquando committunt laicis administratoribus in ipsasmet ecclesias ac bona eis annexa.

Remedium :—Americani episcopi saltem moneantur nullum concedere sacerdotem ecclesiis in futurum aedificandis, nisi fideles limitent civilem auctoritatem, quam laicis administratoribus committunt, adeo ut isti ea abuti nequeant in destructionem religionis.

Obj.— Hoc remedium forsitan laedit leges reipublicae Americanae, ac timendum est ne multiplicet calamitates quibus occurrere volumus.

Resp.<sup>o</sup> Juxta leges nostrae reipublicae quilibet civis, committens alicuius boni temporalis, permittitur pro nutu suo illis concedere in hoc bonum vel illimitatam, vel limitatam auctoritatem.

Verum Americani nostri rarissime suis administratoribus auctoritatem illimitatam concedunt. Quamvis viri quos seligunt sint probitate ac religione insignes, attamen fere semper quibusdam positivis civilibus limitibus circumscribunt potestatem quam ipsis in bona sua transmittunt.

Igitur catholici fideles possunt, sine ulla quacumque infractione legum reipublicae, concedere ecclesiarum temporalibus administratoribus illimitatam, limitatamve auctoritatem.

Atque cum fatali nimis experientia abunde constet quod laici administratores bonorum ecclesiasticorum, vestiti semel auctoritate illimitata,

<sup>2</sup> As to the opening of this question, regarding Irish priests and America, cf. letter of Card. Consalvi, 25 May, 1822, to Mgr. Marechal, then in Rome. Inquiries are made under ten heads; one being about wandering priests. The same Cardinal writes to Marechal, 20 July, 1822, speaking among other things of an advice which shall be given to Irish bishops, that they be on their guard lest priests of dubious character wander over to America. (Georgetown College Transcripts, Shea's abstracts, 1822.—English College Archives, Rome, Gradwell Collections, Letters from Baltimore and Quebec, f. 58; Consalvi, 20 July, 1822, to Marechal; copy in Marechal's hand.)

In the same letter of Card. Consalvi to Marechal, another matter concerning another episcopate is decided. The latter desired to superintend the appointment of bishops in North America. Consalvi informed him that, though the Archbishop of Baltimore was to be consulted in such matters, no decree was made to that effect. Hence later, 16 Dec., 1826, a complaint of his on this subject of superintendence, to which he was always reverting, was met by Card. Capellari with the observation that, in the appointment of a bishop for New York, the Propaganda had merely followed its decree of 3 June, 1822. (English College Archives, ibid., passim.—Georgetown College Transcripts, Shea's abstracts, 1825–1830: Capellari, 16 Dec., 1826, to Marechal.) ea abutantur in subversionem religionis, certe quidem episcopi merito possunt fidelibus denegare sacerdotes, quamdiu renuent suorum administratorum auctoritatem circumscribere, et eos obligare civili contractu ad observationem legum quibus ecclesia catholica regitur.

Dixi ecclesiis in futurum aedificandis. Quoad enim ecclesias jam aedificatas, et in quas laici administratores jam pridem illimitatam civilem auctoritatem exercent, potest quidem episcopus pro sua prudentia suadere fidelibus ut hanc auctoritatem jam concessam partim revocent aut saltem circumscribant. Verum ad id eos durioribus mediis cogere imprudens foret. Exemplum praeclarum prudentiae in hac negotiatione agenda exhibet omnibus ecclesiis provinciae cathedralis ecclesia Baltimorensis.

Videlicet ven. meus praedecessor DD. Carroll incaute permiserat fidelibus Baltimorensibus ut ecclesiae cathedralis temporalibus administratoribus concederent illimitatam civilem auctoritatem.

Verum ego merito timens ne cathedralis ecclesia aliquando agitaretur iisdem tumultibus ac scandalis quibus nunc agitantur ecclesiae Philadelphiensis et Neoboracensis, antequam ad consecrationem meae cathedralis procederem, ipsosmet ejus temporales administratores coram me convocavi atque eos adhortatus sum ut sponte consentirent circumscribere auctoritatem civilem qua potiebantur; ne ipsorum successores, spretis canonibus ecclesiae, ea abuterentur. Meis observationibus lubentissime annuerunt, et ipsimet proprio motu contractu civili, qui vim habet coram civilibus tribunalibus, suam suorumque successorum auctoritatem limitarunt.<sup>3</sup> Quin imo, ut hic contractus vim perpetuam haberet, sponte adierunt legislaturam Marylandensem, quae ipsorum votis annuens illum suprema sua auctoritate firmavit.<sup>4</sup>

<sup>4</sup> On the basis of this representation, and following the lines traced by the Archbishop of Baltimore, the Sacred Congregation, 27 July, 1822, formulated a decree on the manner of treating lay-trusteeism. It is addressed to R. P. D. Ambrosio Marechal, Archiepiscopo Baltimorensi; and is signed: H. Card. Consalvi; C. M. Pedicini, Secretarius. (Md.-N. Y. Province Archives; a copy attested by Father Beschter, 17 Feb., 1823; taken from Marechal's own. Cf. text, Juris Pontificii de Propaganda Fide, Pars Prima (R. de Martinis, 1891), iv., 621, 622, note, giving this Instruction in connection with the Apostolic Letter to the American bishops, 24 Aug., 1822, on lay-trusteeism.)

In its first half the decree provides for the case of churches already built, and placed under the control of Lay-Trustees, as an accomplished fact. The provisions are those of moral persuasion, as sketched by Marechal. Then it proceeds to churches which shall be built in future, and considers two cases: (1) when the faithful build a church and hand it over, with its property annexed, to the Ordinary; (2) when, building a church, they still prefer to put such sacred property in the hands and subject to the temporal administration of Lay-Trustees. In the first case, they are to declare by a legal instrument that, in consigning the property to the Ordinary, it is only in trust and for the use of the church so built, sese ea sacra bona fiducialiter tantum ac pro usu exstructae ecclesiae committere Episcopo loci nominando; and, to fulfil this trust, the Ordinary is to make two wills, one of which he shall keep among his papers, the other he must deposit with a person strictly reliable; so that the bishop's heirs quae existit inter patres Societatis Jesu et archiepiscopum Baltimoremensem.

Omnino fidens summae justitiae ac aequitati Sacrae Congregationis archiepiscopus Baltimorensis ad eam confugit, ut bona temporalia suae may not be able to appropriate what was only entrusted to his administration, ut si forte contigerit exemplum ab Episcopo retentum deperdi vel occultari nequeant illius haereditas ecclesiae bona sibi vindicare. In the second case, when the faithful still employ Lay-Trustees, the Ordinary is to take every means that limitations be put to the authority of the said officials—the same, which for churches already built and in the hands of Lay-Trustees can now be obtained only by moral persuasion. Should the faithful decline to yield in this point, and prefer that their Lay-Trustees have unlimited control, then, if they cannot be dissuaded, he will be allowed to refuse his blessing or dedication of the church for sacred uses, and also to decline assigning them a pastor: Quod si illi in sua perveracia permanserint, licebit Praesuli novae ecclesiae benedictionem denegare, nullumque iis tanquam ecclesiasticarum legum contemptoribus pastorem praeficere. Cf. Concilii Plenarii Baltimorensis II. Acta et Decreta, Nos. 191, 204; Conc. Plen. Balt. III., No. 269.

As to the first part of these provisions, requiring the Ordinary to hold the property only in trust for the sacred purposes intended by the faithful benefactors and beneficiaries, it will be seen, infra, No. 139, A, Postscriptum, that Archbishop Marechal, addressing the Propaganda, 26 Nov., 1826, quoted this decree against the Jesuits, citing only the seven words: fiduciale [fiducialiter] tantum et pro usu extractae ecclesiae, etc., etc., etc. He denounced the Jesuits for not conforming to the decree. He implied that it inhibited them from receiving property, as members and in the name of a Regular Order; that sacred property could be accepted by such a religious body only as if it were a substitute for the Ordinary of the diocese, receiving in trust as if it were himself that was appointed trustee. The precise issue involved was that of Upper Marlborough, Md., where a church had been built by the faithful and deeded in fee simple to the Jesuits. See Nos. 135, O, P; 139, note 4.

As to the second part of the provisions, regarding the case of a recalcitrant congregation which should insist on Lay-Trustees being invested with an absolute control of the property, Marechal refused to dedicate the church at Upper Marlborough, conveying a new implication that, in accordance with these provisions, a Religious Order possessing sacred property in its own right, at least if the care of souls was attached thereto, was but a body of Lay-Trustees. See ibid.

Thus for "Ordinary" he substituted "Jesuits" in the first place; and for "Lay Trustees" he read "Jesuits" in the second. In other documents (Nos. 120, 5<sup>a</sup>; 130, A, 2<sup>a</sup>), speaking of the sacred uses to which the Jesuits put their own property in Maryland, he refers to their title as a jus patronatus—a title, he says, "unheard of" and inadmissible. See No. 120, 5<sup>a</sup>. At the same time, he expressly likens Jesuit proprietors to Lay-Trustees. Cf. infra, No. 130, 2<sup>a</sup>.

For Bishop Carroll's view, exactly contrary to Marechal's assertion, that the jus patronatus was unheard of in America, cf. infra, No. 178, T; where Carroll devises a formula (an autograph draft) for instituting a jus patronatus either in a bishop or in a society, and that over property to which the care of souls is attached. This undated formula, however, may have been drawn up at a time when he had not yet experienced the evils of lay-trusteeism. For Carroll's own practice and administration, in harmony with the jus patronatus, which he recognized as vested in the Jesuit proprietors, see infra, passim, as quoted, No. 120, 5<sup>a</sup>, note 4.

The issue did not close with the life of Archbishop Marechal; not, however, on the supposition of a Religious Order being a substitute for the Ordinary of a diocese or being a body of Lay-Trustees, but on the ground of its being able to possess in its own right. It was held that sacred property, to acquire which the faithful had contributed the means for the service of the parish or mission, should be held by regulars in charge of it, only as other diocesan property was held, and not in the name of the Order or Religious Congregation. A decree was formulated to this effect in the Third Plenary Council of Baltimore (1884). It was disallowed in Rome, but with permission to reopen the question in a future Plenary Council. Conc. Plen. Balt. III. Acta, viii, p. lxvii. Cf. infra, No. 130, C, V., p. 517, the Provincial Synod of Baltimore, 1829.

sedis ipsius supremo iudicio protegerentur contra manifeste injustam patrum restauratae Societatis eorum invasionem.

Nunc autem vel S. Congregatio sententiam pronuntiabit in favorem archiepiscopi vel Jesuitarum. Certe maximi momenti est attendere ad consequentias quae ex hac sententia, quaecumque sit, manabunt.

The "manifestly unjust invasion" of Jesuits on diocesan goods. Alternatives. Repetitions.

2<sup>o</sup> Si contra (quod ex evidenti jure archiepiscopi Baltimorensis improbabile omnino est) Sacra Congregatio proferat sententiam Jesuitis patrocinantem, tum sedes Baltimorensis spoliabitur redditibus qui ipsi annexi fuerant, tum negotiationibus Card. Antonelli et ven. mei praecessoris DD. Carroll, tum suprema lege reipublicae Marylandensis, tum denique contractu inito inter ven. DD. Carroll et D. Robertum Molineux primum restauratae Societatis in nostris regionibus superiorem Provincialem.

His positis,

Notae.

1<sup>o</sup> Actus legislaturae apud nos idem sonat ac suprema lex. Ex natura sua est permanens et perpetua.

<sup>5</sup> What Marechal means here and in many other places by "the Legislature of Maryland" and the "justice of the Senate of Maryland," must be a Maryland court of justice, or court of law; as he had intimated expressly to Father Leonard Edelen, secretary of the Corporation, 30 April, 1820: But I may assure you, Rev. and Dear Sir, that, if ever I be unfortunately compelled to institute a law suit against the Corporation, etc. (infra, No. 181, E). To the Cardinals in Rome he never alludes to a law suit in a secular court, instituted by an archbishop against priests, but invariably mentions "the Senate of Maryland," etc., as here. This seemed to signify the Government, and had an elevated connotation; nor is it likely that the Cardinals knew the limited powers in America of a merely legislative branch, which could not sit as a court of justice on the execution of its laws or on the contentious interpretation of a charter.

In point of fact, within six months after this passage was written for the Propaganda, there was a suit at law, which served as a test case covering the issues mentioned here in the text. See supra, No. 87, O. It was about the proceeds of a Deer Creek sale, made originally by Archbishop Carroll in the name of the Corporation; it was instituted by the Corporation against Daniel Brent, as executor of the "venerable predecessor," Archbishop Carroll, whose rights Marechal claimed; and it was decided by the Court against Carroll's executor, in favour of the Corporation. This issue had all the elements of a test case, covering Marechal's claims and arguments. 1<sup>o</sup> It was about the property of one of those estates, which, according to Marechal, had been assigned by "the decree of the Senate of Maryland" to the service of the general clergy of Maryland, whereof the Archbishop of Baltimore was a pars et quidem insignis, "a distinguished member" (No. 116, C, 2<sup>o</sup>). 2<sup>o</sup> The estate in question was one of those which, according to Marechal, were pledged, under the Carroll-Molyneux agreement, to provide the archiepiscopal mensa of Baltimore with "perpetual revenues" (ibid. and passim). 3<sup>o</sup> The proceeds in question were such as Marechal's predecessor actually had in his hands at his death, and which were now sued for by the Corporation, at the same time when Marechal the successor was pleading that he received nothing of the "perpetual revenues" due to him from the same and other estates. 4<sup>o</sup> The estate in question presented the specific circumstance, according to Marechal, of being bound over from its origin to the service of a particular parish, and being under the administration of Marechal as the guardian of the fund (supra, No. 88, F). And yet the Court gave judgment against the executor of Marechal's predecessor. Cf. No. 129, p. 507, 1<sup>o</sup>.

<sup>6</sup> Cf. Nos. 170, T; 171, A; 135, A, Prop. 6. In this latter document addressed to Card. Della Somaglia, 15 Jan., 1826, Marechal says: Per quinque annos Bohemiae vixi, atque cum administrationem haberem hujusce praedii, etc. As to Marechal's stay at Bohemia, which he refers to more than once, and as to the reasons for his leaving it, the following documents exhibit the order and character of his earlier experiences in America:—

His Diary, 1792–1795, states: Je suis parti d'Orléans, le 9 février, 1792, pour me rendre à Paris. . . . Le 25 mars, Dim. de la Passion, j'ai été ordonné Prêtre dans la Bibliothèque du Séminaire des Irlandais. . . . Le 4 avril, nous sommes passé à Honfleur pour nous joindre à M. Matignon. . . . Le 9, nous avons fait voile dans un vaisseau. . . . Le 24 juin, mouillé dans le Bassin de Baltimore. . . . Le 8 juillet, j'ai célébré ma 1<sup>re</sup> Messe. Le 9 août, je suis parti pour Philadelphia: vertu et science de MM. Fleming, Graessel, etc. . . . Le 14 décembre, '92, j'ai pris le Stage pour Bohemia; honnêteté de M. Beeston. 20 Feb., 1793; from Bohemia to Baltimore; thence, 25 Feb., to Newtown, till 6 June. After eight days passed in the Seminary at Baltimore, again to Bohemia. Le 9 décem., 1794, je me suis rendu au Séminaire pour y refaire ma santé. At the end of March, to Newtown. Le 27 avril, je suis parti pour Bohemia, afin d'aider M. Tessier. . . . Le 31 mai, je suis parti pour Baltimore, pour aller en suite à Georgetown, où j'ai demeuré jusqu' à 11 août. . . . Le 24 août, je suis allé à Port Tobacco, pour traiter des affaires de Bohemia. . . . Le 22 sept., je suis arrivé à Bohemia pour y faire ma résidence permanente. M. Tessier was then recalled from Bohemia to the Seminary, 4 May (1795?). (Baltimore Diocesan Archives; a copy, Georgetown College, Devitt Papers, from notes of Rev. J. A. Frederick.)

On the 30 April, 1799, the Directors of the Seminary received a notification from Fr. Sewall, secretary, that the Corporation would resume the administration of Bohemia. Four months then passed, till 22 Aug., when a formal surrender of the property was made by the Seminary, with proposals regarding the profits of the current year, for the length of time during which the Seminary should still keep the administration. M. Nagot admitted that the time of our administration was so far protracted. But, on 20 Sept., the Directors wrote again that Fr. Beeston, "on his return from Portobacco," had conveyed the decision of the Corporation, which was not disposed to protract the business further: Que vous ne seriez pas tout-à-fait disposés à nous laisser la portion des revenus de Bohemia, qui répond à la durée du tems de cette année que nous l'avons possédée, c'est-à-dire, jusqu' à la retraite de M. Maréchal. The Corporation, assuming all the assets and debts of the year 1799 for the portions of Bohemia rented out to other parties, left to M. Marechal the profits of the home farm: [La récolte] du lot près de la maison, qu'on laissa à Mr. Maréchal. See No. 170, R-U. Father Beeston, in the name of the Corporation, took charge again, as he had been in charge before.

*From the original correspondence of M. Marechal with Mr. Hugh Matthews, lawyer, Warwick, Cecil Co., where Bohemia lies, it appears that the abbé was at his post as late as the end of August, 1799. Thus, on 29 Aug., '99, H. Matthews addresses a letter to The Rev. Mr. Marechal [and] Mr. Jas. O'Donald, Bohemia, giving his opinion as arbitrator in an issue between them. On 13 Sept., '99, a date which coincides closely with Beeston's retour de Portobacco, apparently on his way to Bohemia, A. Marechal writes from the Baltimore Seminary to Mr. Hugh Matthews, and says that the Sulpician Fathers want him to stay there; but Mr. Carroll testified to me, if resolved to leave Bohemia, he would be glad I should agree to go to Conewago. sede Baltimorensi nimis distans est. E contra purus est aer praedii White Marsh, et est parum a Baltimore distans.

Insuper si absolute velint in White Marsh suos novitios retinere, archiepiscopus Baltimorensis non adversabitur. Servent, si velint, cappellam, domum presbyteralem et caetera contigua aedificia, imo ducenta vel etiam trecenta jugera terrae circumjacentia. Praesens archiepiscopus, qui Societati huc usque patrocinatus est, mentem non habet eam destruendi. Quod aequum et justum est tantum requirit.

Et si objiciatur quod melius sit praedium White Marsh praedio Bohemia, illud sponte agnoscitur.<sup>7</sup> Sed Sacra Congregatio observare debet per sex annos a Jesuitis archiepiscopum Baltimorem redditibus, ad quos jus habet, fuisse spoliatum. Igitur ad aliquam compensationem etiam titulo justitiae jus habet.

They were the copies taken by Dr. Robert Gradwell, Rector of the English College, who was acting in Rome as Marechal's agent. The letters sent by Marechal to Gradwell himself are original. The three printed reports or briefs or Sommarii, 1822, 1824, 1826, leave much to desire in point of editing, and the orthography of Marechal, the use of accents in French, etc., are defective there as in the manuscript papers. In the editing of these Documents, we take the originals or copies as we find them, only now and then, when distinctness requires it, adding accents, or correcting flagrant errors, where the sense cannot be affected. This remark applies also to the grammatical constructions of Marechal's Latin.*

have not as yet taken any party. At the end of the letter he says: It is determined I will not come again to Bohemia to live. (Md.—N.Y. Province Archives, 46; original Bohemia correspondence of Marechal, Matthews, Tessier, Beeston; Marechal's letter of 13 Sept., '99, 3 pp. 4to.)

From these data may be inferred the course of Marechal's movements during the first seven years of his stay in America, when he lived almost entirely in the houses of ex-Jesuit proprietors; as also the reasons for his retiring from Bohemia.

<sup>7</sup> Cf. No. 135, A, Prop. 14: Et quidem tellus White Marsh longe minus est ferax tellure praediorum Bohemiae, etc.—The offer made in the preceding paragraph, of allowing the Jesuits to retain their church, house, etc., at White Marsh, with 200 or 300 acres around, meant also their gratuitous service and the maintenance of the mission at their own expense; since, according to the terms of the analogous assignment of Bohemia made in favour of Carroll, the Corporation had annexed to the grant of the usufruct this burden of supporting the local mission. See No. 178, Q, resolution of the Corporation (11 Sept., 1806); cf. also Nos. 117, note 3; 119, note 4.

Father John Rozaven, Assistant to the General Father Luigi Fortis, and chief writer of the Jesuit documents (cf. No. 202, his letters to Grivel), drew up a critique on the documents of the Sommario, presented by Marechal. It was submitted to Cardinal Fesch, reporter, on May 18, 1822, for it is clearly alluded to by Marechal (infra, E), whose autograph draft in reply is remarkable for its brevity. We have inserted above in different places, by way of footnote commentary, many of Rozaven's nine points. Hence we merely refer to them here, and add what will complete the paper, which consists of three full letter-sheet pages and seven lines, a closely written draft or copy without signature or date, and without any corrections.

Controversia inter Ill. archiepiscopum Baltimoreensem et PP. Americanos Societatis Jesu, de bonis temporalibus, potest quidem implicata reddi; at in se simplicissima est, et facile solvitur ex sola expositione eorum quae, in patrocinio causae non bonae, necessario exciderunt Praesuli Ill<sup>mo</sup>

1. The contradiction between the assertions, that the Fathers "constantly and without any controversy" granted an income to Marechal's predecessors, as "a sacred and evident right," and yet that Carroll "constantly even till his death" defended the right of his see, that he "constantly judged the conduct of the Jesuits to be a manifest violation of public and private right." See supra, No. 116, C, note 3.

2. The contradiction between the assertions, that Carroll "never had any more controversy about temporalities with the Jesuits, his old colleagues," and yet that he "insisted with new ardour of mind on having some part at least of the Corporation's property dedicated to the support of his successors and of the Baltimore secular clergy; but it was obstinately denied him." See supra, No. 115, § 24, note 40.

3. The contradiction, that the ex-Jesuits had "thrown into one common mass all the property they possessed, as well what belonged to the Society, as what had been deposited with them in trust by pious donors, assigning all to the perpetual support of the Maryland clergy, and that the Assembly had accepted this offering;" and yet, on the other hand, that Marechal is "requiring of the Fathers of the Society no property which belongs to the Society: let them keep their own." See supra, No. 115, § 31, note 45.

4. The tampering with the text of the attempted contract between Carroll and Molyneux, by the insertion of a gloss, without saying it is an insertion of Marechal's, and by the omission of an Article in Carroll's text which precisely contradicts the gloss; as also by submitting an Italian translation which changes the original. See supra, No. 115, § 23, Art. 3, note 36.

5. The falsity of the assertion that the destination of the old Jesuit property was changed by the Act of the Maryland Legislature: shown (1) by the evident purpose and express words of the Act; (2) by the statutes of the very persons who asked for the Act, and who ought to know what they asked for and what they got; (3) by the plain testimony of Carroll, who, as cited in the preceding paragraph, expressly admits that "the Corporation possesses for the Society," and that "an income was granted him from the property of the Society." The argument derived from that Act by Marechal was discussed in the General's letter, from § 10 to § 16 [see No. 116, D, §§ 10-16], with arguments so conclusive that, in view of the arduous task before him if he tried to refute them, the prelate answered only with some general observations [see No. 117, E], which are totally beside the question: Ut, cum eas refellere opus esset nimis arduum, observationes tantum generales eis opposuerit Ill. Praesul, quae argumenta ibi breviter exposita ne leviter quidem attingunt, nedum eorum vim infringant.

6. The invalidity of the contract attempted by Father Molyneux was demonstrated so clearly in the same letter, from § 17 to § 24 [see No. 116, D, §§ 17-24], that the prelate has answered nothing at all, and could not answer: Ut nihil prorsus responderit, sed nec respondere potuerit.

7. One assertion of the prelate remains, that the Society holds property which does not belong to it. This has been answered already ten times—Prove it. The Society is no more minded to hold what belongs to others than to be stripped of what belongs to itself. Ad hoc jam decies responsum est. Probetur Societatem talia bona possidere, et sine cunctatione ea restituet ad quos pertinent. Certissimum enim est Societatem tam parum velle aliena possidere, quam propriis spoliari.

8. The prelate says that he wants "just the same income" as his predecessors received [see No. 116, C, ad init.; Ibid., C, 2°, ad init.]. But Carroll had first a pension, then Bohemia; Neale, again, accepted a pension. The prelate does not want a pension; Bohemia he puts aside; he prefers White Marsh; and asks the Sacred Congregation to give it to him [see No. 121, III. Notae, 3°]. To explain all this diversity in the meaning of "just the same income," the prelate answers that Neale, on resigning Bohemia, made a compact with the Corporation [see No. 116, C, 2° ad note 8]. Where does this compact lie hid? What are its words? Who signed it? Why is it not produced? Why does not the smallest trace of it exist? Did Neale keep no copy for his successors, either unmindful of his See, or a traitor to it? Aperte dicamus, ut res est: ista conventio merum est figmentum. Si autem nullam conventionem fecit DD. Neale, abdicans possessionem praedii a suo praedecessore possessi, signum est manifestissimum ipsum non putasse ullum jus ad hanc possessionem competere sedi suae.

9. Narrat se, in America, successive proposuisse rem committere decisioni episcoporum Americanorum, deinde judicio sacerdotum sua integritate, scientia et pietate insignium, vel tandem, si Jesuitis placeret, arbitrationi tum sacerdotum, tum jurisperitorum; cum Marechal's mode of procedure. autem Romam venisset, exhortatum esse P. Praepositum Generalem, ut tam gravi controversiae amicabili negotio finis imponeretur; et primo quidem visum esse P. Generalem ultro assensum praebere; verum se, ex tenore ultimae ejus epistolae dolentem videre omnes conatus suos ad pacem obtinendam irritos fore. V. Ep. ad Eminentissimos Card. S. Congreg. p. 48.<sup>8</sup>

Quid Ill. Praesul egerit vel proposuerit in America, sit penes ipsum fides; quid Romae factum sit, scimus. Non solum P. Praepositus Generalis visus est ultro assensum praebere, ut huic controversiae finis amicabiliter imponeretur, sed neque, ut hoc desideraret, ulla exhortatione indigebat, siquidem ipse non semel, tum ante tum post scriptam epistolam, invitavit Ill. Praesulem ut arbitros eligeret. Quid autem in ea epistola est, unde putare debuerit Ill. Praesul abjiciendam esse spem pacis? An, quando res ad arbitros defertur, non debent utriusque partis exponi rationes? An suas tantum audiri voluisset? Suas exposuit P. Generalis, libere quidem et aperte, ut debuit, sed servata debita reverentia erga dignissimum adversarium; epistolam autem suam clausit his verbis: "Utrum vero omnia ista vere et solide demonstraverim, sit, si ita placet, judicium arbitrorum communi sensu eligendorum, quibus libenter consentio ut haec mea responsio cum epistola Tuae Amplitudinis examinanda communicetur."

Post tres menses audierunt Jesuitae negotium delatum esse ad S. Congregationem. Absit ut Praepositus Generalis Eminentissimos Cardinales arbitros recuset, vel potius non toto animo complectatur. Verum non potest non reclamare contra conditiones manifeste iniquas ab Illustrissimo Praesule propositas.

Vult enim ut, si pro se judicet S. Congregatio, Jesuitae omnino cogantur obedire, et se submittere huic decisioni; simul vero declarat, casu quo contra se judicet S. Congregatio, semper liberum fore archiepiscopis Baltimorensibus recurrere ad justitiam senatus Marylandensis. VIII, sect 3, Litt. C. p. 62 et 63, in nota data die 20 aprilis.<sup>9</sup> Marechal's stipulation: that only his adversaries be bound to obey.

Nullam igitur aliam potestatem agnoscit in Sacra Congregatione, nisi damnandi suos adversarios. Hinc patet, quales arbitros potuerit velle qui nec iudices quidem admittat, nisi ea conditione ut pro se pronuntient.

quem Ill. Praesul contendit. Praeterea necesse esset, ut administratores Societatis absolverentur a juramento quod, ab initio institutae Corporationis, semper praestitum est coram magistratu civili, administrandi ea bona secundum statuta Corporationis;<sup>11</sup> et simul ut securi redderentur contra omnia quae accidere possunt ob violatam legem civilem.

General Archives S.J., Maryl. Epist., 6, i.

No decision was arrived at in the Sacred Congregation of the Propaganda. The question assumed a new form. A committee of arbitration was appointed, consisting of three Cardinals, including Fesch. The General Father Fortis acceded to the proposal of a Concordat, della qual convenzione si degnano le Eminenze loro essere gli arbitri (May 10, § 1), favouring Marechal with a contribution from the Jesuits in Maryland to the Ordinary of Baltimore, just as the faithful in America contribute. Two documents of his formulate the conditions, which he lays down as indispensable; in particular, that no right whatever can be recognized in the See of Baltimore to any property possessed by the Jesuits in America.

DIFFERENTES COPIES.

Notes a la lettre du P. Rozaven, 18 mai 1822, au Card. Fesch.

Je ne crois pas jamais avoir dit que, si la Propagande rejettoit mon droit j'aurois recours a la Legislature du Maryland. J'ai seulement dit que dans ce cas la sentence de la Propagande n'oteroit pas a mes successeurs le pouvoir de s'adresser a ce tribunal supreme.<sup>12</sup> Seroient ils excusables ou non? C'est une autre question. (Voyez mes notes.)

Après avoir répondu brièvement a quelques chicaines scholastiques, je termine ainsi:

"Ce n'est pas en verité sans une sorte de honte que j'ai répondu a ces arguties scholastiques. Mais la lettre du P. Fortis est terminée par un doute sur la possibilité d'obeir, qu'il est important d'eclaircir. 'Supposé,' dit-il, 'que la Congregation condamne les Jesuites, leur sera-t-il possible de se soumettre a la sentence sans enfreindre la loi civile et le serment qu'ils ont fait?'"

Jesuit
subtleties.

1<sup>o</sup> Quant à la loi civile, point de difficulté. La Corporation du Clergé du Maryland a le pouvoir, comme l'ont en general toutes les corporations, de vendre, d'acheter, de prêter, d'emprunter, de prendre et de donner a bail, de poursuivre en justice leurs debiteurs, etc., etc., etc., en un mot de faire toutes sortes de contrats, ainsi que le peut faire un citoyen des Etats Unis. Ainsi donc, sans la moindre transgression de la loi civile, ils peuvent me transmettre par un contrat quelconque les propriétés d'une plantation; et s'ils refusent a executer la sentence, qui peut-etre sera prononcée contre eux, ce sera, non parce que la loi civile s'y oppose, mais par un acte très volontaire de désobeissance à l'autorité du S<sup>t</sup> Siege.

Civil law will allow of a Jesuit assignment to Marechal.

2<sup>o</sup> Quant au serment, ce seroit un point de morale a resoudre, de savoir

en premier lieu s'il est legitime ; c'est à dire, si des religieux, après avoir fait un abandon solennel des biens qui leur étoient confiés, pour servir à l'entretien des ministres de la religion catholique dans le Maryland, peuvent en conscience se les approprier entierement et s'obliger même par serment à en exclure la plus grande partie des ministres de la religion catholique, qui travaillent aussi bien qu'eux au salut des ames dans la province. Certainement beaucoup de personnes refuseroient de preter un semblable serment, sans qu'elles pussent être traitées de têtes foibles et scrupuleuses. Mgr. Carroll s'y est constamment refusé.<sup>13</sup>

Mais supposons même que ce serment soit legitime, quelle difficulté oppose-t-il à l'exécution de la sentence du St Siege ? Car The Jesuits' oath versus a title of justice in Marechal. assurement le [ce ?] serment ne peut empêcher les Jesuites de remplir un devoir de justice. Et si le St Siege, qui est un juge competent, prononce qu'en justice ils sont obligés de me transmettre la possession de White-Marsh ou de Bohemia, comment le serment qu'ils ont fait peut-il être un obstacle à ce qu'ils me remettent un de ces biens ?

Le dernier paragraphe de la lettre du P. Fortis n'est veritablement qu'un ruse de guerre, afin de se sauver dans le cas d'une defaite.

On me dit encore qu'il tachera de n'en point venir à un accommodement final sous pretexte qu'il n'a pas les informations suffisantes sur la nature et l'étendue des biens que ses sujets d'Amérique possèdent.

Je puis sans crainte assurer la S. Congregation que telle est la masse d'informations qui lui a été transmise d'Amérique tant par le P. Grassi que par le P. Kenney qui a passé dans le Maryland, il y a pres de trois ans, en qualité de Visiteur, que le P. Fortis a des connoissances bien plus exactes et plus étendues de leurs propriétés, que je n'en ai ou que j'en puis jamais avoir.

Le bien de l'Eglise et le desir que j'ai de vivre en paix et en bonne intelligence avec les Jesuites de mon diocese demandent hautement que je ne me retire point de Rome,<sup>14</sup> sans avoir terminé, d'une maniere durable

Cardinal Fesch's draft of a Concordat (infra, No. 203), submitted by him to the General, 18 June, 1822 (Ibid.), contained more than Marechal had ever previously demanded, and, excepting three elements, fulfilled none of the conditions laid down by the General, but repeated several times the absolute statement, that Father Fortis "recognized the right of the archbishop" to a Jesuit estate in perpetuity to make for himself an episcopal mensa. The General, on the same day (No. 204), declining to proceed farther with such terms of arbitration, rehearsed for Fesch the three minor elements of his conditions, which he found in the project submitted : one being that the Pope, in his administrative capacity, should give command in the premises, after both parties had come to an agreement. This was the element which gave occasion to the mode of procedure by a Papal Brief, the documentary sources of which, as well as its text, are to be seen infra (Nos. 203-205). The attitude of the General, Father Fortis, in the case, was now similar to that assumed by the General, Father Vincent Carrafa, one hundred and seventy-five years before (9 Mar., 1647), in the face of Lord Baltimore's exactions. Cf. supra, No. 6, R.

negotiation. In his autograph notes we find a document meant to fill the gap. He writes to Card. (Fesch), on the 28th of June, 1822. Referring to the General's statement that he "does not know the farm of White Marsh," Marechal says, that Father Fortis "has actually with him five persons, who can instruct him perfectly, and impart even to the committee of Cardinals," aux Cardinaux négociateurs, "all the information necessary." Then he gives the full names and ages of six young American Jesuits, at present in Rome : Mulledy, McSherry, Smith, G. Fenwick, Ryder, Young. The "five first received part of their education at White Marsh itself ;" they were tonsured there and received minor Orders ; as Americans habitually talk of politics and agriculture, these, who have lived upon that farm, run over it "a thousand times," conversed with the lay brothers and the negroes, must be "perfectly conversant with its extent, quality of soil, products, etc., etc., etc." ¶Comment n'ai-je point pensé jusqu'à présent a ce moyen présent et infallible de refuter l'ignorance affectée du P. Fortis ? Mon bon ange, je crois, l'a présenté a mon esprit ce matin en me reveillant. Then he writes and deletes the following paragraph : ¶Si donc il n'étoit pas trop tard, les Card<sup>x</sup> négociateurs pourroient faire venir ces cinq jeunes gens en leur présence et obtenir d'eux tous les renseignements qu'ils peuvent desirer. Il seroit cependant essentiel de ne leur point faire connoître le motif de cette invitation, de peur qu'on ne leur dise d'avance ce qu'ils doivent répondre aux questions de leurs Eminences. Il seroit également nécessaire de les examiner séparément. He continues : ¶Je m'empresse de vous le communiquer ; and he desires that the Cardinal will make the most fitting use of it. (Georgetown College MSS. and Transcripts, Marechal Controversy ; Marechal's autograph notes, f. 23.)

This Brief rehearses in the preamble that there was a question of right agitated between the two parties; that no decision had been arrived at in the General Congregation of the Propaganda; that the system of arbitration had been adopted. This failing, the same Sacred Congregation had formulated a decree on the 8 July, 1822, with a view to obtaining the Pontifical approbation for settling an episcopal mensa in behalf of the Archbishop of Baltimore on the landed temporalities, which Pius VI. had committed to the administration of the Ordinary of Baltimore. Then follow the particulars of a decree, regarding the surrender of White Marsh by the Jesuits to Marechal. There is no statement or minor proposition interposed to connect or identify the said temporalities of the Ordinary with the property of the Jesuits.

Upon this preamble the Pope sanctions the decree so submitted, without any affirmation of right or of fact in the case; and, with a usual formula of office, rectifies all defects of right and of fact, if any have crept into the premises; and orders the General of the Society, as in duty bound by virtue of obedience, to execute this administrative act.<sup>16</sup>

Writing to Gradwell (4 Jan., 1823), the Mgr. deprecates any appeal being made by the American Jesuits to His Holiness, because, as he implies, the Pope does not know the merits of the case: Non aux cardinaux instruits du procès, mais immédiatement a Sa Sainteté (No. 125, B); Leur but est d'agir directement avec le S. Pontife, laissant de coté les cardinaux instruits de l'affaire (No. 128, 17 Jan., 1823). This distinction agrees with the principle of English common law applied in similar cases, when the Crown makes a grant needing subsequent revision. See infra, No. 205, ad fin. (cf. 1 Blackstone's Commentaries, 246; 2, ibid., 348; 1 Stephen, Comm., 621; 2, ibid., 479; M. D. Ewell, Elements of the Law, i. 44, 240).

On other occasions Mgr. Marechal gives expression to his own opinion that the Cardinals themselves of the Propaganda do not understand the bearings of an American question, nor even know the geography of America. Cf. infra, Nos. 135, note 50; 184, 31 Dec., 1819, to Grassi.

indications of what he desired we have given in documents above, without swerving too much from the line of this Excursus on property. See his letter to Card. Fontana, 19 Aug., 1820, first part (No. 115, §§ 3-8), and his Quaestiones propositae ab archiepiscopo Baltimorensi Sacrae Congregationi de Propaganda Fide (No. 120).

A decree on the subject was formulated in the Propaganda, 3 June, 1822; was approved by His Holiness, 21 July; and signed by the Pro-Prefect of the Propaganda, Card. Consalvi, 27 July. In substance it reaffirms former provisions made by Benedict XIV. for England.

The introduction of the subject officially in Rome is as early as that of the property question, both issues being stated by the Secretary of the Propaganda (20 Jan., 1821), in a letter to Father Fortis, and that on jurisdiction being put in the first place. The statement of each issue is alike, in that it is totally different from what the Jesuits made. As to jurisdiction, the state of the question turns upon the clause: (invito Episcopo). As to property, it rests upon the assumption expressed in the Secretary's letter, that the revenues of the archiepiscopal mensa are being disputed by the Jesuits, who want to have them. It was under this double aspect of Marechal's presentation, that the Sacred Congregation of the Propaganda occupied itself during six months, in the year 1822, with the affairs of the Jesuits in America.

Mons<sup>r</sup> Arcivescovo di Baltimore in una sua lettera diretta all' Em<sup>o</sup> Card. Prefetto si duole di due questioni insorte tra esso ed il Superiore dei Gesuiti colà dimorante. La prima riguarda la rimozione (invito Episcopo) di que' soggetti della Compagnia di Gesù a' quali col consenso del lor Superiore ha Egli affidato la cura d'anime. La seconda si aggira sulle rendite di quella Mensa Arcivescovile che dal Superiore della Compagnia medesima in oggi si contrastano, reclamandole come di sua ragione. Il lodato Em<sup>o</sup>, prima di proporle alla S. Congregazione, pieno, come Egli è, di stima, di rispetto, e di attaccamento alla Compagnia, ha creduto conveniente di renderne intesa la P. V. Contemporaneamente però la prega di serbare il segreto di un tale affare; massime perchè fin qui non lo ha ad altri comunicato che alla P. V. The General Fortis, 24 May, 1822, to the Secretary of the Propaganda.

The documents received: viz. the Report (supra, No. 118) and the Catalogues (No. 118, § 18, ad fin.). The Catalogues are those of the year

1817, for Russia and the Jesuit Missions in America. Their authenticity is to be derived from the authority of the Superiors by whom they were drawn up. Many changes have taken place since that time; and the number of Jesuits in America has much increased. As to the Report, that was drawn up only on behalf of the Superior in America. Though the General has not the least doubt of its accuracy, it is not for the General to sign: first, because the narrative contains many statements of fact, for which the proofs, especially "legal and juridical" proofs, are not on hand, but must be derived from America; and that is the alternative now before Mgr. Marechal, if he undertakes to deny any of the facts there stated; secondly, because the facts which might be challenged are of little import for deciding the controversy. Mgr. Marechal rests his claims on three grounds: "1<sup>o</sup> The missionaries had paid his predecessors without controversy; 2<sup>o</sup> the Act of the Maryland Assembly; 3<sup>o</sup> a contract made with Father Molineux." These three grounds have been exhaustively examined in the General's own original answers to Marechal (supra, No. 116, B, D), and in the annotations signed and submitted by him to Card. Fesch, reporter (No. 121, B, C, D). These answers are enough. Let Marechal confute them, and he has won. If he cannot confute them, all his own grounds of a claim have vanished.

As to the controversy regarding episcopal authority over Jesuit missionaries, there is no need of answering a syllable; for it is all settled by the Council of Trent and the Constitution of Benedict XIV. for the English Missions, in which were comprised the Missions of what are now the United States of America.

See No. 118, note 1: Marechal's explanation of the Report, and of the General's refusing to "recognize or to sign it."

In riscontro del cortese viglietto, che s'è degnato V. E. R<sup>ma</sup> di mandarmi Mercordi sera, e in risposta a ciò che mi ricerca intorno l'Informazione e i Cataloghi al viglietto annessi; ecco quello che con tutta verità e precisione posso rescrivere.

Primo: Il Catalogo della Compagnia nostra in Russia non veggio, che possa recar di luce a definire la controversia attuale tra M<sup>re</sup> l'Arcivescovo di Baltimore e i Gesuiti Americani. Quel Catalogo fu impresso coll'autorità dei Superiori di allora in Russia; e siffatte cose altra autenticità non possono ricercare. Per simil modo è autentico il Catalogo dei Gesuiti delle Missioni di America; ma solo per l'anno 1817, per cui fu fatto; essendo certo che da quel tempo in appresso sino al presente molte mutazioni si sono fatte. Inoltre il numero de' Gesuiti colà è molto e notabilmente cresciuto.

Secondo: Quanto all'Informazione, questo non si può riguardare che come fatta in nome soltanto del Superiore dei Missionarj Americani. Questa Informazione medesima a me non ista a sottoscrivere; nè debbo ciò fare: non già perchè io abbia il menomo dubbio della verità di tal narrazione; ma per due chiare ragioni. Prima—Perchè la narrazione contiene molti fatti, la prova dei quali, massimamente legale e giuridica, io non posso esibire al presente alla S. Congregazione, non essendo mi stata mandata dall'America. Quindi, se questi fatti venissero negati da Mons<sup>r</sup> Arcivescovo, io non potrei far altro che procurarmi da America i documenti autentici di cotesti fatti medesimi. Seconda—Perchè cotesti fatti, della cui verità si volesse disputare, o poco o niente valer potrebbero a decidere la controversia agitata al presente. Perocchè Mons<sup>re</sup> Arcivescovo reca tre fondamenti di sue pretese: 1<sup>o</sup> Che s'è dai Missionarj senza controversia pagato ai suoi antecessori. 2<sup>o</sup> Il decreto del Senato del Maryland. 3<sup>o</sup> Un contratto fattosi col P. Molineux. Ora questi tre fondamenti si sono discussi abbastanza nelle mie risposte alla lettera di Monsignore, e queste stesse mie risposte vengono a confermarsi dalle annotazioni pur da me sottoscritte e umiliate a S. Em<sup>za</sup> R<sup>ma</sup> il Sig<sup>r</sup> Card. Fesch Ponente; delle quali mando anche una copia a V. Ecc<sup>za</sup> R<sup>ma</sup>. Dunque ciò basta all'oggetto di che ora si tratta. Il degnissimo avversario le confuti, ed ha vinto; ma se non può confutarle, cadono i tre fondamenti suddetti, su cui la questione tutta è da lui stabilita.

In fine, quanto spetta alla controversia intorno l'autorità Vescovile sui Missionarj nostri, io non giudico di rispondere una sillaba. Dappoichè io non posso ripetere altro che il Jus Commune di tutti i Religiosi, secondo il Concilio di Trento, e la Costituzione di Benedetto XIV. De Missionibus Anglicanis; nelle quali al tempo, che fu fatta la stessa Costituzione, comprendevansi anche le Missioni degli ora Stati d'America.

E ciò ho scritto per ubbidire ai comandi suoi, col piacere di protestarmi in ciò anche col fatto, quale avrò onor d'esser sempre,

1822, July 27.

Decree of the Propaganda, signed 27 July, 1822, on the question of jurisdiction, between the Ordinary of Baltimore and the Jesuit missionaries in the diocese; conveyed officially by the General of the Society, 6 Aug., 1822, to the Superior in Maryland.

It is substantially a reaffirmation of the Constitution, Apostolicum Ministerium, issued by Benedict XIV., 30 May, 1753 (infra, No. 192), but with a clause, Ac nisi antea, upon which Mgr. Marechal started a new, or prolonged the old controversy with the Jesuits in Maryland. The clause stated that, in the substitution of one approved missionary for another by the religious Superior, the Ordinary should be notified beforehand of the proposed substitution. Marechal assumed that, in having a right to such previous notification, he had also a right to reject one after another of the substitutes or successors, although these were missionaries already approved by himself for the ministry in his diocese, and were serving, or were to serve, churches on the property of the Jesuits themselves. Such a policy, as the Superior, Father Dzierzynski, explained to the General, completely nullified the right of changing or substituting, invested in the Superior according to the common law and the express terms of Benedict XIV., in the Constitution Apostolicum Ministerium (Maryl. Epist., 3, i.; 24 Sept., 1825, Dzierzynski to the General). Dzierzynski adds the motives which Marechal seems to be imputing to the Superior, as if the latter wished to abandon parishes clandestinely and capriciously, whereas all the churches in question are the property of the Jesuits, excepting only St. John's, Baltimore. He writes thus : 5a. Decreto hoc videtur ille Excellentissimus se semper armare contra Superiores Societatis, quasi ipsi semper intendunt suos subditos retrahere a cura animarum, et quidem clam absque ulla ratione, dum tamen Superiores suas proprias domus et ecclesias, in quibus degunt eorum subditi, tenentur praeservare. Nullam autem domum vel ecclesiam in Marylandia habemus alienam, excepto Baltimore ; sed omnes sunt proprietates Societatis (cf. infra, No. 135, A, Prop. 7, note 25).

The Sacred Congregation, in the decree which follows, made on Marechal's representation, seems to assume that the Jesuit missions in question were diocesan parishes belonging to the Ordinary, and, as such, confided by him to the Society. Cf. No. 135, B-V, Marechal's policy.

We now subjoin the substantial documents pertaining to the second stage of the controversy, when Dr. Marechal, having returned from Rome, communicated the Papal Brief to Father Charles Neale, S.J., Superior of the Maryland Mission. Neale refused to give up White Marsh to Marechal, and formulated a protest for use in Rome. The documents subjoined show the state of the case, that of urging the execution of the Brief; but they do not exhibit the course of events, which belong to a later volume of the History. They extend from No. 122 to No. 129, covering only a couple of months, but showing the attitude which parties maintained during a year or two. Then, circumstances having altered, and much more radically than will appear on the face of the documents here, a third stage succeeds. The radical character of the change will be seen somewhat more fully in Section VII.: "Critique and Sequel," but in its full extent is reserved for the History.

the English Vicars-Apostolic. In his Brief, Accepimus litteras (20 June, 1835), he says that the rules laid down by Benedict XIV. for the conduct of the English Missions "expressly admit the exemption of regulars, nay, prescribe an inviolable maintenance thereof, in what concerns observance and discipline under the rules and constitutions of the respective Order:" § 4. Sed jam ad tertium veniamus querimoniarum caput: ad praetensam videlicet violationem regularum a Benedicto XIV. praescriptarum pro missionibus Anglicanis, et litterarum apostolicarum Pii VII. relate ad decretum a Congregatione emissum anno 1818, ad quas appellant Vicarii, cujus violationis ab eisdem insinulamur tum in iis quae ediximus, tum in iis quae nos edicturos ipsi verentur. His Holiness observes that a Pontiff cannot violate Pontifical decrees, when he decrees anew. Neither has there been any thing adverse to the Congregation's decrees, in its communication regarding a certain convent of nuns, and the opening of the Jesuit church in London. Siquidem de monialibus eae regulae non loquuntur, nec loqui poterant, quippe illarum non exstabant istic monasteria: regularium autem exemptionem expresse admittunt, immo et inviolatam servari praecipiunt in iis quae ad regularum et constitutionum Ordinis respectivi spectant observantiam ac disciplinam, et solum ne nascantur cum Vicariis Apostolicis collisiones et jurgia aptissime moderantur in iis, quae proprie respiciunt facultates et missionaria munera. Restat ut de precibus quas nobis porrigunt Vicarii Apostolici pauca dicamus. Petunt ipsi ut serventur statuta Benedicti XIV. et Pii VII. simul et eorum jura. Quorsum hae spectant preces? Si, attento novo rerum statu attentisque novis et urgentibus casibus, aliquid actum est praeter, nihil tamen est actum contra Benedicti XIV. statuta: quin etiam in decreto ipso a Vicariis memorato anni 1818. eadem Congregatio salva esse ea omnia expresse voluit et edixit . . . Baltimore, 27 nov 1822.

MON REV. PERE,

Quoique les interets spirituels de la province metropolitaine de Baltimore aient été la principale cause de mon voyage à Rome, je n'ai pas cependant négligé, pendant mon séjour dans cette s. ville, de porter mon attention sur des objets de moindre importance. J'ai eu souvent l'avantage de converser avec le P. Fortis. Dans ma première entrevue avec ce respectable supérieur je lui témoignai mon desir de terminer à l'aimable le différent qui malheureusement existe depuis cinq ans entre moi et ses sujets dans mon diocèse, relativement aux droits temporels du siège de Baltimore. Il m'a paru d'abord consentir volontiers à cette proposition pacifique que m'inspiroit mon attachement pour la Société. A sa prière je lui remis un écrit contenant en abrégé les principes sur lesquels repose la justice<sup>(a)</sup> de ma demande. Il y répondit par une lettre dans laquelle il me témoigna de plus amples éclaircissemens. Je les lui envoyai, et peu de jours après je reçus de lui une longue réponse où il s'efforçoit de refuter mes raisons, quelques justes et évidentes qu'elles fussent.

Marechal to Neale. An account of the negotiations in Rome.

Je pus deslors juger et par la nature des argumens qu'il employoit, et par le style dans le quel ils étoient exprimés, que je travaillerois en vain à obtenir de cette manière un arrangement amical. En conséquence je lui déclarai<sup>1</sup> qu'ayant épuisé en Amérique et à Rome tous les moyens de paix et de conciliation, je me voyois dans la dure nécessité de porter la décision de notre importante controverse au jugement du S<sup>t</sup> Siege. Les card<sup>x</sup> Della Somaglia, Pacca, Castiglioni, Fesch, Della Genga, Rivarola, De Gregorio, et Ercolani, se sont occupés, pendant près de six semaines à examiner et à peser les argumens apportés de part, et d'autre. Enfin ils ont rendu à voix unanime un jugement en ma faveur.<sup>2</sup> Mais, comme la Société depend immédiatement du S. Pontife, ce même jugement a été soumis à son approbation, et après une délibération S. S. l'a enfin confirmé du sceau de son autorité suprême; et a signifié par un bref au R. P. Fortis l'ordre

A unanimous judgment in Marechal's favour. Now to be executed.

Similarly, the statement which follows is not precise in its implication, that the decree of the Propaganda was submitted to the Pope, "inasmuch as the Society depends immediately on the Sovereign Pontiff." All decrees of consequence, graviora, were so submitted in the usual order of business, according to the Constitution of Gregory XV., 22 June, 1622: et graviora, quae in praedicta domo congregati tractaverint, ad Nos referant. positif de s'y soumettre entierrement, et d'ordonner a ses sujets dans le Maryland de s'y soumettre egalement.

Vous avez sans doute, mon rev<sup>d</sup> pere, deja reçu une copie de ce bref. Dans la crainte toute fois qu'il ne vous soit point parvenu, je vous en envoie une copie authentique. Je vous prie, ainsi que les rev<sup>ds</sup> Trustees, possesseurs des biens ecclesiastiques du clergé du Maryland, de la lire attentivement, et de me faire connoître sans delai leur soumission, ou leur resistance a ce jugement solennel du St. Siege. Car je dois transmettre immediatement au S. Pere votre determination a cet egard.

Si vous vous soumettez a ce jugement (et assurément je ne puis croire que des enfans de S. Ignace s'y opposent) je serai pret a ecouter toute proposition raisonnable, qui me sera faite pour que vous transferiez commodement et a votre loisir les novices, qui sont a White Marsh, sur une autre de vos plantations, ou meme pour y rester d'une manniere permanente.<sup>3</sup> Mais alors je vous prie de m'envoyer ici le membre de la Societé dans lequel vous avez le plus de confiance, afin de convenir des arrangemens à prendre. Car ce seroit ne point finir que de discuter par lettres des affaires de cette nature.

Je vous envoie en même tems la decision du St. Siege sur l'article de la jurisdiction.

Je suis avec respect,

Mon rev<sup>d</sup> pere,

Expeditis semel innumeris scribis [seriis] negotiis, quibus immediate post adventum meum oppressus per aliquot dies fui, transmisi episcopo Philadelphensi breve contra ipsum Hogan; aliud autem Rev<sup>do</sup> P. Carolo Neale Societatis Jesu in Foederatis Americae Statibus superiori.

Hogan obedientiam Sanctae Sedis iudicio primum professus est; quinimo scripto promisit e dioecesi Philadelphensi intra paucos dies se fore discessurum. Verum subinde insidiosis precibus tum temporalium cathedralis administratorum, tum quorundam suae gentis turbulentorum hominum, abreptus, sanctum quod conceperat propositum abiecit. A pluribus olim suis asseclis fuit derelictus, spesque concipitur, et quidem non vana, quod cito ab ecclesiae cathedralis occupatione sit ejiciendus ope brachii saecularis.

<sup>1</sup> We omit Marechal's Latin translations of Neale's letters. There is a copy of the first letter, 9 Dec., 1822, sent by C. Neale himself, but not transcribed by his own hand, to Benedict Fenwick, enclosed in a note of his own, dated 18 Dec., 1822. This differs much in form, but not in substance, from Marechal's copy; and was probably taken by Neale's amanuensis from a preliminary draft, after the letter had been sent to Marechal, under date of 9 December. In fact, the transcript for Fenwick has a date: Dec. 7th 1822. In his own note he begins by saying: The A. B. has sent me the Brief etc., and makes no doubt but that the sons of Ignatius will readily comply. He desires a speedy answer, and that some one of confidence be sent to settle the business. In this you will find my answer, etc. Cf. infra, No. 124, C, note 12.

The second letter of Neale, 23 Dec., 1822, to Marechal (No. 126, A), is so distorted in the copy (English College Archives), that we take it from other sources, as indicated below.

Mount Carmel,

After some compliments on my safe return, he goes on :

Now to business. The affair is of great consequence to us, and therefore requires mature deliberation. If the Cardinals, who were not interested, took six weeks to consider it, what ought we to do who, as Shakespeare (1) calls it, are to be ruined by such a fell swoop? For, if we could not live and pay our debts with it, how shall we do without it? Our debts are between twenty and thirty thousand dollars. (2) The winter and approaching festivals render a meeting of Trustees, if not impossible, extremely difficult. Therefore they must be allowed time (3). The General, it seems by your letter, required time for information (4).<sup>2</sup> It was not granted. I should be glad to know, who pleaded our cause before the Cardinals? (5) We had appointed no one; and how could we, not knowing that the cause was to be judged by them? (6) The General could not, for the reason above mentioned. Before a decision be made, audi alteram partem. It appears to me that the Bull, etc., are founded on a false supposition, and of course are null and void. They suppose the Jesuits to be proprietors of such property (7), whereas the whole belongs to the Corporation consisting of secular priests as well as religious. Not a word in the Act about Jesuits; neither can they hold or defend it as such. How then can they be commanded to give to others what is not theirs? (8) Again, is the property civic or ecclesiastic? (7°) Bona Corporationis, juxta decretum senatus Marylandiensis, vere pertinent ad clerum sive saecularem sive regularem qui in provinciae missionibus laborant. Verum Jesuitae, contra mentem ac litteram praefati decreti, excludunt omnem saecularem clerum, etiam archiepiscopum, tum ab administratione, tum a participatione illorum bonorum — Jocatur certe hic P. Neale distinguendo Corporationem a Jesuitis, siquidem constat Jesuitis, videlicet :

1. Administratores ejus bonorum sunt ad unum Jesuitae, nempe : Patres Carolus Neale, Franc. Neale, Leon. Edelen, Bened. Fenwick, Jos. Carbery, S.J., Trustees.

Porro cum omnia statuuntur pluralitate votorum, evidens est omnia Jesuitas penes se habere.

(8°) Potest certe S. P. mandare Jesuitis ut portionem bonorum ecclesiasticorum, quorum administrationem habent, tradant archiepiscopo, juxta jus quod habet ex ipsomet decreto senatus Marylandiensis.

(9°) Bona Corporationis sunt stricto sensu ecclesiastica :

1. Princeps Baltimor caeterique pii eorum donatores ea divino cultui consecrarunt.

2. Ipsimet Jesuitae eorum civiles possessores, juxta tenorem decreti Marylandiensis, cum juramento affirmarunt coram magistratibus ea esse destinata ad usus religiosos et pios.

3. Senatus Marylandiensis decrevit ea applicanda esse sustentationi cleri R. C. Marylandiensis.

Ergo sub omni respectu sunt ecclesiastica.<sup>7</sup>

<sup>6</sup> Also Louis de Barth, and apparently William Vergnes, who was admitted as late as 17 May, 1813. (Md.-N. Y. Province Archives, Proceedings of the Corporation, 17 May, 1813, 7°; cf. No. 115, note 24.) There is no indication of his having ceased to be a member; and in 1827 Francis Neale speaks of his property (cf. No. 135, A, note 29). On the involved state of affairs which had resulted from the mixed membership of the Select Body and of the Board, compare the experiences of the Jesuits with Bitouzey and Pasquet (No. 113, C-S), as well as the letters of Carroll on the same subject, infra (No. 178, G<sup>2</sup>, seq.). The incongruity of the situation had become more pronounced after 1814, when, the Society being canonically restored, the Corporation itself was an incongruity: seeing that it had lost then its original reason for existence, as a guardian of the property till the Society should be restored. Cf. No. 113, Q.

<sup>7</sup> The persistent contention of C. Neale, on the one side, that the property in question was not ecclesiastical, or, as he has it in another place, was not Jesuitical and ecclesiastical (No. 126, A, note (b)), and the contradictory statement, on the other side, made here by Marechal, that it was ecclesiastical, call for a comparison with the time of the destruction of the Society, which placed out of the grasp (10) of the Holy See <sup>(b)</sup> [such?] secular powers. What is it now? Purely civic. Even had it been ecclesiastic before, the Act of Incorporation has changed it into civic, and made it subject to no other laws but those of the country. (11) Has Rome any jurisdiction in temporals, either here or in England? (12) How came she by it? There has been no concordat[t] made between the two governments. The contrary seems evident. The oath of allegiance taken by English Roman Catholics by permission of Rome acknowledges her power only in spirituals. If Rome has no power, what becomes of the Bull, etc.? The General has no such power from the Constitution or Institute. But you will say, the Pope has given him that power. If the Pope has none, how can he give it?

ex-Jesuits. audet proferre?

(12<sup>o</sup>) Forsitan quidam Anglo-catholici non agnoscunt jurisdictionem English sancti Pontificis in temporalia regum. Sed quis catho-Catholics. licus in Anglia qui contendit sanctum Pontificem nullam jurisdictionem habere in bona Deo consecrata?

(b) Translated in Marechal's Latin: Extra violentam S. Sedis occupationem. In C. Neale's transcript for Fenwick: which [the Suppression?] placed it out of the grasp of the Holy See, or Secular Power.

Maryland language and terms of the time. Marechal's statement is in strict conformity with that of the English Provincial, Father Edward Knott, nearly two centuries earlier (supra, No. 16, Notandum 10<sup>o</sup> p. 171); with that of Pope Paul III. (supra, No. 61, A, p. 247); and with the express declaration of the actual General, Father Fortis, when criticizing this very notion of the Maryland Jesuits (infra, No. 197). On the other hand, this statement of Marechal's here is in contradiction with his own affirmation made elsewhere, regarding the Jesuit property in Maryland (No. 116, C, p. 408); when, addressing the same General, Father Fortis, he alleges, "as an indisputable fact," that, for more than a hundred years past, the superiors of the Society in America "had made all kinds of contracts, v.g. had bought, sold, lent, borrowed, contracted debts, received donations, and very rich ones too, etc., etc.," and that sine praevio consensu Superioris Generalis, "without the previous consent of the General." If that was true, then the property was not ecclesiastical. And, in this contention, Marechal was distinctly rebutting the General's argument drawn from "canonical laws," juxta regulas canonicas, or, as Marechal turned and modified the General's phrase, juxta regulas canonicas cui praesides Societatis. This came to precisely the same issue, since a regular Order's "canonical rules" are rules according to the ecclesiastical canons: Jesuitical and ecclesiastical, as Charles Neale's phrase has it. Again, Marechal's statement here is also at variance with his own practice in the handling of Baltimore diocesan or mensal property, left him by his predecessors (No. 184, Eutaw Street property). Neale's language, and Marechal's views elsewhere at variance with his statement here, were none the less in keeping with those of Archbishop Carroll, Father Kohlmann, the ex-Jesuits of Maryland, and the ex-Jesuits of England. An explanation of the confusion in language and tenets is attempted infra (No. 197).

Who can absolve the Trustees from their voluntary, not forced, oaths of administering the property according to justice, and laws of their country. They are bound to defend it to the best of their power against any foreign or domestic invasion contrary to our civil laws. (13) No one could reasonably expect that the Trustees, without examining the justice of the cause, would alienate such a large portion of the Corporation property. What prudent General would give up to his enemy a town or fortress to fight for it afterwards? We most profoundly respect the spiritual power of Rome, but not her temporal jurisdiction, if she has none.

These and many other questions must be submitted to able civilians<sup>(c)</sup> (14), and solved, before the Trustees can speak. In the Bull of consecration of Bishop Carroll, the Pope conferred on him the administration of the temporalities. Your Reverence perhaps does not know that that power was resisted by the holders of the property, and that Bishop Carroll, before <sup>s</sup> Cf. No. 121, A, III. pp. 465, 466, 2<sup>o</sup> — As to Harper, "one of their lawyers," being "retained by the Jesuits," cf. C. Neale, Mount Carmel, 17 Dec., 1822, to B. Fenwick, Georgetown: Tell Rev. F. Marshall to call a meeting of Trustees after the Epiphany. You can inform yourself by Mr. Taney, whether Rome has any jurisdiction in temporals or not (Georgetown College MSS. and Transcripts, Marechal Controversy, under date). On Taney, who was a Catholic, cf. No. 135, Proposition 21, where Marechal states that he has consulted Judge R. B. Taney on the Brief, and he describes him: Clarissimum R. B. Taney, qui inter jurisperitos nostros longe eminet, quique per plures annos honorabili officio senatoris in legislatura Marylandensi functus est. He states also, in the same place, that he has consulted Joannem Scott, qui nunc est membrum senatus Marylandensis et in scientia legum nostrarum peritissimus. As to heterodox lawyers and Catholic Church matters, cf. No. 121, A, III., His positio, 2<sup>o</sup>, where Marechal claims for the archbishops of Baltimore the right of having recourse at any time to the senate of Maryland for redress against the Jesuits; and this body he describes (No. 115, § 29) as being heterodox almost to a man: qui fere sunt ad unum heterodoxi.

It is a wonder to me that Rome, after having made an universal sweep of the property of the Society (16), should now cast her eyes on the small remains saved from the general wreck, to make presents of.

Is it just to take from Paul and give to Peter, that he may live splendidly, while Paul with his numerous poor family, the true proprietor, I mean the Corporation, perish with cold and hunger? (17) If it has been said, without proof or good grounds, that property had been formerly given to the Society for the benefit of religion, has it not been used for that purpose? Is it not used at present as such? The letter of your Reverence to the different congregations to support their pastors testify[ies?] in its favour.<sup>10</sup> Lawful debts must be paid before donation[s] can be given. Nemo iudex in sua causa.

<sup>9</sup> This passage of Neale's seems to admit that the Bull of Pius VI. granted the administration of Jesuit property to Bishop Carroll. Marechal had stated the contrary to the Corporation and to the Cardinals. To the former he characterized such a notion as the extravagant imagination of Father Ashton (Marechal, 30 April, 1820, to Edelen, secretary of the Corporation; infra, No. 181, E). To the latter he stigmatized it as tantam absurdam Patris Ashton Bullae interpretationem (No. 117, C, Nota 3, p. 428).

The terms of Carroll's renunciation or declaration do not imply that he renounced or resigned anything granted to him by the Papal Bull. See extract, No. 116, D, § 3; whole text and facsimile, No. 160, C. The names of proper witnesses do not appear in Carroll's autograph.

Dec. y<sup>e</sup> 11th 1822.

MOST REV. SIR,

This is an acknowledgement of the receipt of your favour, with all its mentioned contents; and the following is my answer, by the return of post, tho' very little qualified at present for the task.

Permit me however, Most Rev. Sir, to congratulate your Rev<sup>cy</sup> on your safe return, with every good wish of the approaching season. The Rev. Mother [Monastery of Mount Carmel, Port Tobacco], with her community, desire me to do the same on their part. They have never, nor do they ever fail to pray for your Rev<sup>cy</sup>. Rev. Mother has been twice administered for death since your departure; but, thanks be to the Almighty, she has escaped, and can go about tolerably well. For my part, I have been and still continue so infirm that, in my daily Masses, I always communicate by way of Viaticum.

Now to business. . . .

It ends thus:

For my own part, if I had the disposal of three White Marshes, I would willingly bestow them on your Reverence.

Remember me to the Rev. Mr. Whitfield. If you hear of my decease, which is not unlikely, be so good, Most Rev. Sir, as to pray for the repose of my soul, and believe me to be, with the greatest respect and esteem,

Your most obedient and humble servant.

<sup>12</sup> Marechal appends no annotation on Neale's remark at the end of his letter, about these my private sentiments to your Reverence. You must not take them as official. They are not such. In fact, a letter from the Superior, on a matter gravely official, might justly be taken as on a level with its matter, in spite of any disclaimer at the end. The use which, in spite of the disclaimer, Marechal makes of the communication in seqq., if not warranted by Neale's claim to privacy, is sufficiently in keeping with the tenor of another letter, written about the same time by Neale to B. Fenwick at Georgetown. Communicating a copy of this his first answer to Marechal (9 Dec.), Marechal on his own reply to Neale: his reckoning on the Jesuits' vow of obedience.

he says expressly to Fenwick: In this you will find my answer and may show it to whome you please. . . . Then he indulges in some further remarks and strictures, which even he himself had thought too strong for the archbishop or Rome: I had a great mind to tell the A. B. is his prefatory remark (Georgetown College MSS. and Transcripts, Marechal Controversy; C. Neale, Mount Carmel, 18 Dec., 1822, to B. Fenwick, Georgetown).

All this notwithstanding, the position taken up by C. Neale in the premises was technically correct; and it is sketched with precision by Benedict XIV., De Synodo Dioecessana, lib. IX., cap. viii. § 2, beginning: Non hic agimus de peculiaribus rescriptis, aut mandatis; in quorum concessione, sive expeditione, nihil facilius est, quam ut aliquando Pontifices decipiantur vel falsa rerum enarratione, vel occultatione alicujus veritatis, quam si notam habuissent, nunquam ea concessissent, aut mandassent, quae alicujus vitii arguuntur . . .; ending: . . . Non solum autem Episcopis id petentibus, sed aliis etiam quibuslibet, quorum intersit, et quorum res agatur, si damnum exponant aut jam obventum, aut proxime obventurum ex Pontificio decreto, litteris etiam Apostolicis roborato, conceditur (ut omnibus notum est) aperitio oris, ut jura sua deducere possint; quod alioquin ipsis interdictum esset, propter consuetas clausulas, ejusmodi litteris, dum nemini damnum inferri credebatur, adjectas.

However crude the manner of Neale's expressions in the foregoing letter, the substance of his statements is not unlike that of Father John Carroll's communication to Father Charles Plowden, 26 Sept., 1783, as given infra (No. 144, A). Speaking of what Father Thorpe had written from Rome, that designs were entertained of obtaining all the goods of the extinct Society in America as well as in England, Carroll says: They may be assured that they will never get possession of a sixpence of our property here; and, if any of our friends could be weak enough to deliver any real estate into their hands, or attempt to subject it to their authority, our civil government would be called upon to wrest it again out of their dominion. A foreign temporal jurisdiction will never be tolerated here; and even the spiritual supremacy of the Pope is the only reason, why in some of the United States the full participation of all civil rights is not granted to the Roman Catholics. They may therefore send their agents when they please; they will certainly return empty-handed.

MON REV. PERE,

Je pourai certainement prendre, sans crainte d'injustice ou d'erreur, l'ensemble des argumens evasifs que vous employez dans votre reponse, pour un acte indirect de resistance au jugement de S. S. Cependant dans une affaire d'une si grande consequence je crois que la charité demande de vous faire quelques observations.

D'abord je puis vous assurer que votre cause a été defendue par le P. Fortis avec toute la force et l'habilité possible; aucun des argumens renfermés dans les memoires nombreux composés par le R. P. Grassi et Kenny, et dans les ecrits transmis des Etats Unis a Rome, n'a echappé a la singuliere sagacité de votre General, ni à celle de son conseil. Il a fallu en verité! que ma cause fut bien evidemment juste, pour n'avoir pas été vaincu par des adversaires si puissans, si instruits, si actifs et si experimentés. Je ne crois pas, quelque soit la fecondité de votre genie, que vous puissiez jamais produire un seul argument que vos defenseurs n'aient deja presenté aux juges.<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup> A new argument has already been touched by Neale, which, however, has not been annotated by Marechal (No. 124, C, ad 7) in its full bearings: that the Bull, etc., are founded on a false supposition. Cf. No. 135, A, note 50.

The argument advanced here by Marechal is not new. To give the credit of equity to the Brief, he represents it as having been based on the most abundant information, supplied to the Cardinals by most competent advocates; and he insinuates that the Brief was the sentence of "judges." As to the latter point, there was no judgment passed, nor were there judges, but Cardinals negotiating a concordat, Cardinaux négociateurs, as Marechal himself had called them (No. 121, E, note 14), gli Emi. Conciliatori, as Card. Fesch styled them (No. 203; 18 June, 1822, to the General); and the Brief itself, as we infer from documents (Nos. 203, 204), was a formula of Cardinal Fesch and Mgr. Marechal, taking advantage of the proposal made by Father Fortis, that the Pope, in his administrative capacity, should give command in the premises, and the General would obey (supra, No. 121, p. 475). As to the former point of abundant information having been at the service of Marechal's adversaries, the General had affirmed the contrary to the Cardinals (No. 121, D; 18 May), and Marechal had replied that his affirmation was a ruse de guerre (No. 121, E, p. 474). The General had made the same statement, regarding the want of data, to the Secretary of the Propaganda, conveying an implicit challenge that, if Marechal denied the facts adduced already, and sufficient of themselves to quash any legal claims, the Mgr. need but allow the General to obtain the "legal and juridical proof" from America (No. 121, J, Secondo, Prima). The only answer to this, which we find, is Marechal's note on his own copy of the document to which the General is referring (No. 118), that Father Fortis "steadily refused to recognize and sign" the said document (No. 118, note 1), the very one, of which the General is speaking to the Secretary as having been submitted by himself, and as containing a narration not subject to "the slightest doubt" (No. 121, J, Secondo). An implicit admission of this difficulty, that the General was wanting in adequate information, would seem to be the inspiration of Marechal's "good Angel," on the 28th of June, to the effect that young men, who happened to be in Rome, and had never taken part in the administration of Maryland temporalities, should be called one by one in secret before the Cardinals, and be cross-examined on the merits of White Marsh (No. 121, E, note 14).

In America, treating now with Charles Neale, he returns to his previous position, that of "numerous memoirs composed by R. Father Grassi and Kenney," and "documents transmitted from the United States to Rome," which had made his adversaries so conversant with the question, si instruits. So he had written to the General: "If your Paternity will but examine the letters, which without doubt have been sent to you upon this question, you will see. . . ." (No. 116, C, 2<sup>o</sup>, p. 407). He wrote to the Cardinals: "I fear much that the author has very deliberately advanced falsehoods," des faussetés; "for his composition shows evidently that he is informed of the most recent events" (No. 119, [VII]). "I beg the Congregation to read it [a letter of Mr. Bruté], and it will see how inexact, and I would venture to say false, is the assertion of the author" (Ibid., [IX]). "Father Fortis has information much more exact and more extensive of their [Jesuit] properties, than I have or can ever have" (No. 121, E, p. 474). Thus the position taken up by Marechal in Rome was that of abundant information possessed by the General, with corresponding falsity in the use of it. In the Numbers 123 and 125, addressing Charles Neale, he alleges the same abundant information possessed by Father Fortis, as a sufficient guarantee for the equity of the Brief and as an additional warrant for its execution. This meant Marechal's immediate entry into White Marsh, and, according to the express terms of the Brief (No. 121, F), he was to enter before any appeal could be made by the Jesuits; then, when once he had entered he could not be dislodged except with the alternative of being lodged in another estate equally good (2, § iii.). One month, intra mensem, from the date of the archbishop's return, was the limit fixed by the Brief to accomplish the fact of entry (2, § i.). See text, No. 205. This is the meaning of the term, 27 November till 27 December, intimated in this same letter (No. 125, A), after which, as Marechal threatens, he will "proceed to measures in consequence." Hence it appears that the line of argument, which had been used in Rome to closure debate, was now used in America to obstruct the efficacy of appeal; and the terms of the Brief seemed to embody the obstruction. But cf. No. 124, note 12; Benedict XIV. on such a case.

In point of fact, what the General had stated, with respect to the want of preliminary information, is borne out by the General Archives S.J., as we find them. Prior to the precipitate close of the discussion in Rome, we find the subject treated only in ordinary letters of the Maryland Superior, Father Kohlmann, several letters of Father Grassi from Turin, in a short documentary memorandum of Grassi's (Maryl. Epist., 6, i., D), with some incidental references in other correspondence. Of authoritative documents the first supply begins after this date, with results which will be seen infra.

crois qu'il vaudroit mille fois mieux pour vous et vos confreres de vous y soumettre en toute simplicité que d'en éluder les dispositions par des defaites [!] semblables a celles contenues dans votre lettre.

Je vous ai envoyé le Bref de S. S., le 27 nov. dernier. J'attendrai jusqu' au 27 du mois present votre reponse définitive et celle de Trustees, vos confreres. Cette epoque une fois passée, je regarderai votre silence comme un acte de desobeissance a l'ordre formel de S. S. et de votre General. Lisez, je vous prie, le texte du Bref, et vous ne pourrez certainement me blamer, si je procede a des mesures en consequence.

Grants a term of one month;
after which "measures
quence."

Je suis vraiment affligé de votre état habituel d'infirmités. Je conjure Dieu de tout mon coeur qu'étant sur le bord du tombeau vous ne terminiez pas votre carriere en ce monde par un acte de désobeissance au Vicaire de J. C., et que votre Société n'ait pas un jour raison de vous regarder comme ayant porté, avant d'expirer, un coup fatal, si non a son existence, du moins a sa posterité [!].

Je suis avec respect

A cette lettre le P. Charles Neale m'a répondu le 23 decembre 1822 en m'envoyant l'analyse de son acte de protestation, tant contre la bulle de Pie VI. que contre le bref de Pie VII.

<sup>2</sup> This is not said by Neale in his P.S., No. 126, q.v.; nor is there any mention of it in the longer Memorial written by B. Fenwick, signed by C. Neale, and sent at the same time (No. 184). The communication of the documents to the proper authorities was a matter left to the General. The latter passed nothing on till he was called upon, nearly a year later, by the Secretary of the Propaganda, Mgr. Pietro Caprano. Then (6 Nov., 1823) he submitted the various papers which had accumulated (General Archives S.J., Epist. R. P. N. Al. Fortis, Lib. I., pars 1, No. 206, pp. 403-406).

On the other hand, cf. No. 123, p. 486, where Marechal tells Neale that he must transmit to His Holiness the resolution of the Trustees in accepting or rejecting the Brief, and he makes no mention of the Sacred Congregation as intermediary: Je dois transmettre immédiatement au S. Père votre détermination à cet égard. Cf. No. 121, F, note 16.

I received your favour of the 14th. inst. Be not angry with me, as I am not with you, because we are of a different opinion. If we go to law let it be with Christian charity, as St. Francis de Sales recommends. I told your Reverence in my last that, as superior, I had no more power to make over the property of the Corporation than the grand Turk (1). The consequence is plain. The General, FF. Grassi, Kenny and those who wrote to Rome, were very little acquainted with the affairs of the Corporation; and it was not made known here that any such cause was to be tried there; otherwise proper information might have been sent in due time. Such information has now been sent to F. General, and duplicates thereof will also be forwarded. It would be very unreasonable to require a General to deliver up a town to fight for it afterwards, as possession is equal to eleven points of the law. Altho' the Trustees cannot meet till after the Epiphany, as your Reverence insists on an answer by the 27th. inst., I inform your Reverence by this that I, as having been expressly commanded to see the Brief executed, have entered my Protest against it, dated 21st. December. The substance whereof is, as my health does not permit me to write it out in full, as follows:

1mo. That the Brief is founded on a gratis supposition, that the property belongs to the Jesuits; which is not true. 2do. That the cause has been prejudged, no notice having been given us that it was to be tried at Rome (2); the necessary informations were therefore wanting. 3ly.

OBSERVATIONES ARCHIEPISCOPI BALTIMORIS.

That the grant of the Pope of administration<sup>2</sup> to Bishop Carroll was null and never took effect. (3). 4ly. That for greater security, long before the re-establishment of the Society, all the property in the State of Maryland, which was held by only a few individual citizens, was incorporated by an Act of the General Assembly, to enjoy all the rights and be subject to all the civil laws of the country; no ecclesiastical property being allowed of in the State. (4). 5<sup>o</sup> The Act appoints that such property should be administered by a certain number of Trustees (5), bound by solemn oath to do their duty by it, and consequently defend it against all invaders acting contrary to the laws of the State. 6to. That Archbishop Carroll and his successor Archbishop Neale (6), who were commonly chosen amongst the Trustees, took the prescribed oath and religiously observed it,<sup>3</sup> without any pretensions to any thing more than causam fore delaturum ad tribunal sanctae Sedis, nempe patribus F. Neale et Leon. Edelen.

(3) Territus DD. Carroll famosi P. Ashton et ejus asseclarum clamoribus, non suscepit administrationem bonorum ecclesiae Marylandiensis. Verum nunc injusta Jesuitarum oppositio invalidat bullam Pii VI.<sup>4</sup>

Ashton and the Bull of Pius VI., which gave the Jesuit property to the Maryland Church.

(4) Ante revolutionem Americanam bona Deo sacra possidebantur a privatis hominibus, quasi privata bona forent. Sed non ita a tempore revolutionis.

Hinc omnia bona, ad pios et religiosos usus consecrata, solemnī suo decreto protexit senatus Marylandiensis in perpetuum usum cleri Marylandiensis.

(5) Fidei-commissarii juramento promittunt se fore fideliter administraturos bona Corporationis et redditus ex eis promanantes applicaturos fore fini, qui in decreto senatus exprimitur, nempe sustentationi cleri Marylandiensis. Nunc autem quisnam est hujus legis infractor? Num archiepiscopus qui, ut pars principalis cleri, jus habet ad portionem illorum bonorum, aut Jesuitae qui omnia sibi tribuunt? Nonne merito haberi possunt tanquam injusti invasores?

The Jesuits "unjust invaders" of the Baltimore see's property.

(6) Archiepiscopus Carroll et Archiepiscopus Neale constanter perceperunt redditus ex bonis corporationis Marylandiensis. Utrum se juramento obstrinxere nihil aliud exigere, nescio. Sed Archiepiscopus Carroll semper existimavit suos successores fore percepturos eosdem redditus quibus ipse potiebatur. Et illud adeo est verum ut, cum restaurata fuerit Societas in Marylandia, exegit ut P. Robertus Molineux primus superior restauratae Societatis what the Corporation chose to give them, as being of the Body, and what it could afford.<sup>(a)</sup> 7<sup>o</sup> That the Trustees cannot, without a flagrant violation of their oath (7), consent to part with so much of their property as would ruin the Corporation; its debts being so great at present as to make it doubtful whether it will be able to pay them and live, without making very great sacrifices. 8<sup>o</sup> The Corporation which is numerous must have its table. The White Marsh with all its appurtenances is nearly equal to one third of the whole property. If that were taken for the Archbishop's table, the Corporation would starve. (8). 9<sup>o</sup> The Corporation consists of secular priests as well as religious. (9). In process of time it may consist of religious only. But that will make no change; it will remain in the same state. Civic property both here and in England is on the same footing, and must be held and defended by the laws of the country. 10. Were the privato contractu se obligaret ipsi remittere titulum civilem, quo redditus quibus fruebatur secure transmitterentur suis successoribus.

Two Jesuit oaths: the second a perjury against the see of Baltimore.

Prius juramentum est certe justum. Sed, nedum sit infractio hujus sacramenti portionem tradere bonorum ecclesiasticorum archiepiscopo Baltimori, non possunt vere ipsi denegare eam sine infractione illius juramenti.

Quoad posterius juramentum, est certe injustum, cum opponatur tum decreto senatus Marylandensis tum juramento quod publice coram magistratibus emittunt.

(8) Jesuitae qui constituunt Corporationem mensam habere debent. Ergo omnia bona ecclesiae Marylandensis retinere debent. Verum archiepiscopus mensam habere non debet, ac proinde neque etiam portionem illorum bonorum. Optimum certe argumentum!!!

property <sup>(b)</sup> ecclesiastic and were there a concordat or agreement between this country and Rome concerning it, I maintain that it would be a crying injustice to take it from them and bestow it on another—from them who legally purchased it by their money and labour, from them who planted here the vineyard of the Lord, who alone have cultivated it for hundreds of years, and by whose care it has been diffused and spread from this State throughout the Union (10).

Such is the substance of my Protest. We know the nature of our vows to the Pope. Your Reverence thinks we ought to obey with simplicity; we think we could not without a violation of our oath. We excuse your Reverence for thinking so; excuse us for thinking otherwise.

<sup>(c)</sup> Your Reverence prophecies persecution, very great persecution, on our refusal. If so, we must bear it with joy. To suffer for justice' sake has always been the portion of the Society, which resembles its Divine Master, J. C. We have however too good an opinion of your Reverence to fear it from you. I never knew any persecutor of the Society rejoice for having done it, at the hour of death. My state of health reminds me of death daily and hourly; but your Reverence must know, if I die in my present resistance to the Brief, I shall die without scruple. Different men, different judgements. I believe your Reverence thinks you act right. Think the same of us; nor let us fall out about the pitiful, perishable trash of this world. St. Paul tells us: Sit rationabile obsequium vestrum. I hope in God mine will always be such.

I will answer the other part of your Reverence's letter another time. In the mean time, Most Rev<sup>d</sup> Sir, believe me to be,

With great esteem,

Your Rev.'s most humble servant,

C. NEALE, S.J.

P.S. My Protest shall be forwarded to F. General to communicate.

(10) Amplificatio poetica. Jesuitae per multos annos non sacrum ministerium exercuerunt extra parvam terrae partem quae inter flumen Potowmach et Patuxen includitur. Circa medium ultimi saeculi sex aut octo ad summum missionarios habebant in caeteris Marylandiae partibus, totidem in Pennsylvania. Nunc florescit religio catholica in omnibus provinciis foederatae Americae. Illud incrementum non Jesuitis, sed sacerdotibus saecularibus omnino debetur.

Religion in America owes little to the Jesuits. Owes everything to secular priests.

(b) In the Proceedings of the Corporation: Were the property jesuitical and ecclesiastical. It may also be the reading of Marechal's text in the English College copy.

(c) From here to the end, Neale's text omitted in Marechal's Latin translation for the Cardinals.

1822, December 27.

Hae sunt duae epistolae quibus P. Car. Neale me certiore fecit se rejicere breve Pii VII. Quasdam notas eisdem adjeci, praecipue ad determinandum sensum ambiguarum sententiarum quibus utitur.

Quoad principia quae profert contra auctoritatem Sanctae Sedis et reverentiam debitam Eminentissimis sancti Pontificis consiliariis et coadjutoribus, eorum examen omnino relinquo sapientiae Sacrae Congregationis. Verum quid faciendum est in hoc praesenti gravissimo casu?

Insuper circiter decem Jesuitae nunc missionariorum in mea dioecesi functionem exercent. Porro si forte obstinaciter denegarent sese submittere mandato sancti Pontificis, non possent amplius sacrum exercere ministerium; atque, in penuria qua laboro sacerdotum, plures congregationes fidelium, per aliquod saltem tempus, pastoribus destitutae relinquerentur.

Dixi, sine ejus licentia; vindictae enim causa possent simul et eodem tempore meam dioecesim deserere, et sic animae, defectu pastorum, pereundi periculo exponerentur.

In proxima mea epistola sacrae Congregationi exponam ea quae pertinent ad metropolitanam provinciam. Interim, summa cum veneratione gratitudine ac obsequio remaneo,

Eminentissime Cardinalis,

Humill. ac devot. servus tuus,

1823, January 4.

Marechal to Dr. Robert Gradwell, Rome. Incidents. Measures to be taken in the controversy.

Pour le Dr Gradwel.

+ Baltimore, 4 janv. 1823.

MON CHER DR,

Vous etes sans doute deja instruit de mon heureuse arrivée a New-York après une très dangereuse navigation. Le Baron de Treÿll Ambassadeur de Russie près des Etats Unis, ne pouvant soutenir plus long tems les bourasques de la mer, a débarqué avec sa suite en Irlande. Pour moi et quelques autres passagers, nous avons continué notre route, pendant laquelle nous avons eu, pendant près de 25 jours, une succession continuelle de calme et de tempêtes. Mon excellente constitution a résisté aisement a toutes les incommodités du voyage. Je suis parti le 1<sup>er</sup> oct. du Havre et j'ai mis pied a terre a New-York le 21 nov. La Divine Providence n'a cependant pas permis que j'arrivasse a Baltimore sans éprouver un petit accident. En sautant du Steam boat sur le quay de Philadelphie, je me suis foulé un muscle a la jambe. Pendant près de 13 jours il a fallu garder la chambre. Je me suis cependant rendu le jour de mon arrivée ici à ma cathedrale. Grande certainement a été la joie de mon cher troupeau. Le Te Deum qui a été exécuté dans cette occasion auroit, je crois, plu aux oreilles scavantes et delicates des Romains. La joie étoit d'autant plus grande, que mon clergé et mon troupeau commencent a croire que je ne reviendrais pas dans les Etats Unis. Un bruit avoit couru ici que j'étois nommé archevêque de Vienne, ensuite de Lyon, etc., etc., etc. D'autres historiellles encore plus absurdes passaient de bouches en bouches. Dieu merci me voila a mon poste. Mon diocèse est en paix. La piété fait des progrès; des conversions même remarquables s'opèrent, etc., etc., etc. Je dois beaucoup a la prudence et au zèle de mon grand Vicaire, the Rev<sup>d</sup> Mr. Witfield [Whitfield]. Il me semble même que les choses sont dans un état plus prospere, que lorsque je quittai l'Amerique.

La seule affaire qui m'inquiète est celle des Jesuites. Ce sont des hommes déterminés. Ils rejettent l'autorité de la bulle de Pie VI. et du bref de Pie VII. Il sera nécessaire de toute la fermeté des cardinaux, qui ont jugé ma controverse avec eux, pour les faire obeir. Et vous, mon cher Docteur, vous aurez besoin de toute votre prudence, zele et experience pour prémunir le S<sup>t</sup> Siege contre les machines en tout genre que ces bons peres vont employer pour réussir. Dieu merci, toutes les subtilités et ruses de guerre, dont ils font usage dans leurs écrits, sont si visibles, que j'ai peine a croire que les cardinaux ou le S<sup>t</sup> Père se laissent aisément surprendre.

Vous trouverez dans ce paquet :

La grande lettre latine est pour la Propagande. Il me semble qu'il seroit avantageux de remettre a chaque cardinal une copie de la traduction latine des lettres du P. Neale avec mes notes; exceptés le card. Consalvi et sigr. Capacini, aux quels je presenterois une copie anglaise des lettres du même P. Neale. Peut être seroit bon de remettre en outre une copie de la traduction latine a M<sup>rs</sup> Sambucy, Ostini, Pistelli, P. Oriolo, etc., etc., etc. Je laisse tout cela cependant a votre excellent jugement et a votre prudence.

Quant au card. Fesch, il est necessaire de lui donner une copie de tous les papiers que je vous envoie, excepté ce que est écrit en anglais. Les originaux du P. Neale me semblent devoir être déposés a la Propagande. Voila bien d'embarras qui je vous donne. Mais nous ne scaurions prendre trop de moyens pour n'être pas battus par nos adversaires.

Mille compliments respectueux a messeigneurs et excellens amis Isoard et Nicholai. Saluez bien de ma part toute la famille Torlonia. Dites au jeune duc, que j'ai fait sa commission par les mains du Dr. Poynter. Dites aussi a M<sup>re</sup> Mazzio ou a M<sup>r</sup> Sartory, que les papiers qu'il m'avoit confié ont été remis a M<sup>r</sup> Sartory de Trenton. Je lui ai écrit et je n'ai pas encore reçu de reponse. M<sup>r</sup> Woodville et Creighton ont aussi reçu les lettres que m'avoit remis un neg[ociant] de Naples. Bien de respects a M<sup>re</sup> la princesse Corsini et au P. Fr. de Sales. Je me recommande instamment a leurs saintes prierres. Mille benedictions a tous vos braves seminaristes, y compris mon coadjuteur et mon secrétaire. Je n'entends pas la belle musique de ma cathédrale sans penser a M<sup>r</sup> White.

(a) Here two lines in the original are deleted.

Quant a vous, mon cher D<sup>r</sup>, agréez l'assurance de tout mon respect et de ma reconnaissance.

Tout a vous,

+ Baltimore, 17 janvier, 1823.

MON CHER DOCTEUR,

Il y a environ 10 jours, je vous ai envoyé par la voie de Livourne un gros paquet. Il contient 1<sup>o</sup> la longue lettre latine cy-incluse; 2<sup>o</sup> les lettres originales du P. Charles Neale, contre la bulle de Pie VI. et le bref de Pie VII.; 3<sup>o</sup> deux lettres que je lui ai ecrites depuis mon arrivée; 4. des lettres pour S. E. le Card. Ponente [Fesch], le card. Rivarola et Consalvi. J'espere que ce paquet vous arrivera; cependant, de crainte d'accident, j'ai cru devoir vous envoyer un duplicate de ma lettre latine a la Propagande. Je vous l'adresse directement, parceque je crains que, si je l'envoyois a Mg<sup>r</sup> Pedicini, il ne vous fut difficile d'en obtenir la lecture.

Repetitions.

Les lettres du P. Neale ont fait rire ici et scandalisé; il nie ouvertement la juridiction de Pie VI. et Pie VII. sur des questions temporelles de cette nature. Vous observerez la durété de ses expressions contre la cour de Rome, les cardinaux, etc., etc., etc. Le reste est une suite de phrases si obscures, fausses ou ambiguës, que c'est un vrai galimatias.

Après avoir tiré copie de l'incluse, vous la mettrai[ez] sous enveloppe et la présenterai[ez] a Mg<sup>r</sup> Pedicini.

Je crois qu'il seroit bon d'en donner une copie a chaque cardinal membre de la Propagande, en presentant a chacun mes humbles respects.

Il seroit même utile de donner des copies de deux lettres du P. Ch. Neale, avec mes notes, au P. Grandi, Sambucy, Ostini, Oriolo, etc., etc., etc. Mes adversaires, je vous l'assure, sont de gens déterminés. A la distance où ils sont du S<sup>t</sup> Siège, ils ont peu de regard pour son autorité. Leur but est d'agir directement avec le S. Pontife, laissant de coté les cardinaux instruits de l'affaire.<sup>1</sup> Avec leurs incroyables subtilités ils espèrent reussir. Mais certes! j'espere de la sagesse, du courage, de la magnanimité et de la justice des cardinaux membres de la Propagande, qu'ils scauront faire obeir ces religieux aux decrets du S<sup>t</sup> Siege.

Vous connoissez mon respect et attachement pour vous. Mon affaire avec les Jesuites demandera toute votre fermeté et votre intelligence. Mais ma cause est trop juste et trop évidente pour que je l'a perde [perde ?].

Tout à vous,

+ AMB., Arch. Balt.

P.S. J'apprendrois avec bien de plaisir que vous êtes actuellement sans entraves dans l'administration temporelle et spirituelle de votre maison.

Baltimore, 28 janv. 1823.

MON CHER DOCTEUR,

Je prie bien Dieu que les deux gros paquets, que je vous ai adressés, il y a peu de jours, vous parviennent en sûreté. L'un d'eux est particulièrement interessant. Il contient outre mes [?] lettres, les deux lettres originales du P. Neale avec leurs traductions latines; des lettres aux cardinaux Fesch, Rivarola, Consalvi. Cependant dans la crainte que ces paquets ne s'égarent en route, je vous écris de nouveau par Liverpool.

Aussitôt après mon arrivée a Baltimore, j'ai envoyé le bref de S. S. au père Charles Neale superieur Provincial de la Société. Voici mot a mot la reponse qu'il m'a donné.

Aussitôt après avoir lu cette lettre, ou plutôt cet amas de propositions fausses et injurieuses au S<sup>t</sup> Siege, de faits mal présentés, d'assertions ambiguës, etc., etc., etc., je crois, pous[s]é par un sentiment de charité, devoir écrire a ce bon père et tacher de le ramener a de meilleurs sentimens. Mais il m'a répondu de la maniere suivante.

etc., demanderoit un volume. J'ai ajouté quelques notes dans les paquets qui sont en route, et qui résolvent les principales difficultés. Après les observations que j'ai faites durant le cours du procès a Rome et les conversations que j'ai eu avec vous sur ce sujet, il suffit de vous mettre sous les yeux les principes suivants :

Deer Creek.

Extract from the Proceeding of the Corporation, Sept. 11, 1806. The Corporation adopts a proposal made by the representatives of the clergy, to transfer to the use of the bishop of Baltimore the estate of the clergy on Bohemia, on condition of the bishop's maintaining a priest there for the service of the neighbouring catholics, and that, on the death of the present bishop, the clergy may resume into their hand the estate of Bohemia, on giving sufficient security to the succeeding bishop to pay or cause to be paid

Je laisse a la S. Congregation d'examiner la doctrine peu saine du P. Ch. Neale. Quant a l'obeissance due au bref de Pie VII., j'attends en toute confiance qu'elle l'exigera promptement et efficacement. Je ne le commenderois pas sous peine de censures. Car, comme le P. Ch. Neale et ses vieux confreres pretendent que le Pape n'a aucun droit de prononcer sur le temporel, même consacré a Dieu et a l'église, ils n'en feroient aucun cas. Le mieux seroit que le S. Pontife, avec le P. General ensemble, Every recalci-

Quelque vieux obstinés pouront resister, et ce ne sera pas un mal qu'ils soient exclus de la Societé, a laquelle ils ne font point certainement honneur par leur conduite.

J'espere que S.E. le cardinal Ponente [Fesch] et vous, mon cher Docteur, mettera pour faire terminer ce procès la même activité, intelligence, courage et charité, que vous m'avez temoigné dans le commencement de l'affaire.

Bien de compliments a tous vos seminaristes. Mille respects a Messeig<sup>rs</sup> Isoard, Nicolai, Pedicini, etc., etc., a M<sup>r</sup> Grandi, Capacini, etc., etc.; Ostini, Sambucy, P. Oriolo, P. Fr. de Sales, principe Corsini; duc of Torlonia, etc., etc., etc.

Tout à vous pour la vie,

As a close to this second stage of the controversy we add some comments from Father J. G. Beschter's letter, 17 Feb., 1823, addressed from Baltimore, where he was pastor of the German Church, St. John's, to the Superior of the Mission, Father Charles Neale, at Mount Carmel, near Port Tobacco. He forwarded at the same time a copy taken by himself of four Resolves from the autograph of the archbishop, who desired them to be signed by the trustees and congregation of St. John's Church. At the same time, Beschter took from the prelate's own Roman copy a transcript of the Pro-paganda decree, 27 July, 1822, on the subject of Lay-Trustees in general, and forwarding it to Neale he attested it as faithful (cf. supra, No. 121, A, II. note 4). The four Resolves were a rather trenchant application of the decree, according to the first portion of which the trustees of churches already built could not be treated except to moral persuasion.

<sup>3</sup> No. 178, Q. Cf. Nos. 115, § 21, ad fin.; 116, C, note 8; 117, B, note 3. The text of the Corporation's resolution is not complete in Marechal's Extract here; but it is correct in the essential point, that only the Bishop of Baltimore, John Carroll, was in question, and the succeeding bishop, Leonard Neale, both ex-Jesuits. For a clause left out here, after the Bishop of Baltimore, see the context, No. 116, C, note 8.

Baltimore, Feb. 17, 1823.

Some casual matters about correspondence.

On the 30th ult<sup>o</sup> the Archbishop came to my house and handed me some Resolves which he wished the Trustees and Pewholders to sign, and he began to speak on the affair of the Jesuits; but I interrupted him by saying that I was tired of that topic, and that I was tired even of Baltimore; that I did not know, if after my year was out I should begin another. Some altercation. Palafox. Whitfield. The Constitutions of the Society.<sup>4</sup>

The argument that he made use of at Rome was, that, as there was no means to secure donations for the Catholic Church in these States but by giving them to individuals, and as there were no secular priests here at that time, so all the donations for the Church were given to the Jesuits for the Church; but now, as there are poor bishops, exposed to the caprices of laymen, he begged that all that part of our property might be invested in them, etc., etc. His principle is this, that the property left to the priest was left for the Catholic Church where he lived at that time. Against which principle I give an example which happened to my self. Whilst I was at Lancaster, the widow Michenfelder gave me one undivided moiety of 1200 acres of land lying in Bold Eagle county, Pa. According to the above principle, that property should have remained for the church of Lancaster, because the donatrix is supposed to have had that intention. Now I can positively assure that such a supposition is quite and utterly false. For the donatrix had not only not given it for the church of Lancaster, but had made it over to me to be disposed either for the poor, or for printing book, or for my own use if I chose to dispose of it in any manner I chose. Now, when I was called to be the master of novices, I was affrayed the property should be sold for taxes, and I being to far off to prevent it or to know of it, I returned the same with the papers to the same widow to give it to some body else, who could dispose of it to advantage. This example puts those who have adopted the Archbishop's principles to shame and confusion. As this is a truth which I can affirm by oath if it should be necessary, they cannot draw the conclusion as they wish or the Archbishop, to throw dust in the eyes of his friends says to them, that the professed Jesuits cannot hold any property as belonging to them, therefore the property, which they obtained from Lord Baltimore, at the destruction of the Society became church property ;<sup>5</sup> and that those who had it in trust secured it to the Church by the Act of Corporation ;<sup>6</sup> that Rome therefore dispose of it in his favour.

The four Resolves for the German congregation.

This is a faithful copy of the Archbishop's own handwriting.

J. W. BESCHTER, pastor,

St. John's, Baltimore.

Tho all the above is quite catholic, my congregation have refuse to sign it, because they say they have reason to fear the Abp. might be inclined to deprive them of the privilege of having a German pastor, etc., etc.

Md.-N. Y. Province Archives, 1823, Feb. 17.

We arrive at the third and final stage of the controversy with Mgr. Marechal. It exhibits his claims to property of the Jesuits as becoming more openly involved in claims to acquire jurisdiction over themselves ; his resigning all immediate advantages under the Brief, because of the publicity now given to the dispute, and particularly because of fears arising from the side of the American Government ; his substituting a demand for a pension on behalf of his see ; finally, his acceptance of the offer which was made by the Society, not in Maryland but in Rome, to gratify himself personally during his life with $200 per quarter. As he died at the age of fifty-nine, about seventeen months after this arrangement was made, he had received through Gradwell, his agent in Rome, $1000, a sum which could not have defrayed the expenses incurred in the contentions of six years' duration.

Marechal.
i. Jurisdiction; the Society's privileges.
Rescript of Dec. 24, 1813.

(English Province Archives, Letters of Charles Plowden, portfolio 2, ff. 32, 33; Plowden, Reggio, 6 Sept., 1820, to Tristram, Rector of Stonyhurst: At Bologna, I saw the Superior of the [Russian] exiles, Fr. Dzierzozinski; Plowden will recommend him to the Vicar-General for the American Mission.—General Archives S.J., Maryl. Ibid., Marechal, Baltimore, 30 Nov., 1823, to Dzierzozinski, Georgetown; letter of congratulation on his appointment as Superior of the American Mission.)

The letter of Marechal, asking for a copy of the document from Dzierzozinski, who was not yet Superior, runs thus, in an English style which is not like his own:

When I had the pleasure of conversing with you, last week, you exhibited to me a letter containing certificates under the hand and seal of the secretary of the Society, which, you said, prove that you and your Rev. Brethren in this country enjoy the ancient privileges granted by a series of S. Pontiffs to your religious community. I must confess that, casting my eyes upon them, I merely attended to their dates and signatures. As, however, it is important for me to know their contents, will you have the goodness to send me a copy of them. Recommending myself to your prayers,

I remain with great esteem,

Rev. Father,

Your humble serv<sup>t</sup>

Ex hoc instrumento, antea prorsus mihi ignoto, concludit R. P. Dzierzozinsky se suosque gaudere omnibus privilegiis quibus gaudebant in Russia Jesuitae, id est juxta ipsum, omnibus privilegiis quibus donata fuit antiqua Societas.<sup>3</sup>

<sup>2</sup> This title, affixed to Dzierzozynski's name, seems to be an addition of Marechal's. See supra, note 1. The reason for a copia copiae, sent by the secretary of the Society, 11 Sept., 1814, was because a former copy had never come to hand in America. In fact, the first transcript arrived in a letter of Charles Plowden, 19 April, 1814, to Carroll.—The relevancy of Marechal's clause in the next line, antea prorsus mihi ignoto, is not clear. He was not Archbishop of Baltimore, on the 14th of Oct., 1814, when Archbishop Carroll received Plowden's communication, and despatched it to Grassi: I cannot forbear sending for your perusal the enclosed comfortable letter from Fr. Chs. Plowden. Grassi, in turn, writes (19 Oct., 1814) to Father Cary, at St. Thomas's Manor: P.S.—Great news! The Most R<sup>d</sup> Arch<sup>b</sup> has communicated to me a letter from F. Plowden of April 19, 1814, with the pleasant intelligence that, at the request of the Arch<sup>b</sup> of Vienna a rescript was obtained from his Holyness. . . . Ibid., 1814, Oct. 19, Grassi, Georgetown, to Cary, St. Thomas's Manor; a P.S., endorsed on a letter of McElroy's to Cary.)

Videlicet missionarii Jesuitae variis secretis suasionibus indu[c]ere conantur fidelium multitudinem ut titulum civilem committat alicui membro Societatis. Quod si semel obtineant, illud membrum hunc eundem titulum civilem committit procuratori Corporationis Marylandiensis, idest Societati.

Nunc autem virtute illius civilis tituli contendit superior jus patronatus se quoddam habere, neque me praeponere posse hisce ecclesiis pastorem qui non sit Societatis.<sup>4</sup>

Hoc semel posito, enixe precor Sacram Congregationem ut attendat summis difficultatibus quibus exponitur pax ecclesiae Baltimorensis. Namque—

Ibid., Epist. A. R. P. N. G. Roothaan, ad diem 27 Mart., 1830, Jan. 30, No. 43, the General to Dzierzozynski.) See No. 130, B, infra: Roothaan's Responsa.

The mind of Father Fortis, who at the beginning of this letter is cited by Marechal as being of an opinion different from that of Dzierzozynski, is sufficiently clear from his statement, 3 Feb., 1821, to Kohlmann (supra, p. 402, note 49); as also from his letter, 24 May, 1822, to Pedicini (No. 121, J, ad fin.), where he appeals only to the Jus Commune of all regulars. Likewise in his answer (composed by Rozaven), 4 Feb., 1822, to Marechal (No. 116, D, § 19, 3<sup>o</sup>), the statement is absolute: praeterea restitutae Societati non sunt restituta antiqua privilegia.

<sup>4</sup> This is not exact, as appears from Carroll's joint management with the Jesuit Superior, when there was question of administering a church belonging to the Jesuits on their own property, or, in other words, as Marechal expressed it, when there was question of the jus patronatus (cf. No. 120, note 4). The clause should have been added here: vel qui non sit acceptatus a Superiore Societatis. And this Marechal himself recognized in practice (cf. ibid.). On a titulus civilis, cf. No. 121, A, Notae, 2<sup>o</sup>

As a formula, describing the modus vivendi between the Ordinary and the Superior, nothing could be clearer than the second article of the attempted Carroll-Molyneux contract, not reported by Marechal to the Cardinals (No. 115, § 23). Either Carroll's original text, or that of his memorandum correcting the original (cf. No. 116, D, note 24), serves equally well to define the situation. See No. 186. We transcribe the memorandum form, as presumably the result of maturer reflection: 2. The Bishop, having necessarily the power of appointing the pastors of his Diocese, will proceed in the following manner in the appointment of those, to whom he will commit the care of the Congregations, appendant to, and served in the houses of the Society. He will advise the Superior who those clergymen [are], to whom such Cong<sup>ns</sup> are destined; and, if the Superior make no objection, they are to be received, as usual, to the accustomed residence and maintenance. But, if the Superior object to their residence in the houses of the Society, the Bishop will either make another appointment, or recommend to the Congregations to make provision for the residence and maintenance of their pastors.

2. Quantum ad jurisdictionem ordinarii spirituales in illas ecclesias parochiales, coemeteria, etc., etc., etc., quorum titulum civilem obtinent iidem patres, fere nulla est quia—(1) jus patronatus sibi vindicant, neque mihi datur sacerdotem saecularem illis ecclesiis praeponere; (2) quia sacerdotes Societatis, qui his ecclesiis praeponuntur, tot privilegia sibi vindicant, ut jurisdictio ordinarii in illos missionarios ad nihilum fere reducitur[atur].

Quaero igitur a S. Congregatione simul et a Sancta Sede (Sacrae Congregationis enim jurisdictionem non agnoscunt Jesuitae), ut quam cito clare ac distincte solvat praefatas difficultates: (1) de privilegiis quae sibi vindicat superior Societatis in mea dioecesi virtute instrumenti superscripti quod ex Russia secum attulit;<sup>7</sup> (2) de praetenso jure patronatus quod sibi vindicat idem superior.

Florescunt in mea dioecesi pax et religio. Sed tantae sunt angustiae quae me premunt atque difficultates quibus objicior, tum ratione rejectionis brevis Pii VII., quo bona temporalia sedis Baltimorensis extra omne periculum posita mihi videbantur, tum Threat of resigning
his see. ratione privilegiorum et juris patronatus, quae sibi vindicat superior Societatis, ut distincte praevideam, nisi Sancta Sedes his malis promptum et efficax remedium afferat, ante longum tempus me fore redacturum [!] ad hanc duram necessitatem, ut S. Pontifici meam sedem dimittam.

Ferventer oro D. M. O. ut Eminentiam tuam diu servet incolumem.

On the merits of the question regarding the privileges of the Society (cf. No. 130, A, note 3), as well as on some other points mooted by Mgr. Marechal, the General, Father John Roothaan, conveyed definite instructions to the Superior, Father Dzierzynski, in several Answers, or Responsa ad Varia Quaesita Americae. They are contained in a document which belongs to a date between

<sup>7</sup> The receipt, in America, of this instrument which had been sent, as it expressly states, on 11 Sept., 1814, cannot be referred to the date (1822) of Dzierzynski's arrival, as if the paper were a novelty now submitted for the first time to the notice of the Archbishop of Baltimore; but, as Dzierzynski's formal quotation of it from the copy of 1814 sufficiently intimated, the receipt of the document belonged to the time of Archbishop Carroll. See supra, notes 1, 2.

the Provincial Synod of Baltimore, 1829, and the publication of its decrees, 30 June, 1831. The General gives answer that a certain synodal decree, about ceding to the Ordinary of a diocese all churches which shall be built in future, cannot affect the common law governing regulars; and that, in point of fact, the decree referred to has been corrected in Rome. He goes on to state that the common ecclesiastical law requires the consent of the Ordinary for the erecting of a new church or house by regulars; but that churches, which are only repaired or reconstructed with the help of alms collected from the faithful, are not new structures in the sense of the canons; and, further, that in the Society the administration of church temporalities is vested, not in the procurator, but in the Superior.

Synodus Dioecæsana Baltimorensis, sanciendo statutum archiepiscopi [Whitfield] ut omnes quæ in posterum ædificabuntur ecclesiæ ipsi archipraesuli cedantur, necessario subintellexit clausulam, salvis juribus regularium, decretis Concilii Provincialis ex Romana correctione appositam, cui certe derogare non poterat Dioecæsana.

15. Est lex generalis nullam posse stabiliri novam ecclesiam nec domum a regularibus sine prævio consensu Ordinarii. Ubi igitur casus occurrit, ad Ordinarium recurrendum est. Non videtur autem Ordinarius exigere posse, ut hujusmodi ecclesiæ ipsi cedantur in proprietatem.

16. Ecclesiæ quas nostri ex eleemosynis undecumque acceptis reaedificent, quia v.g. nimis parvæ erant, vel vetustate cadentes, certe per ipsam reaedificationem non amittitur earum dominium. Si vero novam erigant in loco ubi nullam habebant, idem tenendum quod supra.

To the official publication of the Synod's Acts (1831), a decree of the Propaganda was prefixed, signifying the Congregation's approval, 28 June, 1830, and the Pope's sanction, 26 Sept., 1830, as communicated by Card. Capellari, Prefect, C. Castracane, secretary, 16 Oct., 1830.

Here was subjoined the following note, relative to some admodum leves immutationes introduced into the Synod's decrees, under instructions from the Propaganda :

Caeterum Sacra Congregatio pauca RR. PP. DD. Praesulibus Provinciae Baltimorensis, "per modum instructionis, insinuanda esse existimavit," circa Synodi Baltimorensis decreta. Cum his igitur admodum levibus immutationibus, suffragio Illustrissimi Archiepiscopi, et Reverendissimorum Episcoporum qui Concilio interfuerunt, probatis, decreta ipsorum unanimi consensu typis mandantur : anno scilicet reparaetae salutis 1831, die vero Junii 30.

Comparing § 14 of the General's Responsa with the analogous decree of the Synod as published, it appears that the clause indicated by the General was introduced in ample terms. The decree, as published, not only makes a sharp and obvious distinction between lay trustees and regular Orders (cf. supra, No. 121, A, note 4), but implies a similar and obvious distinction between ecclesiastics in general and the same Orders :

V. Quum saepius aeditui laici abusi sint jure sibi a civili potestate tributo, in magnum religionis detrimentum non sine fidelium scandalo, optamus maxime nullam in posterum erigi ecclesiam aut consecrari, nisi fuerit Episcopo, in cujus dioecesi erigenda est, in cultum divinum et utilitatem fidelium instrumento scripto adsignata, quandocumque id fieri poterit : Regularium etiam privilegiis sartis tectis servatis, secundum ea quae a jure canonico et Romanorum Pontificum constitutionibus decreta sunt. Hoc tamen decreto nihil innovare volumus in ea ratione agendi quam in sua dioecesi Episcopus Carolopolitanensis [Bishop England] jam servat (cf. infra, No. 132, ad fin.).

Compare the decree of the Second Plenary Council of Baltimore (1866), § 195, derived from the Seventh Provincial Synod of Baltimore, § 60 (infra, No. 135, V., p. 575). This latter mentions, besides the regular Orders, an additional class of corporate bodies, that of a Congregation of Priests. Here the conception of Church jurisprudence and policy was very different from what had been entertained and propounded by Mgr. Marechal in 1820-1827 (infra, No. 135, A, note 40 ; ibid., B, seq.).

Baltimore 4. Novembre 1824.

Quoique je n'ai pas encore reçu la Ponenza,<sup>1</sup> je m'empresse de répondre à votre très intéressante lettre du 3 août dernier.

Depuis que j'ai écrit à votre grandeur, je me suis fait un devoir de tâcher de découvrir les menées de mes adversaires auprès du gouvernement Americain. Pour réussir, j'ai écrit une lettre à M<sup>r</sup>. Daniel Brent, premier secrétaire du ministre des affaires étrangères, que je connois et qui me respecte, malgré ses liaisons avec quelques Jesuites. Je vous envoie l'autographe même de sa réponse. J'aime mieux que la Propagande la fasse traduire que de le faire moi même; de peur que l'on ne m'accuse d'en avoir peut-être altérés les traits. Elle verra que non seulement mes adversaires ont représenté à M<sup>r</sup>. Q. Adams, secrétaire d'état de notre republique, le bref de Pie VII. comme une violation de la supreme et independante jurisdiction des Etats Unis; mais encore à d'autres officiers de notre gouvernement; et qu'ils ont sollicité une lettre menaçante contre le gouvernement de Sa Saintété!!!<sup>2</sup>

J'aime l'église du Maryland; mais j'aime mieux encore l'église catholique; et comme il est evident, vues les mauvaises dispositions de mes adversaires, qu'en insistant sur l'exécution du bref de Pie VII. ils peuvent faire beaucoup de mal à l'église de J.C., je vous prie de dire à mon nom à la Propagande, que je me contenterai d'une pension annuel[le] de mille piastres par an, pour vous [pourvu] toute fois que le P. General commande à ses sujets en Amerique de me donner une hypothèque sur les biens dont ils ont l'administration. Ce sera à mes successeurs à re-clamer, s'ils le jugent à propos, l'exécution du bref de Pie VII. dans des tems plus heureux.

Abandons claim to White Marsh; will accept $1000 a year.

Bien plus, monseigneur, vous m'obligerez de dire à la Propagande, que [je] suis prêt à renoncer à tous les revenus aux quels j'ai droit, si le bien et la paix de la religion le demandent; mais en même tems j'espere que le S<sup>t</sup> Siege voudrait bien accepter la demission de mon siège, si dans quelques tems l'administration de mon diocese et de la province me devient impossible, faute de pouvoir faire face aux depenses qu'elle exige.

Threatens to
see.

La dette des Jesuites se monte seulement à 22,000 piastres. Je tiens ce fait tout recemment de deux Jesuites, membres de la Corporation.<sup>3</sup> Ils ne parlent point de ce qui leur est dû. Les Jesuites sont pauvres! ce sont, monseigneur, les Mylords ecclesiastiques de mon diocèse. Les missionnaires séculiers sont seuls vraiment pauvres. Apres avoir passé leur vie dans des travaux les plus penibles et ayant à peine le victum et vestitum, ils n'ont aucun endroit où ils puissent se retirer dans la vieillesse et dans le cas d'infirmités. Le cœur me saigne en y pensant et je ne puis y remedier.

Jesuits the
of Maryland.

Je ne repeterai point ce que j'ai souvent dit à la Propagande, que les Jesuites pouvoient me remettre White Marsh, sans éprouver la moindre difficulté à raison de nos loix, et s'ils résistent, et cherchent à se couvrir sous l'apparente autorité de ces loix, c'est une pure ruse de guerre, qui ne les justifie, ni aux yeux de la religion, ni à ceux de la conscience, ni aux yeux de l'église.

White Marsh est preferable à tout autre plantation, à raison de la proximité de Baltimore; mais non certes à raison de la fertilité.<sup>4</sup> Mais comme j'y renonce, il est inutile d'en parler d'avantage.

3.

Venons actuellement au spirituel.

le P. Dzierzozinsky a apporté de Russie est-il de quelque valeur ? La Société jouit-elle de la multitude des privilèges énumérés dans les brefs de Paul III. de l'an 1545 et 1549 ? Un mot clair de réponse décidera la question. Le P. Dzierzozinsky est un bon religieux. Seulement il paroît très entiché de ses privilèges.

3<sup>e</sup>. Mais le point incomparablement le plus important est de renouveler en quelque sorte la Société qui existe dans le Maryland. Il y a certainement de bons sujets. Mais il y en a de mauvais, qui par leur turbulence et leur ambition peuvent deshonorner leur corps, et faire un mal considérable à la religion en Amerique. Le meilleur plan, que le père Fortis puisse adopter, est celui proposé par leurs éminences les cardinaux Gregorio et Castiglioni, c'est à dire d'envoyer hors du Maryland ceux qui ont perdu l'esprit de leur état et suppléer à leur place de bons religieux. Cette opération peut se faire sans bruit et avec facilité.

*provisions regarding the functions of preaching and administering the Sacraments in the dioceses of respective Ordinaries. It has nothing to do with the provisions of the Bull in general. After authorizing the erection of houses, colleges, etc., and commissioning the Order to educate youth, govern colleges and seminaries, it proceeds to add the qualified clause, quoted here without its context; and goes on immediately to withdraw the whole Order, all colleges, houses, provinces, and members from the obedience of all prelates save that of the Holy See: Concedimus etiam et declaramus, quod pariter juventuti, catholicae religionis rudimentis erudiendae ac probis moribus instituendae, operam dare, necnon Seminaria et Collegia regere, et, consentientibus atque approbantibus Ordinariis locorum in quibus eos degere contigerit, confessiones audire, verbum Dei praedicare et Sacramenta administrare libere et licite valeant. Omnia vero Collegia, Domus, Provincias, Sociosque sic conjunctos, et quos in posterum conjungi et aggregari contigerit, jam nunc sub immediata Nostra et hujus Apostolicae Sedis tutela, praesidio et obedientia recipimus; Nobis et Romanis Pontificibus successoribus Nostris reservantes ea statuere ac praescribere, quae ad eandem Societatem magis magisque stabiliendam et communiendam, et ab abusibus, si forte (quod Deus avertat) irrepserint, repurgandam, statuere ac praescribere visum fuerit expedire. Later on, archbishops and bishops are recommended not to allow of any vexation which might annoy the said members of the Society, and to set the example of charity and benignity towards them: Denique dilectis in Christo filiis illustribus et nobilibus viris principibus ac Dominis temporalibus, nec non venerabilibus fratribus Archiepiscopis et Episcopis, aliisque in quavis dignitate constitutis, saepe dictam Societatem Jesu et singulos illius Socios plurimum in Domino commendamus, eosque exhortamur ac rogamus, non solum ne eos inquietari a quocumque permittant ac patientur, sed ut benigne illos, ut decet, et cum charitate suscipiant. Reformation of the Maryland Jesuits.
Programme.

En premier lieu, le P. Fortis devrait chasser de la Société le P. Marshall;<sup>7</sup> c'est décidément un mauvais sujet. Le public et la très grande majorité de ses confrères se rejouiront de son expulsion.

Expel one from the Order; relegate a second; make a third a bishop.

En second lieu, tant que le P. François Neale sera dans la Maryland, il restera le maître absolu des affaires temporelles et opposera une résistance invincible au bon ordre que le P. Fortis s'efforcera d'introduire. Il est nécessaire de donner à le [ce] père une obédience pour Conewago dans la Pennsylvanie, et cela sous peine de censure. Conewago est une maison de la Société qui est très agréable et où il pourra se préparer à une bonne mort. Son âge seul et ses infirmités le demande[nt].

En troisième lieu, j'ai proposé le P. Benoit Fenwick pour le siège des Florides ou celui de Boston. C'est un bon sujet, sous une multitude de rapports. Mais, se trouvant constamment dans la société des membres de la Corporation, il est à craindre qu'ils ne l'entraînent dans leur parti. Igitur promoveatur et arceatur.<sup>8</sup>

Ces trois religieux envoyés hors du Maryland suffiroient pour rendre la réforme facile; pourvu qu'en même temps le P. général envoie tout de suite de Rome les sujets Américains qui ont reçu leur éducation religieuse; surtout les PP. Young, Vespres et Mylady. Comme je presume qu'ils sont très pieux, leur présence ici est absolument nécessaire pour augmenter le nombre de leurs bons confrères et soutenir les faibles. Ayez la bonté de recommander fortement ce plan de réforme à leurs Em. Gregorio et Castiglioni.

Rappeller d'Amérique en Europe les bons sujets et nous laisser ceux qui sont gangrenés, c'est le plan le plus pernicieux que pourroit prendre le P. Fortis. Et à vous dire la vérité je suis étonné qu'il l'ait même proposé à la Propagande.<sup>9</sup>

Il est assurément inutile d'observer à votre grandeur que je ne pouvois accepter toute la plantation de White Marsh, aux conditions que votre zèle et votre bonté pour moi vous portent à proposer. Déjà les Jésuites ont retiré de cette terre six nègres de valeur;<sup>10</sup> et je suis sûre que, si

<sup>9</sup> The eventual withdrawal of Jesuits from Maryland was not the General's proposal, but, as he stated to Cardinals Castiglioni and De Gregorio, it was a consequence of Marechal's proposal. Father Fortis signified his willingness to resign all the Society's rights of reversion to the property at present in the hands of the Corporation; but, of course, without means of subsistence, the Jesuits would not be left there to subsist on nothing. The same result would follow, if members of the Corporation being dismissed by the General from the Society, and retaining still, as they had a right to do, the legal title to the property, all the estates in question were lost to the Society and the Church. (General Archives S.J., Epist. R. P. N. Al. Fortis, I, pars 2, the General's Memoria Seconda, 19 June, 1824, to Cardinals Castiglioni and De Gregorio.) Cf. No. 205.

<sup>10</sup> This refers to the dissolution of the novitiate at White Marsh, the transportation of the whole institution to Florissant, Missouri, and the fulfilment of a formal

chal in prison.
Not worth

Bientôt je serois en prison pour cause de dettes.

Voilà, mon très cher et excellent seigneur, ce que j'ai cru devoir vous répondre à la hâte. Vraisemblablement je vous paraîtrai faible en cedant si tôt à mes adversaires. Je vous avoue que le courage commence à me manquer. Et comment pourrais-je soutenir un combat, que mes adversaires par des chicanes sans fin peuvent prolonger jusqu'à ma mort. Il faudroit écrire de petits volumes pour réfuter toutes les pièces qu'ils inventeront et mettront continuellement sous les yeux de la Propagande ;<sup>11</sup> et je n'ai ni le tems ni la patience pour les écrire curable [comblé?], comme je le suis, de travail depuis le matin jusqu'avant dans la nuit, sans avoir personne pour m'aider. Dans la malheureuse position où je me trouve, j'aime mieux remettre entièrement ma cause entre les mains de la Propagande et d'acquiescer à ce qu'il lui plaira de décider pour la plus grande gloire de Dieu et le bien de l'église d'Amerique.

Lorsque je pense à toute l'amitié que vous me témoignez et au zèle que vous manifestez dans ma défense, ou plutôt celle de l'église, je sens mon âme profondément émue. Je me dis alors avec le prophète : Quid retribuam domino meo? alas, rien!—et j'ajoute aussitôt : Calicem salutarem accipiam et super eum nomen Domini invocabo. C'est en faisant ces prières de reconnaissance, que je suis avec un profond respect,

Mon très cher et excellent seigneur,

Cf. also Dzierzynski, (Nov.) 1824, to Marechal himself, implying that the news is all coming out from Baltimore (No. 206): De externis non spondeo, qui, nescio quo fonte, resciant omnia, quae Excellentissimus Roma recipit—eaeque libere spargunt, additis sibi propriis reflexionibus, quae utique valde nocivae esse possunt. <sup>5</sup> On the 14 Aug., 1824, the Secretary of the Propaganda, Caprano, reported to Father Fortis, General of the Society, a new decree of the Sacred Congregation (26 July, 1824), based on the result of a consultation between a committee (Cardinals Castiglione and De Gregorio) and the General, relative to the non-execution of the Brief by the Maryland Jesuits. Cf. No. 133, A, note 4. The new decree contained three points: 1. as to an offer, made in the name of the Maryland Jesuits, and communicated to them by the General, 1 July, 1824, that, instead of surrendering White Marsh, they should pay Marechal $1000 a year, such an arrangement was not to be considered except as "provisional;" 2. the Brief remained in force; 3. a term of six months was fixed, within which the said Maryland Jesuits "must expound the reasons, why they believe the surrender of White Marsh pernicious to them." Cf. No. 205. This third provision of the new decree cancelled two conditions of the Brief: 1. that of Marechal's immediate right of entry into White Marsh; 2. that of no appeal being admissible until such entry had been effectuated. Cf. No. 125, A, note 1. The second provision was a formality, saving appearances when a past act was being indirectly rescinded. The first provision, as to the qualification of the pension, proved nugatory, since the pension was never paid by the Maryland Jesuits. After acting on the General's suggestion and making the offer in their own name, the Americans withdrew, and neither paid, nor said anything about it. See No. 133, A, note 4.

The new decree, being in the usual routine of business submitted to Pope Leo XII. by the Secretary of the Propaganda (8 Aug., 1824), was sanctioned in due course; and this is what Marechal calls here Leonis XII. sententiam. In the next, No. 133, A, he calls it a "confirmation" of the Brief of Pius VII. by Leo XII., and says that it was the occasion of the appeal made by his adversaries to the American Government. See No. 133, A, p. 527. Henceforth the Brief passed out of sight, except in the papers of Fesch, Marechal, and Gradwell. On the 27 Aug., 1825, the General, while urging a settlement with the archbishop, informs Dzierozynski, the Maryland Superior, that the mind of the Cardinals has undergone a change: Adnoto vero 2do. me, spectando mitissimum erga res vestras animum Eminentiss., coepisse sperare fore, ut sine magna difficultate possit negotium inter vos et Archiep<sup>um</sup> denique posse componi. This statement, which was borne out by subsequent events, explains the despondent tone of Marechal in his later documents. Cf. Nos. 133, A, ad fin.; 135, A, Propositions 22 ad fin., 23 ad fin.; 137.

His patribus semel remotis, bonum religionis et Societatis exigit ut quinque Americani juniores Jesuitae, qui sex abhinc annis Romae remanserunt, immediate a R. P. Fortis in Marylandiam remittantur. Id vel ipsa exigit aequitas, cum ad meam dioecesim pertineant.<sup>8</sup> Neque haec missio amplius differri nequit praetextu expensarum. Si quidem unus ex ipsis, P. Respus [Vespre], olim meus discipulus cum ex Baltimori Romam proficisceretur, reliquit in Banca Neoeboracensi 10,000 et amplius piastras. Hac mutatione facta religiosorum S.J., spes effulgebit ut pietas et zelus juniorum compensabunt et reparabunt scandala seniorum.<sup>(a)</sup>

<sup>6</sup> Cf. No. 94, D, P.S. This claim for arrears had been made in 1822, before the Brief was issued (No. 121, A, ad fin., p. 468). It continued to be reiterated as late as 17 Oct., 1826 (No. 137). Near the date of this present letter (21 Dec., 1824), Marechal wrote (24 Nov., 1824) to Dzierozynski, in the terms cited above (No. 94, D, P.S.): "The judgment of the Holy See embraces not only the annual revenue to which I have a right, but also an indemnification for the injustice which I have suffered, since my nomination to the archbishopric of Baltimore."

Baltimore, 14 juillet, 1825.

MONSEIGNEUR,

Je viens de recevoir une lettre de M<sup>r</sup> l'abbé Gradwell datté de Rome le 2 du may dernier. Elle renferme deux objets: 1<sup>o</sup> la nomination a différens évêchés des Etats Unis, et 2<sup>o</sup> mon différent avec les Jesuites.

Quant aux évêchés vacans ou a eriger, voici la liste des personnes que je regarde, après de mures et tres serieuses réflexions, les plus propres a occuper ces postes eminents.

Evêchés.	Candidats.
Boston	M <sup>r</sup> G. Taylor.	} J'ai envoyé cette liste a la Propa- gande le 13 du mois dernier.
New-York	Ben. Fenwick.
Détroit	Gabr. Richard.
aux Florides	M <sup>r</sup> Portier.

Marechal.
Fenwick, Gillow, Dubois, for Bishop of New York.

ne veuille point nommer le père Ben. Fenwick, je ne vois que M<sup>r</sup> John Dubois supérieur de mon petit séminaire d'Emmitsburg, qui convienne pour le siège de New-York. Mais sa nomination sera une perte très grande pour moi et mon diocèse.

Dans une lettre que j'ai eu l'honneur d'écrire à votre grandeur le 5 Nov., 1824, je lui ai fait part des démarches criminelles de mes adversaires auprès du gouvernement Americain, aussitôt qu'ils apprirent que Leon XII. avoit confirmé le Bref de Pie VII. Je donnai la même nouvelle à la Propagande le 22 decembre suivant, et je lui envoyai en même tems une portion de la Gazette dans la quelle ils avoient fait imprimer le Bref de Pie VII. en anglais et en latin, afin d'exciter les citoyens des Etats Unis contre l'autorité et la juridiction du St. Siège. Ces moyens terribles de resistance repandirent beaucoup d'alarmes dans nos catholiques, et j'y participai. Mais je recommandai alors mon eglise à Dieu et à la S<sup>te</sup> Vierge, patronne de ma métropole. J'écrivis au secretaire de M<sup>r</sup> Adams et j'accompagnai ma lettre d'une memoire parfaitement fait par un celebre avocat catholique. Cela suffit pour tranquiliser entierement le gouvernement Americain et détruire toutes impressions fâcheuses faites par mes adversaires; et quant aux gazettes, au lieu de produire l'effet qu'ils en attendoient, elles ont produit un effet tout contraire. Trois Jésuites, auteurs connus de ces affreuses mesures, decamperent en consequence.<sup>1</sup> Le P. Marshal, qui a enlevé trois mille piastres appartenant à la pauvre mission d'Harford,<sup>2</sup> s'est embarqué sur un vaisseau de l'état. Le P. Baxter s'est enfui en Angleterre; et le P. Nevins s'est réfugié à New-York où il écrit des articles scandaleux contre ses confrères et la religion.<sup>3</sup>

the Jesuits and of Mare-chal with the American Government.

Deer Creek.

Au fort de l'orage qu'avoient excité ces malheureux Jésuites, je vous écrivis et à la Propagande que je ne renoncois à White Marsh, que je desirois que l'on remit l'exécution du Bref de Pie VII. a un autre tems, et que quant a moi je me contenterai d'une pension viagère de 1000 piastres, bien assurée par un contrat; outre le dedomagement que le St. Siege pourroit determiner a raison de l'injustice que j'ai souffert depuis sept ans.<sup>4</sup>

M<sup>r</sup>. l'abbé Gradwell me marque que le P. Fortis cherche a obtenir de la Propagande un acte approuvant qu'il me paye 1000 piastres par an, mais seulement comme une faveur et non comme un acte de justice; et que par consequent il lui seroit libre de me payer ou non. Je ne puis nullement acceder a un arrangement si evidemment futile et absurde; 1<sup>o</sup> parceque dans ce cas je dependerois entierement de la bonne volonté et de l'humeur de ces religieux; 2<sup>o</sup> parceque ce seroit, non différer l'exécution du Bref de Pie VII. a un tems plus favorable, mais a en aneantir toute l'autorité et la justice. Le P. Fortis a plusieurs fois temoigné qu'il avoit ordonné à ses sujets de se soumettre au Bref. Ici plusieurs regardent tous ses ordres comme un jeu convenu entre lui et ses sujets. Et les menées auprès de la Propagande me porteroient a le croire.

<sup>4</sup> Cf. No. 94, C, D, Dzierzozynski, Nov., 1824, to Marechal, tendering the offer of $1000 a year. A letter, dated 7 Oct., 1824, was then on its way from the same Superior to the General, proposing the same plan for stopping the controversy (General Archives, Maryl. Epist., 6, iii.). The proposal is made in the form drafted by Father Benedict Fenwick, in an unsigned and undated paper, addressed to Rev. Mr. Dzierzozynski, Geo.-Town College, Dist. Col., which closes thus: I humbly and earnestly crave your Paternity (if the Archbishop of Balt<sup>e</sup> must derive his entire support from us), to obtain for us from the Holy See the privilege of paying him annually a thousand Dollars, instead of its alienating from us a property which, being the only healthy spot we enjoy in the country, is the life of the Society in these parts. ¶ N.B. I would suggest to F. Superior not to write by any means to the Archbishop on the subject of the late letter from the General [1 July, 1824], till an answer be obtained from Rome to the above. (Georgetown College Archives, Marechal Controversy, under date.) This offer was subsequently withdrawn by the Jesuits of Maryland, as being still beyond their means; and a Memorial presented to the Sacred Congregation, in the first days of August, 1825, stating their inability to do so much. (Ibid., a Duplicatum from Rome, of the General's letter, 27 Aug., 1825, with an English translation of the Italian Memorial, containing data afforded by Kohlmann and Vespre.)

The General's letter of 1 July, 1824, on which the offer of the Maryland Jesuits was based, had been read at a meeting of the Sacred Congregation, 26 July, 1824, and the adoption of this plan, with the approval of His Holiness, was signified to the General by the Secretary of the Propaganda, 14 Aug., 1824, with the statement that the Brief was held to be in full force, in spite of such a "prorisional" accommodation; but that the Jesuits of Maryland might, within the term of six months, present their plea against the White Marsh assignment ordered by the Brief. This was practically a permission to reopen the case. (Propaganda Archives, Lettres, vol. 305, 1824, 540 b., letter of Mgr. P. Caprano, 14 Aug., 1824, to Fortis.—General Archives S.J., Maryl. Epist., 6, iii.; original.—Georgetown College Archives, as above, official copy, in hand of the General's amanuensis. Cf. No. 132, note 5.) The broaching of this project, with the subsequent failure of the Maryland Jesuits to carry it out and furnish a $1000 annual subsidy to Marechal, left the door open for Card. Fesch to urge a substitution of the General and the Italian Jesuits, instead of the Jesuits in Maryland, as will be seen in seq.—Marechal's next paragraph here defines the burial of the Brief. His acceptance then of the offer finished that episode. See Nos. 133, C; 136-138.

Je vous avoue, monseigneur, que lorsque je réfléchis que cet affaire si importante pour mon siège, après tant de preuves de son entière justice et malgré le zèle et l'activité que vous avez manifestés avec tant de courage et d'habileté, n'est point encore terminée d'une manière absolue et incontestable, je commence à perdre toute espérance de réussir. Je sens la vérité de ce que me dit le Card. Fontana: Ce n'est pas une petite affaire d'avoir cinquante Jésuites sur le dos. Si lorsque j'étois à Rome ils ont eu recours à tant de moyens deshonorants, que ne doivent-ils pas faire durant mon absence auprès des cardinaux membres de la Propagande, de leurs auditeurs, etc., etc., etc., pour égarer leurs jugemens? Mais j'ai un moyen de me mettre à couvert pour toujours de leurs poursuites. C'est de donner la démission de mon siège. Je l'aurois déjà fait si je ne consultois que mon bonheur personnel.

Mais je prévois toutes les conséquences facheuses qu'auroit une semblable démarche pour la religion. Cependant, si par des retards interminables je ne suis point soutenu par la Propagande dans les droits tant temporels que spirituels de mon siège, il faudra enfin en venir à cette mesure. J'écris à ce sujet une lettre à S. S. que M<sup>r</sup> l'abbé Gradwell vous communiquera.

Je me recommande de nouveau à toutes vos bontés et à votre protection, ainsi que mon église, en vous assurant que je suis avec une reconnaissance et un respect toujours croissant,

Monseigneur,

Votre très humble serviteur

1825, July 14.

Under the same date as this letter, Baltimore, 14 July, 1825, in which Marechal states to Card. Fesch that he is writing direct to the Pope, his petition is addressed to Leo XII. It was withheld, however, in Rome, as Fesch mentions in the letter following next (No. 134). Still, it was entered by his Eminence in the Brief or Sommario of the year following: Propaganda Archives, Acta, 1826 (Baltimori), Sommario, Num. V.: Lettera dell'Arcivescovo di Baltimora in forma di supplica a Sua Santità, con cui implora il suo soccorso nella controversia suddetta, 14 luglio, 1825. Cf. also the English College Archives, as above, ff. 180, 181, 2½ pp.

The matter and even the phrases are identical with passages given in the Numbers above, viz.:

The contention of Charles Neale, that the Brief of Pius VII. could not affect temporalities in America; and that the cause had not been properly examined in Rome. Charles Neale's words. (Neale died in 1823.) Re-opening of the case in Rome. On hearing that Leo XII. had approved of the former decision, Marechal's adversaries endeavoured to obtain the intervention of the American Government against the execution of the Brief; and besides caused the same document to be published in America. The three Jesuits, chief agitators in the affair, had to fly. Marechal considers that, for the sake of peace, he may licitly make a personal sacrifice, and accept of a pension, $1000 a year during his life, under rigorous conditions of contract, until in the future the Brief with the claim to White Marsh can be put in execution. Now he hears from Rome that his cause is in danger, and he knows not when it will have a successful issue. Prostrate before His Holiness, he implores the Pope's humanity, justice, vigour, and wisdom, for the protection of the See of Baltimore. Otherwise he shall be forced to resign, since the administration of his metropolitan church will become absolutely impossible.

The style is also in conformity with that of the documents already given : Tuæ Sanctitati notum est superiorem Jesuitarum Marylandensium absolute rejecisse auctoritatem brevis Pii VII., quo jura meae sedis vindicabantur. . . . Statim atque adversarii mei audierint Tuam Sanctitatem judicium tui ven. mem. praedecessoris approbasse, violentiam tuæ sacrae auctoritati opponere decreverunt: videlicet secreto adeuntes regimen Americanum ei exhibuerunt breve Pii VII. tanquam nostrae reipublicae jurisdictionis ac supremæ independentiæ audacem ac injustam usurpationem. Insuper illud idem breve Anglice translatum ludibrio infimæ plebis, mediantibus diariis, objicere conati sunt. . . . Gravissimis circumdatus difficultatibus quæ, ex impia meorum adversariorum resistentia supremo Sanctæ Sedis judicio, abunde nascuntur, mecum cogitavi, remanentibus intactis meae ecclesiæ juribus, me posse licite personale sacrificium perficere, pro bono pacis. . . . Satis mihi fieri si, durante mea vita, mihi solvendi annuam pensionem 1000 piastrarum obligationem suscipiant, per contractum civilem. Nam mere moralem ac religiosam certissime flocci facerent. . . . Nuperrime accepi epistolas Romæ datas quibus certior factus sum grave hoc meum negotium suspensum adhuc remanere, neque praevideri posse, ratione tricarum quæ mala fingit foecunditas adversariorum, quando ipsi sit finis impositurus [imponendus]. . . . Si non cito remedium efficax opponatur audaci ac injustæ meorum adversariorum agendi rationi, mihi necessitas erit, ante breve tempus, dimittere meam sedem; cito etenim, administratio meæ metropolitanæ ecclesiæ absolute impossibilis erit. . . .

Essendo già stata riferita alla for arrears: une pension viagère (No. 133, A, p. 528). So too in his letter to the Pope of the same date: satis mihi fieri si, durante mea vita, mihi solvendi annuam pensionem 1000 piastrarum obligationem suscipiant (No. 133, B); but he makes no mention of arrears. Again to Card. Fesch, fifteen months later (27 Oct., 1826), he writes in French, and says that his demand had been for an annual pension, with arrears: une pension annuelle (No. 137). Father Fortis, the General, made him the grant of 800 crowns annually, during Marechal's natural life; as the General's written document puts it: sua naturali vita durante (27 June, 1826); and, as Marechal expresses it, in his own letter to Fesch: ma vie durant (No. 137). The General's offer, in his own terms, was sanctioned by the Propaganda and the Pope (2 July, 1 Aug.); the mind of both the Sacred Congregation and His Holiness was communicated (5 Aug., 1826) to Marechal by Card. Della Somaglia (cf. Marechal, No. 136); the Secretary of the Propaganda informed the General (24 Dec., 1826) that Marechal had been advised of his Paternity's grant, in the express terms of the General's document: nei termini espressi nel pregiatissimo foglio di V<sup>ra</sup> P<sup>ta</sup> R<sup>ma</sup> del 27 giugno, 1826; that Marechal had accepted provisionally in his letter of 17 Oct., 1826, and had appointed Gradwell his proxy for the receipt (No. 136): l'arcivescovo suddetto con sua lettera del 17 ottobre decorso ha risposto, che provisoriamente accetta questo assegnamento, e che deputa per farne in suo nome la riscossione il Signore D. Roberto Gradwell, Rettore, etc.; a copy of the General's document containing the grant was deposited in Marechal's diocesan archives; and the receipt of Gradwell, in Marechal's name, was given in the terms of the same Fortis document, which defined and finished the transaction. So far Dr. Marechal, some of whose papers give evidence that, in the use of property left him by his predecessors, he did not include, but he excluded successors, distinguishing such goods, apparently "mensal," from other trust property, such as churches and churchyards, which alone he called "ecclesiastical" (No. 184; cf. No. 197, on the Maryland idea of "ecclesiastical"). For the foregoing series of authentic documents, see No. 212. For Gradwell's communication of the chief papers to Marechal, 27 Feb., 1827, see No. 213. (Baltimore Diocesan Archives, 17 F.)

In the same letter of Marechal's (17 Oct., 1826), received in Rome as an acceptance, and reported to the General as such, Marechal introduces the word "successors," with their rights intact; though he repeats the exact words of the Fortis grant: durante mea naturali vita. He says: tuto ac integro remanente meo meorumque successorum jure (No. 136). No notice was taken of this gloss in the formal letter of the Secretary to the General, announcing Marechal's acceptance. In the same letter, Marechal affirms that he had never consented to the acceptance of a pension, except on condition of its being for his successors also: consensi, sed his subsequentibus conditionibus, videlicet: 1<sup>o</sup> ut, loco hujus praedii, 1000 scutata Romana mihi meisque successoribus annuatim in perpetuum solverentur (No. 136). This does not agree with Marechal's own texts; and, in particular, with his

French text of the very same day to Card. Fesch, although, in the same letter, mention has been made of mes successeurs, in connection with his right to White Marsh (No. 137, first paragraph). But, as about this time we find indications that the Rev. James Whitfield was drawing up papers, which Marechal wrote out as his own (cf. No. 135, P, note 49: letter to Mudd, 28 Feb., 1827), it is not improbable that the gloss introduced here, in favour of successors, came from another hand. In this very year (1 Oct., 1827) the name of Whitfield was sent by Marechal to Rome as that of his most eligible successor (No. 213).

The whole of the correspondence between Marechal and his agent Gradwell, during the same year, 1827, turns chiefly upon this gloss, and its being considered to enter retrospectively into the settlement (No. 213). Marechal, dying in the following year (29 Jan., 1828), left on record the same gloss as an essential of the settlement, writing out a testamentary memorandum to guide his successors (No. 140, B). The same became the whole subject of the new claims advanced after Marechal's death, as will be seen in seqq. (Nos. 214-217).—The term, provisoirement, appears in the next No. 134.

J. Cardinal Fesch, Rome, to Marechal, Baltimore. Directions on the manner of continuing the campaign for life.

MON CHER SEIGNEUR,

Je vous écris, il y a environ dix jours. L'abbé Gradwelle vient de me remettre la vôtre du 14 juillet. Je lui ai conseillé de ne pas remettre l'autre pour le personnage, dès que la Propagande a décidé de vous envoyer un secours de 1000 piastres, et qu'elle attend de nous une réponse à la note remise par les pères Jésuites, en représentant de ne pas pouvoir vous payer les 1000 piastres provisoires: 1<sup>o</sup> parce qu'ils ont contracté une dette de 35,000 piastres; 2<sup>o</sup> parce que si le gouvernement venoit à connoître tel paiement, il s'empareroit de leurs biens et les chasseroit de leur maison, pour avoir obéi à un gouvernement étranger, qui n'a rien à voir sur les biens de ces habitants.

Fesch. The case of the Jesuits as now presented by them.

Il faudroit que vous pussiez produire quelqu'attestation, par laquelle le gouvernement reconnoitroit, qu'il ne se mêle pas de cette affaire, et, s'il est possible, qu'il reconnoît que les Jésuites doivent donner au premier pasteur de leur société catholique une partie des biens qu'ils possèdent au nom de cette Corporation.

The kind of rebuttal due from Marechal. Never to yield during life.

ne jamais abandonner durant toute votre vie, mais seulement provisoirement, la totalité de ce que vous accorde le bref de Pie VII.

Je vous répéterai que vos adversaires sont très protégés ici, et qu'il faut attendre tout du temps;<sup>2</sup> néanmoins vous devez faire toutes les démarches que votre devoir exige.

Agréez l'assurance de mon inviolable attachement, avec lequel je suis,

Votre très dévoué et très aff. serv.,

J. Card. FESCH.

Rebuttal of
plea.

<sup>2</sup> This was literally true. In four years, there were a new Secretary and a new Prefect of the Propaganda, Castracane and Card. Capellari (afterwards Gregory XVI.); there was a Vicar-General, Pavani, and then a new General of the Society, Roothaan; there was a new agent, Nicholas Wiseman, acting for Baltimore in Rome. In eight years, a new succession of Maryland Provincials began, McSherry and Mulledy, who had been young men of no official status in Italy, when the present controversy was agitated; and to Mgr. Whitfield a successor was already designated, in the person of Mgr. Eccleston, who at the present date was twenty-five years of age, and was ordained a priest by Marechal in this very year, 1825. How then, with the benefit of "time," as Fesch says here, the facts of the past fared in the hands of men, no single one of whom had been a party to the original controversy, will appear in Section VII., Nos. 214-217.

EMINENTISSIME CARDINALIS,

The Pro-
paganda's alms to Marechal.

Haec pecuniae summa ad solvenda quaedam debita a me contracta inserviet.

Fere eodem tempore ad me perlata est altera epistola Em<sup>ae</sup> Tuae, scripta Romae die tertia septembris.<sup>2</sup> Eam non potui legere sine gravissimo doloris sensu, videns controversiam meam cum patribus Jesuitis, quam jamdiu finitam existimabam, recrudescente. Novas objectiones, quas ad illudendum

Eminentissimis Patribus finxerunt, mihi necessitas est solvere.

1<sup>o</sup> Assertio debitorum gratuita.

[Allegation of debts, gratuitous.]

Si adversarii candide Sacrae Congregationi exhibuis-sent accuratam enumerationem tum personarum qui sunt eorum creditores, tum summae pecuniae quam unicuique debent, atque S. Congregatio ad me transmisisset hanc enumerationem, possem utique judicare utrum vere tanto aere alieno premantur quantum praedicant.
Sed, tenebris studiose se involventes, generatim tantum clamitant se debere 35,000 scutata.

Jesuits' pretended poverty.
Fifteen Propositions.

Haec gratuita assertio nullum vere pondus habet, neque admitti potest quamdiu argumentis, quae vim probantem habeant, destituta remanebit.<sup>3</sup> Verum, quamvis nullo modo sperare possim ut aliquando obtineam inspectionem librorum, in quibus ratio rerum temporalium a procuratore Societatis exscribitur, attamen, favente divina providentia, sufficientes collegi probationes ut confidenter asserere possim summam debitorum Sacrae Congregationi exhibitam esse infidelem.

Marechal has no Jesuit accounts.

<sup>3</sup> This preliminary Proposition is not strictly in keeping with those that follow, Propositions 2-15. If by their "wrapping themselves in darkness," tenebris studiose se involventes, is meant that the writer's adversaries do not lay open their ledgers before him, and never will, quamvis nullo modo sperare possim ut aliquando obtineam inspectionem librorum, etc., and that then only could their arguments "have demonstrative force," quae vim probantem habeant, when such books were shown, the subsequent fourteen Propositions of the writer have no locus standi; for, being on the matter of finance, they do not cite these or any other account books, which would give the Propositions "a demonstrative force."

The case of authenticity, as to the statement made but challenged here, is covered by what Father Anthony Kohlmann says, speaking in particular of Proposition 9, 4<sup>o</sup> and 5<sup>o</sup>: Id quod, si necesse sit, probabitur singillatim (infra, note 29); that is, if called for, the proofs in detail will be exhibited.

The private Statement, drawn up in 1824 by the procurator of the Maryland Mission and submitted to the Superior, Dzierozynski: Statement of money received and expended by the General Fund, from August 22nd, 1820, to January the 1st, 1824, exhibits a view of the situation, derived from ledgers, submitted for the internal management of the Mission, and intended for no controversial purpose. On p. 7 Marshall proposes the question: Since all regular income is swallowed up in current expenses, how can the most annoying and dangerous debts be sunk in the mean time? At the close of his Statement, p. 11, he tries to answer this question; and, resuming the whole debt, both that which falls on the General Fund, of which he has charge, and those which appertain to special localities, he gives the summary heads:

Debt of the General Fund, including that of the White Marsh,
as above	...	...	...	...	...	...	$16,317
„ of the College (said to be)	...	...	...	...	...	...	11,000
„ of Conewago	...	...	...	...	...	...	2,462
„ of Washington Seminary	...	...	...	...	...	...	550

He proceeds: The debts of Newtown, St. Thomas's, St. Inigoes, are not acknowledged till new procurators are appointed. So, too, the successors of the present managers at Georgetown College will find $3000 or $4000 more of debt than is now acknowledged. With the interest, the whole debt is probably $35,000. If the plantations and the Seminary liquidated their indebtedness, the remainder, $27,317, would still remain at the charge of the General Fund, of which, however, the annual income at present is swallowed up by the annual expenditure. Where are these means to be found? He has no answer to give, except a few generalities, which he offers to enlarge upon, if required. (Md.-N.Y. Province Archives, Cc, Marshall's Statement, 1824, pp. 7, 11.)

Etenim confabulando, quindecim circiter abhinc mensibus cum Jesuita mihi olim conjunctissimo, ingenue mihi fassus est summam totalem debitorum Societatis assurgere ad 21,000 scuta, vel ad summum 22,000.<sup>4</sup>

Illud idem fuit mihi nuperrime confirmatum a D<sup>no</sup> Souanen qui, per aliquod tempus in rebus temporalibus officio quodam fungebatur.<sup>5</sup>

Nempe mihi dixit administrationem rerum temporalium Societatis tria capita comprehendere, videlicet: collegium Georgiopolitanum, Corporationem Marylandensem, tandem varia praedia quae possidet Societas; deinde addidit,

3 <sup>o</sup> Omnia praedia simul sumpta	7000 scut.

Atque cum ab ipso inquirerem quae summa Societati debetur, respondit se non cognoscere quid debetur neque Corporationi Marylandensi,

<sup>4</sup> Father Anthony Kohlmann, revising these Propositions in Rome: Osservazioni sopra la risposta di M. Marechal, makes two remarks here, which apply to much of what follows; first, that the person cited as an authority is not named: da un Jesuita, il quale non vien nominato; secondly, that, named or unnamed, no man's vague and loose assertions will stand in the face of books, registers, and ledgers: A tutto questo rispondo che, nel caso presente si deve più fede ai registri del procuratore generale di quella Corporazione che al dire vago e indeterminato d'un individuo qualunque. (General Archives S.J., Maryl. Epist., 6, iv. S, f. 1. Cf. infra, No. 209, for an account of Kohlmann's papers at this stage of the dispute.)

<sup>5</sup> Md.-N. Y. Province Archives. Mr. Germain Sannen, not yet a priest, was studying philosophy at Georgetown, in 1823, and acting as assistant to the procurator of the college, Father Benedict Fenwick. Francis Neale, temporary Superior of the Mission after the death of his brother Charles, wrote to Dzierzynski, minister at Georgetown: You will also for the present look at the business of the procurator. Father Sannen, I am informed, understands that business sufficient for the present time. I shall see you shortly, and, when better instructed, will give more prudent directions. (Letter without date or place; probably from St. Thomas's Manor, Aug., 1823.) On 12 Dec., 1823, Archbishop Marechal wrote to Dzierzynski, now Superior of the Mission, granting the faculties asked for the Rev. G. Sannen. The latter was procurator of Georgetown College; but, in the next year, was sent as a missionary to Newtown. Then he was dismissed from the Society. In a letter, which Dzierzynski endorses as received 9 Nov., 1825, Marechal inquired if Rev. Mr. Sannen had been dismissed for any cause of immorality or of impiety; or, in general, whether knowing him as you certainly do, you could with safety of conscience, commit to him the care of souls. With regard to this irregular question, which a superior of the Order could not answer, the archbishop received satisfaction from Father Beschler, the very next day. Writing to Dzierzynski, that Father, who was a pastor at the German Church in Baltimore, said, 10 Nov., 1825: He [the archbishop] afterwards conversed about Mr. Sannen; wished to know from your Reverence the reasons why he was dismissed; that otherwise he could not employ him with security; and that he had written to you on the subject. I answered that our Superior could not comply with his desire; as, according to the Institute [S.J.], they must treat even the dismissed with the utmost charity. Two months after this, Marechal is adducing the testimony of Sannen, as in the text, where he does not mention that the said person has just lost his standing in the Order. (Ibid., correspondence, under dates.)

Marechal's note endorsed by Dzierzynski, Accepi 9 Nov. 1825, has had the signature cut out, no doubt by Dr. J. G. Shea. Hence we presume it furnished him with the facsimile to be seen in Shea's History of the Catholic Church in U. S., iii, 52.

[Jesuit debts contracted through blind ambition.]

Nunc autem nonne merito infidelis dicenda est computatio quae exhibet tantum summam quam adversarii clamitant se debere, suppressa omnino summa pecuniae quae ipsis debetur?<sup>6</sup>

<sup>6</sup> Cf. General Archives S.J., Maryl. Epist., 1, i., Grassi's Memorie sulla Compagnia di Gesù, ristabilita negli Stati Uniti dell'America Settentrionale, dall'1810-1817 (three copy-books small 4to, 99 pp.), addressed in 1836 to the Father General, John Roothaan, pp. 17, 18; also ibid., Maryl. Epist., 6, iv., document S., Kohlmann's Osservazioni sopra la risposta di M. Marechal, viz. the Twenty-three Propositions. These two authorities, Grassi and Kohlmann, both of whom had been Rectors at Georgetown and Superiors of the Mission, refer the College debt to the administration of M. l'abbé Dubourg, S.S., colleague of M. l'abbé Ambrose Marechal, S.S., some quarter of a century before (1796-1799). It was at the time when M. Marechal was occupying the farm of Bohemia (No. 170, F, seq.). Grassi says that Dubourg had involved Georgetown to the amount of 20,000 scudi, and explains that the war at the time prevented any recovery of the debts from the families of boarders belonging to the French West Indian Islands. The Corporation desired Dubourg to resign. Kohlmann states that he found the College debt under this head to be "at least 10,000 scudi." It is to be supposed that by "scudo" these writers meant a dollar; for, if they had meant a Roman scudo, the depreciated condition of American currency would have made the sum for Americans very much higher. But the issue with Marechal here would have been the same, since he, too, uses the term scutatum for a dollar.

Grassi ibi: [Il Collegio] andò soggetto a diverse vicende, secondo le circostanze de' tempi, e lo spirito chi lo governava. La vicenda principale avvenne allora quando ne fu Rettore l'ab. Dubourg Sulpiziano, uomo di gran disinvoltura nel conversare, ma ignaro di economia, sicchè il Collegio trovossi ben presto indebitato di più di 20,000 scudi, il che per altro in parte avvenne anche perchè aveva accettato, senza esigere che uno negli Stati Uniti rispondesse pe' parenti de' figliuoli come portava il prospecto, un buon numero di convittori nativi delle Isole Francesi, La Guadalupe, St. Domingo, etc.; e a motivo della guerra non si potevano ritirar le pensioni, eppure conveniva mantenere i figliuoli, poichè non si poteano mandar a casa. La Corporazione ringraziò Monsignor Dubourg, il quale partì non poco irritato contro que' della Corporazione, e si mise in capo di aprir egli in Baltimore un Collegio, che fosse più liberale di quello di Georgetown, e l'aprì per Cattolici e non Cattolici, permettendo a questi ultimi di uscire le feste per andare a' loro tempj, e a casa per pranzo. In vano si opposero a questa idea gli altri Sulpiziani, col motivo che la Congregazione loro è destinata a regolar Seminarii Ecclesiastici, e non Collegi di gioventù secolare. Mgr. Dubourg fu inflessibile, aprì Collegio, ebbe sussidj di lotterie, e ciò non ostante a forza di fabbricare, e distruggere, di riedificare il distrutto, contrasse enormi debiti; ma egli si cavò di ogni imbarazzo col partire per la Nuova Orleans, alla cui Sede Vescovile era stato nominato; dalla quale passò poi più tardi a quella di Montauban, e da questa in fine a quella di Besançon, ove morì.

Sed paulo post, cum deficerent tum idonei professores tum sufficiens numerus convictorum, coacti sunt eandem villam iterum vendere. Corporatio Marylandiensis eam emerat pretio 17,000 scutatorum, quae soluta sunt ex bonis Marylandiensibus (et, ut opinor, contra intentionem principis Baltimore et aliorum piorum donatorum); et hanc eandem villam vendidit cum damno 8000 scutatorum.<sup>7</sup>

<sup>8</sup> Kohlmann, on this statement of Proposition 4, that the house at Washington was bought by the Jesuits for 14,000 dollars, adds the circumstance that it was bought by means of a legacy assigned for this purpose by a Jesuit: 2. La casa a Washington è stata fabricata dal R. P. Jov. Grassi, allora superiore, da un legato di uno dei nostri lasciato a questo effetto, cioè per una casa di noviziato. The Jesuit in question was, no doubt, Mr. Alexander Divoff, a young Russian nobleman, who, having been converted in Russia, left his country, became an attaché of the Russian legation at Washington, then declared himself a Roman Catholic, and entered the Society at Georgetown (3 June, 1812). His annual pension was $2600 net. The Statement of the procurator, Father Adam Marshall, 1824, has the item: $7858.20, received (22 Aug., 1820, to 1 Jan., 1824) by Alexander Divoff's income in three years and a half. (Md.-N.Y. Province Archives, Co, Marshall's Statement, 1824, to Dzierzynski, p. 1.) There is an official copy of his act, by which he disposed of this pension, viz. to the support of the house of the Society at Washington, as long as the same Superior [of the Mission] for the time being may not dispose otherwise, 29 Sept., 1820, Georgetown. There follows an official acceptance of the above appropriation, Washington, 30 Sept., 1820, by Anthony Kohlmann, Superior for the time being (Md.-N.Y. Province Archives, Record Book IV., Liber Consultorum, ad fin.; the two documents, 1 p. fol., in Kohlmann's hand, both sealed). The legacy given to Grassi, for the building of the Washington house, must have been before 1817, when that Father left America for Rome. Grassi remarks in his Memorie, that Divoff's father was a landlord with 40,000 peasants on his estates, and had promised Alexander 30,000 roubles to start in business, when he chose to do so. The young man, however, was leaving Russia not for business, but for conscience' sake. (General Archives S.J., Maryl. Epist., 1, i., Grassi's Memorie sulla Compagnia di Gesu, ristabilita negli Stati Uniti dell'America Settentrionale, dall' 1810-1817; pp. 89, 95.)

Real estate. Declaration by ex-Jesuit trustees in 1793.

For the text of the three documents, quoted here by Marechal "as the authentic enumeration of their estates transcribed from the public register itself of the city of Annapolis," that is to say, the Declarations of Walton, Molyneux, and Ashton (1793), see No. 167. <sup>20</sup> Nos. 25, pp. 203, 204; 47. Marechal here does not use correctly Walton's Declaration, which runs thus: St. Thomas's Manor lying in Charles County, four thousand acres more or less, and the several lesser tracts adjoining that part of the said Manor lying on the East of Port Tobacco Creek. Cf. No. 97, 3<sup>a</sup>

<sup>21</sup> Nos. 62, C; 97, 4<sup>a</sup> Here Marechal's numbers of acres, 3000 for White Marsh, and 700 for three other tracts appertaining thereto, afford the only case in his list of corrections, where, as tested by the documents, the sworn statement of Walton might seem to be invalidated. Compared with Father George Hunter's summary report of 1765 (No. 97, 4<sup>a</sup>), Marechal seems to be no more above the mark than Walton falls below; supposing that White Marsh and the annexed plantations were in Walton's time (1793) what they had been in Hunter's (1765)—which, however, in the case of a divergent "sworn statement before magistrates" is not to be supposed. Hunter says about "St. Francis Borgia's Mission, commonly called White Marsh:" Plantation 1900 acres, adjoining tracts 700 D<sup>o</sup>, distant tracts, 700 D<sup>o</sup>. This makes 3300 in all. Walton, on the other hand, as mentioned in the list above, declares: 2214; and the three tracts following: 700; always with the prudential qualification: more or less. This makes only 2914; a difference of 386 less. Marechal without documents corrects Walton's official document, and puts for White Marsh and the tracts: 3000 + 700; which gives the sum of 3700; a difference of only 400 more than Hunter's, but of 786 more than Walton's.

The explanation may be found in other documents. About 1778, Hunter himself seems to have alienated some part of Fingall to Charles Stuart, unwillingly indeed, but still under some kind of necessity. Fingall, dwelling-place of James Carroll the donor, consisted, according to the same Carroll, of 450 acres (No. 62, C). This estate does not appear in Walton's declaration (No. 167, A).

Charles Stuart writes to George Hunter a long and involved letter, dated from Doden, 10 Sept., 1778. He mentions Father Ashton and Stuart's father as contesting some part of Fingall; also Mr. Carroll as a referee of Hunter's in the matter. He claims a deed of conveyance for the contested as well as the uncontested part. He names other persons, Wm. Brown, Lewis Lee, Wm. Digges, as witnesses in the controversy. A deed of conveyance has already been executed for the tract Obligation. To this letter Father Hunter sends a kind answer, under date of 21 Sept., 1778, saying that the information imparted, with regard to Mr. Stuart, sen., and Mr. Ashton, entirely altered the affair. I am still positively assured there are very sufficient witnesses to testify that your father gave up all claim to a deed from me for Fingall at their meeting for the survey and again at their meeting for the drawing of bonds. Whenever the point is cleared up, if in your favor, with justice and equity require [!], shall be readily and willingly complyd with, tho greatly to my loss. (Md.-N. Y. Province Archives, 45, 4 pp. fol.; a copy (by Ashton?), end.: Letter from Charles Steuart to Mr. George Hunter, with answer to same.) In a Day-Book of Hunter's we find: Rd. Mr. Lewis, Dr. . . . 1777, June 12: To Rd. Mr. Ashton for your bond to C. Carroll. £400:0:0 currency. (Ibid., 2nd carton DB, Hunter et alii, f. 31.)

Prior to this negotiation, G. Hunter's first will (31 May, 1769) devises to John Lewis Fingal lying in Ann Arundel County, containing four hundred acres more or less. At the time of the negotiation, Hunter's second and final will (12 July, 1778) leaves to James Walton Fingal lying in Ann Arundel County, omitting a statement of the extent (No. 167, B, ad 6).

<sup>24</sup> No. 97, p. 337. It appears from the foregoing documents, as just cited in the notes, that all the "true numbers," verus numerus, are amiss where they differ from the numerus declaratus, or Walton's and the other Trustees' "declared numbers," which were authentic.—The St. Joseph's at the head of the list is from the Declaration of Molyneux. The two next are from Ashton's; the second of the two being an accession to White Marsh, bought in Ashton's name. Walton's series begins at the next name, St. Inigoes, and ends with a second St. Joseph, which was another part of the estate already declared by Molyneux (No. 95, K, L). The number of acres in this latter St. Joseph is given by Walton as 144 (No. 167, A); not 114 as here. The circumstance of Marechal's leaving the error, 114, and confirming it as a verus numerus, seems to show that in confirming, no less than in correcting, he had no data to go by, except the declared lists, here copied incorrectly.

Tithes belong to the class of provisions made for a clergy established, and legally entitled to support from the faithful. As to the amount of contribution due under the title of "tithe," or a tenth part, Sir James Marriott, Advocate-General, in his Report on a Code of Law for the Province of Quebec, 1772, notes that in France a strict tenth of the fruits of the earth in kind was never taken; it nowhere exceeded a twelfth part; commonly a twentieth or twenty-fourth part only was taken; while in Canada no more than a twenty-sixth was required in kind, after threshing and gathering into the granary (British Museum MSS., 26,052, pp. 225 seq.). This would make the contribution of the faithful to an established clergy 3·9 per cent. The demand of Mgr. Marechal on a regular Order in his diocese, amounting to what the Jesuits maintained was in value one-third of their entire possessions, would come to 53 per cent. for ever, on behalf of his episcopal mensa alone; and the priests thus summoned to contribute were not the faithful served by the clergy, but were the clergy serving Mgr. Marechal's laity, on the basis of their own funds and of the property to be expropriated. The Superior, Dzierozynski, wrote to the General: Nullam autem domum vel ecclesiam in Marylandia habemus alienam, excepto Baltimor [St. John's], sed omnes sunt proprietates Societatis (Maryl. Epist., 3, i.; Sept. 24, 1825). Cf. History, I. § 49 (2), p. 409; Father Thomas Copley's remonstrance, on John Lewger's demanding a tenth of the Fathers, without a title. Cf. ibid., § 51, pp. 424, 427.

The demand on the Jesuits for the episcopal mensa in Maryland corresponded to what a progressive Government like that of Italy to-day exacts of the episcopal mensa itself for the lay treasury; unless it happens that, in spite of previous spoliation, the mensa still enjoys over 50,000 francs of yearly income, in which case, by the application of a sliding scale, a higher exaction is made. Thus the mensa of the bishopric of Padua, which before expropriation had an income of 120,000 francs per annum, has still 52,000. Out of this 52,000 there is exacted, under the manifold claims of manomorta, quota di concorso, ricchezza mobile, imposte pubbliche, aerariali, provinciali, comunali, as much as 33,000 yearly; which is over 63 per cent. from the episcopal mensa (Card. Callegari, Bishop of Padua). Besides, at the death of a bishop, the see is kept vacant during 6-8 months, till an exequatur is issued; and all the income during that vacancy is appropriated by the public treasury.

<sup>26</sup> The property at Georgetown, instanced here by Marechal, is not in Marechal's list of estates, as in fact it was not one of them. The quasi-city property at Frederick is not specified here. As to the figure given, "$40 or $50" per acre for "portions of some estates," and an average of $25 for the property all together, cf. Hunter in 1765 (No. 97, p. 337, 5°), at a time when American currency was 30-40 below par (Nos. 66, E; 70, p. 263, ad B; 101, pp. 343, 344): 5° The value of land, putting good, bad and indifferent together, generally upon an average is reckoned at 20 s [?] sterling 'p acre. Mosley in 1786 (No. 95, D) states that our best lands sell from £6 to £12 per acre, our currency one-third less than sterling money. Ashton in 1786 (No. 85, C) bought 344 acres, called Arabia Petrea in Harford County, for £645.15 currency; which, at the same rate of discount, would not differ much from Hunter's 20 sh. sterling. Archbishop Carroll in 1814 (No. 87, F, G), when selling the rich land of Paradise at Deer Creek, as well as Arabia Petrea, asked on behalf of the Corporation $18 per acre, but came down to $12, at least for Arabia Petrea. The procurator, Adam Marshall, in 1822 (No. 88, J), being authorized to sell Arabia Petrea to Stump, parted with it for $1457, at about $4 per acre, instead of Carroll's original demand of $4080, at $12 per acre;

$8 an acre, he says, had been offered for it a few years before, and when sold only 4 were got (Marshall's Statement to Dzierzynski, 1824, p. 8, d; ubi supra, No. 88, p. 304). This property was formerly bought as woodland for a plantation [Deer Creek], which we possessed in that part of the country, and which is now of no value to us (Marshall's Statement of the Plantations to the General, 1821, § 11; ubi supra, No. 87, p. 300). In 1824, lands had so depreciated in Maryland and New York, as Marshall affirms several times, and as he shows by the results of his own operations, that selling was little better than giving away. This was only two years before the date when, in the text here, Marechal gives $25 per acre as an average value for all the estates taken together.

<sup>27</sup> This valuation of negroes per head seems to be derived from the operations at Bohemia, during a year and a quarter (8 Jan., 1794–10 Mar., 1795), after the Abbé Marechal's hand begins to appear in the registers of that plantation. In the course of those fifteen months the sale of nine slaves and the purchase of four come to an average of £30 per head, for men, women, and children. Then the sales stopped. The Corporation decreed (21 Aug., 1795) that, in according the usufruct of this estate to the Seminary of Baltimore, moneys arising from the sale of negroes are not understood to be enumerated among the profits of the estate (No. 170, G, H).

As to the number of slaves, Hunter's report for 1765 (No. 97) gives a total of 192 for the seven estates which he enumerates; and only 101 of these were working hands. His seven estates comprise fifteen of the nineteen heads in Marechal's list. The others, town lots (Frederick), or woodland not settled (Frederick, Mount Prospect, Arabia Petrea), were not provided with slaves. Cheney's Adventure was part of White Marsh.

For Kohlmann's statement of the actual number of slaves, at the date of Marechal's Propositions, see infra, note 29.

<sup>29</sup> Md.-N. Y. Province Archives, Francis Neale, St. Thomas' Manor, 22 Oct., 1827, to Dzierzynski. He states that he has made arrangements with Father Mudd (S.J., pastor at White Marsh) and Columbia Bank, about paying the remaining money due to Mr. Vergnes. But here as in other places the documents in archives fail to keep abreast of these Propositions.

Kohlmann criticizes these Propositions 6-9 as follows, in his Osservazioni sopra la risposta di M. Marechal, etc.:

Page 16, No. 6, marg.—et pag. 17, 18, 19, ad enumerationem praediorum, servorum, utensilium, &c.

Dico 1. Mihi certissime constat numerum arpanarum non excedere 12,000. 2<sup>o</sup> Valorem horum praediorum ultra omnem fidem exaggerari, adeo ut mihi persuasissimum sit, corporationem lubentissime cessuram omnia sua praedia una cum servis, equis et utensilibus pro dimidia vel etiam 4. parte summae valoris “probabilioris” quem assignat.

2. Dicit Arch. Jesuitas habere circiter 500 Africanos homines, quorum medium pretium est circiter 200 scutata. Juramento ferme affirmare possum, eos non habere nisi ducentos et 40 aut 50 ad summum, circa quos illud observandum: 1<sup>o</sup> praedia competenti numero Africanorum seungi non posse, cum praedia absque illis nullius prorsus sit valoris. 2<sup>o</sup> Proles, infirmos, senes merum esse onus; eos ultra 45 annos alienari non posse. 3<sup>o</sup> Retineri non posse absque summo onere, cum eorum sustentatio quasi omnem proventum consumat; et vendi non posse in conscientia, cum talis venditio post se trahat animarum eorum perniciem.

Page 19. N. 4, et 5. Tuto affirmare possum in conscientia portiones aliquas terrae (lots), quas possident Washingtoni et Georgiop., item redditus annuos, item actiones in Bank Washingtonis, vel nullas esse vel exigui tam momenti, ut nec commemorari mereantur, id quod, si necesse sit, probabitur singillatim. Illae lots in Wash. et Georgetown inutiles sunt, nec valent ad solvendas taxas, et qui non haberet praeter illas lots centuplicatas, moreretur fame.

*In his Osservazioni sopra il scritto della Propaganda, which is apparently a draft of the foregoing, he adds an illustration from Daniel Carroll's experiences at the time: Nam audivi esse in America qui immensos tractus terrae possident, et etiam in ipsa urbe Washingtoniana, qui tamen tam [parum?] ex illis trahunt, ut non sufficiat taxae solvendae (Daniel Carroll); multa etiam aedificia possidet in civitate, et tamen rei domesticae penuria premitur. (General Archives S.J., Maryl. Epist., 6, iv. S.)*

*Adam Marshall, in his Statement to the General, 5 Mar., 1821, says: It must also be observed that those of our lands in the State of Maryland, which are not rented, are exclusively cultivated by slaves, whose rule always is to work as little as possible. We have to maintain them and their families; and generally, out of 50, there are hardly 20 that earn their support. We have about 300 of them. (General Archives S.J., Maryl. Epist., 2, ii.; 5 Mar., 1821.) This would give a total of about 120 slaves sufficiently useful to maintain themselves.*

<sup>30</sup> Cf. No. 60, B. Retributiones, or collections, stipends, honoraria on account of the sacred ministry, were authorized for the first time in the Church history of the United States by the statutes 5-8 of the first Synod, held November, 1791, under Bishop Carroll. The majority of the members present, including the bishop, were ex-Jesuits. The system of gratuitous service, which had prevailed for 158 years under Jesuits and ex-Jesuits, was modified, as the new times and circumstances required. And so the Representatives of the Select Body of Clergy, holding their first meeting after incorporation, recognized the new principle in the following resolution: 13. The Secretary of the Representatives is directed to write without delay to the Clergyman of Frederic-Town [John Dubois?], to desire him to use his utmost endeavours to obtain, as soon as possible, a sufficient support from the Congregations, on which he bestows his services, agreeably to the directions of the Bishop in his Pastoral Letter. (Md.-N. Y. Province Archives, No. 3, volume of secretaries' records, Corporation and Representatives: meeting of Representatives at St. Thomas's Manor, 3 June, 1795, pp. 9-10.)

autem pro administratione sacramentorum, pro sepultura mortuorum, missae celebratione, etc., etc., etc., retributiones recipiunt. Sicuti sacerdotes

There was no intimation conveyed in the statutes of the first Synod about any special provision for the Ordinary, who, as well as his ex-Jesuit successor Leonard Neale, was provided for by the ex-Jesuit Select Body of Clergy. Then came the third archbishop, Ambrose Marechal, who desired the same provision to be continued for himself. At the same time, he urged the faithful to contribute towards the maintenance of their Jesuit pastors, stating that the situation of their temporal affairs is unfortunately very different from that of their venerable predecessors (No. 60, B). Compare Kohlmann's statement to the General, 19 Feb., 1822, that some Jesuit pastors certain pecuniae summam, non modo admittunt, sed etiam exigunt (No. 119, note 29). This matter the same Kohlmann touched upon in his Osservazioni da fare al Papa intorno alla lite col Archivescovo di Baltimore, soon after the date of these Marechal Propositions, but before he had himself seen them (cf. No. 209). After sketching the history of the revived Society up to the time of the present controversy, he says : 6. Da quel tempo fin adesso, quella missione avendo a pagare li interessi della detta somma ogni anno, è stata tanto grande la sua angustia, che subito si chiuse il noviciato e rimase chiuso fin allora, si aprì una scuola a Washington per sostenere i Scholastici, i padri si videro costretti di domandare, contro il loro costume, dal popolo fedele il loro necessario sostentamento, e si introdusse in tutte le case una economia domestica tanto stretta, che si può dire con tutta verità che vi mancava il assoluto necessario. (General Archives S.J., Maryl. Epist., 6, iv. R.)

Meanwhile, for the support of the Ordinary, there were the same means available as for the support of the clergy in general, and for that of all other bishops in the United States, not to mention the ecclesiastical property left expressly to the Ordinary of Baltimore for an episcopal mensa by his two predecessors in the same see. Kohlmann says, ibid. : 10 . . . Ora sacrificar una mission entera per provider una mensa ad un vescovo sarebbe giudicato da tutti un operare non ad aedificationem sed ad destructionem.—Ma come dunque si manterrà l'Archivescovo? R. Cogli 2000 scudi che ha, e per la pietà de' fedeli, in una parola, si manterrà come li altri 10 Vescovi de' Stati Uniti, che sono mantenuti da' loro diocesani, e ai quali col andare del tempo si fara una mensa vescovile per le donazioni inter vivos et mortis causa, et per i pii legati, &c. (ibid.).

In his Libellus Supplex to the Pope, of the same date, Kohlmann insinuates more than once, that the whole contention of the archbishop is not to obtain support, but to assume a European style and grandeur : I predecessors di M. Marechal, essendo i primi Vescovi dei Stati Uniti non hanno trovato nissun provvedimento per la loro sustentazione, ne avevano mezzi per procacciarcela, i catholici essendo allora e pochi e poveri ; adesso il Archivescovo ha più abbondanti mezzi di tutti altri Vescovi dei Stati Uniti per aver un onesto sostentamento, nelle proprietà lasciati da' suoi predecessori, dai scanni della sua bellissima cathedrale che si affidano [affittano] a gran prezzo, dagli jura stolae risultanti dai Baptesimi e marrigy [!] dei ricchi che sono considerabili, dal ricorso fatto alla sua greggia, mezzo che si adopera da tutti altri Vescovi. In quella republica nemica ad ogni pompa e fasto esteriore, e dove carozze, servitori, &c., scandalizzerebbero e catholici e protestanti, mi bastavano alla N. York 500 scudi per anno per vivere honestamente, benche avessi più spese del Archivescovo [as administrator of the diocese]. Negli Stati Uniti c'è pochissima differenza tra il mantenimento d'un Archivescovo e d'un semplice sacerdote, perche l'ispirito della nazione Americana richiede una grandissima semplicità nel vestire, vivere, &c. (Ibid., 6, iv. ; Libellus Supplex, ff. 3<sup>v</sup>, 8). Cf. C. Neale's stricture, No. 124, B, ad (17).

Thus the retributiones, seemingly criticized by Marechal in this Proposition 9, 6<sup>e</sup>, are represented by Kohlmann as the very fund to which the archbishop's attention should have been turned, instead of demanding landed property or a pension from a religious Order. And it was on this fund that, forty years later, the Second Plenary Council of Baltimore (1866) threw the burden of an episcopal mensa in every diocese : § 100. Demum, cum aequum plane sit ac justum, ut fideles omnes uniuscujusque Dioeceseos congruae contribuant sustentationi Episcopi, qui omnium gerit sollicitudinem, censuerunt Patres hac de re pertractandum in Dioecesanis Synodis, in quibus, collatis inter se consiliis, sacerdotes curam habentes animarum convenient de certa pensione Ordinario quotannis tribuenda, quae ex portione singularum ecclesiarum reddituum determinata coalescat. Ejusmodi autem adsignatio vel distributio, cum fuerit ab Ordinario recognita ac probata, seu lex Dioecessana ab omnibus servanda evulgabitur. (Concillii Plenarii Baltimorensis II. Acta et Decreta, tit. iii., cap. II., De Episcopis, No. 100.)

saeculares, qui nullum aliud medium habent sustentandi vitam, in omnibus missionibus sedilia in ecclesiis erexerunt et ea locant fidelibus.

10. Maximae divitiae P. Jesuitarum paupertati archiepiscopi Baltimorensis comparatae. Oro supplex Eminentissimos Patres ut attendant ad hanc omnis generis bonorum multitudinem, et confido quod ultro agnoscent veritatem meae propositionis, nempe: Etiam si P. Jesuitae realiter 35,000 scutata deberent, tamen merito dicendi sunt non solum divites, sed ditissimi.<sup>31</sup>

Quod si pauperes dici possunt tot et tanta bona possidentes, quid dicendum erit de archiepiscopo Baltimorensi qui non duo jugera terrae possidet, non unum equum, non unam ovem, non hortulum habet, quem incredibilibus artibus spoliare tentant redditibus suae sedi annexis tempore quo erecta fuit; adeo ut nunc vix habeat annualem pecuniae summam ad solvendas expensas multitudinis epistolarum quae ad ipsum ex variis orbis partibus diriguntur?

sua sanctione hoc donum approbet.<sup>32</sup> Mirum certe quod pauperes sint ubi agitur de solvendis redditibus sedi Baltimorensi debitis, et quod sint tamen sat divites ut episcopo Bostoniensi transmittere possint amplam terrae quantitatem, idque extra Marylandiam, et consequenter contra mentem piorum donatorum qui ecclesiae Marylandensi consecrarunt bona quorum P. Jesuitae habent administrationem.

<sup>31</sup> In Father George Hunter's time, when the estates were better managed, the total income was £696 sterling (No. 97, p. 337). This would come to about £1153 currency. There were then fifteen missionaries in Maryland (besides three in Pennsylvania), who on this income maintained themselves, as well as their central missions and the secondary church stations in their districts, with all the charges of Divine worship. In the time of Marechal, with estates badly managed (Nos. 110, E-G; 114), and not more extensive than in Hunter's time, there were seventy-eight members (six of them in Pennsylvania), with a boarding-college at Georgetown and a day-school at Washington, neither of these being endowed, and the latter, under orders from the General, being now prohibited from receiving any pension for tuition. (Catalogues; and General Archives S.J., Epist., R. P. N. Fortis, L. I., P. 1, No. 197; General, 7 Nov., 1823, to Francis Neale, Superior pro tem., forbidding absolutely the acceptance of a minervale, or pension for mere tuition. The same absolute order was issued to the Provincial of England; ibid., L. II., P. 1, No. 390; General, 15 Oct., 1824, to Father Sewall.)

<sup>32</sup> The General, in a letter dated 17 Dec., 1825, rejected Bishop Fenwick's proposition of exchanging some Georgetown property for St. George's Island. (General Archives S.J., Epist. R. P. N., A. Fortis, L. III., P. 1, No. 693.) Both Father Dzierzozynski, Superior of the Mission, and Father Kohlmann had discountenanced the project. In Bishop Fenwick's letter, 28 Sept., 1825, to the General, there was no mention of a "gift." (Ibid., Maryl. Epist., 3, vi.)

Quod ut grave malum everteret, mihi dixit se intendere omnes illos juvenes Romam mittere, sicut revera eo misit.<sup>33</sup> Non minimam de paupertate querelam emisit. Nec mirum: tunc temporis florescebat temporalis administratio Societatis; collegium Georgiopolitanum convictorum multitudine replebatur.

Videlicet ex quo Jesuitae Russiaci et Belgae huc advenerunt, magnum et quidem publicum extitit dissidium inter eos et Americanos Jesuitas. Istos extraneos fratres Americani ab initio judicarunt tanquam nostris missionibus minime idoneos, tum propter rusticos eorum mores, tum propter barbarum eorum loquendi modum.

13. Probationis domus non dissoluta mera paupertatis causa, sed multo magis ratione dissensionum quibus agitur Societas. [The novitiate not closed on account of poverty, but on account of dissensions.]

Eos pacifice videre non poterant, alio motivo ducti; nempe isti Jesuitae extranei virtutes, quae decent viros religiosos, colere videbantur, dum Americani jugum sui sancti instituti jamdiu excusserant aperte.

Interea evenit ut unus ex istis extraneis Jesuitis, nomine Ant. Kohlmann, et qui nunc in collegio Romano residet, scripserit circularem epistolam quae in Belgio fuit impressa, in qua invitabat suae provinciae juniores clericos ut in Americam venirent et se consecrarent ejus missionibus.

Novem seminaristae, hac epistola inflammati, e seminario Mecklinensi secreto aufugerunt et Baltimori appulerunt anno 1821. Septem eorum collegium Georgiopolitanum adiere. Eos omnes benigne recepit P.

<sup>33</sup> Father Peter Kenney, Visitor, sent the party of six scholastics to Rome, 1820, Father Grassi being already in Italy since 1817. Messrs. Neill and Barber had been sent in the time of Grassi, and had returned. Mr. Young had accompanied Grassi to Rome in 1817, and Mr. Vespre of Lyons had of himself chosen to go thither on entering the Society in 1819.

Kohlmann. Verum Americani Jesuitae irati sunt valde. Idem P. Kohlmann eos misit White Marsh et ipsorum religiosam educationem duobus Belgis sacerdotibus, qui hic morabantur, commisit. Quod cum viderent Americani Jesuitae bonorum Corporationis administratores, non solum eorum sustentationi providere recusarunt, sed etiam urgere ut dimitterentur continuo laborarunt.

Dum flagraret haec dissentio, DD. Dubourg Novae Aureliae episcopus Washingtonem visitavit, atque certior factus malevolentiae qua Americani Jesuitae istos extraneos prosequerentur, P. Carolum Neale Americanum et tunc Superiorem Societatis clam adiit malis artibus quae huic episcopo familiares sunt, eum induxit ut virtute obedientiae mandaret illis Belgis ut in Statu Missouriensi migrarent. Ad tegendam infamiam hujusce secretae negotiationis, The Belgian novices.
Bishop Dubourg and his arts. DD. Dubourg circulares epistolas ubique misit, declarans se intendere incumbere conversioni sylvestrium hominum; atque sub hoc vano praetextu quaestores iterum misit Europam ut eleemosynas colligerent. Vix haec negotia peractus[!],<sup>3</sup> cum tum ipsius cathedralis ecclesia, tum domus et collegium publicae a suis creditoribus venderentur,<sup>35</sup> fugit novam Aureliam.

<sup>35</sup> Ibid., iii. 384: 1822. Similar accounts of Mgr. Dubourg appear at large in Marechal's correspondence during these years with the Propaganda and Dr. Gradwell in Rome. The rectification of the story, as far as it concerns the Jesuit colony to Missouri, may be seen partly infra in Section VI. (Nos. 194-6), but more fully in a later part of the History.

Kohlmann, in his Osservazioni sopra la risposta di M. Marechal, contents himself here with two observations. First, not only were the Scholastics sent to Rome for want of means to support them in Maryland, but their board had never been paid for yet by the Maryland Jesuits, in spite of repeated demands from the Italian procurator—a fact we see very plainly in various documents during some six years or more. The support of six scholastics in Italy was at the rate of 10 scudi per month. As early as 1 Jan., 1824, Adam Marshall, procurator, put the arrears due from Maryland to Rome at $3000. (Md.—N. Y. Province Archives, Father S. Mannucci, procurator of the Roman Province, 16 Mar., 1822, to Kohlmann, Superior, Georgetown. Ibid., Cc., Marshall's Statement to Dzierozynski, 1824, p. 4.) Secondly, Kohlmann admits the Americanism alleged, but rebuts the argument; in as much as that phenomenon was twenty years old, and yet had not produced the effects which Marechal ascribes to it here for 1823; therefore neither in 1823 was Americanism the cause of dissolving the novitiate:—

Pag. 21. N. 12-13, marg: Scholasticos ex defectu mediorum Romam missos fuisse probatur ex eo, quod per 6 aut 7 annos, a quo Romam appulerunt, nec obolum solverunt, licet saepius requisiti. Novitiatum autem fuisse suppressum ex defectu mediorum ego testis sum oculatus; nec dissidio inter Americanos et externos Jesuitas illam suppressionem adscribendam esse patet, quia illa persuasio Americanorum a plusquam 20 annis existit, et nihilominus novos novitos externos semper admisere; nec D<sup>us</sup> Dubourg illi negotio sese immiscuit, nisi cum absolute decretum esset novitiatum dissolvere. (General Archives S.J., Maryl. Epist., 6, iv. S.)

A year and a half before this date, the General had stated to Cardinals Castiglioni and De Gregorio: Il Generale de' Gesuiti. . . II. Più: avendo un credito di circa quattro mila scudi colla detta Corporazione del Maryland, per lo mantenimento in Roma a studio di alquanti giovani Gesuiti, si è contentato di non esigere un soldo, onde diminuire la massa del debito, che ha contratto la Corporazione stessa pel bonifico de' suoi beni temporali, montante a 33,000 mila scudi; e quindi poter più facilmente estinguerlo, e restare senza alcun pretesto per poter soddisfare all'Arcivescovo

Et quidem tellus White Marsh longe minus est ferax tellure praediorum Bohemiae, S<sup>ti</sup> Ignatii et Newtown.<sup>37</sup> Haec praedia abunde producunt omnis generis grana, praesertim frumentum. E contra tellus White Marsh adeo arenosa est ut foenum et tabaccum tantum ferre possit. Equidem tabaccum aliquando frumento magis valet; sed tantas expensas et tantos labores requirit ipsius cultura, ut sapientiores agricolae ei antepontant culturam frumenti. Verbi gratia, hoc praesenti anno White Marsh sat magnam quantitatem tabacci produxit; verum anno mox praeterito tabaccum fuit penitus frigore destructum, adeo ut dubium sit an lucrum praesentis anni poterit damnum anni praeteriti compensare.

Hinc si desideraverim ut sedi Baltimorensi praedium White Marsh annexeretur, illud non desideravi quia tellus White Marsh est feracior et majoris pretii, sed mere quia a Baltimore decem leucis tantum distat, dum praedia Bohemiae, S<sup>ti</sup> Ignatii, etc. etc., etc., sita sunt prope limites Marylandiae, ac proinde ad tantam distantiam ut vix semel in anno illa visitare posset archiepiscopus Baltimorensis, uti Sacra Congregatio videre potest, si conjiciat oculos in chartam Marylandiae geographicam.

(General Archives S.J., Epist. R. P. N. Al. Fortis, L. II., P. I., Memoria 1ma., 19 June, 1824.)

<sup>36</sup> This statement, that his adversaries had affirmed White Marsh to be "one-third of their property," is not in the Memorial, submitted to the Propaganda in the name of the Maryland Jesuits (beginning of August, 1825), and communicated at least in abstract by Card. Della Somaglia to Marechal (No. 135, ad note 2). The text runs thus: [71] Now, if in their present embarrassed circumstances they have been obliged to shut up their noviciate and house of studies, and if they be constrained moreover to surrender the estate of White March, which yields nearly two-thirds of their actual income, it is evident that the suppression of the Mission must necessarily ensue, etc. (Cf. No. 133, A, note 4: Translation from the Italian Memorial presented to the Propaganda in the first days of August, 1825.)

Kohlmann corrects Marechal's error here by observing that it is a question of value, not of extent; and, in another place, he says with more emphasis, that White Marsh "may be considered equal to half of all the Jesuit property:" che puo dirsi equivalente alla metà di tutto il suo avere. (Ubi supra, Osservazioni da fare al Papa, § 7.)

Quod ut manifestum fiat Sacrae Congregationi hic subjiciam tabellam missionum in quibus laborant Jesuitae :

15. Omnes missiones integrae remanent, si White Marsh archiepiscopo Balti transmitteretur. [All the Jesuit missions would remain intact if the Jesuit mission of White Marsh were given to Marechal.]	Loca	Missionarii	Praedia

Praeter hos octo missionarios Jesuitas, sex alii sunt, qui curam animarum habent in parochiis, quique sicuti saeculares missionarii vivunt et quidem affluenter ex redditibus qui his parochiis annectuntur, et proveniunt ex locatione sedilium et juribus stolae. Hi sex missionarii nihil recipiunt a Corporatione Marylandiensi, et quidem ipsius bonis minime indigent.

Hic subjiciam et nomina illorum missionariorum et nomina earum parochiarum, et annualem redditum quem unusquisque percipit :

<sup>40</sup> On many points of the foregoing, Father Anthony Kohlmann, who had the chief charge of answering this paper of Marechal's, wrote in a hurry from Rome, calling for information. (Md.-N.Y. Province Archives, 90, W, 10.) Kohlmann, Roman College, 31 May, 1826, to Beschter, Baltimore. (Ibid., under date :) Beschter, Baltimore, 15 Dec., 1826, to Dzierzynski, sketching the tenor of Kohlmann's queries; he considers Kohlmann to be very hot. The queries contain an allusion to the Sulpicians and their connection with Georgetown College (cf. supra, No. 135, note 6). The letter of Kohlmann begins thus: I wish your Reverence would be so kind as to forward to me without delay a precise and minute statement of the whole income of your Archbishop, pointing out as exactly as possible: What salary he and each of his coadjutors [clergy of the cathedral?] receives. What is the income of his cathedral. What its debt, whether it be in his own hands or the hands of the trustees or the chief creditors. What other property he possesses [cf. No. 214, the Rev. Mr. Whitfield, 5 Feb., 1828, to Gradwell, Rome]; and what means he might use to get his maintenance and to keep him from starving; for, if we credit him, he is to turn out a beggar before you receive this. 2. On the Sulpicians and Georgetown, as above. 3. I would wish to know from R. F. Superior, or procurator of the Corporation: 1<sup>o</sup> The exact number of acres of land the Corporation now possess. 2<sup>o</sup> The probable value of an acre upon average. 3<sup>o</sup> The number of slaves, old and young, men and women, and the average prize of each of them. 4<sup>o</sup> What has lost the property lately purchased from Mr. Treichel [Threlkeld] behind the College of G. town. Whether purchasers could be found if even we wished to sell property. 4. What has taken place between ours and the President. 2<sup>o</sup> About the publication of the Breve of Pius VII. Whether Baxter has been dismissed. Whether Sannen was dismissed or went of himself. Whether it be true that at present we have but 21 or at most 22000 dollars debts in all. What, considering the present disposition of mind of ours, would be the probable result, if ever a new breve were to be issued in favor of the Archbishop. What is the disposition of the public mind on this subject. Whether it be true that the Corporation has given St. George's Island to the R.R. Fenwick, Bishop of Boston. Let R. F. Superior, the procurator, your Rev., answer the above queries as soon and as privately as possible. The letters of R. F. Superior arrive, if I mistake not, regularly. Your Rev. might forward yours the same way, or by the packet of N. York direct it to Mr. Genesseeau, rue de Sevres, No. 35, Paris. In the interim, with my best respects to my much esteemed acquaintances, especially the R. gentlemen of B[altimore] Seminary and College, and the pious Sisters of Charity, I remain, etc. A. Kohlmann, S.J.

Beschter, Baltimore, 15 Dec., 1826, to Dzierzynski: . . . I received a few days ago a letter from Mr. Kohlmann, dated 31st Mai ult., who wishes a speedy answer to a great many questions. He rehearses several. Other business. On Baxter, who is in N. York, and affirms that he has received his dismissal from the Society. Then, returning to Kohlmann: He appears very hot in his queries; but, if what the Archbishop told me be true, viz. that the Gl. [General] suspected we Americans would not come to terms, he contracted with the Propaganda for paying to her [the Propaganda] the some of a pension which it [the Propaganda] is to pay him [Marechal], and when I asked him how much, he said: That I will not tell you, ha! ha! ha!—if so, then the answers to the Queres would be useless. But, as I know not what to answer for the Society, nor the Sulpicians, I believe I better let it alone, unless your Rev. should think otherwise, and inform me of it.

Coram Deo testificor me numquam vidisse E<sup>m</sup> J. Adams; numquam eum ad me scripsisse vel unam lineam; a fortiori me nunquam monuisse ut desisterem ab executione brevis Pii VII., et multo minus me ob hanc causam reprehendisse. Dum essem Washingtoni, saepe fui invitatus a pluribus ut eum visitarem, sed cum aperte socinianam impietatem profiteretur constanter evitavi ullam cum ipso contrahere amicitiae necessitudinem.

As to the Sulpicians during these years, they were in very much the same predicament as the Jesuits, except that, besides the Ordinary of Baltimore, they had also the Ordinary of Quebec to reckon with. Cf. Marechal, Baltimore, 12 Nov., 1824, to Gradwell, Rome: Mgr. de Quebec, peu après mon retour de Rome, m'a écrit au sujet des différens qu'il a avec le séminaire de Montreal. Comme il ne m'en parle plus, je présume qu'ils sont terminés. Vraisemblablement la cathédrale qu'on bati[te] dans cette ville mettra fin a toute dispute. (English College Archives, Gradwell Collections, Baltimore and Quebec, f. 148.)

Beschter alludes at times to both issues. (Md.-N. Y. Province Archives, under date :) Beschter, Baltimore, 6 July, 1824, to Dzierzynski. A complimentary visit to the archbishop after his return from St. Inigoes (whither the Superior, Dzierzynski, had gone to meet him). The archbishop reciprocated Beschter's compliment the same day: During our conversation, I asked him if he had made peace with the Jesuits. He said, No; he had not spoken a word of his affairs; that he was very easy about that. Rome has it in hands, and that is enough; they will do justice.—After some time talking what was said and done when he was in Rome, I said: But there is no question about what was said at that time; the matter is better understood now, I said. Oh, said he, the Pope will not pronounce by himself; but he will urge the General to bring the affair to an end. Then he said, if I was a layman, I should soon have an end of it. He then expressed his opinion against any body of priests: "Les Corps dans un diocèse peuvent faire beaucoup de mal; les prêtres seculiers, il est vrai, peuvent occasionner des troubles; mais les Corps sont encore plus dangereux." He and Mr. Whitfield have also expressed their opinion that the Sovereign Pontiff has the power to dispose of St. Mary's College here [the Sulpician property]. This has greatly indisposed some of them; but they keep it secret. One of them has said to me a few days ago: "Nous sommes obligés d'entendre dire à notre barbe, que le Pape avoit le droit de disposer de notre propriété." It appears that he wishes to get freed or rid of them. I hear these things, sed secretum meum mihi. Then on Levins, and his dismissal, etc.

For the rest of this episode, as relating to the controversy of Marechal with the Jesuits, see No. 139, B-O.

<sup>41</sup> No. 206. Brent's reply (24 Oct., 1824) contains nothing to the purport: Quosdam Jesuitas revera D<sup>nm</sup> Adams adiisse. After two more letters, one of Marechal to Brent, the other of Brent to Marechal (No. 207, 25 Oct., 20 Dec.), the latter writes again, 29 Dec., 1824, saying: I do not know any one of those who applied to our Executive; and he asks for their names (No. 207). The information, so desired, seems to be contained in George E. Ironside's letter, from the Department of State, Washington, 16 Dec., 1825, to the General of the Society, Rome: I have the promise of the President of the United States that he will remonstrate with the Government of the Holy See, should any step be taken from that quarter to wrest from any of our citizens their property (No. 207). Probably it is from this letter of Ironside's that Kohlmann makes a similar statement in his Osservazioni da fare al Papa, § 8: Questa solenne protesta è stata iterata dal medesimo [Sign. Adams], dopo esser electo presidente (General Archives S.J., Maryl. Epist., 6, iv. R. § 8).

22. Testimonium duorum senatorum de hac veritate.

<sup>45</sup> As to documents, the absence of which in Marechal's correspondence makes it an arduous task for the historian to gauge his accuracy, it may be noted here, since he does allude to the subject, that in this paper of the Twenty-three Propositions, there are four documents offered to the Propaganda, or cited. One is the Declaration of Walton and the other ex-Jesuit Trustees, which he says was copied from the Annapolis Records; and he calls it No. 1 (supra, § 6). Two others are letters of Mr. Daniel Brent, previously communicated (Nos. 181, 1; 182, ad init.; cf. No. 206, Brent, Washington, 24 Oct., 1824, to Marechal; No. 207, the same to same, 20 Dec., 1824). A fourth is the joint opinion rendered by Taney and Scott, on the state of the question as put by Marechal; which he calls here No. 2 (cf. No. 207, Roger B. Taney and John Scott, 11 Jan., 1826 [1]). A newspaper which he sent, containing a translation of the Brief by an unknown hand, may or may not be considered a document (No. 182, ad init.). On the other hand, in this one paper of the Propositions, there are over thirty allegations alicujus momenti, affirmative or negative, on other people's affairs and not to their credit. Neither in the Propaganda printed Sommario, nor in the English College copy, is there any trace of a document being alluded to, in proof of the said allegations. In all the rest of his voluminous papers we find three other authorities alluded to in the present controversy: Mertz (No. 119, note 4), Dubois (No. 119, [1x.]), and the good people of Deer Creek with their certificates (No. 89). On the other hand we find him twice protesting that he is not to be called upon for authentic papers: in the case of Deer Creek (No. 89, A. i), and in the matter of laying a basis for this controversy (No. 116, C, p. 409; Marechal, Rome, 28 Jan., 1822, to the General).

As to Carroll's authority for Marechal's claims, the degree of relationship between the minds of the first and third Archbishops of Baltimore has been seen with sufficient distinctness in the course of these Documents passim, to determine the grade of affinity. Cf. infra, No. 178, Carroll's statements on the Jesuit property titles.

<sup>46</sup> The attempt on the Roman College funds had been suggested by Gradwell to Marechal (2 Jan., 1825), two months after that institution, which was restored to the Society in January, 1824, had been opened in November of the same year. See No. 208. As to the significance of this suggestion, it meant the abstracting of the entire yearly maintenance, necessary for twelve out of the twenty-seven Jesuit professors, who manned this foreign university. Adams contra executionem brevis Pii VII., fieri posset ut similiter secreto excitarent quemdam oratorem, ecclesiae catholicae inimicum, ut in nationali conventu contra idem breve declamaret et proponeret condere famosam legem, quae apud Anglos dicitur praemunire; atque, etsi nullum sit periculum talem legem aliquando condi posse, saltem vel ipsius propositio maximum scandalum excitaret. Hinc prudentia mihi videtur postulare ut transmissio praedii White Marsh differatur, quoadusque Jesuitae qui spiritum S<sup>ti</sup> Ignatii habent praesentibus sufficiantur.

The question now is: Shall the see of Baltimore be blotted out from the sees of the world? Interim Deum summe misericordem deprecor ut ad multos annos Tuam Em<sup>am</sup> servet incolumem.

The policy referred to in connection with Proposition 15, 4<sup>o</sup>, on interrupting the succession of the Jesuit Mission, may be illustrated by the correspondence of the time. In that Proposition it assumed the form of regarding Jesuits as individuals separate from the body, and of separating the income of their farms from the support of the Mission as a whole. It was pursued by Marechal in many ways, both directly and indirectly, both by implication and by open statement, and through the double avenue of jurisdiction over them in the ministry and of measures with regard to their property, which, in the last instance, would lapse to him as sacred property derelict.

<sup>47</sup> The effect of this paper seems to have been nil. Cf. No. 211, Gradwell, Rome, 18 June, 1826, to Marechal: My Lord. In my letter at Easter I informed your Grace of the arrival of your long and able defence against the interminable replies and rejoinders of the Jesuits, and my conviction that that if anything, would bring the dispute, which has now lasted above four years, to a conclusion. Si Pergama dextra. . . . The new Popenza. . . .

Directly, he demanded for himself their White Marsh and Deer Creek estates; and in the last paragraph of Proposition 15, 4°, he intimated that he should be happy to have St. Inigoes or Bohemia. In fact, the present controversy had started with his claim that all the property in the hands of Jesuits belonged to the clergy of Maryland.

He asked of the Propaganda, as a matter of right, whether he could not install secular priests in the Jesuit houses and churches, without regard to the Jesuit owners (No. 120, Quaestiones, 5<sup>a</sup>). He complained to Card. Della Somaglia that, if the Jesuits were invested with sacred property, he could not institute as a pastor on such property any priest of his own choosing, except with the permission of the Jesuit Superior (No. 139, A, ad fin.).

Indirectly, the same policy began to appear from the beginning of Mgr. Marechal's episcopate; and then, when his hostility to the Fathers became pronounced, it operated in many lines, as the following documents will instance.

B.

1818, (January) 7.

Sends enclosed faculties for Father Van Quickenborne, whom he considers a valuable acquisition to your Society and to the Diocese. If he, the archbishop, could live beside the College of Georgetown like his predecessor, L. Neale (who resided at the Convent of the Visitation), he could easily arrange matters concerning the changes of pastors, etc. But, the friendly conversations being impossible at the distance we live, one from another, we must have recourse to writing. Do you wish to remove a member of the Society, who is pastor of a congregation? Then, my Rev. and Dear Father, I beg you earnestly to give me previous notice of your intention. As I most sincerely wish the prosperity of your excellent and holy institute, I am sure I will never oppose any measure that may promote it. But, if the Fathers who are pastors of souls are removed without my previous knowledge and previous consent, it is manifest that I can no longer administer the Diocese, and that I am obvious to many serious difficulties.

Already some secular priests have left the posts assigned them; many regulars have been or were about to be removed without my having the least information of it. Mr. McCarroll (not a Jesuit) asked to be removed from St. Mary's. The archbishop at last assented; and lo! Rantzeu (a Jesuit) was removed from Newtown; so that, between the two, a number of Catholics were left destitute. Marechal approves of Van Vechel (then a Jesuit) for Port Tobacco; and of Cary (a Jesuit) for White Marsh, though he should prefer the latter to go to Richmond (Virginia). Report says that Father Grassi is going to start from Italy for America. Marechal hopes that he will bring with him a dozen new men.<sup>48</sup>

Marechal's first report, 1818, to Card. Litta, Prefect of the Propaganda, on the state of the Baltimore diocese (No. 190); and letter to Card. Della Somaglia, 26 Nov., 1826, on simplices missionarii (No. 139, A).

Attached to the report of 1818, Mgr. Marechal submits a "List of Priests in the Diocese of Baltimore, 1818." He distinguishes rather elaborately the fifty-four priests (including eight Sulpicians) into categories by nationalities; but he implies no distinction between the eighteen Jesuits, members of a regular Order, and the thirty-six others. All rank merely as the title purports: Catalogus Sacerdotum in Dioecesi Baltimorensi, 1818.

Marechal, 26 Nov., 1826, to Card. Della Somaglia, Prefect of the Propaganda (No. 139, A).

He begins by reasoning from a major proposition about simplices missionarii (not regulars), and about diocesan property (cf. No. 121, A, II., note 4) in the hands of such simplices missionarii, to a conclusion about Jesuits, as if they were simplices missionarii, not regulars, and as if their property were diocesan and not their own. He omits stating the minor proposition, that regulars are seculars.

D.

The case of St. Patrick's, Washington.

Marechal made various demands for Jesuits to fill places with the secular clergy, in a condition dependant upon the latter. About the Jesuit Dubuisson, whom he "gave" as a vicar to the Rev. Mr. Matthews at St. Patrick's, Washington, he informed the Propaganda: Je lui [Matthews] representai, pour calmer ses craintes, que ce jeune religieux, étant par son office dans un état de dépendance de lui, il n'avoit pas un raisonnable sujet de crainte, qu'il s'emparât de son église (No. 119, [XL] pp. 456, 457).

The Jesuit McElroy, in charge of that Jesuit station, desired an assistant. The Superior, Dzierozynski, had the young Father Smith ready, and asked Marechal for faculties. Two letters remained unanswered. At length, the faculties were refused, because the prelate had destined another for that place, and it would be a slight upon himself if his arrangement was not honoured by acceptance. He insisted that the Superior should assent, and order McElroy to accept the said person (Marechal, 30 Dec., 1823, to Dzierzynski). This was the young ex-Jesuit Pise, who, not being a priest, was hurriedly passed by Marechal through all the major orders, and now was ready. At first, the Superior declined absolutely to admit of the arrangement. Subsequently he yielded, since neither of the young Jesuit priests, Smith and Keily, could obtain faculties from Marechal. However, Pise, once stationed at Frederick, asked to be removed. Whereupon the archbishop, placing him at Emmitsburg, gave him the new church just erected by the Jesuit, Enoch Fenwick, at Liberty, and served by the same from Fredericktown. (Dzierzynski, 18 Jan., 1824, to the General; 20 July, 1825, to the secretary, Korycki; the original correspondence of Marechal, Dzierzynski, and McElroy, 9 Dec., 1824–11 July, 1825.)

<sup>48</sup> As to the distribution of men among the missions, confided permanently to the care of the Fathers, see the L. Neale-Grassi Concordat, 3 Apr., 1816, which leaves with the Jesuit Superior the entire responsibility of supplying all the stations, whether by means of Jesuits or non-Jesuits; and stipulates, in the last place, that, if no provision whatever can be made by him, then notice is to be given to the Ordinary, and concurrent action to be taken in the emergency. See text of Concordat, No. 189. Cf. No. 119, note 30, the same text, as of an executed contract, commented upon by Rev. W. Matthews and Father Enoch Fenwick.

The case of St. Peter's, Washington.

To cut the ground from under the representations about Jesuits appropriating churches, and filling the diocese, Father Kohlmann, Superior of the Mission in 1820, left on record the following note:—

12 July, An. D. 1820.

A NOTE

respecting the new church built on the Capitol Hill, on the lots granted by Mr. Daniel Carroll of Dud<sup>ny</sup> [? Duddington, Washington City].

Kohlmann declines for several reasons to accept the offer made: 1. He has no priest to spare, who can fulfil the conditions. 2. Mr. Carroll and R. Barry have already offered the same church to the archbishop, who by his letter seems to have accepted the offer. 3. Mr. Matthews's church (St. Patrick's, Washington) being intended for the Society, the archbishop is manifestly averse to the Jesuits' having all the churches of the metropolis and the secular clergy none. Wherefore the Superior has deemed it best to signify the above determination to the archbishop and to Daniel Carroll.

Signed: Georgetown, 12 July, 1820, ANTH. KOHLMANN.

Three years later, "the citizens and the parishioners and especially the trustees of that church" (St. Peter's), becoming estranged from the French secular priest, Rev. Mr. Lucas, hinted that they could obtain some one who would serve them on better conditions—"meaning one of the Jesuits," says Dzierzynski to the General; "although," he continues, "the Jesuits never dreamt of having that church, or of accepting it, if it were offered" (18 Jan., 1824). Here ensues a correspondence, equally characteristic of the situation with that of the Smith-Pise-Frederick negotiation.

+ MON REVEREND PERE,

P.S.—Supposé que je donnasse des pouvoirs au Revd. P. Keily, votre intention est-elle qu'il les exerce dans la ville de Washington, ou quelque part hors des limites de cette capitale?

At this time, the archbishop did not grant faculties any longer to Jesuits for the whole diocese, but only for some particular parish. Dzierzynski writing to the General (18 Jan., 1824), and explaining why, if he had capable procurators like McElroy and Carbery, yet he could not use them where they are needed, continues: "Even if some could be found, yet this is our misery still, that his Excellency, our Archbishop of Baltimore, prevents the Superior from removing any one from the mission which he serves; and we are almost all of us in a mission, though some of us do remain in the College. He claims that the Superior cannot remove a parish priest or his assistant, under the pretext that the parishes belong to him; although, when moving men, we do not desert the parishes, but substitute at once others equally capable. My consent, he says, and the jurisdiction I give are necessary for one office or another, for one place or another [cf. No. 121, K]. For now, since his return from Rome, he does not give faculties without limiting them to a certain place and parish alone, and not for the whole diocese; and, if any one is to be transferred from one parish to another, even though he be only the assistant, new faculties must be asked for."

Marechal, Baltimore, 30 Dec., 1823, to Dzierzynski.

A long, obscure letter, half on the Smith-Pise-Frederick matter, as above, half on the Keily-Lucas-Washington affair. He concludes, refusing faculties to Keily: ¶ De cette longue lettre Votre Paternité pourra conclure, que, si je ne lui envoie pas les facultés qu'elle demande, cela est dû à des circonstances purement extérieures. Je les accorderai aussitôt qu'on me les demandera pour un objet distinct et utile à la religion et à la paix de mon diocèse.

+ AMB. Arch. Balt.

This attempt to manage the Society of Jesus as a diocesan institute of Marechal's was thrown into singular relief by a letter, dated at Rome the very same day (14 Jan., 1824). The General of the Society summoned Father Kohlmann to come and fill a post as professor in the Roman College. It also received an offset in the despatching of Father De Theux, S.J., to Missouri. But to this act of Dzierzozynski's Marechal objected formally (14 Sept., 1825), citing the clause, nisi antea, in a certain decree given above (No. 121, K).

The long letter of Marechal was not clear; and his oral explanations seem not to have been more perspicuous. A few months later, Dzierzozynski said of him, after a personal meeting at St. Inigoes (June 15, 1824), that the prelate "did not know what he wanted, or, at least, did not want to explain clearly what the conditions were that he would agree to" (20 July, 1825, Dzierzozynski to Korycki). At present, in answer to the long letter, the Superior informed Marechal that he had forbidden all his subjects ever to set foot in St. Peter's church on Capitol hill. But neither was this what the prelate wanted.

K.

Marechal, Baltimore, 24 Jan., 1824, to Dzierzozynski.

Since Kohlmann is not to be sent out of the diocese, he accords to Rev. Mr. Smith faculties similar to those recently granted to the Rev. Mr. Sannen. He will send the papers as soon as he can.

Dzierzozynski has not read attentively the letter which the prelate wrote on the subject of Mr. Keily. He never charged him with seeking à supplanter d'une maniere directe et ouverte le pasteur de St. Pierre. But he had wanted faculties, non pour être utile aux pauvres gens de campagne comme il me marquoit, mais pour officier habituellement dans l'église de

St. Patrice [! Rev. Mr. Matthews' church, Washington], et rendre ainsi possible à d'autres l'exécution du plan mentionné dans ma lettre.

Et, si vous réfléchissez avec attention devant Dieu sur le contenu de cette lettre, vous sentirez, je l'espère, l'inutilité, et j'oserois même dire l'inconvenance, de défendre à tous vos sujets du Séminaire de Washington de jamais mettre les pieds dans l'église de St. Pierre, sous prétexte de vous mettre à l'abri d'être accusé de vouloir vous emparer d'une paroisse. Des devoirs de charité remplis à la prière d'un pasteur ne peuvent jamais donner lieu à une accusation aussi insensée [cf. No. 119, [XL].].—Mr. Beschter [S.J., St. John's German church, Baltimore] est d'une santé foible. A sa requête, quelqu'un du Séminaire [Baltimore] va tous les dimanches officier dans son église. Le devoir de charité se rend en toute charité et simplicité chrétiennes et ecclésiastiques. Qui jamais peut blâmer des services aussi purement rendus? Assurément personne. C'est un exemple de charité sacerdotale que je puis proposer avec consolation à tout mon clergé. Et d'après la conviction que j'ai de votre zèle et de votre piété, j'aime à me persuader que vous vous plairez à le proposer aux sujets de votre Société.

Je suis avec respect,

Votre très humb. S<sup>t</sup>,

Thus, on the principles inculcated of "Christian and ecclesiastical charity and simplicity," the Jesuits might enter to help the pastor at St. Peter's, Washington, which was already in the hands of the prelate. And, apparently on the same principles, they might not serve the church habitually at St. Patrick's, Washington, which the Jesuit College or Seminary adjoined, and of which the Rev. Mr. Matthews, their friend, was pastor. At Upper Marlborough, in Prince George's County, where there was only one church, just erected and deeded by the owners to the Jesuits, they might not serve the church either casually or habitually; they might not help a pastor since there was none other but themselves, and they might not serve the people, who had built the church to be served by them; and the edifice was kept closed till Marechal's death. The deed in fee simple to the Jesuits made him in conscience forbid its use. A deed in fee simple offered him by the Jesuits he refused to accept; for, he said plainly, he had no priest to send. The condition of dedication and of use was that the deed should be accepted by the Jesuits, not in fee simple but in trust for himself, binding them to the service of the place for himself, until he should be able to do without them (No. 139, A, note 4).

In a duplicate of his former letter to the General (18 Jan., 1824), Dzierzozynski adds a point: "I do not know how it comes about, that he [his Excellency] has taken it into his head to assume a hostile attitude, towards not only the persons who opposed him in the White Marsh affair, but almost the whole Society and the Institute itself, to traduce them, to cry them down, to threaten ruin to all Jesuits; although without the Jesuits, owing to the fewness of other priests, he would find his entire diocese almost empty." There were at that time twenty-three Jesuit priests in Maryland; the number of chief stations founded and served by them was over thirty (cf. No. 190).

L.

Marechal, Baltimore, 28 Feb., 1824, to Dzierzozynski.

He discusses a third Concordat, which he desires to make with the Superior. He affirms that the Society has abrogated the first Concordat of 1805 (Carroll-Molyneux attempted agreement), par un motif qui vous est parfaitement connu. Therefore he is forced to consider the second Concordat (L. Neale-Grassi executed agreement) as null. He proposes now a peace commission betwixt them, Dzierzozynski showing a legal power from the Trustees of the Corporation, sufficient to bind them. Then a third Concordat can be drawn up, to be ratified by the General, and, if necessary, by the Holy See itself. He objects to Dzierzozynski's flowing but vague Latin. Let Kohlmann or Dubuisson act as secretary in the English or French language, so as to secure perfect exactitude. He writes this letter as the outcome of notre dernière conversation sur l'étendue de la juridiction simultanée que nous avons; and Dzierzozynski himself had suggested a Concordat to regulate matters for the future.

The Superior wrote to the General, five weeks later (5 April, 1824): "With the archbishop pretty much the same as before. He is always making pretensions to a simultaneous and immediate jurisdiction over the persons of ours, who are in the ministry. Thus far I have not been able to obtain faculties for Father Keily. I told him without ceremony, that he could not refuse them without sin. Now he summons me to make a new Concordat with him; but he lays down for its first basis, that I admit the agreement once made by Archbishop Carroll with Rev. Father Molyneux in 1805, when this Father was not yet Superior of the Society; for he was made Superior first in 1806, as the letters patent show." Here Dzierzozynski was mistaken, through overlooking the powers of Mgr. Carroll, delegated by the General for the appointment of Molyneux (21 June, 1805). The attempted agreement was suppressed by its authors on other grounds (cf. No. 116, D, note 24).

M.

Marechal, to Dzierzozynski: "received 11 April, 1824."

The last time Marechal saw Dzierzozynski, he spoke to him about sending missionaries into the vast state of Virginia (the diocese of Richmond, of which Marechal was administrator); and about beginning with Richmond itself. He urges that project; reproaches him, if he does not execute it. Se renfermer dans quelques comtés du Maryland, tandis que la Virginie ouvre un champ immense à des ouvriers apostoliques me paroît une sorte d'irrégularité, pour moi inexplicable.

Will Rev. Mr. Keily go? The archbishop will give him the necessary powers. He has already indicated a way of providing Keily with a companion. Richmond should be the centre; and the Society can grow strong in Virginia.

Dzierzozynski wants faculties for Keily at Georgetown. But Trinity church (Georgetown) is abundantly provided for. And there are the College men adjoining. Chargé comme je le suis du salut de mon troupeau, puis-je en conscience concourir à réunir sur un seul point, et sans nécessité, plusieurs missionnaires, tandis que les âmes périssent ailleurs faute de secours?

But, if the Superior is still determined to withdraw Keily from Washington and place him at Georgetown as a professor, marquez-le moi. Car comme, dans cet arrangement, il n'auroit besoin de facultés que pour rendre des secours accidentels aux deux pasteurs ses frères, je lui enverrai de suffisantes pour remplir cette fin.

A postscript adverts to Holy Trinity, Georgetown, as the best provided of the churches in Marechal's diocese, being served by Fathers Detheux and Sannen.

The Superior informed the General (24 Sept., 1825), that the Ordinary has been diligently active in imparting his faculties, under his own hand, to Dzierzozynski's inferiors; never through the Superior himself. He said that the Jesuit priests, "whom I name simply as missionaries in our churches, he [the archbishop] in documents sent to them, not to me, styles Pastors, Rectors; and endeavours to give faculties to them directly, not through the Superior. And, if the Superior asks faculties for any priest who stays in the College, and is not destined for a certain church or mission, then he refuses to give them; so that, before new priests are sent by me to a mission, they cannot first, while in the College, acquire experience how to conduct the ministry of hearing confessions, etc., etc.; and all this, because our churches are said by his Grace to belong to him, and only in trust to us" (22 Oct., 1827). Again, Dzierzozynski says to the General: "I waste my time making remonstrances with his Grace, that two heads cannot stand on one body. His contention for headship over our men in our churches is, that the souls we take charge of, out of charity, belong to his jurisdiction; therefore ourselves too" (24 Sept., 1825).

Thus, during the month of grace which he had granted Father Charles Neale for the delivery of White Marsh, Marechal wrote a letter to the Jesuit Father McElroy, appointed by the Superior to fill the place of the late Father Malevé, Jesuit, at the Jesuit station and on the Jesuit property of Frederick. Translated from Dzierzozynski's Latin, the document runs as follows (Dzierzozynski to the General, 28 Dec., 1822):—

N.

1822, December.

"Rev. Sir,

"There is a doubt about your appointment as Pastor of Fredericktown and vicinity. I did not give this power to any of my Vicars General, that, in my absence [in Rome], they should make a permanent nomination of any one to the office of Pastor over any congregation. It is evident that the Superior of the Society of Jesus could not do so validly. He can indeed appoint members of his Society to religious posts, which are within the enclosure of a College or novitiate, etc.; but not at all to pastoral offices, to which the care of souls is attached. This belongs exclusively to bishops. To remove, however, all doubt about your appointment, 1st. I grant to you, Rev. Sir, all the faculties which are contained in the printed sheet, without any exception, according to the form, which, like my venerable predecessor, I follow. 2ly. By these presents I appoint your Reverence Pastor of Fredericktown and its vicinity. Etc."

This letter, sent to McElroy without any reference to McElroy's Superior, was perfectly inoperative, since the Ordinary had not the Superior's consent to make a permanent pastor of the Jesuit in question. The appointment already made of McElroy, as filling that post, was in virtue of the written and executed Concordat, made between Marechal's "venerable predecessor," L. Neale, and the Superior of the Jesuit Mission, Father Grassi; by the terms of which instrument, Fredericktown with its dependencies was put permanently under the spiritual care of the Religious of the Society of Jesus (No. 189; cf. partial text, No. 88, A).

Only two months after the correspondence about Father Keily, as given above (M), Archbishop Marechal, by a memorandum indited at St. Inigoes, 5 June, 1824, opened the issue about the church at Upper Marlborough (No. 139, A, note 4; cf. No. 121, A, II, note 4). It read thus:

1824, June 5.

The case of Upper Marlborough church, Prince George's County. Marechal's memorandum.

If the Catholics of Ma[r]lborough think proper to give the civil title of the church which is to be erected to the Rev. Fr. Neale or any other individual, the Archbishop is bound by the Decree of the Holy See he has lately received to require that, in the deed, it be expressly stated that the sacred property is conveyed only in trust for the benefit of the Catholics of Marlborough and its vicinity, and that the spiritual jurisdiction of the Arch<sup>b</sup> on that church shall remain as full and entire, as on any Catholic church of the diocese of Baltimore.

This note was delivered to Fr. Dzoriosinsky by the Arch<sup>b</sup> on the 4th June, 1824, before the foundation of the church of Marlborough was laid.

Both the memorandum and the note attached are also in a copy made by the hand of Dzierzynski ; who informed the archbishop "repeatedly," that the condition of accepting in trust was not within his power, and only the General could authorize him to fulfil it. This answer he seems to have conveyed by word of mouth : saepius inculcavi (see his text infra, No. 139, A, note 4, Dzierzynski, 10 Nov., 1826, to the General). On the verbal character of his answer seems to rest a subsequent assertion of Marechal's, that, only when the church was nearly built, the Superior, says Marechal, "wrote to me for the first time," conveying the same information (infra, No. 135, p. 569, note 49 ; Marechal, 28 Feb., 1827, to Father Mudd, S.J.).

The church was built and prepared by the Catholics of that town. Years passed on. In 1827, Dzierzynski writes to Father Kohlmann, Rome, saying that the church still remains unopened, and the archbishop neither wishes to receive the deed from us, as we have offered it to him, nor does he allow us to retain it, fearing, as he says, our extension. The Superior adds : The people are very angry about the affair. Please to speak to Rev. Father General and the Propaganda ; and inform us as soon as possible ; because the people are threatening to sell the church, as being unprofitable to them (6 Feb., 1827). To the General he writes eight months later, as follows :

Dzierzynski goes on to ask for the intervention of the Propaganda, "that scandal may not be given to Catholics and Protestants alike."*

[FF. 1v-2v]. The Marlborough affair, rehearsed, from 4 June, 1824, when he met Dzierzozynski at St. Inigoes. About the condition of Trust: My leave was expressly a conditional one. However Father Dziery neglected to have the condition fulfilled, and this, I am afraid, deliberately; and the first stone was laid down in his presence. The building being nearly terminated, he then manifested his real views, and wrote to me for the first time [cf. supra, p. 563, ad O] that his rules permitted him indeed to receive property in Fee Simple, but never in trust. I will not fatigue you by stating here his frivolous and incoherent reasonings; nor will I accuse him in all these transactions of having acted in an uncandid manner. I like better to say that he is like some of his Bretheren, who received their religious education in Poland, whom My Vener. Predecessor, Dr. Carroll, frequently declared destitute of the knowledge of the rules and of the spirit of the Society of Jesus.—Having no hope of bringing Fr. Dziery. to a sense of obedience due to the decree of the H. See, and wishing to oblige the Catholics of Ma[r]lborough, as far as it is consistent with my duty, I wrote a letter to Mr. Rd. [Charles?] Hill [No. 139, note 4], and suggested a means of removing the existing difficulty. I never received an answer from that gentleman.

Surely, Rev. Sir, you have too much judgment and piety to exhort me to transgress a positive order [cf. No. 139, note 4] of the H. See. The only way to succeed, is to see Father Dziery., and try to introduce into his mind some sound ideas, instead of those which he has received from some wrong-headed persons; or, if you like it best, to apply to Mr. Rd. Hill. I would feel happy either the one or the other put it in my power to grant that the church would be consecrated to Alm. God and its [!] worship.

You say that many speak against me. Bishops who do their duty are exposed to this kind of persecution. It is their daily bread. I defend the interests of my children of Ma[r]l, not mine; and I hope that, reflecting upon the irregular schemes of those who led them astray, they will praise my conduct in this instance and, instead of passing censures upon me, they will speak of me with respect and gratitude.

I remain with respect and attachment,

The tone of the letter indicates the state of public opinion at the time. The tenor is what Dzierzozynski alludes to in the text: privatis et sat injuriosis litteris suis. The tenor and style together are those of several letters given infra, after the date of Marechal's death (No. 214, Whitfield to Gradwell and the Propaganda, 1828; cf. No. 139, note 4, style of the letter to Mr. Charles Hill, Marlborough).

The declaration, ascribed to Carroll in this letter, that the Jesuits who had received their religious education in Poland were destitute of the knowledge of the rules and of the spirit of the Society of Jesus, seems to be a transformation of something that Carroll really did say; but it was not about such Jesuits being unacquainted with the rules and spirit of the Society; it was about their being not sufficiently versed in the rules and spirit of Americans and America. Thus to Charles Plowden in 1815 Carroll wrote, six months before his death: Your friend Mr. Grassi [a Jesuit who received his religious education in Poland] is doing his best for it [the Society] here; but it seems to me that he consults chiefly, if not exclusively, foreigners, that is, his brethren haec suspensio tota stat [!] per me, seu meam obstinationem. Sed si ita, habet apud quem conqueratur de me. Ego omni poenae me subijcio.

Meanwhile the Superior was reporting to the General various demands made for Jesuits by other bishops in the States; by Bishop Dubourg, who, not content with having already obtained the colony of Indian missionaries at Florissant, Missouri, was offering a new district, now being laid out in the city of St. Louis, and was asking for a college, the future St. Louis University; by Bishop Benedict Fenwick of Boston, who, having the Jesuit Father Virgil Barber at Claremont, New Hampshire, was petitioning for others, and desired that Brother Mobberly should be made a priest and sent to him; by Bishop Edward Fenwick of Cincinnati, who solicited similar aid (Dzierzynski to the General, 7 Feb., 1826; Dubourg, B. Fenwick, E. Fenwick, passim, 1823-1826, in the General Archives, Md.—N.Y. Province and the Missouri Province Archives; cf. infra, No. 196, on Upper Louisiana).

Q.

The General, Rome, 24 April, 1824, to the Superior Dzierzynski.

He criticizes the Jesuits of Maryland for having placed themselves in the false position of holding parishes at all under bishops; and adds a stricture as well on Marechal's fears about a secession of the Jesuits from his diocese, as on his conduct towards Jesuit missionaries while working in the diocese.

Many points of business. 10<sup>mo</sup> Si qui episcopi volunt suas paroecias vobis tradere, videntur quidem favere, nec sine causa, quia indigent sacerdotibus; ast, postmodum obtinuerint quod volunt, tum dein procedent ulterius et apertius, quod utique timere merito experientia docet, ne velint suam etiam in vos, ut Baltimorensis, extendere et habere jurisdictionem. Idcirco retineat hoc fixum: Nos debemus esse liberi; nos debemus nullo modo acceptare paroecias; nos facti sumus tantum ad missiones. from Russia, Germany, Flanders, etc.; all of them good religious men, but not one of them possessing an expanded mind, discerning enough to estimate the difference between the American character and that of the countries which they left. Though I have not noticed yet much of this partiality in himself, yet I apprehend that dissatisfaction, complaint, and perhaps remonstrances will arise against certain acts of his administration (English Province Archives, portfolio 6, f. 118, Carroll, 25 June, 1815; see No. 178, C<sup>3</sup>). At that time, the Jesuits who had received their formation in Russia or Russian Poland, were the chief source from which all the rest of the revived Order in Europe and in America received their knowledge, theoretical and practical, of the traditions, spirit and rules of the Society of Jesus. The person to whom we ascribe the composition of the letter just given, that is the Rev. Mr. Whitfield, had been a Jesuit novice in England for six months, knew little of the Society and had never known Archbishop Carroll. Marechal, who transcribes the letter as his own, had known Carroll.

From the foregoing correspondence and much more of the same tenor in the archives, it appears that, if Marechal's policy had not been understood better than his letters, and not withstood with the determination which it encountered, it would have been in full operation at the time of his Twenty-three Propositions, unto the dissolution of a religious Order: individual Jesuits being relegated to Virginia, and obnoxious ones located in Pennsylvania, expelled from the Society, or promoted to bishoprics (No. 131, 3, 3<sup>a</sup>); Jesuits, "natives of the Baltimore diocese," bound over to the service of that locality (No. 120, 2<sup>a</sup>); others distributed in dependance on the secular clergy; secular clergymen installed in the posts and on the estates of the Jesuits, with expectations of full succession; the succession of the Jesuit Mission itself cut off eventually by cutting through the means of supplies; and the whole clergy mingled together, secular and regular, in unqualified dependance on Marechal, with the Jesuit property gradually lapsing to himself as sacred goods derelict, calling for an owner.

The passage of the General's letter, last cited, contained statements adverse in principle to the practice of his American Jesuits in accepting parishes at all. The rest of the passage was adverse to the principles and practice of Marechal in dealing with the Fathers. Beyond this double declaration, the uniform tenor of the General's communications and orders to the Maryland Jesuits was that of simply buying peace at any price. He himself had occasion to contribute soon and to stand all the expense, in purchasing, if not peace, at least a truce of some kind.

Meanwhile, the Cardinal Prefect of the Propaganda in several letters to Marechal conveyed the application of principles, which bore upon the issues between him and the Jesuits. In one (5 May, 1821), he was told that, if priests served him voluntarily, they were not therefore bound to him. In another (9 Dec., 1826), his attention was called to a difficulty which had arisen in the diocese of Cincinnati, where Bishop Edward Fenwick, a Dominican, was not only left unassisted by his own Order, but was forced to begin his pastoral life as bishop in a new diocese without the private fortune, which had already been spent by him in the service of his Order. The Prefect of the Propaganda inquires about certain property, whether it belongs to the Order or to the Ordinary of Cincinnati. Both in the presentation of the case, as referred to Marechal for information, and in circumstances which are mentioned by Bishop Fenwick to an English Jesuit, Father Edward Scott, the implication is clear as to the relations between two parties, an Order and an Ordinary, having each exclusive rights.<sup>50</sup>

<sup>50</sup> Cf. J. G. Shea, History of the Catholic Church in U.S., iii., 325, 353: Bishop Fenwick found that deeds had been made out to the Order, and not to the diocese, for the property in Brown County, Zanesville, Canton, and other places. Mild as he was, and strongly attached to the Order of St. Dominic, he could not sanction these steps, which had been taken without his knowledge. The subject of debate is, whether such property was not meant for the bishop and the diocese, the benefit of which Capellari styles (infra, T), "the general interests of religion," represented in E. Fenwick, bishop, as contrasted with the particular rights of the Order, represented in B. Fenwick, Dominican. The donors, regarding him as a member, were technically "enriching the Dominican Order," and not the diocese.

The analogous contrast introduced by Marechal, between the general interests of religion (Nos. 115, § 10; 116, C, [1<sup>o</sup>]), as represented in his see, and the particular rights of the Society to which, he says, property had been given, and again between enriching the Society by a breach of a religious trust (No. 89, A), and vesting the property in himself as the true beneficiary, had no similar basis either in his see, which did not exist in Maryland during the 158 years before its foundation, or in himself, who, even if he had lived at the time of a donation, could never have been confounded by donors with an Order to which he never belonged. Cf. No. 139, C, ad note 11.

The case and the issue presented by Fenwick are clear. The other system of presenting ex-parte allegations, while excluding the parties interested from a hearing until action was taken, had been denounced by Archbishop Leonard Neale: In my last letter to you, Right Rev. Sir [Bishop Connolly of New York?], I stated the letter sent by Card. Litta, including a precept of His Holiness to reinstate Messrs. Gallagher and Browne at Charleston, as they were before, while the appeal was pending; and also to remove the Rev. Mr. Cloriviere entirely from Charleston; and finally ordering me to forward my legalized reasons for suspending those two gentlemen, etc. His Holyness' mandate I have considered as nul, being subreptitiously obtained, and shall, if possible, send a priest [Father Grassi, S.J.] to Rome, to urge the cause and support the episcopal authority in the United States against refractory priests, who have in the present instance been patronized by the Propaganda. The coarse and rude way they have treated me in favor of Messrs. Gallagher and Brown, both notoriously refractory, plainly shows, unless effectual opposition be made in the present instance, our authority or the government of the unruly will be reduced to inanity (Georgetown College Transcripts [1817], Shea's copy, 3 pp. 8vo.)

It was also denounced, in the same case, by the Abbé Ambrose Marechal, Vicar-General of Leonard Neale. Writing to Grassi, and persuading him to go and present the true state of the case in Rome, he said: Sooner or later the Congregation de P.F. will get correct information about Dr. Gallagher, and I have no doubt but she [the Propaganda] will hasten to annul the precipitate judgment she has pronounced against our M. R. Archbishop (General Archives S.J., Maryl. Epist., 1, v.; 21 April, 1817).

Though the case was rectified instantler, and a Brief (9 July, 1817) to annul the preceding mandate was sent by Pius VII. to L. Neale (Georgetown College Transcripts, under date, Shea's copy), the new archbishop, Dr. Marechal, alluded with bitterness, the very next year (1818), to the whole system of ex-parte statements and of decisions taken on the strength of them. Writing the first report of his diocese to Card. Liita, Prefect of the Propaganda, he said: Mittunt quidem Romam nuntios, sed Sacrae Congregationis, imo S. Pontificis auctoritatem aequae ac meam summe despicunt (infra, No. 190). For the text of the Brief, sent hurriedly by Pius VII. to L. Neale, but received only by Marechal, Neale's successor, see Juris Pontificii de Propaganda Fide Pars Prima, iv. 557, 558. The Pope notes the subreption practised on the Propaganda: malis artibus semel atque iterum praefatae Congregationi insidias (Gallagher) paravit.

Again the same Dr. Marechal, in a letter to Father Grassi dated the following year (31 Dec., 1819), complained of the whole system, misinformation from the ex-parte statements of a handful of bad individuals governing the decisions of ecclesiastical authorities in Rome (infra, No. 184).

The same system was criticized by Father Charles Neale in his first answer to Marechal (9 Dec., 1822), when refusing to execute the Brief about the surrender of White Marsh: Before a decision be made, audi alteram partem. It appears to me that the Bull, etc., are founded on a false supposition, and of course are null and void (supra, No. 124, B, p. 488).

Similarly, Kohlmann, in his Libellus Supplex to the Pope, after the receipt in Rome of Marechal's Propositions (No. 135, A), adverted to the same radical vice of the whole controversy, which, on a supposititious basis, and without authentic information, had culminated in a Brief against the side unheard: E se i membri della suddetta Corporazione, in vece di eseguir immediatamente il Breve di Pio VII, han giudicato di dover far una rispettosissima rappresentazione alla S. Sede, la ragione di questo procedere non è stata altera, se non perchè erano persuasissimi che il Breve di Pio VII. era appoggiato sopra un falso supposto, e che la S. Sede non era stata rettamente informata (General Archives S.J., Maryl. Epist., 6, iv., Conseguenze, 22).

We are very poor, tho' once possessed of a competent fortune, which I freely consecrated to God's service in the establishment of St. Dominick's Order in Kentucky, from which I was forcibly taken and condemned to wander through the woods of Ohio, like "the scape goat, loaded with the sins of the people." I received nothing from the Order or establishment to which I belonged, but one habit and my breviary—not a farthing of money nor an article of furniture, except some vestments and church linen, lent me for a time only, and since restored. By the charity and gratitude of the congregation I had served in Kentucky, I was enabled to move and take possession of the new, rough and destitute diocese, in which there was then but one priest and but one wooden or log chapel—not a house of shelter for me, nor any provisions whatever. The improvements and progress since.

Marechal, 22 June, 1827, to Dr. Gradwell, Rome.

Be pleased to present the enclosed to Card. Capellari. The Dominicans in Ohio follow the example of the Jesuits in Maryland, and will prove as troublesome.<sup>51</sup> Philadelphia is in dreadful confusion. Mr. Harold has sued eight young clergymen, who are to appear before court in a few days. This act of violence, and the principle he maintains of the immobility of pastors, and the irrevocability of their powers without a previous judgment, has given great scandal. No peace as long as he remains in Philadelphia. The same may be said of the Bishop.

<sup>51</sup> For a settlement between Bishop E. Fenwick and his Order, with the intervention of the Dominican General, V. R. P. Velzi (20 April, 1828), see Juris Pontificii de Propaganda Fide Pars Prima, iv., 694, 695, No. 33.

As in other matters of contention between Marechal and the Jesuits, so in the point of ownership, thus illustrated by the case of Bishop Fenwick and his Order, subsequent enactments in councils provincial or plenary placed the question on the recognized basis of Church jurisprudence. The Second Plenary Council of Baltimore, quoting the Seventh Provincial Synod of Baltimore, approved and adopted a statute, that what is acquired by the Ordinary, either through donations or through collections, for the service of charity or religion, belongs to the Ordinary; and what is similarly acquired by a regular Order (like the Jesuits) or by a Congregation of priests (like the Sulpicians) belongs to such donee. And, quite otherwise than in Mgr. Marechal's papers and practice (No. 121, A, II, note 4), the respective duties of Ordinaries towards their sacred trusts, and the duties of lay-trustees in the administration of Church property, are treated in the same chapter (tit. iv., De Bonis Ecclesiasticis) as questions entirely distinct from that of ownership by the ecclesiastical bodies just indicated.

<sup>52</sup> Compare the case of Father J. Carbery, S.J., pastor at St. Inigoes (1824). He had received eight acres of ground in Loweventown, as a gift from old Mr. Benjamin Williams. Carbery wrote to the archbishop (13 Mar., 1824), asking his authorization to build on that ground a small church, and to set apart a cemetery, as it is far from St. Inigoes. The archbishop answered (22 Mar.), giving permission, but inquiring, whether Williams had made to Carbery personally a present of the land, or was it for the use of Catholics in the neighbourhood. In the latter case, the prelate must see that the property be never diverted from the donor's original purpose. And let a deed be drawn up to correspond. Carbery replied, that the gift was altogether personal; and Williams had signed a written declaration to that effect (Md.-N.Y. Province Archives, s. d. [April, 1824], J. Carbery to Dzierzozynski, 3 pp. fol.; copy of his correspondence with Marechal, and of the declaration, signed by Williams).

Similarly, Father J. EMINENTISSIME CARDINALIS,

Accepi litteras Eminentiae tua datas die quinta augusti proxime elapsi,<sup>1</sup> quibus notum mihi facit Rev<sup>dum</sup> P. Fortis spopondisse, tum nomine suo tum nomine suorum successorum, provisorie se mihi annuatim fore soluturum 800 scut. Rom., durante mea Marechal. Acceptance of $800 a year for life from the General, if successors' claims remain.

Si per adverbium provisorie intelligat quod praefata haec annualis summa mihi solvenda sit, tuto ac integro remanente meo meorumque successorum jure, ejus propositioni lubenter assentior; et his praesentibus litteris constituo Rev<sup>dum</sup> D<sup>num</sup> Robertum Gradwell meum procuratorem ut nomine meo stipulatam summam accipiat.

Equidem, Em<sup>mo</sup> Cardinalis, ductus amore pacis, praedium White Marsh, solenni sententia Pii VII. mihi meisque successoribus adjudicatum, of religion to favour Frederick itself with the annual use of the said funds it would be more pleasing to us (Ibid., under date).

Father Matthew Lekeu, S.J., missionary at Conewago, in Pennsylvania, expounded to Dzierzynski (23 Mar., 1827) the case of Gettysburg, where the inhabitants, Protestants as well as Catholics, were anxious to have a Catholic church served by the Jesuits; had already bought the ground, of which the deed would be given to Lekeu "as in trust to Rd. Mr. Francis Neal, and his successors in the office, for the Society of Jesus." Lekeu asks about his duties to the Ordinary in the premises (Ibid., under date).

MON BIEN BON ET CHER SEIGNEUR,

Il y a environ quinze jours que j'ai reçu du Card. Somalia une lettre en datte du cinq août dernier, dans la quelle son Eminence au nom du P. Fortis promet de me payer provisoirement, et cela durant ma vie, 800 ecus Romains. Il ajoute que la Propagande et même Sa Sainteté approuve cette proposition. Je crains beaucoup que cet arrangement n'ait été fait a votre inscu et a l'inscu de l'abbé Gradwell. Il y a une ambiguïté dans la proposition du P. Fortis, qui, je crains, pourroit me faire perdre mes droits et ceux de mes successeurs. C'est pour le lever que j'écris la lettre cy-jointe au Card. Somalia. Je vous prie de la lire, et vous verrez que je crois devoir refuser

Marechal.
Objections to
of the General.

l'offre du P. Fortis, si son intention est que je me contente, ma vie durant, de 800 écus Romains de pension, au lieu de la plantation de White Marsh que m'a adjugée Pie VII. Je renoncerois a cette plantation, comme je l'ai déjà marqué a la Propagande, a condition que je recevrai une pension annuelle de 1000 ecus Romains, et en outre une juste compensation pour m'avoir refusé pendant huit ans et plus le revenu qui m'étoit dû par des titres les plus incontestables.

Comme la somme qui m'est dû, par raison de cette injustice, se monte a près de 9000 ecus Romains et que le P. Fortis refusera vraisemblablement de me la payer, ainsi que ses sujets du Maryland, il me semble que la Propagande pourroit exiger de lui qu'il ajoute 200 ecus aux milles que je requiers, ce qui feroit une pension de 1200 ecus, egale a celle de mon prédécesseur Mgr. L. Neale, la plus petite qui ait été payée a l'archevêque de Baltimore par les Jesuites administrateurs des biens ecclésiastiques du Maryland.<sup>1</sup>

Que mon coeur est pénétré de douleur en voyant et la marche tortueuse de mes adversaires et celle même de la Propagande. Nos tribunaux ont des juges protestans. Plût a Dieu que j'eusse pu m'adresser a eux sans scandale! Ma cause, en quinze jours au plus, eut été décidée, et j'aurois immédiatement obtenu justice! La proposition du P. Fortis n'est-elle pas une nouvelle ruse de guerre, pour rendre la controverse interminable? Après tout, cette controverse ne peut pas durer long tems. Les petites ressources de famille, et la bourse de quelques amis, m'ont a peu près suffis jusqu'a present. Elles sont épuisées, et, comme je ne veux pas contracter des dettes considerables pour faire face aux frais de l'administration d'une province aussi étendue que la mienne et être jetté au prison, je vais être dans la nécessité de diminuer et de retrécir les soins de mon administration, qui necessitent le plus de depenses. Rarement je fatiguerai de mes lettres la Propagande. En retenant sur les 12000 scut. Rom. qui sont payés au P. Fortis par le St Siège la modique somme de 1000 ou 1200 scut. Rom., elle n'eut fait aux Jesuites de Rome aucun tort; car les Jesuites d'Amerique, avec les grandes possessions qu'ils possèdent, les eussent immédiatement dedomagés de cette avance. Mais si, malgré la justice evidente de ma cause et l'habilité et la noble fermeté, mon bon et cher seigneur, que vous avez déployées pour sa defense, elle [la Propagande] continue a écouter les fables sempiternelles que mes subtiles adversaires inventent, elle repondra a Dieu, et a l'église des consequences facheuses qui doivent necessairement suivre d'une semblable conduite.

M<sup>r</sup> le comte de Survilliers se porte a merveille. Il est cheri de tous les villages qui l'entourent, et avec raison. Car il étudie a y repandre l'abondance et le bonheur.

MON CHER DOCTEUR,

La lettre du Card. Somalia qui contient la proposition du P. Fortis m'a jetté dans l'embarras. Est-ce une ruse de guerre pour anéantir les jugemens du S<sup>t</sup> Siège en ma faveur ? C'est ce que je ne puis dire ; n'ayant reçu aucune lettre de vous sur ce sujet, vraisemblablement cette proposition vous a été cachée.

J'accepte la promesse du P. Fortis, salvo meo ulteriori jure. Si son dessein est d'anéantir l'autorité du Bref de Pie VII., je la refuse.

Dans le premier cas vous recevrez ce qui m'est dû par quartier. D'abord vous prendrez pour vous la somme que je vous dois. Le reste je vous prie de l'envoyer à M<sup>g</sup><sup>r</sup> Poynter, sur le quel je tirerai aux époques dont nous conviendrons ensemble.

Marechal.
Acceptance.
Condition of his refusal.

Je désirerois beaucoup avoir la promesse du P. Fortis par écrit, si vous convenez ensemble.

Dimanche prochain je ferai la cérémonie de la consecration de M<sup>r</sup> Dubois dans ma cathédrale. Les troubles de Philadelphie sont heureusement finis.

La Propagande m'enlève pour remplir les sièges mes meilleurs sujets. Je n'en n'ai presque plus pour occuper les premiers postes des villes de mon diocèse. M<sup>r</sup> Flaget est accusé avec raison d'avarice sous ce rapport. Quoiqu'il en ait plusieurs qui lui sont simplement utiles, il jette les hauts cris, aussitôt qu'on propose de lui enlever un seul ; sa rule [!] est toujours de proposer quelques sujets des diocèses voisins. M<sup>r</sup> Fenwick de Cincinnati se plaint amèrement de cette disposition. Et il n'a pas tort. Optime valeas et saluta omnes amicos—ora pro me.

+ AMB., A.B.

P.S. Je n'ai pas encore reçu un exemplaire des Cracas que vous m'avez envoyé. Il me semble que le mieux seroit de faire passer à M<sup>r</sup> White qui pourroit le consigner au capitain d'un vaisseau venant à Baltimore.

These are all copies, in English, contained in one letter of Dzierozynski, 10 Nov., 1826, to the General. The originals of Marechal's, Oct. 14, 3 pp. 4to, and of a subsequent letter or polemical disquisition on the rules S.J., Oct. 18, 4 pp. 4to, are in Md.-N. Y. Province Archives, under their dates, with Dzierozynski's copies or drafts of the others.

The tenor of Marechal's claim, as far as it was manifested to the laity, is perfectly well expressed in the first letter just cited. He wrote to Mr. Charles Hill of Upper Marlborough:—

DEAR SIR,

I am very sensible of the difficulties to which you and other Catholics, living in the vicinity of Marlborough, will be exposed as long as the church lately erected shall remain closed. Wishing to remove them, and to comply as far as it is in my power with the positive order I received from the Holy See, I request you and two or three of the principal subscribers to go before a Magistrate and to declare upon oath: 1st. That, though you have conveyed by an absolute Deed to Rev. Francis Neale and his heirs the lot of ground upon which the church of Marlborough stands, yet your real intention was that said Father Neale and his heirs should not make use of said lot, but for the benefit of the congregation of Catholics in the neighborhood of Marlborough. 2ly. That your intention is that the spiritual jurisdiction of the Archbishop of Baltimore upon the church of Marlborough shall remain as full as upon any church of the diocese, and that neither said Father Neale nor his heirs shall ever make use of the absolute deed given to them to impede the exercise of the said jurisdiction. Be pleased to send me the paper containing this formal Declaration, together with an authenticated copy of the Deed of conveyance. As soon as I shall have received both documents, I will permit the church to be opened, and even consecrated to the worship of Almighty God. I trust that these documents shall be a sufficient protestation to me, if ever the Holy See should charge me with having transgressed a positive order that has been transmitted to me for the perpetual preservation of the places consecrated to Divine worship.

My respectful compliments, etc.,

+ AMBROSE, Archbishop, etc.

Baltimore, 15 Sept., 1826.

The positive order twice cited here cannot be the decree of the Propaganda, 3 June, 1822 (dated 27 July), relating to the Jesuits (supra, No. 121, K). It must be that of the same Sacred Congregation, dated 27 July, 1822, on the subject of Lay Trustees (No. 121, A, II. note 4). What he refers to as impeding the exercise of [the Ordinary's] jurisdiction, is the exemption of regulars from the jurisdiction of the Ordinary in the use of their canonical rights (cf. No. 130, B, C).

Mr. Charles Hill, on receipt of this letter, sent it forthwith to Father Dzierozynski, Societatem non posse fiducialiter ullum bonum possidere, atque praefato decreto nullatenus se teneri confirmare [!].

His coecae ambitionis machinationibus non possem assentiri, tuta meae

Superior, who, writing to the General, gives it in the English text, and then notes its purport; adding that the archbishop meanwhile is inquiring privately in all directions about the titles of Jesuit churches, to see if he can find any trace of this kind of trust (cf. infra, No. 198, Marechal's Diary): Jam vero, vel sola haec epistola sat superque ostendit et quo animo fertur erga nos, et quo tendit sua intentione, ut scilicet confirmet se in illa praefensione, quod omnes ecclesiae etiam in nostris praediis ad ipsum pertineant, et nobis tantummodo conceditae in trust: ut ore tenus non semel expressit; et aliunde ubique privatim inquit de titulis nostrarum ecclesiarum, nonne vel umbram hujus trust inveniat. De quo jam ipsi saepius inculcavi, quod Societas in trust, nempe confidentialia, nunquam juxta Institutum recipit, nisi expresse a Patre Generali concedatur. (General Archives S.J., Maryl. Epist., 6, vi., Dzierzynski, 10 Nov., 1823, to the General. Cf. supra, No. 55, the General Piccolomini, 8 April, 1651.)

Immediately, on receiving from Mr. Hill the letter of the archbishop, Dzierzynski sent off Father Francis Neale from Georgetown to Baltimore, authorizing him to make an absolute deed of transfer of the Marlborough property from the Society to the Ordinary of Baltimore. He transcribes his short note for the General.

12 Oct. 1826, Georgetown College.

MOST REV. SIR,

Unquestionably the deed of Marlborough church was from the beginning made over absolutely to Rev. Francis Neale, even without his knowledge. But, since this Deed prevents your consent for opening the church now already built, on which account the people of Marlborough are so much dissatisfied: in order to remove any difficulty on our part, I send Father Francis to you, Most Rev. Sir, that he may transfer the same Deed either to you, or to whatever person you may assign. We are forbidden by our Institute to take any immovable property in trust. Therefore you will excuse Father Francis for not changing the absolute Deed, already recorded in his name, into one of his personal trust.

With the greatest respect I remain, etc.,

FR. DZ. S.J.

The archbishop replied in a letter, dated Baltimore, 14 Oct., 1826, beginning thus: Rev. Sir,—By requiring that the clause I mentioned to you be inserted in the Deed given to the Rev. Father Neale, I merely comply with a positive order of the Holy See, to which all my secular clergymen and myself submit ourselves cheerfully. Why Religious men would not yield obedience to an ordinance of the S. Pontiff, framed for the peace and security of the churches in this country? But you say, Rev. Father, that your Institute does not permit you to accept property in trust. Here Marechal, who again refers to a positive order, to an ordinance of the S. Pontiff, begins a paper controversy, chiefly on the Jesuit Institute. Three passages have been quoted above (No. 108, D, E, F).

In his answer (15 Oct., 1826), Dzierzynski reminds the prelate, that he had asked permission to lay the corner-stone, after the date of Marechal's memorandum (5 June, 1824; No. 135, O), and that he had noted the fact of the deed being already recorded, and beyond the reach of a change: As for those who induced the people to deed the church to Father Neale and promised attendance, or who threatened, I know nothing. All that I know is, that the Deed was given to Father Neale long before there was question of laying the corner stone, without any conditions. And, when I asked your Grace permission (15 June, 1824) to lay the corner stone, I told you it was too late to put any limitation in the Deed already recorded; and that I would rather make it over to you entirely, though perhaps it was not the wish of the people. In his reply (18 Oct., 1826), the archbishop made no other reference to these statements, than in the language given above, No. 108, F. To Mudd, four months later, he wrote, as is seen in No. 135, P, note 49.

The archbishop declined to accept the absolute deed for Marlborough from the Society. He insisted that the Jesuits should receive it and hold the property for him—thus binding the church to himself by the deed and declaration, and, under the same, binding the Jesuits to that church in subservience to himself.

Compare Mgr. Marechal's own account, in the letter to Father Mudd, 28 Feb., 1827

(No. 135, P, note 49); where he says merely that, at a certain date, Dzierzynski wrote to me for the first time, about the condition being impossible.

As the English of the first letter is not in Marechal's style, it may be referred under that aspect to his councillor and support, the Rev. James Whitfield, who, succeeding him in the See of Baltimore as fourth Archbishop, continued Marechal's policy (infra, Nos. 214, 215). But he accepted of the absolute deed for Upper Marlborough, and allowed the church to be used (Maryl. Epist., 3, i.; Dzierzynski, 25 Sept., 1828, to the General, Father Fortis).

Thus much has been noted here to explain the tenor of these documents, leaving the narrative to its proper place in the History.

a parish or had the care of souls, compare a series of documents, showing his attitude at the same time towards his own community of the Sulpicians, who possessed goods and had the care of souls in another bishop's diocese. M. L'abbé Lartigue, a Sulpician,<sup>10</sup> was consecrated (21 Jan., 1821) first bishop of the new diocese of Montreal, but only as an administrator or Vicar-General, under the authority of Mgr. Joseph Octavius Plessis, who now became first Archbishop of Quebec. Lartigue's title was that of Bishop of Telmesse in partibus infidelium. In the new episcopal seat of Montreal, the Sulpicians were civil seigneurs, parish priests, and ecclesiastical patrons, in undisturbed control of all church places. Mgr. Marechal recommends to the Propaganda an arrangement by which, far from being allowed to put his throne in the Sulpician parish church of Montreal, the new bishop should erect a new parish and take his seat there; or, better, stay outside of his episcopal city altogether, and accommodate the good people on the other side of the St. Lawrence with the beneficence of his presence. It is urged that so his predecessors had done. In point of fact, he was the first bishop; and there were no predecessors. This interposition of the Ordinary of Baltimore in the affairs of Montreal and Quebec was at the same date when he was conducting in Rome the controversy with the Jesuits. He claimed the aid of his patron, Card. Fesch, in defence of the Sulpicians against Mgr. Lartigue.

EMINENCE,

Hier au soir j'ai encore reçu deux lettres d'un excellent ecclésiastique du Canada, qui me prie en grâce de m'intéresser en faveur

<sup>10</sup> Cf. + Bened. Joseph [Flaget] Bardensis [Bardstown], to the Propaganda, 5 Nov., 1820, on new bishoprics: P.S. Besides Edward Fenwick for Cincinnati, he had proposed to the Archbishop of Baltimore, proprio motu, the Rev. Theoph. [!] Gallitzin, etc.; and, besides Grassy for the regio Michigan, he had suggested B. Benedict Fenwick, S.J., or the Rev. Lartigue, S.S., for Montreal. The answer to this from the Propaganda was, that the persons named were created bishops for other Sees, and that, in any case, territory of the kind in question required the aid of a society. de la religion dans le Canada. C'est une suite à celles que m'ont écrites en Amérique les personnes respectables, qui malheureusement sont divisées entre elles. A vous dire la vérité, j'ai évité jusqu'à présent de me mêler de ces différens. Je respecte dans toute la sincérité de mon coeur et Mgr. l'Archevêque de Québec et Mgr. l'Evêque de Telmesse et messieurs les directeurs du Séminaire de Montréal. Cependant je crains aussi de ne pas remplir un devoir de charité que la religion peut-être m'impose dans les circonstances fâcheuses où les choses sont arrivées. Et c'est pour le remplir du moins en partie, que j'ai jetté par écrit quelques observations qui peut-être peuvent être utiles à la Propagande. Je vous les confie, Eminence. Je ne les ai point signés; parcequ'il me paroît prudent de ne point me montrer comme prenant part dans une affaire qui après tout m'est, sous bien des rapports, étrangère. Je prie Dieu seulement, qu'elles puissent éclairer la marche de la Propagande et l'aider à prendre des mesures qui servent à établir la paix entre des personnes dont la vertu mérite le plus grand respect. Je me proposois de vous présenter moi-même ce soir ces courtes observations. Mais m'étant rap[p]ellé que votre Eminence n'est pas chez elle à cette heure, j'ai pris la liberté de les lui envoyer.

Je suis avec un profond respect

Amplos redditus possidet hoc seminarium. Verum ipsius directores pauperrime vivant. Quidquid ex suis pinguibus possessionibus colligere possunt, expenditur tum ad sustentationem pauperum; tum ad erudiendam juventutem Canadiensem in principiis sanctissimae nostrae religionis; tum ad defensionem ac generale incrementum Ecclesiae Catholicae.<sup>11</sup> Tanta est ipsorum charitas ut computetur eos expendere, singulis annis, in praefatos pios usus, summam circiter 30,000 scutorum Romanorum. Hinc una voce protestantes auctores cum catholicis eos certatim celebrant.

Veneror certissime tum Ill. DD. archiepiscopum Quebecensem, tum episcopum Telmessensem olim meum fratrem et socium [S.S.]. Imo dicam, me ipsis esse sinceræ charitatis et amicitiae vinculis congruentissimum. Quonam motivo ducuntur? Deus solus scit. Verum ex omnibus epistolis, quæ ex utraque parte ad me transmissæ sunt, mihi certo constat illos ven. Praesules multum nimis accedere infaustissimis regiminis Anglicani consiliis.

Hinc episcopus Telmessensis, cum dirigente archiep. Quebecensi, omnes suos conatus adhibuit ut intra ipsummet seminarium Montréal resideret; atque insuper parochiam, cujus superior Seminarii est indubitatus patronus, occuparet; ea intentione videlicet ut iste gradatim excluderetur ab officiis quibus hucusque tam laudabiliter ejus praedecessores et ipsemet functi sunt.

Hinc arch. Quebecensis nuperrime interrogavit Sacram Congregationem, utrum sacerdos Canadensis sine sua licentia possit ingredi congregationem secularem; atque insuper utrum possit, invito superiore, sacerdotem ex congregatione seculari retrahere. Haec omnia evidentè diriguntur contra seminarium Montréal; imo contra ipsiusmet existentiam.<sup>13</sup> Siquidem Sulpitiani Canadenses soli sunt qui in Quebecensi provincia congregationem secularem constituunt.

Hinc iterum interrogavit Sacram Congregationem utrum dispensatio concessa a vicario generali sit valida, quando ipsemet archiepiscopus in iisdem circumstantiis eam prius denegavit. Haec quaestio moralis dirigitur contra ven. superiorem Seminarii Montréal D. Roux, qui vicarii generalis, sicuti omnes sancti ejus praedecessores, officio nunc fungitur.<sup>14</sup>

solum hanc dispensationem valide sed etiam licite concessisse indubitatum sit.

Atque si in negotio mihi prorsus extraneo, sed quod tamen cum prosperitate religionis catholicae in vastissima Canadensi provincia connectitur, fas sit pauca loqui, mihi videtur sapienter admodum acturam fore Sacram Congregationem si, prima vice qua sese offerat occasio, suaviter adhortaretur episcopum. Telmessensem ad protegendum seminarium Montréal, quia certissime ejusdem immensae utilitatis ipsius Amplitudinis erit ac fuit per 150 annos omnibus Canadensibus episcopis et late religioni catholicae; insuper si illum amice induceret ut ecclesiam vulgo dictam Boni Auxilii (du Bon Secours), quae pulcherrima est et in civitate Montréal jacet, in parochiam erigeret, eamque suam constitueret ac declararet ecclesiam cathedralem; aut, quod certe longe melius foret, ut ad exemplum coeterrorum episcoporum Canadensium,<sup>15</sup> occupare vellet parochialem ecclesiam trans flumen Sancti Laurentii quo ab insula Montréal dividitur, ubi ipsius praesentia omnibus catholicis gratissima foret et religioni valde utilis.<sup>16</sup>

Quantum ad honores ipsius Amplitudini debitos, certissimum est superiorem et directores Seminarii Montréal lubentissime et in omnibus circumstantiis ipsi testificaturos fore omnem debitum amorem, obsequium et venerationem, praesertim quotiescumque dignabitur visitare Seminarium vel parochiam ipsi annexam, et ejus patronatum habet [Seminarium].<sup>17</sup>

Rome, 22 Feb. 1822.

MON CHER ET RESPECTABLE ABBÉ,

Je me suis présenté ce matin chez vous. Mon dessein étoit de vous remettre en mains quelques notes sur les affaires du Canada.

Pendant que j'étois à Baltimore, Monseigneur l'Archevêque de Québec et Mr. Roux Supérieur du Séminaire de Montréal m'ont écrit au sujet de leurs différens. Regardant ces petites disputes comme n'étant étrangères, j'ai toujours évité de leur dire ce que j'en pensois. J'observerois même encore le silence, si je n'avois reçu de nouveau hier deux lettres d'un ecclésiastique respectable du Canada, dans lesquelles il me prie instamment, au nom de la religion, d'éclairer la Propagande sur le véritable sujet des discussions qui existent dans ce pays. Je vous envoie, cy-incluses, quelques observations,<sup>18</sup> qui peut-être ne seront point inutiles. S. E. Card. Fontana étant très indisposé, je n'ai pu les lui remettre.

Je ne signe point ces notes, parceque je désire qu'il ne soit point connu que je les ai écrites. Le fait est que je respecte également les deux partis, et que je serois infiniment fâché de déplaire à l'un ou à l'autre. Je ne les ai pas même communiqués au respectable Abbé Gradwell ; car, comme il est l'agent de Monseig. l'Archevêque de Québec, je craindrois de le gêner dans l'office qu'il remplit en faveur de Sa Grandeur.

Mon cher et respectable Abbé

Votre très humble serviteur

(Marechal, Rome, 22 Feb., 1822, to the Abbé Belli, Propaganda.) State of the case between the Canadian prelates and the Sulpicians of Montreal.

Canada. Confidential.

Courtes réflexions sur l'état présent de la religion dans le Canada recommandées au zèle . . . de S. E. le Card. Fesch.

. . . Louis XIV. . . les [Sulpiciens] fit seigneurs de l'isle et en cette qualité leur accorda quelques droits seigneuriaux sur les habitants ; et c'est la perception de ces droits qui forme le revenu principal de cette maison de missionnaires . . . et non seulement le Supérieur du Séminaire est seigneur de l'isle de Montréal, il est en outre le patron des églises, qui sont sur cette isle. Ni la puissance civile, ni la puissance ecclésiastique ne lui a jamais contesté ce droit. Par le fait, ces églises sont bâties sur le terrain du Séminaire à ses frais, et ont été depuis leur existence des[s]ervies par des missionnaires du Séminaire, envoyé[s] par le Supérieur.<sup>19</sup>

Heureux ! Si Mgr. Duplessis, Archevêque actuel de Québec, imitoit cet exemple de Mgr. de St. Paul de Léon. Il pourroit concourir efficacement à la conservation d'un établissement si cher à la religion.

Mais, poussé par des vues assurément bien différentes de celle du ministère Anglais, il est certain qu'il cherche la destruction de ce Séminaire et à s'emparer de ces biens.<sup>22</sup> Et c'est pour y réussir qu'il a fait nommer Mr. Lartigue Evêque de Telmesse, et l'a fait son Grand Vicaire pour le district de Montréal. Il a choisi ce prêtre respectable, dont la timidité et l'extrême simplicité de moeurs ne lui permettent point de se refuser à devenir l'instrument du projet qu'il a médité. Pour réussir avec plus de sûreté, aussitôt que Mr. Lartigue a été sacré, Mgr. Plessis lui a ordonné d'aller fixer sa demeure dans le Séminaire même de Montréal, sur le quel il n'a pas le moindre droit de propriété ; et de fixer son thrône episcopale dans l'église paroissiale annexée au Séminaire, et d'en faire sa cathédrale, quoique cette église appartienne au Séminaire et ait été batie à ses frais. Accordingly, the two prelates have applied to the Propaganda, urging the claim of the new bishop at Montreal, quoique simple Grand Vicaire de Mgr. Plessis, évêque in partibus. Son but est d'élever d'une manière permanente son thrône dans l'église même du Séminaire, et graduellement d'en exclure le Supérieur qui en est le curé et le patron, ainsi que ses prédécesseurs depuis plus d'un siècle.

De son côté, Mgr. Plessis a demandé s'il ne pouvoit pas empêcher des sujets d'entrer dans des communautés séculières et d'en retirer ceux qu'il jugeroit à propos.<sup>23</sup> Cette demande est évidemment dirigée contre le Séminaire de Montréal, puisqu'il forme la seule communauté séculière qui existe dans le Canada. Que la Propagande décide qu'il a ce droit, et avant peu le Séminaire sera dispersé.

Evil consequences of the dispute. 1. The Catholics of Montreal would regret to see Mgr. Lartigue resident in their midst ; parceque déjà ils le regardent comme ayant formé le dessein de détruire un établissement, qui n'a cessé depuis 150 ans de verser sur eux des bienfaits en tout genre, et dont les membres sont si exemplaires qu'ils commandent le respect universel ; même des Protestants.<sup>24</sup>

3. The English Anglican Church in Canada, or at least the English Government, will obtain the vacated property of the Sulpicians, when their Seminary shall have been dispersed: Messeig. Plessis et Lartigue seront les dupes de leur projet.<sup>26</sup> And the Canadian Catholics rebelling will renew the scenes enacted in New York and Philadelphia.

C'est pour prévenir de semblables malheurs, que j'ai cru vous faire ces observations "confidentielles," et s'il m'étoit permis dans une matière aussi grave d'émettre mon sentiment je conseillerois à la Propagande:—

1. La première fois qu'elle aura occasion d'écrire à Mgr. Lartigue de l'exhorter à soutenir de tout son zèle le Séminaire de Montréal, établissement cher à la religion et au S. Siège; et loin d'attenter aux droits tant religieux que civils<sup>27</sup> des directeurs, de les respecter et de les défendre, autant qu'il sera en son pouvoir; et surtout d'aller s'établir, comme les prédécesseurs, dans quelques unes des belles églises situées sur le bord méridional du fleuve St. Laurent, où sa présence est désirée et nécessaire.

2. Quant à Mgr. l'Arch. de Québec [Plessis], je lui répondrois qu'à la vérité un évêque a bien absolument le droit d'empêcher quelques uns de ses sujets d'entrer dans une communauté séculière et d'en retirer ceux dont il a indispensablement besoin. Mais que de faire usage de ce droit pour détruire la seule Congrégation qui existe dans le Canada, à la quelle la Province doit tant de bienfaits, qui s'est établie et conservée avec des frais immenses, et cela non seulement avec l'approbation, mais même à la prière de ses prédécesseurs etc., seroit faire un usage bien malheureux du droit qu'il possède; qu'il est très vrai que cette maison sainte aura de la peine à se recruter; mais qu'il faut espérer que la Div. Providence lui en fournira les moyens, et que, bien loin d'en précipiter la ruine pour obtenir ses biens,<sup>28</sup> le St. Siège verra avec beaucoup de plaisir que Sa Grandeur employe toute son influence pour sa conservation.<sup>29</sup>

. . . Fourthly. Because Dr. Marechal being a member of the very respectable Congregation of St. Sulpice, which Congregation is possessed and actually in the enjoyment of property in Baltimore, as well as in other parts of the United States (to say nothing of that at Montreal in Canada, which is immense), not greatly unequal in value, and certainly far less encumbered, and for these some years past more productive than that of the Society or Corporate Body: the Trustees, taking this into consideration, were and still are of opinion, that he (Dr. Marechal) should rather have addressed himself to his own than to another community to supply any deficiency that might occur in the support of his table. They imagined, after surrendering all their property in Baltimore to him,<sup>30</sup> they had done their part, and indeed more than, in justice to themselves and those for whom they acted, they ought to have done.

He said that it was really a distressing thing to see that the archbishop had no kind of support. We talked over the Act of the Corporation, the acquisition of the property, and of the spirit of the law to preserve it. I believe to have proved to him that it could not be considered ecclesiastical property, more than their own property. . . .<sup>31</sup>

P. C. REV. FATHER SUPERIOR,

The secret of our archbishop's sudden disappearance is disclosed. The Superior of the Sulpicians in Canada has the same struggle with the new Archbishop of Quebec as we have with ours; and that is the cause of his (Mr. Roux') going to Rome, and of our archbishop going to consult matters with the Bishop of Quebec, and consider if it should not be worth while to go to Rome together, etc.

In Paris they [the Sulpician superiors?] find it very hard to see the Sulpicians here vexed by a Sulpician bishop or archbishop. This disclosure was made this day by a Sulpician to myself, and I will add this in the letter to our Gl. [General].

The Rev. Mr. Wheeler [S.S.] mentioned to-day a desire to visit for some days Georgetown College after their examination is over, and before the Exercises of the public in Hartford, where he is to take a share. He mentioned to me that, in France and in England, when called upon to say what was the difficulty with our archbishop and the Jesuits, he always said that the archbishop had no more right to our property than to theirs, and that certainly he had none to either.

I respectfully remain,

Rev. and Father Superior,

Your devoted and obed<sup>t</sup> Servant in Christ,

On the Bulls for Mr. Signay, as coadjutor.

Le bruit s'est répandu jusqu'ici que Mess. Roux et Richards étoient partis pour Rome. Il est bon que vous sachiez que Mr. Roux en juin dernier m'a écrit qu'il partoît à cause de sa santé avec Mr. Richards, qui devoit l'accompagner pour les Etats-Unis; que, rendu à New-York, il passeroit en France si les médecins de cette ville le lui conseilloyent; et que son absence dureroit un an, et en même temps qu'il n'attendroit pas ma réponse, et qu'il alloit partir incessamment avec Mr. Power, administrateur du diocèse de New-York. La veille de son départ une partie de sa communauté l'ignoroit même, dit-on. Vous voyez que ce Mr. a abandonné le diocèse sans ma permission, quelque Grand Vicaire qu'il soit. Il me semble qu'il n'auroit pas dû quitter le diocèse sans avoir reçu mon consentement pour lui et son compagnon de voyage. Si ce Mr. est parti de Montréal dans le dessein d'aller à Rome pour faire tomber l'établissement du Dr. Lartigue à Montréal, comme on le dit ouvertement, c'étoit évidemment vouloir me tromper pour m'ôter la liberté de réclamer contre ce qu'il pourroit y proposer au détriment des affaires de Montréal, puisqu'il prétendoit seulement sa santé, comme but de son voyage en France. En tout état de cause, je suppose que le St. Siège ne décidera rien dans sa sagesse, auparavant de connoître nos moyens de défense. S'ils présentent quelques mémoires en faveur de leur cause, comme mon agent on vous en donnera j'espère communication, et s'il vous manque quelque information on doit vous donner le temps d'en recevoir d'ici, avant de terminer ce nouveau différend. Envoyez-moi une copie de leur écrit, si c'est possible. J'ajouterai, avant de finir cet article que dans un pays comme celui-ci, où l'on souffle de toutes parts la liberté et l'indépendance, il n'y a pas de plus mauvais système que de soutenir les inférieurs contre les supérieurs. Si malheureusement sa cause se décidait en faveur du Séminaire de Montréal, et que la mesure adoptée par le Pape Pie VII. d'heureuse mémoire au sujet de Mons. Lartigue fût changée, on verrait trop tard le mal que ce changement aura produit dans notre chère église du Canada. Qu'arrivera-t-il? C'est que l'Evêque, qui n'a déjà pas trop d'influence et d'autorité, la perdra peu à peu au détriment de la religion. Je vais tâcher de dresser un petit mémoire sur l'affaire en question, si je peux en trouver le loisir. Vous en ferez alors l'usage que vous jugerez convenable.

Political reasons why the Brief appointing Mgr. Lartigue for the district of Montreal was never read publicly, because Plessis considered the title of Archbishop, which occurred in the Brief, to be dangerous in face of the British Government, which recognized only one archbishop in the empire, the prelate of Canterbury. Hence provisions to be made, either in drawing up the Brief for the consecration of Mr. Signay, or in allowing Panet to modify the language of the Brief when publicly read, "without incurring the excommunication pronounced against falsifiers of Apostolic Letters."

Je n'ai plus rien à ajouter, si ce n'est que pour le bien de la religion le St. Siège est intéressé à maintenir tout ce qu'il a établi, puisque ses intentions étoient droites. Si tout cela est changé, la place de mon suffragant de Montréal n'est plus tenable, et ne remplit pas le but désiré. Il ne faut pas que quelques particuliers l'emportent sur la population générale de ce district, qui renferme près de 200,000 âmes, et qui ne demandent pas mieux que d'avoir un Evêque à leur tête en qualité de mon suffragant etc., et ce jusqu'à des circonstances plus favorables.

Je suis avec beaucoup de considération,

Monsieur,

Votre très humble et très obéiss. serviteur,

MON CHER DOCTEUR,

Vous avez reçu, je l'espere, ma reponse a la proposition ambigue que m'a faite le P. Fortis, par le canal de la Propagande en datte du 5 août dernier. J'attends avec une sorte d'impatience le résultat de mon refus a cette proposition, tant que son sens ne sera

Marechal. pas déterminé d'une manierre distincte et précise. C'a

mystère est presqu' éclairci. Il y a dans le bureau des affaires etran-

Ironside's Le bruit se repand qu'il a été corrompu par mes ad-des officiers superieurs de ce departement. Il y a quinze jours, j'ai dîné avec le secretaire des affaires étrangères (M<sup>r</sup> Clay) qui m'a comblé d'honnetetés; j'étois fort tenté de lui communiquer le bruit qui couroit. Cependant la crainte que cet Ironside ne fut immédiatement chassé de sa place comme faussaire m'a retenu. Je vous prie de faire tout ce que vous pourcez pour m'obtenir une copie des papiers signés

<sup>1</sup> Gradwell (27 Feb., 1827) answered in a few lines: no papers have come to Propaganda that can cast any imputation on Mr. Ironside (No. 213); which means, no doubt, that information in reply to such a demand was, in the nature of the case, impossible. Still Ironside did communicate documents, not, as far as we know, to the Propaganda, but to the General of the Society in Rome; and we have them in the archives, besides having his own description of them (No. 207). They are authenticated by four officials of the State of Maryland, and one great authority in the Department of State, Washington. Those in Maryland are: Thomas Harris, Clerk of Court of Appeals, Western Shore, Maryland; John Buchanan, Chief Judge of the State of Maryland; Thomas Cullreth, Clerk of the Council of the State of Maryland; Ramsay Waters, Registrar of the Court of Chancery of the State of Maryland; the dates being the 6th and 7th days of December, 1825. The one great authority in the Department of State, Washington, who accompanies the foregoing with Letters Patent, is Henry Clay, Secretary of State, 16 Dec., 1825. (General Archives S.J., Maryl. Epist., 2, ii.; Ibid., 6, iii., Ironside's letter, 16 Dec., 1825, to the General. See his letter infra, No. 207.) The General (27 Aug., 1825, to Dzierozynski) had called for authenticated copies of the Corporation charters, as also of any laws corroborating statements in the Memorial to the Propaganda (16 Aug., 1825). Dr. Gradwell called five times on the Jesuit procurator of the Roman Province, and received five quarterly payments of the Italian beneficence to the mensa of Baltimore. The archbishop, dying on the 29th of January, 1828, left the following testamentary memorandum for his successors in the see of Baltimore (cf. No. 133, C):—

B.

De mensa episcopali Praesulis Baltimorensis.

The Jesuits, who now possess all the ecclesiastical property of Maryland by virtue of an act of incorporation,<sup>3</sup> having constantly refused to grant me an annual revenue, similar to that which they paid to my ven. predecessors since the erection of the see of Baltimore, I was at last forced to traduce them before the tribunal of the Holy See. They opposed my claims by all the arguments their ingenuity could invent. But on the 23<sup>d</sup> July, 1822, Pius VII. by a Brief condemned them to deliver me 2000 acres of the land of White Marsh, together with the hands, houses, &c. This Brief they rejected under various pretexts. Some went even so far as to accuse His Holiness of usurping a jurisdiction dangerous to the safety and peace of these United States, and solicited the protection of the President. In vain the Pope and the General of the Society exhorted them to submission and obedience. And, as there were strong reasons to believe that there existed a secret understanding between the Jesuits of Rome and of Maryland, the S. Pontiff condescended to accept a proposition made by the General, in his name and of his successors, to pay me every year 800 Roman crowns, from the first Nov<sup>r</sup>, 1826. I acceded to that proposition, provided the said annuity be continued and faithfully paid to my successors.<sup>4</sup> I appointed Dr. Gradwell, president of the English College, my agent in Rome, to receive 200 Roman crowns every 3 months from the General, which are transmitted to me by Messrs. Wright and Co., bankers, No. 5, Henrietta St., Covent Garden, London.

given in the present Section III. All of them, concerning the final settlement, are presented infra in Section VII., "Sequel and Critique," No. 212.

While papers and representations and repetitions went to fill the archives, putting on record for future generations the foregoing accounts about "adversaries," the history diffused itself in the general Catholic world of Italy and France. It penetrated into the periodical literature of L'Association pour la Propagation de la Foi.

In Rome, Nicholas Wiseman, agent for Dr. Eccleston, fifth Archbishop of Baltimore, noted (17 Aug., 1833) the repugnance which was manifested by Mgr. Mai, Secretary of the Propaganda, in presenting the demands from Baltimore. The Mgr. considered it an invidious case against the Society (infra, No. 216). When the agent urged the matter at the Curia of the Jesuit General, demanding still for Baltimore a pension from the Italian Jesuits, a memorial addressed to a Cardinal, apparently by Father Manucci, Procurator General of the Society, described the whole business as un affare già di sua natura disgustoso (Ibid.).

In France, Father Stephen Dubuisson, while on his way from Rome to America in company with young Father James Ryder, wrote from Lyons to the General, Father John Roothaan (5 Oct., 1829), that "people here described the Mission of the United States as scarcely belonging any more to the Society, as almost separated and withdrawn from your authority, in consequence of the affair with Mgr. the Archbishop of Baltimore." The Marquis Pacca, with whom they had travelled from Turin, now "knew positively that we belonged to the Society." This misconception of the Maryland Jesuits made it necessary for Father Dubuisson, when dealing with the Association for the Propagation of the Faith, to introduce Father General as intermediary, in receiving alms for the American missions; thereby reassuring the charitable Association that the Americans were really Jesuits (No. 218).

The action of several American prelates at that time and later, besides the tenor of documents forwarded from America to the Propaganda (cf. No. 219), showed the same prejudice and even animosity roused against the Jesuit Corporation of Maryland. And, in the city of Baltimore, as late as the last years of the nineteenth century, we have heard the old tradition referred to as a matter of history, that the Jesuits were in possession of property which never rightly belonged to them.

In the following Sections we shall give a series of documents, which exhibit the complete history of that incorporated body so often referred to, under the name of the Select Body of Clergy, or the Corporation. As noted in the Preface, this will be in part a history of ex-Jesuits, and, under an entirely new aspect, it will be a biography of John Carroll. Besides the subjects treated in this present Section III., there will appear the entire course of that eleemosynary institution, which being at first intended to manage the temporalities of ex-Jesuits for themselves, at that time almost the only missionaries on the ground, insensibly became a centre of beneficence for other missionaries entering into the same vineyard of the Lord. The administration of beneficence could scarcely have been more smooth and natural than it was from the time when Bishop Carroll succeeded in obtaining a place at the Board as one of the Trustees. Most assiduous in attendance, he always bore the formal character of Ordinary, and at the same time he availed himself of his new character as Trustee and his old influence over his colleagues to direct, as far as he might, the policy of their administration in favour of all ecclesiastical interests.

Here will appear a side view of matters, which rendered the situation so complicated at a later day. A sparse body of ex-Jesuits had developed into a revived Society, at first in foro interno, when they remained for all diocesan purposes secular priests, afterwards in foro externo, when they came to consist of nearly one hundred members, belonging canonically to a regular Order of the Church. Then they withdrew their means from external eleemosynary uses to meet the necessities of a novitiate, scholasticate, and college. Meanwhile all the chief men among them were still needed as missionaries for the parochial service, which agreed little with the organic necessities of a regular body, reconstructing itself according to rule and method. The scarcity of a secular clergy perpetuated this state of things for a long time. Still, the question of temporalities apart, there was no reason why the relations between the Order and the Ordinary should not have remained

To these antecedents will be added the entire sequel of the foregoing controversy; so that in future nothing need be wanting to the fund of facts for an adequate record of all that is true history.
